THE GEORGIA STATE WOMANS COLLEGE, VALDOSTA, GEORGIA FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1940

NUMBER 23.

NELL SOUTHWELL

"Craig's Wife" Is Presented By Southwell

On Wednesday evening, May 15, Nell Zipperer Southwell was presented in a graduation recital by the Department of Speech of GSWC. She read cuttings from CRAIG'S WIFE by George Kelly.

Serving as vice-president of the Sock and Buskin Club for 1939-40, Mrs. Southwell has always been interested in dramatics. She had outstanding parts in CRADLE SONG, STAGE DOOR, and FIRST LADY, Sock and Buskin productions for the past three years.

Besides the Sock and Buskin, Mrs. Southwell has been a member of the English Club, Sports Club, and Valdosta Club.

Dear Students,

Thank you for your local and hearty cooperation in making our Play Day-May Day a successful and happy event of the year. If you have any constructive suggestions for another year they will be welcomed.

Sincerely,
Leonora Ivey,
(Chairman)

Glee Club Continues Its Rhythmic Performances

By Louie Peeples

The Glee Club sings tonight! In a concert at the Ritz theatre the members and the Serenaders will give one of their first programs for the year. They will appear on the stage at nine o'clock, bringing the atmosphere of our college to the theatre, and will our girls be there to hear them? You bet!

Not quite two weeks ago the Glee Club played an important part, singing the story of "Sleeping Beauty," for the May Day exercises. For weeks the singers had worked and practiced. "Legato! Beat! Rhythm! Watch!" were words long drilled into their minds by Miss Motter, petite Glee Club director, and the girls themselves drilled, the many congratulations for a wonderful performance acclaiming the results of that drill!

Even last week the Glee Clubbers were broadcasting at Gainesville, being royally entertain-

Senior And Ashley Halls To Be Open For Summer Session

Record Enrollment Expected This Year; Large Variety Of Courses Will Be Offered

This summer, for the first time, Senior Hall will be used as the residence of summer school students. Ashley Hall will also be open for the session. Applications and inquiries that have already been received indicate that there will be a record enrollment this year.

Dr. J. A. Durrenberger, director of the summer session, says that a larger staff of teachers from other colleges is being used this year than ever before. Among them are: Mr. James Bailey Blanks, professor of education and psychology at La Grange College; Miss Emily Jones, supervising teacher in elementary grades at the University of Georgia; Dr. John W. Nuttycombe, associate professor of Zoology at the University; and Dr. Samuel Denny Smith, associate professor of history at the Mississippi State College for Women.

Members of the G. S. W. C. faculty who will teach at the summer session include: Miss Frances Ruth Carpenter, professor of art; Dr. J. A. Durrenberger, professor of social sciences; Dr. Harold S. Gulliver, professor of English; Mr. Herbert F. Kraft, instructor in Music; Mrs. Gertrude Gilmer Odum, professor of English; Miss Lillian Patterson, assistant librarian; and Dr. Earl W. Phelan, professor of chemistry.

A course in primary curriculum and methods is being offered this summer. Other courses in the field of education are educational psychology, the school and society, public school music, public school art, high school curriculum and methods, and educational and vocational guidance.

Three courses in library science are to be given. These are the school library as an information laboratory, organization and activities of the school library, and reading guidance for young people and children.

Most of the state survey courses will be offered. The second half of the survey in human biology will be taught. Physical

SGA, "Y" Officers Hold Retreat

The incoming and outgoing officers of the Student Government Association and Young Womans Christian Association will meet Saturday, May 18, at the Dusenbury cottage at Twin Lakes to formulate plans for Orientation Week in September, and to revise the Student Handbook.

Mildred Wilson and Ruth Whisonant, retiring presidents announced that separate committee meetings of the organizations will be held, following a joint meeting.

A picnic lunch and swimming in the lakes will offer the recreation of the retreat.

The object in the retreat is to serve as a bridge for the new officers to obtain the benefit of the old officer's experience.

