Miss Gladys Wycoff Addresses Members Of Home Economics Club

Miss Gladys Wycoff, who is Field Secretary of the American Home Economics Association, was guest of The Home Economics Club at its meeting Tuesday night, November 6

Bringing greetings from the National Home Economics Office, Miss Wycoff gave suggestions to improve college home economics clubs and encouraged each member to help build her high school economics club by giving the information and help gained in college.

The business was discussed and the club yearbooks were sold to the members.

Miss Drew told of the Home Economic Club meetings to be held this week-end. For those going it will be a professional as well as a pleasure trip. She also gave a brief outline as to what each day's activities will be. Those going to the Home Economics Club Conference in Macon are: Ila Downie, Virginia Hagen, Ethel Bently, Margie Massey, and Miss Drew. Ethel Bently and Miss Drew will go on to Atlanta to attend the Georgia Home Economics Association Conference there.

Program Chairman Margie Massey announced the program topic for the year which is "Etiquette." Ila Downie was in charge of this month's program which concerned travel etiquette. Jackie Bowen, Joyce Hill, Ila Downie, Virginia Hagen, and Betty McPherson discussed car, bus, train, plane, and hotel etiquette.

Peggy Williams gave a report on the clothing clinic in the clothing lab which is open each Saturday to all college girls.

Refreshments were served by Ray Jean Norman, chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Madge Mobley, Betty McPherson, Miriam Powell, and Josephine Balliette.

After the meeting, members of the club talked to Miss Wycoff on points concerning improvement of the club. Miss Wycoff will attend both the Macon Conference and the Georgia Conference in Atlanta.

Aubrey To Direct Methodist Choir

Mr. Aubrey, who with Mrs. Aubrey as organist, has become director of the choir for the First Methodist church, has extended the invitation to any student here at G.S.W.C. to become a member of the choir—provided only that she is interested in it and would like to use this opportunity to serve her church. It is not necessary that prospective members be in the Glee Club, nor is it necessary that they are of Methodist denomination. However, neither Mr. Aubrey nor the pastor of the church wishes to influence membership away from another church into the Methodist. If any student wishes to join, Mr. Aubrey will be glad to include her in the choir, which at present is made up of some thirty students. Rehearsals are from 5:30 to 6:00 on Tuesday and Thursday; and from 11:00 to 11:30 before church on Sunday. In order to provide transportation for the choir members who do not attend Sunday School, the Methodist bus will be at Ashley Hall each Sunday at ten minutes of eleven.

Business Club Announces Aims For Coming Year

Forty-three Secretarial Science majors and minors became charter members of the Business Club at a call meeting held November 6. This is one of the newest clubs on campus and has as its purpose: "to promote interest in business training among the students and to provide social culture and business experience through club activities."

The constitution was read and approved by the members at this meeting. After debating over several names for the club, the officers and Miss Majors selected Business Club.

Billie Ruth Akin, Velma Ansley, Ethel Bently, Virginia Bolen, Caroline Bowen, Dathine Brunson, Laura Converse, Dorothy Davis, Bette Davis, Joan Davis, Josephine Everett, Phyllis Forbes, Dorothy Gay, Mary Gentry, Ileana Gilbert, Helen Graydon, Betty Gunter, Harriet Gwaltney, Barbara Hall, Delores Haygood, Virginia Heisler, Frances Hurn, Rebecca Jennings, Pauline Jordan, Barbara Kennedy, Jean Land, Adair Myddleton, Marian Newsome, Jackie Norman, Catherine Phillips, Mayora Potts, Annette Price, Jean Roberson, Hanson Rogers, Norma Stabler, Sue Nell Smith, Betty June Thompson, Ruth Turner, Sara Turner, Earlene Upshaw, Laurie White and Irma Lou Williams are the charter members.

