

WHO'S WHO

By BILL ALMONRODE

Here they are, the six. These have been chosen to represent and honor Valdosta State College in the biographical dictionary, Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Recognized for outstanding scholastic achievements, sincerity in leadership, and cooperative participation in the college community, they are: Bob Cannady, Thomasville, Ga.; Ann Kirby, Clayville, Ga.; May May Porter, Ashburn, Ga.; Clyde Connell, Naylor, Ga.; Babe Threatte, Lakeland, Ga.; and Susan Tullis, Valdosta, Ga.

Superior campus personalities are selected each year by a student-faculty committee and accepted by the Who's Who organization. To be included in this group is one of the greatest and brightest laurels a student may receive in VSC or any other American college or university.

Mr. Cannady's interest is in the field of Humanities. His major is English, his minor, history. The able president of the Student Government Association, he is also a member of the Sigma Alpha Chi Honor Society, the International Relations Club, and the English Club. Cannady also has worked on the Staff of the Campus Canopy, and was probably its first male columnist. After completing planned studies at Vanderbilt University, he hopes to study literature and history in Great Britain under a Marshall scholarship.

Ann Kirby's interest lies in fine arts. She is majoring in Speech. She is president of the Senior Class, president of the Sock and Buskin Club, VSC's Dramatic Club, Vice President of the Honor Society last year, and Secretary-Treasurer this year, she has been on Student Government all four years. She is vice-president of the BSU, secretary of the Home Ec-Art Club, and has been—and is—layout editor of the Pine Cone. She is one of the Woman's Residence Hall Council, Glee Club, and Chapel Choir. She has not made known her future plans to us.

Secretarial Science is Miss Porter's major. Her minor is English. Not one to shun responsibility, her avid interest in her work is Officers for the quarter among the pledges are: President, Herman Parramore; Secretary, Jack Carter; Treasurer, Charles Hancock; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Jack Weaver.

Beauty Contest

From a field of 35 contestants, all wearing evening gowns, Miss V.S.C. will be chosen in the school auditorium on November 21st, at eight o'clock. This event is sponsored annually by Filiis Fortunae fraternity.

This year there will be a street dance following the contest. Tentative plans at the present include a parade in town that afternoon, in which the contestants will ride in convertibles.

Miss V.S.C. will receive a loving cup and the three girls placing next will receive bracelets.

The girls entered in the contest were elected by the student body at a recent assembly.

Holidays!!

The student body has been anxiously awaiting the first real holiday of the year. Well, here it is!

Fire Lighting Service

The annual Fire-Lighting Service was held Thursday evening, November the twelfth in the rotunda. The fires were lighted by Bob Cannady and Barbara Strickland. They explained that each year those who represent all the clubs on the campus throw fagots into the fire and make the contribution that each would like to add to the Fire of Fellowship. Lighting the fires is a symbol of the lighting up of our hearts which will come from the fellowship which we shall find in these days together.

All the girls were dressed in white formals making the service a most impressive one. Being a "Y" sponsored service the formation was such that two "Y" angles were formed with points at each fireplace.

The contributions made and those making them were as follows: W. R. H. C. brings Courage, Jane Burdette; Y. W. C. A. brings Truth, Peggy Stewart; Faculty brings Sincerity, Mrs. Willia Thomas; Alumnae brings Loyalty, Sister Griffin; Senior Class brings Aspiration, Ann Kirby; Junior Class brings Sympathy, Nancy Lovett; Sophomore Class brings Love, Peggy Burns; Freshman Class brings Work, Jimmy Hathaway; Sports Club brings Joy of Living, Rheda Blackwell; English Club brings Appreciation, May May Porter; Math-Science Club brings Exactness, Joan Parrish; Publications bring Awareness, Bob Dixon; Honor Society brings Attainment, Jackie Greene;

Freshman Elections Hathaway and Webster Lead

With Rat Day a part of the past, interest was centered on the nominations and election of the Freshman class officers. The election which was held October 29, showed that the Freshmen are off to the best of starts for the officers chosen are top notch.

