Pyle Gives Music Recital

Miss Sarah Martha Pyle gave her graduation recital in piano Monday evening, May 9, assisted by Miss Doris Harper, of the speech department.

The program began with three piano selections by Miss Pyle. These were: Barberini's Minuet, Bauer; Tragiea (slow movement), MacDowell, and Concert Etude, MacDowell.

Miss Harper then gave her first reading which was: "No Bigger Than a Man's Hand", by Nancy Boyd.

Four piano selections were next given: Prelude in B minor—Spross; Romance—LaFarge; Shepherds All and Maidens Fair—Nevin, and Etude in F sharp major—Arensky.

Following this, Miss Harper read "The Prince of Court Painters", by Constance D'Arcy MacKay.

Miss Pyle closed the program by playing the Concerto in C major, by Beethoven, and Allegro Con Brio (Cadenza—Ruth Slenizynski). The orchestral parts were given on the second piano.

Miss Pyle has appeared previously in several recitals and music programs of the music departments.

Reade Speaks In Chapel

President Frank Reade in chapel Wednesday discussed the advancement GSWC has made in the past three years. According to the statements of Dr. Reade, the property of the college has increased at the rate of one hundred dollars a day.

The paved drives, the Senior Dormitory, and the pool are additions that have added to the value of the college.

Dr. Reade called to the students' attention the fact that the Campus Canopy has made great progress in its four years

Cabinet of Y; SGA Officers Hold Retreat

First Joint Meeting Held At Twin Lakes This Week-End

Thirty-three students, chaperoned by Mildred Turnbull, leave this morning for the annual Y retreat at Twin Lakes. For the first time in the history of the college the old and new officers of the SGA will join the YWCA officers and cabinet in the outing.

The officers of the SGA attending are Virginia Zipplies, Frances McLain, Mary Hudson, Laura Duncan, Margaret Burns, June Lawson, Mary Catherine Abernathy, and Emily Cummings; those of the YWCA are: Ethel Stallings, Anna Richter, Mary Virginia Williams, Elizabeth Garbutt, Mildred Wilson, Frances Middleton, and Daisy McNeal.

The object of the retreat is to get new and retiring officers of each association together, to discuss problems of the past year, and to make plans for the future. Since the Student Government and Y are interdependent organizations, they decided to meet together and discuss joint problems.

Miss Annie P. Hopper will speak to the group on Sunday morning. Students will lead the other discussions which will take place.

One of the most impressive of the ceremonies last year was a vesper service on the shore of the lake. Officials have expressed the belief that the atmosphere of the retreat place is conducive to thought and inspiration.

All students holding offices must record points toward their GSWC leadership emblem with Ruth Bunn, student recorder of points, by May 1. No points recorded after this time will be counted towards emblems.

Hopper Installs Mary Hudson SGA President

At the last meeting of the Student Government Association for this year, held in the auditorium Thursday evening, May 12, Mary Hudson, president for 1938-39, was formally ushered into office.

Virginia Zipplies conducted the meeting as her last official act as retiring president. After expressing her appreciation for the cooperation of the students during the year, she gave a short talk on loyalty. In this talk, she pointed out the necessity of always holding in mind the ideal, and then the people and things that go to make up the ideal.

After Miss Zipplies' speech, Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women, gave the pledge of office to the new president. She then took the retiring president's cap and placed it on Miss Hudson's head to signify her assumption of the duties of president of the Student Government Association.

In the speech which followed, the new president impressed upon the audience of assembled students, the need for some con-

Campus Canopy Wins Second Class Rating

Entered in the 1938 All-American Critical Service, the Campus Canopy received Second Class Honor rating compared with other members of the same group having an enrollment of less than 500. This is a definite advance over the Third Class Rating which the Canopy received last year.

A total of 445 college newspapers were entered. They were judged by Dr. Ralph O. Nafziger, Prof. Edwin H. Ford, and Mr. S. E. Mickleson, of the Department of Journalism of Minnesota; Mr. Earl Kirmser, member of the Minneapolis Journal staff, and Assistant in Journalism; Mr. Frederick J. Noer, editor, Collegiate Digest; Mr. Harry Atwood, 1931-32 editor of the Minnesota Daily and present editor of the Northwestern National News, and Mrs. Edwin H. Ford, Minnesota journalism graduate.

