Well with the big Russian and his party of about 200 having been in the country, it is nice to see everyone made it back. (Did you see his turbo jet? It proves what I've always said, it takes something big to carry a "bag of wind".)

As editor of the campus newspaper I would like to welcome the new students (Freshmen and transfer) and of course the students who are old hands at this college bit. A warm welcome is extended also to the new professors (I think you freshmen are going to enjoy those freshmen English courses.) and the former ones returning.

In just a few weeks the organizations on the campus will swing into action. It would be nice if each student would set his or her own goal to become a member of at least one organization.

Of organizations, we have social and service. Honorary and religious. We even have clubs of special interest. Then there are professional and athletic groups. Are you or do you plan to be a member of just one?

Though to be a member of an organization entails more than only being on its roster. It means attending the meetings (some of them scheduled as infrequently as once a month), joining in on discussions, meeting the guest speakers, and just plain being proud to say you're a member. That's when you can call yourself a real organization man or woman.

Each of the 30 organizations that are on campus prides itself on molding responsible men; and women; building leaders. Remember "from organization men grow BMOG (Big Men on Campus)".

But more than that, from organization men grow leaders of men. This is the important by-product available with a well rounded college education, if you work for it. The student who leaves college a leader will remain a leader; he can't lose.

Our fine national and local social fraternities and sororities all strive to make their member years in college rewarding and memorable ones. The honorary and service groups further outstanding scholarship and service to the college. The religious groups meet weekly, sponsor vespers and stand to remind students of their religious needs and responsibilities.

There is probably a club of some kind for students of every field of academic, professional, social and athletic interest.

Out of these many varied organizations, there's one (or more) for you. Find it. Join. You'll never regret it.

I'll close this time with a quote from Walter Winchell "I hope the big Russian bear has returned to his zoo safely."

RATTING ENDS WITH COURT

VSC Freshmen Initiated Here Last Monday

RAT DAY - 1959

Each night of the week, Sept. 28 to Oct. 3, the freshmen were ratted from 7 to 8 o'clock. The ratching took place in front of Converse Hall and in the Student Center. The sessions were not long since both freshmen and upperclassmen had to return to their studies, however, every one enjoyed them.

Monday, Oct. 5, was Rat Day. The Rats dressed in their costumes early that morning and wore them for the day. At eight o'clock, the rats dressed in old clothes and went to the gym, where each went through the soap line. From there they went into the gym for court.

Presiding over the court were John Jackson, Judge, and Steve Sebits, prosecuting attorney. Present also were the jury, the hangmen, dracular and two Valdosta policemen.

After the Military Tribunal trials the defendants received punishment. They were required to sit on or have poured on them eggs, catsup, mustard, water, flour and spaghetti.

The Student Government wishes to thank each one who helped to make ratching a success.

1960 Maid of Cotton May Come From Valdosta State College

A VSC lass may be the 1960 Maid of Cotton for which the search is officially under way. The girl selected will open an international tour in Washington D. C., in late January.

It's entirely possible, the National Cotton Council points out, that the Cotton Belt beauty who wins this honor will come from a college campus. Nineteen of the 20 Maids to date have been coeds or recent graduates at the time of their selection.

The 1959 Maid of Cotton, Malinda Berry of Stillwater, Oklahoma, has returned to her studies at Oklahoma State University following completion of her tour for the cotton industry. A junior in the School of Education, she plans to be an elementary school teacher.

Malinda, however, will be on hand to congratulate her successor when she is named on the night of December 30th at Ellis Auditorium in Memphis, Tenn. Twenty contestants will be named to compete in the two-day finals of the 1960 Maid of Cotton contest.

Immediately after her selection, the winner will depart for New York where she will be outfitted in her all-cotton wardrobe styled by the nation's top designers. The first showing of her new wardrobe will take place on January 21st at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Following her appearance in Washington on January 25-27, the cotton industry's 22nd fashion and good will representative will make a coast-to-coast tour of the United States. She also will visit key Canadian and leading European cities to be announced later.