Jimmy Hathaway placed first in the contest for president over his opponent, Nelson Singletary. A football and basketball star from Douglas, Jimmy is on the V. S. C. basketball team, the Collegians, and has recently pledged the Filiis Fortunae Fraternity.

Receiving the majority vote over Elaine Leverette, Betty Wester was elected vice-president. Betty is a member of the Business Club, U. W. C. A., and the Kappa sports team. During her senior year in Bainbridge, she was editor of the high school annual.

Fay Remsen, freshman class secretary, won over her opponent Rachael Greer. Fay is also a member of the "Serenaders", Glee Club, Annual Staff, Lambda sports team, and is Circulation and Advertising Manager of the Campus Canopy. She was in the Glee Club, on the newspaper staff, and in several other clubs during her senior year in Valdosta.

For the treasurer of the class, Marilyn Bazemore was elected over Beverly Marshall. Marilyn is a member of the Dance Club, an alternate cheerleader, and a member of the Kappa sports team. During her

Armistice Day Parade

"Here comes the parade!" Excited spectators exclaimed as the band music could be heard in the distance promptly at 10:00. It was Valdosta's biggest Armistice Day parade, off to a spectacular start.

Eight bands, including those from Fitzgerald, Moody Air Force Base, Valdosta High School, Quitman, Thomasville, Cook County, and Adel, added their drum beats and march tunes to the pageantry. More than 125 units of organizations, bands, marching units, cars, and floats were represented.

Amid the elaborate displays and floats was V.S.C.'s own, sponsored by the S.G.A. A theme of "Knowledge Through Peace" characterized the simple stateliness of the effect.

Following a Roman scene, a background of green grass set off a huge white dove of peace, bearing an olive twig, which rested at the head of the float. Raised above a spray of palmetto branches was a golden torch of knowledge with a burning flame.

Beneath the torch, seated in a Roman chair was Dot Barineau, dressed in a white toga as Peace. The symbols, Hope and Remembrance, represented by Lee Graybeal and Naomi Johnson, were displayed behind the dove. A symbolic idea was completed with Hope and Remembrance bearing reins of the dove.

The V.S.C. float took its place among the honors bestowed on the participants of the parade, by receiving an honorable mention in the float contest.

Winning float was entered by the American Legion Post No. 13. This was judged by judges as the float most representative of the history of Armistice Day, featuring a battle scene.

A five-man police motorcycle escort led the parade, accompanied by city and county dignitaries and speakers.

Crowds from miles around lined the streets to see the significant celebration with its traditions, heart felt symbolism and proudly waving red, white, and blue, joining the rest of the nation and a great part of the world in anniversary of a day, 35 years ago when World War I ended in an Armistice.

DOMES VIEWS By THE EDITOR

Let us have a holiday. Someone has at last done it. Done away with final examinations? No, that would call for a vacation. Done away with home work? It is better than that. Newsweek magazine, reads an editorial of the Atlanta Journal, has done an analysis of today's college youth. The results were astounding. No, it is not that the goldfish is about to become extinct because students have started a mass swallowing campaign. Neither are the college dining halls serving phonograph records as a regular course to keep the students from eating them between meals. The survey indicates that today's college youth are heading in a direction no one need bemoan or groan about. "The 1953 student", that is you, "is more serious minded and more religious, more skeptical of new ideas and generally more settled than those of any other era". If that makes you feel like carrying ten subjects next quarter, rest this. "Collegians today are sturdier, more mature, and more cautious than earlier generations. Socially, emotionally, and philosophically, they like to conform and have security." Perhaps at last the old analogy between the college youth and his descent or journey to the Canine species can be erased. Twenty lashes with a salted noodle to the man that first said it. Let us say that the college students of today are going to succeed.

