General Telephone asks for revenue increase

General Telephone Company filed an application with the Georgia Public Service Commission for a $4.5 million increase in annual gross revenues last Friday.

The net amount of additional revenue requested is about $2.2 million after giving effect to taxes and uncollectibles. The company says the additional $2.2 million is necessary if it is to continue to meet present service needs, and be in a position to finance facilities required by telephone users in the future.

General Telephone serves over 162,000 telephones in 67 exchanges in Georgia.

In March, 1969, the company filed an application for a $2.9 million increase in annual gross revenues.

After lengthy deliberations and court actions, ending in October, 1970, the company was permitted to place higher rates in effect.

On February 15, 1971, General asked the PSC to make substantial reductions in rural mileage charges, saying they were too high, and this request was approved by the commission and made effective March 1, 1971.

E. H. Jared, manager of General's Georgia operations, said the rate request filed in 1969 was based on economic and financial conditions facing the company in December, 1968.

"Operating expenses and the cost of financing new telephone construction have risen steadily since 1968.

"Unlike many private, unregulated industries, we cannot postpone investments for service facilities until the cost of money goes down," Jared said. "We are obligated to provide phone service when people in our operating areas want it.

"The amount of increase we are requesting is the minimum amount necessary to fulfill our service obligations," he said.

The company is requesting increases in residence one-party service ranging from $1.80 to $2.80.

For business one-party service, proposed increases range from $5.40 to $8.35.

No increases are requested in rural mileage charges.

Hahira ladies lose opener

The Hahira Sports Club, local ladies basketball team, traveled to Moultrie Saturday night and in the process lost their opening game of the season in a high scoring affair, 65-55, according to H.A. Miley, coach.

All of the team did not make the trip since the game was hours ahead of time and some could not be there, the coach said.

The Hahira team arrived late and with two minutes warm-up for them the game started. After three minutes Moultrie was leading 10-0 and then Hahira warmed up. The team played real well the remainder of the game but lost by the same ten point lead, Miley stated.

Beth Perry's shooting was amazing for Hahira throughout the game the coach stated. The remainder of those going, Betty Passomore, Susan Shaw, Margie Stalvey, Kim Dennis, Mary Ivey and Willene Webb, also turned in a good game against the large experienced Moultrie Club, Miley added.

Mayor Salter attends dinner

By Dorothy Salter
Mayor W. R. Salter was among the 350 guests at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night honoring Coach Wright Bazemore of Valdosta High School. This affair was held at the Elks Lodge in Valdosta.

A special book on Valdosta was given to all present on the progress . . . 6-year growth from 1912 - 1972 of progressive people fondly remembered.

He claimed that the best way to keep rural America strong is to improve the quality of life there. "We must improve the conditions on the farm so that a young person would not have to leave the rural areas to get a job."

A reception was held in the social hall of the Methodist Church following his talk, which was carried live over Radio Station WBTT. Rev. John Hendley welcomed the visitors and gave the invocation. Grover C. Patten, representative from the 63rd District, introduced Congressman Mathis, and paid high tribute to the member of the important Agricultural Committee of the House. Rep. ## Farmers must file SS this month

Albany, Georgia -- Farmers have until January 31 to report Social Security taxes withheld from their employees' wages during 1971, said Calvin G. Lane, the Internal Revenue Service local representative.

The reports should be filed on Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees.

Mr. Lane said that any farmer who pays an employee cash wages of $150 or more a year must withhold Social Security taxes. These taxes must also be withheld on wages under $150 for any person hired 20 days or more a year.

For tax purposes, a farm employer includes anyone who furnishes and pays workers to perform agricultural labor on his behalf or for someone else. Mr. Lane said a "crew leader" is an employer under this definition.

The 1971 Social Security tax rate is 10.4 percent of the first $7,800 of taxable wages paid a farm employee. Half the tax is paid by the farmer and the other half by the employee.

Farmers must give a W-2 wage and tax statement to every worker they pay $600 or more a year. Employees paid less than $600 should receive a statement covering their Social Security taxes, Mr. Lane said.

More detailed information is available in IRS Publication 51 (Circular A), "Agricultural's Employer's Tax Guide." Send your request for a free copy to: P. O. Box 1642, Atlanta, Ga. 30301.

FOOD PRICES

Food prices are expected to move upward again in 1972, but at a slow rate. Even so, only about 16 percent of the U. S. consumer's disposable personal income will be going for food by the end of the year. USDA economists say this is the lowest percentage of disposable income for food of any nation in the world.

