

26 — John Vunovich — First Base
6'1" 190 Senior Pueblo, Colo.

Platooned at first base last season, Vunovich is one of several "pivotal" Blazer players that is being counted on to excel. If "Vuno" has the year his potential indicates he is capable of, he could be a catalyst for a big Blazer season.

7 — Mickey Taylor — Second Base
6'1" 187 Senior Boston, Ga.

Second base was a problem position for the team in 1980. As with Vunovich, the Blazers are looking to Taylor to "come of age." Winning the Hustle Award last season, if Taylor can match consistency in the field and at bat with his inspiring hustle, the Blazers should feel good about another successful year.

21 — Greg Waits — Second Base-Shortstop
5'11" 170 Freshman Grove City, Ohio

Despite being a freshman, Waits has the ability to see a lot of playing time. This Ohio high school standout has the versatility to play any of the infield spots. Waits should make his mark during his career at VSC.

19 — Tim Russell — Second Base
5'10" 170 Sophomore Lake City, Fla.

Not a flashy player, Russell is the steady type. He is sure-handed at his keystone spot and turns the double play well. His hitting needs improvement. But with an excellent attitude and his love for the game, Russell should make a solid contribution to the team.

13 — Mark Powell — Third Base
5'11" 172 Sophomore Valdosta, Ga.

Powell played sparingly in 1980. However, after showing much improvement during his summer season and in fall games, Powell is tabbed as a starter for 1981. His versatility also allows him to play at second base and shortstop. His continued improvement will be another of the keys to unlock the door to Blazer success.

4 — Joe Mederos — Shortstop
6'0" 156 Senior Tampa, Fla.

A second team All-American last year, Mederos' .404 batting average tied the team record set by VSC's greatest hitter, Cecil Whitehead in 1978. Although yielding to fielding lapses at times, he frequently makes the great play. Needless to say, Mederos is being counted on to be a team leader.

OLD FASHIONED HAMBURGER TASTE

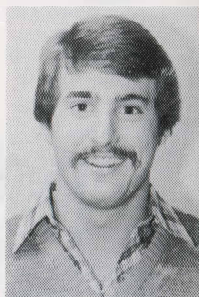

When you order a hamburger at Wendy's, you know you're getting the taste to satisfy any size appetite—with Singles, Doubles, Triples—served hot off the grill with your choice of toppings.

5'10" 170 Senior Fort Myers, Fla.

Roszell returned to VSC last season after spending his sophomore year at Cumberland Community College (Tenn.) and became an offensive stalwart, batting .373. He is capable of having the "big" day at the plate. Roszell is expected to be one of the team batting leaders this season.

5'5" 140 Freshman Grove City, Ohio

Fetherolf is another of the bright freshman prospects that should develop into an excellent player. Small, but having a surprisingly quick bat, Fetherolf already has the skills of a good base runner.

33 — Jay McDonough — Center Field
6'1" 172 Senior Flagler Beach, Fla.

When it comes to attitude and dedication, McDonough can't be topped. As a walkon last year, he showed good speed and defensive ability, but lacked terribly with the bat. Hard work is beginning to pay off as McDonough improved his hitting greatly during the summer and fall. His contribution to the team will be felt.

1 — Richie Johnson — Center Field
5'9" 165 Junior Glen Burnie, Md.

One of the Blazers' top recruits (Indian River Community College, Fla.), Johnson will fill the important center field spot that was glaringly lacking in 1980. He has the tools — speed, defense, hitting — to be one of the team's most valuable players. It is hoped Johnson will carry on the center field tradition of former Blazer greats Sam Bowen and Sal Amadeo.

29 — John Keigher — Right Field
6'1" 180 Sophomore Joliet, Ill.

As a freshman in 1980, Keigher was forced to play some crucial games and met the challenge successfully. A good base runner with hitting ability should make him a very important cog in the Blazer machine. A good year from Keigher will mean much to a successful Blazer season.

23 — Bobby Roche — Right Field
6'1" 180 Junior Cordele, Ga.

