SIGHTS AROUND CAMPUS

By now all of the freshmen have written home for money and been refused; the upperclassmen have stopped rushing Converse Hall and have realized that the freshmen girls are just girls, not goddesses as they thought at first but I doubt that some of the fellows would agree with me. We have all discovered what the library is and what it is for thanks to the professors.

By the way I just happened to be in there the other night and was told that out of overdue fines a one collected last year a new typewriter was purchased. The librarians say that while the typewriter is nice they would have much rather not have had to collect the overdue fines.

"Think of how many people were deprived of books while someone had one out that was overdue."

When inventory was taken last year it was discovered that some 150 books were missing. I don't know whether they were in action or not, but that doesn't matter, what does matter is that they are no longer there on the shelf.

A book just doesn't walk away by itself, it had to have help. Everyone should take more pride in the library for I don't know what we would do without it, especially since it is air conditioned.

By the time this issue of the paper reached your mailbox, the Canopy staff will have at long last moved into its new office (the inner office of the Publicity Office). We are right proud of it, and are at last glad we have a place to hang out hats, a place we can call our own. You are invited to come and see us any time. Our door is "always open". We would be right proud of you if you can find the time to submit an article once in a while.

I have noticed that Valdosta State has acquired two dogs. They seemed to me to be just useless strays until the other night. Then I discovered that they do have a purpose. Guarding the women's dormitories. I haven't figured out yet whether they are trying to keep the women in or the men out.

Now that rush week is over I guess the fraternities and sororities will be settling down again. I would like on the behalf of them to welcome each man or woman who has pledged and found his or her group on this campus. You'll never regret it!

For those of you who did not find the group you wanted on the campus or the one that wanted you, we would like to thank you for at least being interested enough in sororities and fraternities to go out for rush. We all learned a great deal, I am sure.

POLITICAL POT BOILS FOR ELECTION

VSC 1959 Calendar Girl --- Sandra Hardin

Calendar Girl Contest Slated At VSC Oct. 27

Once again it is beauty contest time on the Valdosta State campus. To get things underway the Miss VSC Calendar Girl Beauty Pageant will be held in the College gym on October 27 at 8 p. m. On hand to give up her crown will be Miss VSC Calendar Girl of 1959, Sandra Hardin.

For those of you who may not know what and how this contest works, it is sponsored by the Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. The contestants are sorority girls and also a representative group from the Independent non-sorority women on the campus.

There are to be 30 girls in all in the contest this year. The girls will compete in evening

On the subject of organizations and the part they can play in the life of a college student one might well realize that he can get out of college only what he puts into it.

I'll close this week with something Thornton Wilder wrote in the play "Out Town", "There is something way down deep that's eternal about every human being."

gowns and will be rated on personality and poise by a panel of five judges.

Then the contestants will compete in various sports attire of their choice (swimsuits or shorts) and will be judged on photogenic quality. From the thirty contestants the judges will pick 12 semi-finalists who will all appear on the VSC Calendar to be published in late December. From the 12 semifinalists they will pick five finalists and from them Miss Valdosta State College Calendar Girl of 1960.

The theme of this year's pageant is "Way Down South" (Evening Gown Competition); Underwater fantasy (Photogenic Competition); Winter Wonderland (Final Competition) and Introduction of majesty Miss VSC Calendar Girl of 1959). Jerome Clegg is slated to direct the show. Jo Rabun will be in charge of costumes, makeup and handle some of the set design. Highlights of the evening will be the appearances of Charley Weaver and The Naughty Lola.

Tickets will go on sale soon - ADULTS 50¢ and STUDENTS 35¢. Get your tickets early and plan to attend this annual production.

English Club Met Tuesday Evening

By Emmett Taylor

On Tuesday night, October 13, the English Club met at the House-in-the-Woods. Only five members attended this meeting which came as somewhat of a disappointment when we have such a large number of students majoring or minoring in Humanities. Plans were discussed for a change in meeting time to the lunch hour once each month.

Members in attendance felt that officers could not be elected until they had more participation and attendance.

The English Club is one of our better organizations here at Valdosta State College. In the past membership has been limited to those students majoring or minoring in the Humanities, but plans were discussed for expanding the requirements for membership to those interested. If you fall into this category, please contact Gail Parrish if you would like to join.

The English Club has programs throughout the year, once each month, to review current literary material in the form of plays, novels, short stories, biographies, autobiographies, periodicals and the like. We are very fortunate in having as advisor Mrs. John Odum of the English Department here at VSC.

The English Club wants and NEEDS you now!

Lamar Pearson, head of the SGA Election Committee, says that all nominations for the election to be held Wednesday, Oct. 28, have been turned in.

