

G. S. W. C. Adds Ten Members To Faculty

By GLORIA LOVE

To replace the nine faculty members have been added to the faculty of GSWC for the year 1946-47.

Dr. Earl Phelan has returned after a leave of absence to resume his position as head of the Chemistry Department. He has spent the last two years as a Technical Aide for the National Defense Research Commission. Dr. Phelan worked with the division concerned with guided missiles.

Miss Thera Hambrick and Miss Alice Meadors are assisting Miss Jilian Patterson in the library. Miss Hambrick, of Valdosta, graduated from GSWC with a major in English and did graduate work in Library Science at the Louisiana State University. Before returning to GSWC Miss Hambrick was assistant librarian at the Bolles School in Jacksonville, Fla.

Miss Meadors graduated from GSWC in 1943 with a major in English. She worked at Turner Field Airbase, Ala., for a while before attending George Peabody College for Teachers where she obtained her B. S. and L. S. degrees.

Director of Placement and Publicity is Miss Elizabeth Fink from Onebboro, Tenn. She is succeeding Miss Carolyn Williams who will continue to be affiliated with the college for special assignments. Miss Fink received her degree from East Tennessee State College where she majored in English and minored in Home Economics and Sociology. During the summer she was a camp counselor in Tennessee.

Miss Jean Lowry of Johnson City, Tenn., is the Business Education instructor. She majored in Business Education and English at East Tennessee State College and received her Masters Degree in Business Education from the University of Kentucky. For the last two years she has been assistant professor of Business Education at East Tenn. State College.

The new head of the Home Economics Department is Mrs. Vennis Kendrick, of Leesburgh, Florida. Mrs. Kendrick obtained her B. S. in Home Economics and Education at the Auburn Polytechnic Institute. She was connected with the War Security Administration in Seattle, Washington, and was a nutritionist of the first Frozen Foods Store in Washington, D. C.

Mr. W. E. Ruggles of Waterbury, Conn., received his A. B. in History and his Masters degree in Sociology from Forman University in South Carolina. He has taught in public schools in South Carolina. He has taught in public schools in South Carolina and at Forman University and Brevard College. Last year he did test and guidance work with physically disabled persons in New York City.

Miss Frances Alex of Washington, D. C., has joined the Physical Education Department as swimming instructor. She is a graduate nurse and received her degree in Physical Education and Health. Miss Alex coached and taught sports at East Carolina Teachers College and Penn. State Teachers College. Recently Miss Alex was supervisor of recreation in Greenville, N. C. She spends her summers as a camp counselor.

Teaching Sociology this year is Mrs. N. E. Fry of Valdosta. She majored in Chemistry at the Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville and did graduate work at Tulane in New Orleans. She has done Y. W. C. A. work in Macon, Georgia, and was connected with the Bibb County Department of Public Welfare. Mrs. Fry was also District Administrator of the F. E. R. A. Program and as Director of the Lowndes County Department of Public Welfare. She has aided social work students at G. S. W. C.

Mrs. Claude Knight, Psychology and Education instructor, attended G. S. W. C. for two years before entering George Peabody College for Teachers where she received her B. S. and M. A. degrees. She has taught at East Texas State Teachers College, Ohio University, Valdosta High School, and Summer Sessions at G. S. W. C.

The new dancing instructor is Mrs. Phyllis Valente of New York City. She obtained her A. B. degree from Oklahoma A & J M and her M. S. from Louisiana State University. Mrs. Valente attended the Bennington School of Dance in Vermont and has performed with Ragine Devi and La Mere. She has studied with many teachers, including Doris Humphrey, Charles Weidman, and Francisca Boos, the daughter of Franz Boos, the anthropologist.

Constance Converse, Valdosta; Vivian Cooper, Moultrie; Frances DeVane, Miami, Fla.; Patsy Dillard, Waycross; Mary Duncan, Leslie; Martha Dunlap, Madison; Aletha Edwards, Claxton; Jane Fletcher, Valdosta; Louise Godbey, Vidalia; Merle Hancock, Valdosta; Bennie Harrington, Fargo; Grace Harrell, Whigham; Julianne Johnson, Miami, Fla.; Lois Johnson, Millen; Hulda Jones, Albany; Anna Kennedy, Thomaston; Barbara Lawson, Savannah; Freida Levin, Nashville; Mildred Manley, Griffin; Joan McIntosh, Valdosta; Jocelyn Matthias, College Park; Armatha Morgan, Dorchester; Martha Morgan, Pembroke; Jane Moses, Uvalda; Jean Mayo, Richland; Mary Alice Norman, St. George; Frances Paine, Valdosta; Martha Jane Thompson, Ailey; Ann Shelton, Valdosta; Clare Singletary, Meigs; Margaret Ann Smith, Waycross; Susan Bell Smith, Waycross; Ruth Templeton, Valdosta; Claire Walker, Blackshear; Hettie Wilkins, Douglas; and Irene Wilson, Waycross.