Ruth Whisonant, Ann Parham, Maxwell Williams, M. C. Abernathy, Margaret Burns, Jane Ellen Smith, Sara Catherine Martin, Grace Williams, and Montine Cowart will represent the S. G. A.

Freshman Honor Society Treats New Members

Tonight, May 17, at six o'clock the 1939-40 members of the Freshman Honor Society entertained the new members with a supper at the House In The Woods.

The new members include Betty Barnes, Valdosta; Wilma Cody, Waycross; Sara Etheridge, Sumner; Elizabeth Fender Valdosta; Mary Josephine Ford, Columbus; Catherine Green, Greensboro, Fla.; Elizabeth Hartsfield, Moultrie; Rose McLeod, Pineview; Jeanne Pryor, Fitzgerald; Thelma Sirmans, LaBelle, Fla.; Corinne Smith, Valdosta; and Jacqueline Smith, Waycross.

Juniors Place Stickers On Sale

GSWC stickers will be sold on campus by the Juniors beginning Monday, May 20. They will be in several sizes to use on cars, windows, letters, etc. The small stickers will be ten cents per package and the larger ones three for ten cents.

The following girls will have charge of sales in the designated places, Louise Macfie and Runelle Prance in Senior Hall, Margaret Dutton and Virginia Tomlinson in Ashley Hall, Maxine Cowart and Lucile Johnson in Converse Hall, and Marion Orr for town girls.

CURTIS WHATLEY

Whatley Will Read "Holiday" In Recital

Miss Curtis Whatley, talented member of the GSWC Speech Department will be presented in a recital on Wednesday evening, May 22, at 8:30 o'clock. She will read Holiday by Philip Barrie.

Outstanding in dramatic work on the campus, Miss Whatley has been a member of the Sock and Buskin Club for three years taking part in the annual play for the last two. Her studies in speech have been under Miss Louise Sawyer.

Carrying her talents into many fields Miss Whatley has held membership in the English Club, Alpha Delta Journalistic Fraternity and the Sports Club. She has served on the staff of both THE PINE CONE and THE CAMPUS CANOPY.

Ushers for the evening will include Ruth Whisonant, Mary McCoy, Marguerite Norton, Molly Fountain, Hazel Williams, and Robinette Bell.

Typical Letter To Home Asks Parents For Money

By S. C. Martin

Autors Note:

I was writing home for money when Linda came in Wednesday night and said, "S. C., we need a feature for the front page of the CANOPY and you're just the person to write it." Well, she was soft soaping me and I knew it, so I didn't pay much attention until after she'd gone and I realized what a spot I was in. She was expecting a feature out of me by the next day, and noon was the dead line. Hurriedly I picked up a pencil and paper and racked my brain for a subject.

The letter home for money gave me an idea. I began to wonder what other girls said when they wrote home, so I forgot my manners and asked. They told me, and from what I gather from those confessions the average college girl's letter to home is something like this:

Converse Hall

Campbell, Wilson, Norton, To Have Names On Plaque

Names of three seniors from the 1939-40 class will appear on the Sport's Club plaque this year. The highest honor that can be achieved in the Sport's Club, having one's name perpetuated in the memories of the college, will go to Kathleen Campbell and Edith Wilson, Lambdas, and to Marguerite Norton, Kappa. This announcement, along with a tentative list of the names of girls, to receive Sport's Club awards was made today by Ruth Reid, president of the club.

Bracelets will be given to: Yolande Coppage, Katherine Mundy, Evelyn Brim, Mary Alice Brim, Ruth Reid and Christine Ross.

Lambdas receiving awards are: Doris Callahan, Jamie McCleod, June Mosely, Willard Parrish, Mercedes Sloan, Gladys Smith, Tenzie Coleman, Julie Dunbar, Elizabeth Fender, Margaret King, Doris Land, Barbara

Peeples, Green, Smith Are New F. A. C. Officers

At a call meeting of the Fine Arts Club last Monday, Louie Peeples was re-elected president for 1940-41. Billie Green was elected vice-president, and Julia Bess Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Peeples is a member of the Valdosta Club, Glee Club, and Sports Club. She was a member of the Freshman Honor Society. Having served as assistant literary editor of the Pine Cone this past year, she has also been a reporter, columnist and is now an associate editor for the CAMPUS CANOPY.