S. S. Information

Farm worker reports and Social Security contributions are due for the year 1971 January 31, 1972.

Farmers and crew leaders who employed farm workers during 1971 must send reports of 1971 wages and Social Security contributions to the Internal Revenue Service.

A farm worker is covered by Social Security if an employer paid him $150 in cash wages for farm work performed in 1971 or -- if the employee worked for one employer on the farm on 20 or more days during the year.

If the farmers or crew leaders have IRS employer identification numbers the form will be mailed to them by Internal Revenue. Any who had such employees during the year and do not have an identification number should apply to IRS right away for the forms and identification number.

Social Security contributions include the 5.2% withheld from the employees' pay plus a like amount to be paid by the employer.

A farm crew leader is considered to be the employer of his crew normally unless he himself is an employee of the farmer by written agreement. Even without a written agreement the farmer is the employer if he has final control of the crew members who work for him.

Employers are required to keep records on each of their farm employees during the year. It should show the employee's name; his social se-

Buying beef for the food freezer

This is the time of year when many Lowndes Countians are asking questions about buying beef in quantity for the freezer. Now is the time to buy, so here are some suggestions which should help you in your selection of meat.

Many firms advertise "specials" in newspapers and the food industry promotes the sale of freezers and meats to be frozen. Study these ads very carefully. Beef priced very low may mean the quality also is very low. And you may find the pre-trimming is very slight.

check grade

It is very important to know the yield grade. Yield "1" means you'll get much more beef than with yield "5."

A reliable source of information on beef quality is the USDA grading system. Note the grade, as it will be an indication of quality that relates to juiciness, tenderness and flavor. These top grades in order of quality are: USDA Prime, Choice, Good, Standard, Commercial and Utility. The highest grade Prime is primarily sold to hotels and restaurants and not to the general public. USDA Choice and Good are the most common grades found at retail markets.

Lean western-fed beef, delicious, top quality, fancy, supreme beef and similar terms are not recognized as quality indicators. These terms often tend to confuse the buyer instead of guaranteeing a fair price for the quality she wants and gets.

Some companies offer free bonuses as come-on bait to lure customers to buy higher priced meats. Remember a business must make a profit if he stays in operation

know weights

If you are planning to buy a hindquarter of beef from a 1,000 pound steer of U.S. Choice quality to U.S. Good, you should know that each hindquarter would weigh about 140 pounds. A 35 pound difference (25 percent) between hindquarter and the rest obtained from it are fat, bone and cutting age. This may vary considerably, depending on the of the animal and the of fat and bone removed. You can expect a quarter of beef weighing 140 pounds.

cuts and cost

Some concerns cut as you specify according of roasts and steaks, number of each you want package. You can also the amount of lean meat want in your ground beef stew meat. The seller be able to tell you the approximate amount of meat you receive from the cut you purchase. Also about cutting and costs. Supervise the of your beef in order you are getting what you ed.

Power Play

George Busbee, House majority leader, probably generally considered one of the most respected members of the Georgia General Assembly. He's a responsible legislator, not irresponsible rhetoric on any issue. Busbee vigorously attacks anyone on the way he blasted the proposed Territorial Electric Service Act. It's got scandal in it. It's money in it," declared Busbee. Bill Busbee so described has the backing of the Georgia Power Company and the rural electric cooperatives. Albany, is one of Georgia towns and cities now operating municipal electrical systems. Busbee and urban legislators insist that the act of the bill would be to prohibit expansion of such municipal electric systems, while carrying out monopolies for Georgia Power and for the rural electric cooperatives (originally designed to provide electric service to those in thinly populated sections).

Georgia Municipal Association officials legislation would virtually "seal off" municipal electric systems and "effectively prevent them from orderly expansion as the cities grow."

The House Industry Committee has scheduled an open hearing on the matter Wednesday. It should be well attended.

---- The Atlanta Constitution

tem can expect to expand its electrical service as the city grows and takes in new territory. This seems reasonable.

Proponents of the bill argue that its basic purpose is simply to eliminate controversy over which electric supplier should have jurisdiction in specific areas. That sounds simple enough, but to the extent that this is a bill which eliminates some existing competition, it ought to be looked over very carefully. Moreover, we don't see any particular reason why cities already having their own electric systems should not logically expand into territories coming into their city limits.

