Activity House To Materialize At Early Date

Committee Considers Plans

First among the new projects to which G.S.W.C. is looking forward is the Student Activities House which will be the first to materialize as construction of the building is to begin October 15. The building is a W.P.A. project to ten thousand dollars, eight to ten thousand dollars. $1800 of which will be furnished by the college.

A committee composed of Dr. Reade, Miss Hopper, Mrs. Odum, editors of the college publications, the presidents of S. G. A. and the Y met last week to discuss tentative blue prints and plans.

Harley Langdale and Son, Valdosta, forestry experts, examined the pine grove on the north side of the campus. The trees to be used in construction of the building will come from this grove.

The Student Activities house will include a large living room with fireplaces at either end, a kitchen, dining room and several rooms for the use of campus clubs as meeting or committee rooms. It is hoped that the building will be completed by the middle of the year.

The house, probably to be situated in the present site of the house in the woods will be of the rustic logcabin type. The outside walls will be of pine logs and the two natural stone fireplaces will go to add a rustic atmosphere.

Treanor Returns After Years Study

Professor Of French Studies In Europe

Miss Sapelo Treanor, professor of French, has returned to G.S.W.C. after a years leave of absence, during which she completed in study and residence requirements for a doctorate degree in Romantic Languages from the University of North Carolina.

During the summer, Miss Treanor studied and did research work at Oxford, in London, England and in Paris, France. As a result of this research, Miss Treanor has edited a French manuscript of the 13th. century. This was possible through research at the Bodleian Library at Oxford, the British Museum, London, and in Paris at the Bibliotheque Nationale, the Bibliotheque de l' Arsenal and the Bibliotheque de Ste. Genevieve.

Miss Treanor, now engaged in her eighth year of teaching at G.S.W.C. is offering several new courses in French, for advanced students. These include, History of French Civilization, Literature of the Seventeenth Century and French Romanticism.

G.S.W.C. 38-39 Social Calender

School has started-trunks have been unpacked, registering has been attended to and homesickness is a thing of the past. For all of us there are gay times ahead.

With the Faculty Reception to be held Saturday evening, is launched the social season of G. S. W. C. for the coming year. This reception is to enable the student body to become personally acquainted with the members of the faculty.

In October, the seniors have their Carnival-pink lemonade, lollipops, popcorn - everything needed for a big success both in a social and financial way. In the same month, Sophomores are given a legitimate reason to haunt, for at the end of the month comes their Halloween Party.

In November again the Sophomores prepare for fun. From the beginning of the month, the girls haunt the local stores, insinuating how well their friends glamorous gowns would look on them, or press the ruffles in their own clothes. The week of Thanksgiving, the second year girls hold their formal dance.

On the morning of December sixteenth, the freshmen honor the seniors by their annual Singing of Carols. That eve, be-

Faculty Host To Annual Reception

Musical Program To Be Presented

On Saturday evening, September 23 at 8:30 o'clock, the annual faculty reception for the students will be given in the Rotunda of Ashley Hall. Miss Annie P. Hooper will head the line with Dr. Frank R. Reade, president of the college and Mrs. Reade and members of the faculty. Members of the senior class will help in receiving the guests.

Decorations will feature two punch bowls and autumn flowers placed at intervals throughout the room, will add color to the beautiful appointments.

After the guests have been received, a musical program will be given in the auditorium. Featured artists on the program will be Mr. Herbert Kraft, pianist and Miss Elizabeth Druckenmiller, soloist, both of whom are recent additions to the college musical faculty.

The first part of the program will consist of three piano selections by Mr. Kraft: Allemande, Gavotte and Musette by D'Albert, Thou Art Repose- Shubert-Liszt and The Erl King by the same authors.

Miss Louise Sawyer will follow, giving a reading entitled, A Little Joy Ride. This selection is by Lily Cathew.

Five Members Added To GSWC Faculty

Mr. Kraft, Miss Druckenmiller, Mr. Prather, Miss Teasley, Mrs. Middlebrooks

Five new members have been added to the faculty of G.S.W.C. They are filling the positions of instructors, dormitory officials and N. Y. A. director.