There have been questions from some of the students about a Co-Op store on the campus. Is one needed? Would it help school spirit in having a place to get together? The answer and action for these questions must come from the students. Why not write a letter and let the staff of the Canopy know what you think about it?

The V.S.C. basketball team plays its first game on the 21 of this month. It will be at Abraham Baldwin College in Tifton. There should be a pep rally and a motorcade to go to Tifton with the team to show A.B.C. that V.S.C. is interested in supporting its team. The Student Government Association would be the ideal organization for the promotion of this project.

What have you done to make V.S.C. a better school? There is an opportunity to make V.S.C. the education center of South Georgia, but it will take work, work from the faculty and from the students. Every additional student on the campus means more money from the Board of Regents. Therefore tell your high school friends about our school. Let's make the best even better.

Too Late The Phalarope—
by Alan Paton

This unusual book, by the author of Cry, The Beloved Country, is an excellent treatment of the false nature surrounding some social customs in a tense and complex society. Exciting, intense, dark. In other words, good.

Don't. Don't miss this one if you like color, Napoleon, and determined women. Based on truth, this is the novel, told in diary form, of a girl who rose from merchant's daughter to Napoleon's finance and finally to the position of Consort to the King of Swenden. Ripping

With some peoples luck they should stick to tennis where love means nothing.

Love at first sight is sometimes cured by a second look.

When it comes to love women not only know the score—they invented the game!

Just because a girl looks familiar doesn't mean she will be.

A well formed girl is sometimes unattractive because she's 'uniformed.'

DEATH TRAP

RAT DAYS THROUGH FRESHMAN EYES

MONDAY

At the gray peak of dawn two-legged rats hit the floor and begin to scamper about Converse Hall gathering the garb to be donned for Sports Club Rat Day. Through the eyes of the frightened mice the day looked quite bleak and bare as they trudged along three steps forward and one backward behind Ashley Hall. Then from a top window in Ashley came a thundering voice tolling doom, "Kneel, you Rats!" Rat Day had begun.

From then until 4:15 rooms were swept, beds were made, shoes were polished, letters were written, and love was made to every male on campus.

The meals that day were such as you have never seen; no Freshman girls spoke nor smiled, and they ate tremendously small bites in a pattern, they now know is called a square.

At promptly 4:15 a little game of leap-frog, resulting in many aching backs the next day, was played all the way to the athletic field. Upon arrival they engaged in an energetic game of softball (?) between the Lambdas and Kappas. The rats on the winning team were to be excused from rat court. The only catch to this was the game was umpired by upperclassmen and it was ended while in a tie.

Following this the girls did a series of gymnastics ending with the Bunny Hop all the way back to the dorm.

For the next 20 minutes odd jobs for upperclassmen were done and then blessing of all blessings the 5:40 bell rang, ending the Freshmen girls' first day of torment.

TUESDAY

At breakfast on Tuesday morning some of the Freshmen seemed to have changed their minds about co-education for all of them appeared as girls. The only notes which weren't realistic were the masculine voices and walks. Again the meals were eaten in squares, but this time it was a little harder to keep silence in the dining hall. Snickers were heard here and there as the rats were asked to serve tables and give orations of first one kind and then another, usually explaining why the food was good.

After being forced to attend

Morning Watch, the Freshmen who were lucky enough to have first period classes were allowed to leave while the others, poor souls, were left behind to satisfy the upperclassmen's wishes.

Intermittently throughout the day 18 and 19 year old girls and boys played ring around the rosie, blind man's bluff, leap-frog, crawled through the grass like snakes, rolled over and played dead like dogs, and flew around the campus yelling,

"I am a jay-bird,
Look at my legs.
I am a jay-bird,
See my legs?"

When the 5:40 bell rang, the Freshmen heaved a big sigh and trudged back to the dorms to change into decent clothes for supper. The end of torment had not come yet for Rat Court that night still hung like "The Black Death" over their heads.