Roche was a starter for Middle Georgia's two-time junior college national championship squads of 1979 and 1980. He is an outstanding base runner and possesses a strong and accurate arm. But hitting at crucial times may be the greatest asset he brings to the Blazers.

22 — David Raffensberger — Pitcher
6'1" 168 Senior Fort Pierce, Fla.

After three years of limited pitching activity with the Blazers, this may be the season Raffensberger comes into his own. With an excellent curve and sneaky fast ball, the senior lefty is expected to shoulder much of the pitching responsibility.

41 — Andy Keating — Pitcher
6'4" 204 Junior Jacksonville, Fla.

A transfer from Gulf Coast Community College (Fla.), Keating saw limited action in two years there. However, he has the physical ability to pitch extremely well. He was the most effective pitcher for the Blazers this fall. If he continues to improve on a control problem Keating will be one of VSC's top pitchers.

49 — Leroy Dixon — Pitcher
6'0" 180 Junior Dublin, Ga.

The "Snake" comes to Valdosta State from Brewton Parker Junior College (Ga.) where he was one of the Barons' top pitchers. If he can solve the wildness displayed in the fall, Snake's knuckle drop and good fast ball can produce many wins.

2236 Bemiss Road

35 — Dennis Rich — Pitcher
5'9" 185 Junior Cairo, Ga.

Rich, like Dixon, was an active Brewton Parker hurler. He may be the hardest thrower on the Blazer staff. Combining his fast ball with a very good slider, Rich should prove to be one of VSC's most effective pitchers.

54 — Julio Navarro — Pitcher
6'1" 154 Junior Bayamon, P.R.

When a pitcher sees a lot of duty in the successful Valencia (Fla.) baseball program, one can expect him to pitch well in any environment. Thus is the case with Navarro. His fall work indicated he will live up to those expectations. Navarro, whose father pitched several years in the big leagues, should be one of the Blazers best.

30 — Bud Drew — Pitcher-First Base
5'9" 165 Junior Douglas, Ga.

It was a fortunate day for Valdosta State baseball when Drew made the decision to walk on at VSC from South Georgia Junior College. Drew not only displayed a latent ability to pitch, but was the Blazers' top hitter during the fall. He will undoubtedly be a valuable asset to the Blazer baseball program.

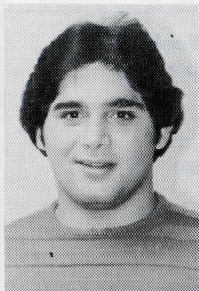

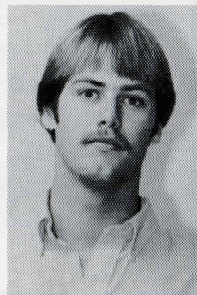

34 — Jim Rodi — Pitcher
6'3" 210 Junior Upland, Calif.

Rodi is a newcomer to the pitching position, having seriously taken to the hill only a year ago as a sophomore at Cochise Junior College (Ariz.) He is big and strong and has the pitches to become a successful pitcher. It is only a matter of time. His dedication to hard work should make this time short.

39 — Mark Schanback — Pitcher
6'1" 175 Junior San Bernardino, Calif.

Before transferring to VSC this year, Schanback was a top fireman for the Cumberland CC (Tenn.) pitching staff. In relief innings there he allowed only one earned run. He had some troubles during the fall games with the Blazers, but it is hoped Schanback will find his old form. If he does, he could greatly enhance the success of the pitching staff.

46 — Bob PolICASTRO — Pitcher
6'1" 200 Junior East Meadow, N.Y.

PolICASTRO transferred from Indian River CC (Fla.) where he saw limited action. His performance for VSC in the fall lacked consistent effectiveness, but PolICASTRO's undaunted willingness to work should cause him to improve greatly by the time spring rolls in. This improvement would be a valuable asset to the team's mound prospects.

44 — Wayne Fugett — Pitcher-First Base

Although he is the youngest member of the Blazer pitching corps, Fugett is expected to fill the role of a veteran. The former Valdosta High standout has only to solve a control problem to become one of VSC's most proficient moundsmen. His hitting and defensive ability might also gain him some time at first base and/or designated hitting.