Another thing is disturbing about the legislation. The special interest boys have a way, quite often, of slipping some simple little old bill into the hopper and well on its way to approval by the General Assembly before someone reads the fine print. There has been an intense lobbying effort in the last few days to win over legislators to this particular bill. There are, in fact, some legislators who actually signed the bill as sponsors, when they were told that everyone affected had agreed to its provisions. Some of these same legislators now intend to oppose the bill actively, in part because they feel they were not told the truth.

The House Industry Committee has scheduled an open hearing on the matter Wednesday. It should be well attended.

Cigarette Smoking

Seen As World Health Hazard

Throughout the world smoked last year than ever. But it emerged as a major international health problem in cigarette smoking appeared to be increasing especially among the 100 tobacco producing nations. Some governments have steps to reduce cigarette smoking and its health hazards.

Some countries have made cigarette advertising banned from television in many counties including the United States. Some countries have made it mandatory for smokers of long standing to have chest examinations. Some nations have published advertisements informing smokers of less hazardous ways of smoking and asking them to be more considerate of nonsmokers.

We feel that some solution will soon be forthcoming. This health hazard cannot be ignored and plans must be made for those who do smoke to not endanger their lives. In the meantime better cut down and not smoke that last part of that cigarette!

Joblessness In '71 Worst Since '61

government reported recently that unemployment edged up to 6.1 percent in December, the end of a year with the worst annual jobless rate in a decade. Figures showed that the nation ended 1971 with 5.2 million workers unemployed and with a 5.9 percent unemployment rate for all of 1971.

It is of course, word from demagogues that the present administration in Washington is to blame. They say even show 1972 is still in a very bad way. They claim that President Nixon has turned his back on the working men and women of America.

The joblessness has hovered around 6 percent since Nixon took office three years ago when it read 3.3 percent jobless. We do realize things have not gone well in the economic picture. The small business man and the worker who draws wages seem to be the worst hurt along with our farmer friends.

Whatever it takes we must see a change in this picture soon or we'll end up worst than we are today!

Tourists Do Come Through

ism is beginning to catch on with people of our state. It has grown into a big industry. We have learned that tourists will stay longer if they are treated as if there is entertainment for them, if lodging and meals are good and reasonable and if there is something to entertain them.

Georgia has tried with a campaign to sell itself to travel editors and writers. We need more welcome stations. Then the hotels and restaurant keepers need to cater to their visitors' tastes and desires of who come visiting. They also need rest rooms, with no shell games and no in the south.

We have had some success and recently Florida viewed our success in the arm and Florida to build more welcome stations to counter Georgia's new

Some figures show that the Little White House in Warm Springs, the favorite hiding place of President Franklin Roosevelt, last year had 131,000 visitors checked in there 28 percent more than the previous year. This is a twenty-eight percent increase and Warm Springs isn't even on an interstate.

We feel that Stone Mountain and other advertised attractions in Georgia will also show an increase. We feel that Georgia is now more popular with tourists. Let's keep it so and add to it.

We need an enlargement and double lane road through our fair city as we need to "get our little town" in focus as they bring money along to spend in our restaurants, service stations, drug stores and grocery stores, as well as motels and hotels. We need that "shot in the arm" that added visitors can bring to our county and city.

NO TIME TO TREAT MEN WRONG

There is a time to work and play,
A time to eat and sleep;
A time to study and to pray,
A time to laugh and weep;
A time for fellowship that's sweet,
A time for sacred song;
But never is there time to treat
A human being wrong.

FROM MY NOTE BOOK

BY MAXIE PATTEN

There is time to lift men up
And help them on life's road;
A time to drain their bitter cup
And share their heavy load;
A time to bless them with our grace
And boost them all along;
But never is there time and place
To treat our fellows wrong.

There is a time to help men seek
Our God who saves the soul;
A time to show them that the meek
Shall reach life's highest goal;
A time to help them turn aside
And leave the wicked throng;
But never did our God provide
A time to treat men wrong.
Walter E. Osenhour

The Proverbs and Solomon in the Old Testament brings the thoughts of this poem home to you. We do have time to work, laugh, weep, sing, study, pray, lift people up, share each other's burdens, lead them to the Master who saves, lead them to be meek, help turn them aside from evil. But NEVER does God lead us to treat our fellow-man wrong.

HENRY FORD II
Once while Henry Ford sat "thinking" he jotted down these words. "Nobody can really guarantee the future. The best we can do is size up the chances, calculate the risks involved, estimate our ability to deal with them, and then make our plans with confidence."
Every GREAT accomplishment has come by prayer, taking ing the tasks with God by our sides, making plans and carrying them through. We point our church people to such plans. God's work is most important and we must not settle for less than our best.

