101 PLEDGE SORORITIES, FRATERNITIES

By Lila McClenny

Following a rigorous round of parties-two for each sorority at Valdosta State College-36 rushees accepted bids on Thursday night. The annual Panhellenic tea given by all three sororities started the period of rushing for the girls. They accepted their invitations by going to the sorority room of their choice where they were loudly welcomed in by the sisters.

Alpha Xi Delta reports the entrance of 12 new pledges into the sisterhood. They include Jackie Venters, Nancy Hart, Vickie Brisbois, Toby Ann Royal, Carolyn Sweat, Judy Postell, Jane McRee, Barbara Meinders, Diane Snell and Dee Robinson.

The officers of this sorority are Pat Herrington, president; Betty Frances Freeman, vice-president; Diane Osborne, secretary; and Barbara Ford, treasurer.

The 10 new Alpha Delta Pi pledges are Ginger Anderson, Diane Roth, Ethel Tyson, Anne Johns, Maryzell Smith, Kay Stud-still, Diana Palmer, Judy King, Jesselyn Garbutt and Bud Goggins.

The A D Pi officers include Jeannie Posey, president; Patricia Loeb, vice-president; Janice Taylor, secretary; and Rosa Waring, treasurer.

Following an impressive white rose ceremony, Kappa Delta Sorority, headed by Beverly Ann Greene, took in 14 girls. They are Jeffrey Waldrop, Suzanne Wright, Betty DeVane, Edrie Hiers, Betty Jo Greene, Sharon Branch, Peggy Elliot, Sandra Fletcher, Loudelle Laws, Betty Dow Majors, Patty Clark, Judy Garrard, Jo Ann Atkinson and Betty Maxwell.

Kappa Delta officers include Beverly Ann Greene, president; Martha Sue Bragg, vice-president; Kay Domingos, secretary; and Norma Lou Maxwell, treasurer.

The I F C smoker started the chain of events of fraternity rush. Each of the 3 fraternities at Valdosta State College held a big formal rush party attended by the brothers, sponsors and hostesses.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity took in 37 new pledges. They include Larry Rogers, Tony Rubin, Taylor Coppedge, Roger Douglas, Eddie Bynum, Arthur Strom, Jim Simmons, Wayne Fulgham, Jim Driscoll, Chris Clark, Enrique Costa Mir, Phil Reames, Jimmy Connell, Wayne Voight, Jim Buie, Rick Herndon, Leslie Todd, Jan Parham, Carey Hatcher, Jimmy Griffin, Joe Allen, Pat Renifore, Jimmy Ellsbury, Wayne Fann, Buddy Etheridge, Albert Jacques, Robert Fish, Jimmy Holloway, Dick Coleman, Jerry Lanier, Gary Sirmons, Jimmy O'Neal, Marshall McRanie, Bill Riverbark, James Hurt, Jimmy C. O'Neal and Franklin Hunter.

Sig Ep officers are Bucky Anderson, president; Billy McDaniel, vice-president; Bill Moor man, treasurer; and Doug Jones, secretary.

Pi Kap officers include Jim Stevens, president; Dale Sherman, treasurer; Tommy Newsom, secretary; Joe Rossman, historian; Marshall Black, chaplain; and

Chris Carvounis from Greece Enrolls at VSC

A sparkling smile, penetrating grey eyes, and a friendly "Hello" flavored with a European accent describes Chris Carvounis, VSC's foreign student from Greece.

Chris is a graduate of the University at Athens, Greece, where he received his degree in Business Administration. After he has improved his English, he plans to go to graduate school and get his masters in B. A. Chris is taking a course in B. A., Economics and English this quarter.

Chris stated that life in Greece is similar to that in the U. S. He has three sisters in high school and a brother who is studying to be an interior decorator.

In comparing American schools with the ones in Greece, Chris says, "The classes at VSC are informal and small, and the professors take time to talk with the students." Chris stated that classes at the University in Athens have about 500 students in each of them and that they were taught on the lecture basis.

