

The Campus Canopy

VOLUME IV.

THE GEORGIA STATE WOMANS COLLEGE, VALDOSTA, GEORGIA, NOVEMBER 20, 1937

NUMBER 8

Traditional Firelighting Service Is Lovely Ceremony

Annual Y. W. C. A. Fellowship Service Was Held Sunday Evening

Symbolic of the spirit of fellowship on the campus, the annual firelighting service was held at vesper Sunday evening in Ashley Rotunda.

It is one of the most impressive of the traditional ceremonies of G. S. W. C. and is an annual service of the Y. W. C. A., given in the late fall when cold weather comes to the south.

Fellowship

While the girls stood in groups before the two Rotunda fireplaces, the Y. W. C. A. choir sang an opening hymn. Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women, gave an invitation to all to come to the fire of fellowship.

Ethel Stallings, president of the "Y", and Virginia Zipplies, president of the Student Government Association, then lit the fires and explained the purposes of the organizations they head.

Presidents

One by one the various club (See Traditional, Page 4)

Special Session Of Congress Meets Nov. 25

BY KATHERINE MOORE

With all eyes turning toward Washington people are beginning to air their private views on the outcome of this session of congress. Will the budget be balanced in 1939? Will taxes be revised? These are questions that will be raised many times before an adequate solution is reached.

President Roosevelt has been quoted as being all in favor of the balanced budget now that the immediate crisis that he had to meet in 1932 has passed away. He has a great many people who will support him in this attempt. But as in every other important issue, the ways and means are not always easy to determine.

Thanksgiving Celebration

Gainesville, Georgia, is making preparations for the biggest Thanksgiving Day in its history. Among other things "Roosevelt Square" will be formally dedicated, and Mr. Roosevelt himself will be present.

The citizens of Gainesville have paid this tribute to President Roosevelt because of his part in securing federal aid for the city in 1936, when it was so badly needed.

Gilbert Maxwell

Large Group Hears Maxwell

A delightful afternoon's entertainment was enjoyed Friday by a large group of Valdostans and students who gathered in the Ashley Rotunda to hear Gilbert Maxwell of Atlanta, read his poems.

Pleasing Personality

Presented at the college by the English Club, Mr. Maxwell proved to have a pleasing personality and a well modulated voice which added much to the effective reading of his verses. His audience responded enthusiastically.

Works

Mr. Maxwell began his readings from his first book, "Look to the Lightning," published in 1933. His second group of poems was from his recent volume, "Stranger's Garment," and he closed his program with several portrait poems not yet in print.

All his works are characterized (See Large Groups, Page 4)

Turkey, Games And Sleep Constitute Holiday Plans

They "talked turkey" when interviewed about Thanksgiving—with the holidays fast approaching every one is thinking to the tune of drum-sticks.

"The first thing I'm going to do when I go home?" asked Mildred Turnbull. "I expect to eat."

Margie Jones is going down to a certain ice cream shop and get a cake. Whether it will be the cake or the company that offers the attraction wasn't admitted.

"Life is Bitter" Holland an-

Puzzle No. 1

Who's to be the Fool at the Christmas festival?

Since Miss Lorene Johnson, a lovely fool for two years, graduated and abdicated, the Christmas Festival Committee has gone panicky.

Turn in your suggestion to Miss Lenora Ivey.

Find the missing face!

Emile Baume Opens Local Artist Series

If the extravagant praise of the New York critics quoted in the advance publicity for Emile Baume's concert on Monday evening, caused anyone to cross his fingers, the first lovely notes of the evening's program quickly dispelled skepticism. His exquisite artistry was evident to the most untrained ear.

First Artist

Appearing as the first guest artist of the Community Co-operative Series, the young French pianist played to an audience that packed the auditorium at the Georgia State Womens College and which included as well as students and town people, a number of guests from Thomasville, Waycross and Quitman.

If ever an artist loved his piano, Emile Baume does. Hovering over its keyboard he wooed from it such tones of delicate loveliness that his audience was held spell bound.

