to her race. At the age of sixty she founded the National Council of Negro Women with a membership of 100. Mrs. Bethune, as a special guest of the 1952 World Festival of Negro Arts in Haiti, was decorated with the Medal of Honor of Merit, the highest honor the Republic of Haiti can bestow. Early in 1952 she was awarded the Grand Star of Africa when she visited Liberia as a special representative of President Truman and the State Department. After World War II she was appointed the second alternative for the United Nations. Mrs. Bethune considered an honorary degree from the all-white Valdosta College on February 20, 1945 as one of the most rewarding experiences of her life. This was an honor that had not even been paid to the eminent Booker T. Washington. In 1954 she was named Mother of the Century by the Dorie Miller Foundation. Mrs. Bethune in all her work was a role model and part of the progress of the race. On May 18, 1955, Mrs. Bethune died. The following year a film based on her life, "Crowning Experience" was released which fully conveys her determination and vigilance in pursuing the fulfillment of her dream.

'DO NOTHING'

CHICAGO--(CPS)--Stanford Biology Professor Paul Erlich strongly attacked the government's "do nothing" position in relation to both population and environment, speaking before the First National Congress on Optimim Population and Environment.

Erlich, author of "The Population Bomb" and nationally known population biologist, told the meeting that "the Administration seems to feel that our problems can be solved by advisors and commissions. It's the old approach of offering band-aids to the cancer victim."

"The report of the Population Commission is not due to appear for two years and we need action today. Even if its report is a strong statement in favor of population control I doubt if very much good will be done. After all, he added, "The Kerner Commission Report clearly laid the blame for our racial problems on white racism, and what good did that do? Alabama reelected George Wallace and our national administration is following a 'Southern strategy'."

"We are not going to survive unless everyone learns that population and environment are two sides of the same coin. Ehrlich warned. "Problems of the environment include war, racism, poverty, the decay of our cities and economic exploitation of poor nations by the rich."

"Right now the people of the overdeveloped countries, including Russia and the U.S., are busily trying to maintain their affluence at the expense of the rest of the world. It's ironic-we're robbing our fellow passengers on Spaceship Earth and we're robbing our own children, in order to maintain a junky, materialistic society which is killing us. We must exchange our high quantity life for a high quality life."

Ehrlich attacked the political right for failing to recognize that the gross inequities in the way the world's resources are utilized "must be eliminated and eliminated fast."

"Americans," he said, "should be at the forefront of trying to get everyone his fair share-regardless of race or nationality. That's something we and our children could be proud of. The overdeveloped nations must stop exploiting the underdeveloped. We need population control, a just and prudent use of the earth's resources, and world-wide environmental economics. Those who say we can do without one or more of these are just talking through their hats."

Ehrlich admitted being pessimistic about our chances for survival. "The American people must become informed enough so that a forward-looking government can be installed in the elections of 1970 and 1972," he said. "If after 1972 the U.S.A. is still being run by men such as Nixon, Johnson, Agnew, Humphrey, Rivers, Thurmond, Daly, Reagan and Rafferty, then there is no hope. If, on the other hand, we can elect new men free of the pressure groups which control the old, there may yet be some hope."

PROGRESS REPORT....

The snack bar in the Student Union Building will stay open longer hours and on Sunday; the College Union Board Program is reaching its full swing and has more to come, and most important, the Student Government Association and several members of the faculty and administration are concerned about activities on campus this summer, or the lack of them.

At the first of the quarter, a faculty member said summer quarter at Valdosta State was a "half-ass quarter. Half the buildings are open, half the faculty are here, half the courses are offered, and there's only half as much to participate in."

At the time, that was true, but for the first time during a summer quarter, both the College Union Board and the SGA are active, and the difference is fantastic. The SGA, with the backing of several administrators, has succeeded in having the focal point of the campus, the snack bar, opened for more and longer hours.

