Dr. Whitehead To Speak Honor's Day

Wednesday, May 6, is Honor's Day at VSC. Dr. Beatrice Nevins, sponsor of Sigma Alpha Chi Honor Society, said that this year Alpha Chi National Honor Society will also participate in the exercise. Alpha Chi was established on this campus last May.

The purpose of Honor's Day is to recognize students who have outstanding scholarship records at V. S. C.

Dr. Nevins stated that the families of members of these two Societies will be the guests of the college for the day, and will be served dinner in the Dining Hall.

Registration of guests will begin at 9:45 a.m. and last through 10:30, in the Rotunda of Ashley Hall. Coffee will be served during this time. At this time also the guests will see a student art exhibit in the upper Rotunda.

The Honor's Day Exercises will begin at 11:00 a.m. and last approximately two hours. This program will replace the weekly assembly and is required for all students.

The speaker on the program will be Dr. Thomas H. Whitehead, Professor of Chemistry at the University of Georgia.

New Heads Appointed For Publications

New officers have just been appointed for the student publications for the coming year.

On the Campus Canopy, Jerome Clegg will be editor, with Dillard Ensley and Lamar Pearson as his associate editors. Business manager will be Steve Sevits.

The Pine Cone staff will have Emmett Taylor for editor and Marjorie Brooks for associate editor, with Jacqueline Gaskins for business manager.

Steve Sevits will edit the V Book.

Glee Club Spring Recital

The Glee Club will present its Spring Recital on Tuesday, April 28, at 8:00 o'clock at Pound Auditorium.

Following the recital there will be an informal social hour in the Rotunda. The faculty is cordially invited to be present.

Broxson Leads New SGA

In the recent campus-wide elections Jimmy Broxson received a blooming vote of confidence from the students in being elected SGA President for the coming year. Lamar Pearson won a surprising victory to become Vice-President, and Jean Hooks was elected Secretary. John Jackson will be SGA

Treasurer. Other SGA members will be Dot Harrell, Girls Dormitory Representative; Wayne Studdard, Boy's Dormitory Representative; Patricie Luke, Girl's Town Representative; and John Baskin, Boy's Town Representative.

Brinkley McNeal will be Senior Girl Representative and Doug Parrish Senior Boy's Representative.

Junior Girl and Boy Representatives will be Barbara Monk and Tony Corso.

Kay Domingos and George Bennett will represent the sophomore class.

The class officers elected were, by classes: Jerome Clegg, President; Gene Peacock, Vice-President; Laura Nell Bowen, Secretary; and Dewey Hulsey, Treasurer of the Senior class.

Junior class officers will be Tony Corso, President; Robert Baker, Vice-President; Marilyn Hughes, Secretary; and Tommy Sessions, Treasurer.

The Sophomore class will be led by President Mike Laslie, Vice-President Sue Wright, Secretary Betty Pace, and Treasurer Sandra Massey.

Art Exhibit Planned Soon

The art students here at VSC will present an art exhibit in the upper Rotunda of Ashley Hall, beginning on Honor's Day, May 6, and running through Sunday, May 10, according to an announcement made by Joseph W. Pember, head of the Art Department.

Mr. Pember said that the exhibit will display work done by the students in the Art Structure, Commercial Art, and Ceramics classes. Final selection of the pieces to be exhibited has not yet been made.

The exhibit selection committee will choose the best of the work by the students in these classes, and the students themselves will hang the works in the Rotunda. There will be no oil paintings in this exhibit, but there will be many excellent drawings by the Art Structure students and by the Commercial Art students, with several outstanding examples of students' work in ceramic.

All members of the student body are invited to view the exhibit while it is on display, and to examine the art studios when classes are not being held.

New Painting In Library

The VSC Art Department has just placed a new painting on exhibit in the Library. This painting is the work of Louise Wight, a sophomore from Cairo, Georgia.

