

Baccalaureate Speaker Will Be Churchill Gibson

FESTIVITIES INCLUDE VESPER ALUMNAE BANQUET AND SENIOR PLAY

Five days of festivities, beginning June 4 and continuing to June 9 will mark the twentysixth annual commencement exercises of the Georgia State Womans College. During this period outstanding speakers will be on campus to address the student body, especially those graduating.

Reverend Churchill J. Gibson, rector of St. James Church in Richmond, Virginia, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning, June 4, at the First Methodist Church. The Baccalaureate service will open the commencement program.

Vesper service on Sunday evening will be held at the amphitheatre, however, the program is not yet known.

On Thursday, June 8, at 3:30, there will be the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association in the auditorium. In the evening the seniors will be entertained (See BACCALAUREATE, page 4)

Seniors To Give A Comic Tragedy

Under the direction of Miss Louise Sawyer, the Senior class will present a comic tragedy, The Romance of The Willow Pattern, by Ethel Van Der Veer.

The cast is as follows: Kang-See, Bonnie Lou Gornto; the Madam, Eileen Hyland; Chang, Anna Richter; property man, C. J. Morris.

Willy Says Put It On The Nose -- Seniors Say Neigh

"New Orleans, the land of dreams"—and a very nice place for a senior trip, but a little more belief in dreams might have brought even better results. Instead of dancing in the Blue Room or visiting the French quarter, the twenty-four seniors who are now in one of the South's most historical cities, might have had bookings on a round-the-world cruiser, had they put more trust in the supernatural.

Willy, Dr. Reade's houseboy, did his best to win the seniors a fortune. Willy dreamed the dream.

Visions of "Winnah"

A week before the famous Kentucky Derby, Willy, who follows the races avidly, fell asleep and saw horses. More than that, he saw Jamestown crossing the finish line well in the lead of the other horses in the race.

The boy's casual mention of his dream caused excitement in the Reade household the following day. A horse named Jamestown had sired Johnstown, who was running in the Derby.

Shortly after this, June Lawson, senior class president, was conferring with President Reade about the proposed trip. The seniors had almost $500, and

NEW RECORDS — FORMAL

Duncan Will Head Senior Honor Society

At a meeting of the Senior Honor Society on Friday morning Helen Duncan was elected president of the Society for the year '39-40. Also at the same election Montine Cowart was voted vice-president; Rosalind Taylor, secretary; Sara Garbutt, treasurer; and Geraldine Bowen, editor.

Each of the new officers has been outstanding in academic work and was previously a member of the Freshman Honor Society. Miss Duncan is a member both of the Valdosta and the Philharmonic Clubs, holding the office of treasurer of the Philharmonic Club during the past year.

Recognized Ability

Miss Cowart has been awarded a gold medal for her outstanding ability in archery. She is a member of the Math-Science Club.

Miss Taylor has achieved considerable recognition on campus as a pianist and as a vocalist. She is a member of the Philharmonic Club and the Glee Club, being a member of the Glee Club

Rochell And Sutlive Guest Speakers For GCPA Meet

ROUND-TABLE DISCUSSIONS, MEETINGS AND ENTERTAINMENTS ARE LISTED ON PROGRAM

Friday will mark the opening of the annual spring convention of the Georgia State Collegiate Press Association with Valdosta and GSWC acting as hosts. Delegates coming from numerous colleges in the state will be registered at the Daniel Ashley hotel.

Registration at 10 O'clock

Registration of delegates will begin at 10 o'clock on Friday morning, in Ashley Hall. Ora Kate Wisenbaker, Louise Bell, Rosemary Baker, and Curtis Whatley will be in charge of the registration.

The opening meeting will be held on Friday afternoon in the auditorium. Featured speaker of the afternoon will be Turner Rockwell, of the Valdosta Daily Times. John E. Drewry, head of the Henry Grady School of Journalism at the University of Georgia, will show a moving picture in the lecture room immediately following the lecture.

C. J. Morris to Preside

A tea honoring the delegates will be given in the Activities House on Friday afternoon at five o'clock. On Friday evening there will be a banquet at the Daniel Ashley hotel, at which C. J. Morris will preside. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Kirt Sutlive, of the Blackshear Times.

Following the banquet the guests will be entertained at a dance in the Recreation Hall.