Mr. Joe Prather, new riding instructor, is also part time instructor at Emory Junior and is supervising the intramural sports there. He received his B. S. degree from the University of Georgia and is a Lieutenant in the U. S. Calvary Reserve. During the past summer, Mr. Prather was riding instructor at Camp Glenrochie, Abingdon, Virginia.

Mr. Herbert F. Kraft, instructor of piano, was formerly Director of Theory at Wesleyan Conservatory of Music. He offers group lessons for beginners as well as private instruction in music and piano. Beside his ability as a musician, Mr. Kraft is an accomplished organist and choir director.

Miss Mildred Teasley, Director of N. Y. A., received her Masters Degree from the University of Georgia and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity. Miss Teasley taught two courses in education at the summer school session on this

Increased Loan Extends Aid To 74 Students

Payroll Averages $345 Per Month

Seventy-four students in this college are receiving help from the government in the way of N.Y.A. work, to enable them to continue their education. This is an increase over last year when there were only sixty-two employed.

There has also been an increase in the funds appropriated for N. Y. A. on this campus. The amount is $3,951 for the scholastic year, with an average of $345 per month.

Of the number employed, twenty-two are working in the dining room. Other positions which are being filled by N. Y. A. students are clerical or stenographic, in type, some are helping professors in research while others are working on the Traveling Library Project or on the Playground. The Traveling Library is entirely a college project while the playground is financed jointly by the college and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

To receive N.Y.A. assistance, a student must have a high scholastic standard with an average of B or better for High School, and at least a C average for college work.

Of the many organizations which are helping college students, one of the most important and widely used is the N. Y. A. This aid is extended to all colleges that are non profit making or exempt from taxes.

Kampus Kaleidoscope

— By Jeannette Johnson —

We Have Heard

... so many cries against the clock situation that our usually calm campus is beginning to sound like the Tower of Babel. Quite evidently, something should be done about it.

A watch and clock setting seems to be in order. To insure liberty and the pursuits of happiness, we propose that the official bell-ringers, bells, clocks and watches come to a decision on the time. We are a little bit hesitant about suggesting an electrical system that would be effective not only on campus but also in the city of Valdosta and the vicinity. The cost might be prohibitive.

But, we ask, what's wrong with radio time? Lets set our time by radio, because however far from the campus one may be, it's far easier to find a radio than it is to find board room, dining hall or dormitory time.

Let's have a clock setting convention. Let's have one soon.

Obituaries

MISS CLARA BANCROFT AND MISS IDA POUND.

During the summer months GSWC lost two of its most faithful members and supporters.

The many friends and students of Miss Clara Bancroft were saddened to hear of her death, which, while not entirely unexpected, came as a shock. Miss Bancroft, at the time of her death, was at the summer home of her neice, Mrs. Harlan Venrich of Ohio. In 1936 Miss Bancroft came to our college to fill the position of voice teacher and director of the Glee Club. She sang frequently in the churches of Valdosta and was always willing to be of service to the community. During last spring vacation, Miss Bancroft was suddenly taken ill. She remained in a local hospital for a number of weeks. She was then moved to Ohio at the close of school where she died on August 3rd.

With the death of Miss Ida Pound the college lost another of its staunch supporters. Miss Pound, the daughter of Dr. Jere Pound, second president of GSWC, died during the month of July in Milledgeville where she was teaching at GSCW. Her death came as a sudden unexpected shock to her many friends. While in Valdosta Miss Pound was active in social and literary fields of both the college and the city of Valdosta. She held the post of President of the A.A.U.W. during her residence in Valdosta.

From An Uneasy

... chair. Garbutt and Hudson graced the office with their presence; we didn't know if it was to wish us well or just to warm out the news of the week in advance. Speaking of news, we hope you recognize the story on new S. G. A. officials, as a SCOOP.

When three awards being offered for outstanding accomplishment, we surely are uneasy. It would be quite the thing to capture the trio, as well as the whole convention itself. And from all the interest freshmen have shown in the paper, it seems as if an old convention goer has caught their ears, and warned them it was something not to miss.

New Office

With the removal of the Canopy Office to the cubbyhole across from the library, one of us is certainly disturbing the other-or perhaps we're just noisier than we were in the Johnson days. People have been hinting but if they can only wait 'till the log house is completed, we'll be able to keep our jokes to ourselves.

