J. Smith And F. Kennedy Will Head Canopy Staff

Jacqueline Smith, of Waycross was elected Editor of the 1942-43 CAMPUS CANOPY, and Frances Kennedy, of Thomaston, was named Business Manager Wednesday. The nominations were made by a committee composed of the editorial staff and the class presidents and was confirmed by the student body on Wednesday. Miss Smith succeeds Frances Kennedy as editor, and Miss Kennedy succeeds Ruth Sessoms as Business Manager.

Miss Smith, a member of the Junior Class, is a music major and a sociology minor. She is a member of the Sociology Club, the Philharmonic Club, Varsity Glee Club, a former member of the Y Cabinet, and former vice-president of the Freshman Honor Society. She served as Literary Editor of the Pine Cone, and is at present Associate Editor of the Campus Canopy. She is accompanist for the GSWC string ensemble, and she is chairman of the campus committee Sunday night on Open House. Miss Smith's name frequently appears on the Dean's List.

Retiring Editor

Retiring Editor of the Canopy, Miss Kennedy, is a member of the Junior Class with a major in sociology and a minor in English. She is the second junior in the history of the school to edit the

Scott Is Elected To Council Office

Kathryn Scott, Pelham, was elected spring quarter chairman of the President's Council at a meeting of that group on Wednesday night. Louise Edwards, winter quarter chairman, conducted the election. Nancy Cole, Savannah, was also nominated for the office.

Committees were appointed by the new chairman. Eleanor Cook was reappointed as chairman of the War Bond committee. Leicy Anne Henry was named to head the automobile committee, and Frances Kennedy was appointed as chairman of the entertainment committee with Rachel Crittendon and Nancy Cole.

Dr. Frank R. Reade and Miss Annie P. Hopper attended the meeting and talked on various subjects. Miss Hopper discussed the Thursday night supper attendance and urged the council to take steps toward making a success of the event. Dr. Reade discussed the war bond and the progress made on it.

Scholarship Fund Receives 3 Bonds

Presidents' Council's War Bond Scholarship Fund campaign gained momentum this week as enthusiastic students and alumnae contributed three more bonds to establish scholarships for future G. S. W. C. students and at the same time aid the nation in its War Bond drive.

The Valdosta Club, of which Leicy Ann Henry is president, voted at its luncheon meeting Wednesday to give a bond to the fund. Earlier in the week the Valdosta chapter of the Alumnae Association contributed a bond.

A musical silver tea in the Rotunda Monday afternoon, featuring a program by members of the music and speech departments, yielded money for the third bond. Stu-

Juniors To Stage Review April 11

Elaborate plans have been underway for the past week by the Junior class in presenting a novel, "Red, White and Blue Review," for the benefit of the War Bond Scholarship drive. The Review will be presented next Saturday night in the auditorium and admission will be Defense Stamps. The stamps will be turned over to the War Bond Committee toward a bond.

Sara Catherine Martin and Harriet Flournoy are in charge of the script and the reports are hilarious. The cast will include a large number of the Junior class members. Every member of the Junior class has some part in the review, which promises to be one of the outstanding events of the year.

Committee chairmen released by class president, Thelma Sirmans include Sunshine Taylor, Stage; June Mosely, Properties; Betty Jane Dorough, Publicity; Doris Hiers, Programs; Ava Collins, Tickets; Bettv Barnes, Annette Blackburn and Ursula Davis, as ushers, and Alice Meadows and Gwen Johnson, dances.

The Review will begin at 8:00 Saturday evening.

Pres. Announced Y Cabinet Changes

June Mosely has announced the Y.W.C.A. cabinet for 1942-43.

New cabinet members are Assistant Vice-President, Pat Forrester; Deputation Chairman, Jacqueline Smith; Morning Watch Chairman, Jackie Jones and Alpha Mae Castleberry; Entertainment Chairman, Alice Meadors; Publicity Co-Chairmen, Elizabeth Jones and Jo McNeil; Room Chairman, Marie Davis; Vesper Choir Chairman, Ava Collins; Pianist, Eugenia Reid, and Violinist, Nell Patton.

