HARPER TO DELIVER BACCALAUREATE

MISS SHEPPERSON TO SPEAK AT COMMENCEMENT

Fifty-four Diplomas Will Be Awarded to Senior and Junior College Graduates.

Rev. Howard Harper of the Baptist Church at Waycross, Georgia, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates on Sunday, June 6, at the Methodist Church, of Valdosta. The graduates will wear baccalaureate gowns and will attend church in a body for the services which will begin at 11 o'clock.

At the commencement exercises which will be held in the college auditorium, June 11, at 11 A. M., Miss Gay B. Shepperson, of Atlanta, will be the main address. Miss Shepperson is director of the Georgia division of the F. E. R. A., and the P. W. A., and is a well recognized speaker.

The following will graduate in June or upon completion of additional courses this summer, and will receive Bachelor of Arts Degrees: Emma Ambos, Mary Askew, Lillian Bragg, Leila Callendar, Frances Carson, Alexa Daley, Margaret Dalton, Frances Fluker, Mrs. R. P. Dewberry, Carol Forrester, Dorothy Fuller, Martha Gay, Elizabeth Green, Lota Griffith, Mary Hargrave, Mary Catherine Harrell, Frances Hines, Martha Jennings, Mary Johnson, Josephine Joubert, Lorene Johnson, Elizabeth Kelly, Priscilla Kelly, Laura McLeod, Catherine Morgan, Sara Ellen Morgan, Eloise Ogletree, Permelia Olliff, Emily Parrish, Estelle Ricks, Mrs. Gertrude Roberts, Elizabeth Terry, Anne Turner, Vivian Vincent, Margaret Wade, Ruth Williams.

Junior College Diplomas will be awarded to the following: Marguerite Arnold, Helen Bowen, Julia Casey, Jeanette Chason, Dorothy Clark, Doris Cook, Christine Hiers, Grace Hillhouse, Mabel Jones, Rosalind Lane, Treacy Long, Marguerite Mills, Eloise Sheffield, Carlie Mae Stokes, Amanda Sullivan, Lerah Sutton, Mayme Witholter, and Hazel Woodard.

Honor Plaque Won By Kappas by Big Majority

Thirty-nine students will merit awards given by the Athletic Club as the results of an active season of campus sports. The Kappa Association will reward its members with seven numerals, three letters, four bracelets and three plaques, while the Lambdas will confer eleven numerals, seven letters, three bracelets and one plaque.

These climactic achievements were the results of a series of organized tournaments.

Morris Selected Officer of G. C. P. A. at Savannah Meeting

CANOPY REPRESENTED AT
ARMSTRONG JUNIOR COLLEGE

With the election of C. J. Morris as Vice-president of the Georgia Collegiate Press Association, this office was for the first time filled by a representative of a woman's college.

Miss Morris is a member of the Lambda Athletic Association, Lambda Manager of Baseball, President of the Sophomore Class, News Editor of the Canopy and Secretary of Georgia Beta Chapter of Alpha Delta Journalistic Fraternity.

The position of President will be held by Warren Duffee of Emory University and that of Secretary by James McGuire of the Georgia Evening School. Mr. Duffee is editor elect of The Emory Wheel, and will be assisted by Jack Tolbert as Managing Editor. James McGuire, who has been editor of The Signal of the Georgia Evening School at Atlanta will edit the yearbook next year.

Other nominees for offices in the association were J. M. Townsend of Georgia Tech, President; Frank Kelly, West Georgia Junior College, Vice-President and W. R. Lynn of Mercer, Secretary.

The outgoing officers of the association are Robert E. Ashmore, Mercer University, President; Frank Eleazer, Editor of The Emory Wheel and winner of the plaque for editorials, Vice President, and Frances Nunn of Brenau.

At a short business meeting which took place just before the election of officers, Mr. John E. Drewry, director of the Henry W. Grady School of Journalism, University of Georgia announced that the incoming officers of the association would be in charge of all the association's business such as bulletins, correspondence and announcements, which up to now had been made by his office.

Lowe Welcomes Delegates to Press Meeting At Armstrong College

Rosalind Lane, Editor-elect of the Campus Canopy and C. J. Morris, News Editor of the Campus Canopy attended the Georgia Collegiate Press Association Convention in Savannah, May 21, 22. The meeting was held for the purpose of bringing together representatives of the various student publications throughout the state. Thirty-two delegates attended representing nine colleges and universities in Georgia.

An address of welcome was given by E. A. Lowe, President of the Armstrong Junior College on Friday afternoon after registration had taken place. Speakers

Alpha Delta Elects Their '37-38 Officers

At a meeting of the Alpha Delta Honorary Fraternity officers for 1937-38 were elected. Nominations were submitted by the outgoing officers who served as a nominating committee and were voted upon by the members.