Committees for the year are: Program Committee—Virginia Bolen (chairman), Laurie White, Frances Hurn. Refreshment Committee—Betty Gunter (chairman), Billie Ruth Akin, Adair Myddleton, Sara Tyson. Social Committee—Marian Newsome (chairman), Phyllis Forbes, Barbara Kennedy, Earlene Upshaw. Publicity Committee—Delores Haygood (chairman), Catherine Phillips and Jean Land.

G. A. F. C. W. Meets To Discuss Yearly Plans

The steering committee of the Georgia Athletic Federation for College Women met here last week-end to make plans for the annual conference for this body. This federation was set up in Georgia to encourage sports activities and clubs on college campuses all over the state and to unify these clubs into a single group so a more varied program can be conducted at each school.

The Federation at the time being consists of a president; a secretary and treasurer; two, one-year members; and, one, two-year member; with a faculty advisor. At the conferences, the president of the Sports Club on that campus is an honorary member.

The members for this year are: Lou Matterson of Wesleyan, president; Connie Lott of Shorter, secretary-treasurer; and, Sarah Walker of Agnes-Scott; Anne Mc-

Production Cast For "The Women" Is Selected

The Play Production Cast for the play "The Women" has been selected from the Play Production Class. In this class, which is made up of upperclassmen, emphasis is placed on the directing of plays suitable for high schools and amateur organizations. Collateral reading of plays, designed to give the student the knowledge of how to select a play intelligently is required. The fundamental principles of acting are taught from the point of view of the director. Opportunity is given to appear in plays and to help with the production of them before audiences.

The Cast is as follows: Business Manager: Effie Powell Treasurer: Elizabeth Pate Publicity Manager: Mildred Wisdom

Stage: Pat Gainey, Sara Smith, Mary Ann Finklea, Mary Dedge, Francis McIntyre

Costumes: Dot Hightower, Jerry Sheffield, Martha Chastain, Anne Shipp

Properties: Margaret Jones, Virginia Freeman, Beth Middleton, Kathleen Grantham, Clemmie Lane

Lights: Annette Hurndon, Mary Catherine Millhouse.

House Manager: Carolyn Bowen Ushers: Harriett Story, Martha Bowen, Annette Manely Nicky Williams.

The time and date for the play is December the eighth, at eight o'clock.

Clare Carson Speaks At Late Vespers

Clare Carson was speaker at Late Vespers Sunday night, November 4. She chose for her subject THANKSGIVING, suggesting the gratitude we here in America should feel for what we have; citing how thankful the people in the European countries are when they have lost so much.

Delores Haygood was in charge of Vespers Thursday, November 8, while Jean Land spoke on INFLUENCE. She discussed influence in three phases; that the older people have on college students, that the college students have on each other, and on other people; and that of upperclassmen on freshmen.

INCREASE SEEN IN NUMBER OF FOREIGN STUDENTS

(Intercollegiate Press) New York, N. Y.—The number of students from outside the United States enrolled in higher educational institutions of the country total 7,540, according to a survey conducted by the Committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students.

These overseas students are found in every state in the union with only one exception. New York leads with 1,670; next in order are Massachusetts with 889; California, 846; Michigan, 525; and, Pennsylvania with 421.

The country with the largest number is Canada with 852. China comes second with 823. The median number is represented by Greece and Spain according to statistics for the current academic year.

Since the Committee on Friendly Relations has conducted similar surveys over a period of years, a basis of comparison with former numbers of foreign students is possible. The total is not far from the average of the past ten years. There is however, a marked change in the sources of these students. With in the recent years there has been a sharp increase of students coming from Latin American countries; according to the figures released they account for 3,294 of the total.

There are evidences that there will be a marked increase in post-war years of overseas students planning to come to the United States. With those coming for academic study are to be noted technical and industrial trainees sent for practical work in shops and factories, not educational institutions. Up to the present more than 5,000 trainees have come within the recent past, for the most part from China and Latin America.