These girls will be installed later in the spring. They will attend the Y.W.C.A.-S.G.A. Retreat with the present cabinet this month.

Other members of the cabinet are June Mosely, President; Julia Frances McCorkle, Vice-President; Betty Peters, Secretary; and Mary Carol Allen, Treasurer, who were elected by the student body recently.

Sunrise Service Will Be Conducted Brookwood Park

The annual Sunrise Easter Services, which is sponsored by the Valdosta Ministerial Association, will be held in Brookwood Park at 7:30 on Easter morning. The setting is to be the amphitheater which will furnish seating accommodations for many.

The music will be directed by James Dasher, an outstanding Valdosta musician and the Glee Club from Emory Junior College will sing.

A large audience is expected to attend as it will be a nonsectarian service and will furnish sacred inspiration for all.

Mildred Larson Returns Lovely And Unscathed From Hawaii With Vivid Story of Pearl Harbor

J. E. SMITH

Miss Mildred Larson, as she sat in Miss Rogers' office in a beautiful green suit and a tropical print blouse, certainly did not look as if she had just returned from the bomb-torn Hawaiian Islands, where she was staying during the Japanese attack on December 7th.

"The sudden attack shocked me so at first that I did not have time to get excited," said the former worker in G. S. W. C.'s business office. She had every reason to get excited if she had been the susceptible type, for she was staying on Waikiki Beach, near Diamond Head, which is one of the most vulnerable points in Hawaii.

Angry Civilians

"I think most of the civilians were stunned like myself at the first attack. It was afterwards that the real reaction came—one of anger and fury." After the three attacks that came that day, civilians volunteered for first aid in the sections that had been seriously damaged, Miss Larson said. Her home was left untouched, the nearest bomb dropped on a Catholic bishop's house, about a quarter of a mile away. In preparation for future bombings, however, in which they might not have been so lucky, Miss Larson and her friends put sand bags around their houses, had fire hoses in readiness, and tried to secure black-out materials, which were at a premium.

Awe-Inspiring Destruction

"The next attack came that night during a strict black-out when we were not allowed to even leave our homes. If something like a bombing attack could be called beautiful, I think the one that night was. At any rate, it was spectacular. The tracer bullets shot by the anti-aircraft squads made the sky brilliant," the blond Valdostan said.

Business As Usual

Nearly everyone on the island, including Miss Larson, who was employed in the office of an agent for the Matson Boat Lines, returned to work on the following day.

"All during the day we received our instructions over the radio. We were issued gas masks, and

Hiers Will Steer Math-Science Club For 1942-43 Term

Math major, Doris Hiers, of Moultrie, will steer the Math-Science club through its activities next year with Leonora Peebles as vice-president and Tenzie Coleman as secretary-treasurer. These new officers were elected at the monthly meeting of the club last night in the traditional manner of the Math-Scientists. Four candidates were nominated and the girl receiving the largest number of votes was made president. Marion Posey was the fourth candidate.

Dr. Lee Blitch, of the Emory Junior science department spoke

Defense Classes To Be Taught Here

G. S. W. C. students will have an opportunity to learn incendiary bomb technique and markmanship, according to announcements made by President Frank R. Reade at assembly Wednesday morning. Students who do not know how to swim and to drive an automobile may do so as a part of the civilized defense program of the college.

These new classes will augment the Red Cross First Aid, Home nursing, Typing and Shorthand courses already being offered on campus in the interest of civilian defense.

The markmanship classes will be taught by members of the Valdosta Police Department. Girls will be instructed in the use of rifles and pistols.

Professors in the departments of chemistry and physics will teach various methods of extinguishing serious types of incendiary bombs. This course will require only six hours' time.

had to be registered and fingerprinted," Miss Larson went on.

