Fine Arts Club Plans Bazaar

At the November meeting of the Fine Arts club, it was decided that the Club will again sponsor the Annual Christmas Bazaar as well as a dance on Nov. 25. The Bazaar is a traditional project of the club, but was discontinued at the beginning of the war.

Kathleen Hall, President of the club announced that the Bazaar will be held all day Friday, December 8, and possibly until Saturday noon in the House-in-the-Woods. The Bazaar will give students and faculty members an opportunity to buy attractive Christ-mas gifts without leaving the campus. The Fine Arts Club sells the articles for the stores in town, and in doing so, receives a commission on the articles. The articles are chosen with the needs and likes of the college girl in mind, her taste, and her budget.

Alphia Mae Castleberry, Catherine Garbutt and Frances Prine form the committee that is to be in charge of the decorations.

Buy your War Stamps from the Chemistry Division of the play will be presented the Chemistry D y night Nov. 30, at 8:30. Math-Science Club.

Major Jane McConnell . . Speaks at Assembly

At assembly Wednesday, Major Jane Foster McConnell, of the National Nursing Council for War Service, spoke to GSWC students concerning the opportunities of-fered by the U. S. Cadet Nurse

Major McConnell stressed the recent rise in the standards for nursing schools and the great need for trained nurses created by the war. She emphasized also, that college trained nurses bring to the profession a new standing among other profession, and that the Cadet NNurse Corps is especially interested in recruiting girls who wish their degrees in addition to regular nursing training. Colleges all over the country, are now offering such a program that may be completed in five years, as well as the Mas-ter's Degree. The entire cost of the training, Major McConnell ex-plained, will be defrayed by the government if the girl will continue in the profession for the duration, and provided that she enters the Corps more than ninety days before the end of the war.

 The field of nursing, she added is composed of many branches, all of which offers numerous opportunities for girls who may be interested in Public Health work, Psychiatric work, Research, Teaching, Travel, and Administrative jobs. Research.

Baldwin, who has studied at Wesleyan University, and the University of Chicago, is especi-ally noted for his work in Burma. He was a missionary there from 1923 to 1933. While in Rangoon, he was in educational and evangelistic work for the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions. His years in the Far East gave him many opportunities to visit the various sections of Burma, India, and other countries of Asia to study the life of the people as well as to get an appreciative understanding of their religion and customs. He was in close contact with student work in Judson and University College in Rangoon, and was convener of the Burma student Camp at Amherst one of those years.

His work among students in America included visiting in the colleges and universities to inactivities ward the World Mission and to interpret the Missionary Enterprise to them. He was also associated with Mrs. Baldwin in conducting the Christian Mission Ser-Fellowship at Lsle, New vice Fellowsh York, in 1936.

Dekle, McKinnon, Singletary, Patillo Nominated for S. G. A. Officers

Emily Dekle, Ida Maude Mc-Kinnon, Harriet Singletary, and Robbelee Patillo have been nom-inated for officers in the Student Government Association. election date has been tentatively set for this week.

Emily Dekle, single candidate for president of Student Government, is studying for an A. B. degree in Home Economics. She now serves as first vice-president of S. G. A., a member of the Executive Committee, and a Sports Council member. As a freshman, Emily was a representative to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. She was president of the Sophomore class and a reporter on the staff of the CAMPUS CANOPY. She is also a member of the Home Ec Club and the Storte Club Sports Club.

Only nominee for vice-president, Ida Maude McKinnon is vice-pres-ident of the Sock and Buskin Club, social chairman on the Executive Committee of the S. G. A., president of the B. S. U., Deputation Chairman of the Y. Cabinet, and a member of the Sociology Club. Her major subject is sociology, and her minor speech.

Harriett Singletary was nominated for second vice-president.