One of the biggest thrills of Freshman Week was hearing the new students sing the Alma Mater. Even though they did have to lean rather heavily on the old girls every couple of words, it was easy to see them as future seniors helping more freshmen along. It gets you.

Handing Out Orchids

Thanks to Mrs. Thomas, for setting freshmen feet in the right direction. She advised all of them interested in journalism to try out for the Campus Canopy. Not everyone calls our efforts journalistic. Have an orchid, Mrs. Thomas. Introducing our printer — Mr. J. W. Norwood, who has promised loyal support to the Canopy. We're going to get along like peaches and cream—we can see it now.

The committee, it was said, has attempted to do two things: first, to restrict the over-assertive student; and secondly, to compel the inactive student to participate in outside activities.

When A Man

... Introduces his wife, he doesn't say, "This is Ethel and I love her." He simply says. "This is Ethel, "and you're supposed to assume the rest. Later on, he may point out the fact that the little woman is a great cook or a grand economizer. But if he loves her, you'll see that.

So it was during the past week when we were introducing the freshmen to our college. Our attitude was, "Well, this is it," and we sincerely hoped they would like it. We did point out now and then, the beauties of the campus, or the advantages that are offered here, but our very being here indicated our feeling for the college.

Back To College

We have returned from summer vacations that were different for all of us. We have returned to a way of life that is different from anything you will find any place else.

However wonderful or drab the holidays may have been, we find that coming back to college is like rediscovering a pair of old shoes. You will find nothing like the tried and true comfort they give you and the respect most of us have for our old faithfuls.

Breaking In Shoes.

Breaking in a pair of new shoes is different for everyone. Sometimes it's painful and sometimes it's quite simple. However it may have been for this freshman class, we sincerely hope the process is completed. It's not much fun to go walking with a person whose feet are simply killing them.

So here's to that old shoe feeling. You don't have to agree with our simile, but if we've gotten the idea across, let's hope the feeling is there too, and we'll start right now taking big strides towards whatever goals we may have set for ourselves.

The Written Word

... is mightier than the sword." We don't expect you to horsewhip the editor when the Canopy comes out with something that meets with your disapproval. We don't expect a party in our honor when the Canopy furthers a cause very dear to your hearts. We ask you to write.

Editorial Campaigns

We have in mind, several editorial campaigns for this year. Through these, we hope to accomplish changes or improvements that will benefit the college and the students.

Letters To The Editor.

Letters to the editor are our chief way of learning student opinion. In expressing yourselves, you will be helping to formulate changes, improvements or policies of the college.

Upper-classmen? Why yes, they are here. They are just lost among the freshmen.

Everyone is back and busy settling down, and isn't it fun with specials and phone calls to help you? Rather, that is what Middleton says, but if you had heard her weeping over the phone you wouldn't have thought so-or would you?—Did you see the gorgeous corsage Hyland wore on arrival? I learn that it was sent her by her date of two nights before.

Seems to me, Bowen, when one's in love

One should know the voice of one's turtle dove.

According to the spread of ads this week, we are convinced of Curtise's ability with the business men.—Louise Bell, during the summer months, has found someone new to ding-dong over.

Lilly slays them all, truly doth she,

For Bruce goes 'round singing "Love Lifted Me"

Annie had a date Tuesday with the person who introduced her to her present flame; isn't that sweet?—Mary Williams is quite hecked, it seems.

Have you heard, This summer Frankie had a date Says Mrs. Hug. "9:30 is far too late." So Frankie came in shortly after eight.

Jennie came back with a fraternity pin. Good work, Jennie!—Brother-love isn't as strong as true love—ask Leah—or maybe you'd better ask her brother. It must be fun to be a twin and get the boy friends mixed up—Laura Duncan has deserted to the ranks of the love-lorn-it can't be all one sided.

Two more weeks are ahead Before the arrival of Jayne's "Red".

Junior Hall has a dream man. He's scheduled to visit Verna tonight—

Here And There

— By Eileen Hyland —

'Long about twenty years ago, before actors went on strike, Frank Bacon gave us "Lightnin'". Fred Stone has attempted to revive it in all it's glory. Has he? Well, we think not, but then that's neither here nor there.—The well known, and in this case, expected egg, got a setback this fall season. The movie version of "You Can't Take It With You" refused to lay. Therefore friends see it and snigger up your jigger jackets at those in the know who prophesied the hen-fruit, since the legitimate run is still running merrily.