Chorals

He did not hesitate to choose a program that was a severe test of musicianship. Beginning with a group of chorals from Bach, the artist, with complete mastery of technique, made live in the lovely singing tones, the reverence and religious fervor of (See Baume, Page 4)

Health Service Offers Tests For Tuberculosis

Tests Will Be Given Between Thanksgiving and Christmas

Tests for tuberculosis will be offered by the Health Service between Thanksgiving and Christmas at the nominal price of twenty-five cents per person. For those whose tests are positive, the Christmas holidays will give opportunity for X-rays and complete examination by home doctors.

Physician Explains

Dr. M. E. Farbar states: "I shall use the best and newest equipment; the tests are quite painless and simple. The needle is inserted just between the two layers of skin and if the test shows negative other tests will be given to determine the necessity of further examination." Students are requested to talk this over with parents when they go home Thanksgiving if they wish to take it.

Dr. Farbar gives these tests in co-operation with the anti-tubercular program now carried on in many colleges and universities throughout the country, and the National Tubercular Association.

Thanksgiving

... holidays as announced in the catalogue for 1937-38, extend from November 25-28.

They begin Thursday, November 25 at 3:10, and end at class period on Monday morning, November 29.

Burns Wins Presidency

With pride and pleasure the freshmen announce the election of Margaret Burns, Macon, to that coveted position, the presidency of the freshman class.

Miss Burns attended Dawson high school, where she graduated with high honors. She was very active in all phases of student life there, and was particularly interested in art.

Miss Burns participates in all kinds of athletics, but likes swimming and archery best of all. She is a member of the Phi Kappa team on the campus.

Other Officers

At their first official class (See Burns, Page 4)

Class Gives Tea For Teachers

Miss Matilda Calloway and members of the cookery class entertained visiting home economics teachers and the college faculty at a tea Thursday in the Ashley Rotunda.

The teachers, meeting in Valdosta at a conference sponsored by the division of Vocational Education of the State Department of Education, inspected college equipment and made the acquaintance of faculty members of G. S. W. C.

Discuss Problems

The meeting, called to discuss new trends in teaching home economics in the public schools, opened Thursday and will close Saturday morning.

Dougherty Heads Feminine Cast Of "Adam and Eva"

Beverly Dougherty will take the leading role as Eva in the play, "Adam and Eva" to be produced by the Emory Junior Dramatic Club. The play will be presented in the Emory Junior auditorium on December 3.

Other Roles

Other G. S. W. C. girls taking part in the production are Ruth Whisonant as "Aunt Abby," Dora Harper as "Julie," Mr. King's oldest daughter, and Mildred Wilson as Corinthia, maid to the King family.

Eva, Mr. King's youngest daughter, is in love with a Dr. Delameter.

Aunt Abby is chief executive of a domestic organization but is too busy taking part in clubs and conventions to have time for domestic affairs.

Julie is a society loving lady married to a society loving man. Most of their time is given to social events.

Corinthia is an efficient and loyal maid who has been with the King family long enough to become a part of it.

The play centers around the difficulties of the King family. (See Dougherty, Page 4)

The Campus Canopy

Published Weekly by the Students of The Georgia State Womans College, Valdosta, Georgia.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917. Authorized January 20, 1919.

1937 Member 1938

Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Rosalind Lane Editor-in-Chief
 Katherine Moore Managing Editor
 C. J. Morris Assistant Editor
 Lois Hafford Business Manager

Louise Bell News Editor
 Eileen Hyland Feature Editor
 Rosemary Baker Feature Editor
 Ora Kate Wisenbaker Feature Editor
 Martha Jones Exchange Editor
 Frances Van Brackle Circulation

Reporters: Carolyn Folsom, Clara Mae Sasser, Eileen Cox, Lois Green, Frances Rogers, Marjie Jones, Marjorie Howard, Louise McFie, Opal Brown, Jeanette Johnson, Ruth Loughridge, Linda Summer.

Business Staff: Kitty O'Neal, Frances Williams, Dora Ida Perkins, Sue Coppage, Ruth Whisonant, Mildred Wilson, Montine Cowart, Mary Dugger, Leona Strickland, Evelyn Ogletree, Margaret Carter, Millie Weitman, Curtis Whatley.