Katherine Moore, of Moultrie, was elected President; Rosalind Lane, of Valdosta, Vice-president, and C. J. Morris, of New Rochelle, New York, Secretary-Treasurer.

Miss Moore is Business Manager of the Campus Canopy, President-elect of the English Club and Chairman of the Open Forum. Miss Lane is Editor-elect of the Campus Canopy, a member of The Fine Arts Club and a member of the Phi Kappa Athletic Association. Miss Morris is News Editor of the Campus Canopy, a member of Athletic Council, retiring President of the Sophomore Class and new Vice-President of G. C. P. A.

Installation of the officers will be made next fall by a representative of the National Council of Alpha Delta.

Miss Moore, incoming President, states that the main objective of the journalistic fraternity next year is to train freshmen reporters. A class for writing news and features will be established by the fraternity in cooperation with the Campus Canopy.

The journalism fraternity has recently been established on the campus. Keys have been ordered for members and initiation will take place soon.

Alumnae Day Is Announced June 10-11

Through the publicity department, Miss Thyrsa Perry has mailed a thousand copies of the Alumnae News which schedules homecoming week for Thursday, June 10 and 11.

Any members of the association who wish to come for the week-end will be registered in Ashley Hall, Thursday afternoon and assigned to rooms.

At six o'clock a banquet will be given in the college dining room in honor of the new members. Following the banquet a short business meeting for election of officers will be held.

At eight-thirty the senior class will present their senior play, Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves, in the amphitheatre.

The Friday programs includes a class breakfast and commencement exercises.

The alumnae sheet, edited by Miss Thyrsa Perry gives a running glimpse of people and events as they progress in and around the college. A particularly interesting feature was a column on the faculty, both old and new.

FIRST HONOR DAY HELD ON CAMPUS

DR. ANDERSON OF WESLEYAN
TO DELIVER THE ADDRESS

Honor Students Receive Recognition for Scholarship

Announcement has been made that Dr. Dice R. Anderson, President of Wesleyan, will be the principal speaker at the first Honor Day exercises to be given on this campus.

Friday, June 4, has been set aside as the special day honoring old members and members-elect of the Freshman and Senior Honor Societies. Anna Richter, President of Freshman Society and Permelia Olliff, President of Senior Society will preside over the exercises.

The Honor Societies were formed this year on this campus to recognize students whose scholastic work is superior. A minimum average of B in all studies is required for membership. The local societies will eventually lead to recognition by a national honorary paternity.

Charter members of the Freshman Honor Society are: Anna Richter, Catherine Wilson, Marion Johnson, Clara Mae Sasser, Claudia Bussy, Hazel Muggidge, Hazel Woodard, Grace Van Lindingham, Treacy Long, Mary Hudson, Mabel Jones, Julia Casey, Catherine O'Neal, Carolyn Askew. Charter members of the Senior Honor Society are: Josephine Joubert, Martha Jennings, Laura McLeod, Emma Ambos, Ruth Williams, Chappie Bragg, Alexa Daley, Permelia Olliff, and Elizabeth Green.

New members of the societies are: Ruth Bunn, Carolyn Greene, Martha Johnson, Frances McLain, Sara Martha Pyle, Virginia Zipplies, Rosemary Baker, Geraldine Bowen, Edith Brawner, Montine Cowart, Helen Duncan, Myrtle Edmondson, Sara Garbutt, Lucy McCoy, Willie B. Olliff, Virginia Parrish, Elizabeth Rhymes, Irwin Smith, Rosalind Taylor, Frances Van Brackle, Ruth Whisonant, Caroline Williams, Mildred Wilson, Ora Kate Wisenbaker.

Seniors will wear caps and gowns during the Honor Day program.

Valdosta Club Entertains at Banquet For Seniors

The Valdosta Club of the Georgia State Womens College entertained the high school senior class and their teachers last evening at a banquet at the Woman's Club building, beginning at 7:30. The large ballroom was a picture of loveliness with the tables arranged in horseshoe design and laden with garden flowers, ferns and colored candles burning in crystal candlebras. One hundred and thirty-seven guests were seated at the banquet table.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Members Attend Blue Ridge Conference

Students attending the Southern Student Conference at Blue Ridge, N. C., this year are Ethel Stallings, Waycross; Anna Richter, Savannah; and Lylburn Warren, Newnan. Miss Mildred Turnbull will also attend. The conference will begin June 8 and close June 17.

Among these who will lead the conference this year are: Arthur Raper, Agnes Scott; Kirby Page, Donald Stewart, Chapel Hill, N. C.; Gertrude Ruthford, Canada, and Andrew Roy, China.

The program which has been planned is especially good and is designed to deal with the problems which students are feeling on the campus as leaders of Christian organizations.

ments held during the year as well as of individual practice.