"We asked for the change because the hours they had set up weren't adequate," said Karen Luke, SGAPresident. "The snack bar was closing at the same time the Union Board Program began in the evening, and it wasn't enticing to have it closing when the other programs were being started."

What also concerned the SGA and administrators, not to mention students, was the difficulty a residence hall student might have getting something to eat during the weekend, which provided another reason for the shift in the snack bar hours.

Students enrolled at VSC last summer quarter say the Union Board Program has made fantastic differences in the amount of activities available last summer and this summer.

The program this summer includes everything from the happily frivolous, like marathon monopoly, to the serious, like last night's student forum.

If you didn't go and have a complaint or two about the way things are done around here, you missed the best, and probably the only way, to bend the ears of the administration. But there may be other forums, if not this summer, then during fall quarter.

The only way the Union Board Program can be slowed down is by a lack of participation by the students, and that only hurts students. The program offers something for everyone three nights of the week, and one on a limited basis one other night. Find out what the program is doing that suits you and do it.

VSC Goes For Marathon Record

By staff writer

Staying up all night studying for a test is hard work, but staying up all night playing is something else.

In an effort to establish the state marathon double-board monopoly record, several Valdosta State College students and College Union Board Director Stan DeHart intend to start playing monopoly Friday, June 26.

"We don't plan to stop until at least Monday," DeHart said. "We've got something like a 60 hour goal."

Asked if that was the state record, DeHart replied, "I don't know, but we hope to have statewide press coverage, and if it isn't somebody will let us know."

He said double-board monopoly, marathon style, is played with four six-man teams a lot more money, and fewer rules. Play runs figure eight fashion both boards, and anyone caught verbally influencing a deal between the player who holds the dice and another player is fined a considerable amount, DeHart said, although players are allowed to discuss each proposed deal with their team-mates.

DeHart said a good many students are still needed to fill out the teams. Get in touch with him from 10 a.m. till 2 p.m. on the second floor of the student union building in the office closest to the water fountain.

Enrollment Here Sets Record For Summer

Six wings of women and three wings of men in the two residence halls open on campus total approximately 240 students of a record 1,408 record summer enrollment.

The record enrollment is an increase of 105 students over last summer quarter's enrollment and 124 over the enrollment of the summer quarter two years ago.

The two residence halls open are Lowndes and Brown Halls.

Line of students from Gymnasium as usual during registration. Upperclassmen soon found many courses weren't being offered this summer.

Students Win Top Art Awards At Show

by Loreta Halter

Chris Wilson, senior art student from Waycross, won the Best of Show Award at the Georgia Southwestern Fine Arts Festival which was held in Americus recently. The winning work "Organism" is a 3" x 4" linoleum print. The judge, Hugh O. Williams, displayed a placard with his comments of "It is extremely rare that a small print can hold its own in a purely competitive sense with the average of today's performances in the painting medium. Mr. Wilson's print had the scale and impact which is necessary to compete in this way, particularly its fine structural use of color."

Except for a purchase award, the only other acknowledged works in the show were honorable mentions. One of these went to Davy Cater, senior at VSC from Nashville for a drawing. Ten students of the Art Students' League went with Miss Dodd on May 6 to view the show and to attend the reception and presentation of awards held at the college. Concerning the works, Mary Willis felt "VSC added prestige to the art show."

Saturday several students submitted works to the Americus Sidewalk Art Show which was sponsored by the Art Guild. Out of the 25 awards given, 14 were taken by VSC students. The winners are: 1st prize drawing ($50)-Davy Cater; 1st prize painting ($50)-Chris Wilson; 2nd prize ceramics-Sandra Bludworth; honorable mention-Pat Berry (one drawing), Andy Aplin (three drawings and one graphics), Chris Wilson (three paintings), and Sandra Bludworth (three ceramics.)

Several colleges were represented in the show. When asked about his winning work, Davy Cater replied, "It is indeed an honor for two from the same art department to receive top awards in the two most sought after categories."