Several Decades

... ago Thanksgiving meant reunion of families, cheerfulness, and the giving of thanks to the Supreme Being for His many blessings through the year.

PIES AND A NUMBER OF THINGS

Days had been spent in the baking of cakes, pumpkin pies and tarts. Cooking turkey, lamb and pork gave excitement to the family weeks ahead of the day of days. Anticipating the coming of relations from far and near to the family circle, stacking wood to be used in open blazing fires were characteristics of the long-ago Thanksgiving.

Long, informal chats followed the Thanksgiving meal. Those that were absent were thought of and good wishes made for their well-being. Each person told of events which had happened in the year and of occurrences that had taken place during their separation from one another.

FEW THINK OF REAL PURPOSE OF DAY

Contrast, if you will, that day of Thanks with the present day one. In all probability there had been a dance the night before. The children come downstairs in time to get a hasty meal, and with thousands of others attend a football game.

To some it has become just another holiday, a time in which to escape a day's work. The real purpose of the day has been lost with the years.

DAY OF GIVING THANKS

Puritanical discipline or insincere thanks are not what we infer—we do think that sometimes on the day of Thanksgiving it would be a fine thing to give hearty appreciation for the goodness of God to us during the year.

If A Word

... to the wise is sufficient we advocate bigger and better response to contests open to the students. What in the world happened to all the snapshot enthusiasts? Were the pictures taken and not listed before the deadline? Why the cash prize didn't appeal to a larger percentage of the students is beyond us. But the main point how about the proverbial helping hand to a striving editor?

Kampus Kaleidoscope

Heigh, ho, everybody, here's Miss Know-it-All, so get out your ear phones—All set!!! Zipperer gets a bracelet from "my John" plus yellow roses from somebody else—Flash! Faculty member gives students competition—Mary Ann must have personality plus—nice going, et?—congrats, freshmen on your selection of president—

The two Hahira boys got rushed at the dance—and was Caroline thrilled?—ask Mary Jo why she blushed in speech class when Maxwell was talking—maybe Wade started a fad with her guip about bed sheets—Can Mr. Baume truck, Margaret?—let Grace Van tell you what she thinks about Florida boys who call you long distance in the middle of the night!!! Maybe he couldn't sleep until he'd heard her sweet voice!—How was the M. G. C. homecoming, Mary Bob?—"Smoke" got in Dora Ida's eyes Tuesday night and two dignified seniors shopped for groceries in evening clothes—

Pines Camp is mighty popular these days—Arnold, how do you do it? What are Dukes and Allen waiting for?—Have you heard about the "strutting trio?"—Martha "Tree," and Kathryn—bet that Baume's French girl is jeal us of Anna! Lane got properly introduced to Maxwell—hair wet, bundles under her arms,

Dear Editor

The majority at G. S. W. C. seem to be agreed on this question of changing the name of the college. But what about improving some other things—certain attitudes and habits, for example? I refer, specifically, to the habit which seems to be growing upon our campus of non-attentiveness, even rudeness during chapel or assembly when off-the-campus speakers visit us. We claim to be a dignified, well-bred group of college women. I dare to ask—do well-bred women talk, peel cane, wriggle, write and otherwise cause dis-

etc., in a taxi—cute?!?!?—hope Sasser, Perry, and the Coxes got to Gainesville for homecoming—something ought to be done about roommates who turn off set alarm clocks in their sleep—

Beverly, better watch out!! You know "thrice a bridesmaid —." What's happened to Dr. Punke? He's all smiles lately—Carolyn Kay had better be careful who she turns water barrels over on—and the showers in Ashley keep the poor girls away from church—Miss Sawyer's make-up model had to stay in bed the next day!! And M. C. makes a good model in a bathing suit!!

Billie will make Ernie's holiday happier—Yes, Sally Ann got the letter—and the cute freshies playing and singing "Home, Sweet Home" in the freshman parlor—Have you seen McIntyre's ring?—Elouise, how was your week-end at Twin Lakes? Did Tommie get there??