To be eligible to enter the Maid of Cotton contest, a girl must have been born in one of the 18 cotton-producing states and must never have been married. She must be between the ages of 19 and 25 and must be at least five feet, five inches tall.

Official entry blanks may be obtained from the National Cotton Council, Box 9905, Memphis 12,

Sock And Buskin Club To Produce Three Act Play 'Angel Street' Soon

The Sock and Buskin Club with the assistance of play production class 300 will produce the three act play "Angel Street" on Nov. 17, 18, 19.

The play is a Victorian thriller by Patrick Hamilton and will be done in the costumes of the period, 1880. It was first produced in London under the title of "Gaslight" and was a smash hit when it was on Broadway as "Angel Street". Several years later it was made into a motion picture with Ingrid Bergman.

The cast calls for 4 men (2 walk ons), and 3 women. Arrangements will be made for tryouts and a notice as to place and time will be posted in the lobby of the ad building.

Copies of the play will be placed on reserve in the library at the same time so that interested persons may read them before the tryouts.

CAMPUS CO-ED

NANCY RAINES

A LOVELY SOUTHERN BELLE - Co-ed of the week is Nancy Raines of Ashburn, Georgia. She resides in Converse Hall and is majoring in pre-pharmacy. She is interested in dramatics and has done a great deal of work in this field.

EDITORIALS

Canopy Policy

It has been customary for the Campus Canopy to publish what its policy will be for the coming year.

The editorial policy will be confined to comment on the local scene and on the college level.

We believe the purpose of the college newspaper is to comment and report editorially on issues vital to the college.

All material presented objectively and impartially with the exception of the editorial page where opinions and comments will be presented.

Two types of articles will be presented here those signed columns written by staff members or individuals and unsigned editorials. Signed columns will reflect individual opinions not necessarily the same as the views of the Campus Canopy Staff.

The Editor, associate editors, and business manager were selected by a student faculty committee. All other staff members are appointed by the editor.

In conclusion we will at all times try to keep the doors of the Canopy open, the mental as well as the physical doors, so that all will have a right to express themselves to an open mind.

We will try to improve school spirit by getting behind the student activities program and supporting it.

We will at all times strive to keep the student body informed and aware of the needs and the accomplishments of the college.

Letters To Editor

All letters to the editor must be typewritten. Two copies made. One copy is to be signed by the writer using his correct name. This copy is for the Canopy files and will only be seen by the editor who will not reveal to anyone whom the writer is unless the writer must be called in to answer to the administration for what he has written.

The other copy of a letter may be signed anyway the writer wishes, with any pen name he or she chooses to use. In the event the writer does not mind the editors using his correct name, only one copy will be needed by the editors.

All copies of letters to the editor will be filed in the private file of the editor and will only be seen by himself or in a case such as stated above. Any comments on anything will be accepted in letters to the editor.

State Department Slates Service Officer Exam

In response to thousands of inquiries received from all areas of the country concerning a career with the Foreign Service officer corps, the State Department is again announcing that the next written Foreign Service Officer examination will be held on Dec. 5, 1959, in approximately 65 centers throughout the United States and at Foreign Service posts abroad.

In recruiting officers in the past, the Foreign Service has sought young men and women with broad and general backgrounds. The need for such "generalist" officers has not lessened but, with the more varied types of positions now being filled by Foreign Service officers, there is an increased need also for persons with specialized training.

The Foreign Service requires officers who will specialize in such fields as public and business administration, and economics, as well as in language and area studies, international labor affairs, and political science.

Within the next few weeks Foreign Service officers will visit a large number of colleges and universities throughout the continental United States and Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico to explain fully the opportunities in the Foreign Service which await qualified young men and women.

To be eligible to take this examination in December, candidates must be at least 21 and under 32 years of age as of October 19, 1959, the closing date for receipt of applications. Persons 20 years of age may apply only if they hold a bachelor's degree or are seniors in college. Applicants must be American citizens of at least 9 years' standing, and, although a candidate's spouse need not be a citizen on the date of the examination, citizenship must have been attained prior to the date of appointment.