Of the 52 papers entered in the same class as the Canopy, 24 others were given second class rating. According to this, the Campus Canopy is rated in the upper 50 percent of the group.

Peacemaker honors, the highest award, were given six of the papers submitted for judging. The Daily Texan, University of Texas, Austin, Texas, was the only southern paper in this group.

Students Hear Stanford On IRC Program

Tells of Life As Student In German University

Prof. Henry Stanford, Instructor of Languages at Emory Junior, spoke Tuesday night at the May meeting of the IRC. Mr. Stanford, who spent last year as a student in the University of Heidelberg, Heidelberg, Germany, spoke of the high spots of his stay in the old world. As he had been a guest in the homes of these people, he was able to see the real situation—not that usually shown the casual traveler.

Being particularly interested in the customs and political views of the natives, he was able to secure a wealth of information regarding their reactions to the present situation. Illustrative material, chiefly the large propaganda posters set out by the Nazi government, were effective additions to the talk.

Climaxing a successful year of outstanding programs, the Artist Series committee presents the celebrated American woman diplomat, Hon. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde who will lecture in the auditorium on Monday night May 16.

Mrs. Rohde has a very unique record. She is the first woman ever to represent the "Old South" in Congress, she was the first woman to serve on the Congressional Foreign Affairs Committee, and the first woman to represent the United States at Interparliamentary Union in London, 1930. Her appointment as Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary to Denmark gave her the distinction of being America's first woman diplomat.

GSWC is given the privilege of choosing the subject on which Mrs. Rhode is to speak. It is hoped that the topics of Scandinavian Cooperatives and This Business of Diplomacy will be combined.

No cut and dried phrases, no platitudes, fall from her tongue. It is not necessary. Mrs. Rohde's experience is so rich and varied, her own message of peace and idealism so importunate—her problem is to find the time to tell new things.

Emory Team Conducts Vesper

Guests of GSWC "Y" will be the Deputation Team from Emory University who will conduct the vesper service on campus Sunday evening. The speaker at this time will be Eual Samples, whose subject will be "World Peace."

Of the four members of the team, three are former students of Emory Junior College in Valdosta; they are: Frank Robertson, president of the "Y", George Jordan and George Clary, "Y" treasurer, all of whom will participate in the musical part of the program.

The Y choir of GSWC, led by Margaret Carter, will sing several selections. These will be chosen after the arrival of the Emory team.

At the program to be presented at the First Methodist church Sunday morning, Frank Robertson will be the chief speaker.

The Emory Deputation team annually visits the GSWC campus. Fred Wilstn was the speaker here last year.

Members of the team will be guests of the college in the dining room at supper Sunday evening. They will return to Atlanta immediately after vespers.

Margaret Abernathy, chairman of the Deputation team is in charge of the arrangements.

We Have Two

... reasons for changing staffs at this time of the year. One reason is to give seniors who have been working on the Canopy, time to prepare for graduation; the other, is to acquaint new staff members with the technicalities of their positions while their predecessors are here to advise them.

To us, the Canopy represents a means not only of presenting the news in an interesting and accurate manner, but also of presenting student opinion.

Starting out with the enthusiasm and cooperation which is ours, we have every reason to hope for success in accomplishing these aims. We invite the continued participation of students in polls, letters to the editor, etc., as a means of making the Canopy a student, more than a staff paper.

Comprehensive

... exams claimed the greater part of our advertising staff for this week, much to the dismay of the new business manager. Reporters, columnists, et al, were piling up copy on the desk and there seemed to be no way to finance the paper which would carry their stories.

Helping us out of this dilemma, we are grateful to Alma McCondichie, Mary Ann Joiner, Margaret Wier, Margaret Wood, Evelyn Brim, Ann Parnham, and Margaret Burns for their assistance.

Though not members of the business staff, these girls volunteered their services and time to solicit "ads" for the paper.

AT THIS TIME, we should also like to commend the work of the new girls on the reportorial staff. Nine girls who signed up to be reporters are trying their skill on these last issues of the paper. With absolutely no training in journalism, they have turned in excellent work both in content and in style.

Efforts such as these are certainly appreciated by the editors as a demonstration of active interest in the Canopy progress.

By Jeannette Johnson and Louie Peeples.