Miss Wight's painting is a stained glass window design, after examples dating from Renaissance times. It is done in oils on a canvas panel.

Walters, Vaughn Give Brilliant Voice Recital

Ed note—This article was written by a voice student at the request of the editors.

From the stage of Pound Hall Auditorium last Monday night came music that thrilled the large audience who sat in pleased enjoyment.

Miss Marcia Walters and Mr. Stephen Vaughn both performed in a most admirable manner, illustrating talent and ability that is necessary for excellent musicianship.

Miss Walters soprano, sang her selection with control, tone and meaning that would rival an experienced opera star. The difficult aria "Caro Nome" from "Rigoletto" was handled skillfully and with beauty.

Mr. Vaughn, baritone, gave a most impressive performance with his varied selections. An outstanding selection was "Avant de Quitter ces Lieux" from "Faust" which certainly received justice in its interpretation and quality of voice.

The duet "Cruelle Perche Flonora," from "The Marriage of Figaro", was a superior rendition of a beautiful song. These two voices blended in song only emphasized the musicianship possessed by the singers.

The Music Department, their instructor Mr. Clayton Logan, and the school may justly be proud that this young man and woman received

Student-Faculty Picnic Planned By SGA

The SGA has announced that the First Annual Student-Faculty Picnic will be held this year on May 1 at Twin Lakes in the 4H Club area. It is to begin at 2 p.m. and last until 6:00 p.m.

Dormitory students who attend will be admitted free, in lieu of the meal they will miss in the dining hall. Off campus students will be charged a nominal fee of fifty cents per person.