Night-Life Nil

"We had no night-life except the entertaining that we could do at home. We could be out in a car until 7:30, war-time, and could walk around until 9:00, when curfew was declared."

Midget Subs

Miss Larson was lucky to see Pearl Harbor several days after the attack. Most of the things that she saw she cannot divulge. However, she did describe the midget Japanese submarines that were lying around on the beach. These kiddy-cars of warfare machinery are manned by two men, who naturally belong to the "suicide squad," judging from the odds against them after such a mission.

Censored and Uncensored

Due to the fact that "A Slip of the Lip May Sink a Ship," Miss Larson, could not tell much of her voyage home. She could say, however, that she was on a crowded troop ship that was entirely blacked out during the nights on the trip to America. One of her

As a result of the election yesterday Martha Ashley was elected to the presidency of the Sports Club, while Jean Mobley and Alice Meadors were retained in their same positions as secretary and treasurer, respectively. Evalyn O'Neal, who was defeated by Miss Ashley in the presidential contest, will again serve as Vice-President of the Club. The voting was under the supervision of officials of the Sports Club and took place Thursday morning.

Martha Ashley, Valdosta, is one of the most athletic students on campus, and has made the American Ball, Softball, and Swimming teams. She was a member of Sports Council last quarter as Kappa American Ball manager and this quarter is serving as Kappa swimming manager. An outstanding golfer, Miss Ashley also plays tennis and has ridden in both the May-Day exhibition and the Horse Show last spring. She, as are all of the new officers of the Sports Club, is a member of the Phi Kappa Athletic Association.

Evalyn O'Neal, Valdosta, was Vice-President of the Sports Club this year. She has won two awards, a star and a letter. She has made swimming, tennis, softball, and American ball teams. Miss O'Neal is probably best known for her skill in basketball, for she is an all-star player in this game.

Jean Mobley, Sylvania, was Kappa team captain last year and secretary of the Sports Club this year. She is an outstanding player on the Kappa softball team. Alice

Smith Announces New Canopy Staff

Jacqueline Smith, newly elected editor of the Campus Canopy, announced today editorial staff appointments for the 1942-43 term. Jane Ellen Smith and Mary Frances Donalson will be associate editors. Miss Smith is the present feature editor of the Canopy, and Miss Donalson is now news editor.

Jean Saunders will serve as managing editor for the second year. Sara Petty will be retained as sports editor.

Louise Ogburn, former Canopy reporter has been appointed news editor. Pat Forrester will be the new feature editor. Frances Gooze succeeds Miss Forrester as headline editor.

Miss Kennedy has announced that Alice Gordon will serve as advertising manager for the second year. The business staff will be announced in the fall.

The new staff will publish its first issue May 2.

Cadets Will Surrender Under Wiles of GSWC's Easter Parade

G. S. W. C.'s Easter parade is equal to that of Fifth Avenue. This year it promises to be even more gay and beautiful than in the past years. Probably it is the advent of the air corps that has made our girls even more particular when they pick out their Easter frocks. The war will probably be the farthest things from the minds of the armed forces when they see Miss G. S. W. C. in her special creation.

Sew and Save

When your reporter was making a survey of these luscious Easter frocks she found that a goodly number of them were made at home. This definitely shows the trend toward economy in obtaining new frocks. The girls have showed, however, that home made creations can possess equal flair and as much originality as store bought ones!

Color For Type

Doris Hiers was a wise gal when she chose aqua as the color for her Easter dress, for her dark looks really do something for the dress! It is in jersey, with a draped long waist and a full skirt. She will don this on Easter morning with a tan straw hat and spectator pumps. This dress Doris had made at home.

Gwen Johnson is another one who believes in sewing and saving. She has a neat white number with red dots and a red sleeveless jacket to match. She is going to wear red accessories with it.

Voguish

Martha Fincher has a dress that looks like something you see in Vogue. It is grey silk with huge pink flowers scattered over it. She chose a hat the same speed as the dress—it has a big wide brim and has yards and yards of veil swathed around.