The candidates for President of the Sophomore Class are Charles Green and George Bennett. Both are well known on campus for their activities as Freshmen.

Of special interest at this time are the Freshman Elections. The Freshmen this year are showing an unusual interest in class politics.

This promises a greater political responsibility among VSC students in the next few years. Considering the situation of recent years, this is a very encouraging sign.

There are five Freshmen running for Class President, two for Vice-President, three for Secretary, and two for Treasurer. In addition there are three boys and two girls seeking the Representative positions on the SGA.

Those running for Freshman offices are, for President: Tim Vinson, Charley Norwood, Gary Dooly, Carol Smith, and Willie Hunt.

For Vice-President, Diane Mullins and Carole Lee.

For Secretary, Toni Steele, Molly Coleman, and Beverly Bridges.

For Treasurer, Judy Kohler and Joe Moses.

The candidates for Boys' SGA Representative are Billy Dasher, Jerome (Jerry) Greenwalk, and Robert Byrd. Running for Girls' Representative are Vivian Veatch, Robin New, and Judy Whorton.

'Angel Street' Cast Tryouts Now Being Held For November Production

As the Campus Canopy goes to press the Angel street cast will be in rehearsal for the Nov. 17, 18, and 19 production by the Sock and Buskin Club and the Play production class of 300. As this is written tryouts are being held and the cast members will be listed in the next paper.

Angel Street is a play with a setting in the gaslight era of the 1880 and the action takes place in London in a house on Angel Street. They play was written by Patrick Hamilton.

Mr. Hamilton tells the dramatic story of the Mannings of Angel Street with seasoned artistry. When the curtain rises, it appears to be quiet and peaceful.

But it soon becomes apparent that Manningham, a suavely sinister and handsome man, under the guise of kindness, is slowly torturing his gentle, lovely wife into insanity.

While her husband is out of the house Mrs. Manningham has an unexpected caller - amiable, paternal Rough from Scotland Yard. Rough is convinced that Manningham is a maniacal criminal wanted by Scotland Yard for a murder committed fifteen years ago in this very house. Gradually the hearty and understanding Rough manages to restore Mrs. Manningham's confidence in herself; then it is necessary for Rough and Mrs. Manningham to build up evidence against Manningham, and they manage this exciting and fascinating game shrewdly and well.

We dare not divulge the secret of the dimming gaslight or the mystery of the hidden rubies. We can tell you that the case is finally proved - but not until the author has built up and sustained some of the most brilliant suspense in the modern theatre. "... infinite craft and dexterity... comes off the top part of the theatre's top shelf." NEW YORK TIMES.

Why-----

By Emmett Taylor

It seems rather disheartening to me to go around to some of the better clubs here on campus and find only a few of the old faithful members there.

It seems to me that none of the freshmen or transfer students are interested in any of the clubs we have here on campus.

Not only has this situation started this year but I could easily see it coming at the end of school last year. Some of our finer clubs are talking of disbanding due to a lack of membership. It's too bad when students are only interested in fraternities and sororities, but even worse when they are interested in nothing. I am positive that there is a club here on our campus that you would be interested in and I am sure they need you NOW!

Why aren't students interested in joining our clubs? We old members have tried every possible means to interest students in our extra-curricular activities. I personally don't think you are human if you are not interested in something.

Religious organizations would like to fill in on the spiritual side of your life. Several of these meetings are held weekly at a convenient hour making it possible for you to attend at least one of them.

Various clubs are interested in informing you in your field of study such as the sciences, humanities, education, and the soc-and thirty students petitioned the administration of VSC for an investigation of the prevailing situation of laundry service.

As a result, the comptroller's office undertook an extensive investigation of the matter on behalf of the student body. For this, the students openly express their heartfelt gratitude in showing that the cold hard wheels of progress also have hearts. Thank ical sciences.

It is great to be an intellectual, but at the same time your social life should not be omitted. I think, first of all, your studies should come before anything else, but I am sure that each of you have extra time to participate.

Next, if you plan to be a member, be active - don't just attend the meeting when a party or social is planned or when the pictures are taken for the annual. Join at least one club and more if your leisure time permits.

Wilson Foundation Offers Fellowships

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation today announced the opening of competition for its fellowships for the academic year 1960-61.

The chief purpose of the fellowship program is to offset the critical shortage of qualified college teachers by encouraging college seniors of our standing ability to consider college teaching careers.

To this end the Wilson Foundation annually awards 1000 fellowships for first-year graduate study at any university of the recipients choice in the United States or Canada. Woodrow Wilson Fellowships carry a stipend of $1500, plus full tuition and fees, and, in the case of married Fellows, a dependency allowance for wives and children.