Although Chris is still having a hard time understanding and speaking English, his speech has improved considerably since he has been at VSC. We should indeed consider it a privilege to have such an intelligent person enrolled at VSC.

There are two students competing for the president's post.

Laurice Coan is a graduate of Valdosta High School, where he ran track, served as secretary of the Hi-Y, and was a member of the Key Club and the Lettermen's Club. Laurice is planning a major in accounting.

A graduate of Lanier County High in Lakeland, Georgia, Lloyd Shaw is a pre-pharmacy student. He played varsity basketball and baseball, and was a member of the Hi-Y.

Carol Jolley, Sharon Branch and Larry Rogers, the candidates for vice-president, are all graduates of Valdosta High. Carol and Sharon were active members of the Tri-Hi-Y and attend First Methodist Church.

Larry was king of the homecoming court at VHS.

The candidates for secretary are Peggy Elliot and Sue Hobbs.

Peggy is a graduate of Valdosta High and played on the basketball team, the state AAA champions. Sue, a secretarial science major, is from Blakely, where she served as president of the C. A. R.

Maryzell Smith is, at present, the only candidate for treasurer. Maryzell is a VHS graduate, and was editor of the Dosta Outlook, the school paper.

Sandra Sessions and Carol Greene are the candidates for girls' representative to the SGA. A VHS graduate, Sandra was active in Tri-Hi-Y, on a local and state level. Carol graduated from Tifton High School, where she was secretary of FHA.

Competing for boys' representative to the SGA are Jim Driscoll and Bobby ("Spec") Speck. Bobby is from Americus, where he has coached little league baseball for several years. He is here on a baseball scholarship.

Jim Driscoll, a graduate of Valdosta High, spends his spare time announcing for a local radio station. In high school, he served on the student council, and was active in the Debate and Drama Clubs.

At the time of this writing, all petitions for office have not been submitted to the SGA.

Cubans Attend Valdosta State

Four Cuban boys are attending VSC this year. Three brothers, Ernabe, Justo and Derby Ulloa are from Havana, and Henry Costa is from Santiago.

Ernabe, 20, hasn't decided on a major, but Justo, 19, is majoring in science, Derby, 16, is majoring in Art, and Henry, 18, is majoring in Business Administration.

The Ulloa brothers have been in the United States two years. Leaving Cuba after Castro came to control, their parents are living in Miami where their father is working as a food coloring salesman.

Henry has been living in the United States for five years. He attended Riverside Military Academy for four years and has only two years until he can become a U. S. citizen. With his family still in Cuba, Henry has gotten his brother a waiver and is expecting him to arrive any time. Henry will attend a Catholic school

Co-ed To Be in Gator Bowl Queen Contest

Patricia Loeb, Sophomore at VSC, has been chosen to represent Valdosta State College in the Miss Gator Bowl Contest. The contest will be held Nov. 24-25 in Jacksonville during which time Patricia will participate in numerous activities scheduled for participants.

The Gator Bowl Queen and her court will be presented at a formal dance Nov. 25 after which time the queen and her court will reign over the Gator Bowl game Jan. 1.

Patricia has been active in activities on campus. She serves as Secretary of Sigma Alpha Chi, Vice President of Alpha Delta Pi, Treasurer of the Sophomore Class, a TKE sponsor and as a member of Fins and Flippers.

EDITORIALS

In today's pleasure-seeking society, a result of hard-won peace and prosperity, the desire to evade responsibility is approaching desperation. This desire is prevalent on both international and domestic affairs. So many people fear for their existence, yet at the price of no existence at all.

People are determined to go through life oblivious to the real values of life. This situation endangers the principle of discriminant judgment, especially in collegiate thinking. To the members of the student body of VSC, these tendencies are apparent. Too many of us accept decisions concerning ethics and philosophy at face value. We cringe at the idea of disciplined thought and individualism. Too few stand up for what we really believe.

We must pull ourselves out of this net of conformity and accept the responsibility of seeking the true meaning of life. Until then we will be only in a muddle of self-deception.