Those successful in the one-day written examination, which tests the candidate's facility in English expression, general ability and background, and foreign language proficiency (French, German, Spanish, or Russian) will, within nine months, be given an oral examination by panels throughout the United States. Candidates recommended by oral examining panels will then be given a physical examination and a background investigation.

A candidate eligible in all other respects may be appointed as a Foreign Service officer without having passed the language test, but his appointment will be subject to the conditions that he may neither be promoted to a higher class nor be retained in the Service unless, within a specified period of time, he passes a written or an oral examination in a modern foreign language acceptable to the Department.

Qualified candidates will be placed on a register in the order of examination scores, and appointments will be made from it as needed. The names of candidates failing to receive appointments within 30 months from the date of the written examination

Why Come To College

In this issue of the Canopy I'm breaking what has been a long-standing rule with me. I am writing in the first person, and about myself.

Everyone at VSC has some reason for being here. Some are here to please their parents, others to put off having to earn a living for four more years. But most of the students are here so they can get a better job with higher pay after graduation.

Only these last have a satisfactory reason for being here. The others are merely taking up space and teaching energy that should be going to students who really desire an education.

But here another problem arises.

Does a person who specializes in one field, such as math, English, education, business, get a true education? I think not. Such a person has a marked educational background.

I am an ardent advocate of a well-rounded education which includes math, science, English, history, a foreign language, and at least a deep appreciation of the fine arts. Nor am I alone on this campus. There are several others I know of who hold to the same belief.

Why should I want such a broad background? At one time my stock answer was, simply, "I have a thirst for knowledge." This answer is unsatisfactory, for I now realize that what I have is an insatiable thirst for understanding. I want to understand everything around me - the people, society, the past, the universe in which I live.

You may say that such understanding is impossible to obtain. Maybe it is. But I'm certainly going to try.

will be removed from this register provided, however, that time spent in required active military service subsequent to establishing eligibility for appointment will not be counted. Upon appointment, candidates will receive three commissions from the President as Foreign Service officer, Secretary in the Diplomatic Service, and Vice Consul of Career. All appointments as Foreign Service officers are subject to confirmation by the United States Senate.

A newly appointed Foreign Service officer may serve his first tour of duty (normally of 2 years duration) either in the Departments' headquarters in Washington, D. C. or at one of the 286 American Embassies, Legations, and Consulates abroad. The starting salary ranges from $5,225 to $5,885 per year, depending upon the qualifications, experience, marital status, and age at the time of appointment. In addition, certain allowances plus insurance, medical, educational, and retirement benefits are granted, as well as annual and sick leave.

Application forms and other information may be obtained immediately by writing to the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. All applications to take the written examination must be received by the close of business October 19, 1959.

SOCIETY

THE LATEST WORD

By Sandra Massey

Well, fall is in the air once again and classes have begun. We are glad to see a fresh batch of little red and black beanies" around the campus who are in the form of freshmen. Transfer students are always welcome too and we're glad to see many of them.

To all of you and those who have returned for their second, third, or fourth time, the Canopy staff says WELCOME!

Summer being over and conversation being full of summer memories, sometimes we hear about a special "him" or a special "her".

There are several lucky girls who acquired that little ornament that goes on the third finger of the left hand, others that have gotten that contested thing called a frat pin, others are going steady, while some are still "just hoping".

The rotunda of Ashley Hall was the place of the Panhellenic Tea on the afternoon of September 29 from 4:00 to 5:00. The tea is held annually for the entire group of girls who are going out for sorority rush.

There were approximately fifty rushees in attendance and the girls from the three sororities plus alumni. In attendance also were Mrs. Joe Wesenbaker, Dean of Women, Miss Jill Beshell, traveling secretary of Alpha Delta Pi, and Mrs. Howard, past National vice president of Alpha Xi Delta.

The rotunda was beautifully decorated with greenery and the punch table was arranged with an arrangement of roses and carnations.

The presidents of the three sororities, Dorothy Harrell, Alpha Xi, Barbara Jo Seagraves, ADPI, and Sandra Massey, KD, each gave a short resumé of their groups work, founding, and the necessary fees.

The rushees were informed to pick up their invitations to the parties on Monday morning in Mrs. Wesenbaker's office.