One word description of Mary Catherine Abernathy: bewitching. Her hobbling about stole the show. Annie Lou Hardy was the cause of not a few hysterics. Latest discovery: "Dopey" Blanks has eyes like the real Dopey !!!

Highlight: the Evil Spirits' Dance when the dancers turned Ted Shawn in rythm. We couldn't tell whose face beamed the most during the exhibition: Sara's, Mama Duncan's, or Sister Helen's. Should have been twins: Sara Mathis and Nell Zipperer.

And was Mamie Johnson's face brown? ? Opal Brown played the part of Snow White so well, we thought we were seeing the picture all over again, and Louise Bell turned out to be a charming prince in addition to a Prince harming. Made a stunning maid of honor: Ruth Bunn.

Elizabeth is Wade-ing about in matrimonial waters, but from what we hear, so are a number of other pretty Senior misses, and any day now—Well, why spoil a pleasant surprise? This column highly commends Miss Ivey, Miss McRee and Miss Carter for their successful production and excellent supervision of May Day-Play Day.

Dear Editor

So we live in a democratic country—go to a democratic school—and even a few of our teachers think they are democratic! Maybe I don't understand the meaning of democracy, political and social equality."

Imagine my going to a teacher to tell her (or him, as the case might be) in a sweet and demure way that if it could be arranged, to move time in a class to the subject they are supposed to be teaching, instead of wandering off to make a complete trip around the world before finally returning to class.

Catastrophe: When three Converseteers headed by Mims decided to go swimming at a ghastly hour and a few GSWC girls were at the Emory Junior Banquet last evening. Headline: Mercer's on the campus this week-end, and two people are unusually happy ! Alma's chapel gasp caused a sensation, and we all had candy ! ! !

an absent-minded professor who forgets to talk about the subject will not alter the fact that my degree will read Absolutely Blank instead of the traditional A. B.

Don't be misled—I'm not the studious type—who prefers lectures to having the teacher wander about but—when tests come and I am expected to answer the questions that it took the teacher years of A. B., M. A., and Ph. D. training to understand, naturally I am a bit puzzled—for after all I'm only a college student with a bunch of democratic ideas that can't be voiced.

From The Orchestra Pit

By Eileen Hyland

... the roar of the crowd swells in volume aided by my miserable little pipe. But after all, all one can do is his best so piping my best gives this: The air waves these days are going to town what with amateurs and Bob Burns—but did you know that underneath his rough exterior Bob has a heart of gold? He has befriended a nest of several rabbits and is raising them.

We all hope he isn't too kind as Lennie (Of Mice and Men, Lennie) would be and pet them together. Speaking of Lennie,

Broadway's bright lights still flicker with "Star Wagon" and the inevitable "Tobacco Road."

We're all wondering just how much longer the winter grass is going to flourish on that set?

Nice that "Marco Polo", but just go see "Vivacious Lady" next week and Marco and his Orientals will recede like a mirage out of your mind.

Girls—you want to know how? Well Deana Durbin's got a hundred of 'em for your inspection Wednesday and Thursday.

In Thomas Carlyle's

"Sartor Resartus" in "The Everlasting Yea" is found this: "The Situation that has no its Duty, its Ideal, was never yet occupied by man. Yes here, in this poor, miserable, hampered, despicable Actual, wherein thou even now standest, here or nowhere is thy Ideal: work it out therefrom; and working believe, live, be free. Fool! the Ideal is in thyself, the impediment too is in thyself: Thy Condition is but the stuff thou art to shape that same Ideal out of: what matters whether such stuff be of this sort or that, so the Form thou give it be heroic, be pe etic? O thou that pnest in the imprisonment of the Actual, and criest bitterly to the gods for a kingdom wherein to rule and create, know thou of a truth: the thing thou seekest is already with thee, 'here or nowhere', couldst thou only see!"

There is no finer challenge to youth than this from the rugged Scotch philosopher. Too often we fritter away the hours and waste our energies looking forward to the time when we shall be more favorably situated, when we shall have "a kingdom wherein to live and create," whereas the present is the only kingdom we shall ever know. The present is full of opportunity, full of things to be done. Your college years are not set apart from life. They are life your life. If you only wait for a future where you dream of doing great things, you will still find yourself empty-handed "crying bitterly to the gods" for a kingdom that will never be yours. "Here or nowhere", day by day, on your own campus is the stuff out of which your life must be made heroic and beautiful. Will you answer the challenge?