Miss Green, is the present secretary-treasurer of the Fine Arts Club. She is a member of

The Old Order Changeth

"The old order changeth yielding place to the new." With this issue the 1940-41 staff assumes responsibility of the CANOPY with anticipation, yet with a certain amount of apprehension.

The coming year promises new fields of endeavor, new ideas with which to work, new changes to be made, which tend to create this anticipation . . . and yet, the fact that we have a record to uphold, if not excell, makes us apprehensive.

Under the capable and successful leadership of Editor Bell, the CANOPY was awarded Second Class Honor Rating, a feat which shows a decided improvement in the CANOPY. With this status to maintain if not improve upon, it will take a great deal of cooperation from not only the staff, but the student body as a whole.

The CANOPY is a student newspaper which has been organized on democratic principles, has functioned on democratic ideas, and will continue as a democratic newspaper . . . of the students, by the students, and for the students.

Our editorial policy will remain the OPEN DOOR policy, which has been adhered to by our predecessors, a policy through which "it can function best as a progressive college newspaper."

It Can Be A Success

Because of an increasing realization of the need of cooperation among all organizations, a President's Council has recently been organized. This group is composed of heads of all student clubs and organizations, and has as its general purpose, "to obtain integration of campus activities through ACTIVE cooperation of organizations."

This council supplies a long felt need on campus . . . the need of having an organization through which every club may be reached and brought into closer harmony with campus activities. It is the most effective means through which development of a democratic college spirit, improvement upon student-faculty relations, and solutions to problems of group psychology may be realized.

One of the projects that has been set forth by the Council is that of training presidents in their duties and procedures. This project will carry a course in parliamentary law. Another function will be that of preventing the overlapping in club activities that has been prevalent this year.

These objectives speak for themselves. They are evidence enough that there is a need for a well-organized student group to perform such functions.

An organization which has such aims can be one of the most successful and influential groups on campus. However, its success depends directly upon the ability and willingness of every student to help their presidents by giving them their active cooperation and support.

Will it succeed? We say, "Definitely, yes!"

Wedding bells are ringing so continuously for GSWC belles these days that one finds it difficult to keep an account of the wed . . . and those to be . . . but DORIS held out on us . . . She and CLAUDE took the fatal leap in March . . . and LOUIE is wearing the loveliest engagement ring . . . from GENE! PATTY PATTERSON is wearing a ring on THAT finger . . . it was put there by JOHN . . . while LAVERNE and BOB will be saying those vows soon!

One moment, please! . . . while your reporter collects her wits . . . RUMOR HAS IT THAT THERE ARE FIVE MORE SECRET MARRIAGES TO BE ANNOUNCED IN THE VERY NEAR FUTURE!

And while we're on the subject of HEARTS and FLOWERS . . . the flowers were orchids for MARY MCCOY, BELL, RUNELLE, WILKES, BITS, and ROSEMARY . . . for the Junior-Senior affair of last week-end!

It has come to the point where ones' date is not even safe among the faculty members . . . His feet did hurt, though . . . didn't they Miss MOTTER???

And we are wondering . . . why GWEN and BILL didn't get to the formal last Friday night! . . . but we know . . . why another nickname can be appropriately attributed to PORKY . . . in case you haven't heard . . . it's "NIGHT-OWL" ORR!

Hqse party at Fernandina attended by ROBERTS, SHERMAN, WISENBAKER, HOYE, GRAHAM, and FRANKLIN! We'll bet it was pretty much!

HAZEL, you made a wonderful entrance . . . but that exit could stand a little improvement! . . . Did you try again—maybe???

Hearts that beat faster than waltz time . . . are those of JEANIE SAUNDERS and JIM BLACK . . . RUNELLE and PAUL . . . who is just as you say he is, RUNELLE!