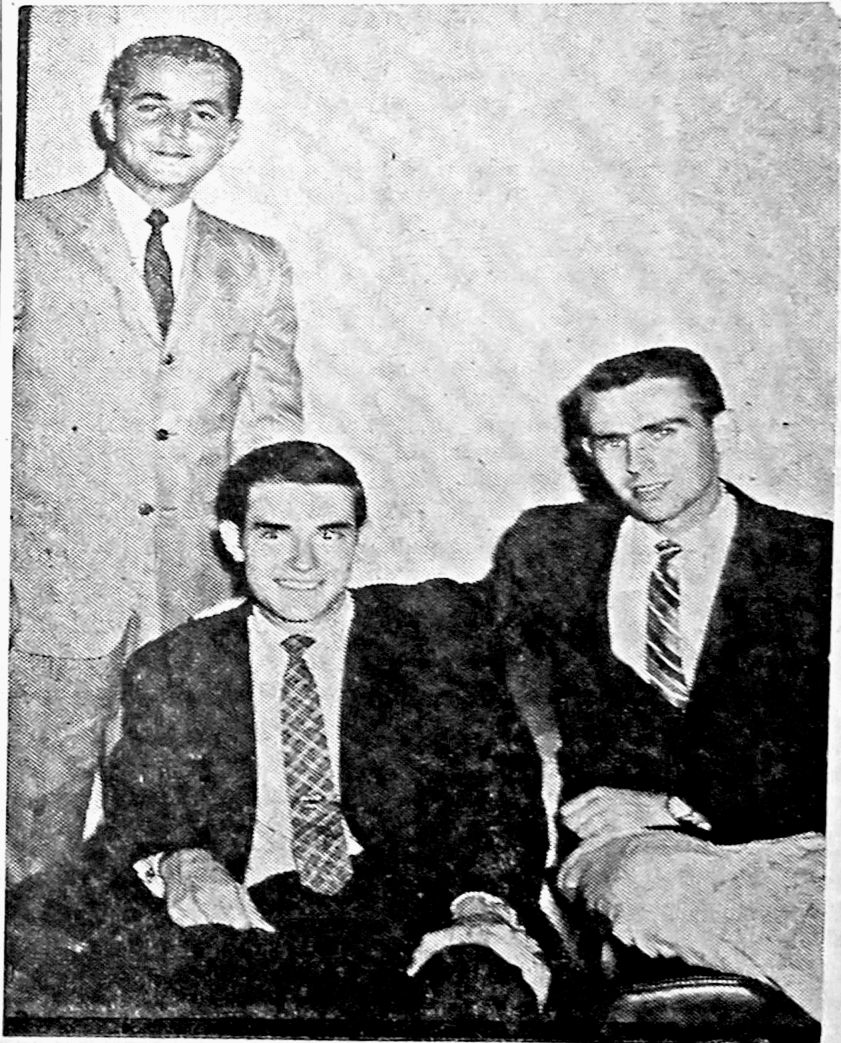

Joe Smith, who is making arrangements for the picnic, said he expected well over a hundred members of the student body and the faculty to attend.

Pi Kapps Sponsoring Rod and Reel Raffle

The brothers and pledges of Beta Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity are sponsoring a raffle consisting of a fiber glass rod and spinning reel.

Tickets are now being sold for 25c each or five for $1.00. This project will continue through May 9, at which time the drawing will be held at the Campus Student Center.

ed their training at V. S. C. I wish them the best in life and am confident that they will advance far and rapidly in the field of music.

Pi Kappa To Have Rose Ball

The brothers of Delta Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi at Valdosta State College are in the final stages of preparing for their first annual Pi Kappa Phi Rose Ball.

Pi Kappa alumni are cordially invited to attend this gala event and also the student body of VSC. Music will be featured by Ernie Cortez and the Crescendos. This big event on the VSC Campus will be held at 8:00 P.M., Saturday, April 25th. Admission is $1.00 per couple.

If you don't have your ticket yet, see one of the brothers of Pi Kappa and plan to come on out and enjoy the dance.

DILLARD ENSLEY

AS I SEE IT . . .

When the news of Secretary of State Dulles' current illness was announced to the public, the governmental leaders of the European nations turned their attention to the United States. They were anxious to see what the immediate action of the state department would be.

Now, nearly two months after this problem first arose, 64-year-old Christian A. Herter has been nominated for Secretary of State by President Eisenhower.

The general opinion among government officials on Capitol Hill was that the president was having quite a bit of trouble choosing the right man to carry on the duties of the state department. Under Secretary Christian Herter was considered capable, but he didn't seem to have a robust demanding personality.

Assistant Secretary C. Douglas Dillon, equipped with the tools with which to operate, had only a limited amount of experience in diplomatic relations abroad.

The immediate picture did not indicate a strong and capable man to take charge of the forthcoming negotiations, and the general opinion was that a strong man would be necessary if the United States and her Western Allies hoped to be successful in the Berlin Conference.

History reveals the fact that in the past strong men were necessary to cope with the emergencies that arose. For instance, John Hay was a capable man who worked out the Open Door Policy in China. Teddy Roosevelt stepped forth with his "speak softly and carry a big stick" policy. Woodrow Wilson ably and carefully worked out the foundation for the Old League of Nations following World War I. These are just a few cases in history where a strong leader was necessary to accomplish the final goal.

On Saturday, April 18th, President Eisenhower publicly announced that Christian A. Herter had been appointed Secretary of State. He also stated that the path has been cleared to get Herter quickly on his way as the country's number one diplomat.

The announcement was made in a quiet but dramatic news conference at the Augusta National Golf Club, the chief executive's favorite Georgia vacation spot. It now appears that few people were surprised at Mr. Herter's appointment, — only the element of "when" had been in doubt.

This morning Mr. Herter's nomination went before the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee under the leadership of Senator Fulbright. Supposedly this will be only a formal acceptance of Mr. Eisenhower's appointment since the majority of the political leaders agree that Mr. Herter is naturally the best choice for the position. The nomination will go before the Senate later on this week.

Sec. Herter will have very little time in which to prepare himself for the European Negotiations. He will soon leave for Europe as the United States representative at the April 29 meeting of Western foreign ministers in Paris. He also will lead the U. S. delegation to the Geneva conference of foreign ministers with the Soviet Union on May 11.

