Valdosta State Basketball Means Excitement

When you talk about Valdosta State Blazer basketball, you're talking about excitement. Excitement for the players, the coaches and the fans.

Coach James Dominey, who has been turning out winners at Valdosta State for 22 years, knows what it takes to get the job done. He's been named coach of the year in three different conferences over the years and is approaching the 350-win plateau, averaging more than 16 victories per season.

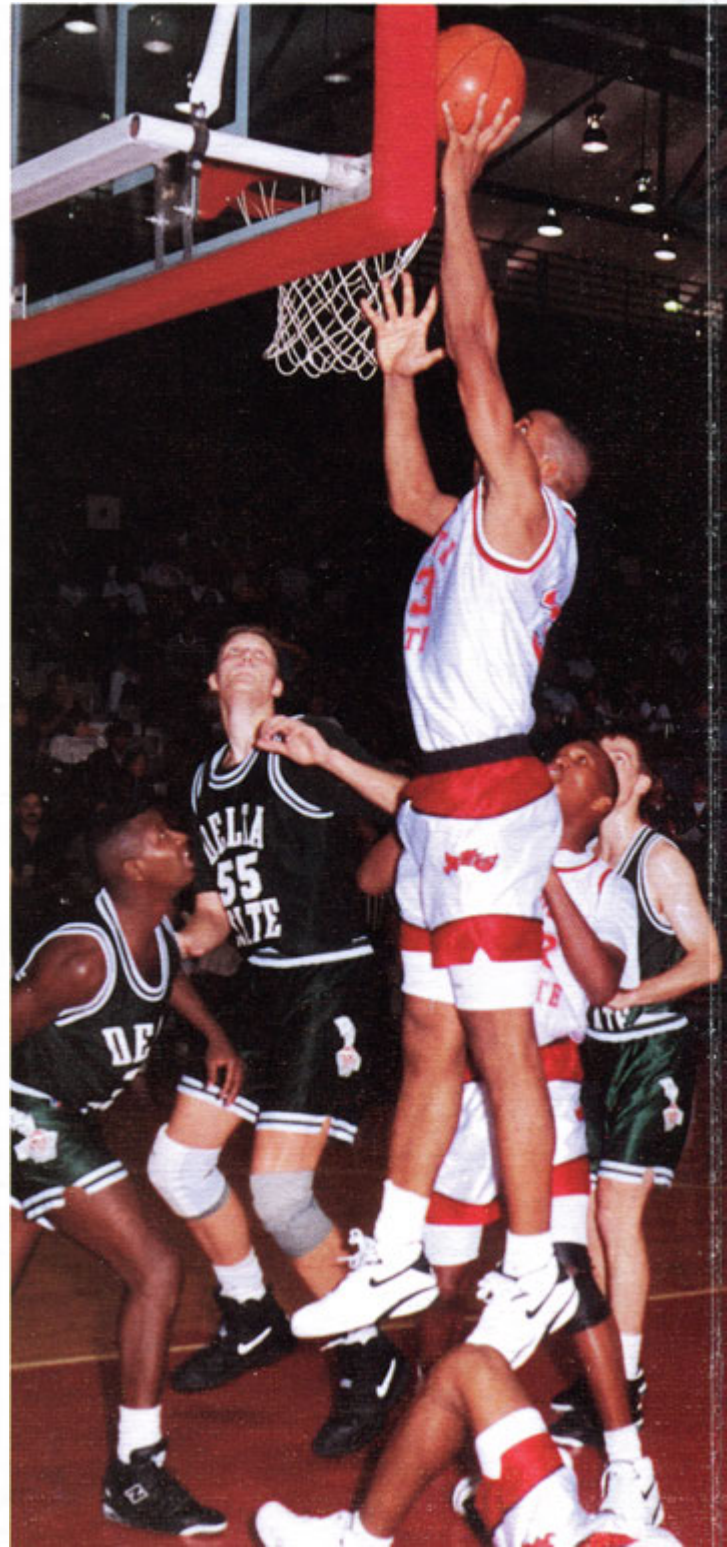

Valdosta State competes in the rugged Gulf South Conference, which assures top-notch competition every time out. The league boasts three national championships in basketball since its inception in 1971 and routinely sends at least two teams to post-season play each year.

Valdosta State and the Gulf South Conference are at the top of the list in Division II basketball. It's fun, it's exciting, it's the place for winners.
