Orientation Edition, 1982 #15 Valdosta State College Valdosta, Georgia

VSC offers many options

Valdosta State College is a multi-purpose, senior unit of the University System of Georgia. As an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, VSC provides a wide range of opportunities for higher education. Undergraduate degrees in over 45 major areas of study are offered. VSC also offers graduate degrees in more than 20 fields of specialization. Over 25 completely air-conditioned buildings occupy VSC's 168 acres. Main Campus buildings are Spanish Mission architecture while those buildings on North Campus are a form of red brick Georgian architecture.

Evening view of West Hall

Located at the heart of south-central Georgia, VSC is recognized as one of the most beautiful college campuses in the south.

Landscaping is constantly in progress throughout the grounds. More than 1,000 camellia plants of different varieties are located on the

Jewel Whitehead Camellia Trail on the Main Campus behind Georgia Hall. The trail was donated as a Christmas gift to VSC in 1944 by Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Whitehead of Valdosta. The Whiteheads also donated the $80,000 pipe organ located in the Fine Arts Building in 1969. Valdosta State College recently celebrated its 76th anniversary. The institution was established in 1906 and was then known as the South Georgia Normal College for Women. The name was changed in 1922 to South Georgia Women's College, but it was not until 1950 that the first male student was admitted to the college. The name was then changed to Valdosta State College.

VSC now has an enrollment of about 5,000 students. Approximately 20 states and 20 foreign countries are represented in the student population. The majority of VSC students, however, are Georgia residents. The college employs some 230 faculty members.

VSC is a thriving asset to Valdosta, a city of about 44,000. It is conveniently located near downtown and other shopping areas.

Insight important program

Welcome to College Insight, VSC's orientation program for new students. We are aware of how very important this time is for you as you begin the new experience of college. While your purpose in being here is basically educational, you will probably notice a change in lifestyles and even some changes in you. It is the purpose of College Insight to introduce you to VSC and to make sure you have some exposure to all this newness. The Insight staff is composed of students who were in your shoes not so long ago and they look forward to meeting you and working with you while you're here. You will also be spending time with VSC faculty members and administrative staff who will smooth your selection of classes and your entry to the extracurricular scene. Finally, and just as importantly, there are the other new students you will be meeting and with whom you will be sharing the orientation process. We know that you will have lots of questions and hope you will feel free to seek answers from any of these groups of people. Consider all of them your resources and make it a point to become acquainted with them. If I can be helpful to you in any way during Insight or after the school year begins, please call me (247-3251) or come by my office in Powell Hall-East Wing. I am excited about the new year at VSC and the part you will have in it!

Freshman needs important

Advising is the selection of courses to be taken. It is the first step for registering at VSC. VSC has developed special procedures for advising freshmen. These procedures will help freshmen adjust more easily to college life. A select group of 35 faculty members has been chosen especially to advise freshmen. These advisors are trained to understand all majors so they may help new students become aware of the college as a whole during their first year. These students need additional attention in choosing a major. The special group of freshman advisors is designed to give this attention. This year, all freshmen will be advised by a special freshmen advisor. All students will be required to declare a major after completing 45 hours of course work.

