VALDOSTA, GEORGIA

India Study Grant Is Awarded To VSC Dept.

Thirty south Georgia social studies teachers are to be given a two months study-travel tour of India this summer, thanks to a $55,000 grant awarded the history department of Valdosta State College by the U.S. Office of Education. It was learned here Monday. But applications for the coveted 30 places must be filed immediately, according to Dr. William Gabard, head of the VSC history department and director of the program.

"The grant is a follow-up of last summer's 'Multi Cultural Understanding Program in India,' which took 13 black and 17 white teachers to India for a rigorous but rewarding study-travel experience," said Dr. Gabard. "And the recipients received 15 quarter hours of college credit, too."

The 1972 grant is to cover each recipient's round-trip air fare to India as well as his expenses for travel, lodging and board in India, Gabard said.

Application forms have been mailed to superintendents and directors of area school systems and to the principal and chairman of the social studies department of all schools in each of the south Georgia counties, according to Dr. Gabard.

Recipients of the India grants are to come to the VSC campus during the spring quarter for a course in modern Indian history and orientation sessions preparatory to the summer tour.

The tour begins June 12, ends Aug. 4, so "teachers can get back for fall pre-planning sessions," according to the leader.

"It will be a strenuous summer but well worth the effort and energy," he continued. "The members of last summer's group, who have met several times since their return, are still enthusiastic about their experiences. And they have been marvelously innovative in introducing India to the social studies curriculum."

The agenda for the 1972 tour is similar to the previous summer's trip.

"In addition to hearing and meeting the top political, scholarly and economic leaders of India, the teachers will see and study all phases of India's culture from 3,000 BC to the modern present," said Dr. Gabard. "And all is done by a most knowledgeable director from the United States Educational Foundation in India (Fulbright Foundation)."

"Last summer's group traveled more than 7,000 miles in India from the Himalayas to the southern tip. You can't help but learn about a country on such a tour."

LUCK LEADS REBS TO GIAC PLAYOFF

The luck of the draw. Valdosta State had Lady Luck on its side last week when coaches from West Georgia, LaGrange and VSC met in Macon to decide the playoff format for the Georgia Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference championship.

The lucky number was three, and Valdosta State's rookie head coach James Dominey pulled it. West Georgia's Roger Kalser and LaGrange's Rodney Robinson shot down West Georgia at the buzzer leaving the three schools with identical 10-2 league records.

The first playoff game is scheduled for Thursday between West Georgia and LaGrange. VSC will meet the winner on Saturday. Both games will be played in Americus on Georgia Southwestern's neutral court.

Dominey paused during Monday's practice session to reflect on the events of the last two weeks.

"Everyone is talking about how lucky we've been lately, and I'll be the first to agree," he said. "But, you know, you make a lot of the luck you get, and if we had not beaten West Georgia and LaGrange at home, there never would have been a three-way tie."

Valdosta State has won nine of its last 10 games and raised its overall record to 16-7. The Rebs close out regular season play here Tuesday night against Oglethorpe. A game with West Florida, scheduled for Friday, has been canceled because of the playoff.

A big reason for the recent victory surge is Dominey's brother Tim, who in the last 10 games has averaged 21 points while shooting 54 per cent from the field. The 6-1 junior is an 83 per cent free throw shooter.

SPEECH WORKSHOP TO DRAW HIGH SCHOOLERS

More than 250 junior and senior high students from schools south of Atlanta are expected on the VSC campus this weekend. The occasion is the Sixth Annual High School Speech Arts Workshop sponsored by the Speech and Drama Department.

Dr. E. A. Peyroux, professor of acting at the University of Georgia, is to be the featured guest. He plans to conduct three participatory sessions on approaches to acting and the teaching of acting through the use of improvisation. The three sessions are to include theatre games, Chinese opera and mirror exercises.

This approach to acting is a "radical re-interpretation of what an audience is," said Peyroux. This style of acting is now the subject of many articles in major theatre publications.

