FALL FLASHBACKS!!

SMITH, STROUD EDIT '46 PINE CONE

At the first of the year Georgia Smith and Kitty Stroud were named editors for the 1946 PINE CONE. Georgia turned in a swell job as Business Manager last year and it looks as if she and Kitty will do that very same thing this year with all the interesting ideas they have put to work. They are both town girls and seniors.

As their Business Manager, they selected Betty Hutchinson, another Valdosta girl who is making good. Good luck to you all!

DR. READE ANNOUNCES NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

When Dr. Reade announced the new additions to the faculty staff at the beginning of Fall Quarter it was good to meet so many familiar names. There were Miss Glynn Hill, who graduated in August and came back to help out in the musical line and teach voice; Miss Carolyn Mann, a June graduate and now Miss Hill's accompanist; Miss Catherine Garbutt, June, 1945, swimming instructor; Fall, 1945; Miss Henrietta Tarver, president of the Sports Club in '45 and tennis instructor this fall; and last, Mrs. Harris Mathis, who returned this fall to teach golf and rhythms.

We were also glad to welcome at this time two newcomers. Miss Dorothy Averill of Odensburg, New York, is riding instructor this year.

In charge of student social activities is Mrs. Mary Schonyers, formerly connected with Emory Junior College here.

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS CARNIVAL OCTOBER 27th

Here's another headline that brings back memories. This time it's memories of a Saturday night filled with fun and frolic. With Nancy Story in the lead the Senior Class really went places and did themselves up proud. The carnival was a rip roaring success. The kind where fun was had by all. Ida Maude McKinnon and Robbelee Patillo directed "that sensational Broadway hit, 'And The Lamp Went Out,' which was a howling comedy with Jean Rowe, Harriette Singletary, Bea Williams, and Mildred Wisdom comprising the list of characters. To wind up the evening there was a dance in the Rec Hall with Halloween the theme.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS SELECTED

Voted outstanding Seniors for this year were Ida Maude McKinnon, president of S. G. A.; Effie Powell, president of Y. W. C. A.; Nancy Story, president of the Senior Class; Kitty Stroud and Georgia Smith co-editors of the 1946 PINE CONE; Robbelee Patillo, president of the Sock and Buskin Club; Martha Dell Alderman, president of the Math-Science Club; Harriett Singletary, secretary-treasurer of S. G. A.; Bea Williams, president of the Sociology Club; and Jean Rowe.

ARTIST SERIES PRESENTS

The two outstanding programs offered by the Student Artist Series during Fall Quarter were Joaquin Nin-Culmell, Cuban pianist, and the American Ballad Singers.

Nin-Culmell was a guest on campus for two days. In his recital Sunday, November 18th, he played several Cuban melodies and numbers by Bach, Beethoven, and Chopin. On Monday he spoke in assembly on "Music of the Americas" and was guest in several classes.

The American Ballad singers gave a very entertaining performance on December 4th in the auditorium. The program was arranged into five groups, each depicting a side of the character of Americans from the early eighteenth century up to our songs of today. The songs fall into these groups: Music of Early America, American Christmas Carols, Courting and Marriage, American Legends, and Folk Songs of Today.

ROMANCE LANGUAGE CLUB ENTERTAINS FRENCHMEN

The weekend of November 10th-11th the Romance Language Club played hostess to 15 French Cadets from Spence Field, Moultrie, Georgia. On Saturday evening they introduced the Cadets to an evening of American entertainment with a party at the House in the Woods. Games such as Bingo were played; refreshments consisting of tea, sandwiches, and cake were served; and dancing was enjoyed by all.

To show their appreciation the Frenchmen decided turn about was fair play and were hosts at a dinner at the Daniel Ashley Sunday.