RAT COURT

In front of Converse Hall the Freshmen were assembled trying to look courageous while quaking to the bone on the inside.

Breaking the stillness of the black night a clatter and its echo summoned the scared rats to the Dome for their last hour of terror.

In a last effort to boost their morale the Freshmen sang "Don't Call My Name" as the upperclassmen, overhead were preparing their torture.

Following the order of an Honorable (?) upperclassmen, the rats, now thoroughly frightened and meek, took their places on the barren floor of the dimly lighted courtroom.

Accompanied by wailing and horrible laughter the judges, garbed in black and wearing faces such as no mortal had ever seen, entered. While the others were being subjected to vile perfumes of the ten cent store variety, soot, and starch, the rats were called one by one before the court to be accused, tried, convicted and tortured.

The climax to the ordeal came as the rats were forced to break raw eggs in each other's hair, tromple on the raw eggs in their bare feet, and then sit in the mess they had made.

So ended two horrible and lurid days—"RAT DAYS"

THE SNOOPER

School is back in full swing and so is romance.

Robert Bennett, we think, had better straighten your shirt out, whether you're engaged or not? We know but does every body else????

Why is it Bob C. goes home every weekend??? Could it be another girl at home?????

I've been trying to decide what has happened to Donald Bennett and Emory Cook. Both seem to have lost their golden touch and the girls. Emory may have settled down, but what about you, Donald????

Kay Rose, who are you trying to beat filling up that signpost card?

Buck Little sure is spending a lot of time in Converse Hall. He and Al Griffis seem to be trying to see who can stay there the most. Don't hold out on us, boys. Who are they?????

Looks like "Hots" isn't so hot any more. From all appearances he has cooled off a bit. What happened?????

I had heard that Naunie was having a hard time making up her mind. Things sure do change fast around this place!!

Jimmy Mancil and Patsy B. seem to be making hay while the sun shines. Don't let it burn.

Marjorie G. seems to be stuck on a cute little boy. She says it's nothing, but just watch her face when he walks in. Cool this winter's warm love so soon????

Beverly sure does like those letters from Brunswick. I hear the name is Ted. What about it, Bev? Wonder where May May finds to go every night of the week?? He's good-looking, too.

Maurice W. and Vina C. seem to be afraid that the walls of V.S.C. are going to collapse. Helping them prevent such a catastrophe are Jimmy H. and Marsha D.

Dig those crazy eyes belonging to Zelma Y. They wander all over the place. How 'bout it, boys???

I hear that there's a certain cute, blonde 2nd Lt. who really gets around with these V.S.C. girls. First a freshman and then a senior. What about it Lauralite??

Have you noticed that taserine convertible in front of Converse? I've been told there's a pin upstairs that belongs to it.

Speaking of pins, Patsy Carroll sure does have a pretty one. Couldn't be from Athens, could it???

Ksena Champion and Ed Paulk are doing a good job wearing out the sofas in Converse.

Peggy Burns is about to tie the postman out with those letters to and from Atlanta.

Phillip Jones, please make up your mind. It sure is getting hard to keep up with you.

On School Spirit

How many times have you heard the term, "school spirit"? While in high school you probably heard it every day. If you just averaged once a day saying or hearing "school spirit" you heard it about three hundred times a year. That's over twelve hundred times during your high school career.

But have you ever thought of what it means? Webster defines school as "a place of instruction" and spirit "to animate with vigor". Putting these two together you have, "to animate with vigor a place of instruction". This is a place of instruction and we need to animate our basketball team with vigor. They will do better with you behind them 100%!