Saturday, May 16, these students and other art students from VSC will display their works at the Sidewalk Art Show held at Brookwood Plaza from 10 to 6. This will afford VSC students and the community an opportunity to become aware of different types of art which is being achieved in various categories.

Paper Breaks New Ground

The Valdosta State College newspaper in your hand has never been put out before in the summer. We're breaking new ground. But we're doing it with practically no carry-over staff from last year, and with a lack of proper equipment which makes the underground newspaper lay-out a necessity until new equipment arrives in the fall.

We feel that the important thing, however, is that the summer quarter students have, for the first time, their own communicating publication. And by the time fall quarter gets here, we're going to have this newspaper thing down pat, and can begin the new quarter with a running start.

In the meantime, we need the help of students with the ability to communicate who are interested enough in the student body and in this college to help make them both what they should be.

If you can dig this, and are interested in newspaper work, contact Mike Hill, editor, during the afternoons in the newspaper office upstairs in the student union building.

Hairy Challenge Issued

By staff writer

Due to a slightly less than shining academic record, the "best swimming and hair growing team ever assembled at Valdosta State College" has returned for summer quarter, according to a team spokesman.

Speaking on behalf of the team spokesman and immoral supporter, Ralph, the wonder dog, team member Scott Chase said the team will not swim under the name it carried to the spring quarter intramural championship in which it soundly trounced the various fraternity teams.

"We will not swim under that name," said Scott, who said the team now calls itself the "Ad Hoc Underwater Committee To Turn On King Neptune."

"We feel we're a lot better now than when we won the championship," Chase said. "We've taught team member Rick Hastings to quit dog-paddling."

"We're very serious about this thing," Chase said, "despite the levity of the team name. We really don't think there is anyone on campus who can beat us."

Scott said challengers should get in touch with College Union board director Stan DeHart to make any challenges.

The six-man team is composed of Jim Garner, Russ Moore, Fred Hanna, Rick Hastings, and Mike Hill.

Dr. Pafford Makes It Big

Ward Pafford, academic dean at Valdosta State College since 1966, was recently named by the Board of Regents as Vice President and Dean of the Faculties, effective July 1.

Pafford's elevation to the vice-presidency will give him an opportunity to work with the overall program of the college in the area of planning and policy making, according to Valdosta State College President S. Walter Martin. Some of his academic duties will be assumed by the deans of the two new schools and directors of the various new academic divisions.

Effective July 1, VSC will implement a new academic program structure, which will include two Schools and four divisions.
A new Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences is to be named, and William Ray Cleere has already been announced as the first Dean of the School of Education, also effective July 1.

"As Valdosta State College has changed in recent years, it has become a multi-purpose college providing a much broader program of service in this region," Dr.
Martin said. "This new academic reorganization is another major step in the direction of more efficient future growth and development. In addition to the School of Education and the School of Arts and Sciences, it is reasonable to assume the new Divisions may also be elevated to the School status in the next few years.

"Under the continued capable guidance of Dr. Pafford, I am confident each of the Schools and Divisions will achieve new goals in our effort to develop a program of academic excellence at the college.

A native of Jesup, Ga., Dr. Pafford holds the A.B. and A.M. degrees from Emory and the Ph.D. from Duke. His educational experience began as an instructor in Moultrie (Ga.) High School and include work at Clemson University, the former Emory Junior College at Valdosta and Emory University. At the latter institution, he was a professor of English and served for a period as chairman of the English Department. In addition to serving as Vice President and Dean of the Faculties, Dr. Pafford also continues as professor of English on the VSC faculty.

He is a member of a number of national honorary, scholastic and professional organizations, including Phi Beta Kappa, OKD and Sigma Chi.

SMOKEY INDEPENDENCE COMING?

WASHINGTON--(CPS)--July 4 at the Washington monument may see the strangest Independence Day celebration ever, with Bob Hope leading a "Support our flag" rally and the Yippies and others holding a "smoke-in" to demand legalization of marijuana.