Valdosta Club Selects Members

At their first meeting of the year, the Valdosta Club voted to include in their club all girls who are residents of Valdosta, as well as those who are graduates of Valdosta High. Jackie Talton, president, has announced the following new members: Billie Ruth Akin, Betty Jane Alderman, Vilma Ansley, Charlene Bowen, Elizabeth DeLoach, Ann French, Jean Fuqua, Mrs. Harriette Gwaltney, Barbara Sue Hall, Julia Jackson, Alice McGeachy, Juanita McGowan, Margaret McIntyre, Louise Massey, Sherla Miller, Leona Redles, Tommie Jean Roberts, Henriette Smith, Betty Toler, Faye Vickers, Phyllis, Wade Amanda Wheeler, and Rosalind Wilkins.

The next scheduled meeting of the club will be on November 19 in the Log Cabin.

Let's Face It

Now that the war is over our greatest problem is facing a peace-time world and making a go of it. And the biggest thing we must make a go of is international relations, and setting up a lasting peace through those relations. But that is all old news.

What we'd all like to know is what our part is in all these post-war problems and policies. Maybe right now our part may seem to be a minor one but that may not be for long. The possibilities are what we must prepare for now.

If we are to have a lasting peace, that peace must begin at home, which for us at present is right here on the G.S.W.C. campus. You are still wondering what this has to do with you personally aren't you? To make a lasting peace between nations, there must first be peace within the nations themselves. Since we are one of the leading nations of our day we must be a leader in this policy of peace at home first. To be at peace, we must learn to be tolerant of other peoples' ideas, first of all. We must learn to take as well as to give and do so gracefully. We must learn to look at controversial subjects with open minds and be able to settle disputes in a peaceful manner. If we can lose without hate and if we can win and not let it go to our heads, no matter whether the victory be large or small, we have taken one step forward on the road to better understandings and lasting peace.

Sketching The Seniors

By JEAN LAND

ROBBEELEE PATILLO

Robbelee Patillo who is President of the Sock and Buskin Club, is from Moultrie, Georgia. She is majoring in Social Welfare and minoring in Speech.

Robbe is another one of those girls who doesn't like fast music and especially doesn't like Boogie Woogie. Tschaikowsky is her favorite classical composer and she likes any of his works. Her favorite song is "People Will Say We're in Love." She says it's old but it has a lot of sentimental value.

When Robbe was asked about her favorite type of books she replied that she just loved to read plays.

Robbe likes to go to the movies too, and she likes movies with a good plot. Greer Garson and Gregory Peck are her favorite screen stars.

Frisly clothes are Robbe's pet, as are high heel shoes and other types of shoes too. She is not overly fond of hats though.

Just food tells enough about Robbe's food favorites but she particularly likes steak and whipped cream.

Robbe has very definite ideas about her ideal man. He is tall dark and has grey eyes and from the way she looked when she said it and from the way she said it, I think she had one special person in mind.

Robbelee likes cats and she has a hobby of collecting miniature pitchers. She hates chewing gum. The traits she most admires in people are dependability and sincerity.

In addition to being President of the Sock and Buskin, Robbe is Chairman of the Extra-Curricular Activities Committee, Chairman of the Artist Series Committee, Chairman of the Student Activities Fund Committee, Photography Editor of the Pine Cone, member of the Executive Committee of S. G. A., member of the Math-Science Club, Sociology Club and Fine Arts Clubs.

Robbelee isn't sure of what she is going to do when she graduates. She may take that fatal step but most likely she will work somewhere using the training she has gotten down here. Whatever she decides to do you can count on Robbe making a great success of it. And Robbe, our very best wishes go with you everywhere.

Through The Keyhole

By GRANTHAM and CARSON

Just call CAROLYN MATHIS happy. Her ensign came home after two long, lonesome years away.

CORNELIA TUTEN is definitely the diplomatic type. At the moment she is improving international relations with a Filipino.

"No letter today," isn't RUBY LACEY'S theme song, because they have been coming every day and from the same person.