WVVS now in color

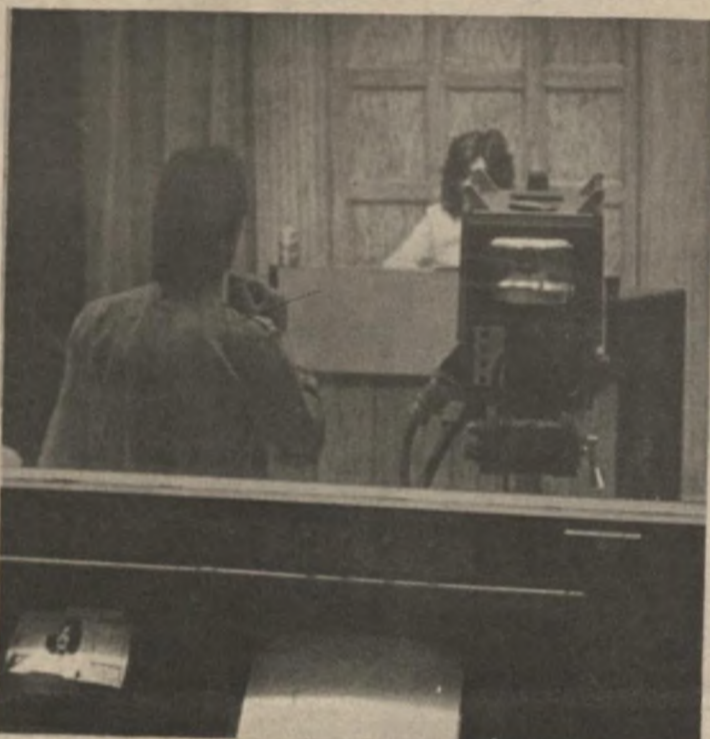

VSC has something new and spectacular to offer incoming and returning students in the telecommunications major. During Winter quarter 1982, a new color complex was added to WVVS TV Channel 12. Before the new color cameras were added to the studio, the station had only access to black and white cameras and productions. The new color cameras have added much to WVVS. WVVS broadcasted its first show with the color cameras with Spectrum '82, a 30 hour marathon to raise money for the telecommunications area. Spectrum '82 was only the first of many broadcasts of this type. Another one is tentatively scheduled for Fall quarter 1982. This marathon may possibly run 3 consecutive days if station time and students work permits. WVVS has broadened its programming to better serve VSC and the Valdosta Community. It has come a long way since its first black and white news cast. Included in the upcoming programs is Valdosta States, a look at what is happening on the campus at VSC. Also VHS, a program designed and directed from faculty and students at Valdosta High School, will be presented. WVVS also broadcasts movies and entertainment for the entire community. Special features of events on campus, such as play productions and student activities, are also aired. Dr. Bob Jones is the General Manager of the station, which airs Monday through Friday night from 7 until 9 p.m. WVVS concentrates most of its two hours of evening programming on items of interest to Valdosta and the surrounding area. Anyone interested in the telecommunications area at VSC is urged to contact Dr. Bob Jones in the Fine Arts Building at VSC. Students may sign up for Speech 361 in order to have a part in the upcoming marathon during fall quarter.

Freshman society provides incentive

Alpha Lambda Delta is an honor society for freshmen at VSC. The purpose of this honor society is to promote scholarship among new students. Alpha Lambda Delta provides an incentive for incoming students to achieve and maintain a high level of scholastic excellence. To become a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, a freshman student must have a GPA of 3.5 or better during his or her first quarter at VSC. Members must maintain a 3.5 throughout their freshman year. Membership is effective for one year, but records are kept until each chapter graduates. Alpha Lambda Delta has many advantages to offer its members. Not only does membership command the respect of affiliation with a national honor society, it also opens doors to many other prestigious societies. In addition, there are graduate scholarships and campus awards available only to Alpha Lambda Delta members. Alpha Lambda Delta participates in many activities at VSC. Spring quarter activities included the annual Red Cross blood drive, SGA elections and helping at registration. Members who work at registration are allowed to register early. Membership in Alpha Lambda Delta is a goal worth reaching for during a student's freshman year. It provides activities, personal satisfaction, and future rewards for all of its members. The members of Alpha Lambda Delta hope to see many 1982 incoming freshmen at our initiation ceremony in February.

Honor Societies recognize academic achievement

Honor societies play an important part in campus life by recognizing outstanding academic achievement as well as achievement in other areas of college leadership and participation.

Honor societies which are affiliated with particular studies promote the development of professionalism within that particular field and also foster professional contacts which can be useful after graduation.

There are several honor societies that represent a specific area of study. They are: Accounting- Alpha Epsilon Alpha, Criminal Justice- Alpha Phi Sigma, History- Phi Alpha Theta, French- Pi Delta Phi, Mathematics- Pi Mu Epsilon, Music- Sigma Alpha Iota, Spanish- Sigma Delta Pi, Physics- Sigma Pi Sigma. Active participation in any of these societies offers an excellent opportunity for campus involvement as well as recognizing and promoting academic excellence.

Alpha Lambda Delta and Sigma Alpha Chi represent academic achievement during a student's freshman year.

Upper division academic accomplishments are recognized through Alpha Chi and Phi Kappa Phi. Cardinal Key and Omicron Delta Kappa recognize leadership and academic prominence in the college setting.

The Spectator needs student support

The Spectator is Valdosta State's student newspaper. It is funded through student activities fees and ad revenue. The primary purpose of The Spectator is to inform students of news and events that will affect them.