Mr. MacMillan and other members of the English government have been looking upon the American situation with mixed emotions. However, it is quite easy to see that MacMillan is somewhat disgusted with the haphazard way in which the United States has handled the problem of selecting a new chief of the State Department. He would like to have been certain that either Mr. Dulles or Mr. Eisenhower would be at the summit talks — this may be because he has a personal interest in the outcome. The English people have a general election in the near future.

The main item of discussion among the Americans, and especially among the American political critics, is whether Mr. Herter will be as strong in diplomatic negotiations as Mr. Dulles would have been if he had been able to continue. Everyone agrees that the newly-appointed Secretary has the skill and intellect with which to carry on the duties of the department, but his main weakness seems to be that he does not have a strong reputation in foreign affairs.

Whether Mr. Herter will follow the directions of the President; whether he will take the initiative and prove to be a leading figure at the conference; or whether he will fail in negotiating a firm agreement with the Soviet Union; one thing is certain. The peoples of other nations are waiting, watching, wondering — wondering if Sec. Herter will be the strong man who will intelligently cope with the present situation.

No matter what happens — "the eyes of the world are upon us."

Lawyers Day Set May 1st

On May 1st the American Bar Association and lawyers across the land will observe Lawyer's Day. The purpose of this is for members of the legal to stand back and take an objective look at what can be done, or has to be done, to rectify shortcomings in their field. Lawyer's Day is the opportunity for the lawyer to ask himself how he can serve humanity more completely and more justly.

The lawyer is strictly a democratic institution. His purpose is to represent people who are not acquainted well enough with the law to know their specific rights. The lawyer works hard and diligently. If he is publicly popular, politically popular, and of exceptional calibre, he might enter politics. He may try to become a judge, an administrator, or even a legislator. The legislator is usually a representative of the people, elected by them and from their particular district. He helps make the laws. The judicial man, as the name implies, is the judge. In this modern day of political turmoil, the function of the judicial branch is often misunderstood. The judicial branch of the government was created to interpret the law after the legislative body enacts it. The role of the executive, or administrative, branch of government is to enforce the law.

At least this is how our forefathers intended the government to be set up. The most important judges of the land, the Supreme Court, are not elected by the people, but are appointed by the president. If there is a vacancy on the court the president of the country may appoint a man who reflects his own ideological impressions. This is, in itself, a practice which is justifiable. Even though the court may be acting on behalf of the president, the congress is still the representative body of a sovereign people. And the people's representatives are supposed to enact the laws of the land.

Where and when was the Supreme Court given power to initiate legislation? Let us remember that this body, more than any other, reflects the views of one man, the president. Ever since Franklin D. Roosevelt threatened to add more judges of his own choosing to the Supreme Court, this body has been at the call of the president. If this is the case, we can then deduce that the president can run the country without the cooperation of Congress by simply telling the Supreme Court what laws to set up and what laws to take down. Democracy is defined as government by the people, where the supreme authority is in the hands of the people or their representatives. On the other hand, an oligarchy is defined as a government where the power is vested in the hands of a few persons.

When we read about some foreign country which is ruled by a dictator, we say, "That could never happen here." Isn't it possible that America has paid so much attention to foreign matters that she has neglected herself? There is an old proverb that says, "Charity begins at home."

Adams, Jefferson, and Washington would not be proud to see what we have done with the beautiful thing that they created. It has slipped out of our hands and the people are once again on the well worn road to subservency. The Germans, the English, the Russians, and the Chinese have all traveled this pathway. Must we

An Elegy For Great Men

By Gene Deal

The recent death of Frank Lloyd Wright came as a distinct shock. Somehow he had seemed to me to be immortal, as befitting a god of the architectural world. In my early memories he was spoken of with the reverence reserved for legends. This man who had helped to change the face of the earth would go on forever with his work. And yet he was dead.