She is secretary-treasurer of the Math-Science Club, a member of the Y cabinet, and a member of the English Club. Now a mem-ber of the Senior Honor Society she was elected president of the Freshman Honor Society in her sophomore year. As a sophomore she was also an S. G. A. monitor. She is a divisional Humanities Robbelee Patillo has been nominated for the office of secretarytreasurer in the Student Government Association. She is historian of the Sock and Buskin Club, and a member of the Fine Arts, Sociology, Math-Science, and Sports Clubs. An official monitor, she is also Cut Recorder. She served on the Sophomore Council of the Y., and was a CAMPUS CANOPY reporter in her freshman year. Her major is Sociology, her minor, speech.

Upon official election, new Student Government officers will replace the following seniors who graduate in December: Martha Goodwin, president: Mary Creech, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Agnes Wolff and Emily De-kle, vice-presidents, who are giving up their present duties at this time.

JUST THE BEGINNING

At six o'clock Thursday, the deadline for the nomination of Student officers, three girls had been nominated. There were at least three offices to be filled: President, Vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, the three most important offices of all the sixty-odd on this campus.

This election is the beginning link in the chain of elections to be held in the following weeks and months that will name girls to fill these sixty-odd offices on this campus. And with each of these elections will come that political machine—whispering campaigns—the only evidence of election activity on our campus.

This is the most execrable type of political activity that could possibly exist. Discussions of candidates are held in secrecy, and they end where normal conversational tones begin. Very little is said in the open, for fear some candidate's feelings may be hurt. For this reason we are afraid to stand up for some candidate who we think ought to have an office. We don't realize that actually more hurt feelings occur from this malicious gossip which we use as our only means of electioneering than could possibly result from any other method.

These elections are of vital importance to everyone of us who will be here. We need to realize this importance and give our elections the attention they deserve.

We need spirited elections. Other colleges have them. They have meetings, soap-box speeches, posters, and open campaigning. Each candidate presents a platform, and it is published for everyone to study and consider. People come out in the open and say who their choice is, and then work openly for their candidate's benefit. They don't resort to trampling one girl's reputation in order to get the other elected.

As it is, we don't know what we're voting for. Our only basis for making our choice lies in personal feelings we may have for them.

We should feel free to interview potential candidates to find out if they are elected. Quite often it has happened that students who have been elected have failed to return. Of course this is inevitable sometimes, but it is a fact that girls have accer, ed offices when they had no intention of filling em.

Aft comminations are posted, we should have one incidate draw up a platform and publish it for the world to see. The CAMPUS CANOPY has affected its services many times in this respect and offer still stands.

Voting is not saily a privilege that we have, it is a right! We have the right to know what we are voting for as well as whom we are voting for! Let's start now and use the right! Let's revolutionize our political system.

GATHERED GOSSIP

BY KATHLEEN GRANTHAM

"Oh, Johnny" is CAROLYN STAFFORD'S new theme some. And how he CAN love!!!

Unknown: AVAILABLE JONES. If anyone knows the whereabouts of this creature, man or mouse, let us know immediately.

PETTY JANE BRYANT and GORDON have it bad, and that "ain't" good, when there's a Joe too. She's a "Hard Hearted Hannah." (From Blakely.)

Last year they called him the handsome football player from Fitz-gerald and this year he's from Georgia U., but he's still handsome JAMES HARDEN who trequently blows in to see "CYCLONE" MARTIN.

Hey, BOLEN, how 'bout a piece of that candy? When they say it with candy, it's L-O-V-E.

Say you got a phone call, RACHE? (From DAVID?) Say you're going home this weekend??? Sa-a-a-a-a-a-yy!!!!

ITEM OF INTEREST: "Old Married Ladies" can now include JAKE HART. She's one gal who saved herself for BILL.

A moose on the loose is SGT, CLOOS, (We would say.) And he's after a goose, but we still like you, TARVER.

High flying (at 10,000 ft.) is ANNE KEENE, since she went to. Tennessee just to see JOHN.