CRITICISM
Criticism will ruin the plan Of the very best boy Or the very best man. Praise will help him reach his goal, And give him a boost, And save his soul.

Sylvia Crouse says a lot in these few lines. I have noted during my teaching career that even children who are "spoiled" or given into care over come such a handicap much easier than the "neglected child, the one who is starved for love and understanding." They fight back and can't understand how life has dealt them such a blow. Oft times they grow rebellious, stubborn, self-willed, arrogant and at times either over-loud or withdrawn. They certainly need our love and encouragement.

WE NEED MEN
--- Who cannot be bought.
--- Whose word is their bond.
--- Who put character above wealth.
--- Who possess opinions and a will.

---Who are larger than their vocations.
---Who do not hesitate to take chances.
---Who will make no compromise with wrong.
---Who will not lose their individuality in a crowd.

---Who will be honest in small things as in great things.
---Who will not say they do it "because everybody else does it."

---Whose ambitions are not confined to their own selfish desires.
---Who give thirty-six inches to the yard and thirty-two quarts to the bushel.

---Who will not have one brand of honesty for business purposes and another for private life.

---Who do not believe that shrewdness and long-headedness are the best qualities for winning success.

---Who are not ashamed or afraid to stand for the truth when it is unpopular, who can say "no" with emphasis, although all the rest of the world says "yes."

TODAY MEN NEEDED
Today in our schools, community life, business, but most of all in His churches real Christian men are needed. We need those who put character above wealth, who will not compromise with wrong, who are honest and not afraid to say "no" if it is necessary for the good of all.

Our churches need the men leading the way. We need great hearted liberal men to support God's cause, to work, as well as, to give, of their means to teach, lead, sing, plan the budgets, lead in worship services. Then our women and children and youth will follow. God intended that men should lead the way if they don't, then our wonderful women will still have to keep carrying the heavy load of church work in all capacities. DISCIPLINE SHOULD BEGIN AT HOME

Today when it is almost impossible for teachers to teach because many children are so rowdy, selfish, discourteous, and selfwilled. They learn "bad words" at home and on the streets. They carry them even where younger children hear them. They hear the older youth "talking back to parents and teachers." They try to follow suit.

Parents we can't expect teachers and public officials to do much with our children and youth if we have NOT built a good background."

At our home we knew the "galberry" was kept if we ever cared to "sass our Mothers." The old "hickory stick to show firmness along as it was needed but more just talking to us, sitting beside the open fire and reading to us. Going with us to church, planning some outing just for the family, the little moments of "just us" to grow close that whenever discipline was needed the children would understand and know we really loved them.

Parents don't expect teachers, friends, clubs, leaders to be able to rightfully discipline your child, if it becomes necessary, if you haven't already "set the background" where it will only take the explaining words and admonishments. So many times those who won't mind end up in our juvenile courts and later in life spend time behind "bars." Let's be sure before we bring children into the world that we really want them and will train them right.

WANNA TRY THESE ON FOR SIZE NOW ?

The Cat Creek Philosopher
THE CAT CREEK PHILOSOPHER THINKS NEW RULE ALLOWING YOU TO CUT OFF OTHERS' PHONE IS GOOD IDEA.

Editor's note: The Cat Creek Philosopher on his grass farm says he has discovered a new law.

Dear Editor:
As I understand it, the way civilization works is, first you invent something to make life easier, like the automobile, then you wonder what to do with it when it becomes the unbearable nuisance anybody who was ever caught in a traffic jam will tell you it is.

Or take the telephone. The telephone is a fine thing when you need to use it, but it can ring at some of the worst times. Therefore I was pleased to read in a newspaper last night right after my phone rang and it was a wrong number that a man in Maine is asking the Federal Communications Commission to cut off the phone service of a credit company that has been hounding him.

It didn't know this, but a new rule allows the Commission to disconnect a loan company's phone if it uses interstate telephone lines for harassment.

This is a splendid idea and there must be millions of parents of teen-age children who'll be looking into this law as soon as they find out about it.

But the law ought to be expanded. For example, why couldn't it cover the mail too?

Say the tax collector is hounding you with delinquent tax notices. Why shouldn't a man have the right to ask the Federal Communications Commission to stop him from using the mail? I don't know of anything more harassing than a tax notice.