Wright's death jarred me into a realization that the last fifteen years have been especially disrespectful of great men. Many of the great men of our time have died since the end of the Second World War, and others, like Churchill, are rapidly approaching their end.

Franklin D. Roosevelt died April 12, 1945. He had been President of the United States longer than any other person, he had guided the U. S. out of the Great Depression and through a world war. He too had seemed immortal. But before he died he had changed the U. S. economy from a laissez faire capitalism to a moderate form of socialism.

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi was another of the seeming immortals. He inaugurated passive resistance in 1893 in South Africa, but after WW I he returned to his native India, where he became religious leader of the Hindus and was instrumental in gaining India's independence from Great Britain. He was assassinated in 1947.

The year 1950 marked the death of George Bernard Shaw, the man who was primarily responsible for the rebirth of English drama between 1890 and WW I. His plays had great social significance, often reflecting the socialistic point of view. His eccentricities and caustic remarks had made him a legend in his own time. But he who had gained literary immortality had also succumbed to physical mortality.

All who are here at VSC probably mourned the death of the greatest man of our time when he died in 1955 at the age of 76. Few men in history have had as great an effect upon the world as has this man who gave to mankind a new concept of the universe and opened the door to our modern world. His name? Albert Einstein.

In the field of music Arturo Toscanini was looked upon as the greatest conductor of our time. In 1937 the NBC Symphony Orchestra was formed to his specifications with him as conductor. This orchestra was composed of some of the greatest musicians in the world, and was welded together into the most precision musical group in existence through Toscanini's genius. His death in 1957 was a sad event for all music lovers.

That same year also marked the death of one of the greatest statesmen of our time, Georgia's own Walter F. George. As head of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he exerted a great influence upon world politics, but was noted for his bipartisan attitude.

The year 1959 is still young but it has already claimed the lives of two of the great men of our time. The first to go was Cecil B. De Mille, one of the all time great movie producers. And now Frank Lloyd Wright.

Looking back over these few years it is easy to see what the world has lost. These men were giants, standing head and shoulders above everyone else in their fields. Looking around us today we become aware of what we are about to lose when we see Churchill retired, and old and feeble. But the most depressing thing is to look toward the future.

The great men of our time are either dead or dying. Where are the young men who must replace them?

Political Parties At VSC?

How can VSC solve the problem of student apathy toward office-holding in the S.G.A. and class governments? Every year the SGA has to draft students to run for these offices.

One possible solution would be the creation of political parties on campus, to debate issues concerning the students at this school and to nominate candidates from within the party ranks to run for office.

also walk the last mile?

No! There is a way out. The people of this country are still in possession of enough of their legal rights to cut this cancerous element out of our society. The legislators and the lawyers can help us do this. The lawyers of today, just like the statesmen and lawyers of the past (such as Franklin, Lincoln, and Jefferson) are standing for individual sovereignty. Let us take our hats off to, and support, the lawyers of our community who are working so diligently to protect our rights. This is the way, and the only way, that WE THE PEOPLE can expect to remain safe.

Any campus with over five hundred students should be able to support at least two parties. If the fraternities, sororities, and other organizations at VSC would back such a movement these parties could be formed during fall quarter of next year.

These organizations would have to urge their members to join a party, without trying to impress an organizational platform upon the party. A campus political party should not be dominated by any one organization, but represent the students directly.

The two parties could be named the Reds and the Blacks (from the school colors) and represent the liberal and conservative points of view. The students would then be organized in such a way that they could effectively work for changes that they would like to see made on this campus.

At the beginning of next year the SGA could call for a meeting of club heads to discuss ways of getting these parties started, perhaps by holding separate meetings of interested persons who are

Alpha Chi And Sigma Alpha Chi Hold Joint Meeting Plan For Honors Day

Last Wednesday night at 7:30 Alpha Chi National Honor Society and Sigma Alpha Chi, the local honor society, held a joint meeting to plan for Honor's Day and to hear a report on the recent National Convention of Alpha Chi. At this meeting Sigma Alpha Chi also elected new officers for the coming year.