Everyone agreed that it was a wonderful chance to break down some of the ideas and misconceptions of both sides.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS ADDED TO CAMPUS

A definite step forward has been taken! The Executive Committee of S. G. A. and the E. C. A. decided in a joint meeting to sponsor the Georgia League of Women Voters on this campus. The League Voters is a national, non-partisan organization which informs women voters of national, state, and local policies that are of timely interest to them. Its active purpose is to study thoroughly bills and issues that come up in all governing bodies and to take a definite stand on them.

Harriett Arrington was elected temporary chairman and will be in charge of presenting the League and its organization to the Student Body as a whole.

SOCK - BUSKIN CLUB PRESENTS "THE WOMEN" DEC., 13th

The hit of the season was the presentation of "The Women" by the Sock and Buskin Club on December 13th. Each part in the huge cast was well done and the unusually large audience seemed to enjoy every minute of it.

The play production class joined with the Sock and Buskin to make Clare Booth's three act comedy a huge success. The principle members of the cast were: Mary-Ida Maude McKinnon; Sylvia-Jean Martin; Peggy-Mary Ellen Compton; Edith-Elizabeth Pate; Little Mary-Alice Jane Dancer; Mrs. Morehead-Nancy Story; and Crystal-Martha Chastain.

Two New Members Are Added to G. S. W. C. Faculty

The faculty and students of G. S. W. C. welcome Miss Carolyn Williams and Dr. Robert H. Talbert to the faculty. Miss Williams replaces Mrs. Robert W. Stuart who was Director of Placement and Publicity.

Miss Carolyn Williams, a native of Ty Ty, Georgia, graduated from G. S. W. C. in 1941. She was an outstanding student, serving as president of the Y. W. C. A. in her senior year. Miss Williams was one of the founders of "Little Willie," which has been the source of much fun for many students. She was a Math major.

After graduating, Miss Williams worked for the government for three years at Eglin Field, Florida, doing statistical work. She then attended the University of Denver for a year, studying Journalism. In 1945, Miss Williams covered the historic San Francisco Conference for her class.

Miss Williams came to G. S. W. C. in September, 1945, as director of Placement and Publicity. She is very glad to be back at her old alma mater and hopes that all the students will cooperate with her in her work.

Dr. Robert H. Talbert is from Missouri, having graduated from the University of Missouri in 1939, a major in Sociology, minor in Economics and Political Science. He then taught at Hollands College in Virginia for two years and University of Alabama for one year, where he received his Ph. D. in 1943. Dr. Talbert served with the Signal Corps for three years, during which time he spent twenty one months in Italy.

Dr. Talbert joined the faculty of G. S. W. C. in January of 1946, and is at present teaching two classes, Social Problems and Urban Sociology.

We are happy to have these new faculty members with us, and hope they will enjoy their stay here.

Classic Theatre Presents Romeo And Juliet

"Romeo and Juliet," Shakespeare's immortal tragedy, was presented to an enthusiastic audience of students and Valdostans on Monday night, January 7th, in the G. S. W. C. auditorium.

A production of the National Classic Theatre of New York, the play was directed and produced by Clare Tree Major and was presented as a feature of G. S. W. C.'s Student Artist Series.

Olga Balish, an attractive brunette, made a convincing Juliet and Stewart Long proved a truly handsome Romeo. Justine Johnson as Juliet's nurse, headed a strong supporting cast of superb actors and actresses including Frederick Ritter as Friar Lawrence, Theodore Allegritti as Benvolio, Charles Gilbert as Mercutio, Albert Werneken as Capulet, and Lillian Cassidy as Lady Capulet. Others in the cast were Phillip Field as Tybalt, Arthur Boswell as Montague, Alice Irving as Lady Montague, Stephen Allen as the Prince, Alan Turnbough as Paris, Richard Kent as Balthasar and Roy Theis as the Apothecary.

The costumes were created by Marian DePew. The scenery was designed by Irving Morrow.

It is interesting to note that the members of the cast act as their own director, business manager and stage crew while on tour.