Red is definitely one of the more popular colors when it comes to Easter outfits. Mary Ann Isom likes it, too. She has got a vivid red dress with a print of big white grapes scattered over it. She plans to wear white accessories with this costume.

Jacket Suits

Jean Thompson must know that blue is one of her best colors for she has got a navy ensemble that is a dream. It is composed of a silk gabardine jacket suit with a red and white dickey, a navy blue off-the-face straw hat, and blue and white shoes and bag.

Here's a girl that always has the cutest in clothes, and she really hit the jackpot on her new Easter frock. Jean Mobley is keeping up this reputation for darling clothes with a brown and white border print dress with a V neckline, a long draped torso, and a full skirt. She is going to look like something to eat when she puts this on with her brown and white accessories.

Shorty Sirmans is another one that realizes the style value in a jacket suit. She has a blue one—a blue print dress with the jacket to match. Navy blue accessories are going to accent this frock.

Whatever their costume, G. S. W. C. girls are bound to be outstanding, for they possess a charm that cannot be replaced by simply a dress, no matter how cute!

Martin Leads SGA Meeting With Open Forum Tonight

The April meeting of the Student Government Association will be held on Friday night at 7:15. The program will consist of an open forum under the leadership of Sara Catherine Martin, President-elect of SGA.

Sara Catherine and Jean Williams, Vice-President-elect, were delegates to the recent Student Government Convention which was held at Randolph-Macon, Lynchburg, Virginia. The central theme of this convention was "Defense Work in Colleges and the Part Which They Can Play in This Work." This topic will be discussed at the meeting Friday night and many new ideas and suggestions from other colleges will be offered. Many young people wish to quit school because of the war, but it was pointed out at the convention that now, more than ever, it is necessary for college students to complete their education and keep up the culture of the nation while the men fight.

Annual Meet

Every year one Student Government Meeting is devoted to an open forum in which the students discuss existing privileges, ask for new ones, and constructively criticize the Student Government system as a whole. This year, instead of asking for new privileges, the group will consider GSWC's part in the defense work during the war.

Silver Tea Monday Provide War Bond

"The silver tea which was sponsored Monday afternoon by the Philharmonic Club for the War Bond Scholarship Fund was a decided success from every standpoint," announced Eleanor Cook, who is President of the Philharmonic Club and also Chairman of the War Bond Committee. "Many people from town as well as faculty members and students attended, and enough money was contributed to purchase another war bond."

Varied Program

Members of the Music and Speech Departments presented a varied program of piano, violin, voice, and oral reading. Jacqueline Smith and Mary Sue Wilson rendered solos, while Corinne Smith, Ruth Taylor, and Lottie Reed sang. Miss Laura Rogers and Mrs. Lois Mann were accompanists. Rachel Williams gave an oral reading and Nell Patten played a violin solo. The Serenaders concluded the program. Other college girls assisted in serving the guests.

This will be the third war bond to be purchased for the War Bond Scholarship Fund. Miss Annie P. Hopper presented the first bond to the committee. Last week the Alumni Association voted to contribute another bond to the Fund.

Tour of Homes Concluded Here

The Recreational Leadership class in Physical Education entertained the Valdosta branch of the A.A.U.P. at tea in the House in the Woods Thursday afternoon. Aside from the pleasure of entertaining, the hostesses gained valuable practical experience for their class work in leadership and recreation.

Tea At Cabin

During the afternoon the A.A. U.W. sponsored a Home-Garden Tour of the townspeople and out-of-town visitors. The tour included some of the most beautiful homes and gardens in Valdosta and concluded by the tea at the House in the Woods. The funds from this tour will be used to further the cause of Defense and Fellowship, most of it being used locally.

The hostesses Thursday afternoon were Martha Ashley, Mary Thaxton Bowen, Constance Threatte, Jean Williams, Betty Williams, Edythe Cannady, Mrs. Inez Thomas, Peggy McBane, Christine Trulock, and Marolyn Rowland. Miss Elizabeth McRae is instructor of the class.