A familiar face seen on the campus was that of CHARLOTTE WIL-LIAMSON, who was making the rounds with CONNIE, and at the same time, keeping her eye on BILL, who was recently assigned to the Moody base.

* PAGING YALE: It's just a warning that one MARTHA GOOD-WIN and one NED STEELE have their eyes on you for the next two years. MARTHA, in the Cadet Nurses, and NED, studying for the ministry.

Who was that certain FRESHMAN who was involved in deep conversation with JACK DAVIS? Aha, Aha!!

MARGARET JOYNER has been bubbling over this week, but who wouldn't be with a pair of those "hard-to-get" Naval Air Crew wings? She insists he's just an old friend, but sometimes we wonder about old friends.

It might be quite a distance to Arkansas, but the postal and telephone systems are going strong for NELLIE LUNSFORD. DAN is the man after her heart.

B. J. REMSON thinks she has found the "sweetest" BOB yet. I thought the others did things to her heart, but "oh, That WATSON."

PEGGY FORD and CORRINNE DELLINGER had to make special trips to the dance Saturday night to return stolen articles to one of the cadets. I don't think he really wanted those gloves, but anyway that's a good excuse.

"DUCHESS COPELAND" made a special trip to Savannah just to see the "DUKE." Their "HIGHNESSES" really have it bad. (And that IS good)

MEMO TO G.S.W.C. GALS: Sadie Hawkins Day has passed, and MARY CRUM really has proof of getting her man . . . LOCATION: Third finger, Left hand.

CAROLYN PITTMAN is really stepping out with that good-looking WALT these days. (DID A PAIR OF DIMPLES GIVE YOU GOOSE PIMPLES, PITTMAN?)

Signing off to all men with my telephone 752.

BETTY PETERS and FRANCES PRINE

Peters and Prine, the "limelight" gals of the week are the kids with the correct curve on the ball, and the accomplishments on the list. "Pete," the petite, vivacious brownette in lower Senior Hall, who's always running around doing something—anything and everything, hails from Moultrie, Ga., and any one can tell that "Fannic" Prine calls Savannah, Georgia home with that accent.

Busy is the word for both, with Pete's membership in the Sock and Buskin club, the English Club, and Senior Honor Society. She puts the upward grade on the curve. Fannie occupies her spare time—what there is—with the Fine Arts Club, secretarial position in the I. R. C. and the Dance Ciuh. With chicken dressing and apple pie a-la-mode to keep her going, Pete will make it O. K. though, Fannie says make hers lemon pie and steak.

The favorite fashion of the year seems to say "Clothes that fit and suit the person. Frances likes for them to tit people and "look well-dressed." Betty appreciates a dress that suits the personality of the person wearing it. Sports for school and dress clothes for other occasions with emphasis on frilly evening dresses are another thing Fannie believes in heartily.

"How do I like my men?"
Peters relays the question I put to her, to her roommate. She made up her own answer, however masculine and intelligent, which, in itself, pretty well covers the subject. Fannie says she likes him tall, brunette and with

Peters and Prine, the "limeght" gals of the week are the ds with the correct curve on the ball, and the accomplishments in the list. "Pete," the petite, vacious brownette in lower Sen-

For music Fannie and Betty agree on Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata for one thing. Again Fannie has a definite reason. They played it at her wedding. Her husband's overseas, incidentally.

Again Peters queries her roommate on what she does as a hobby. The main one is annoying me, rejoins Two-G teasingly. All joking aside "Pete's" a good swimmer and an excellent dancer . . . "And when she turns on that smile the men come flocking," . . a mutual friend informs us. She dances to anything—jitterbug to dreamy waltzes, but can take Tommy Dorsey, Charlle Spivak, and Fred Waring on any old time. Fannie says anything from the highest to the lowest for her. She's another good swimmer and dancer even does a fittle jitterbug on the side.

Sincerety is titting a new high this year. It has another advocate in Peters. Friendliness comes first with Fannie, however, and the opposite, unfriendliness, is something she can't take. Hypocricy is another popular unpopular with Pete, but kindness in others offsets it.