Wisenbaker Will Head Alpha Delta Fraternity

BELL NAMED VICE-PRESIDENT WHATLEY SECRETARY-TREASURER

Preliminary to the opening of the convention of the Georgia Collegiate Press Association on Friday afternoon, Ora Kate Wisenbaker, Louise Bell, and Curtis Whatley will be officially installed as new officers of GSWC chapter of the Alpha Delta Journalistic Fraternity. Miss Wisenbaker was elected president at a meeting of the chapter on Tuesday morning. At the same meeting Miss Bell and Miss Whatley were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

The new officers will be installed by the officials of the Beta Chapter of the fraternity at Brenau College in Gainesville. Following the installation, the new officers will assume the duties of their respective offices for the remainder of this year, continuing through 1940.

SGA And Y Hold Open House At New Log Cabin

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS CONTRIBUTE TO FUND FOR FURNISHING HOUSE

Officially opening the House-in-the-Woods was accomplished Thursday afternoon, May 18, through an open-house invitation to the faculty and student body. From 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock the log cabin was open for inspection and enjoyment.

Music for the occasion was arranged by Mr. Herbert Kraft, professor of music. The music was played by the victrola upstairs and picked up on the radio downstairs. This was the surprise that Mr. Dusenbury had for GSWC.

Tea Served by Presidents

Guests were served refreshments by the class presidents and Student Government president.

Offices of the Campus Canopy, Pine Cone, and the Student Government Association, used jointly with the YWCA, will be in this building. For general student use there is the living room, dining room, kitchen, and a browsing room upstairs.

Student Activity Fund

The furniture, which is valued at $850, was obtained through funds contributed by the students from the Student Activity fund. In order to purchase covers and draperies for the living room and browsing room, organizations on the campus made contributions amounting to $181.

The organizations contributed as follows: Freshman class, $25;

Seniors Embark On Long Awaited Trip

CARTER, SAWYER, PRATHER ARE CHAPERONES

Twenty-four members of the Senior class left Wednesday afternoon, May 17, on the annual Senior trip in a specially chartered bus for New Orleans. For the past four years New Orleans has been chosen for the Senior trip.

Accompanying the seniors are Misses Marjorie Carter and Louise Sawyer, and Mr. Joe Prather. On Wednesday evening the travelers stopped in Panama City, Florida, to be the supper guests of Mr. Robert Adams. Mr. Adams is the brother of Annie Adams.

Reach Orleans Thursday

Arriving in New Orleans on Thursday morning, the seniors registered at the St. Charles hotel. Included on the itinerary of places to be seen are the historic French quarter, the old Market, Antoins, and possibly

P. E. Class Holds Retreat

MRS. HANSEL PAINE AND MRS. T. BARON GIBSON GUEST SPEAKERS

Plans are being made by Miss Elizabeth McRee for the Recreational Leadership class to go on a retreat on Monday, May 22. The retreat will be held at Twin Lakes, and will last overnight.

Mrs. Hansel Paine, a counselor at Camp Dixie, and Mrs. T. Baron Gibson, a counselor at Camp Carlisle, will be the guest speakers on the trip. They will speak to the young women on camp counselship.

Instruction on Leadership

Miss McRee has divided the class into various committees to make final preparations for the outing. The retreat is being held for the purpose of giving additional instruction to the class members on the art of successful leadership.

Menus will feature home-planned and home-cooked meals. Swimming and other camp activities will form part of the program of the retreat.

During the Winter and Spring quarters, the class has done special work in helping out on the playground of the Lelia Ellis school. The proposed retreat is the first one ever sponsored by the Recreational Leadership class.

Sports Club Concludes Games

Competitive events between the Lambdas and the Kappas will come to a close Wednesday afternoon, May 24, when a tennis tournament will be staged. Three courts will be used for the tournament.

Throughout the year the score has been close between the two divisions of the Sports Club. The score now stands with the Lambdas holding 40 points and the Kappas 50 points.

Playing for the Kappas will be Ruth Reid, Marion Smith, Reba Mangham, and Maxwell Williams; for the Lambdas team, Sara Garbutt, Marjorie Dekle, Annie Adams and Dora Ida Perkins.

Welcome

TO THE CONVENTIONERS. A year ago at Brenau, plans were made to hold the spring convention of the Georgia Collegiate Press Association at GSWC. From that time on the convention has been anticipated by not only the publications but the student body of this college.

We are happy in the chance to repay the colleges, and the university for their hospitality to us in many other conventions.