"PLAYMATES" . . . MARCEL-LA and JULIA BESS . . . VIRGINIA and SUE . . . CHARLOTTE and LAVERNE . . . JANIE and MARY FRANCES . . . CAROLYN and VIRGINIA . . . "PORKY" and TAYLOR . . . DORIS and SUZ-ZANNE.

VIRGINIA LEE, Brookwood is a fine place . . . and all that . . . but he has liked red-heads before . . . and we don't mean VIR-GIL!

And where do the Ashley steps lead . . . if not into the dorm? Clue . . . one blonde wearing a pink dress!

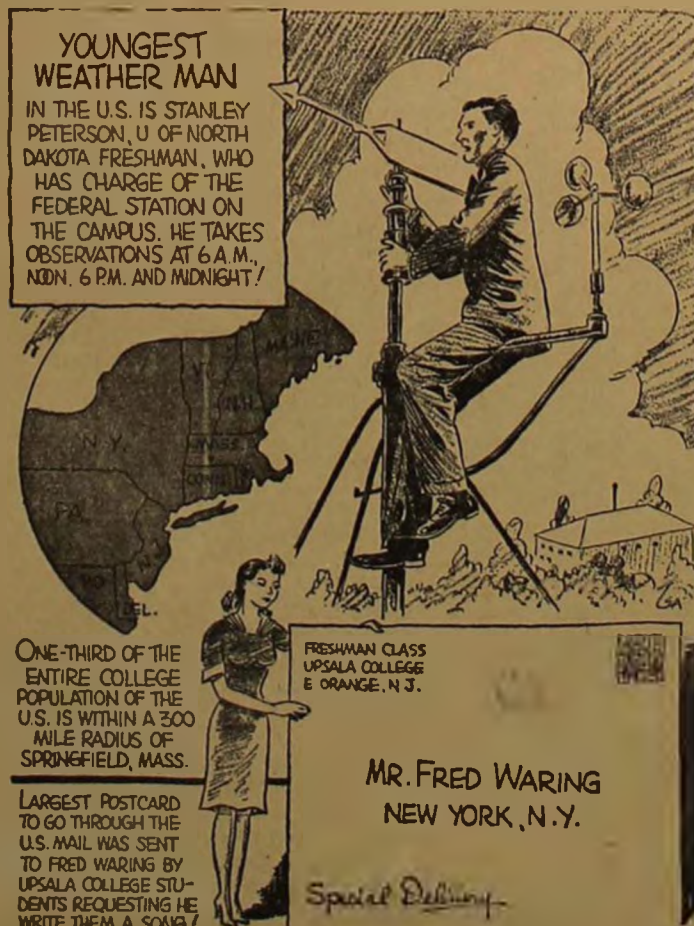

Look - alike . . . DORIS and MARGARET HIERS . . . Capitalism . . . LILA MAE at Jitney-Jungle . . . Day laborer . . . GREET trudging from the library with so many books that she needed a seeing-eye canine!

Flash . . . BOOTSIÉ MEADOWS is wearing a ring . . . for HENRY! . . .

Just thinking—it seems as if ANN VAN HOOK has Buck Brinson completely vamped which reminds your scribe to wonder how MARY JO feels about the whole situation.

P. S. Ask Inez Taylor why she eats so many cucumbers. She'll be glad to tell you.

A Word Of Tribute

By Doris Hiers

To the editorial staff of the PINE CONE, or more expressively, to those of our students who are lovers of journalism, may be attributed credit for editing one of the best yearbooks in the history of the college. These students, having disproved the Freshmen's rhyme concerning the fact that "upperclassmen never do a thing," gave a sigh of relief the day the annuals arrived via parcel post and here's why . . . the climax of the college year for all students, Freshmen as well as Seniors, had come.

That this year's PINE CONE is a success is proved by campus opinion. Everything it set out to accomplish, it accomplished as far as we're concerned. To quote directly from its pages, the annual's chief aim was to picture the year's activities . . . the unusual campus activities as well as the usual. LIFE and FORTUNE magazines were used as models with the result that we, the student body, the recipients and the "presenters" of the annual, are proud to enter it in the National Yearbook Contest, for another first class honor rating we hope.