Northwestern Adds Department of Geography

EVANSTON, ILL. — (I. P.)—The increasing importance of geography as a social science has led Northwestern University to establish a new department of geography that will be developed into "one of the outstanding departments of its kind among universities of the country."

In announcing the new department, President Snyder states it will not represent a new field since the University has for many years offered courses in geography. He also declared that the department will expand its facilities and staff and develop a broad program of teaching and research on the undergraduate and graduate levels.

"We are attempting by means of the new department, which we shall strengthen until it is one of the outstanding departments of its kind among the universities of the nation, to make important contributions in a field of science that has long been neglected in American universities."

Professor Donald Hudson, chairman of the new department, points out that for many years geography was primarily regarded as a natural science and was taught for the most part only in primary and elementary schools.

"Today," says Professor Hudson, "the function of geography is the interpretation of human life in relation to the natural setting provided by the earth. We cannot understand the past or the present or predict the future in human affairs unless we study them against an understanding of their geographic background. We need no more proof of this than World War II and the problem of peace that now confronts us."

The recent trend in American universities toward a neglect of physical geography is being reversed in Northwestern's new department. Teaching and research in this field are being combined with work in the field of human geography.

The annual March of Dimes will be held all over the United States from January 14 to January 31, 1946. This year the Sports Club will once again sponsor this drive in Lowndes County.

Since the Sports Club took over, more money has been raised in Lowndes County than ever before. Last year the greatest amount yet raised was collected—$2,500.

The drive was officially opened on campus at assembly Wednesday. Virginia Bolen, president of the club, made a personal appeal to the students to contribute just as much as they possibly could, and outlined the program for this year.

Contribution boxes are being placed in all business establishments in town by members of the Sports Council, and posters are being distributed at the same time.

Full cooperation with all the schools of the county and visits to the Wymodausis, the Kiwanis and the Rotary Clubs by members of the Sports Council are other measures being taken to make the drive a success.

During the last week in January students will be called on to go to the theatres to collect there.

Of interest at this time is the late President Roosevelt's address on his birthday, January 30, 1944.

"The danger of epidemic in war-time makes this fight an actual military necessity. The tireless men and women working night and day over test tubes and microscopes—these are workers on the production line in this war against disease. The gallant Chapter workers, the doctors and nurses in our hospitals, the public health officials, the volunteers who go into epidemic areas to help the physicians—these are the front line fighters. And, just as in war, there is that subtle weapon that, more than anything else, spells victory or defeat. That weapon is morale—the morale of a people who know that they are fighting 'the good fight'—that they are keeping the faith, the only faith through which civilization can survive, the faith that man must live to help and not destroy his fellow-man."

The dangers are still as great as they were during war-time. The war against disease did not end with the war against Germany and Japan.

YOU may share in this war by giving your dimes.

Home Ec Club To Have Party

The Home Economics Club held its regular monthly meeting January 9th at 8 o'clock in the House in the Woods. Ethel Bentley, club president, presided. After the minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll called by secretary, Mary Tharpe, a discussion was held on classroom, telephone, and houseguest etiquette. These topics are a few of the series which are to be discussed at following meetings for "Etiquette" is the theme for the year.

Plans were made for a Home Economics party. Several members contributed ideas as to club projects.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Peggy Williams, Betty June Thompson, Anne Lewis, Joy Roland, Kathryn Gauden, and Joan Davis, members of the refreshment committee.

Martin Urges More Graduate Work

Why be mediocre? I'll grant that it's something in itself to be able to attend college. An A. B. degree is not anything to be scoffed at. But there is something higher in life if you are able to go after it, and mainly, if you're willing.

The Honor Societies on campus are willing to do anything for any student that wants to go on and do graduate work in some University or accredited college that OFFERS graduate work.

Most students at G. S. W. C. will teach when they have completed their A. B.'s or B. S.'s. In the state of Georgia, there is the increasing opportunity for good teaching jobs, but as to date, a teaching job in our state, without a master's degree, is a POOR job. And as the war is now supposedly over, teachers will be returning to their former jobs.