But let's give the critics just credit. They recognized an ace in Dudley Rigge's work in "On Borrowed Time". We hope the creditor doesn't call in the loan too soon 'cause it's grand, and we know.

Just anytime soon, tune in on W.J.F.A. It's on the dial on 1230 Then instead of calling all fans to Barney's, Valdosta will issue the call. The new station over Walgreen's Drug Store will be N.B.C. And who says we of G. S. W. C. aren't nationalistic?

You History students, see your History as Hollywood sees it Tuesday at the Ritz-see you there.

We missed Horace Heidt and his Brigadiers this summer, but Harry Owens and his Hawaiian lads and lassies have kept us, oh so calm and contented! Why, who are we not to like him anyway? They did over the glitter and glare of the Cascade Room into the beach at Waikiki-better known as the Hawaiian Room—just to give him the proper atmosphere. They even gave us the traditional lei when we followed the leader in applause.

And now you jamsters, forget you even knew a clarinet—Hal Kemp dubbed it a "Liquid stick". Be seeing you.

Alas Alack

... that within the sacred portals of this institution the insidious machine should have invaded us! No more shall we enjoy the simple, homespun pleasures. We must hurry onward on our way beset on every side by machines and robots. The simple life is not for us—only the jazz, the clang-clang of the street-car, the buzz and roar of the El's, the red-hot glare of the smelting furnace interspersed with the blinding blue-white brilliance of the electric arc. Where stars should be we see only neon signs and the flickering lights of a theatre marquee. Instead of the murmuring pines we now hear the staccato rasping noises of the radio static. We have known all along that this hateful machine age, this age of robots was making and insidious encroachment upon our lives and cities. But we never suspected that our own G.S.W.C. would succumb to its tempting snares.

But now we are sure. This summer the frightful deed was perpetuated. Our fair college name has been besmirched. Our "LIGHTENING" the beloved of all the students — the patient never - complaining one — has been sacrificed on the altar of the god of the machine age. No more will we see the patient one, his graying locks all with sweat, drawing the lawnmowers and the one-horse wagon about the campus.—Lightening is gone —and in his place—a truck

Annual Y. W. C. A. Candlelighting Service Held Last Thursday Night

In a service of simple dignity and quiet charm, the Y. W. C. A. held its candlelighting service on Thursday evening. The purpose of this service was to accept all freshmen and transfers into the Y. W. C. A.

The procession filed out of the rotunda to the campus in front of Ashley Hall and stood in a triangle, symbolizing the emblem of the Y. Leading the procession was Elizabeth Garbutt, Y president.

After making a speech of welcome to the new members, Miss Garbutt lighted the candles of each girl on either side of her. These two girls in turn, lighted the candles next to them, and so on around the triangle.

All the participants in the ceremony wore white. During the services, soft music was played, with Margaret Carter in charge of the music.

Norwood Speaks To Adv. Class

Mr. June Norwood, publisher, has been requested by Curtis Whatley, Business Manager for the Campus Canopy, to speak to those students interested in working on the advertising staff of the paper. In his discussion, which is scheduled for some time next week, Mr. Norwood will instruct the girls in technique of advertising, and will be able to give valuable help to those who are now at this type of work.

Curtis Whatley has announced the new advertising staff, and expressed great pleasure at the large number of girls who signed up. Those who have signed up are: Wilma Adams, Mary Alice Brim, Evelyn Brim, Billie Bruce, Margaret Carter, Doris Childs, Yolande Coppage, Ruth Dixon, Helen Hightower, Mary Lanier, Mary Lee Rogers, Ruth Sessions, Inez Taylor, Ruth Whisanant, Frances West, Dora Dora Ida Perkins, Francis Rogers, Marion Orr and Evelyn Ogletree.

Sports Club Council Meets

On Sept. 20 the new Sport Club council, presided over by Annie Adams, met for the first time in the House-in-the-woods.

The new council seems very enthusiastic and plans were discussed for a co-recreational program which is to begin about the 30th. of Sept.