Fourth Milestone

OF THE CANOPY has been passed. When C. J. Morris paused, somewhat panting but with an encouraging smile, to give us the privilege of carrying on the policies of the paper, we accepted with none too strong knees or brave hearts.

We would like to think that the fifth year of the paper will see magnificent, if not startling, results, and the thought of aiming at several stars is tempting. Not to be too idealistic, we realize the enrollment of the college is small hence limited funds, and the publications suffers noticeably.

Reporters Willing But Not Equipped

Reporters for the paper come almost entirely from the freshman class, and they are largely inexperienced, with only a willing heart and potentialities to their credit.

Before their usefulness can be utilized, they must be trained. Therefore, we plead for a freshman course in journalism.

Why Not Frosh Journalism?

More funds, coupled with more and better reporters, would place our paper in the front ranks of the college papers in the United States. These are two stars to which we intend to hitch our wagon. The fulfillment of these aims should not be difficult.

Four editors have gone; each one of them undertook the editorship of The Canopy with buoyant spirits and great zeal. Their efforts were not in vain, but the price was paid, nevertheless. To keep from having to pay the same price, or not as great, we who are the fifth, want to make known the conditions under which we labor, and to let it also be known the conditions which we hope for. They have become to us, vital—vital for a better and bigger Canopy. We see them as realities, not projected ideals. So, it is that we, also, take over with an understanding which we hope will make the path a bit smoother.

Bald professors at Wake Forest College have formed an organization to campaign for a reduction in the prices of their hair cuts.

"Skippy," a University of Detroit entry, won this year's intercollegiate turtle race.

Kampus Kaleidoscope

Orchids

Juniors and Seniors stage the annual formal—only NORTON rated an orchid . . . three stags and twenty no-breaks . . . LANE reports a "swell time" in spite of no Jim . . . Gardenias take the floor . . . SASSER wore hers with a smile . . . and what about PENELOPE?

Super four on the same evening . . . MADIE, MAMIE, J. C., and J. W. from Athens . . . JOHN HOWELL is "starry-eyed" these days . . . ANNIE B. says "This was my last affair."

Presidents

Recently elected president of the "J. W." club: Rosalind Taylor . . . his date or the Emory Banquet . . . Much ado about each other, "BREAD" ESTES and "TERRY" BURROUGHS cited for the cross of beauty; GARBUTT and her court enthroned at May Day . . .

Look alikes: LILA MAE SPOONER and HELEN HIGH-

TOWER . . . from Emory Junior, JOE'S heart belong to FRANKIE . . . forthcoming sensation, Ferdinand done in oil by JOHNSON . . . the BRUCES are up to bat along with GWEN. . . .

Light Fantastic

And ORA KATE dances bare-footed . . . time out for JOLLEY as BLOODWORTH goes dancing with WEIR . . . and when all three appear in church together. . .

Seen de-clarying Friday evening: Josephine Graham . . . Since "Stage Door" practices, TILLEY has been knocking on LOUISE'S door . . . FOLSOM returns from Savannah with "Fizz" for a nickname . . .

MARY VIRGINIA captures the tall dark RABURN man . . . ELIZA chalks up three dates on one night . . . Observed holding hands on church steps: "Foozy" and a lady . . . and the seniors departed on the anxiously planned trip to the Crescent City.

Letters To The Editor

Much to the disappointment of everyone, the seniors did not give a play last year. This week we hear that the seniors plan to give a play within the next two weeks. It is also rumored that five seniors of this year's class will be the only ones participating. I would like to express my appreciation for their attitude, in trying to adhere to the wishes of the majority by producing a play.

Uphold Tradition

This class has been accused of not showing any pep. In trying to put on a play they show that they do have "git-up-and-git."

The seniors also deserve credit for their pushing forward to completion the New Orleans trip. The idea of having a Senior Trip is another tradition which they have not let die.

Victory

Despite many criticisms, adverse in nature, the seniors are going to bring out an annual to be proud of by the entire student body. Troubles have been theirs, but they have shouldered them, and in facing reality have emerged victorious.

The juniors, who will soon be seniors, can well profit by these troubles, and so can all the rest of us.

Sincerely,
An Admiring Sophomore.

The Time Has Come

The walrus said
To speak of many things
Of ships and shoes and sealing wax
And cabbages and kings.

—Carroll.

Henceforth we shall write under this title—By this name ye shall know us, and all that sort of thing.