Are we still children? How many times have we, the college students, seriously thought about this question? Not many times I am afraid.

The most frequent and most dangerous example of our childish actions happens everyday on this campus. That is, students speeding around the campus. Evidently we are too childish to accept the responsibility that goes with driving. We are not only endangering our lives, but the lives of every person near us.

If we are not capable enough to handle a car with responsibility; how can we, the future leaders of America, expect to accept the responsibility of leadership?

College students should be mature enough to accept responsibility. If we cannot do that, we should not be in college in the first place. We are supposed to be mature adults, and our actions stand as a pattern for all of those younger than we. Our actions are not judged collectively but separately; when one college student does foolish things it reflects on all of us.

Are we still children? Are we mature adults? Think about these questions. Let's accept our responsibility as young men and women; then the answer to the original question will be evident.

When you make your mark in the world, watch out for guys with erasers.

A Change Is In Order

By Louis Sheffield

An old political issue is back in the news—Georgia's county unit system of selecting nominees for political offices. This perpetual controversy never fails to be a part of the state's gubernatorial campaigns. Although the next state election is several months away, the political arena is already bloody from battles. Both major candidates for governor have expressed themselves as favoring the unit system, yet many Georgians are voicing strong protests against it.

Under the county unit system a candidate can win his party's nomination if he has a majority of the unit votes, even though he trails in the popular vote totals. For decades the state's thinly-populated rural counties have been able to elect the governor, regardless of whether he was acceptable to a majority of the citizens of Georgia.

Almost everyone has an opinion on the system. Some praise it; others call for its abolition. There are a few "middle-grounders" who realize that there is good in both beliefs, and so favor a fair revision of the unit system.

It is argued by those favoring the system that it keeps big city "machines" from controlling state elections. However, they cannot deny that the unit system is perpetuating a very powerful rural machine which has long run the state.

It is important that neither city nor rural politicians have complete control of the state, but rather that they share control as citizens of Georgia. The ideas of both liberals and conservatives are needed for the proper advancement of the state.

With the rapid growth of the cities and the decrease in rural population, the abolition of the county unit system would allow voters living in the heavily populated counties to have too much influence in state elections. The present system, which lets rural voters have too much power, not only is bad, but is getting worse. It is undesirable for such a small number of voters to be so powerful.

It is imperative that every voter in Georgia have an equal opportunity to have his vote counted, that every group of persons have their desires considered, that each section of the state be fairly represented, and that all Georgians work for what is best for Georgia.

A fair and equitable revision of the county unit system is the best means of achieving these objectives.

Surrounded by three of his pals, a college boy was overheard in a roadside restaurant calling in a New York hotel. When he was connected with the reservation clerk, he asked, "Have you a single room for four people?"

I recall a class in which the professor opened by saying, "Primitive man will never tell you his name for fear you will use it to cast a spell on him. He will not repel but evade your question."

At this point he paused and looked at a student with his head buried in a newspaper. "What is the name of the gentleman in the back row reading the paper?" he asked. Startled, the student glanced up and said, "Who, me?" "Gentlemen", continued the professor, "what did I tell you!" --Jacques Barzun, Teacher in America (Little, Brown-Atlantic)

A professor hunting for a place to live went to a local apartment house and asked to see a list of the people living there. When he came to the name of a certain student, the professor said, "Put me down for that fellow's apartment, please. He'll be leaving town any day now. I just flunked him in English." --Contributed by Roy A. Brenner

Commenting in a recent article that "Harvard's blood is not as blue as it used to be," AP correspondent Hugh A. Mulligan cited the case of author John P. Marquand (A.B. 1915), who could look back on his Harvard career and recall:

"The place was not nearly so snobby as I had been led to believe. I was on the crew and, by my senior year, everyone in the boat spoke to me--except the No. 6 and No. 8 oar."

in Miami.

The Ulloa brothers say they miss home, especially since their life has been so unsettled. Henry, who has become more settled, says of America, "I love it!"