Those who attended the Sports party last Saturday know how much fun they are. You can expect more fun at the next party which is to be on the 1st of Oct. There will be loads of surprises and at the end bids will be given out. But, wait! you're not a member yet. You must begin Monday, Sept. 26th. with your sports practices. Each girl must have at least 2 practices a week in tennis, swimming, archery, golf, or any of the organized team sports.

Basketball prospects are excellent this year. Come out, all of you who are interested in basketball, and let's get started.

Tryouts for the swimming club will be held next Friday afternoon. Miss Carter is making big plans for this new club. Watch for announcements!

Sock And Buskin Tryouts Called

Sock and Buskin Club tryouts will be held in the Play Production Room on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of next week, it was announced by Anna Richter today. The trials, held at four thirty on these afternoons, are for the purpose of selecting about ten new members to fill out the club membership.

The trials will consist of pantomimes and readings prepared in advance, as well as impromptu preformances asked by the judges. The outcome of the tryouts will be announced in next week's Canopy.

Middlebury College in Vermont has a 35,000-acre campus.

Freshmen Have Busy Week

As a prelude to freshman week activities, an old-fashioned singing meet was held on the front steps of Converse Hall, Monday evening. This constituted a sort of welcome to the new girls and was the only activity of the first day.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Gatewood Workman, a former student at the college, spoke to the freshmen on the importance of a well-balanced college life. Afterwards, the recreation committee of the Y gave an informal party in the Recreation Room.

Through the courtesy of the Ritz Theatre, on Wednesday evening, all freshmen were given free admittance to "Algiers." They went in groups of about thirty in the truck, driven at the jolting rate of ten miles an hour.

Association between the faculty and students was the main theme of Miss Annie P. Hopper's address to the freshmen Thursday evening. Speeches were also heard on the following evening, by Elizabeth Garbutt and Mary Hudson.

During the week, the Sports Club provided the freshmen with the opportunity of participating in various campus sports, and they entertained with a party on Saturday afternoon.

Members of the Campus Canopy staff published a daily Canopy Junior, carrying notices, features on freshmen and old girls, and general information.

Concluding the week's activities, the Valdosta Rotary Club, on Sunday was host, in a sight seeing tour of the city. They visited the residential and business districts and places of beauty and interest.

In charge of the plans for the weeks activities were Mary Hudson and Elizabeth Garbutt. They were assisted by about thirty upper-classmen.

Gibson And Bass Speak

"The word welcome has been well worn out during the past week," said Dr. Frank R. Reade, in introducing the speakers at chapel Wednesday morning, September 21. "But we have here two prominent citizens of Valdosta, who are here to welcome you in the name of the people of this city."

Dr. T. Barron Gibson, president of the Ministerial Association of Valdosta and pastor of the First Baptist Church was the first speaker. After a short prayer, Dr. Gibson extended to the girls, a welcome from the churches of Valdosta and an invitation to attend them regularly, as an integral part of college life.

As Vice-President of the Chamber of Commerce, Emory P. Bass, expressed the spirit of Valdosta in his speech. It was with great sincerity that Mr. Bass spoke of the people of the city as glad to welcome back the college students, and taking a personal pride in the accomplishments of the college.

Lawrence College has a larger investment in athletic equipment per student than any other midwestern college.

Dr. John A. Nietz of the University of Pittsburgh has a collection of some 1,500 old textbooks used in U. S. schools.

Tops Scores In Freshmen Tests

Freshman Placement Tests were given last week through the University System of Georgia. G.S.W.C. students scored highest of all freshmen on two examinations and second to highest in another.

In the Social Science examination, Mary Jean Rockwell, Valdosta, made highest rating. Elizabeth Waterhouse, Ochlochnee, and Janie Ray White made a tie for the second highest scoring.

Ranking first in the Iowa Silent Reading test were Viva McGeachy, Valdosta and Leecy Ann Goodloe, Valdosta. Remedial reading classes will be held on Saturdays, sponsored by the Social Science department for students showing any such handicaps in the test as reading words incorrectly, summarizing of paragraphs and speed.

In the physiological test, Miss Goodloe, Valdosta, again second to the highest place, while Miss Waterhouse, Ochlochnee, took first place in the English Examination. Scorers for second place were Elise Gannin, Cordele and Winifred Ruffin, Reynolds.