Yes, if you get somewhere in the teaching world it's definitely going to take graduate work. If you are one of the many who have financial worries, then scholarships and fellowships will be your prime interests.

As yet, the Honor Societies have not made a complete survey of scholarships offered by graduate schools, but if you are interested in getting a better education than the A. B. offers, get in touch with me, Edith Collins, or "Dottie" Davis. We can give you information that you will need, or we can secure this information for you.

Governor Arnall is doing his best to have teacher's pay raised in this state, and if I know Arnall, he will probably accomplish his task. Looking at your profession from a economical standpoint, there is more to be gained by further education. Looking at your profession from an educational standpoint, there is an entire world to be gained.

Presidents of big Universities, such as the University of Chicago and Yale, have recently made statements to this effect:

"We prefer students who have attended liberal education colleges for our graduate students. Their backgrounds are more complete, and on the whole, more satisfactory."

This means that you, student of G. S. W. C., will be the ideal student for graduate work. Yes, marriage is a wonderful institution, but education is too. The more education you get, the more you are going to enjoy life. The Honor Societies are offering you help in getting the most out of life. Take it.

Collins Discusses U. N. O.

This week the first meeting of the new United Nations Organization got under way in London with some weighty problems on its mind. Such problems as the use of the atomic bomb and the affairs of Iran and Persia serve to make this opening meeting one of grave importance.

As the attention of the world is centered on this meeting, the minds of the people go back to a similar meeting shortly after the First World War. Then it was that the world, given hope by Wilson's Fourteen Points, looked forward to the eradication of war by the League of Nations. Then, as now, people were saying, "There must not be another war," but now the threat is more serious than it was then. At that time the threat of another war meant millions of men killed and much property destroyed, but now, with the atomic bomb as a source of power, another war might mean complete destruction.

This thought should sober the minds of all delegates to this opening meeting in London. It should give them the vision and strength necessary to see that this time an organization of nations can and must work. Every nation there must be ready to make certain concessions for the good of the world as a whole. If each nation insists upon getting the most that she can, regardless of the effect upon another nation, then this UNO will end in defeat, and the world once more will be thrown into total war, and this time who can tell what the outcome will be.

Of course one bright note is that this Organization was imbued with power which the League of Nations did not possess. The power to act against a country, which has violated the rules of the Or-

Through The Keyhole

By GRANTHAM and CARSON

Well, most of us are back and accounted for, except those lucky gals who "middle aisled" it during the holidays. Let's wish them all good luck and hope each of us will be the next victim.

The newest love-affair features VIRGINIA BOLEN and Billy West. They were seen at "Romeo and Juliet" together.

Oh, and speaking of Romeo, ELIZABETH PATE was giving Juliet some stiff competition (while Juliet was asleep). He seemed to be the Romeo of more girls than one, giving all the girls a thrill.

We must not fail to mention that JACKIE BOWEN has a new boy friend. She has more new ones than most anybody we know—but we all say, "More power to you ole' gal!"

In the line of boy friends and on the subject of love we can't forget CAROLYN BOWEN. She has a boy friend too—(a really and truly one, and HE knows all about this). Well, anyway he'll be "hot-footing" it to Valdosta pretty soon and to see just her—so all you other gals keep your hooks to yourselves—Rickey calling!!

ROBBEELEE is still getting all that mail from Ralph. He's 'sposed to be home soon, so she's just in the "daisie" stage now, (meaning dazed). Well—you know Robbie!

Oh! Talking 'bout being dazed. Everybody put your peepers on LUCILLE SLADE for a minute. She's lost SO much weight! She's been in love with "Little Freddie" for a long, long time. Why can't he come home SOON?

Last weekend was all ANNETTE MANLEY'S! Her b. f. was down to see her—and did she have fun!!

BETTY HUTCHINSON is another of those lucky people. She had a date for "Romeo and Juliet" too. That play seems to have been an inspiration for lots of folks.