The Cuban boys say that social life in their country was somewhat different from that of the U. S. At fifteen, the girls have a party at which they are introduced to society. Usually, they marry right away a much older boy.

Dates are usually chaperoned but this depends on how well the boy knows the family.

At VSC, the boys are becoming accustomed to the social life. Henry pledged the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. The Ulloa brothers, having freshly arrived, are still getting to know the campus and students.

Time And Cannonballs

Emily Leonard

There is an old story of a box and some cannonballs. It seems that several of these black monstrosities were all that the container could hold. But there was still room, so marbles were used to fill in the spaces. But then there was yet more room and shot was used, and then sand. The box seemed full; however, water was poured into it. At last all the space was consumed.

Where there wasn't room for the largest object, there was room for the smallest.

Time is like this container of objects. We find that we have large spaces of time in which much studying could be done. No problem there. But so often we forget the little spaces that could add up to much useful work and study instead of being wasted away needlessly and wastefully. Even in cases where time is thought to be fully occupied there are stray moments, little intervals which hold a wealth of usefulness.

The small objects that fill the box have almost as much to do with the boxes firmness as the largest. The wise use of spare moments is as important to the building of a solid use of time as the wise use of hours.

Students with so much time on their hands, in between classes, waste it away in procrastination. The little sands of time that could fill up the day are just thrown to the wind.

Let me compare the school and its students to an orchid. For the first few days, we students are white with life. We all start off the same, each with a clean slate. As the days progressed the orchid turned to fruit, or else died away, useless. We have either at this point, been blessed by the fruits of the good use of time, or we have been scorned by our own laziness.

There is a wealth of time that can be shaken down into the crevices of each day. The wise man will make use of each grain of sand. He will fill his box with sand and water and he will nurture and grow orchids and fruit from his wisdom. The fool will let his box remain empty, unable to grow a weed.

No rat escapes the upperclassmen.

The Sororities and Fraternities of VSC have been very busy during this Rush Period as have the many rushees. Alpha Delta Pi girls observed A D Pi Weekend, Sept. 29, which is set aside especially to see that all rush plans have been completed. The girls had a spend-the-night party at Twin Lakes.

Alpha Xi Delta initiated four new sisters at the fall initiation held in the Woman's Building. New members are Brenda Houshka, Kitty Royal, Pat Spooner and N.S. Ottomain.

Miss Linda Little, a VSC Kappa Delta will be married Nov. 5, and I heard by way of the grapevine that Kay Park has received an engagement ring.

I had intended to say that Bruce Varnedoe and Faith Polk were pinned but I found out that Faith is really going steady with someone else and they were just joking. Isn't that disappointing!

A note to Sorority and Fraternity Editors. Please get your stories in to the Society Editor as soon as possible after important events.

William Gabard long a member of the Valdosta Bachelors Club has finally been caught in the Tinder Trap. The object of his affections is Lougenia Gillis, daughter of Mrs. Neil Gillis of Swerton, Ga. Mr. Gabard of Valdosta, son of Mrs. Montgomery Gabard of Chapel Hill, Tenn. and the late Mr. Gabard.

The wedding will be solemnized at the home of the bride's mother on Nov. 18, with the Rev. Albert L. Stuart of Savannah and the Rev. M. J. Kippenbrock as officiants. A seated breakfast will follow the ceremony.

Miss Gillis, a daughter of the late Mr. Gillis, attended Brenau College and graduated from the University of Georgia where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. She also holds a masters degree from the University of Tennessee. She formerly taught at Valdosta High School.

Mr. Gabard, who is associate professor of history here at VSC, received his A.B. degree at the University of Tennessee and his M.A. degree at Northwestern University. He is a candidate for a doctors degree at Tulane University. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and Phi honorary society.

CONGRATULATIONS MR. GABARD.

Ricky Perez & Martha Sue Bragg are this week's Campus Personalities.