Both men and women are eligible, and there is no limit on the age of the candidate or the number of years he may have been out of college.

Those who receive awards are not asked to commit themselves to college teaching, but merely to "seriously consider" it as a possible career.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation does not accept applications directly from students; Candidates for the award must be nominated by a faculty member. Nominated students are invited to declare themselves as active candidates for the award by completing the necessary application forms.

Winners of the award are selected through screenings of the applications and personal interviews by regional selection committees, made up of faculty members from the regions' universities and colleges.

Last year, in an experimental program, 41 college juniors were selected for Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships. Provided that their work continues to be of the same calibre during their senior year, they will also become Woodrow Wilson Fellows for the academic year 1960-61.

Who Wants A Band?

Who wants a band at Valdosta State?

Apparently the students don't. At least not bad enough to play in it!

The band was formed only after it was determined that there were enough students on campus who could play band instruments, and a sufficient number had said that they WOULD play in a band if one were formed.

As a result of this the administration paid over four thousand dollars for instruments, and promised to buy uniforms when the band was sufficiently large to warrant such a move. These instruments, worth a small fortune, are going to waste in the auditorium at North Campus.

From the very beginning the students at VSC have refused to support the band. Though on occasions there have been ten to fifteen at rehearsals, the average number is less than seven.

This is very disturbing. If all the students who promised, in the past, to play in the band would show up for the next few rehearsals, VSC would have a band of nearly twenty members. AND THIS DOES NOT INCLUDE THE

FRESHMEN WHO CAN PLAY BAND INSTRUMENTS.

The upperclassmen who promised to play in the band, and yet do not, show a distressing lack of responsibility and trustworthiness. They give promises and cause large sums of money (paid in by students) to be spent, then break those promises. They have a responsibility, not to the school, but to the students themselves, to play in the band.

Most of the students say they want a band. Their money has been paid for band equipment. And if people don't begin using that equipment by the end of this quarter, the band will be dissolved and the students' money will have been spent in vain.

Horse Sense And Nonsense

By Stephen W. Sevits

A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse. Actually, I don't really want a horse, (I don't ride), and to complicate matters I don't even have a kingdom. If, however, I did have a kingdom, I might consider swapping it for some decent laundry service.

It must be remembered that a laundry which handles gross amounts of institutional laundry at reduced rates cannot and will not be able to give individual service to each and every article.

It must be considered, however, that we the students are entitled to get back the laundry that we send. Personally, I was very lucky, I lost only twenty-five percent of my handkerchiefs on the first week.

Last week vigilante law swept the campus and over one hundred

THE LATEST WORD

If you happen to over hear some sighs of relief around campus, I have a feeling they're due to the fact that RUSH WEEK is over! Now everything can slow back down to a calm frenzy instead of a frantic frenzy. I do hope that everyone who was rushing and the ones who were doing the rushing had a good time.

Gamma Xi Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority had initiation October 5, in the home of Mrs. Raymond Griffin. The two initiates were Jean Hooks and Carolyn Knight. After the ceremony the members were served a delicious dessert and enjoyed a song fest. Xi Province President, Mrs. Richard Hall, was present for the initiation.

Alpha Delta Pi Sorority held their first rush party on Tuesday October 6, at the home of Gail Duke at Twin Lakes. A "drug store" theme was carried out in decorations and refreshments. The rushees received ADPi menus for favors. Entertainment consisted of several renditions by the "washboard Band".

On Friday afternoon the girls held their formal party at the Woman's Building. The sisters wore beautiful gowns of blue or white. After the program the rushees were served coffee, punch, and various kind of cookies.

Two new sisters were initiated into the Gamma Mu Chapter of Kappa Delta on Sunday afternoon, October 4. The new initiates are Mary Slade from Griffin and Jo Ritch from Valdosta. The older sisters served the new sisters refreshments after the service and everyone enjoyed a time of fellowship.

"The Old West" was the theme of the Alpha Xi Delta party held on Wednesday afternoon, October 7. The rushees "meandered" on over to the Woman's Building "vocal" were they were entertained. The setting was a western saloon, including a roulette wheel, salon "gals", and all. The girls received as favors blue bandanas on which AXID was written. Games were played and prizes given.

The Alpha Xi's formal party was held Saturday afternoon at the home of one of their alumna in the form of a dessert. The girls were served strawberry shortcake and enjoyed a very inspirational program.