And what faculty member makes a "Jimmy Walker" entrance to the program on Armistice Day at the church and also to the services on Sunday morning?—and the editors entertained Moore with a party—Hazel, make up the feeble mind, which is it, radio or boy friend? Well, that's all folks, and remember, don't eat too much turkey!!!

turbance when someone is making an address?

Of course the speech may not always be entertaining or it may be too intellectual for us. Does it then follow that we can not be courteous and sit quietly even while thinking of other things?

At least, the one who is addressing us will go away with a picture in his mind of a well-mannered audience and will not wonder if he has been talking to a rowdy, noisy bunch of high school girls.

Ruth Loughridge.

Love At Second Sight: A La Romantic Moon

Love at second sight! They parted in Reno; met on second anniversary under the Miami moon, and the damage was done all over again! Loretta Young and Tyrone Power give us love at its dizzy second spin in "Second Honeymoon."

Marlene Orders Eyelashes

Marlene Dietrich, visiting in Salzburg, Austria, wired home to her studio asking that a dozen pairs of eyelashes be sent her immediately. Austria didn't have her shade.

Fireside Reflections

By Eileen Hyland

Red tongues, leaping like evil spirits at the very roots of the cool golden flames—leaping higher and higher—only to be forced down and out, leaving only the living coals smoldering, hateful reminders of a fight won, then lost, then neutral.

Worries and cares consumed in the Fires of Fellowship, seemed purged by the pure gold that fire, we brought tolerance, justice, humor, appreciation, culture, and the love of great music. What place have worries and cares and petty troubles in that powerful blaze?

"Nina was made for scandal"—even the poet's soft, insistent voice cannot break completely through my hazy, maze of thought screens—Maybe I'd better go. It would avoid confusion later on.

The fire's dying out—put on more kindling—it can't go out, but I can't overcome the absolute inertia of sleepy content to move and re-fuel it—it's dying—just small lispng tongues, curling around the glowing coals—it's out! "Oh greentree my body"—on gone my thoughts but here my bliss, my happiness—I'd better listen to Mr. Maxwell.

If You've Been

... waiting all quarter to read a new book that has a special attraction for you, read it this week and credit yourself for observing National Book Week.

For those who love to read but haven't browsed around the library lately, we recommend for your inspection three books you shouldn't miss.

"Orchids on Your Budget" by Marjorie Hillis, is fully as exciting as her book "Live Alone and Like It" which was so popular with G. S. W. C. students last year. The book tells you specifically how to get the most value out of dollars invested in most everything under the shining sun.

One of the more interesting books of the civil war in Spain is "The Life and Death of a Spanish Town" by Elliott Paul. The author tells how fascism, communism, anarchism and the bloodiest war yet on record have affected a peaceful town, Santa Eulalia.

"The Anointed" by Clyde Brion Davis has symbolism made out of warm and alive people. It is an original tragedy with a grave charm about it and is the best reading we've found lately.

From An Uneasy

chair—we hope quite patiently that most of the exchange papers will be left in the Campus Canopy office—give us a break, won't you, and don't cart them off—next to reading the exchanges, our favorite indoor sport is reading the exchanges—we were thrilled about the nice new spacy office till press night—Miss Bell mentioned oh so casually about what fun we used to have in the cozy old publications room and right then and there the skeleton started to dance—and Miss Johnson's ghost came fluttering by and all the gang ducked real quick and some of us wanted to go off and weep—You see, Johnson was the life of the party and the ringleader in the office pranks on Wednesday night—Everyone's supposed to work that night—Instead that's the time we cleaned up perfectly orderly files, and sat on the radiator, and Miss Johnson yelled down to the English prof and everybody griped about the world and just how it ought to be run—and then somebody would think of eats—recess?—Oh yes—a continued one—fun—jokes—five balmy girls and a typewriter ribbon that never worked—atmosphere—and Johnson—

The festive season is getting into full swing—teas, dances, plays and an undercurrent of excitement—and Thanksgiving-Christmas weather—brrr!