Because of the vacancies left by Pam Paulk, president, and Chandler Christian, treasurer, the Alpha Delta Pi sorority held election of officers last week. Those elected were:

Jo Seagraves, president; Marie Smith, vice president; Elaine Studstill, secretary; and Gail Luke, treasurer.

Fraternities are really having a busy week. Monday night there was a smoker in the House - in - the - Woods sponsored by the Inter-fraternity Council for all rushees.

The rushees entered the room and went around to look at the displays of the three fraternities.

These included flags, scrapbooks, literature, and other fraternity paraphernalia from each respective fraternity. Then the men received information concerning the rushing procedure from the officers of the Inter-fraternity Council and invitations to the three rush parties.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity had the kick-off rush party on Tuesday night at the C and S Bank's lodge. The decorations carried out the fraternity's colors Red and Gray.

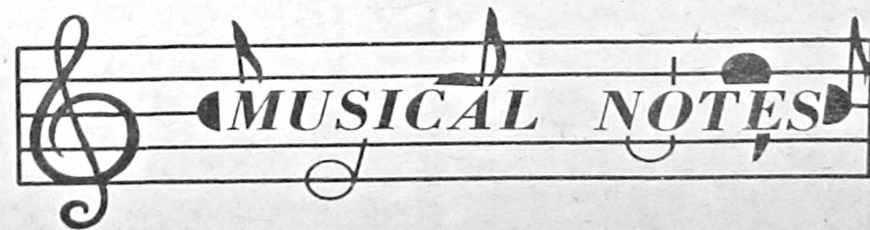

The Pi Kappa Phi's had their rush party Wednesday evening in the House - in - the - Woods.

The Sig Eps will hold their party tonight; House - in - the - Woods.

Bids will go out Friday.

Rush week is now in full swing and parties have been held all during the week. Kappa Delta held theirs on Monday and Thursday; Alpha Delta Pi on Tuesday and Friday; and Alpha Xi Delta on Wednesday and Saturday. The parties are to be held each night from 5:00 to 7:30. The girls will pick up their bids Sunday afternoon, October 4. Good luck, girls.

The alumni of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity held a banquet for the college chapter Monday night, Sept. 28, at the Green Turtle Banquet. Dignitaries in attendance were Dr. Ralph Thaxton, Mr. Shelly McCoy, Mr. Nelson Warlick, and the National Secretary, Durward Owen from Sumpter, South Carolina.

"Be-Bop-A-Lula" certainly will not be included in the musical program on the VSC campus sponsored by the various musical organizations. These organizations, the Glee Club, Serenaders, and Band, specialize in different music.

The Serenaders directed by Mr. Clayton Logan are composed of four girls and four boys. This musical ensemble plays an important role on our campus.

Added to the Serenaders this year are Vivian Veatch, Judy Kuhler, Barbara Walker, and Stephen Vaughn. Back from last year are Kay Domingos, John Baskin, Bernie Brown, and C. B. O'Neal.

Three Teachers Are Added At Valdosta State

Valdosta State College welcomes three new teachers to the campus this year. They are Mrs. Elertia Morgan, Miss Wister Cook, and Mr. William Grant.

Mrs. Morgan is a foreign languages teacher who came here from the University of Georgia. Her main interest is her three children but she finds science and archaeology extremely interesting.

Miss Cook, an English teacher, came to Valdosta State from the University of Arkansas. However, she is a real southerner whose hometown is Ashford, Alabama. Among her hobbies are music, sailing, and water skiing.

Mr. Grant our new coach formerly taught at Valdosta High School. A number of students already know him from their high school days.

The Campus Canopy joins the student body in saying WELCOME to these new teachers.

There's nothing slow about the B. S. U. They were really eager to get started this year.

A pre-college retreat was held Sept. 21 for council members where talks by distinguished guests were made; discussions of plans for the year were held; and also a real "fun" day was experienced. Everyone enjoyed a full day at Twin Lakes.

Speaking of plans for the year, a "Mirth Quake" will be held for every B. S. U. member on Oct. 9. This will be held at the B. S. U. Student Center at seven o'clock. Come one! Come all! You will be welcome.