The Hope rally, featuring Billy Graham,
Glen Campbell, Lyndon Johnson, Johnny Cash, and, maybe, Richard Nixon, is designed to support America, and perhaps, ignore the war.

But while the assembled patriots sing
"America," the Yippies, under their red, white and green flag, will smoke dope and sing

of "Amerika."

Leaders of the smoke-in have reportedly made efforts to call the demonstration off, but word of it has been circulating among the long-hairs and others for several months, and observers predict most people planning to attend may not get the word.

"If the people with hard-hat mentality are there at the same time the Yippies are, there won't be anything but trouble," said a local observer.

VSC Campus Growing In All Directions

By staff writer

Despite the current enrollment, and a less than anticipated enrollment last year, Valdosta State College is growing—at least physically.

New residence halls, tennis courts, classrooms, offices, and a library are among the buildings now under construction on the VSC campus.

Langdale Hall, residence hall for women, will be open fall quarter. The five-story, 500-bed dorm was completed at a cost of $2,000,000 by Wright and Associates of Columbus.

Eight new tennis courts will be ready for student use fall quarter. The courts, located on property between Baytree and the campus parking lot, should be completed by late August, according to Sam Brooks, comptroller. The eight new courts will be adequately lighted for night play. They will be finished in Laykold, a form of asphalt that has been used successfully on courts across the nation. The finish is green, to reduce glare, according to Ellis, Ingram & Assoc., architect for the project.

A 12-foot fence will surround the court area, and entrances will be along a paved walkway running from Baytree Road to a new bridge to be constructed to the new parking lot, across One Mile Branch.

Construction of a new library, located between the College Union and Brown Hall, is expected to be completed by fall 1971, according to Brooks.

The new three-story, 87,000 square foot building, will be constructed at a cost of $1,614,793 by Bullard Engineers, Inc., of Dothan, Alabama. Ellis, Ingram & Associates of Valdosta is the architectural firm in charge of the project.

The present library will be renovated by 1972 or 1973 to be used for counseling, public services, and classrooms, said Brooks.

The addition to Nevins Hall should be completed by fall 1971. Howard Ray Company of Nashville is in charge of the $1,156,800 construction job.

The addition will be connected to the rear of Nevins Hall, and will almost double the size of the present building which was dedicated in 1966. The space will alleviate the already outgrown quarters of the chemistry, physics, biology and mathematics departments and several offices of the college administrative staff.

A $1,234,000 300-bed men's residence hall, being constructed next to Lowndes and Brown Hall on Patterson Street, is scheduled to be finished in the fall of 1971.

Possibilities For An Entertaining Summer

Between now and July 26th the College Union Board will sponsor three exciting events: a Reader's Theatre, and three summer games.

Summer Games begin Tuesday, July 21st in the Rebel Room, according to Ed DeHart, program director of the Student Union. Ping Pong and Darts are played Tuesday, billiards on Wednesday, and checkers on Thursday.

"Anyone can play," says DeHart, "they'll just sign up either in my office or in Len Ferrell's office before the 20th." DeHart explains that the winners in each category are given points toward a trophy to be presented during the summer games.

College Board Games will begin at 4:15 in the Union Building, according to Union Board Program Director Tom DeHart, who asks those wishing to enter to sign up before then to sign up.

Students Now

The student court system is a great improvement over the old system made up of the re-distributing of the right of administration, the defense counsel, according to the advice Len Ferrell.

The new system operates on this summer with only one dorm up of Brown Hall, Lowndes Hall and residents, according to Ferrell. He said that instead of a one dorm, there are representatives from all dorms in the student court system.

"I think the significant change in the court system is that the court system is now a court system," said Ferrell. "The time he is to appear in court in advance of the court session is a definite statement of his status as a person on the Student Court system. A faculty member or a professional around may also defend the student."

A copy of the Student Court Regulations of the Student Union will be available in the Student Union and the procedures which will be the basis of a student court system. (One member of the court designated as the chairperson.)