HARRIETT STORY breathed a sigh of relief. She at last got that call she has been waiting for so long.

Reckon ANN FORTSON will give in. He has asked the big question . . . Ah ha!!!!

ANN ADAMS is another one with stars in her eyes . . . all on account of "Wimp."

BETTY SMITH has been so faithful about haunting her mail box that at last she has had results.

Blame it on a marine just out of boot camp if BARBARA COBB seems to be out of this world.

He must have been quite impressed, BETTY EFIRD, to send that box of candy after you just left him at the Senior Carnival.

BARBARA LEE can hardly wait til this week-end. The one is coming.

What's this we hear about a certain sophomore getting "sugar reports" and won't even answer them!!! What's the matter MOP, so many you don't have time to answer them all!!!

DOE DOE was all smiles the other day when that letter finally got here. She hadn't heard from him in a whole week. Imagine that!!

Those long distance phone calls just didn't quite do it. Therefore, after thirteen months overseas PATEY'S Russ decided to come to Valdosta.

B. T. was stepping out Sunday night with a cute Sgt. from Moody Field. Say you're his private secretary, B. T.!!

Perfume wasn't enough so LOUISE WALKER received a long distance phone call the other night from none other than "Boots" Tooter.

EDITH JONES is seeing a certain Lt. Beneguis a good deal lately and he seems to have a strange effect on her. She just can't remember to sign out.

KATHRYN GAULDEN'S boy friend called and there must have been some sweet talking somewhere cause he's coming this week end.

JANE DEKLE was right in the midst of things at the Cordle-Dosta game Friday night . . . with her O. A. O. from Cordele.

DOT GAY had a mysterious "love-letter" last week but much to her sorrow she found out who the writer was . . . how bout that, Dot?

We saw Bobby at the dance Saturday night, but where was NAN SEAMAN?

Winston Churchill is now a Mr. again (very confusin') and DOROTHY PARKER is all smiles but he's a long, long way from G.S.W.C.

Is it true that wedding bells are already (well almost) ringing in Converse? . . . she's a brunette!

SEEN AT THE DANCE!
A certain Lt. Bonnie getting the rush of the year.

And what's this we hear about Billy Volloton dating CLAUDIA BROWN?

The fancy "hula" skirt, dainty little bows and beads that FAUSTINA COOPER'S man sent from Tokyo are mighty neat!!

Hutchinson Introducing Valdosta

The next person to be introduced is Rabbi J. S. Gallinger of the Valdosta Hebrew Congregation. Rabbi Gallinger is the first person to be introduced who was not born in the United States—he was born in Europe, in the small town of Wittelshofen, Germany, where his family and ancestors had lived since 1572. He went to primary schools in the place of his birth, but attended high school in Dinkelsbuehl. This small town celebrated its 1000th anniversary during Rabbi Gallinger's senior year in high school. He received his Bachelor of Arts in Wuerzburg, where he was elected President of the Student Body. He later graduated from the Theological Seminary in Wuerzburg. In 1938 Rabbi Gallinger came to the United States and attended the University of Florida at Gainesville, where he was presented the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education and also received his Master of Arts degree in language. While at the University he was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary fraternity of education, and also the Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary fraternity in history. In 1940 Rabbi Gallinger came to Valdosta, where he has been very active in the Rotary Club, several Masonic orders, and is on the Board of Directors of the U. S. O., Community Chest, Salvation Army, etc. He was also instrumental in organizing the Girl Scouts in Valdosta and is secretary of that large group in Valdosta at the present time.