Club Presents Negro Pianist At Concert

"We are hoping that the new south will realize the negro has an important foothold and should be encouraged," was the statement made by Beverly Dougherty, president, in announcing the Philharmonic Club will sponsor Carrie Mae Wood in a musical program Tuesday evening, November 22, in the auditorium.

Mrs. Wood received her bachelor of music degree seven years ago from Oberlin Music Conservatory, Oberlin, Ohio, one of the outstanding music colleges in the United States.

After entering she was given a five year scholarship by the school. At present Mrs. Wood is teaching geography and history in a country consolidated school called New Harmony.

The concert will include the following selections: Prelude in B flat major (Bach); sonata in A minor (Scarlatti); Cradle Song (Brahms-Grainger); Etude in F minor (Chopin); Butterfly etude (Chopin); Humoresque (Rachmainoff); Impromptu, (Faure); Danse Negre (Cyril Scott); Barcarolle, (Nathaniel Dett); Juba Dance (Nathaniel Dett).

A last group will consist of current popular songs which Mrs. Wood will announce herself.

Speaking of Mrs. Wood's one previous appearance on campus in a program at vespers, Miss Gladys E. Warren, professor of music said, "Carrie Mae Wood has a natural gift plus excellent training. She is modest and unassuming although most promising."

Campus Canopy Goes Highbrow With New Office, But You Should Have Seen - - -

By Hope T. Makestaff

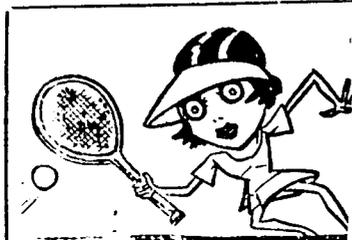

"Holy wriggle worms! Are they having a 'Big Apple' contest all over upstairs West Hall?" we asked madly, paging our true friend.

"Contest! Humph! Hurricane or fire, you mean!" snapped she—"Well, don't stare at me—go on up and report it!"

Madly we dashed up the stairs—madly we hurled by onlookers—rah, rah, a scoop! But wait—all feet treked to Room 112—breathlessly, we rushed in—amazedly we viewed the landscape—tables upturned, light shades crooked—trash on the floor—janitorial staff trotting out desks—and right in the center—two extremely dirty sweater backs flourishing dust cloths!

"Say, what's the cyclone news?" we said in our hard boll-dust manner. "Can I get a story out of this? I work on the Canopy."

"Now, isn't that nice—so do

Tennis

enthusiasts are having trouble placing their ten cents on the future tennis queens.

Led by two Kappas, Sarah Mackay and Ruth Reid, freshmen may upset upperclassmen aspirants in the Kappa-Lambda tourney.

Due to rain, the matches will probably not be completed before Thanksgiving.

2 Elected To Honor Society

Edith Bennett, dormitory student, and Ann Brooks, day student, are the two representatives elected to the Student Honor Council. Others nominated for the position were: Mary Hudson, Martha Johnson and Kathryn Toole.

The Student Honor Council is composed of the dean, two faculty members, Dr. Durrenburger and Miss Carter, and four students. The students are Virginia Zippies, president of the Student Government; Ethel Stallings, president of the "Y"; Edith Bennett, dormitory representative, and Ann Brooks, vice president of the English Club, and secretary of the senior class, town girls' representative.

Day Students Pledge Loyalty

Pledging their allegiance to their Alma Mater at an impressive candle light ceremony on Thursday evening, thirty Valdosta freshmen became members of the Student Government Association.

The traditional fealty ceremony, held for those freshmen who did not take the S. G. A. pledge during Freshman Week, was held in the auditorium.

Those who officiated in the pledge of loyalty were Virginia Zippies, Mary Hudson and Frances McLain.

Exchanges May Be Read In Canopy Office

Students who are interested in seeing the exchange papers from other colleges will now be able to read them in the Canopy office.

Since the removal of the office from Room 200 to 112, the exchanges have been "pigeon-holed" alphabetically according to the name of the newspaper and a reading table has been provided.