We finish, and do mean finish because these gals do just that in December, with the majors and minors. Fannie's is Divisional in Social Science with emphasis on history, and Petes working hard at English and History. Best of luck at both of them girls, and Bye now.

Davis Discusses Club Purposes and Proje

Last week the CANOPY published as versary presentation, the history of the clubs on campus since their origin. How some of the columns brought to mind that the organizations of today area. living up to the goals of the past of and imagination have enlarged the achievements, which is highly probable continued examination brings to the rurb, uncomplimentary facts.

Clubs today are more or less social consistency. This isn't bad at all—everyous know how to hold a tea cup correctly a Club's constitution is investigated, the enough will appear the idea that the classification is ganized for some definite purpose, not a social in its content.

Numerous customary pursuits, such to renown speakers visit the college user auspices of a certain club or visits to the and symphony or attending conventions to curtailed for the duration. But the war as many openings for clubs as it take Many opportunities for club projects he brought about by civilian and military had if for no other than patriotic reasons the should be answered.

And unfortunately, campus clubs compus bound. The city of Valdosta gives to the college and townspeople are always to help whenever it is within their power and ity. We should do our best to return the pliment. The Sports Club is a good examplement. The Sports Club is a good examplement one of the some of its council members to one of the sionary chapels in town to help with the chapplayground.

Then, too, a club has advisors by whom it be more hindered than helped. Seeing the club does something worthwhile, follows the procedure, and justifies its existance also part the advisor.

Our organizations are of the best, made at the best. It's up to you to make the best that best.

zing, zing went the arrows!!!! Placing them hard and right on the green was MISS DASHER, P. E. instructor. And taking my leave, I seemed to hear this sound, 'I've lost twenty-four balls!" All in the spirit of the game.

After this time I was tired, even if it was just from spectatin', wended my way to the Rec Hall for that afternoon coke. Alas, alack. Even here they're doing it!!! For enjoying the quiet peacefulness of a game of Ping Pong were DOMA McKINNON and GLADYS PENLAND.

This was enough. I firmly decided I was missing something, so my resolution here and today is to get out and see how the other half lives. Won't you join me someday for a short game????
This Sports Club here is on the ball, and I don't want to roll off.

Odds and ends around the home and farm can be used to make many substantial toys that will bring happiness to children during the holiday season, the Extension Service says.

Purple Team Breaks Tie; Wins Game 4-2

Fine teamwork last Wednesday afternoon gave the Lambdas a 4-2 win over the strong Kappa backfield in the American Ball game. As a result of the 2-2 score of the last Match Game, team spirit needed no boost. teams were out to win to break

During the first part of the first quarter, B. J. Remson made a beautiful run and kicked the ball under the crossbars, scoring 2 points for the Lambdas. Early in the second quarter, Tarver kicked a ball over the bars, scoring a point for the Kappas. Soon afterward, Bolen kicked a goal for the Lambda team, making the score at the half 3-1.

In the last half, both teams were fighting hard. Wilkin, Downs, and Grantham did some nice passing and kicking, but the Kappa backfield kept them from scoring. Playing in the back-field were Moore, Green, Mayo, Hendricks, Davis, and Rowland. In the last quarter the Kappa forwards, Rowe, Meadors, Middleton, Townsend, and Tarver worked the ball down the field, and Tarver kicked a beautiful ball that would have tied the score had it not been for Rache Cunningham, goalie, and her long arms which seemed to stretch several feet beyond their normal reach to stop that ball to win the game for the purple team.

The only score made in the last quarter was on a double foul. Grantham scored one point for the Lambdas, and Tarver scored one point for the Red Team, making the final score 4-2.