This was the first time that the two honor societies have held a joint meeting, but there will probably be many more in the years to come. These joint meetings would do much to enable the organizations to present better programs to the members, since there would be less duplication by the two societies.

The members decided to hold two rehearsals for the Honor's Day program. The first will be on Monday, May 4, and the second on the following day, both at assembly period. Honor's Day is planned for Wednesday, May 6. (Details appear in another article. Ed.)

Gail Parrish and Gene Deal gave a report on their trip to Denton, Texas, to attend the Alpha Chi Convention. Since he was the official delegate, Gene reported on the business aspects of the meeting, while Gail told of the cultural and social highlights. The delegates voted to raise yearly dues from $3.00 to $4.50, with a maximum of $6.00, said Gene. He also mentioned that it was brought out by Dr. Paul J. Schwab that every year each chapter could propose two graduates of the college for honorary membership in Alpha Chi, but that final approval lay with the National Council. It was decided to take this matter under consideration here.

Gail made it quite evident in her report that she and Gene, along with the delegates from South Carolina and Utah, were treated as honored guests, since it was the first time any of these chapters had been represented at a National Convention. After delivering a brief resume of the student program, she delivered a brilliant summary of a lecture given by Louis Untermeyer, the famous author and editor of more than sixty volumes of prose and verse. She was given a booming round of applause when she finished.

With Vice-president Glenda Ellis presiding in place of President Darlene Wallace, Sigma Alpha Chi selected its officers for next year. Dillard Ensley was chosen President, and Laura Nell Bowen his Vice-president. Charlotte Chapman won the job of Secretary. The purse-strings will be managed by Treasurer Phillip Dillard, while the duties of Historian-Reporter will be handled by Gene Deal.

Political Parties

This would give the parties time to decide issues, familiarize the student body with their platforms, choose candidates, and conduct a campaign before election time next spring.

These political parties could help to develop and inspire leadership on campus, by seeking out promising young students in the freshman and sophomore classes and grooming them for the top positions in the SGA and other organizations.

Besides providing for better leadership here at VSC, the party system would help to give the students a better education in practical politics than they now receive, thus enabling them to take a more effective role in the running of our nation and state after they graduate.

Certainly it is worth a try.

Pi Kapps To Offer Spinning Rod And Reel

The Pi Kappa Phi fraternity would like to urge everyone to buy a chance on a Spinning Rod and Reel to be given away on May 9th. Chances are 25c or 5 for one dollar. Don't miss this opportunity. See a TKQ brother today and buy a chance. It will be given away May 9.

Honor's Day

(Continued from Page One) Sigma Alpha Chi will present its annual Marga and Mac Awards to the outstanding boy and girl in the junior college and the senior college. Also, certificates will be presented to the graduating members of the organization.

During the program the VSC students who have been selected for this year's Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities will be recognized.

There will be various other departmental awards given a swell. Lunch for the guests will begin at 12:45.

Alpha Delta Pi Sponsors "King Ugly" Contest

Who will be "King Ugly." You will find out on Wednesday, April 29, 1959 when he is crowned in assembly.

Delta Theta urges everyone to get busy and support the candidate of his choice. There are jars on tables in the student center with pictures of the candidates on them. Be sure to pick one out and drop in your pennies, nickles, and dimes. Remember each penny equals one vote!

In order to be sure you know who is entered in the contest a list of the candidates and their sponsors follows:

Jimmy Broxton is sponsored by Circle K; Dr. Thaxton by Kappa Delta; Buck Ethredge by the Dance Club; Charles Greene by Tau Kappa Epsilon; Mr. Cottingham by Alpha Xi Delta; and Mr. Gabard sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi.