Columns may come and columns may go but this one goes on forever—even though by a different person. For that we are indebted to ex-Editor Morris. Writing a news column is not so bad, especially when the library is full of Time and Newsweek. Now we'll just have to change the tempo of our reading to more "cultural fields."

Durrenberger Gets Fast Ball

Bon mot from ex-faculty, Mildred Workman, at the Student-Faculty game when Dr. Durrenberger missed a hit. "I guess that was Too Hot to Handle."

Events on the international scene are the inspiration for a great many short stories and novels in magazines of today—"Tales of Eight Cities," a series of short stories dealing with eight of the most important political centers of the world today, is running in the Cosmopolitan. Beginning in the American is "Shanghai Hotel," a story of modern Shanghai with its splashes, mysticism and queer mixture of the old and new, the Chinese culture and the Western civilization that has come upon the land within the last few generations.

Contributions for Magazine

A peep at the literary booklet soon to be published by the Alpha Delta Journalism Fraternity shows some good things. Several poems by Bell, Lane and Morris. A hitherto unpublished poem by Dr. Gulliver and a poem by Mrs. Odum which has been published before. A short story by Morris is especially good. When we set ourselves up as art critics we'll put several stars by it. Be sure to read it.

Publication heads just can't wait until their new offices are furnished. We just won't know what to do with ourselves all in a new office and everything. Maybe there'll be foot space.

Sketches Illustrate Geography

Do you notice the pen sketch cartoon of the Return From Moscow, in the Boardman Robinson exhibit? There were also several particularly good portrait sketches and a very good colored landscape. Lincoln's Head took top honors, we think.

For sugar-coated geography that is really and truly interesting and most amusing—Van Loon's Geography. It's a case of education without realizing it.

King And Queen

OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE have, at last, arrived in North America. The United States gave a dress rehearsal last week for the visiting sovereigns, and that dress rehearsal was given honoring General Anastasia Somoza, president of little Nicaragua. Overhead roared 9 flying fortresses and 42 army pursuit ships, as the president of the U. S. and the president of Nicaragua rode down Pennsylvania avenue. It seems that Nicaragua now needs only $9 000,000 from the U. S., plus a canal which she hopes that the U. S. will build across her. General Somoza remarked, "I consider every Nicaraguan aviator and soldier as a potential fighting force for the U. S."

Russia Vacillates Again

More complications arise in Europe. Russia is vacillating again. She has suddenly become disinterested in the Stop-Hitler movement. But all the big powers are squirming these days. Can it be that England is backing out of her agreement to insure the integrity of Poland? The London Times said: "Danzig is really not worth a war. It is essentially a question for skilful diplomacy. France also admits that her peasants have no desire to die for the Poles."

Many explanations have been offered as to the causes for the dismissal of Maxim Litvinoff as Foreign Commissar for Russia. Some authorities fear that Russia has decided to ally with Herr Hitler, but most likely Russia is only making clear the way to jump on the side which seems to have the best chance of winning in case there happens to be a war.

Springtime Thoughts

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to love, and this holds true in the case of our two most powerful dictators. Muussolini is keeping the name of his blonde silent, but handsome Eva Braun of Munich has announced that she expects to marry in a year. Could it be Hitler?

— by Geraldine Bowen —

Let's Value The Cabin

Now that we have gotten our long expected log cabin and it has both officially and unofficially been turned over to the student body, a timely note may be struck. Let's be careful with our house. It's the only one we've got and it will have to stand a lot of hard work for years and years.

Aviod Carelessness

Carelessness is natural with all of us, cigarette ashes just will fall on upholstery, and finger marks do make spots. We have a brand new stove, sink, and refrigerator, but none of them will stay that way unless they are cleaned very carefully and thoroughly after each using.

It's Everybody's Duty

Because all of us will use, are using and hope to use the Cabin, it behooves each of us to be exceedingly careful of the state in which we leave it after using.

A building like the Cabin, because it is used by so many different individuals for so many different purposes, can deteriorate very easily and very quickly.

So we say, "Let's all do our best to keep the Cabin beautiful for a long time!"

by O. K. W.

From An Uneasy

CHAIR. The office presses in oppressively upon the new staff . . . At moments we have contemplated running off, and pleading with C. J. to come back . . . Parting was no sweet sorrow . . . Her ghost shall not be enshrined in some dark corner . . . but will be left free to provide the omnipotent atmosphere, making us feel secure.

Cheers and shouts go up for the Seniors . . . New Orleans bound . . . Miss Sawyer, Miss Carter, and Joe should be fun . . . the bus looked comfortable, which is something.