Before coming to Valdosta he was located at the Jewish Center in Jacksonville. In January of 1942 he obtained a leave of absence from his Valdosta congregation and joined the staff of the University of Florida, which loaned him to the Army of the United States. He was sent to Camp Blanding, Florida, where he organized and directed the first School for Interrogators of Prisoners of War. He first trained men of the Fourth Army Corps, but the school was later transferred to the Third Army and moved to Camp Bullis, Texas. Rabbi Gallinger went with the school, now loaned to the Army as a member of the staff of the University of Texas. When the school was later moved to Camp Ritchie, Maryland, Rabbi Gallinger returned to his congregation here, in August 1942. While on his leave of absence he also wrote the textbook for this School for Interrogators of Prisoners of War, which was adopted by the Army. He has also written several books on subjects pertaining to language.

Rabbi Gallinger's hobbies are reading and tracing the origin of words, and his favorite sports are swimming, bicycling, and playing soccer, which he played while in college in Wuerzburg.

Rabbi Gallinger has visited the college many times and thinks the college is a fine educational institution. He finds that on the campus of G. S. W. C. "there prevails a stress on the essence of religion in such respects as appreciation of moral and ethical values and of the scantiness of life, which place it in favorable contrast to the merely utilitarian atmosphere regent today in so many other institutions of higher learning."

Collins HAS PEACE COME TO STAY

"PAX VOBISCUM!" A few days before we returned to school this fall, we were thrilled by the news of the final signing of the peace treaty with Japan. Those of us who listened to those exercises broadcast to the world that night are not likely soon to forget it. At least, or so we thought, peace has really returned to a world long-sick of war.

Today's newspapers, however, will tell you an entirely different story—rioting in Cairo, Civil War in China, and strife in Java. These do not serve to bear out our rosy dreams of a world at peace. Once more the Big Four are mixed up in what threatens to be a major conflict. Even as we here in the United States relax and see once more such things as new automobiles, reduction in taxes, and other signs of reconversion, there are still peoples in many places who are daily being subjected to the same things that we fought to do away with.

Who can say what is the best policy for the Dutch to follow in Java, or the Chinese in China, or the British in Jerusalem? Certainly not the average individual. What we do say is that there must be some way found to settle disputes of this sort without resorting to violence. If ever we are to have a lasting peace, physical violence as a means of registering complaint must be done away with.

Some say that this can best be done by a world federation, and work is going forward along these lines. Some say that peace can be maintained only through the control of force being retained in the hands of those who will use it wisely. There are many theories. There is, however, one fact clearly evident to those who read today's newspapers. The world peace of which we so fondly dreamed and for which we fought is certainly not here yet. No matter who is at fault, some way must be reached by which an understanding can be reached without this continual loss of life and property.

Our hope and prayer, as is that of peoples all over the world, can be summed up in the Biblical quotation familiar to us all. May the time soon come when "swords shall be beat into plows and spears into pruning-hooks, nor shall nation lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Mail And The Mail Room

By ELEANOR TOMPKINS

"Girls, don't shove! Stand back and it will be ready in a few minutes." This is the desperate plea heard from Mrs. Sconyers as the mail is being assorted each morning.

Now that the mail has been moved over to the Rec Hall, it makes it much worse in one sense 'cause there is no door to shut to avoid the multitude of "eager beavers" that line the wall. Yet the location enables the girls to squeal, yell and spread their good news without disturbing other classes.

The gals like it better because they go after the mail in shorts and blue jeans. For the lazy ones it means no stairs to climb yet for those unfortunate freshmen who are gaining weight the stairs were a means of reducing or so they liked to think. Now to continue on the Subject.

For those who like to read and drink . . . well, there's the coke machine, but usually the excitement is too great so therefore it doesn't have too great a part in the mail routine.

But perhaps, you are pretty sure that your box will be empty yet you like to see others when they get theirs . . . well, the ping pong table is a legitimate excuse and you won't look conspicuous that way.

So I think that since the Rec Hall tends to be the most popular place on the campus, its nice that the mail goes there because after all . . . isn't that the most popular time of the day?

BITS from BOOTS

By MIRIAM POWELL
Happiness cannot be bought
With silver or with gold,
No one's ever bought an ounce,
Nor has an ounce been sold.