Besides including most of the large and small Georgia colleges, the Canopy exchange system reaches a number of universities, junior colleges and teachers' colleges throughout the country.

The Canopy has exchanges in twelve states represented by Ohio, Illinois, North Carolina, South Carolina, Arizona, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Colorado, Florida, Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia.

Miss Hopper Is Hostess At Tea

Entertaining Tuesday afternoon, Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women, will be hostess "At Home" from 4 until 6 in the Rotunda.

Miss Hopper has issued invitations to a number of her friends in Valdosta as well as the members of the senior class.

Bennett's Drug Store

The Rexall Store

Double Kay Hot Butter

Toasted Nuts

Butter Pecan Pie 5c

Expert Shoe Repairing

Al's Shoe Shop

116 N Ashley St. Phone 150

Compliments of

McCrary's

5 and 10c Store

Thompson & Girardin JEWELERS

Watches, Diamonds, Jewelry, Silverware and Clocks
Expert Repairing
120 N. Patterson St. — Valdosta, Ga.

Emile Baume Goes Walking and Talking With College Girl Guides

"Big Apples," "coca-cola" and "hot dogs" made favorable impressions upon Emile Baume whose fun-loving spirit and jovial manner are not entirely expected from his masterly appearance. But all in all, he loves to be with people and have a good time.

G. S. W. C. is the first college at which he has given a concert. He says that he will always like it because it is the first, and first impressions are always lasting. The campus reminded him of his native country where palms, like those along the front walk, grow in abundance.

Observing the moss hanging from the trees at Ocean Pond near Valdosta, he remarked, "In France our moss grows on stones." The warm climate fascinates him and he could not believe that water here would not freeze for ice skating.

Dancing is one of his hobbies, especially tap. Probably inspired by his favorites, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, he has expressed the desire to learn a tap routine. The "Big Apple" craze has just reached him for until Monday night he had thought all apples edible. He thinks there is special talent for popular music. However, he does not play it himself for fear it would have some effect upon his art.

For lunch Monday he had one of his very few hot dogs. The one he ate in New York was very different from the southern ones. He was quite inexperienced in the knack of fixing a hot dog but with some outside help he succeeded.

Coca-cola was an untasted

The editors request students to leave exchanges in the office and to file them after reading them.

Chapel

Sarah Martha Pyle talked at vespers Thursday on Dr. W. T. Grenfel, missionary to Labrador.

OPPORTUNITY IS KNOCKING!

The Approaching Holiday Season

We are giving you a splendid selection of Accessories and Smallware Gifts. Make your selection now.

Try Our Lay Away Plan

The Green Shop

122 N. Patterson St.

beverage by him until Margaret Carter and Beverly Dougherty took him to a drug store and persuaded him to try some. At first he consistently refused, but finally he was convinced that it was not intoxicating and would have no effect upon his playing that evening.

To him American girls are charming; their charm is different from that of foreign girls. They are charming, yet frank, and have much more freedom than French girls. He wanted his picture made with lots and lots of girls to send home.

Emile Baume is serious in only one thing—his art—and while playing he lives his music.

Negro Spiritual Singer Gives Concert In Albany

Roland Hayes, negro singer, acclaimed by music lovers and critics as a "Master of Song," and an inspired singer of the spiritual and folk songs of his race, will give a concert Friday, November 26, at the Georgia Normal and Agricultural College for Negroes at Albany Georgia.

The Georgia State Woman's College, along with schools at Statesboro and Douglas have been reserved a box, and it is hoped that at least twelve from each school will attend.

Students who are interested in hearing the singer will please see Miss Annie P. Hopper for full details.

THEATRE

THEATRE

Last Time Today

Shirley Temple

— In —

"Heidi"

Monday-Tuesday

SCANDAL ON A RAMPAGE
JOAN BLONDELL
PAT O'BRIEN
BACK IN CIRCULATION

Wednesday-Thursday

Tyrone POWER
Lionel LLOYD
YOUNG
IN
SECOND HONEYMOON

Activities

Stage Makeup

Miss Louise Sawyer, faculty advisor for the Sock and Buskin Club, gave a lecture and demonstration on stage make-up at the monthly meeting Tuesday night in the auditorium.