Art Curator Was Guest of The AAUP

Dr. Thomas Munro, chairman of the Division of Art at Western Reserve University and Curator of Education at the Cleveland Museum of Art, Cleveland, Ohio, spoke at the monthly meeting of the American Association of University Professors Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. H. S. Gulliver. Dr. Munro, who is spending some time on the G. S. W. C. campus to study the present college curriculum and assist in working out divisional majors in the Humanities, has as his topic, "Recent Advances in Art Education."

Dr. Munro has written numerous books and articles dealing with philosophy, art and aesthetics. His books include, "Great Pictures of Europe," "Primitive Negro Sculpture," and the "Scientific Method in Aesthetics." He is nationally known as a scholar and educator in his fields of art and philosophy.

Hosts for the AAUP meeting include Dr. H. S. Gulliver, Dr. J. A. Durrenberger, and Dr. Earl Phelan.

Vesper's Speaker From Moody Field

An outstanding vesper service was presented on Thursday, April 2, when Chaplain George Mason Williams from Moody Field spoke. Chaplain Williams has been at Moody Field since November. For four and one-half years prior to September, when he entered army life at Turner Field, Albany, Georgia, Chaplain Williams held a pastorate in Virginia.

He was born in Alabama, and he did theological work in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Louisville, Kentucky. Since he has been at Moody Field, Chaplain Williams has talked at the Lee Street Baptist Church, the First Baptist Church, and the Jewish Synagogue.

At Moody Field, Chaplain Williams has the rank of First Lieutenant.

His talk last night proved very timely and interesting to the large audience of G. S. W. C. students.

It's Different This Year

Easter at GSWC will have added significance this year with the dedication of the chapel in the upper rotunda of Ashley Hall. This Easter will not pass by as just another fashion parade. GSWC'ers will bow their heads on Easter morning in gratitude that they are able to build new shrines instead of having old ones bombed.

Mention of the new chapel with its beautiful student-stained windows cannot be made without tribute being paid to Mr. Clifton White, who originated the idea, and to Miss Annie P. Hopper, who has contributed much to the success of the chapel.

Sponsored by the YWCA, cooperation of the students has been campus-wide. They have joined in admirably in staining the windows, painting the chairs and other furniture for the chapel.

The chapel will fill a place on campus that has long been empty.

Bits O' Nuthin'

By M. F. DONALSON

Um-m-m-m! Springtime! It's wonderful! Lowell says, "What is so rare as a day in June? Then, if ever, come perfect days." Personally, we don't see why one should wait until June for the perfect days. These first days of April are pleasant enough for anyone (except possibly Mr. Hitler, who is much too busy to notice any weather besides that suitable for bombing and making attacks.

We think the spring quarter is one of the most if not the most enjoyable one in the year. So many things happen during this quarter, so much more time is spent outdoors either in sports or just plain "loafing."

The campus will soon be at its best, presenting to the delighted observer a vivid panorama of green, close-clipped lawns, fragrant blossoms, and above all, the calm, stately pines.

If you are athletically inclined these are the days for vigorous sets of tennis and inspired rounds of golf. Softball is the most popular team game, with swimming as the next most popular sport. There's nothing like a cool refreshing dip after classes or lazy hours of sunbathing. It's lots of fun to canter along a shady road amid the fragrance of the wayside flowers on Tony or one of the other horses, too!

High spot of the quarter is the annual May Day-Play Day on the first Saturday in May. High school seniors from neighboring towns come over for the day and the morning hours are spent in games, contests, and a student-faculty softball game. GSWC sportswomen also demonstrate their abilities in archery, riding, swimming, and golf. Then in the afternoon comes the May Day Festival proper, with the May Queen and her Court presiding and members of the Music and Physical Education Departments presenting a program of music and dances.