So long for a week-end to CHARLOTTE GOODWIN when they go to the Ballet Rousse in Atlanta this week-end.

"MOP" COLLINS has been getting lots and lots of sweet letters from Johnny with lots of lovely poetry in them—"Oh Johnny, this must be love."

Boze Gut and PATTY PORTER must've had a big time Christmas 'cause he's coming to see her this week-end.

That must be a powerful man, CHARLOTTE HOLZENDORF, to have such a name—Hercules. He surely gets around—G. S. W. C., and what's more he's cute.

Four diamonds for ANN FORTSON for Christmas. Now we wonder when she'll get to the church (That's his name—James Church.)

SARA SMITH has left us for a pretty good reason. She plans to marry Ed in mid-January. The best of everything to you always, Sara.

Big news of the week came when we heard that "SIS" ROBBINS was married and had been for ten months. Our best wishes go with her also.

To help out on his telephone bill from Quitman to G. S. W. C., JEAN ADAMS decided to transfer to G. S. W. C., which is a lot closer, we have to admit.

CLAUDIA'S best Christmas present was making up with Julius. Now everything is just rosy agin.

We wondered why FRANCES CASTLEBERRY was all smiles. She finally got that long-awaited letter.

Thomas and Dub are expected Saturday to see those popular two—MATHIS and SANDERS.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Perhaps I'm speaking out of turn but it seems to me that before we criticize the behavior of High School and Grammar School students at performances here we had better improve that of ourselves.

The behavior of some of our own students at the performance of "Romeo and Juliet" was embarrassing to say the least. I think that by the time we reach college we can at least be courteous enough to let the person next to us or behind us enjoy the Artist Series and other programs, whether or not we are enjoying it.

In the past we have been very good about this, so I don't think we ought to lose our reputation now.

Sincerely yours,

A Disappointed Student

Note from Ed.—At any time any student wishes a grievance published, turn it in to me and I will do so. If for any reason your ideas or gripes might not be justified, these will be checked on and the truth behind the cause will be printed with the letter. Just put these in my mail box before noon Wednesday.

Happy New Year

As we look back over 1945 we see that it brought us many joys to help lighten the sorrows the past three or four years had brought. Best of all were V-E day and, just a few months later, instead of a few years as many people expected, V-J day. With the end of the war came returning soldiers, sailors, and marines by the thousands; many of them home for good. With it also came point-free shoes, food, gasoline, and tires.

Another standout in the year 1945 was the beginnings of a world wide organization for peace. An organization of United Nations—united not for war but for peace!

When we look back over these things can we help but say that 1945 was a great year?

And yet it was a year with two sides. It had its bad side too.

The end of the war did not bring a universal peace for there is still fighting going on in the Far East. These misunderstandings must be settled—and soon.

War left its mark in many lands. In the free as well as the conquered there is the mark of the homeless and starving multitudes. The mark of destruction and destitution. These marks must be erased.

Yes, 1945 left its challenge too! It wasn't a year of all joy and no sorrow.

As we look back and say this has been a good year we must gather strength from its goodness to take up its challenge and go forward; not just look back, pat ourselves on the back for a job well done, and tell ourselves we've a well-earned rest coming to us and take it.

"But," you say, "what can I do?"

Clothes are desperately needed to send the people in Europe. Check you old clothes and see if there isn't at least one article of clothing that might help keep someone from freezing and give it to the Romance Language Club.

There'll be other things just as important coming up for some time to come. Watch for them and help when possible even if it is only a little bit.

With these jobs ahead of us we can make this new year a very happy one or we can make it one which we would realize was a complete failure. It's up to each one of us!

Robert Baines and Polly Adair seem to have more than just a casual interest in each other in this scene from New York's smash comedy hit, "Soldier's Wife." The play comes to the stage of the Valdosta High school auditorium on Tuesday evening, January 15, for one performance with a distinguished Broadway cast.