Moving into the Activities House this week . . . playing hostesses to the conventioners . . . both are almost too much for our glad and happy hearts. We nearly broke under the strain. The uneasy chair is destined to be easier in the new domain. No longer will it creak miserably with the weight of innumerable feet upon it. No longer will it be crowded into a corner by a mass of sweltering humanity. Henceforth in calm and ease it shall take a place apart in an honored corner of the new Cabin.

CLUB DECORATED WITH SPRING FLOWERS

Mary Catherine Abernathy with her escort, Bob Wright, and June Lawson with Parker Deans, headed the leadout at the annual formal dance at which the Juniors entertained the Seniors. The dance was held Saturday evening at the Country Club.

The Country Club was decorated with spring flowers. Large vases of gladioli were placed on the mantle piece and flowering and green shrubs were used throughout the room.

In the receiving line were Miss Annie P. Hopper, Dr. Lena J. Hawks, Miss Marjorie Carter and Misses Lawson and Abernathy.

Davidson and Orchestra

Curtis Davidson and his orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

From Our Files

A YEAR AGO—

C. J. Morris, as the new editor in chief of the Canopy, seemed a bit worried about her maiden issue of the paper.

Mary Hudson and Francis McLain were to head the leadout at the annual Junior-Senior Formal.

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, as the theme of May Day, was receiving much publicity and many cuts.

Seven leadership emblems were awarded. Among them: Dora Ida Perkins, Anna Richter, C. J. Morris, and Mary Hudson.

TWO YEARS AGO—
Richter starred in "Cradle Song," annual Sock and Buskin play.

Margaret Carter, Eleanor Morgan and Mary Winn Greer were presented in a Sophomore recital.

Ali Baba, the annual Senior play, was presented in the GSWC amphitheatre.

The University of Denver has acquired a book on accounting printed in 1494.

News Of Sporting Things

— by Mary Williams —

On Tuesday afternoon, May 16, the faculties of GSWC and Emory Junior again defeated the GSWC students in a softball game as an encore to the smashing victory of the faculty on May Day. Seven innings were played with decisive runs in the last inning. The 4-4 score at the end of the sixth inning jumped to 7-5 in the seventh.

Players

Faculty and student line-up in batting order was as follows: FACULTY: Kraft, Prather, Pafford, Workman, Stanford, Ivey, Durrenberger, McRee, Kraft, Jr., Punke.

Referees

Referees were Eddie Robinson and Ed Mitchell, members of the Valdosta Baseball Club.

Substitutions made were Dr. H. R. (Home-Run) Reade for Prather, and Dean Edens of Emory Junior for McRee.

The outstanding play of the game was the home-run in the seventh inning by Mr. Ward Pafford. Hedrick in the sixth inning, thrilled the crowd when she stole a run for the students.

SPRING BASEBALL ENDS WITH TEAM THREE LEADING.

Team three, captained by Florence Hedrick and winner of the morning baseball games, will be the guest of Teams one and two at a baseball game in town one night next week.

The exact date has not been announced. Edith Wilson, captain of Team I and Ruth Reid, captain of Team II, will act as joint hostesses for the occasion.

Losing Team Must Entertain

It is a custom for the winning-morning baseball team to be entertained by the losers at the close of baseball season. In the past these entertainments have been early morning swimming parties, however, it was decided that this year the teams would attend a night baseball game.

Members of Team III are F. Hedrick, J. Lawson, A. Richter, S. Pritchett, V. Zachert, A. Parham, M. Howard, M. Martin, L. Yarborough, E. Bozeman, E. Turnbull, M. E. Rogers, H. Ward.

Sketches Shown In Upper Rotunda

Now being shown in the upper rotunda of Ashley Hall is the Boardman Robinson exhibit of pencil sketches and water colors brought to the campus by the Fine Arts Club. Also included in the exhibit are portraits, cartoons, landscapes, and survival sketches which will be used for murals.

Cartoonist and Painter

Mr. Robinson, who is widely known as a cartoonist and painter, is famous for mural paintings, magazine illustrations, and sketches done in pencil and water colors and wash.

The exhibit was brought to GSWC from Jackson, Mississippi, and will remain on the campus for another week.

Sock And Buskin Club Give Frolic

Sock and Buskin Frolic, an annual event of the Dramatic Club, was held at the May meeting of the club on Tuesday evening. Each member participated in the program, which consisted of various skits, pantomimes and charades.