Those who have, by earthly means,
Accumulated wealth,
With no regard for fellow men
But only love for self,

Will never know just what it means
To have a peace of mind—
To be in harmony with God,
To leave their woes behind.

If only more, who now ignore
The opportunity
To be with God, to live with God
Through all eternity,

Would take a moment to themselves
And slip upon their knees
They'd find in Him that happiness
To set their minds at ease

No, happiness cannot be bought
With silver or with gold,
Because it's free for you and me,
To cherish and to hold.

College Pets

By JOYCE BURCH

You would really be surprised at the number of pets that come to G.S.W.C. Maybe they aren't alive but they get bathed in kisses and lathered in loving.

Jackie Norman has a panda that George gave her. Every night that poor panda has to listen to Jackie sing "I Wish I Knew."

Joan Davis has a shaggy dog named Beuford. She and her date won him at the carnival. Wonder what her date's name was?

Now, if you don't have a pet and you want one, come to see Josephine Balliet. She made the cutest little black dog out of an old evening wrap!

Mayora Potts has a donkey named "Toney". I wonder why she picked that name?

Joella Johnson just got a big brown and white bear from her Dad. She named him Johnny Tick-Tock.

Hanson Roggers has a brown dog she calls "J. J." Come, come, Hanson, tell us all about this!

I'm afraid to go to see Barbara Lee and Cornelia Tuten. They have a monkey, horse, bear, and eat all in the same room. Boy, do these creatures have stories behind them!

Barbara Cobb has a pink elephant named "Hang Over." So don't worry about your intelligence if you run into him, it's just stuffed.

Maybe you can tell me what this is. It has a banana for a body, and a tomato for a head! Anyway, Rose Mills owns it and right now she would like to eat the banana and throw the tomato, 'cause she's so mad with George!

Mildred Wisdom has quite a collection, too. She has a little rabbit named Pahly; a dog named Fluff, and a bear named Wala Wala.

Winston Churchill just sent Dorothy Parker a little yellow dog. Dorothy named the dog "Clem Kldiddlehopper" after her o.a.u. It's a long drawn out story so ask her sometime.

Robbelee Pattillo has two cute fluffy dogs named Wiggle and Waggle.

Annette Price has a panda that her brother sent her from Australia.

Effie Powell has a pink elephant named "Greenie." Confusing, isn't it?

Louise Newton has an elephant that came from India. P. S. Pat sent it to her.

Guess you know by now that all the animals aren't in the zoo, cause here you meet quite a few.

On Playing Bridge

By JEAN WILLIS

Say! Has anyone heard of this strange new game . . . I think it's called . . . bridge. Does that name strike an even faintly responsive chord? I THOUGHT it would.

Without taking an extensive (or any other kind) poll I'll bet you will find that bridge is THE one, the only game . . . the only legitimate excuse for never studying. A stroll through any dormitory and almost any room proves this.

Since I am an addict of contract rummy, all I know concerning bridge is what I hear and see . . . and it can be seen anytime. The town girls lounge is a likely spot for it . . . and if you unsuspectingly sit on a sofa . . . and you go bang! . . . well, that means a hot game is in full swing. All the cushions are on the floor . . . with gals on 'em, or course. I keep looking at them expecting to see one of them transformed into my ole pal "Bogey" . . . Humphrey Bogart to you, chum . . . with a cigarette dangling from one side of his mouth. Lovely idea, wot?

I asked "Tarzan" Singletary to tell me all about the game of bridge. She replied thus: "It's a game that four people play" . . . She thought for a minute and added "And you try to win."

Say you love to sleep? Once you've learned to play bridge that little matter is forgotten. That is if you can find three other persons who are willing to sacrifice a few pleasures . . . food, sleep, studying, etc. One of the most familiar sounds in Senior Hall is "Won't SOMEBODY please play bridge?" . . . This usually comes from Beth Middleton.

Yes, girls, bridge must be a wonderful institution. It happens to the best of families. See you over a deck of cards. "What's trumps?" "I'll bid two clubs."