Soldier's Wife Will Be Presented Jan. 15th

"Soldier's Wife," that smash comedy hit, is scheduled to come to Valdosta for a one night performance on Tuesday, January 15th. It is sponsored by the Student Artist Series but will be presented in the Valdosta High School Auditorium.

Another hit by Rose Franken, author of "Claudia," there is nothing depressing or sordid about this timely play, for it is loaded with laughs from curtain to curtain.

"Soldier's Wife" just finished a successful year's run on Broadway and is now on a coast to coast tour. It comes to us with an outstanding New York cast, special scenery, lighting and production.

"Soldier's Wife" wonders how she'll receive her G. I. when he comes home — about their first kiss—and that newly born kid of theirs—and the defense job that made her so independent—and the guy across the street who wanted to take her out—but she didn't go!

"Soldier's Wife" answers, these and many more questions in one hilarious scene after the other.

Presented by the Civic Drama Guild of New York this play has received one rave notice after the other. "Soldier's Wife" is this season's "Voice of the Turtle." —New York Mirror; "A hit . . . a delightful evening . . . even better than 'Claudia'." —New York News; "A poignant love story, gay and tender." —New York Journal; "A remarkably merry evening." —New York Post; "Miss Franken proves that the writing of high comedy is not a lost art." —Christian Science Monitor.

A PRAYER UPON A THRESHOLD

Here on the threshold eager to start
Out through a New Year, Lord,
I stand
Waiting a moment, a prayer in my heart;
Go with me, Lord, and hold my hand.

There are such beautiful days ahead
Blinding my eyes — Lord, may there be Springs by the wayside, manna
for bread,
And you a companion to walk
with me.

Through any dark day — talk
with me.
I am a small child, often afraid;
Lead through shadows, let me see
Light ahead that your lamp has made.

Here on the threshold, ready to
Out through a year untrod, unknown—
Now with a small child's trusting heart
I go, but I do not go alone.

TECHNICOLOR CASANOVA

By DOT HIGHTOWER

Once upon a time—wait a minute. I'll make it night before last, when this thing really happened.

I went to bed just like I have done all the other times in my life—at one time of the night or early morning. Not knowing that I had eaten anything that would take me into an entirely different world from any place I had "dreamed" of before, I went whirling into space.

Well, here I am walking up these beautiful stairs. The best I could gather from all this finery was that I was supposed to be guest of honor. Naturally I was expecting to find the most handsome man in any kind of world to meet me, take me with him, and make me his one and only for "Now and forever more—Amen." I waited—he appeared—he looked just like I thought he would — a cross between Van Johnson and John Paine with parts of Clark Gable here and there—only, hold your hearts girls, he was BLUE.

The people that study all that stuff say that you can't dream in technicolor. But I am sure that they would change their minds if they ate what I ate that night before going to bed. It could have been that peanut butter, cat-sup, mayonnaise and mustard. (After all, that's what college girls live on.) Do you think that had anything to do with it?

If there is a god or goddess of dreams won't you hear my plea? The next time I meet my Romeo, please let him be WHITE! Thank you.

Mount Union College Inaugurates Service Program for Churches

Alliance, O—(I. P.) — Mount Union College has inaugurated an extensive service program for the Methodist churches of Northeastern Ohio. The project deals on the one hand with the training of leaders and on the other with the solving of problems as they exist in the local churches.

In order to train students for leadership in their home churches when they return, courses have been added to the curriculum in Rural Sociology, Urban Sociology, Problems of Youth, Problems of Education, and Home Missions in America in addition to those courses already offered in religion and the social sciences.

The work in the field will deal with the problems of churches, particularly those that have arisen from shifts in population during the war period. After extensive research and analysis, organizations and programs will be established to meet the needs disclosed by the study. Two teachers have been added to the faculty, each with the rank of visiting professor, to head up this program. It is expected that the program will continue for a period of four years.