1981 Outlook

As Coach Tommy Thomas prepares his 14th squad for a 57-game schedule, he is in his words "curiously optimistic." He is curious because much of the nucleus of the 1981 Blazers will consist of new faces, especially on the all-important pitching staff.

Graduation and the major league draft claimed the top five pitchers in last year's rotation. Those five arms were responsible for 38 of the Blazers' 45 wins in 1980 and obviously will be sorely missed. The only returnees to the staff are senior David Raffensberger (2-0, 3.76) and sophomore Wayne Fugett (3-0, 4.39), who each worked 26 innings last season.

Thomas went to junior colleges in search of pitching help and recruited eight pitchers to bolster his 1981 staff. Joining Raffensberger and Fugett on the hill will be JC transfers Julio Navarro (Valencia, Fla.), Leroy "Snake" Dixon and Dennis Rich (Brewton Parker, Ga.), Andy Keating (Gulf Coast, Fla.), Bob Policastro (Indian River, Fla.), Bud Drew (South Georgia), Jim Rodi (Cochise, Ariz.) and Mark Schanback (Cumberland, Tenn.).

"It's a brand new, inexperienced staff, and it's the key to our season," Thomas said.

Thomas expects to have an adequate defensive team which has the potential to be especially strong in the outfield. And he predicts a "good offensive team...not overpowering, but productive."

The cast includes a blend of returning players and newcomers from various junior college teams.

Back for his second year behind the plate is Seo Torres (.312, 47 RBI). Rounding out the infield will be returnees John Vunovich (.266) at first base, Mickey Taylor (.274) at second, all-American Joe Mederos (.404) at short, and Mark Powell (.244) at third. Vunovich and Taylor were platoon last season and Powell saw limited playing time.

The starting outfield will have Richie Johnson (Indian River) in center, and the trio of Bobby Roche (Middle Georgia), Tom Roszell (.373) and John Keigher (.272) dividing time in left and right field with the one not playing defense often filling the designated hitter assignment.

Infield depth will be supplied by sophomore Tim Russell, freshman Greg Wails and redshirt Jeff Soss, who also is a backup catcher. Other catchers are Lenny Guida (Hillsborough, Fla.) and freshman Pat Estep.

Reserve outfielders will be Jay McDonough (.200) and freshman Casey Fetherolf.

Scouting the Opponents

It's an attractive but rugged 57-game schedule the Blazers embark on March 1. The slate features 37 home games (22 under the lights) and includes Division I powers Florida State (51-12), Clemson (38-21), Georgia (33-12), Georgia Southern (38-21) and Florida (40-16).

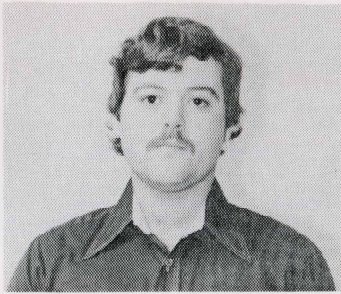

Other Division I opponents include Louisville (38-21), Mercer (31-18), Jacksonville (23-33) and Evansville (7-37).

A tough battle for the South Atlantic Conference title is shaping up. The defending champion Blazers must play Columbus (26-10), Armstrong State (22-20) and Augusta (12-25) on the road. Only West Georgia (32-9) comes to Blazer Field.

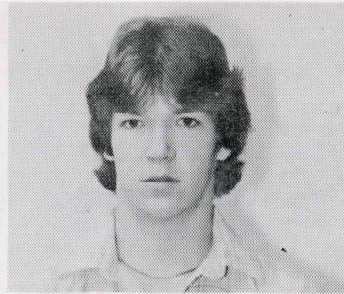

Coming to town during the 26-game March homestand will be old rivals Rose-Hulman (16-12), Charleston (8-18), Fort Valley State (14-9), St. Xavier (40-27) and Illinois Benedictine (26-20).

Valdosta State's homecoming has been shifted to the spring this year and the annual Alumni game will be played on Saturday, April 11 at noon. Georgia is the homecoming opponent on Friday night, April 10.

Other late season foes will be Flagler (26-15), Florida A&M and Georgia Southwestern (32-18).