Delta Theta chapter sent Pam Paulk as representative to the Southeastern Panhellenic Conference which was held in Tallahassee, Florida on April 17 and 18th.

Jo Seagraves and Penny Williams represented Delta Theta chapter at AAT State Day which was held in Gainesville, Georgia on April 18.

Five AD Pi's are planning a trip to Atlanta on May 8th, 9th, and 10th to attend the installation ceremonies of Delta Alpha Chapter of AAT on the Emory University campus.

Delta Theta chapter has recently been hostess to AXID and KD sororities at informal gatherings in their newly decorated chapter room. Light refreshments of cokes and several kinds of cookies were served by the sisters. We topped off the evenings by singing our sorority songs. We feel that a good Canopus.

Delta Theta chapter was recently honored by a visit from their Province President Mrs. P. M. Prescott. Her visit extended over the 6th, 7th, and 8th of April. We enjoyed her visit, and found in her an unflinching source of help and (Continued on Page Four)

The Photography Club has had two very interesting meetings during the past month.

Each member brought his camera to the first of these two meetings and enjoyed taking indoor pictures with the use of flood lights. This was done under the direction of Tommy Sessions, program chairman for the evening.

Miss Hambrick was in charge of the second of these two meetings. She demonstrated how to develop the film which the members had taken at the previous meeting. High interest was shown at both meetings, and it is hoped that we will have many more such meetings in the future.

Ministerial Assoc Elects Officers

The Ministerial Association met in a called meeting April 21 for the purpose of electing officers for next year. Officers were elected as follows: Vance Mathis, president; Bill Wentworth, vice-president; Virgil Lee, secretary; Joe Webb, treasurer; and Mr. Gabard will continue to serve as counselor.

After the business meeting, Doyle Wetherington brought an inspiring message based on Paul's words to Timothy, "Let no man despise thy youth." Among the points that the Rev. Wetherington brought out were, that though we are young we must avail ourselves to every opportunity to witness and to win for Christ's sake. We must bear the marks of a Christian at all times that others will see Christ in us. We must have a burning desire to be of service to others, and especially to our fellow students. He further pointed out that this school can be a workshop in which we can improve upon our potentialities. In concluding, the Rev. Mr. Wetherington urged dependability among the newly elected officers.

The next meeting of the association will be held May 5, in the college dining hall where the quarterly association luncheon will be held. There will be a guest speaker, and all who plan to enter into any phase of Christian work are cordially invited to attend. Those who are interested in coming to the next meeting will please contact Don Powell before May 5 in order that a reservation may be made with the college dietician.

Prom trotter

She's the queen of the campus, and of course she favors you know what... the cold crisp taste of Coca-Cola. She knows that anytime, everywhere, Coke is the real refreshment. We don't say that the secret of her success is Coca-Cola... but it helps!

DOT HARRELL and BOBBY COLEMAN

Dot Harrell and Bobby Coleman Chosen As Week's Personalities

For personalities this week, Dot Harrell and Bob Coleman have the spotlight. These two people would be a credit to any campus and VSC is happy to claim them as her own.

Dot, a junior from Donaldsonville, Georgia, is a secretarial science major with a minor in economics. She intends to complete her studies here and then to work as a legal secretary.

Very active on campus, she is the new President of Alpha Zeta Delta, incoming president of the Pan Hellenic Council and girls dormitory representative to the Student Government Association. She was photography editor of the 1959 Pine Cone, a reporter for the Business Club, and is First Vice-President of W.R.H.C.

Her hobbies include swimming, dancing and especially parties and partying. She likes boys, men, apple pie, charcole steaks and basketball and baseball.

When Dot transferred to VSC from GSCW, it was their loss, and VSC's gain.

Luke, Secretary; and Mike Laslie, Treasurer

Mr. Charles Shaw, a former V. S. C. student, who represents a pharmaceutical company in this area, spoke to the group on new drugs, research programs, and career opportunities in this field.