On Monday afternoon, October 5, the rushees found themselves in the middle of the ocean on an island that was called "South Pacific". "South Pacific" was the theme of the Kappa Delta Sorority's party held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Smith, one of the KD alumna. The girls first enjoyed a time of informal singing at which time the sisters introduced some of the KD songs to them. The rushees then moved to the pool where they were served in the native style, around low tables and sitting on cushions. The KD sisters, attired in green and white sarongs, acted as hostesses and waited on the tables.

After the meal was completed, some of the sisters entertained the rushees with a skit based on the songs from the play "South Pacific". The decorations consisted of fish nets, shells, starfish, greenery, and orchids were floating in the swimming pool. The rushees received Vanda orchids as favors.

The Kappa Delta's formal party was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Nichols and Mrs. Margaret Ann Griffin. The rushees were served punch and sandwiches, after which Kay Domingoes gave her rendition of two beautiful songs.

The Sigma Epsilon Colony of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity held their rush party Thursday evening, October 8, in the House in the woods. "Ernie Cortez and the Crescendos" entertained the group which consisted of twenty-four "rush" girls and forty-four rushees.

The dancing lasted from 7:00 - 9:00, after which there was a short business session. Color slides were shown which gave the rushees an idea of fraternity life. Then the chapter officers were introduced. They are as follows: president, Tommy Sessions; vice-president, Willard Griffis; secretary, John Baskin; comptroller, Doug Parrish; chaplain, Russ Horner; historian, David Brooks.

Fifteen of the Sig Ep brothers returned and they have fifteen new pledges. The group is looking forward to a good year of intramural sports, which began last Wednesday with a game with Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. The Sig Eps are planning to become nationally affiliated sometime during the fall quarter.

The House in the Woods was the scene of the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity rush party Wednesday night, October 7. The rush girls and the rushees enjoyed dancing to the music of "Ernie Cortez and the Crescendos" between 7:30 and 9:00. Refreshments consisting of punch and cookies were served by the fraternity's hostesses.

Ed. Note: Ricardo Perez and Adolfo Tirado were unavailable for an interview at press time so they will be interviewed at a later date.

The Music Department here at V. S. C. has a new hi-fi which is being used in the Music Appreciation classes. These classes are listening to records to increase their appreciation of music.

All students are invited to sit in on these listening programs whenever they can. This is for your benefit to make use of an excellent opportunity to expand your appreciation of music.

Attention all people who want V. S. C. to have a band! More members are needed; and if more people do not go out, the band will dissolve. Come on, kids, let's get in the swing of time and join the band to keep things really rocking.

Males - attention! Don't you like good music? If so, then the Glee Club is the place for you. Old Maggie has heard that there are only a few guys in the Glee Club. What's wrong? Are you afraid of girls or afraid that the guys will call you sissy! Come on out and help.

The Lowndes County Civic Music Association will sponsor a series of concerts during the coming year. Among the programs will be the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra. These concerts will be held in the V. S. C. auditorium, and all students will be admitted free with their identification cards. So get your glad rags on and make use of this wonderful opportunity that is being made possible for you!

Mittet, Perez, Tirado, Borra Very Interesting People Of The Week

By Joann Wisenbaker

Two of our four exchange students come from Europe. Bente Mittet is from Norway and Emilo Borra is from Italy.

Lillestrom, Norway is the home of Bente Mittet. She spent twelve days coming from Norway to Valdosta. She found the boat trip, which took up most of her traveling time, very exciting. She landed in New York City and she stayed there for one day.

While in New York she saw the Rockefeller Center and Broadway. Before she leaves next June she would like to see more of New York City, Boston, and some of our West Coast, especially San Francisco and Seattle.

Down here most of us enjoy water skiing but Bente's favorite sport is snow skiing. But now she would like to learn to water ski, and with so many lakes nearby perhaps she will get a chance to water ski.

Bente just can't get over this "southern drawl" which she says we all have. She is certain that she will go back to Norway with an accent just as southern as we have.

Bente's travels have taken her through Scandinavia, England, and Spain as well as to the United States.

Emilo Borra came from Italy on a boat. However his trip over was rather out of the ordinary because he came over on a coaler rather than on a passenger boat, Emilo landed in Norfolk, Virginia and went from there to New York by car, and from New York to Jacksonville by plane. The last part of his long trip was from Jacksonville to Valdosta. In New York he saw some of the main tourist attractions which included a visit to the United Nations Building.

Before he goes back to Italy he would like to visit in other regions of the United States so he can get a better overall view of our way of life. The life in Italy and the life here, according to Emilo, is very different. It seems that tradition is extremely important in everyday life in Italy.

This is not Emilo's first trip to a country outside his own. He has traveled in England, France, Germany, and Switzerland. He not only traveled in England but he lived there for a short time.