"Y" May Publish Book of Blessings By End of Year

At the September 30th meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet it was announced that work on the book of blessings, which successive "Y" cabinets have been compiling for some years, is almost complete and it is hoped that the book will be published before the end of the school year. Bishop Bland Tucker has written the foreword of this book and Dr. Frank Reade will write the introduction. Proceeds from its sale will go toward the building of the new chapel.

The "Y" plans to send out at least six deputation teams to surrounding towns this year to hold services at various churches and colleges.

Election of the Sophomore Council was held at this meeting and the following were chosen to serve: Misses Jane Kennedy, chairman, Mary Elinore Crea, Gaile Carter, Martha Jackson, Betty Newberry, Rozanne King, Carolyn King, Patty Porter, Rosalyn Carter, Mary John Rodgers, Ann Knepton, Ruby Lacey, Elsie Harvey, Jean Helton, Annette Price, Barbara Lee and Patty Dixon.

The members of the Sophomore Council serve as chaperons at the House-in-the-Woods on Sunday, keep the dormitories quiet during "Y" services, hold "Taps" in Converse each weekday night, and are active in raising money for the construction of the new chapel.

Yves Tinayre To Be Presented in Assembly Nov. 10

In an interview with Dr. Gulliver, Chairman of the Assembly Program Committee, it was learned that the assembly programs for the coming year are something to look forward to. "No definite plans have been made for all the future programs," Dr. Gulliver announced, "but we hope to have something definite in a few days."

Serving on the Assembly Program Committee with Dr. Gulliver are, the Rev. Clifton H. White and Dr. Earl W. Phelan. With these members comprising the committee the students are assured of a successful year.

The only definite program that is ready to be announced is the assembly for November 10. Mrs. Odum has charge of this assembly and will present an Artist Series Program. It is felt that this program will be most informative and will be appreciated by each member of the student body. Dr. Gulliver said that he "felt sure that not one student would want to miss this special Artist Series program."

Dr. Gulliver also expressed the wishes of the Program Committee that the Student Organizations would take an interest in the assemblies and give special presentations in the general interest of the student body. He invited any suggestions for the assemblies to be given to him or to the other members of the committee. "Above all we want these assemblies to be varied, interesting and informative to the student body."

Icelandic Singers To Open Artist Series

The Artist Series Committee announces today that its opening feature of the 1946-47 season will be the appearance of the Icelandic Singers, Iceland's greatest male chorus. The famous Choral group, under the direction of Sigurdur Thordarson will present its concert here in the college auditorium at 8:30 on the evening of October 18.

It is said that "Every other man in Iceland is a poet." Traditionally a musical race, it is noteworthy that every city, town, and village in Iceland has a choral society, out of which have emerged some of the important opera and concert singers of our time. The early settlers of Iceland were Scandinavians who practiced the custom of the "Rimur," which was a chanting of rhymes. Choral singing developed from that custom, and today every gathering of Icelanders is an occasion for group singing.

Of all the great male choirs in Iceland, the Kariakor Keyjavikur (The Icelandic Singers) is the most famous and has toured with brilliant success throughout the European continent, the Scandinavian countries and Scotland.

Two distinguished Icelandic soloists are featured with the chorus—Stefan Islandi, leading tenor of the Danish Royal Opera of Copenhagen, and Gudmundur Jonsson, baritone.

For their concert appearances the Karlakor Reykjavikur wear sashes with the national colors of the new Republic of Iceland.

Nearly every city, town and hamlet in Iceland has its own choral society, just as in America communities have their baseball teams from sandlot to the major leagues. The Icelandic Singers is the culminating group of all the country's choirs. Prior to the war they toured continental Europe, the Scandinavian countries and Scotland and were rousing received everywhere.