Dr. Nevins attended the meeting of the Georgia Council on Teacher Education at Rock Eagle 4-H Club Center near Eatonton, Georgia, on April 19-21. There were limited intervals between meetings-usually during the lunch hour—to observe the beauty of this huge natural "garden" and to collect for class use and for the college herbarium some interesting botanical specimens, which are not found in South eGeorgia.

A well-known figure around campus, Bob Coleman, is the second personality. Bob who is a senior will graduate in June with a major in History and minor in English. After graduating, he plans to go back to law school. Already he has attended some at Walter F. George School of Law in Macon.

During the past year, he has done an excellent job as treasurer of the Student Government Association. He is also President of Sigma Phi Epsilon and is President of the IRC Club. In the past he has been International Trustee of Circle K, a representative of IFC, business manager of the Campus Canopy and a member of the Pine Cone staff.

Bob, who is from Valdosta, is very much interested in the Greek organizations on campus and feels that these organizations are beginning to offer services which have been badly needed in the past. He is fond of all sports, loves TV, and steak.

Because Bob participates so much himself in campus activities, he states the opinion of most of the people who do participate here. "If you can't beat it, don't knock it." This to the non-participants who gripe.

Congratulations to Dot and Bob for the school spirit they possess and may they be an example to others.

"Ugly" Contest

Delta Theta is proud to announce that the following AD Pi's were elected to office in the election held April 15, 1959: Marilyn Hughes, Secretary of the junior class; Patricia Luke, girltown representative to the S. G. A.

VSC Students Attend Alpha Chi Convention

Recently two VSC students, Gail Parrish and Gene Deal, attended the National Convention of Alpha Chi National Honor Society, held this year in Denton, Texas, at Texas Woman's University on April third and fourth. This was the first time that the local Alpha Chi chapter has sent delegates, since the chapter was formed only last May.

The highlight of the trip for the VSC delegates was their meeting and talking with Dr. Paul J. Schwab of Trinity University, Texas, the President of the National Council of Alpha Chi. During these talks it was emphasized that VSC has one of the six chapters that are not in either of the two regions of the Society. Dr. Schwab suggested that the members of the local chapter work with the chapter at Lander College in Greenwood, S. C., to organize new chapters in the Southeast, because as soon as there are from five to ten chapters in this area it will be possible to form a third region.

Another inspiring aspect of the convention was the Student Program, presented for the first time this year. The students performed and read papers which they had written concerning the theme for this year's convention, "The Responsibilities of the Academically Superior." Valdosta State was represented on this program by Gene Deal, who read his paper entitled "Academic and Intellectual Superiority."

At a special program on Friday night (April 3) the delegates heard

Mr. Clyde Connell of the Biology Department attended the annual meeting of the association of Southeastern Biologists at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, where he presented a paper before the Animal and General Ecology Session on Friday, April 17. The subject of Mr. Connell's report is Seasonal Lipid Levels in Key Population Groups of an Old Field Ecosystem.

We are interested in compiling a list of those Math-Science graduates of V.S.C. who are now members of college or university faculty (biochemistry). Please tell us if you know of any others, who should be included.

Dr. Duvall and Mr. Lindaurer attended the American Chemical Society meeting at Florida State University on April 21. Dr. Selmer of Charles Pfizer and Company spoke on the subject of Antibiotic Chemistry.

Watch the large bulletin board in the basement of Pound Hall. It is twenty-four feet long and covers much of the wall space in the hall between bacteriology and zoology laboratories. We hope that it will provide space to post at least some of the notices which

Mr. Louis Untermeyer give a lecture on "What Makes Modern Poetry Modern," or, as he put it, "How to Hate Poetry in Three Easy Lessons." Mr. Untermeyer is a widely known lecturer and critic, and is the author and editor of more than sixty volumes of prose and verse. His lecture was always witty, sometimes satirical, and very informative, especially on the topic of how to teach poetry.