PERSONALITIES OF THE MONTH

BETTY KING

EARL PAULK

One of the girl students admired on the campus for character and friendliness, together with her optimistic outlook on life, is Betty King, of Blakely, Georgia. An English major working on the A.B. degree, Betty is a member of the Junior Class, a member of the English Club, the Education Club, the History Club, the I.R.C., and Sports Club. Having decided to teach high school English, she of course is very much interested in English and the possibilities of teaching young people its value. Betty believes that a good education, including that which is practical, from college and high school are essential to the successful men and women of today. From a broad viewpoint toward a college education, she believes simply: "From a college education one derives a well-rounded personality, the ability to cope with everyday problems, and an intelligent understanding of people in general." Then, too, she is a firm believer in all the activities that make up the American college, such as Valdosta State. She explains, "My belief is that acad-mic work and social life constitute balanced college life everywhere." According to her, "There should, of course, be a balance between the two—social life and academic work—but the balance is dependent upon the person, in an 'individual' way." As far as people are concerned, Betty states: "People, in themselves, are not made better without another's efforts. That is, relatively, where our responsibility lies—in bringing out the good in others, in enriching life through personal interest in others." She has said, in regard to the personal experiences of successful living, "The product of fine living is the happiness received from efforts toward enjoying the classics." Of course, Betty has not only thoughts that are rooted in her own inner convictions; she reads good literature and makes efforts to draw from them important everyday facts of living. It is obvious that she possesses leadership, achievement, and character. Furthermore, it is obvious that these qualities are expressed in her everyday living, the basis for judgment of a friendly and impressive personality. If Betty finally retires on an old-age pension, as she says she might, as a result of teaching in Georgia high schools, we are sure that she will make an old maid that has lived fully and graciously.

The second student to appear in the limelight focused upon the outstanding personality of the month is one of the most imposing young men on the campus—Earl Paulk, of Atlanta, Georgia. Earl is president and one of the founding brothers of Fili Fortuna Fraternity, a member of I.R.C., and Sophomore representative to S.G.A. Working toward the A.B. degree in history at Valdosta State, he plans to complete his formal education with the L.L.B. degree, after which he will concentrate his efforts upon a career in the Diplomatic Corps, Foreign Service of the State Department.

Such a career as he plans to enter will call for leadership, achievement, and character—qualities he already possesses. "The function of education," he explains, "is simply the furtherance of the individual both socially and intellectually." Earl's own philosophy embodies moral ideas "... should be placed foremost in the mind of man and in direct relation with Christian principle, both occupying equal positions and influencing each other." His philosophy reflects his individual belief in the utility of personal effort with respect to morals.

years at Valdosta High, she was also a cheerleader on the Tri-Hi-Y.

Two offices were open in the Student Government. Susan Bridges, freshman girl's S. G. A. representative, won Graybeal. Susan, whose home is now in Dublin, is a member of the Dance Club, Future Teachers Club, a cheerleader, and on the sports team. During her high school year in Bainbridge she was Associate editor of the annual and a cheerleader.

With this selection of officers, the Freshman Class is on its way to having the best year ever. All it will take to make it so is the support of every freshman. You've supported your candidates through the election, Freshman, let's back them up the rest of the year!

Sigma Alpha Chi Honor Society

The first meeting of the Sigma Alpha Chi Honor Society this year was held October 28 at the House-in-the-Woods. Nan Brown, Second vice-president; and Ann Kirby, secretary and treasurer, were the only officers elected last year who have returned. Jackie Greene is the newly elected president. Other officers elected were: Lanier Allen, first vice-president; and Saralyn Perry, historian and reporter. Dr. Nevins is the advisor. The Honor Society has only thirteen members this year who are, other than the officers: Russell Acree, Bob Cannady, Clyde Connell, Kathy Harwell, Nancy Lovett, Jean Russell, Sylvia Shiver, and Barbara Crew.

WHO'S WHO—

displayed very well in the presidency of the English, the vice-presidency of both the Business Club and the Sock and Buskin Club. May May also is secretary of the Glee Club and Vice-President of the Senior Class. She also works in the Student Government Association, the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, and the Chapel Choir.