The B. S. U. is planning for a big year, this year. Especially with a nice new student center location. That will be located directly across from the cafeteria, at 1522 North Oak Street.

Welcome all freshmen and transfer students to join our old members in a year of fun, spiritual inspiration and what we call, "Our Home Away From Home".

After school was out last spring, the Serenaders went to Dallas, Texas to the Kiwanian International Convention. This year they will appear in Atlanta and are also making tentative plans to attend the Lion's Convention in New York City.

The VSC Band is for students who are interested in participating in it. The director is Mr. Campbell from Quitman. Unless more people come out and support the band it will be discontinued after this quarter.

As usual about this time of the year Mr. Webster Teague has been selecting his group of Glee Club members. There were approximately twelve new try-outs which

Jan Wells Betty Pace Very Interesting People Of The Week

The sport of cycling took a turn for the better this summer when two young ladies, Jan Wells of Vada and Betty Pace of Bainbridge, accompanied by Betty's uncle cycled to Beacon Hill, Fla., from Bainbridge.

The original idea of the trip was to be an experiment to determine the effects of constant physical exertion on the human body. The scientific aspect of the outing was, however, lost in the mirth and gaiety of the occasion.

Averaging seven to eight miles per hour, the trio reached Blountstown, Fla. at the end of the first day's travel. The Blountstown Chamber of Commerce offered them a hearty welcome after which they cooled off by a relaxing swim.

The final destination of Beacon Hill, Fla. was reached late in the second day. Upon their arrival at the beach they spent several days visiting Jan's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Cary Yates and Sue of Blountstown, and the Rev. James T. Burrell and family of Bainbridge.

It is worthy to note that everyone gave these modern three musketeers a friendly welcome all along the trip and courtesy of the road prevailed through out the outing.

The trio returned to Bainbridge by automobile.

makes a total of about thirty in our VSC Glee Club this year.

The program for the Glee Club this year has not been fully completed but some plans have been made. There will be a Christmas Concert which will feature familiar carols and other Christmas works. Also a concert has been planned for Spring.

Although plans have not been completed as of now, Mr. Teague is planning to take his Glee Club on a tour this spring. It is expected to be a very interesting trip.

Come on all ya'll Southern VSC students; support the Glee Club, Band, and Serenaders and get that musical spirit.

John Jackson

Heading in the other direction, John Jackson of Savannah journeyed to Canada where he spent a four-week working holiday.

Traveling by way of the scenic route and thoroughly enjoying the trip, John spent three days traveling to his destination. A position in the Canadian tobacco industry awaited his arrival at the end of the trip.

Since he has been a steady visitor to Canada, during the last several years, the language barrier posed no problem at all.

The gracious people, fine food, and excellent sporting paradise that make up Canada are, in reality, a second home to John Jackson. After several seasons of living with our neighbors to the North, their customs and ways are second nature to him.

Dwelling on the sporting facilities, John explained that the fishing in that part of the world is unexcelled and extraordinarily large tasty trout and bass are taken out of the streams, lakes, and ponds every day.

-SPORTS-

FROM THE BENCH

By Lamar Pearson

Basketball practice doesn't officially begin at VSC until Oct. 12, but already signs of activity are being demonstrated in the gym. For the first week or so the athletes are going through a new type of conditioning program involving the use of weights.

Many new faces are in evidence on the Rebel squad this year, and there may well be a good deal of competition for the starting five positions.

This past June Valdosta State lost two players via the academic route.

One was the versatile Jerry Studdard, who captured practically every award that an athlete can receive except possibly All-American Acclamations.

The other was Dwaine Skiles who filled a very capable spot as a reserve.

True, the loss of Studdard will be felt very much this year, but VSC has some very potent performers returning this season. Of the starting five last season, three are on hand to give Colson at least a nebulous beginning which was more than he could boast of last season.

The three are:

Buck Ethridge, tall center who has a remarkable jump shot and who is also one of the most vicious rebounders in the G.I.A.C., Gene Peacock another gargantuan hoopster, and the (phenon from Davisboro) John Moye, who was a tremendous asset under the basket and a very capable shot.