Emilo feels the exchange program for students is wonderful for the young people of different countries can exchange thoughts and ideas which in some way may help build a better tomorrow for the world.

Both Emilo and Bente found everyone on their trip here very friendly. And, also, they said the students here have been very friendly and helpful.

FROM THE BENCH

By Lamar Pearson

The Rebels began practice with a passion and with somewhat of a vengeance this past Monday. With nineteen candidates trying for five positions, competition is really tough.

From observations it seems that spirits are up in the Reb camp; and this should serve notice to G.I.A.C. opponents to look out. The Rebels, with one winning season under their belt, are eyeing with a malicious gleam the coveted number one spot.

Blessed with an abundance of height, they should really be rough under the basket. As far as endurance is concerned, they should be in much better shape because of the intensified conditioning program.

The Rebs can win this year if they know they have support. No one plays his best before an empty house. It's just not done. Empty seats make for depression; and when an athlete's attitude is bleak, well, his performance is likely to be bleak also.

Seeing is good game beats sitting in the student center or loitering around the dorm. Come out and support the Rebels this year. After all, it's your team. If you can't play the sport, be it! You have nothing to lose.

Athletic Personalities Of The Week

This week the athletic personalities of the week are two outstanding players beginning their second year of tenure for the V.S.C. Rebels. They are none other than Johnny McIntyre and Gene Peacock. This is the first of a series of articles to inform the student body of Rebel Personnel.

Johnny, a spunky nineteen year old youth, only weighs 145 lbs when he is soaking wet, but pound for pound he is as aggressive as any basketballer that I have ever seen.

John is very fast and can really drive in and lay the ball up when the opportunity avails itself.

Johnny, an economics major, graduated from Valdosta High School in 1957. His favorite hobbies are hunting, fishing, and skiing. His predictions this year for the Rebels are that they will have a tremendous year. He says that we'll take Oglethorpe, that it will be really rough to make the first team this year, and a team spirit - well its never better.

Peacock, 6'5" hoopster from Sycamore should live up to expectations this year. If the youthful Biology major has a banner year then the Rebels will really roll. Gene's favorite pastimes are hunting, fishing, and reading racy French novels. He says the Rebels will split with Oglethorpe and as for team attitude well its fais at the present.

Intramurals

Football began with a bang Tuesday, October 13, when the powerful Dormitory team, spear-headed by stalwarts such as Hansel Faulkner, Weyman Vickers, and Sonny Duncan, defeated the community lads by the score of 18-0. Though not a runaway, the dorm boys were in command of the situation throughout the game.

Individual scoring was by Faulkner, Duncan, and Vickers. Defensive standouts were Bascom Raulerson, Larry Waters, Faulkner, Duncan, and Vickers.

Ed. note: (Faulkner will be out indefinitely from a broken arm that he received in a city league football game October 13).

Officers Of Alpha Psi Omega Named For 1959-60 School Year

The local chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, met Monday, October 12, at 8:00 p. m. for their first meeting of the 1959-60 school year.

Alpha Psi Omega was organized on our campus last May, having at the time of initiation 15 charter members. Since that time, many of the members have either graduated or have transferred to other schools, causing a marked decrease in the number of active members.

Each initiate is chosen for the quality points he or she have earned in any phase of play production while enrolled in college, whether it be cast, business manager, lighting, wardrobe or any other phase of production. Alpha Psi urges each student to participate in dramatic activities here on campus in order to earn enough quality points to be eligible to join this fraternity.

Alpha Psi works hand in hand with our own local society, the Sock and Buskin Club, in order to create interest in dramatic activities on campus. We are very fortunate in having such an organization on campus and each student should be mindful of the enjoyment and experience he receives in belonging. Our most capable advisor is Miss Louise Sawyer of the Speech Department here at Valdosta State College.

The primary order of business for the first meeting was the election of new officers for the current school year. Jo Rabun, Senior from Boston, Mass. was elected Cast Director President; Jerome Clegg, Senior from Waynesboro, Ga. was elected Cast State Manager (Vice-President); Margie Brooks, Senior from Climax, Ga. was elected Cast Business Manager (Secretary).

Plans are being made for securing group tickets to the Broadway production of "My Fair Lady", which will be presented at the municipal auditorium in Atlanta next March. Alpha Psi is interested in organizing a group to travel by bus from the campus to Atlanta to view this musical hit. I am sure that this particular week-end might be one of your better week-ends here if you will plan now to make this trip.

By being able to travel in a group, transportation, tickets to the show, and other expenses will be cheaper. Make a mark on your calendar and set aside a little money for this trip next winter quarter.

Always remember - Alpha Psi Omega is interested in you and particularly in your dramatic activities on campus.