Enough has been said about the annual . . . you have your book and, no doubt, you already know more about it than you do that Education book you've had all quarter. To the editorial staff, capably led by Ora Kate Wisenbaker . . . it doesn't hurt us a bit to tip our hats in tribute to you who added so much to our college year and, from now on, we're going to do a little smiling along with that hat tipping.

Just Reminiscences

By Ora Kate Wisenbaker

Can't somebody write something to fill up column four on page three? I only need about three hundred words. Nights of working . . . C. J.'s red hair and Irish fervor . . . Jane's helter-skelter hit or miss direction . . . long hours spent at the printers . . . cajoling—pleading with Tommy . . . coffee and pie at Lindbergh's after the paper is out . . . Hyland's ready wit . . . how scared we were of Johnny as freshmen . . . moaning over our little write-ups . . . so carefully written . . . they never did come out remotely resembling the masterpieces we had so proudly presented . . . Make a head—three decks in 18 point . . . Frantic searching for the right word . . . Never leave out the verb . . . our headline casualties . . . Meeks speaks and Tyrone Power . . . Draw the curtain of charity here . . . Where's that write up? I know I put it right here . . . Right here meaning the desk covered with paper . . . Mad scrambles for the deadline . . . I'm dead! I can't write another thing . . . Keep quiet, dope, can't you see I'm counting words! Heck . . . I've lost count! Space on the editorial page? Here write a letter to the editor, quick! An editorial? What about? Oh anything, but not over 150 words.

Music from the auditorium coming in the open window. Another Glee Club and WE have to work! Run over to Converse and get that paper . . . the reporter didn't bring it up.

Three different offices . . . the old biology reading room . . . desks that weren't screwed down and tipped over landing us on the floor unexpectedly . . . amid gales of laughter from the rest of the staff! Bell's mad scramble for the Toreador . . . Let's do something like this, see! Ernest does this. Linda . . . a tower of strength never failing! Oh yes . . . have you heard this one? The blue vase Miss Calloway presented us . . . we never had any flowers but it was a help anyway.

Out subby hole midway between the dome and the library . . . Long suffering librarians! Nope . . . you can't come in . . . there are eight in here now and there's no where to sit . . . No, three are on the floor now . . . Why doesn't SOMEBODY learn to type? We can't type ALL this tonight! But we did . . . somehow.

Ah, a new office in the House in the Woods. Room and more room . . . no sitting on the floor. Tables, three whole ones . . . the kitchen next door. You say there's a club meeting tonight? Good! we eat. Kind folk come in and bring us food . . . Surprises—Scoops . . . long bus rides . . . singing—sleeping—GSWC? Its in Valdosta, Georgia. Our paper is the CAMPUS CANOPY. (Swelled heads.)

Second honor rating! Grand . . . means work . . . Where are the ads? What, no more ads than this. (Next week) Heavens throw out that story on page four . . . we've got to have room for more ads.

Four busy, happy years. Years of precious memories . . . friendships formed . . . work done . . . secrets known—hectic hours—satisfied minutes . . . Four years no one can take away . . . all ours—to love and remember fondly always.

Sketching

MARGARET WOOD—

Sparkling, brown-eyed Kentuckian in our midst, ready to smile . . . but have you ever seen her give a hearty laugh?

Says she can't remember a thing. When a child, she once fell out of a two-story window. Result? . . . just a bounce. Only reason she remembers is because the family is always using it for an excuse, she says . . . consistently runs away from home. Crazy about red, consequently wears red fingernail polish always. Thinks blue is pretty, likes college but will be only too glad to finish. Plans to just sit after it's over but may be a trip to the altar.

Transferred here her Sophomore year from Campbellsville Jr. College. Will never forget our pines.

Loves animals, particularly dogs and horses. At one time had 18 dogs. Never sees a vase but what she longs to throw it, many times indulging in her desire. Likes crazy hats and shoes, Bette Davis, costume jewelry, steak, and longs to see "Strange Cargo" again for it fascinates her.