Introducing Valdosta

By BETTY HUTCHINSON

The column this week instead of introducing Valdosta, is being used to introduce some of the activities and interests of other schools.

At the University of Georgia they are pioneering in a new approach to college courses. The class in public administration spent a day in conferences with Federal officials of the Social Security Board in Atlanta and with officials of the State Departments of Labor and Public Welfare, administering Social Security. This is the first time this has been done in class in Athens and proved interesting and different.

The Huntingdon College student publication, "THE HUNTRESS," has a column for special gripes and good words. The column is made up of letters written to the paper and addressed to the general student body or the faculty. Any girl may write whatever she likes as long as she keeps it printable and it will be printed in this column. One of the letters in a recent edition of the paper was about the heating system or the lack of heat in the late afternoon and night.

At MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Illinois, there was a special service installed just before Christmas for the convenience of the students. Representatives of the bus and railroad companies were at the school one day for the girls to make reservations for the trip home for Christmas. Each girl made arrangements for her trip home with these representatives and the tickets were brought back to the office later and paid for and every girl had her ticket when she was ready to leave and didn't have to worry about reservations and getting seats, etc.

Another interesting thing the MacMurray College has is a unit of the local Red Cross. On December 6th the unit went to a nearby Army hospital to entertain the men at a Christmas party. Try-outs were held and the girls selected were in the show put on for the men. Among the acts was a Danny Kaye routine done by one of the girls, a trio, a tap dance, a singer, and numbers by the swing band on the campus.

Emory University in Atlanta held their first peace time election the first week in December. Although it was raining, the spirits were high and the whole student body turned out and worked for the candidates of their choice.

These are some of the more interesting things done by other colleges, near and far. Perhaps it will interest the students of G. S. W. C. to see what other schools are doing and to compare these things with the activities on this campus.

Sketching The Seniors

By JEAN LAND

JEAN ROWE

One of the Winter Quarter Graduates who will be leaving in March is Jean Rowe from Claxton, Georgia, a major in Social Work. Jean is also known as "Speedy" or "Speed" because she is so fast in everything she does. Oops, excuse me, in all sports, I mean.

Semi-classics, like "Wanting You", "Yours is my Heart Alone," and "Pale Hands I Love," are Jean's favorite type of music. Favorites among the popular music are a new song, "Slowly," "A Door Will Open," and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

"Speedy" likes both fiction and non-fiction in the books and "Rebecca" and "The Robe" are "specials" she likes.

Jean's taste in clothes runs to plainness with a very few frills mixed in. She likes suits, hats and blouses and her favorite color is blue, with pink running a close second. "Speed" also likes a little costume jewelry if it is worn with the right things.

Creamed potatoes, hershey bars and chewing gum sum up "Speedy's" favorites along the food line but she dislikes any kind of greens. She says they look like weeds. "Speedy" likes hot dogs but she also added that she liked to eat anything and not just these favorite foods.

"Speedy" likes all outdoor sports, but tennis and swimming are special favorites. She doesn't go for indoor sports very much though.

According to Bea, "Speed's" roommate, Jean has a lot of pet peeves but I only discovered three. She doesn't like people that enter a room without knocking, or borrow without returning what they borrowed. She doesn't like stale cigarette "butts" lying around in ash trays.

"Speedy" does like promptness in people and to go to bed early (to get her beauty sleep, I suppose). Talking to strangers on buses and trains is a pastime that fascinates Jean. She likes to embroider and to collect snapshots.

Jean's extra-curricular activities for this year include Treasurer of the I. R. C., Dormitory Representative on the Sports Council and a member of the Sociology Club.

When Jean leaves us in March she thinks she will rest a while and then go to work around April 1st. Of course, we all hate to see Jean leave but we know wherever she goes she will always be a good example of a G. S. W. C. Alumnae and will make a record of which we will be proud.