Romance Language Club Entertains French Cadets

One of the outstanding club activities of the year is the party planned for tonight at the House in the Woods from 8 until 11 by the Romance Language Club. Twenty French Cadets have been invited to come down from Spence Field, Moultrie, for this occasion. Among the group are many French boys who can also speak Spanish since the members of the Romance Language Club are French and Spanish students.

The purpose of this party is to acquaint these boys with typical American social games and to give them some idea of the social life in America. It is hoped that it will also serve to establish a better understanding between persons of the two nationalities and will give some meaning to the languages our students are studying.

Simone Bassett, president of the club, with the help of Dr. Trainor, faculty advisor, has planned and directed the plans for this party.

Committees appointed are: Foods committee; chairman—Jo Everette, Lolla Lee Holder, Celeste Champion, Betty Jordan, and Kathleen Grantham.

Entertainment; Marguerite Storer—chairman, Colleen Geiger, June Sears, and Betty Hutchinson.

Clean-up committee; Annette Herndon—chairman.
Decoration; Mary Ellen Compton.

Dr. Farbar Lectures On Assembly Program

On November 7, at the weekly assembly program, Dr. Marian Farbar, college physician, gave an informative lecture on "Venereal Disease and Sex Hygiene." This program was sponsored by the college Health Department, under the direction of Dr. Farbar and Miss Ivey.

Mrs. Thomas has announced that there will be no assembly next week, but there will be two assemblies the following week; on November 19 and on November 21. The November 21 program will be a Thanksgiving service led by the Reverend Clifton H. White, with the college Glee Club serving as the choir.

VOLLEY BALL

By CAROLYN MATHIS

So you think you've seen a Volley Ball game—well, you "ain't seen nothin'" unless you saw the match Volley Ball game between the Lambdas and the Kappas. Although it looked like a Lambda runaway the first half, the Kappas came back in the second half with plenty of punch to win with a score of 39-37!!!!!!

Both teams put all they had in the game and it was thoroughly enjoyed by players and spectators. The Lambdas started the serving as well as the scoring and the half found them on the big end of a 21-9 score.

Servers McClung, Helton, and Heisler had a Field Day while the lone serving of Spence accounted for the Kappa points.

As the Lambdas had dominated the first half so the Kappas dominated the second half. For a time the scoring was nip and tuck, but finally the Kappas pulled ahead under Brunson and managed to have a two point lead when the final whistle blew. The serving of Efird, Martha Jackson, McCollough, and Bowen proved too much for the Purples in the last half while Pace and Painter paced the Lambdas.

KAPPAS:
Efird, Jackson, Lane, Bowen, McCullough, Patrick, Shippe, and Geiger.

Substitutes: Brunson, Bowen, Douglas, Godwin, Pafford, Gelders, Spence, Morgan and Roberts.

LAMBDA:
McClung, Heisler, Pace, Bowen, Gunter, Harvey, Carter and Helton.

Substitutes: King, Sylvia Gelders, Jackson, Jones, Kennedy, Painter, Tippins and Snow.

Wednesday afternoon the second American Ball match game of the season was played with the Kappas edging the Lambdas out 2-0. Bobbie Townsend, center forward, was responsible for the lone goal.

The spectators were kept in suspense by the neat foot-work of both teams. The fast and furious passing and kicking made this game a real thriller.

Outstanding on both teams was their backfield: Dixon, Newton, Mathis, De Mott and Miller for the Kappas and Haygood, Newsom, Dellinger, Alderman, Jackson, and Bowen for the Lambdas.

Townsend kicked her goal in the first quarter of the game; but the other quarters were as filled with excitement, though both teams' other attempts at goals failed. A particular thrill was the ball Newsom, Purple goalie, kicked almost to the line in the third quarter.

Both the Purples and the Reds showed excellent teamwork and much improvement in playing ability, but at the end of the game the Reds ended up on top.