The man behind the Icelandic Singers, which will give a concert here on October 18 at the college auditorium, is one of the leading figures of the music of his native land. Sigurdur Thordarson is his name. He founded the Karlakor Reykjavikur nearly twenty years ago, and has led it through all of its European concerts. Since 1930, he has been the manager of Iceland's State Broadcasting Service. He is also the composer of music ranging all the way from a mass and an operetta to orchestral and piano pieces.

Thordarson took the Icelandic Singers (as they call themselves in this country) on their first extended concert tour in 1935. In Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, they met with the same acclaim which had greeted them at home. Two years later, the Choir embarked on a second tour, this time of the mainland of Europe. Germany, Austria, and Czechoslovakia received them with such enthusiasm that return engagements were booked almost everywhere they sang. But the already-ominous war clouds prevented Mr. Thordarson and his colleagues from carrying out their plans for a third tour. They reached the rest of Europe only through their records, which are popular all over the continent.

In spite of his crowded schedule as Manager of the State Broadcasting Service in Iceland, Sigurdur Thordarson is leading The Icelandic Singers throughout their first tour of the United States. Music-lovers from coast to coast await their coming with impatience.

The following quotations show what an excellent reception the singers got on their recent tour of Europe:

"This choir will make Icelandic song popular throughout the world" — Copenhagen Berlingske Tidende

"This choir lives up to the highest artistic standards." — Prague Narodni Politika.

"The choir gave beautiful examples of Icelandic folksongs and music." — Vienna Das Kleine Volksblatt.

"The conductor, soloist and the choir were given a tremendous ovation, and many songs had to be repeated." — Bergen Morgenavisen.

"The Icelandic Singers have taken Oslo by Storm." — Oslo Morgenbladet.

"The choir of thirty six men has unusually beautiful and sonorous voices." — Stockholm Svenska Morgunbladet.

New Yorker To Direct College Dance Club

Mrs. Phyllis Valente, newly appointed instructor in ballet, modern, and folk dancing, has also begun her duties as director of the college's Dance Club. Mrs. Valente, formerly of New York City, attended the Bennington School for Dance in Vermont. For the past few years, Mrs. Valente had her own group of dancers in New York City.

Composed of girls who have shown interest and ability in all types of dancing, the club affords recreation and pleasure as well as instruction to its members. In addition to its part in the Christmas Dinner Party and the Spring Festival, the club is planning several other features for the coming year.

The members have already resumed their dance practices which are held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons at four-fifteen. Try-outs for those wishing to become members will be held in the gymnasium at four-fifteen on Monday. All freshmen, transfers, and upperclassmen non-members who wish to take part in their activity (Continued on Page Three)

Sociology Club Welcomes Faculty, New Members

Monday night October 7, at 8:00 the Sociology Club will welcome ten new members.

Mrs. Mary B. Brooks, Misses Clare Carson, Jean Dickerson, Frances Hern, Rebecca Jennings, Sherla Miller, Vennette Morgan, Johnnie Stokes, Betty Toler and Peggy Williams.

The Sociology Club members are made up of the Sociology and Social Work majors and minors on campus. The total membership of the club is twenty-four.

The club is also delighted to welcome two new faculty advisors this year, Mrs. Rebecca Fry and Mr. W. E. Ruggles. They are replacing Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Talbert, who are now connected with the Sociology Department at Texas Christian College.

Mrs. Fry will be the guest speaker Monday night and will relate some of her interesting experiences while having been Director of the Lowndes County Department of Public Welfare.

The programs for the year will consist of discussions led by active workers in the field of Sociology (Continued on Page Three)

Glee Club Announces Their Plans for 1946-'47

The Glee Club is off to a good start this year with forty-six new members and thirty-seven old members.

At the first meeting of the year, held on Tuesday afternoon, October 1, Mr. Aubrey announced, "This year we will not have a new glee club as before. Instead the group will sing as one unit. This will enable them to learn and improve together."

The Glee Club will perform at various religious services of the year, such as Thanksgiving and Good Friday and on special occasions including the Christmas dinner party and the Spring Festival. At sometime during the year it will broadcast from both the local radio station and the new one in Quitman. There are also possibilities of several off-campus engagements.