Spends her vacations camping, and longs to become an aviatrix. Had the most exciting time of her life when she was invited up to see air maneuvers at Indianapolis last year. But she's scared of the dark.

Favorite radio programs—Glenn Miller and Bob Hope. Favorite song—"Lovers Serenade," can quote two most embarrassing moments. On a first date trying so hard to make an impression—ate something and—ooh!—Home early!! Next sitting in a public restaurant and having someone page "Pin Pong Rosie," Margaret Wood to you. Practical Jokers! But then her friends will tell you she's quite a "story-teller." Adores cartoons—Little Lulu can't be beat according to her.

She loves to eat and is a good cook. Quick to size up people and rarely changes an opinion. Is superstitious, will walk around a ladder any day.

If you want a peculiarity ask her to say man and don't be surprised if you hear a sound like may-ane.

HATTILU McINTYRE—

A rare senior . . . Hattilu finishes her college year in three years . . . majoring in English. Hattilu is a member of the Sociology and English Clubs. She has brown hair and brown eyes and a freckled face . . . doesn't care for the beach, since she blisters easily.

On being questioned if she had ever been in love, Hattilu evaded the query, and enigmatically replied that she didn't believe in putting all her eggs in one basket . . . but she was the only senior on the memorable excursion to New Orleans during Mardi Gras to rate a picture of Pettigrew, the Romeo of the Bus line.

Leaving home at the tender age of four years, Hattilu has ever since lived with her aunt in Valdosta . . . boasts that in Sarah Syms she has a shadow . . . one of her most exciting adventures was a trip to Richmond, Virginia.

Has never been really angry in her life, except once . . . isn't afraid of anything, except worms and lightning . . . hates to sleep in the daytime . . . likes dill pickles and dodges marshmallows when they're offered her.

Hattilu spends all her spare money on fortune tellers and punch boards . . . will wear blue every time, if given her choice color.

"White Banners" is acclaimed by Hattilu as the best picture she's ever seen . . . would vote for Roosevelt for a third term without hesitation.

A rare girl again . . . she doesn't like to talk, which explains the shortness of this sketch, gentle readers . . . and who is there who wouldn't agree that Hattilu is indeed a rare person . . . given the chance to talk of herself, and declined!

Carter Tells Regulations For Swimming Pool

Miss Marjorie Carter, swimming director, has announced the regulations regarding the use of the pool to the student body. The pool will be open from 4:00 to 5:30 in the afternoons on week days and on Saturday from 10:30 until 12:00 in the morning. Students may swim at any other time if they get a Life Guard to keep the pool for them. Girls may take dates on co-recreation afternoons and also on week-end nights if they make special arrangements for the pool to open.

Other regulations are as follows:

1. Showers must be taken before entering the pool.
2. Foot bath must be taken before and after entering the pool.
3. Caps must be worn.
4. Ear drops should be used after getting out of the pool.
5. Wool suits must not be worn without permission.

- Bath House Regulations
1. Aisles must be kept dry.
 2. Showers must not be left running.
 3. Mats must be kept dry and clean.
 4. Bathers are not to use town Girls' Room.

West Virginia University will have 21 visiting instructors from as many colleges at its summer sessions.

Junior-Senior Dance Marks End Of '40 Formal Series

Margaret Burns And Mac Barber, Followed By Junior And Senior Class Officers And Dates, Head Lead Out.

Grand finale of the 1939-40 formals was the Junior-Senior dance Friday night, May 10, at the American Legion Home. Miss Margaret Burns, president of the Junior Class, headed the lead-out with her date, Mac Barber of Commerce, Ga. Following her were Frances Williams, vice-president of the Juniors with Pilcher Clark of Valdosta, Marion Orr, Secretary-treasurer with John Whipple, Quitman, Ga.

Jack Benny Is First Choice Of Collegians

Austin, Texas, May 3.—Jack Benny, long a favorite of radio listeners, is first choice among college and university students of the nation, a poll taken by the Student Opinion Surveys of America reveals.