The second stimulating thought is that the Ideal, as well as the implement, is in yourself. The thing you seek is already within you, could you only see. College years so fleeting, yet so full of marvelous possibilities of growth, of stretching one's mental and spiritual stature to the utmost. O, Youth, so joyous, so light-hearted, yet so full of bright dreams, seize upon the Now, the Today. Take the stuff around you and fashion it according to the ideal within yourself, and thus living, believe, be free!

—Miss Annie P. Hopper.

From An Uneasy

chair—very uneasy with the assumption of all these new duties. Editor Lane jumped us from third to second class honor rating this year, so what's there left for us to do but work for first class next year? What price responsibility.

The IRC invited guests to their meeting last Tuesday night and an ultra nice time was had by all. It's too bad the invitation comes but once a year—like May Day, or something. Speaking of May Day—the memory lingers on with red and purple crepe paper streamers screaming at each other across the Rec Hall.

Miss Hopper with her Guest Editorial is the guardian angel of the week. We'll be around to others of the campus notables before long.

We miss Miss Moore's presence in the office—but perhaps she'll return in spirit sometime as ex-editor Johnson did last fall. Lane has printer's ink in her veins—couldn't resist the call of the typewriter. Would certainly have gone under without her guiding hand.

The moving pictures that were shown Wednesday attracted a large number of interested students. We can go serious minded at times, it seems.

Did you know that the Red and Black of the University of Georgia has been campaigning for a course in marriage? We have been way ahead of them for several years now. With our course in Marriage and the Family. Here's where we can feel superior to our Athens brethren.

Lambdas Win 19-17 Victory

GSWC Alumnae To Entertain Students

Alumnae of GSWC will give a tea in the Rotunda of Ashley Hall Sunday evening, May 15, at 4:30 o'clock, for the seniors of the Valdosta High School and the freshmen of the Womans College.

Receiving will be Mrs. John Williams, president of the Alumnae Association, Mrs. Joe Wisenbaker, president of the local branch, Mrs. Jack Howell, vice-president of the local branch, and Miss Annie P. Hopper, Dean of Women.

Miss Hopper will introduce the second receiving line which is composed of Mrs. Jack Howell, Jr., Leecy Ann Goodloe, president of the senior class at VHS, Ruth Garbutt, president of the Valdosta Club, and Margaret Burns, president of the Freshman class.

Mrs. Melville Harris is chairman of the serving committee which is composed of: Mrs. Marvin Vinson, Jr., Mrs. Hollie Howell, Miss Frances Dekle, Mrs. J. C. Parrish, Miss Vanelle Kendall, Mrs. John Bray Giddens, Mrs. Bill Oliver, Mrs. Carson McLane, Miss Margaret Dalton and Mrs. Hoke Smith.

In the second of a series of baseball games between the Kappas and the Lambdas, the Lambdas came out victorious, winning by a score of 19 to 17.

This was one of the most exciting games ever played on our campus. The scoring was "nip and tuck" from the first inning to the last, with the Lambdas coming out on the long end by scoring seven runs in the last inning.

From the start, it was a pitching battle between Annie Adams and "Huddy" Hudson, each trying to "Bob Feller" and throw fire balls. Both yielded many hits, but to revenge themselves they did some fancy fanning out of others.

The Lambdas played heads-up ball during the entire game, being led by Dora Ida Perkins and her home runs. Others outstanding on the Lambda team were Frances Hug as catcher, Louise Bell as second baseman, and Edith Wilson in the field. Linda Sumner relieved herself of embarrassment of fanning out twice by knocking a beautiful two-bagger, later spinning third and going home.

Giving the Lambdas plenty of competition on the Kappa team were Laura Duncan, who played a jam-up game on first base, Ann Parham, who didn't miss a fly that came within twenty-five feet, and Ruth Reid, playing her usual steady game.

Valdosta Club Host At Banquet

Entertaining the seniors of the Valdosta High School, the Valdosta Club held a banquet Friday evening, May 13, at the Woman's Building. Ruth Garbutt, retiring president, was in charge of the arrangements.

Speakers on the program were: Dr. A. G. Cleveland, Mr. J. P. Mott, Miss Annie P. Hopper, Miss Leecy Ann Goodloe, and the newly elected president of the Valdosta Club, Miss Hilda Carroll. Miss Louise Sawyer presented a play which was a take-off of "Gone With the Wind."