Several one-act plays are to be presented Friday evening by students attending the workshop. VSC students are planning to lead seminars in speech arts. Bennett Liles is to lead three sessions on cinematography. Mary Alyce Juhan and Pam Marquis are to head sessions on oral interpretation.

Demonstrations on make-up are to be presented by local high school students who have been participating in the teen dramatics course instructed by Bas Bunting. Discussion on high school debate and parliamentary procedure is to be led by Valdosta High School Students. VSC students, Mary Alyce Juhan, Caroline Babcock and Babs Bunting are to demonstrate puppetry.

"In the Beginning," a children's theatre production, is to be presented Saturday morning. More than 1,000 area elementary school children have already participated in the play which has been well received.

VSC Speech and Drama faculty members are also planning to lead seminars in technical theatre, on a small budget television basics, staging musical comedy, and Commedia del Arte.

All interested persons in the VSC community are invited to attend any or all of the free sessions beginning at 4 p.m.

SGA PETITIONS DUE MARCH 8

Petitions should now be filed for the upcoming Student Government Association elections, according to Commissioner of Elections, Charles Joiner.

Election Day, Thursday, April 13 will be the deciding day for students desiring either a major SGA office for the 1972-73 year, or a non-dorm senate position, and all candidates must qualify for the elections by March 8.

To qualify a candidate must submit a petition with fifty signatures, as way of nomination, and pay the qualifying fee. This fee, according to Joiner, is $3.00 for a senate position and $5.00 for Major office seekers. Both petitions and qualifying fees must be turned into the SGA office by March 8, Joiner said.

Joiner went on to explain that while interested students must qualify by March 8, formal campaigning for the major office positions as well as the non-dorm senate positions could not begin until April 3. Formal campaigning ends at 11 P.M. April 12 and the election will be held April 13.

All major SGA Positions will be open, which includes president, vice-president, secretary, and comptroller for the SGA.

Joiner reported that while overall those qualifying for the upcoming elections were few, there were already two candidates qualified for the position of President of the SGA, which is in marked contrast to that of last year in which Pres. Bob Sutton was elected to his present position unopposed.

Joiner stressed that most students were eligible for campus office and that the SGA office could clear up any doubts as to a student's eligibility. Interested students should pick up the petition blanks from the SGA office immediately in order to be able to meet the qualifying deadline on the eighth.

EDITOR'S DESK

Dear Editor,

I find it totally disgusting that the administration continues to procrastinate on vital issues concerning the students at VSC. The administration continues to promise action yet they don't do a damn thing.

For example, Dr. Martin and Dean Bond told the students of S-21 that there would be action taken regarding a study area for mixed groups after 12:00 midnight. It has now reached the end of the quarter and finals are upon us. The grades of some students will suffer because no action has been taken to supply such a facility.

I feel that these student needs are being put off because the administration feels if they can put it off long enough the dissenting students will have left or graduating.

It is time for the student body to take action for their own benefit. We must take a stand on issues that are pertinent to the student body. It is time to quit ignoring the administrations postponing platitudes and let the administration know that the students of this college will not tolerate this type of policy. We must take action to see that the legitimate demands are met with expediency.

Stand-up students and let yourself be heard.

I used to be a nothing a little short, fat, whiney kid from Milwaukee with a running nose. I was a real thorn in my mother Rose's side; a regular down-and-outer; a wipe-out; a has-been who never was and not at all beloved in the neighborhood.

Then something happened. I became educated.

It all began in high school when I dropped out of P. S. 184 and enrolled in what have been the first Alternative School. In the swamps of Milwaukee, everyday after school, we guys used to smoke alfalfa on the shores of lovely Lake Michigan. One afternoon, I noticed my friend, Norman, lighting up. On the cover of his matchbook it said, "Finish High School."

"Let me see that Norman," I said to Norman.

"Okay," Norman said to me.

As I lit my weed, I opened the book of matches and read on: "Are you tired of being a nothing, a little short, fat, whiney kid from Milwaukee with a running nose, a real thorn in your mother Rose's side, a regular down-and-outer, a wipe-out, a has-been who never was, and not at all beloved in the neighborhood? Then finish High School in your spare time. You can't get anywhere without a High School diploma. Write away right away."