Then comes June and the last week of school. Everyone dashes frantically about, Seniors especially, doing last minute cramming, finishing term papers, packing trunks, and crying pitifully on roommate's shoulders as they contemplate the dreaded separation ahead. Only this time some of us will have something else to look forward to, a whole new quarter of work!

"In your Easter bonnet—", GSWC's fashion parade comes Sunday when all the gals with all their guys come dressed in their newest and springest.

ALICE WISENBAKER and BETTY FRANKLIN

By JACQUIE SMITH

Betty Franklin and Alice Wisenbaker, two of Valdosta's most attractive seniors, both elected to major in history. Both elected similar extra-curricular activities also; for example, the International Relations Club, the Pine Cone. Slim, blond Betty Franklin is vice-president of the Valdosta Club, and during the fall quarter acted as president in the absence of Leecy Ann Henry. She has been treasurer of the International Relations Club for two years. Her journalistic leanings earned for her the place of activities editor of the Pine Cone this year and of a Canopy reporter during her sophomore year. She is a former member of the Sports Club and is a member of the Student Government Association.

Alice Wisenbaker is the attractive, brunette Pine Cone editor. She was vice-president of I. R. C. last year, member-at-large during her sophomore year. Last year she was also vice-president of her class. During her three years on the Canopy staff she was successively reporter, news editor, and editorial assistant. She is a member of the Presidents' Council, S. G. A., and the Valdosta Club, and is a former member of Phi Lambda Sports Club and the Sociology Club. This year she was elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, and she will receive her G. S. W. C. emblem in the spring.

Next year will probably find Betty engrossed in a business course and Alice a lady-about-town. Neither of the girls think they'd care to teach school. Alice thinks she'd like to go into social work.

Both go in for good-looking sports clothes, put swimming at the top of their list of favorite sports, like to dance. Both have done some traveling. Betty went to New York for the World's Fair in 1939. Alice has attended two Associated Collegiate Press Conventions, the first in Detroit, and the second in St. Louis last November.

Betty, one of those rare people who admit they like going to school, paradoxically says she likes summertime the best. She adds that summer is open season for her favorite pastimes, swimming and tennis. Betty adores picnics, friendly, unselfish people, the color blue, and comfortable clothes. She claims to be very lazy, but likes to think for herself.

Alice is quite incongruent about such things as coffee. Although she likes cream in her first cup, she takes the second cup black. She likes onions and T-bone steaks, adores pretty clothes and has them. Her sister, Ora Kate, edited the Pine Cone in 1940. Their mother edited the Spectrum, G. S. W. C.'s annual, when she was in college at Milledgeville.

Betty and Alice have recently been chosen for the May Court, a fitting compliment to their four years as outstanding G. S. W. C. students.

The War At A Glance

By IRMA GARRISON

Last week the RAF and British Naval Forces made a striking blow at the German submarine base at St. Nazaire. This is supposed to be the largest submarine base in that area and will cripple the German U-boat activities in the north Atlantic for at least a year, because of the vast destruction imposed by the British commander on this base, the Germans will have to concentrate their underseas base perhaps at Bardeaux or Lorient.

At the same time St. Nazaire was being bombed, Luebeck, the major port on the Baltic, which handles trade between Germany and Sweden as well as the main supply port for the German troops to Norway, underwent the worst blow of the war the German High Command announced Monday.

To give greater consideration of the war problems to New Zealand and Australia, President Roosevelt announced Monday the creation of a new Pacific War Council. It is a joint Council with all the Allied Nations as members with Washington as the headquarters.

Last week the Japs had to take more than they dished out in Australia because U. S. and Australian airmen sung about 15% of their cruisers and succeeded in keeping the Japanese from stabilizing their position on the island—the only thing lacking was equipment—if equipment was plentiful it could last.