A senior majoring in biology, Connell has been active in the Math-Science Club and has been recognized consistently for superior scholarship on the Dean's List. Before entering VSC in 1951, Connell served in the U.S. Navy with the Medical Service Corps for sixteen years. Enlisting in 1935, he was temporarily retired for physical disability in 1951, with the rank of lieutenant, senior grade. He formerly attended Emory-at-Valdosta, and while in service, Montgomery Jr. College in Maryland and Long Beach Jr. College in California. In the event that he is not recalled to active service, Connell plans to do graduate study in his major field and teach in college.

Babs Threatte is Vice-President of the Student Council, the sponsor of the Fili Fortuna Fraternity, a member of the Sock and Buskin Club, and is ex-president of that club. An education major, Miss Threatte is Photography Editor of the Pine Cone, Historian for the Home Ec-Art Club and the English Club's reporter. Her many activities also include membership in the Sports Club, Dance Club, and Education Club.

Valdosta's Susan Tullis is majoring in Home Economics and minoring in Art. She hopes to follow up her career in Home Ec as a Home Economist. At present she is president of the Home Ec Art Club. She also holds membership in the Sports Club and has been on the council for three years. She has been in the Valdosta Club for the past three years, town representative on the Student Council for the past years, and also she is social chairman. She is a member of the staff of the Pine Cone, B.S.U. and past secretary of the Fins and Flippers, and present Vice-President.

Let's all wish these six the best that life can give them!

The Sports Digest

By BABE YEOMANS

Well hello again, all you cool cats. Are you cats doing any good these days? For the benefit of you fans who have not read my column before, this is it. Now don't get all shook up and fog up your glasses.

Here it is November and time to usher in the basketball season. Long about the twenty-first of this month, V.S.C. is going to jump out with its first inter-collegiate basketball tilt.

The team is practicing daily in the V.H.S. gym. Originally they were practicing at the North Campus gym, but they moved to the high school gym to get used to the larger gym.

The candidates for the team are: Sonny Crisp, Hottic Campbell, Jimmy Hathaway, Leo Helms, Phillip Jones, Charlie Hill, Robert McElvey, Nelson Singletary, Bill Tibbets, and Jack Weaver.

For the benefit of you fans who read the last edition of this column, the team isn't going to be called the Hound Dogs nor the Hot Dogs either. In fact the team doesn't have a name. Some time in the near future you fans are going to be called on to suggest a name for the team. This project will probably be handled by the S.G.A.; so everybody think about this and get our team a name.

Coach Cottingham has scheduled twelve games for the basketball squad this year. Twelve games may sound small compared to the number high schools play, but Coach Cottingham was lucky to obtain as many games as he did. Most schools have their schedules completed by the end of school of the preceding year. Maybe by next year V.S.C. will have established enough inter-collegiate prestige to schedule games with other schools besides these it will encounter this year. Anyway let's hope so. Man that won't be nothing but "COOL"!! Just think of it, the University of Kentucky versus the University of V.S.C. Wouldn't that be "FRANTIC", well any way "THE MOST TO SAY TO SAY THE LEAST" !!!

Just in case you sports fans haven't got the word, Willie Webb, quarterback of the V.H.S. football team, tells me the high school has got a "Beat V.S.C. campaign" as soon as our basketball team gets organized.

When the team does start its schedule, let's all get behind the team and have a big turnout for the games.

Well sports fans, "I got'ta plant you now, but I'll be digging you later."

From The Minutes Of The S. G. A.

The regular meeting of the Student Council was held at the House-in-the-Woods on Monday evening at 7:00. Following the taking of the annual picture, Bob Cannady called the meeting to order.

After the first home basketball game a dance will be given by the S.G.A. to raise money for the cheerleader's uniforms. Babs Threatte was appointed to select all committees for dance arrangements. Frankie Powell and Bob Greene were appointed to get up a parade, pep rally, bonfire, and publicity.