Campus Personalities

When thinking of our favorite campus personalities, two that always come to mind are Martha Sue Bragg and Ricardo Antonio Perezdel Castillo (Ricky Perez).

Martha Sue is a senior with her major in sociology and minor in English. She has been very active on the VSC campus during her previous years here and is now president of the Fins and Flippers, vice-president of the Gamma Mu Chapter of Kappa Delta, second vice-president of the Women's Residence Hall Council, vice-president of the senior class, and a member of the Women's Athletic Association. Other honors she holds this year are Circle K Sweetheart and Pi Kappa Phi sponsor. Her hobbies are swimming and softball.

A charming personality and friendly smile are just two of her greatest assets. She says she especially likes all kinds of people and admires honesty and sincerity in a person. Her pet peeve is people who are status seekers.

If you've ever ridden the bus to north campus at the same time Ricky did, you probably noticed him before anyone else. Why? He has the best seat. For some reason, everyone regards this as his seat and usually doesn't try to sit there. Why? No one actually knows!

Ricky Perez is a junior working for a major in Pre-Med and a minor in chemistry. Ricky's family is from Berlin El Salvador. His father is a doctor and mayor of Berlin while his mother owns a drugstore and wholesale house. Ricky came here as a Rotary student in 1959-60. Since then, he has returned year after year on his own. He is a member of the Shades of Grey, Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, and International Relations Club. At home he is a member of the Twenty-Thirty Club which is one of beneficence, and he coaches a basketball team in the summer which holds the city championship.

Ricky has a wide and varied list of hobbies which include painting, sculpturing, basketball, football, soccer and traveling. He has traveled all over Central America and visited Cuba, Mexico, the U. S. and the British Colony of Belize.

Ricky is an interesting as he is unpredictable. An easy going and polite fella with a smile for all would be a perfect description of him.

After being in the United States for a few years, he is still impressed by its people and stated, "I think this is a country with a future for the people who are willing to make a future for themselves."

These two fine students have really made a name for themselves on the campus of VSC. But then, what else could you expect from such nice people, our kind of folks.

Argentinian Speaks to Students of VSC

Dr. Nelter N. Pierani, a physician in the Argentine Air Force, urged Valdosta State College students to take a conscious, active part in defending the United States against Communist domination.

"You are our last chance", he told VSC students, "our last hope".

Dr. Pierani holds the rank of captain in the Argentine Air Force and is currently spending one year at Moody Air Force Base under the Military Assistance program. He is assistant flight surgeon at the Base Hospital.

"My country", said Pierani, "is a target of international Communism. But the United States is the real target. Be very careful. You don't realize what a wonderful country you have in the U. S. Be careful, because it could happen here. You must defend your nation and defend your God."

Pierani is a native of Buenos Aires and a graduate of the National University of Argentina. He is a member of the faculty Board of Medical Science at the University in Buenos Aires.

"Everything is moving, changing", he said of his country, and added that there seemed a real danger of growing Communist influence in Argentina and South America.

"Our constitution is a copy of your constitution", he said. "Our freedom is a copy of your freedom. Our people is a free people, but we lack organization."

The Communist danger is an immediate one in Argentina, said Pierani, "yet we have had two dictatorships in the past, and we have thrown them off."

The aim of international Communism, Pierani continued, is to "encircle the United States. You must defend your country for your sons. You must understand that these things could happen in the United States."

Pierani was introduced by Dr. J. Ralph Thaxton, VSC president.

You should always assume that the other fellow has equal intelligence. In fact, he might have more.

* Denotes Conference Games

Note: All home games will be played in VSC's home gym, game time: 8:15.

The sports outlook for the rampaging Rebels is very promising this year. The season is likely to be better than any in the past of Valdosta State College.

Our Rebels will be aiming for a triple crown this year in tennis, basketball and baseball and there is not much doubt about their succeeding. Last year the Rebels proved their skill in basketball and tennis. Under the fine coaching of Gary Colson, the Rebel's basketball team won the GIAC conference with an excellent conference record. The team was also most successful winning all their conference games.