So right away I wrote away. A few weeks later my info arrived in a plain brown wrapper.

"What's in that plain brown wrapper?" my Mother asked.

"Just some obscene literature," I told her.

"Okay," she said, "Just as long as it isn't any of that correspondence school stuff." I promised her it wasn't and the next day dropped out of school. Everyday, between the hours of 7:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., I'd sit on the banks of the Michigan and do my assignments diligently, taking only an hour out for lunch.

A few months later, my diploma from Matchbook High School with my name magic marked in arrived. And it now hangs proudly over my Father's pipe rack.

Upon discovering there was no Matchbook College, I enrolled at the state university and took classes in bio-physics, freshman English and animal husbandry. And then it came in the mail. A pamphlet proclaiming: "Instant Learning—courses that turn your tape recorder into an automatic learning machine." Shaking with excitement I read on.

"Now! Electronic Technology gives you a New Way to Learn Any Skill You Wish—so easily—so quickly—so automatically—so perfectly and permanently that it will take your breath away."

I gasped. Could this be true? Could this be from those nice people who brought me Matchbook High School? And, would I as the pamphlet promised "be turned into a walking encyclopedia to whom your friends and business associates will turn as a final authority on virtually any point?" I decided to sign up then and find friends and business associates later.

I dropped out of college I sold my dorm contract, bought myself a tape recorder and ordered learning tapes on each subject. I learned to "At Last! Speak fluent Spanish, French, Italian, German in exactly 24 hours!" I started as the ad said "chatting away like a native." For $9.98.

I obtained a "Power Personality"—and got "all the friends you ever wanted." I regained accounts that were considered lost." I won "the unconditional approval, respect, and admiration of everyone I came in contact with." And I revitalized as the ad promised "my marriage into a thrilling daily experience." It all worked. And I wasn't even in business or married. Only $9.98 per tape.

I learned how to develop my "Creative Mind Powers" as I began to "Liberate the Creative Flow Seething Within you!" I learned "How To Defend Yourself Against The Human Parasites

Who Want to Rule Your Life" and before you could say $9.98 I forgot my feelings of inadequacy" and learned how to "pry open the clenched fists of control that people wrap around you!" Night after night, while I was asleep, I began to double my power to learn (In Just A Single Weekend). I brought the "Magic of Mystic Power" into my life. I learned how to "avoid lawyers, to eat my way out of fatigue, cast astrological horoscopes write articles that sell" and "Through The Magic of Push-Button Self Hypnotism," started to shed pound after pound. "You'll be More Alive, More Alert, More Attractive to the Opposite Sex." And all for only $9.98.

In one tape I found the secret of perfect living—Instant Sleep—and learned to skyrocket my child's grades in school, as well as become a successful secretary learn "the new science to command persuasion" and win "unlimited power and control."

All this in two quick weeks.

Now I can do anything. I am the American Dream. I'm happy, I'm rich, I have control over people I know everything you always wanted to know about everything—just ask—and I am beloved in the neighborhood. I am the perfect human being