Students do most of the work on The Spectator. The staff writes stories and editorials, takes and develops photos, types copy, sells ads, lays out pages, and performs other tasks necessary to the production of a newspaper.

Students who are not on the staff are also invited to voice their opinions. This can be done through guest editorials and letters to the editor. Also, we will be bringing back the opinion poll this summer.

This year's editorial staff is full of new faces. We are trying to come up with new, exciting ideas for the upcoming school year. One thing that we always need is more student involvement. Spectator reporters are usually among the first to know about changes and happenings at VSC. Our ability to cover stories and events is directly dependent upon the number of staff members.

Students can earn one hour of credit per quarter by working on The Spectator if they sign up for Journalism 270 at registration. It's not easy work, but it is usually fun. It is also rewarding when you see students reading a newspaper that could not have been without your input.

We hope to cover VSC as effectively as possible this year. We will need your help to do it. The Spectator is your publication. Make use of it.

WVVS is VSC's musical alternative

There is only one radio station in Valdosta that is controlled completely by students. This radio station is also a student activity at Valdosta State College. This radio station is WVVS, 91-FM. WVVS can offer students an opportunity to learn the broadcasting industry. Every student

The following explanation and history lesson about the student owned and operated facility tells how it has grown from 10 watts in 1971 to 5300 watts in 1981.

WVVS is a nine-year-old station that has been built on pride and tradition. The station could not have existed in this

Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia, and Congressman William Stuckey. Without the support of all of the above, WVVS would still be just an idea. With FCC and state approval, along with a $5000 temporary loan from the VSC Foundation, WVVS began operation on July 26, 1971.

It was understood then and now, by all parties involved, that the station would serve the students as an alternative to other types of radio programming available in the area. With this in mind, the student founders established an album oriented rock station unlike any other in the country. It would mix a carefully formulated schedule of regular programming consisting of new trends in music along with accepted albums already released, both within an album oriented rock motif.

In addition, block programming of the classics, jazz, folk, country, soul, and comedy would be offered. This format, originating at WVVS, has become the dominant format of college stations across the country.

The original music director and one of the student founders is Bill Tullis. Tullis is now employed in a position at the innovative television

The VSC Literary Arts magazine published each quarter provides a ready outlet for the creative talent, encourages and awards outstanding achievement in the literary arts, and gives the writer a spotlight in which to voice his emotions.

VSC centrally located

VSC is conveniently located near several shopping areas. Students can reach stores and restaurants easily on foot or by bicycle.

Many Valdosta businesses offer discounts to VSC students. Brookwood Plaza is just across Patterson Street off the southeast corner of the VSC campus. Here, students will find Sears, Woolworth and Pantry Pride grocery store. Several specialty shops, such as Adams Music, Image-2 T-shirt shop, and Brookwood Bookstore, provide convenient shopping. Hungry students will find Woody's and Hoagies Bistro just a few footsteps away.

VSC is only about a mile from downtown Valdosta. Students may shop at a variety of clothing and shoe stores. Dosta Sports Shop offers a wide selection of sporting equipment. After shopping, a student can enjoy the relaxed atmosphere and good food at The Salad Maker.

There are three primary functions of the VSC Student Government Association. The first is to lead and unify the student body. The second is to decide and act responsibly for the students upon any matter involving student interests. The third duty is to work with faculty and administration in regard to the students' interests.

The SGA is divided into three main divisions. They are the executive, legislative, and judicial branches.

The Legislative Branch is the Student Senate. Bills and resolutions are made in weekly meetings composed of elected representatives from every class, every dorm, and several off-campus senators to have a good cross-section or every type student on campus. These bills and resolutions are ideas brought by the individual senators to the Senate in order to have recommendations to the students.

The Executive Branch consists of the President, Vice President, Secretary and Comptroller, all of which are elected by the student body. Its main purpose is to supervise and to maintain policies and recommendations formulated by the Senate in the interest of the students, and to meet with the administration on a regular basis to discuss recommendations.

The Judicial Branch of the S.G.A. consists of the Judicial Council, whose main objective is to promote fairness, equality, and justice to all members of the Student Body.

New Physical Education complex

VSC offers many student services

The VSC Bookstore is located in the east wing of the College Union Building. It offers a convenient place for students to purchase books and items for their personal needs.