Fins and Flippers Elect Officers

Heading the Fins and Flippers organization for the 1961-62 term are Miss Martha Sue Bragg, president; Miss Kitty Royal, vice-president; and Miss Vonnie Williams, secretary. Along with these girls the present membership consists of nineteen students. The other members are Linda Hudson, Sarah Greene, Giner Anderson, Betty Devane, Pat Cochran, Lila McClenny, Tanya Miley, Hal Worley, Patricia Loeb, Sandra Smith, Melony Gray and five new flippers, Sunny Gornto, Margaret Van Horn, Judy Weber, John Carr and Lib Adams.

The annual fall water show was presented by the Fins and Flippers during Orientation Week for the Freshmen. The numbers consisted of previous presentations. The freshmen really enjoyed the show.

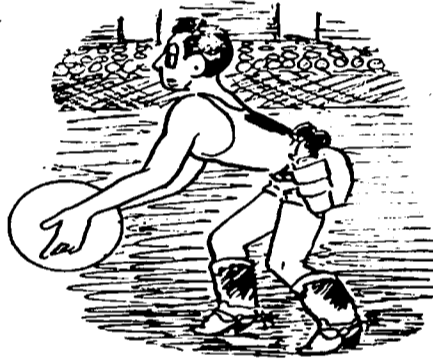

The fall tryouts were held recently; and President Martha Sue Bragg reports that they will be held again in the spring.

Plans and rehearsals have already begun for the biggest and the best (they hope!) water show ever at Valdosta State.

Already Coach Colson has begun gun drilling prospects for the varsity basketball squad.

There will be only two players returning from last season's starting lineup. There are Robert Bailey and Douglas Winters. Also returning are Jim Nichols, Roger Douglas, Mike Perry and Bill Anderson. Nevertheless, players of equal value have been gained from a few junior colleges. Marcus Shipman, a junior transferred from Young Harris will probably fill one of the empty spaces in the starting lineup. Bill Sumner, also a junior, transferred from Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College and is sure to be of great value to the Rebels. Gerald Davidson, a junior who transferred from Truett-McConnell, will be pushing the lineup for a guard position. Preston Hodges, a freshman from Savannah and Bob Speck, a freshman from Americus, also give extra strength to the Rebels.

Let us help the Rebels on the road to victory this season by backing them with overwhelming school spirit.

WAA Presents Awards

In assembly on Sept. 27, Mrs. Trudy Veatch presented the Women's Athletic Association awards for the achievements of the members of the 1960-61 term. The Club Honor Plaque was won by the Independents for earning the highest number of points as a team. Miss Selina Wisenbaker received the Individual Honor Plaque as a special award for attaining the most points as an individual. Runner-up for this award was Miss Vonnie Williams.

Special award medals were presented to Miss Judy Parker, winner of the tennis tournament; and to Miss Selina Wisenbaker, winner of the Archery Tournament.

Those members who earned a certain number of points during the year received a Women's Athletic Association Emblem. The recipients of this award were Misses Marianne Baxter, Martha Sue Bragg, Pat Creed, Barbara Ford, Judy Parker, Susan Slaten, Vonnie Williams and Selina Wisenbaker.

The past president, Miss Martha Sue Bragg, will receive a bracelet charm given to the outgoing president each year.

The officers for the 1961-62 school term are as follows: President, Miss Vonnie Williams; Vice President, Miss Kitty Royal; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Mary Lou Minchew, and Publicity Chairman, Misses Selina Wisenbaker and Brenda Houston.

The Women's Athletic Association is a school-sponsored club for all women students. Each sorority and the independent students form a team for participation and competition in sports activities. Several tournaments, namely, softball, tennis, volleyball, table tennis, basketball and archery are held during the year, and the winners of these tournaments earn points toward the awards mentioned heretofore. The W.A.A. meets every Wednesday at 4:15 at the Gymnasium. The next meeting is to be held on Oct. 18; every woman student who would like to join is invited to come.