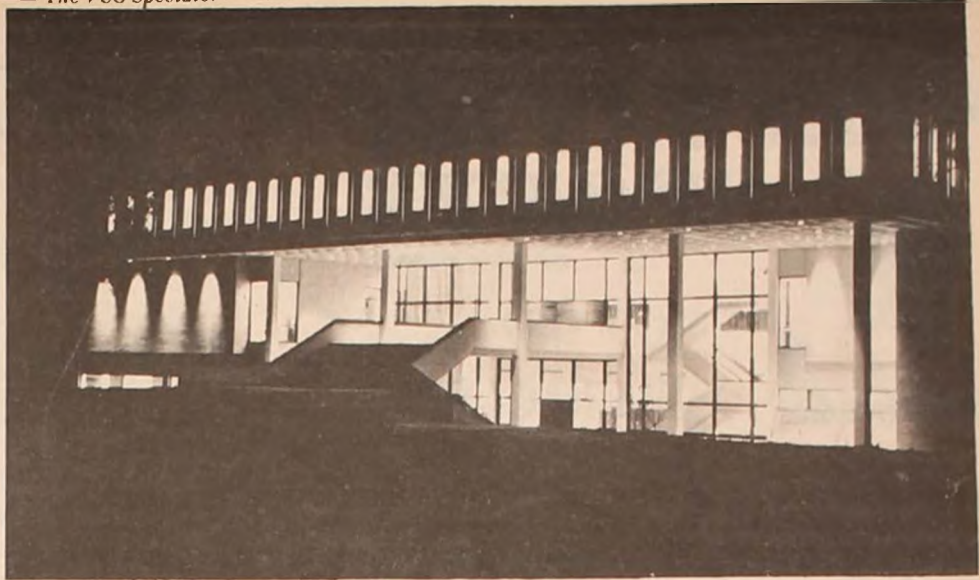

And now I'm in business for myself. With all of my vast experience in educational alternatives, I'm opening up what I call "Knowledge College" under a new, novel and unique principle: you arrive at my building at about 8 a.m. and spend the day sitting at something called a desk as a teacher lectures to you and you take notes. Then you're tested and you give back information to the teacher by rote. This learning program should take about four years. It is a radical plan. I know, but it just might work. As for cost, just send me $9,998.

WITH CHRIS KAUFFMAN

ON TO AMERICUS

For those of you who are saddened that UCLA and Marquette will not meet in championship lay and for those of you who thought that the Oklahoma-Nebraska game in December was the contest of the decade—take heed! rejoice sports fans! Saturday night in Americus, the Valdosta State College Rebels will defend their G.I.A.C. crown in their most crucial game of the 71-72 campaign.

Since the regular season standings left VSC, West Georgia and La Grange with identical 10-2 conference slates, a playoff was in order. Head coach James Dominey went to Macon last week and drew a bye thus leaving West Georgia and La Grange to battle for the remaining championship beth Friday night.

It should be no secret that in order for Our Rebs to win Saturday night they must be ready. The G.I.A.C. crown depends on their readiness. A defeat would mean the end of the season. A victory would conceivably put the first game of the District 25 playoff in Valdosta next Monday night.

All students are urged to attend. Free noisemakers will be provided courtesy of the SPECTATOR. Directions to Americus are simple: Take I-75 north to Cordele then west on U.S. 280 into Americus.

Game time is 8 p.m. at the Georgia Southwestern College Gymnasium. Your support is needed!!

THIS and THAT

Recognition is given this week to Alpha Delta Pi sorority and Delta Chi fraternity. These two organizations were voted the "most spirited" by the VSC Cheerleaders. For those of you who take statistics to heart: Our Rebs shot 100 per cent at the free throw line against Oglethorpe. The home five made nine of nine. Quotable quote from the officer who arrested Duane Thomas "You have the right to remain silent."

Rumors continue to persist that VSC is leaving the G.I.A.C. after this year and will join an NCAA affiliated conference. Leading the girl's intramural basketball are the Black Student League and Georgia Hall. The men are paced by Delta Chi and Student Union, the only undefeated teams in intramural competition.

Rebel baseball fans will be pleased to learn that the Home Troops have eighteen consecutive home games scheduled this year. And if you're interested in a football team at VSC drop a card in care of SPECTATOR Sports, Box 207, VSC. When speaking of outstanding performances of the past season, one must not overlook the Oglethorpe game in which Kenny Alston got 23 points and 13 rebounds while leading all players in both categories. If several dorms, a library, and an education building are now VSC realities, can a gym be far behind?

Tickets for the basketball playoff for the Georgia Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference went on sale Wednesday at the Valdosta State College gymnasium. In the playoff for the G.I.A.C. championship at Americus the VSC Rebels are to meet on Saturday the winner of Thursday's game between West Georgia and LaGrange.