In her talk, Miss Sawyer, who has made a study of stage make-up, told how faces could be given the appearance of length, breadth, age or youth, by the correct application of cosmetics to certain portions of the face. Four general types of make-up were demonstrated, namely: the young girl, the aged woman, a Japanese make-up, and last of all a practical street make-up for young women.

As each type of make-up was completed certain light effects were tried. In this way Miss Sawyer pointed out the different effects on the make-up, and told which lights were desirable and why.

Musical Program

Wednesday morning at the chapel hour, members of the piano and voice department gave a delightful program. Numbers included:

Prelude, "Largo" from New World Symphony (Dvorak).

Piano, "Polonaise Americano," Edith Bennett '37 (Carpenter).

Voice "Hindoo Song," Eleanor Morgan, '39 (Bemberg).

Piano "Sous Bois" Mary Winn Greer '38 (Barratt).

Voice, "Robin Sing Me a Song" Margaret Carter '38 (Spross).

Piano, "Autumn," Beverly Dougherty '38 (Chaminade).

Postlude, "Priest's March," (Mendelssohn).

Camera Club

Interested amateur photographers met Thursday afternoon in Room 13 for the initial meeting of the Camera Club. This is a project of the Math-Science Club and it is the first of its kind to appear on the campus.

The only materials needed for membership are a camera and an enthusiastic interest in taking better pictures.

Dr. Earl Phelan, director of the activity, explained the use of the various parts of the camera. "To obtain artistic pictures there are three things to be considered," said Dr. Phelan. "First, the subject, which should express one definite idea and tell only one story; second, the point of view which should express balance and harmony—the subject should be approximately in the center. Never let the horizon be directly in the middle, and third, the lighting should be good. In an ordinary box camera, satisfactory snapshots will be obtained if the pictures are taken between 9 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, because of the effect of the blue rays of the sun on the specially prepared films."

The next meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Room 15.

Two Plays

The play production class will present two one-act plays Saturday evening in the auditorium. The affair, sponsored by the junior class, will begin at 7:30.

Games

Scoring high in two out of three games, the Phi Kappas defeated the Phi Lambdas in a spirited fistball contest Friday afternoon.

In basketball, with Martha Sue Griffin and Dora Ida Perkins as outstanding players, the Lambdas again won the game. The score was 11-13 in favor of Lambdas when it began raining.

The score will stand and with the ten points won in contest two weeks ago, the Lambdas are leading the Kappas 20 points for the Honor Plaque.

Burns . . .

(Continued from Page One)

meeting Tuesday, Ruth Reid, Valdosta, was elected secretary and Frances Hug, Fort Benning, was elected treasurer.

Plans

The aim of the freshmen this year is to practice co-operation. To quote the new president, "We want each girl to have a voice in the management of our affairs and to feel herself really a part of the class. We shall strive to enter whole heartedly into the campus activities. Co-operation with the faculty, upperclassmen, class officers and with each other—Co-operation is to become our by-word."

Dougherty . . .

(Continued from Page One)

Most unusual situations arise and end in hilarious surprises.

"Adam and Eva" is offered as the fall production of the Emory Dramatic Club and from present indications will be fully as exciting as plays of previous years.

Traditional . . .

(Continued from Page One) and class presidents of the students government threw faggots into the fire—symbolic of the qualities which they offer.

The service, one of the loveliest held in recent years, was concluded with a selection from the choir.

Never Buy

Before You Try

Friedlander's

Your Money's Worth

Or Your Money Back

"Turkey" . . .

(Continued from Page One) stomach and women claim equality—.

Annie Adams—"on to Moultrie to see Citadel"—a bit of stingy statement. Are we too young to know the rest? Aren't you afraid our imagination will run wild?

With characteristic brevity and consciousness, Laura Duncan says she's going to sit down and rest a while—then go out to see about the turkey.