The bookstore carries all required, recommended and supplemental textbooks, both new and used. It also offers an excellent selection of reading material, both popular and educational in nature.

The lower level of the bookstore offers a wide variety of school supplies, toiletries, magazines, greeting cards, snack foods and athletic clothing. A special section of the store carries fraternity and sorority jewelry plus a selection of records and tapes, photograph supplies and calculators.

One of the more popular services offered, the cashing of personal checks for students, is handled on the lower level only except when purchases are involved.

Another store is located in Langdale Hall. It features many items available in the main store including snack items, and school supplies. The Langdale store is open until 10 p.m. most evenings.

Next door to the Langdale store, the VSC laundry offers a convenient place for students to wash clothes. The laundry's 20 washers and dryers operate by tickets which may be purchased in Langdale store or from dispensers located in Langdale lobby.

The VSC snack bar, better known as the Blazer Room, offers a variety of menu items including sandwiches, candy and drinks. Hot meals are served during the day. The Blazer Room is located in the Student Union Building and is open late each night.

VSC teams are annual contenders

Valdosta State has been a contender in intercollegiate sports for many years. VSC fields men's teams in baseball, basketball, soccer, track and field, golf, tennis, and, beginning Fall Quarter 82, football. VSC also fields a wide variety of competitive women's teams. Among them are basketball, tennis, softball, volleyball, and track.

Each year VSC finds itself among the top teams in the nation in intercollegiate sports. This year should be no different.

Intramurals offer recreation

VSC has plenty of activities for all athletes, regardless of individual talent. For men, football in the fall, basketball during the winter, and softball in the spring are featured. Women can choose from volleyball, basketball, and softball. Also offered during the course of the year are pool, pinball, ping-pong, and other types of tournaments. Anyone interested in sports has plenty of chances to watch or play.

Greek system promotes social skills and interests

The Greek system at VSC offers a great opportunity for development of leadership skills and social interests. Besides the activities within each fraternity and sorority, Greeks are actively involved in the CUB, Student Government Association and many other diverse student groups at VSC. Sororities and fraternities serve to maintain high scholastic ideals and standards, and encourage a significant degree of participation in campus and community affairs. There are eight national sororities represented on the VSC campus. The National Panhellenic Conference sororities are Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu and Zeta Tau Alpha. Formal rush is held prior to the beginning of Fall quarter. The National Panhellenic Council sororities are Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta, and Zeta Phi Beta. Formal rush for these sororities is held later in the school year.

There are six fraternities and four colonies at VSC governed by the Interfraternity Council. The six fraternities are Alpha Phi Alpha, Delta Chi, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon. The three colonies at VSC are Omega Psi Phi, Phi Beta Sigma and Sigma Phi Epsilon. For more information about sororities, students should contact B.J. Hausman at the College Union. Students interested in fraternities should contact Ken Ferrell at the Student Affairs Office.

station WVVS, located in Atlanta. He is also the publisher of "Progressive Music Service."

Tullis is held in high esteem throughout the country in the music and television industry. His opinion is well accepted by virtually every record label in the country. He still acts as a music consultant to the current musical director of WVVS through his "Progressive Music Service" as he does with many stations.

When Tullis was still a VSC student, WVVS, the format, and Tullis himself were highly respected by "Billboard" magazine. This renown music publication distributed the name of WVVS and VSC all over the country and the world as "Billboard" reaches hundred of thousands of people in the industry every week.

In addition, WVVS has had articles in the Atlanta, Jacksonville, and Valdosta papers, all of which recognized WVVS as a leader in the Southeast. These articles are on file at the station for all interested students and listeners.

WVVS has followed in the footsteps of Bill Tullis through the eyes of his successors. WVVS utilizes a diversified album oriented rock format with a lot of extra specials. The station continues to be on top of the music industry, although musical tastes in the south generally linger a little behind.

A small staff of students work 19 hours daily, seven days a week to entertain, educate, and inform the students of VSC. This is done to the best of their ability with a sense of pride and tradition in being recognized as a leader.

Kevin King, a former general manager, had this to say: "As a manager of the station for almost three years, I feel a having served in an organization noteworthy of national recognition. I am sure that the hundreds of dedicated students who have worked at WVVS over the years feel the same as I do."