Tickets are $1 for all students and $2 for all others according to Bill Grant VSC Athletic Director

The Rebels will meet the West Georgia Braves this Saturday night in the GIAC playoff championship. Above Kenny Alstonlays in two points in an earlier meeting with the Braves in which the Rebs won 65-76

Bechtel Wins City Council Post

BY TIMES STAFF WRITER

Bette Bechtel, the first woman in modern times to win a post on the city council, is known to have attended a past mayor - Council meetings and watched the proceedings while pursuing one of her hobbies - needlepoint.

It's doubtful her colleagues would object to her bringing a few of the pieces along to work on while attending to city business, but she'd probably get several "nay" votes to bringing in a sample of her other leisure time pursuit - herpetology.

That's a fancy word for the study of amphibians and reptiles and she has some beautiful examples if the other members of the governing board would care to see them. For example, there's an albino corn snake - or how about an axolotl?

Mrs. Bechtel, a 46-year-old assistant professor of biology at Valdosta State College, appears to enjoy talking about her hobbies as much as she does politics though she says she still can't believe the voters put her in office.

"I think it's wonderful," she beamed Monday night just minutes after the vote totals were in. "I still just can't believe it happened."

Her exuberance couldn't hide a womanly trait - sympathy for the losers. "It's been such a hard campaign, a long campaign," she explained. "It's just a shame anyone had to lose."

The Moorestown, N.J., native is the wife of Dr. Bernard Bechtel, a dermatologist here. He shares her love of herpetology but leaves the needlepoint work strictly to her, she said.

Mrs. Bechtel said she thought the election of a female council member would add another dimension to city government.

"In some areas, men and women look at things differently," she explained. "Take beauty for example.

"I don't think men notice whether the city is beautiful or not while a woman definitely does. On matters of a more practical nature, however, I feel men and women think basically along the same lines."

She denies being stubborn but also contends she's not easily swayed when her mind is made up. Mrs. Bechtel said she likes to have all the facts before making a decision but when she makes it, that's it.

The number one priority as far as she's concerned is the employee unrest among municipal workers. "I think we should take care of that first," she said.

"It's something which can be handled through a relatively short-range solution. The other problems, such as water-sewer overloading, will require long-term solutions."

Mrs. Bechtel received her B.S. degree from Temple University in Philadelphia, Pa., and her Master's degree in education from Indiana University of Pennsylvania. In between she picked up and R. N. (Registered Nurse certification) from Columbia - Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing in New York, N.Y.

HOW SWEET IT IS !

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Five St. Petersburg people went free Tuesday after a judge ruled Florida's law prohibiting sale or possession of marijuana was not valid.

"God knows how many cases will be affected," commented Pinellas County Circuit Judge Clyde M. Kissinger as he ordered charges dropped against Bob Henre, William Lyden, James C. Howard Philip D. Cazier and Kenneth L. Ewell.

"I am sure the legislature's action, or lack of it, was inadvertent," the judge said. "They just goofed, that's all."

A defense motion on which the judge's action was predicted the 1971 Florida Drug Abuse Law failed to specify that marijuana was illegal.

The challenge was raised by Clearwater attorney Joseph

Donahey and St. Petersburg attorney John Lenderman.

Donahey pointed out that marijuana was mentioned in a penalty section of the state statute but was not listed in the preceding section, which lists and defines illegal narcotics and hallucinogens.

Judge Kissinger's ruling came only a few days after Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin, at the request of State Atty. Gordon Oldham Jr. of Leesburg, issued an opinion saying the drug law was valid and airtight.

A spokesman for Shevin's office Tuesday said the effect of the court ruling would be limited to the 6th Circuit, comprised of Pinellas and Pasco counties until higher courts passed judgment or the Legislature rewrote the offending portion of the law.

If you have a used book you want to sell, the SGA Book Exchange can help you.

The Book Exchange will be open March 13 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.; March 14, 9 a.m. til noon; March 20, Noon until 8 p.m.; and March 21-24, 5 p.m. til 8 p.m. The Book Exchange will be located in the large storeroom of Langdale Hall.

Any student who has a book he wishes to sell should take it to the Book Exchange. When he leaves the book, he will be given a receipt stating his own name, address, and phone number, the title of the book and its author, and the price he is asking for the book.