"I shall keep the soldier's faith," famous words of General Douglas MacArthur rang in the soldiers ears and gave them new inspiration as he took over the Supreme Command of all the United Nations forces in the Pacific last week. He is in Australia for the purpose of organizing an American offensive against Japan and in doing this it will relieve the Philippines. The area of Australia to be defended is nearly as large as the U. S. but with the careful study of MacArthur and his competent staff it can be done if equipment is sent in time but if equipment is lacking the whole battle of Australia will be lost as well as the struggle in Bataan. The Bataan area is very familiar to General MacArthur but the Australian continent is very unfamiliar; in defending the Australian coasts he must prepare to defend the mountainous areas, the sandy deserts as well as the cities, which mostly are located in the southern area. The Australians are very eager to lend any helping hand because they have begged for General MacArthur since December 7th, and now since he has arrived the Australians say that he would put an end to retreats; MacArthur would begin the offensive; he is the man to win the war. The Australian press boasts of his "looks, personality and the ability to win," and in the headlines is considered as "The Man of the Moment."

1942 Pine Cones Distributed Mon.

The 1942 Pine Cone, edited by Alice Wisenbaker of Valdosta, was distributed to the student body last Monday, March 23, by the editor and business manager Evelyn O'Neal of Valdosta.

With a distinctive red cover with white lettering, bearing the GSWC seal, this year's Pine Cone is one of the most attractive in the history of the school.

Betty Barnes and Minnie Roberts of Valdosta, as Associate Editors, and Jacqueline Smith, Waycross, as Literary Editor.

Sports Program To Be On Friday Night

The third in a series of radio programs over station WGOV on "Preparedness," which is being sponsored by the Sports Club, will be given on Friday night at 6:15.

Members of the Foods class in Home Economics under the direction of Miss Lola Rrew, Head of the Home Economics Department, will hold a discussion on the part of "Nutrition" in the present time. Those who are working on the script for the program include Lucille Kirkland, Virginia Branch, Gloria Crummey, and Mildred Taylor.

Nancy Meschke, a member of Sports Council, is in charge of the radio programs sponsored by the Sports Club.

by the Gloria Patri. The Litany of Dedication and the Grace will be led by Dr. Reade, the choir chanting an Amen at the close. Next will come the Charges to the Students by Miss Hopper, who is faculty advisor to the YWCA Cabinet, and Dr. Reade. After the singing of the Doxology Kathryn Scott will read the Lectionary Passage.

Choir To Sing

The choir will render the anthem Hymn "Jesus Christ is Risen Today." After the anthem Kathryn Scott will bring the service to a close by pronouncing the closing prayers and benediction. Then the officials will leave the chapel during the Recessional Hymn. From the vestry room will be heard the familiar vesper benediction followed by the Choir Amen. The service will conclude with the "Hallelujah Chorus" from The Messiah by Handel as an organ postlude.

Upper Rotunda

The new chapel with its pseudo-stained glass windows, altar, and cross lends an air of prayerful meditation to the Upper Rotunda and fulfills a long-felt need for some quiet place for private devotionals and vesper services. Plans were submitted to the YWCA Cab-

SOFT BALL PRACTICE NEXT WEEK—

Spring is here, and the time when those who like sports begin to play one of their favorite games which is soft ball. Practice will begin sometime next week and will be at night rather than in the afternoon. Come out and get in shape, not only to help your team but also for the fun that you will have!

HAVE YOU BEEN OUT FOR CO-RECREATION?

Co-Recreation has been set up on this campus for the pleasure and to the advantage of every student. Some have enjoyed it the right way, yet others have abused this privilege. Just as other things have rules and regulations to make them a success, so does Co-Recreation, but without your help and cooperation it can only be a failure! These regulations are posted on the bulletin board in Converse so if you are in doubt as to just what they are, be sure to read them over before you make that date for sports!

NEW COUNCIL MEMBERS ARE APPOINTED—

Catherine Garbutt and Christine Trulock have been appointed members of the Sports Council which meets every Tuesday afternoon to draw up and discuss plans for the sports on our campus. Plans for a most successful spring quarter are well under way and it seems that everyone is ready to do their part in making it so.