WVVS is a progressive rock station located on the VSC campus. This is no typical radio station. VSC students have control of this station. If you have never heard of the alternative, keep on reading.

The music library at WVVS has more than 10,000 albums. But there is a lot more to WVVS than the most recently released music. The special programming is just another example of the alternatives WVVS has to offer.

The "Damascus Road" is on Sunday mornings, a contemporary rock religious show. On Sunday afternoons, there is 'Insight to the Classics' for the listener with an ear for the conservative sounds. On Tuesday, a more mellow show, 'Essence of Jazz.' Country music is the highlight of the ever popular 'Country Cookin.' And of course when you want to make your own selections of music, call up WVVS during the 'Request Hour' or the 'Telequest Show.'

Milestones now in second year of publication

The VSC yearbook continues in its second year of publication after not being published for three consecutive years.

The staff of Milestones has been working hard all year to make Milestones a memorable even for VSC's student body.

Milestones will be distributed this Fall. Students who have been at VSC for three consecutive quarters are Milestones staff would appreciate the help of all new students on campus so that the VSC yearbook can continue.

Milestones needs a good staff for our next edition and welcomes any new or returning students who wish to work with us.

Fall quarter, anyone desiring a position or just wishing to work should sign up for Journalism 271 with your advisor.

Religious Organizations offer counseling and friendship

There are several religious organizations, representing a number of denominations and faiths, which are connected with Valdosta State College. Among these organizations are the Baptist Student Union, Christian Student Center and the Wesley Foundation, all of which are immediately adjacent to the campus.

The activities provided by the various organizations include programs of study, worship, fellowship and sports. The Baptist Student Union and the Wesley Foundation, along with the Episcopal Church and the Roman Catholic Church, all provide fun-time chaplains to the college. Presbyterian and Lutheran churches also provide ministries to the college. Various ministers are on campus frequently.

The Chaplains Association, coordinated through the college administration, hope to serve the VSC community in all areas of college life and they welcome the participation of all students in any of their activities. They are available for counseling and friendship.

Advertisements appear on campus regularly, describing the activities of the various religious. All of the chaplains can be contacted through Student Affairs, and their phone numbers are listed in the student directory.

Each of the religious organizations are here to serve the VSC community and consider themselves to be an integral part of life at the college. They welcome all student involvement.

Extra curriculars relieve monotony

Although academics compose a large portion of college life, students must have some type of extra curricular activity to alleviate the monotony of the books. VSC offers a wide variety of clubs and organizations that will serve that purpose.

Most every academic department has a club that is open not only to students in a particular major, but all interested students, as well. If a student is majoring in English but has an interest in biology, he or she may join the Biology Club and participate in its many activities.

Clubs on campus can also help a student better his grades by introducing him to other students in his major that can help him in a troublesome subject.

VSC offers a selection of religious organizations and intramural sports clubs as well as these clubs associated with academic departments.

Joining a club is a great way to get rid of boredom, homesickness, or the monony of studying - but a student should be careful; he might learn something.

VSC Student Affairs provides students with opportunities to enrich their college experience through individual and group programs. VSC is not yet so big that students have become numbers. The Student Affairs staff is designed to make sure a student's stay at college is a fulfilling one.

Regents' test is major issue at SAC meeting

ELIZABETH KNIGHT
Spectator Staff Writer

Government Association Graylon Brown, Vice-President, and Secretary Jonathan attended a Student Ad Council this past weekend at Junior College in Gaines.

C members are presidents of the schools in the University System of Ga. At the 11th meeting, a statement was made that the time has come for the Board of Regents to re-evaluate its relationship with Student Council by being more responsive to the concerns raised by the students. As a result of this statement, John Skandalakis of Atlanta was appointed to act as a liaison between the Board of Regents and the issues were taken up at the meeting including a recommendation concerning the Regents' test. It was suggested that a student who fails the 1st time should be allowed to retake the test a second time without having to take remedial courses.

If failure occurs a second time, the student would be required to take the remedial classes. The Board of Regents responded that this might be acceptable.

Another issue discussed was the reduction of Physical Education requirements in some schools. It was also recommended that all Physical Education classes be graded as Pass or Fail.

The consolidation of Savannah State and Armstrong College was also brought before the Board of Regents. Several resolutions were presented to the Board of Regents. Another resolution was the support of a college board minimum program for the