The forty-six new members are: John Abrahams, Valdosta; Julia Ailey, Ashburn Sue Beloff, Boston, Mass.; Annolene Bone, Leesburg, Fla.; Julia Briggs, Valdosta; Sara Clark, Valdosta; Danise Bryant, Milledgeville; Frances Chester, Whigham; Joyce Childs, Thomaston; Margaret Claghorn, Savannah;

Sports Club Introduces Fun, Folks, Frolics

You have all heard of the Sports Club. Now lets learn about the people who plan and direct all of the match games, hikes, tournaments and just general practices.

Leading the Club this year is Kathleen Grantham from Thomas-ton, better known on campus as "Kat." I know you met her when you got your bid this morning and you'll want to know her better.

Marion "Wootie" Newsome the vice president, comes from Reynolds. Wootie will be seen on campus participating in all sports.

Secretary of the Club is Ann "Tug" Wilkin. "Tug" is from the fair city of Colquitt. She is our tennis champion.

The person who looks after the Sports Club money is Frances "Stoney" Hurn, and the historian is Corinne Dellinger.

The Lambda team captain is Frances Moxley, the cute blond sophomore who talks "coon" talk all the time.

Kappas, your team captain is Bobbie "B. T." Townsend. Her home is Darien, Ga. Watch for her speed on the American Ball Field.

For American Ball coaches this fall the Kappas have B. T. and Betty Toler and the Lambdas have Tug Wilkin and Virginia

Business Club To Offer Secretarial Bureau for All

During an interview with Virginia Bolen, president of the Business Club, she said, "This year the Business Club hopes to put into effect the Secretarial Bureau, which will be beneficial to the students as well as to the faculty."

Until they can get sufficient material the Secretarial Bureau cannot open, but as soon as possible they hope to offer mimeographing, typing, shorthand and other secretarial services done for a small fee. This service will be open for both students and faculty. The school has never had such a bureau, and it is sure to be a great help.

Miss Lowry will be the new Business Club advisor and the new officers are: President, Virginia Bolen; Vice-President, Adair Myrdleton; Secretary, Jean Land; and Treasurer, Dathine Brunson.

All majors and minors in Secretarial Science will be given bids to the Business Club at its first meeting, which will be held October 22.

Bolen.

For Volley Ball Coaches you Kappas have, Tack Brunson and Martha Jackson. The Lambdas are under Pat Gainey and Mary Ellen Compton.

We have Nell Kenny to direct all tennis and golf tournaments.

All bow and arrow shooters take notice of your coaches: Virginia Bray and Bet Alderman.

The ones to thank for your good times and food hikes are Betty Keene and Joy Roland.

Even in the Sports Club there is some art. Mary Ellen and Colleen are the artists.

For student representation there is for Ashley Hall, Anne Knepton; and, Senior Hall, Corrinne Dellinger. For Town girls, Morris Smith.

Clare Carson is an honorary member of the Sports Council.

Sports Club Hike Held This Morning

The Sports Club assembled at Senior Hall at 7:30 this morning for the first hike of the year. All the girls were there in blue jeans, slacks, and those outrageous head garbs.

The Lambda's purple and Kappa's red blazed the trails. All along the way were signs boasting each team;—"Be a Kappa" or "Lambda—best of all." Team spirit was soaring high as the girls sang the old familiar team songs. At the end of the trail was a breakfast of coffee, apples, and doughnuts.

Bids were given to the freshmen, transfers and other students. The names of the girls were drawn at random from a bag so the girls had a 50-50 chance of being either a Lambda or Kappa. Of course those powerful yells coming from the side lines do deserve honorable mention.

It's the beginning of a new year for the Sports Club and all its members so give it your best, Lambdas or Kappas!

American Ball Practices Begin

Come on you Freshmen, you now have your bids, so support your teams! You may not be an expert at playing American Ball or Fist Ball, but neither is anyone else. Go out and show the upperclassmen that they aren't the only ones on campus interested in sports.

American Ball is a combination of soccer, football, and basketball. Since most everyone has at one time or another played Volley Ball, there is no need to attempt to describe. These are the main sports this quarter but there will probably be tennis and golf tournaments later on.

Math-Science To Revise Roll

Miss Louise Stump, assistant to treasurer and purchasing agent of the college, will be guest speaker at the first meeting of the Math-Science Club on Thursday night, October 10, at 8:00 P. M. in the House-in-the-Woods. Miss Stump will give an account of the four weeks trip she made this summer to Central America, where she visited in the Canal Zone and in Guatemala.

Dr. Nevins, faculty advisor to the club, stated that a revision of the roll will be made after the first meeting and those members who have more than three unexcused absences will be dropped from the club's roll.