A copy of the receipt will be placed in the book itself, and a third copy will be kept in the SGA files. When the book is sold, the SGA will send the money to the student at the address he designates.

The SGA will receive ten per cent of the selling price on all books. This money will be placed in the SGA scholarship and loan fund.

Any student whose book does not sell may keep the book at the Book Exchange or claim it at any time. If the book is not sold or claimed within eight quarters, it becomes the property of the SGA. Books which have gone out of date and are not reclaimed within ninety days become the property of the

This week's column starts on a fresh note with the formulation of the PLAYBOY RECORD COMPANY. The new label is not a re-hash of some old defunct corporation, but a complete addition to the already impressive world of Hugh Hefner. PLAYBOY RECORDS has its own music publishing subsidiary and a record label which bears the rabbit's head associated with the magazine. At this date there have been two single and three album releases on the label. The most promising artists appears to be TIM ROSE, who surfaces with a great deal of Gary Wright material, along with compositions by Lennon & McCartney and himself. Strongest cuts are 'It Takes a Little Longer,' 'Hide Your Love Away,' and 'Cryin' Shame.' For a novice company at recording, PLAYBOY is going at it with a style which suggests an experienced staff. All of the packaging is innovative and catchy. It looks as if the company will go far...

Neil Young has finally come through with his Harvest album on Reprise. He has really gone all out with his new LP which already has the 'Heart of Gold' single as a million-seller. The all-star backup musicians include James Taylor, Lynda Rhonstadt, Stephen Stills, Graham Nash and David Crosby. Some cuts such as 'Alabama' and 'Are You Ready For the Country' show a hint of style change for Neil Young. The right combination of musicians and an excellent selection of music are sure to put this one on the top of the lists quickly.

Jim Capaldi is on his own now with 'Oh How We Danced' which was produced last December at Muscle Shoals.

Appearing on the LP are Steve Winwood, David Mason, Rich Grooh, Chris Wood, and Rebop Kwaku Baah, who accompanied on percussion in 'Welcome To The Canteen.' A single has been released from the LP but it is doubtful that it will ever make the top charts. As for the remainder of the music on the album, nothing bad can be said. Most of the cuts are excellent. 'Oh How We Danced' is on Island. London Records has just recently come through with a fantastic set of releases. One of these is 'Hellbound Train' by Savoy Brown. It's about time. No change in the group's sound is readily noticeable, but the continuing quality in their music is. The best compositions are 'Doin' Fine,' 'It'll Make You Happy,' and the title song 'Hellbound Train,' which takes up 9 minutes of side two.

Many people thought that they had heard the last of Spirit when the group "broke up" some time ago. While Jo Jo Gunne may be doing well with many of the old members, Ed Cassidy and John Locke came up with a real winner. The new Spirit album is called "Feedback" and contains a totally new sound. Selections are generally good with the exception of "Trancas Fog Out" which has been deemed raunchy by more people than myself. That's a small price to pay for quality. Spirit is still on the yellow label, but it's EPIC instead of ODE.

Last but not least, Jimi Hendrix has "In The West," which is a compilation of performances which took place on the Isle of Wight, the Berkeley Community Center and other places on the West Coast. Live versions of Voodoo Chile, Little Wing, Johnny B. Goode, Blue Suede Shoes, and Red House are just a few. The people at Reprise must have strained every ounce of remaining Hendrix material onto the latest disc. Have faith they will keep emerging for some time.

In other news, The Young Bloods have a new single on their Raccoon Label and Jethro Tull's new album is said to be on the way from England. It's a concept LP, written exclusively by Ian Anderson and there are no bands on the record. It's one continuous conglomeration. Humble pie has made it with a double LP expected out over here some time way over yonder along with Procol Harum's new live product which is taken from Canadian Performances of all things. Foreshadowing their forthcoming album on Mercury, Uriah Heep's WIZARD single is already rising in popularity. There are more people getting restless than just a few down here. Poor Leon Russell—doctor's orders confine him to bed and rest after a recent collapse during a gig in England. Reasons given were overwork and exhaustion. The full story appears in the March edition of Circus Magazine.