Bob Hope and Information Please follow closely as the second and third favorite program of collegians, the survey shows. Interviews in colleges of all sizes from coast to coast asked this question of a carefully-selected sampling, "Which is your favorite radio program?" The national tabulations follow:

	Pct.
1. Jack Benny	10.0
2. Bob Hope	7.1
3. Information Please	4.0
4. Glenn Miller	6.6
5. Kay Kyser	5.8
6. Charlie McCarthy	4.4
7. Hit Parade	4.0
8. One Man's Family	3.7
9. Ford Hour	3.0
10. Kraft Music Hall	2.6
11. Philharmonis	2.1

(See JACK Page 4)

Coming next in the lead-out were the Senior officers and their dates, Mary Catherine Abernathy, president, with Allen Clements, Moultrie, Doris Harper with Claude Saunders (or should we say Mr. and Mrs. Claude Saunders?) and Hazel Williams with Tom Freeman, Valdosta.

Miss Gwendolyn Winter, chairman of the decorating committee, had made the room a panorama of color using spring flowers and green vines. Candelabras were placed in each corner and the punch bowl was surrounded with ferns and daisies.

No-break cards were silhouettes in the shape of a boy and girl's head and the writing was done in white ink. Marie Smith was chairman of the committee

The Kappas defeated the Lambdas 18-14 in a swat fest that had as its highlight three home runs. One by Lewis, Kappa in the fourth; Taylor, Lambda in the fourth; and Pritchett, Lambda in the fourth. These home runs alone accounted for three runs for the Kappa team and five for the Lambdas.

The faculty soft ball team defeated the students 13-10, in a game with a score like a football game and with just as many thrills. The faculty's big inning was the first, before the students got down to playing. Five runs were made in the first, four of them when Durrenburger hit a home run with the bases loaded. Other home runs of the game came from Punke in the second and Workman in the sixth for the faculty; Wilson and Pritchett hit homers for the students in the second and fourth respectively.

Glee

The Glee Club never stops! It is composed of nearly 15 per cent of the student body, and tryouts have been held twice during the school year. "As approximately half of those who tried out each time were chosen," said Jackie Abrahams, capable club president, "The Glee Club is a select group of voices." And you'll think so too, when you hear these girls sing tonight. We said they keep busy! They do! Next week they begin working on Commencement Music. More hard work, but they love it . . . and when a club on the campus gets work done the way this club does, it deserves plenty of praise from the college it sings for! So hats off to Miss Motter and a fine club, Glee Clubbers!

I guess I'll have to buy her another dress. I went up town and priced some dresses yesterday afternoon and found one that I think will do. I told the lady who was waiting on me what had happened and she offered to sell me the dress cheap ($12.99). I told her I didn't know what to do yet, but that I would go back next week, so she's holding the dress for me for fifty cents. While I was there I tried on several dresses and found one of the most darling black taffeta gowns. It's cut real low in the back and looks just grand on me. The clerk says that it'd be a pity for me not to have it, so I had her send it out and charge it to you dad. I know you won't mind because it looks lovely on me and it's only $19.95.

I sure am sick of school. If it weren't for the Saturday night dances and the swimming pool I don't know what I'd do. The weather is so hot that I practically live down at the pool. I'm learning to swim, too, and in a few weeks I believe I'll be brave enough to go out in the deep part. But, I need a new bathing suit if I am to continue to go swimming. All of the girls are getting new sharkskin suits while all I have is that old black lastex that I got when I came off to school last September.

By the way, our club is planning to take a week-end trip to Florida soon and I want to go. I'll have to help pay expenses, and then I'll want some money of my own (about $5.00). If I do go I'll need some new luggage. This that I have is all skint up from keeping it under the bed, and my roommate refuses to let me use hers again, since I broke the lack on it last time. Please try to get a nice week-end bag and sent it to me by next week.

Well that's all of the news so I guess I'll close and go to the show if I can borrow fifteen cents. Please remember to send me some money by return mail.
Love,
Your Daughter.