The golf tournament held from May 13 to 17 was open to all members of the association. The lowest scores of both Lambdas and Kappas were compared and the prize of five points for the club went to the Kappas. Par for the G. S. W. C. course is 12 and Dody Wilson submitted a score of 18. The runner up for the Kappas was Eileen Hyland. The low score for the Lambdas was Anna Richter with C. J. Morris as runner up.

In tennis, the contest has reached the semi-final stage. Josephine Joubert will play Daisy McNeal to decide the finalist for the Kappas, while Anna Adams and Dora Ida Perkins will play to represent the Lambdas. The two victors will play to decide the winning club and the other will be semi-finalists.

In archery, the two clubs not only formal teams and held a campus competition but they also entered the National Archery Association tournament. Montine Cowart, Ruth Whisonant, and Lois Hafford for the Lambda team, while Lorene Johnson, Dody Wilson, and Mildred Wilson represented the Kappas.

The Kappas will get their name on the Honor Plaque for the first time in four years. Jo Joubert has been president of the Kappas this year.

LOWE WELCOMES DELEGATES TO PRESS MEETING
AT ARMSTRONG COLLEGE

at dinner that evening were H. V. Jenkins, J. P. Miller, and W. G. Sutlive, executive editors of host newspapers. On the following morning addresses were made by Dean J. Thomas Askew, Armstrong Junior College, W. Kirk Sutlive, President Georgia Press Association, and D. B. Turner, Editor Bullock Times, Statesboro, after which round table discussions were held and election of officers took place.

The meeting place for next year has not yet been decided, as both Brenau and West Georgia College have extended invitations to the association.

At a luncheon given by Armstrong Junior College and its paper, "The Inkwell", announcement was made of the winner of the Cobb County Times trophy and of the winners of the Savannah Morning News-Evening Press cups.

The Cobb County Times plaque for best service to campus-community accomplished through editorials was given to Frank Eleazer, Editor of the Emory Wheel for meritorious work during the Emory University Centennial. Emory also received the trophy for general excellence of the Wheel.

The Junior College trophy awarded by the Evening Press-Morning News was won by the West Georgian at Carrolton, of which Robert Knox is editor.

Armstrong Junior College at Savannah was host on the occasion of the convention and planned a series of worthwhile entertainment for the delegates during their stay.

TO THE GRADUATES

There is food for thought to one who has watched the steady stream of young women come and go, some of them spending the four most important years of their lives within the college walls.

The college is the result of the combined influence of the people, faculty and students, who have guided its destiny, set up its ideals, and maintained its standards. No one has passed this way but has left something of herself or himself here. Something of attitudes, emotions, and character, some impress of that intangible thing we call personality.

The splendid young women have stood for all that is fine and good and true on the campus. We are told that we love the things we have worked for, sacrificed for and believed in. You are our finished product. We say to the world, "There are the young women we give back to society." It is only through you that we can justify our existence. We fail as you fail, we succeed as you succeed. As you take your places in the world, intelligent, poised, able to carry your part of the social structure, and to aid those less able, so you are our reason for being, so you are beyond price to your Alma Mater.

ANNIE P. HOPPER,
Dean of Women.

Sue Matthews, who is enrolled in the Social Service Institute course, was sent to the Scottish Rite Hospital, Atlanta, on Tuesday, to take a child for an examination. This was in connection with the work being done by the students in the Lowndes County Department of Public Welfare.

BY ROSALIND LANE

Will Roosevelt persuade Congress to pass his Supreme Court plan? Legislative leaders believe that the court re-organization plan will bring the severest test between the White House and Capitol witnessed in recent years. The pending plan would allow him to name six new justices. His program also calls for a great deal of money for relief. The belief persists in Washington that some of the measures he suggests may have to be compromised and others deferred until next session for final action.

For the most distinguished theatrical performance of the 1937-38 theatrical season Maurice Evans, star of King Richard II has received the Delia Austrian Medal of the Drama League of New York. "I never won anything before, except a singing prize which took the form of a set of Shakespeare's works."

NEWS OF COLLEGIATE PRESS

The Georgia Collegiate Press Association sponsored by the Henry Grady School of Journalism and the University Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi completed its fourth year of existence with the annual convention held May 21 and 22 at Armstrong Junior College in Savannah.

The association which was organized in Athens in 1933 under the leadership of John E. Drewry, Head of the School of Journalism, has the following objectives: (1) to provide a closer association among the college journalists of Georgia (2) to provide a means of recognizing meritorious journalistic efforts through the annual award of suitable distinctions; (3) to raise the standards of the college press of Georgia and (4) to foster among college journalists of Georgia an interest in journalism not only as a profession but as an important Social Science.

At the close of the year's activities it is gratifying to note that the association has been most successful in fulfilling its aims.