Getting mail is one of the pleasures of life if the letter is from somebody you're interested in or has a check in it, but using the mail or the telephone

Thought For Food

An impressive appetizer for a beef standing rib, rib eye (Delmonico) or sirloin tip roast dinner is beef bouillon or consomme on the rocks.

For a tasty chip or cracker dip, combine finely diced, ready to serve meat, ham, or dried beef with sour cream and chopped chives.

A big roast that gives double duty is a good buy. Any leftover from a special dinner can be sliced thin, spread with a homemade or commercial dip or spread, rolled up, secured with a small pick and arranged on lettuce for luncheon service. Or secure the rolled slices with several picks and cut each roll in two or three segments and serve as appetizers.

The 1970 human population figure is expected to reach the 3.6 billion point. With the world having a 2 percent increase rate every 3 years in population, we are adding 1 million people every five days, 70 - 75 million people each year. To feed that many more people, agriculture must continue to utilize the tools and weapons of production efficiency: machinery, vehicles, fertilizers, and chemicals.

There's no justice. If you make out your income tax correctly you go to the poorhouse. If you don't, you go to jail.

to harass somebody just because he owes you, that's carrying civilization too far and ought to be stopped just as soon as I wind up collecting the few bills people owe me.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: My problem is my parents won't let me go anywhere! It's a wonder they even let me go to school! I'm 14 and think that I am old enough to go to dances and places like that. I know I'm too young to really date, but I still would like to go places. I'm in the 8th grade and all the other kids go to all the dances and ball games at school. It's not that I don't have the money to go, my parents just won't let me go. Do you have any information that could help me solve this problem.

OUR REPLY: This is a big problem among 13 and 14 year old teenagers. A large proportion of the letters we receive from this age group concern this very problem. We even get letters from some 11 and 12 year olds complaining about the same situation. However, we rarely get letters from teens over 14 complaining that their parents won't let them go anywhere.

Some parents feel that going out, at your age, is a privilege, and not a right. You may be exaggerating a little when you say "all the other kids go to all the dances and ball games at school." Many parents of young teenagers take the same stand. Certainly, you are not the only student in the entire school missing from ball games and dances. Try to show your parents that you are mature enough to conduct yourself properly at ball games so the dances will have to come later.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY. 40601.

Today's Answer

BY FAYE SIRMANS

How Important Is The Farmer?

The people of this country are so accustomed to having a varied and generous selection of wholesome food at a relatively low cost that they take agriculture for granted. Many of our so called "educated" people are talking of making food out of who knows what because of hazards to ecology mainly because of the pollution difficulty of our huge feedlots, etc., which are really a product of the same kind of thinking. They are hinting of all but eliminating agriculture. This would have the same effect on our economy as removing one wheel from your car. It wouldn't go far.

Regardless of how much it is taken for granted, ignored, belittled, or blamed for causing problems of pollution, migration of masses of people to our overcrowded cities, inflation or so-called subsidies, the production of food and fiber is still the most essential industry of our nation. People after all do need food first, all other pursuits are secondary in importance to having enough food and clothing to live.

Mr. Farmer or Mr. Businessman, the next time one of your city friends tell you that agriculture is not really important, ask him what he thinks would happen to the national economy if you eliminated an industry that:

- Has assets of $300 billion -- more than two-thirds the value of all U.S. corporations, half the value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.
- Employs 5 million people directly and supports 16 million more in associated business -- more people than are employed by the Steel industry, Auto industry, the Utilities, and the Transportation industries combined.
- Spends $55 billion a year for goods and services to produce crops and livestock and for clothing, furniture, and other goods; pays $4 billion in real estate, federal and state income taxes.
- Consumes 28 billion kilowatt hours of electricity, 5 billion tons of steel, 9% of the rubber and $3.4 billion worth of fuel annually.

A tax on dogs, ranging as high as $36 a year, is being considered at Hamburg, Ger.1

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Silence

There are times in life when silence is the greatest virtue of all. There are times when silence is a positive thing, a show of strength.

Silence is best when the urge to criticize begins to boil toward the surface. Silence is best when envy brings unkind words to mind.

In polite company, silence can be a strong form of protest, an obvious unwillingness to "go along with the crowd," to sanction something which is not right and yet may be "popular" in the social attitudes of the day.

When there is nothing good or constructive to be said, be silent. Your conscience will tell you when the time is right, when you have met a moment of truth that needs your vocal support.