Miss Waterhouse and Miss Goodloe tied for top score in the Math-Science examination.

Facts And Fancies In G. S. W. C. Fashions

These last few days can be officially named "Nip and Tuck"—The weather nipped and we tucked our coats closer round us—And have you noticed the students' colorful new clothes? Autumn is really manifested in their bright scarves and sweaters. Did you notice the skillful combination of navy and yellow that Loce Lovett, our new freshman, wore to classes? And the black checked raincoat she wore to town spelled the smartest in collegiate fashions.

Keeping up with the struggles in Europe we all show our sympathy for Czechoslovakia by going in for the peasant styles. Notice the drindl skirts—especially those worn by Patsy Brewster and Rosemary Baker.

Looking up at our heads we find all the hats definitely swooping up and precariously perched on the soft curls that go up with the hats.

Looking down at our toes all we see are brown and white saddle oxfords and brown suede oxfords with alligator saddles, but our gayly striped socks lessen the monotony. Did you happen to see the natty blue ones of Carol O'Neal and the yellow ones that Margaret Bruce's mother knitted for her? They are really the latest thing in socks.

The Handicraft Laboratory will make it possible for students interested in art to receive instruction at any time. Miss Carpenter is at the head of this project with Miss Opal Brown as her assistant. There will be room to work and material to work with available.

Students are finding another new item at GSWC, the "elective minor". Besides the regular major and minor, students may elect a series of five courses Physical Education, Music, Art, Speech, or Library Science. This idea began last year and is meant to help girls who plan to teach.

The latest innovation are the two courses in shorthand and typing which meet every day. They are accompanied by a course in English and one in Mathematics. These courses are credited out not towards a degree.

Freshmen who were in the upper twenty per cent of their class in the Placement tests will be exempt from Freshman Mathematics and take a regular college mathematics course.

On Saturdays the Social Science Department will conduct a reading class for the benefit of those who were deficient in reading on the Placement Tests.

High Enrollment Reaches Peak

First Waiting List Is Seen By Dean

At the close of registration, the enrollment in the college for this year totaled three hundred and twenty-two, as announced by Mrs. William Thomas, registrar. Mrs. Thomas also stated that a number of other students were expected to enroll before the final entrance date, October 5th.

Miss Annie P. Hopper Dean of Women stated that there is a waiting list of nearly fifteen. Such a situation is the first of its kind in the history of the college.

fore our much awaited vacation, the foremost event of the year occurs—The Christmas Festival. An annual affair, the theme of the evening is Old England, and everything is carried out in the true old English manner.

Immediately preceding Valentines Day, Heart Sister Week is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. Each girl draws the name of another, and during the week, small gifts are secretly given to her heart sister. The identity of each girl is revealed at a dinner given Valentines night.

May Day-Play Day is an outstanding event of the college. Pupils from the high schools are entertained throughout the day on the campus, and in the late afternoon, a May Queen, chosen from the members of the senior class, is crowned, thus climaxing the day.

Numerous teas, faculty recitals and informal dances are held during the year, and each is a pleasant interlude from the studies and worries of school life.

WE ARE HAPPY TO WELCOME BACK TO VALDOSTA G. S. W. C. STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Foremost Dairies, Inc.

Some folks publish books of boners but we're just going to tell you of the more glaring mistakes that were found in the papers of the S. G. A. test.

Someone got real busy and invented a new offense that's a court case. She says: "One might be called before the council for telling the Dean someone went out at night when they didn't." "If this next offense were true we'd all probably be at court. This offense is "when you were not doing sufficient work in your studies."

We bet the SGA program chairman would like this one: "The regular S.G.A. meeting is held in November."

If one freshmen could make money as easily as she makes four sides to a triangle we'd love to employ her. She says "The Y symbol is the triangle meaning the triangle of (1) personality, (2) mind, (3) body and (4) spirit.

When asked about the places where a town girl can smoke one self-righteous freshman says, "Girls smoke, I don't smoke." We wonder personally what she is.

Among the campus publications we find, The Junior Chatterbox, the Pime Combe, Campus Canery (bet the kitchen would like that idea), the Junior Canopy and the Campus Junior (not related to our fair Emory Junior?)