Following the frolic plans were made for the last meeting of the year, which will feature Miss Louise Sawyer, professor of Speech, in a presentation of "Elizabeth the Queen," a drama by Maxwell Anderson. At this meeting each member has the privilege of inviting one guest.

YOUR PARACHUTE FAILED WHEN THE PLANE CAUGHT FIRE

What would you do if while riding alone in an airplane, it suddenly caught fire, and you had only one parachute with a hole in it? While Katherine Handorff would hold her hand over the hole and jump anyhow Aline Lanier would be more cautious, whip out a needle and thread, sew the hole up quickly, and jump with plenty of assurance! Miss Treanor was a little doubtful at first, but finally decided upon blocking the hole with a wad of chewing gum, and "Snookie" Graham chose plain old bubble gum instead! Jane Stanaland insisted on getting out her first aid kit—in case—and then shaking out somehow!

You Woke Up and Saw a Burglar

If Mary Martha Burnette woke up in the middle of the night just in time to see an armed burglar entering the room, she would just look at him and die! Irene Lott would holler something awful, and Eliza Peoples would the drastic thing and throw shoes at him. Louise Macfie would cover her head—and we would too, if we could keep ours.

A Tiger Jumped Out at You

You were walking along a dark path. Suddenly from out of the bushes a tiger jumped at you—what would or could you do? Flossie Hedrick would jump at the tiger, while Janie Ray White to the tune of "Tiger Rag," would run for dear life! Louise Paulk says she would not worry, the tiger might be just as scared!

If the house were on fire and Betty Tomberlin had been locked in the closet, she would be so mad she'd burn up. What would YOU do?

A-Courting We Will Go

JUNE IS THE MONTH OF MARRIAGES; HERE'S SOME ADVICE

With all the surprising spring marriages one never knows to whom the following advice might be helpful.

The First thing to remember is that the groom married you when you were a young, attractive, and very neat young lady; and he expects you to at least try to stay that way. As men often say, "It's a man's privilege and a woman's duty to stay young." Above all, get up in the morning and have breakfast with your husband.

Put on an attractive house coat, comb your hair, freshen up your face and put on the "war paint." You know it used to be "an old English custom" to forbid a girl to marry until her "Future" had seen her without her makeup. (My, aren't we glad 'It Can't Happen Here!') Try to keep those stocking seams straight. Have you ever noticed a girl's right hand little finger? The next time, look, and you'll see a bright smudge of lipstick. How about buying some kleenex and clearing up the little matter.

Have a Theme Song

After your marriage, let this be your theme song: "Stay as Slim as I Was."

There is one degree which we can all obtain without a day's work in college, and that is a P. H. D. (Pettycoat hanging down.) And speaking of P.H.D.'s, the following conversation took place between a married couple:

Wife: My, I wish I had the education that Miss Smith has. She has a B.Z. and a Ph.D.

Husband: Yes, my dear, but you have something she will never have—a M.A.N.

'Y' Holds Joint Retreat With SGA

Opening the annual "Y" Retreat, the old and new members of the Cabinet of the YWCA met in the House in the Woods on Friday afternoon. Elizabeth Garbutt, retired president, led the discussion concerning the accomplishments of the organization during the year and what it hopes to do in the future.

On Friday evening the retreaters were entertained at a chicken supper. After the supper there was an open forum and discussion, led by Ruth Whisonant, president of SGA; Mildred Wilson, new president of the YWCA. Freshman week plans for next year were made and will be announced later.

Sunrise Service

Following a sunrise service on Saturday morning, there was an outdoor breakfast, after which old officers met with their successors to give instructions as to the fulfilling of their duties. The final session was a meeting of the new cabinet to discuss further plans for the coming year.

at a banquet to be given in the dining hall.

On Thursday evening following the banquet the commencement play will be put on in the amphitheatre. The play has not yet been chosen but will be produced by the Senior class.

Hudson Rogers Speaks at Commencement

Graduation exercises will take place on Friday morning, June 9, in the auditorium. Dr. Hudson Rogers, professor of English at the Florida State College for Women, will make the graduation address. Dr. Frank R. Reade assisted by Dr. Lena J. Hawks, will deliver the diplomas to the graduates.

Following a custom established only a few years ago, the graduates will be hooded by their little sisters. The close of the graduation exercise will officially mark the ending of the 1938-39 school year.