Both teams showed a great deal of improvement, and the next Match Game, November 29, should prove to be the most exciting of

Archery Tourney Will Start Dec. 2

The first archery tournament of the year is scheduled for Saturmorning, December 2. It will be opened to the freshmen only, and will be Kappa-Lambda competition that will count points for the Sports Club plaque to be awarded in the spring to the team having the most points from competitive sports.

All indications point to close competition between the two teams. Archery is a relatively new sport for many of the members of this freshman class, yet this year a large number have come out, and really have acquired that twang so necessary to a good archer. The Sports Council has felt the need for the team showing of colors in archery as well as the more active competitive sports.

Preliminaries will be held dur-ing the next two weeks. All Freshmen archers must keep official scores of their regular pratice pediods. At the end of this period the six top scorers of the Lambda team, together with the six top scorers from the Kappa team will constitute the competing teams for the tournament.

Six ends-six arrows each-will be shot from the thirty-yard line in the tournament play.

Tournaments in the past have been fun to watch. The Sports Council urges the presence of ell potential Robin Hood's (or Diana's to you mythologically minded) as they strive to gain the points for their team.

Lambdas Defeat Kappas, 23-17

The Lambdas added a few more to their score for the plaque when they won the second volleyball match last Wednesday afternoon. At the half the Lambdas, had a strong lead, 10-4, but were unable to keep it. The last quarter saw the Kappa rally and complete a drive that would have won the game had it started sooner. The last half saw the Red team bring their score to 17, but the Lambdas still had the lead with a score of 23-17 when the final whistle

Cab Riders Is the Funniest People,' Says Canopy Reporter

By LYNETTE ROBESON

from one place to another, and fast, without wearing ourselves out physically was comparatively simple. We just called a taxi.

Before you had time to say "Oh. I just know, I just know I'm going to miss that bus," there would be the loud honk of a horn and you would trip lightly, (if you're like me, you'd trip yourself, too) down the steps, enter the cab, and the driver would immediately make a "bee-line" for the bus station--or any other destination that you happened to be in the mood for.

Now, three years later, we find ourselves faced with a most peculiar situation. WE call a cab, wait thirty minutes, call again and in a slightly annoyed voice ask happened, wait another thirty minutes and with patience worn thin say, "Will you please send that cab, I've got to catch a bus. Of course, all you get is a voice at the other end, and the reply, "Sorry lady, but we've got to catch five other passengers before you catch your ride."

Thus evolved the "Share-theride" plan. It's really fun, though, Just think of all the interesting characters you meet in cabs, and I do mean Characters. From a few experiences of people on campus I've decided that old campus I've decided that old adage "It takes all kinds of people to make up this world" is definitely true.

With an audience around, it's sorta hard for these Moody "Casanovas" to make any time. Who could listen to sweet words of romance, jammed in between an

In the days long gone by, say old maid, spealing off about rationing and a big tat woman talk-A. D. the subject of how to get a graph of about Junior being such a problem child (when anyone can tell that, if he's the one that wants to know what makes not only the cab tick, but the driver as well.) and two blondes in the front seat rattling on about the two suckers they dated the night before. It's a great life and variety is the spice of it -in this case, anyway. Then there was the one about (sound like Bob Hope -don't I) the Russian who got in our cab one day I mean some of the girl's cab, and began a discourse on the love of his life. "I just love my wife," he comments. "I like the way she says I love you. I say 'I luff you,' but she says 'I loooo-Ove you.' "

Yep. Riding in a cab brings you in contact with anything and everything, which recalls the time a college girl played nurse-maid to a dog, just released from the Dog and Cat Hospital. His master, aged 7, was taking him home after a strenuous operation, so the obliging gal holds his head in her lap for a couple of blocks. Sometimes it puts you in an awkward position when the driver wants to let everybody else out first because they "live on the when anybody knows that when a college girl has to get there she has to get there. People just don't realize how valuable college girl's time is-I keep telling myself.

But dogs or no dogs, time or no time, Junior or Mama, it all goes to show you what you can let yourself in for by opening the door and shouting "Going my