KAPPAS:
Townsend, Morris Smith, Collins, Hurn, Roland, DeMott, Miller, Sears, Tompkins, Newton, Mathis.

Substitutes—Rowe, Castleberry, Dixon and Knepton.

LAMBDA:
Moxley, Gilbert, Bolen, Upshaw, Lacey, J. Bowen, Alderman, J. Jackson, Newsom, Haygood.

Substitutes — Robbins, Grant-ham, Gainey, Mills, Adams, Paramour.

SPOTTING SPORTS

Red And White All Hail!!!!

The Purples are seeing Red after the Kappas double win in the match games Wednesday. The Kappas really had something to cheer about as that was their first double win in three years. Don't get the idea they walked off with the Lambdas . . . both American Ball and Volley Ball were hard fought, close-scored, contests. What, with the Kappas taste of victory and the Lambdas determination for revenge, the next Match Games are really gonna be something!!! But, practice helps make perfect, so don't slow down and forget those Monday and Wednesday afternoon practice sessions.

Your Attention Please!!!!

It's been the custom in the past to sing in the dining hall at supper to both teams after a Match Game. It was explained in this column last week that hereafter only the winning team would be sung to . . . last Wednesday the Kappas should have been the only ones to sing. But, if both teams should win a game then both teams will be sung to. Hope you get it straight . . . only the winners have the honor of being sung to. Of course, the closing chorus always sounds the best . . . "Glory, Glory to the Sports Club." Everyone sings that!!!

One More Week To Tour The Tees

Next Saturday, Nov. 10, marks the final day of the golf tournament. This tournament gives points for the Plaque so should draw a pretty good field. It seems to have quite a few entrants and some good low scores should come in. You can play as many rounds as you like . . . your low score is the one that counts. Just be sure you, and you, and you, too!, turn in a score.

Spotlite Sparklers!!!!

Still leading the archery target shooters is Ann Stevens . . . "Coach" Kenney is still trying to take the State Table Tennis Title away from Gloria Jones . . . and have you heard of or seen the great impersonation of "Van and Esther" doing their swimming act . . . the actors being those stand-out Senior Hall swimmers Nancy Story and "Staky" Storer II.

We also hear "Ellie" Compton has taught the college horses a few new tricks . . . That sign she carries "Posted," isn't to scare people off . . . it's bragging 'bout what she did when the horse trotted.

The golf tournament has filled the course with plenty of folks . . . saw "Mopher" Bowen the other day—also, Joy Roland, Jackie Bowen, and a camera were there on the golf course.

The Rec Hall sees plenty of sporty doings besides on Saturday nites . . . specially by the Upperclassmen on the Table Tennis Table . . . Raiford, Rees, Zalamus, and Stabler. The Freshmen seem to like to swing too, but to the music, and some of their dance steps are really snazzy.

The song, "As We Walk Into The Sunset" seems to have inspired Betty Efird and Jean McClung who just love to take those little strolls after supper . . . and to carry along with 'em folks like Anne Knepton, Virginia Heisler, Eleanor Tompkins and Ruby Lacey.

Next week be sure and see the finals of the All-Freshman Tennis Tournament with "Bim" Ansley and Ann Fortson swatting it out for the best tennis reputation. I'm curious to see how it comes out . . . And speaking of coming out . . . just come out for some sport and you'll find yourself in print when the next Canopy comes out!!!!!!

Star Of The Week!!!!

It's getting to be quite a problem to pick the outstanding sport for "Star of the Week" but this week the honor goes to Bobbie Townsend. Taking over the managership of the Kappa American Ball team in the middle of the quarter and leading them to their first victory of the year (in many years for that matter) headed B. T. for stardom. She not only scored the winning point in Wednesday's game, but she has turned in a whole quarter of consistently good, hard playing. For her consistency, interest, and good playing, we're calling B. T. names . . . like Star of the Week! Shine bright STAR!!!!