The meetings of the association in Athens in February and in Savannah last week have promoted good feeling among the college newspaper men and women of the state. Delegates from the various colleges met, held sectional round tables and discussed problems that arise in editing a newspaper.

In recognition of the high standard of work done by The Emory Wheel of Emory University in Atlanta, that newspaper won all top honors which were awarded. The Cobb County Times Trophy awarded for best service to campus-community accomplished through editorials and the Savannah Evening Press-Morning News Trophy for general excellence were given to Frank Eleazer, Editor of the Emory Wheel. The Press-News Trophy for Junior College papers went to the West Georgian at Carrollton, where Robert Knox is Editor. From every viewpoint, the winning papers are examples of superior work in college newspapers.

Directly connected with raising the standards of Georgia college journalism is the Red and Black, newspaper of the University of Georgia. The Honor Rating of "Pacemaker" given it by the Associated Collegiate Press of N. S. P. A. lifts it to the top-rating of college papers in the United States.

Addresses made by outstanding newspapermen in Georgia emphasized the good that college editors can accomplish through the use of the press.

Incoming officers of the association will be in charge of all of the association's business such as bulletins, correspondence and announcements which up till now had been made by the office of Permanent Faculty Advisor, John E. Drewry. New officers are: President, Warren Duffee, Emory University; Vice-President, C. J. Morris, Georgia State Womens College; Secretary-Treasurer, Jimmy McGuire, University Evening School. It is for the new officers to demonstrate whether the association itself is capable of handling its affairs without undue faculty supervision.

To the G. C. P. A.—long may it live!

Cinema Cynic

BY PRISCILLA KELLEY

Tennis seems to be a short route into films, a fact which has not eluded us—we practice daily. There is Frank Shields, who's being stepped right along in pictures; Fred Perry married Helen Vinson and has been making tennis shorts; and Carole Lombard induced Paramount to make a deal with champion Alice Marble. How is your game by the way?

After many moons, W. C. Fields will emerge from his tepee soon to make another Paramount picture. He is looking fine and hasn't had a drink of fire water for more than a year. Scouts were sent out by Fields not long ago to rent a home for him so that he could leave the sanitarium, and a big place was found in Bel-Air.

He now goes under the name of "Chief Wahoo". It happened this way: Fields underwent a blood transfusion early in his illness, and then discovered that the donor was an Indian. He now runs around giving fierce Injun war whoops and bragging about "My Indian blood."

THE SENIORS

By Louise Bell

After working, studying, struggling, and playing for four years, the class of 1937 comes to graduation. So many of them were asked what they would miss most. Such surprising answers followed—listen to these!

Mary Hargray will miss the help-coming, which suggest a more life-like, but even more than this, Mary will miss seeing all the girls sitting in the little living room in Senior Hall.

Counting the window panes during history class, which is such an exciting game, will be missed by Martha Gay. Esther Smith says that at the present she thinks she'll miss the nickerbocker most.

Mary Askew thinks dormitory life is grand. Frances Carson knows that she will always be wishing for Mary to pull up her hair when she returns to Tallahassee.

Standing on corners, going whenever the notion comes, is the grandest thing about college to Estelle Ricks; but Alex Daley wonders how she can do without the cracks in the Kaleidoscope.

Emma Ambos, after serving three years on the court, cannot decide which she will miss most: court, Miss Carter rubbing her back, or the long labs spent mixing chemicals with chemicals.

Rushing from one place to another, neckling people to death, finding "scoops"—all these have made up Lorncne Johnson's existence for so long, until how can she part with them now?

Laura McLeod finds she will miss the I. R. C., but also the lovely bull sessions, friends, both in college and out.

Instead of saying what she will miss Annette Phillips remarked that she hoped it wouldn't be Valdosta she'd long for. One can only guess, Annette, but an idea isn't far away.

Elizabeth Green will miss so much in college that she doesn't know where to begin to tell just one thing, but Frances Hines replied, "Gosh, knows!"

Waiting in the showers for someone to hurry out and hearing "Happy Birthday" sung everyday will be missed by Priscilla Kelley. Eloise Ogletree finds the association with so many girls interesting, but also trips to Y. W. C. A. conventions.

Kitty Morgan says that is was so much fun having Bill come out every night.

Loveliness of the campus with its many beauty spots will be remembered by Jo Joubert, while Elizabeth Kelley says that the House-in-the-Woods will be in her memories of the "good old days" at college.

Freshman Breaks All Archery Records Here

Shooting a score of 400 to win a gold medal, Miss Montine Cowart of Waycross, broke all archery records on the G. S. W. C. campus. Miss Cowart, who is a freshman and a member of Phi Lambda Association took up archery only this year. She first won her bronze medal and quickly followed it with a silver medal.