SWIMMING AND ARCHERY—

At the beginning of every spring quarter, the subject that we hear so much about is swimming and sunbathing and naturally it becomes more popular as the weather gets warmer. During the week the pool will be open every day from four until six for all those who like to swim. It will also be open over the week-end but the hours will possibly be different at that time. Archery will be offered on Mondays and Wednesdays this quarter at four fifteen and we wish that more people would come out for it. Even if you've never shot before, it is not hard to learn and you may have an undiscovered ability to shoot a "bull's eye."

RADIO PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT—

The third in the series of radio programs sponsored by the Sports Club will be given over W.G.O.V. this Friday night. Miss Drow is to be in charge of the program which will be on nutrition. These programs have been very successful thus far and quite beneficial to all those who have heard them!

inet during the latter part of winter quarter by Mr. Clifton White of the Art and Music Departments and work was begun immediately. The pseudo-stained glass windows were designed and painted by several art students and other members of the student body helped with the chairs and furnishings. The chapel will seat about 45 people.

on "The Role of Science in Defense." He brought out how rubber, magnesium and other things are important in the war situation. With plastics, bakelite, nylon, cellophane, and glass as examples, Dr. Blitch pointed out how the world has been revolutionized by certain products.

The club voted to present an $18.75 War Bond to the War Bond Scholarship Fund, making a total of four bonds received by the fund this week.

The annual picnic date was set for May 14 at Twin Lakes.

The meeting was presided over by Mary Eleanor Rogers, retiring president. Betty Jane Dorough and Leonora Peeples acted as hostesses.

Canopy. She is a member of the Sociology Club, the President's Council and a Phi Kappa. She is a former member of the Vesper Choir and has served on the make-up staff of the Pine Cone for two years. On the Canopy staff for three years, she was Associate Editor last year. She is chairman of Saturday Night Campus Entertainment.

Both officials attended the Associated Collegiate Press Convention in St. Louis, Mo. last November.

The new staff will publish their first issue on May 2.

interesting points was that the openings from the inside to the deck were arranged in the sort of maze that you might see in a "house of mirrors" so that no light from the inside would escape when one was moving back and forth.

"A great many of the people on the boat were children," she said, "who were being sent to the mainland to relatives, since the schools had been closed down in Hawaii."

Miss Larsen seemed glad to be home, but she certainly looked like peaches and cream in spite of her ordeal!

NOTICE

Miss Marjorie Carter announces to all students who are interested in taking advanced first aid to please meet with her Tuesday night.

Flakes

By Harriet Flournoy

Now, quoting famous poetry: "What is so rare as a day in April, when our hay fever starts to haying?"

But no matter how much our hay fever hays, it still won't be able to "Hay" as much as those infantry boys in Tennessee last year who had to do fifteen miles of road work after their hike of about twenty-five miles.

Falling Leaves

Just like the words to that very lovely song (Falling Leaves) the calendar reminds us of it. Every time we tear a leaf off, it means that that many days have passed. Eventful or uneventful, as the case may be, still each day is a mile stone along our path of life. Of all the beauty, this time of year seems to furnish just a little more in color than any other time of the year. Maybe it is because everybody gets a new dress, maybe it is because of the flowers and trees, but there seems to be a riot of color around us this time of year and it is lovely to behold.

Easter

Easter is a mere clock's distance away. One of the grandest days of all the year, where we can come out in all that is fine and beautiful and lovely. It seems nice to remember a day like that in such a way.

Here is an excerpt from a poem on a calendar:

Special Delivery

Heading for a record high! Now's the year for climbing. Just forget the by-and-by. Most of luck for TIMING. Set the sights for surer hits, Keep the motor humming. Everything you do just fits. Now you've got 'em coming! Packed with power, piled with pep.

Please come and observe with us; See the way we keep in step You'll see

And now you'll see some Jumping. Maybe it don't make sense, but it wasn't supposed to. It was on a picture of some monkeys taking a plane flight so there too. Gotta run now.

Good night and 29½.