The S.G.A. is responsible for the selection of a team name, and Bob suggested we put out a box for names to be entered by the student body. Then Mr. Cottingham, Miss Ivey, Mr. McCoy, captain and co-captain of the basketball team and the captain of the cheerleaders will select the five best to be put on a ballot and voted upon by the student body. Earl Paulk is in charge of publicity and Wanda Bishop will make the ballots. Five names are to be put in the CANOPY on November 18th and voting will be on the 19th.

Bob brought up the inactivity of some of the clubs and suggested consolidation of some of them. Wanda will send out a questionnaire to all club presidents with the following questions on it: (1). Name (2). number of members active (3). qualifications for membership (4). whether or not it is nationally affiliated (5). purpose (6). Chief activity (project) (7). chief social activity (8). which campus club could it most easily be combined with. V. L. Daughtery moved we accept the questionnaire as is, and the motion was unanimously carried. The forms are to be in the next meeting on December 14th.

Bob suggested an annual banquet to help unify the S.G.A. just before annual elections. V. L. made the motion and it was carried. Proceeds from the second after-game dance will go toward the banquet and S.G.A. pins. The proceeds from the cokes will also go to the S.G.A. We will be responsible for selling cokes at the games and tickets at the first game.

Frankie Powell brought us the controversy of the functioning of the House Council, and after some discussion, it was decided that all questions might be brought up in the girl's assembly to be held on Friday, November 13th.

films were presented. Concluding the meeting refreshments were served.

Women Sports Club Highlights

By BILLIE WAGES

The equally matched Lambdas and Kappas met in a defensive deadlock Wednesday, October 21st, to tie the score at 0-0 in the speedball opener. The game was played hard by both teams, each threatening with close attempts to score.

In season scrimmages the Kappas and Lambdas have been able to score on each other for only four points apiece.

The Lambdas won over the Kappas in the Volleyball game. The Kappas have voiced a determination, though, to "beat those Lambdas" in the next match game. The competition is keen, and a good game is expected November 11th when these two teams meet again.

The upperclassmen of the Sports Club wish to commend the freshman women for their fine display of sportsmanship on Rat Day, and also in Rat Court.

The Sports Club is sponsoring a SPAGHETTI SUPPER FOR EVERYBODY on November 18th, at the House-in-the-Woods. Supper will be served from six o'clock until seven-thirty. Tickets are seventy-five cents, and may be purchased from any of the following girls: Kathryn Milhous, Becky Tyson, Roslyn Rouse, Claire Wiggins, Wanda Bishop, and Dot Connor. We expect everybody who eats spaghetti Southern style to come for supper the night of the 18th. Don't forget!

Fillii Socials

The pledges of the Filii Fortunae Fraternity, the brothers of the Fraternity and their dates enjoyed a weiner roast at Troupville on the night of November 12th. The party was given by the pledges in honor of the brothers of the fraternity. The Fillii Four which is composed of Jimmy Hathaway, Philip Jones and Buck Little entertained the guests with music. A huge bonfire gave a typical autumn outing atmosphere to the event.

On the next night, November 13th, the brothers of the Fraternity were the host at the second social event. This was held at Troupville and chicken stew was served.

Serenaders

The Valdosta State College Serenaders made their first appearance of the year in Cairo, Georgia, on Tues, October 20th. The Serenaders sang for the Cairo Kawanian Ladies Night.

The Serenaders are scheduled to appear in Abbeville and Hawkinsville on Wednesday, November 18th.

On Wednesday, November 25th, the Serenaders will journey to Jacksonville, Florida, to appear on WMVR-TV.

The Serenaders include Lyndal Drinkwater, Faye Remson, Becky Tyson, Jane Burdette, Nan Tyler, Barbara Strickland, Gayle Miley, Elaine Leverette, and Jesalyn Parker. The Serenaders are directed by Clayton Logan.

McCoy In Election

The city elections in Valdosta are to take place in the near future. Running for city councilman is Mr. Shealy McCoy of Valdosta State College. Mr. McCoy is one of the best liked members of the administrative staff of V.S.C. His background makes him capable for the job.