It would be facetious to say that there is not more to a team than a starting five, because it is often the strength of the bench that determines the real success of the team when the chips are down.

This season Coach has three new candidates to vie for a position. They are Al Armstrong 6'1" from New Orleans, Jim McCuin 6'0" from Americus, and Jim Nichols 6'5" from Valdosta.

There are numerous performers including one of last year's starters Dwaine Studdard, who at the present time is recuperating from a broken leg received in an untimely accident, but this issue doesn't have the space for it and we will save it for a future column. Individual players will be featured in coming issues.

Intramurals

This is for the benefit of those who do not yet understand what the word intramural means. Here at VSC there is a program set up for men students who like to engage in physical recreation in the form of team sports other than in the physical education classes, and who do not have the time for expedient sports such as inter-collegiate basketball and baseball.

In order to encourage intramurals, the athletic department draws up a schedule for five teams, who play an average of one game a week. There are three fraternity teams and teams from the men's dormitory and one composed of commuting students. Each male student is invited to become a member of one of these teams.

Intramural sports will have begun by the time this issue has gone to press. Schedules will be drawn up and placed in proper locale.

Mademoiselle Contest Open To VSC Women

Mademoiselle magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership in its 1959-60 College Board.

Mademoiselle's College Board Contest offers a chance (for the freshman as well as the senior) at winning one of the twenty Guest

Student Trainee Positions Offered By Civil Service

Applications are now being accepted for Student Trainee positions by U. S. Civil Service Commission Offices throughout the country. These positions are in scientific, technical, agricultural, accounting and statistical fields. Entrance salaries range from $3,255 to $3,755 a year.

These Student Trainee positions offer high school seniors and college students an opportunity to combine their college study with training on the job in either vacation work-study programs or cooperative work-study programs or cooperative work-study programs. In the vacation work-study program, students attend college during the entire scholastic year and work in a Federal agency during the vacation periods. In cooperative work-study programs, students alternate their college study and work periods during the entire year.

The first written test will be given on October 31, 1959, for those who apply not later than October 13, 1959. Additional tests will be given at monthly intervals thereafter. Full information is contained in Announcement No. 205.

The announcement and application forms are available at College Placement Officers, many post offices throughout the United States, Civil Service Regional Offices, and the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, 25, D. C.

What Is It?

By Sandra Pattillo

When ask what they would do with a ZORIL if they were given one several students answered:

Bebe Key: I'd make a pet out of it.

Barbara Evans: I'd tack it over by dresser.

Bobbie McDonald: I'd keep it with me.

Priscilla Busby: I'd put it with the rest of my collection.

Rat Joyce Roberson: I'd eat it.

Rat Robert Bird: I'd play with it.

Carolyn Knight: I'd give it to Karrin and Dick for a wedding gift.

Definition of a ZORIL: A South African musteline mammal about the size and form of the common skunk.

Editorships - a month on the staff of Mademoiselle.

A girl who is accepted on the College Board will do one assignment during the college year designed to help her discover her own abilities and job interests, and to develop her critical and creative talents. For her assignment a College Board member may write a feature about life on her campus; or submit art work, fashion, feature, fiction or promotion ideas for possible use in Mademoiselle.

College Board members who come out among the top twenty on the assignment win a Mademoiselle Guest Editorship and will be brought to the New York next June to help write, edit and illustrate the August College issue. They will be paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York City.

While in New York each Guest Editor interviews a celebrity in her chosen field, visits fashion workrooms, newspaper offices, stores and advertising agencies, besides working daily with the Editor to whom she is assigned.

November 30 is the deadline for applying for College Board membership. Successful candidates will be notified of acceptance on the College Board before New Year's.

For further information write the College Board Contest, c/o Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, New York, or see the August, September, October or November issue of Mademoiselle.

Coach Says:

By Gary Colson

With the addition of three prospects this season to our returning core of ten seasoned veterans, we could possibly have a great year, however; it all depends on bad our boys want to play ball.

Also it's going to be a fight for the starting five time and hard work will tell tale.