This meeting will be a joint one of the three club divisions; Math, Biology and Chemistry.

Dormitory Roll Increased to 276

The Georgia State Women's College is beginning this year with the largest dormitory enrollment in the history of the college.

The present total enrollment of 334 is not greater than ever, but the dormitory enrollment of 276 is greater than ever. This was made possible by the conversion of the "rec" hall into twelve dormitory rooms and by assigning three girls to the larger two-girl rooms.

Despite all efforts of the administration to have everything ready for the arrival of students, the conversion and extensive repairs begun in August were not completed on time. Nevertheless, the students took their inconvenience good-naturedly and went about their duties of beginning the school year cheerfully.

JEAN LAND and CATHY PHILLIPS

Another year, another date, another man, or maybe its the same old one. Nevertheless the GSWC girls have been and are being pursued by the—shall we admit it girls?—the stronger sex.

This Freshman Class is no exception because although the boys may slow down in front of Senior and Ashley, it is really in front of Converse that the motor seems to almost go dead.

We are working to have a private line put in for OUIDA HAYSER so she can talk to her hearts content to that guy at Emory Jr. Don't be jealous girls, because it takes more than just two weeks to get this—ask OUIDA, it takes planning.

Those Albany boys will not let Emory Jr. make CHRISTINE CLIFTON, HULDA JONES, and MARY ANN SAULS forget the home town boys.

JANE RACHAL'S O. A. O., Al, came over Saturday to remind her she was still his dream girl. From the look in her eyes she was walking in dreamland.

Speaking of dreamland, HANSON ROGERS was floating on a cloud Saturday and Sunday with Dan right there beside her.

MARTHA JACKSON has shifted from the Navy to the Paratroopers this summer. Here's to a happy landing, Martha!

JERRY SHEFFIELD, who is unofficially engaged to Felix, has a job on her hands keeping him satisfied away at school. What did you tell him over the phone, JERRY?

LEAH KING has been showered with calls, letters, and telegrams from that man of hers. To the list you can also add JANE MOSES, who has had several long distance calls from Auburn.

That swooning scent filling the air around Ashley and Senior Halls was caused by two exquisite gardenia corsages. The wearers—ROSA-LYN CARTER and PEGGY WILLIAMS. Some girls have all the luck!!!!

ELIZABETH PATE and SARA ADCOCK invaded the University of Georgia last weekend and a good time was had by all! SARA missed the bus going and supposedly missed one coming back.

The event of the evening for Saturday night was a Country Club dance, orchestra and all. If you want to know if it was good just ask EDITH JONES, CHARLOTTE GOODWIN, CATHY PHILLIPS, MARY ELLEN COMPTON, JOAN DAVIS, BARBARA COBB, BIM ANSLEY and CAROLYN BOWEN.

Reaping the fruits of her Freshman year, Jane Dekle is dating that smooth dancing Bouncer Smith.

If you don't beleieve coming to summer school helps out when it comes to knowing the Valdosta boys just take a tip from ANNE SHIPP.

Wonder what happened to Carl!! and why Rozanne's sudden attraction for town boys, especially John Holcombe.

Some men don't like smart women but Jim Dutton certainly seem's to be enjoying LOIS JOHNSON'S help in working Math problems.

KATHLEEN GRANTHAM, CAROLYN BOWEN and BETTY NEWBERRY are still sporting those gorgeous "frat" pins. New additions to their ranks are ILA DOWNIE and ANNE ZIPLIES.

Ask JOANNE HAMILTON why she looked so baffled the other night when "SILLY" REYNOLDS had a certain caller in the Rotunda. Could it have been his voice or that long Buick?

A telephone call from "Pat" really put LOUISE NEWTON in a dither but she really got excited when he arrived on campus!

Special Notice

Due to the difficulty in obtaining printing labor, it is impossible for the Campus Canopy to come to you every week, as was the plan of the Editorial Staff. Until such time as this situation becomes better, the regular edition of the paper will be published every other week. During this period, the staff will present a smaller edition of the Canopy on the weeks when the usual edition does not appear. This special edition will carry only news items, and the social calendar for the week.

DR. FARBAR'S ANGELS

EDITORMENT

Strange as it may seem the majority of college students feel that they must make a decided choice between studying and participating in campus activities. It takes them rather a long time to realize that in twenty-four hours they have plenty of time for classes, for study, for sleeping, and campus affairs. When approached by someone asking their help in some extra-class activity, they will answer, "Oh, I'd so like to help you, but I've decided to study this year."