From front door to bedroom—the regular beaten path Mildred Wilson takes after an absence from home. She is always sure to find a different arrangement of furniture and friends have been offering flashlights should her arrival take place at night.

For Sara Garbutt, Thanksgiving will truly be here when Georgia Tech comes home—then back to Atlanta for the game.

Louise Bell's motto is "On to Florida!" What'll happen after she gets there remains to be seen and heard.

Rosalind Lane, poor, overworked editor of the Canopy, says that all she's going to do is sleep some more, while a good old bull session with the family is what Virginia Zippies looks forward to most.

So here's to talk and turkey, sleep, games and dancing—but mostly—the wish bone.

Campus . . .

(Continued from Page 3)

space—there were lights—there were inquisitive people—there was chaos—why hadn't I guessed—and just then, down came the dust cloths and out came two editors' faces!

"Gee, you've really got something here—Katherine Moore, how about a statement?" We swallowed that funny look almost immediately.

Miss Moore handed us one withering look. "Go tell Rosalind Lane to leave that file case alone, will you!"

We went, we saw, we were ignored. A statement?

"Certainly not," said Miss Lane. "I talk too much. Everyone says so—have you tacked up that bulletin board?"

We backed off—we took in the cob webs—the dust—the unhung pictures—we let out one yell—and fled—

(Postscript: We retract our words; we did a return appearance next day and bless our reporter ambitions, the hangout looked swell!)

THIS AD GOOD FOR
One Dish
FOREMOST ICE CREAM
If Presented Before Dec. 1
ABSOLUTELY FREE
One to Each Customer

Carl's Grill

110 W. Hill Ave.

Baume . . .

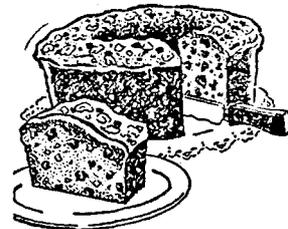

(Continued from Page 1)

and other modern composers, which demonstrated M. Baume's decided musical personality and interpretative ability. The final two numbers, by Liszt, formed a fitting close to a most satisfying recital.

Additional encores included the Brahms Waltz in A-Flat and the Liebestraum by Liszt. M. Baume established definitely the fact that he is an intelligent and gifted artist, and the local concert association is to be congratulated on securing such an attraction as the opening number of the series.

The second group of the program comprised four numbers by Chopin which were played with power and brilliance. This group was the high point of the evening, and the artist was forced to respond to several encores, including the popular "Minute Waltz" by Chopin.

Next came the modern group, including compositions by Ravel

Marvelous buy! Delicious

Ol' Virginia
Fruit Cake
(Cellophane-wrapped)

25¢ for 20 oz.

Ready to serve! Chock full of rich, wholesome ingredients! Wonderful for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners! Buy some today!

GRANT'S

Compliments

OF

Norwood
Printing
Co.

Large Group . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

by beautiful imagery and show a progressive maturity of feeling.

Arouse Thought

There are only two things which arouse the indignation of the poet—war and injustice.

Unlike many writers of verse, Mr. Maxwell possesses a fine sense of humor; this in spite of the fact that the majority of his work is pitched on a sad, though not pessimistic vein.

While the majority of his verse was in the free, modern manner, Mr. Maxwell showed skill at casting his verse into the more conventional molds, especially the sonnet.

The entire program was interspersed with amusing and interesting moments, adding much to the pleasant informality of the hour.

Tea

Following the program tea was served in the upper Rotunda. Miss Katherine Moore, president of the English Club, was assisted in entertaining by other members of the club.

Compliments

Of

Valdosta Cab Co.

PALACE

Monday, November 22

WILL ROGERS

— In —

"JUDGE PRIEST"

Tuesday, November 23

MARY BRIAN

— In —

"NAVY BLUES"

Wednesday, November 24

TOM KEENE

— In —

"REBELLION"

Thursday, November 25

JUNE TRAVIS

— In —

"THE BIG GAME"

With

PHILLIP HUSTON

Friday, November 26

SONJA HEINIE

— In —

"THIN ICE"

With

TYRONE POWERS