Also on the program were Edith Bennett and Sara Martha Pyle, who gave vocal and piano selections.

Parents Guests On May Day

Parents of the students of Georgia State Womans College were honored Saturday, May 7, with the first official Parents' Day. Approximately one hundred and twenty parents were guests of the college.

The program for the morning included demonstrations of archery, technique and horse-back riding and a swimming and diving exhibition.

The swimming and diving event officially opened the new outdoor swimming pool.

At noon, all of the visitors on campus assembled in the Recreation Hall. Parents were recognized and welcomed as a group of honor guests. Immediately afterward a delightful picnic lunch was served.

The Fine Arts program, given in the auditorium, included a one-act play by members of the Sock and Buskin Club; two songs by the Triple Quartet of the Glee Club, and several piano numbers. During the afternoon, the guests were invited to visit the various college departments and to meet the faculty.

The success of the Parents' Day has led many to wish it to be an annual occasion.

GSWC Officially Opens New Pool

One of the big events of May Day-Play Day was the official opening of the swimming pool. Mayor James D. Ashley, of Valdosta, made a brief address expressing the pride of the college as well as that of Valdosta and the whole state in her new pool.

Freddie Anor, coach of the Georgia Tech swimming team, and the Atlanta Athletic Club, directed and also took part in an exhibition in diving and swimming given by members of the Tech swimming team. The performers were Howard Duncan, Dr. Reade fittingly called him "Valdostas pride." For several consecutive years he held Southeastern diving records.

On Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Cordele, the YWCA Deputation team will have charge of the worship service. An interesting program has been arranged. Margaret Carter and Suenell Greenlee will sing a duet, accompanied by Elise O'Neal at the organ. Margaret Abernathy and Ethel Stallings will lead the devotional. Carolyn Askew will discuss "Summons To World Christianity."

Plans have been made for all students who are interested in speaking French at lunch to sit at special tables. There will be two tables reserved. June Lawson, president of the club, announces that they will probably begin next week and continue until the end of school. Those girls who have signed for the privilege are June Lawson, Martha Jones, Helen Joiner, Mary Winn Greer, La Forrest Smith, Carolyn Greene, Clara Mae Sasser, Margaret Weir, Anna Richter, Eileen Cox, Sarah Anne Pryor, Margaret Abernathy, Hazel Muggridge and Janet Cook.

On Sunday morning, May 8, the staff of the Pine Cone had breakfast at the Coffee Shop of the Daniel Ashley Hotel. This was the first social gathering of the group this year. Members of the regular staff and junior staff who attended were: Carolyn Greene, Tad Whipple, Martha Ada Williams, Llyburn Warren, Katherine Moore, Margaret Cannon, Clara Mae Sasser, and C. J. Morris. Carolyn Greene is editor of the 1938 Pine Cone, and Clara Mae Sasser is the editor-elect. Others were members of the assistant staff.

In the near future, Dr. Reade plans to meet each class as a single group to discuss what they expect of the college and what the college expects of them in the future.

Following Dr. Reade, Miss McRee took charge of the program. With the help of Aline Lanier and Mary Lee Rogers, the May Pole prizes were announced and distributed. The judges for May Day were Dr. Dusenberry, Miss Larsen, and Miss Larisey. For the second time in the history of GSWC May Day, eleven poles were wound without a mistake.

The judges decided to give a first and a second prize, each one pound boxes of candy; to each of the other groups, a one-half pound of candy was given. First prize was given to Group I, Subjects of Snow White. Second prize went to the group composed of Snow White, the Prince, the Huntsman and the Dwarfs.

GSWC is to officially loan certain college property and equipment to the YMCA in Valdosta from June 13 to September 3. Mr. Don Swanson, who has charge of this type of work in the organization is to hold the responsibility of the equipment and college property.

The "Y" is to have charge of the children's playground, the swimming pool, archery court, softball diamond, tennis courts, golf field, gymnasium, volleyball court, and the ping pong equipment. The college is not furnishing the golf, tennis, or swimming equipment.

At the moment it is undecided whether the "Y" will use the college target stands or not. Also under question now is whether or not the out of town visitors will be charged for tennis and swimming.