The essential thing necessary to make a success of the UNO is the concentrated cooperation of the people whom these delegates represent. The Congress of the United States was not behind President Wilson in the League, but it is hoped that this time all the people will see the necessity of organization of this type and stand behind its rulings.

FOLIO DRIVE NOW ON!!!!

As you probably already know, the "Sports Club" is sponsoring the "Folio Drive" in Lowndes County. Each council member was given boxes to put in different stores in town and some cards to give to the students here. Don't put these cards away and forget them or accidentally drop them in the trash!! Just put as much as you can in each of the slots and later in the week someone will be around to take them up.

Incidentally, you might get a free pass to the show. Contributions will be taken up after each show and someone will be needed to do this. Listen out for the announcement in the dining hall and be ready.

NEWS LETTER!!!!!!

The "News Letter" which you've probably already heard about, is a booklet put out by the Georgia Athletic Federation of College Women. This booklet contains information from all schools which are members. G. S. W. C. was chosen to edit the first letter.

The Cabinet of the G. A. F. C. W. met here on campus in November and made their plans for the year. At this time the date April 6-8, was set as the time for the Spring Convention which is to be held at Wesleyan College in Macon.

SPORTS PRACTICE BEGINS!!!!!!

The first sports practice for Winter Quarter will begin Monday. The sports offered this quarter are basketball and volley ball. Two courts are provided for each of these, so there will be plenty of room for everybody. Come whether you are a good player or not. There will be a beginners team and an advanced team, so we'll be seeing you at 4:15 Monday.

SPORTS CALENDARS!!!!!!

Sports calendars are now being made for the next quarter. They will be given out in a few days so when you get yours be sure and tack it up in some safe place so you can record your practices. Remember that you will have to have fifty practices this year so you will want to keep up with them!!

Sociology Club to Sponsor Dance

As one of the projects for the year, the Sociology Club has bought a dozen pencil sharpeners. These sharpeners have been placed in the halls and various class rooms throughout the administration building.

The Sociology Club is having the first dance of the Winter Quarter Saturday night, January twelfth.

The club will not have it's usual monthly meeting this month but will have a call meeting later and that will be announced by the president, Bea Williams.

Her lovely head
Toward him
And bent over
Her expectant
Mouth.
He gazed intently . . .

New Year Resolutions

By ELIZABETH CATE

Every year on New Year's Eve I get out paper and pen And think up resolutions To usher the New Year in.

I think I'll cut out smoking Well, down to a pack a day. And do a lot of studying (I'd love to make ONE "A").

I'll cut out saying da... and d-r (But they are so expressive.) And try not to be gatty (When it becomes excessive.)

And no more cokes and candy... I've got to lose some weight For with my present protruberances I'll never find a mate!

My list is long and wordy But it causes me no care I'll break them all tomorrow (I make new ones every year.)

Definition of a kiss: a kiss is a noun, but it is generally used as a conjunction. It is never declined, and it is more common than proper. It is not very singular in that it is usually used in the plural. It agrees with me."

Visitor: "And what's your name, my good man?"

Prisoner: "9742."

"Is that your real name?"

"Naw, just my pen name."

Robbelee Pattillo Talks at Vespers

Robbelee Pattillo chose "Look at Life" as the subject for her Vespers talk on January 10th.

She spoke of the need for every one's living a more perfect life with special emphasis on the way in which the college girl might strive to achieve this end. The necessity for better consideration of the desires of others, kindness in speech and in manner, and willingness to help other people, were stressed.

Several well-known hymns were sung, followed by the doxology and the closing prayer. Harriett Singletary was in charge of the program.

Edith Collins was in charge of Late Vespers on Sunday night, January 6th. She used as her subject, "The Church," and took quotations from "I am the Church" by Beulah Hughes. A miniature plan of the proposed new chapel, carrying out the theme of the church, was placed in the Lower Rotunda for the service.

An old fashioned song service was held in the parlor of Converse Hall as the Vespers Program on January 3rd. At this time the students joined in the singing of familiar hymns.