Studying is a very definite part of college life and at G. S. W. C. good students have little time for those who feel that it is not. Nevertheless, it is not the only part, and you will soon discover that the happiest and most adjusted students are those who strike a balance between study and campus participation. You need not sacrifice learning and good grades in order to be active in extra-class affairs, for if you look around, you will see that, with few exceptions, students who make the highest grades are also the most cooperative in helping to make our social and recreational activities a success.

For a college of its size, G. S. W. C. offers a remarkably large number of social, recreational and cultural activities. The Y. W. C. A. will come you to its many religious services. The Sports Club has gone to a great deal of trouble in organizing athletic teams in most of the sports for girls and need your help in carrying out their plans. Without a friendly spirit of cooperation from every one of you, the Student Government Association's democratic efforts will be in vain.

Although the various departmental clubs are immediately open to freshmen, they will be busy on, and in the meantime there are plenty of others which are.

So please, do your part to make all of our campus activities of this year a success. We not only want your help, we want to help you.

Hutchinson On League of Women Voters

This column this week is especially dedicated to the freshmen to introduce them to the GSWC League of Women Voters.

This organization is made up of a group of girls interested in better government from a non-partisan standpoint. On our campus there is a group of about fifty girls which composes the membership of the GSWC League. They are a part of the Georgia State League, which is in turn a member of the National League. The members are both men and women all over the United States who are interested in promoting better government. Membership is entirely voluntary, and anyone who is interested may become a member.

To guide the work of the League there is a president, a vice-president, a secretary and a treasurer and a board consisting of the executive officers and seven other members elected by the membership at large. Six of these shall be students and one shall be a faculty advisor. The League meets once a month for regular meeting and at any time a called meeting seems necessary. At the meetings there are programs presented by the members in which issues of the day are discussed. All members take part in these discussions and meetings are usually informal and interesting. Times there are members of the State League who come to visit with this League and to discuss problems and to help in any way possible.

Another purpose of the League is to make members familiar with some of the viewpoints of the governing bodies in Washington and Atlanta. It helps to put the girls in a position to decide themselves how they feel about bills, policies of the state and national government.

You will hear more about the League in the future and will be given an opportunity to join membership and become interested in YOUR government.

Wilcox on New Ideas

Do you have a lot of ideas about changes that should be made at G. S. W. C.? Would you like to plant roses in front of the dormitories? Do you think a course in radio repairing would be a helpful addition to the curriculum? Can you think of a way to increase cooperation between G. S. W. C. and Emory, collectively and especially individually? Then speak out, first quarter freshman or last quarter senior, because somebody wants to hear about that idea of yours.

If you wonder which somebody on campus can really do something to put your favorite scheme into effect, let me make a few suggestions. Jean Martin and any of the other student government officials are always eager to hear what students are thinking about and what they would like to see done. And don't believe that it's impossible for you, a single individual, to influence the whole school. It is possible and it happens all the time. Once some students had an idea that G. S. W. C. needed a student activities building. Today we have the House-in-the-Woods facing the golf course. If you dig back into the rules and regulations for the early days of the school, you will find that even the kind of shoes a student should wear and the hours at which she could shampoo her shining curls were specified. We've come a long way since then. And somebody else once thought up the plan of having Big Sisters and Little Sisters.

Of course I can't promise you that next week we will have a bowling alley between the library and Senior Hall. Or breakfast in bed on Sunday morning. Or all dormitory restrictions lifted. But if you take your idea, with some reasons to explain why it's a good one, to any campus leader, she will be more than glad to talk to you. That "take" part is important. It's just not possible for the right people to be sprawled on the right bed in the right room every time a good idea emerges from a leisurely talking session.

But to get back to some more people who are especially interested in the designs you have dreamed up. The Y Cabinet and the Sports Council make plans for activities which involve almost the entire student body. If you approach a club president with a good idea for a program, or a way to make money, she'll probably start a campaign to elect you the most popular girl of the year.

The Campus Canopy and the Pine Cone need your help if they are to picture life on campus accurately.

And if you don't know exactly who would be most interested in your favorite inspiration or where to get in touch with her, I will be delighted to lend an ear or two and help locate the missing character. The important thing is to THINK—and then TALK.
