NUMBER 21

Cook, Williams to Give Recital on Monday Night

On Monday evening, May 25, Eleanor Cook and Rachel Williams will be presented in a joint music and speech recital. The program will be given at 8:30 and will mark the second graduation recital of the year 1942 to be given in the college auditorium.

Miss Cook's first group of selections will include "Rondino," (Beethoven-Kriesler), a chorale prelude entitled "I Call on Thee Lord," (Bach-Kelberine), and a chorale overture, "Ah, How Transitory Is Man's Life," (Bach-Rummel).

For her second group she will play, "Magic Fire Music," (Wagner-Beecher), "Caprice in E Major," (Paganini-Schuman), "Scherzando," (Carl Beecher), and "Intermezzo in Octaves," (Leschetizky).

Her concluding selection will be the presto giocoso movement of MacDowell's Concerto in D Minor. Orchestral parts for Miss Cook's MacDowell number will be played by Miss Gladys E. Warren on a second piano.

Miss Williams will begin the program with a group of poems by T. A. Daly in Italian dialect. They are "Da Besta Frand," "Two Mexican Men," "Between Two Loves," "Da Wisa Child," "For Goodness Sak!" and "All's Well That Ends Well."

On her second appearance Miss Williams will read "Interim," by Edna St Vincent Millay. Her final number will be one-act play, "For Distinguished Service," by Florence Clay Knox. This one-act play has the eternal love triangle as its theme.

Miss Cook has appeared on many piano programs during her four years at G. S. W. C. She has been assistant pianist for the Glee Club during the last two years and was president of the Philharmonic Club this year. Last year she assisted Ann Parham on the latter's speech recital. She is also accompanist for the G. S. W. C. Serenaders and pianist for the Student Government Association.

Miss Williams is a transfer from Bessie Tift College. There she was an active member of the dramatic club and played in "First Lady." For two years she has been a member of the Sock and Buskin Club and has played outstanding parts in two of the club's

Aquacade For War Bond Scholarship Will Be Saturday

For the benefit of the War Bond Scholarship Fund, members of the Freshman swimming classes and the Sports Club will stage an Aquacade at the lighted G. S. W. C. swimming pool Saturday at 8:45 o'clock. Admission will be 15c, and bleachers will provide adequate seats for the audience.

The program is as follows: Part One—Follow the Leader. Part Two—"Legend of the Water Lily."

Part Three—Finale. All students participating are the pupils of Miss Marjorie Carter, swimming instructor. The Aquacade is supervised by Martha Ashley, 1942-43 Sports Club president, and it has been arranged entirely by the students. Comic interest will be provided by members of the Sports Club not in the Freshman swimming classes.

All swimmers will take part in "Follow the Leader." Following this will be an interlude of comedy relay races done by Sports Club members.

Betty MaJette will be the narrator of "Legend of the Water Lily." Oseetah (Catherine Garbutt), faintest of all Indian maidens, is deeply in love with Wayotah (Betty Reid), but through a promise of her father (Betty Kay), she is destined to marry an aged warrior instead of her true love.

Pining over her forbidden love, she plunges into the depths of the lake and is carried away by the water spirits. After several days beautiful water lilies appear and bloom forth on the lake.

The villagers become alarmed when Wayotah tells them that it is the spirit of Oseetah, his beloved. A hand beckons him, he goes to that spot and is lured away by the water spirits.

The finale will combine diving with a snail formation giving a flaming effect. Dives will include the swan, the jack-knife, and the back flip.

The complete cast will include: Betty Reid, Betty Kay, Barbara

Thompson Named Chairman Of Presidents, Council

Jean Thompson, Senior Class president for the coming year, will act as chairman of the Presidents' Council during the Fall Quarter, according to announcement made today by Kathryn Scott, present head of the group. The election was made by written ballot at a meeting of the Council Tuesday morning.

At the same time, the Council elected June Mosely chairman of the Student Attendance Committee for the 1942-43 college term. She succeeds Mary Jean Rockwell.

Miss Thompson's first act as the new head of the Council was to appoint Gwen Johnson chairman of the War Bond Scholarship Fund Committee for the summer. The Scholarship Committee has been led by Eleanor Cook since the inauguration of the drive.

Miss Thompson, Lumpkin Junior, is former house president of Ashley Hall, is an S. G. A. monitor, former secretary-treasurer of her class, and a member of the Sociology Club and I. R. C. She received her GSWC emblem this spring.

Miss Mosely, new president of the Y. W. C. A., is a junior from Jakin. She served as vice-president of the Y this year and has been on Cabinet for two terms. She is also secretary-treasurer of the Varsity Glee Club and a member of the Sociology Club and the English Club. Miss Mosely won her GSWC emblem this quarter.

Newly-elected Fine Arts Club president, Gwen Johnson is from Leesburg. She was vice-president of F. A. C. this year, is a member of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and a former member of Sports Council. She will be secretary-treasurer of the Student Government Association next year, and this term she was recorder of points of the association. Miss Johnson is also a member of the Junior Class.

Scoop

By M. F. DONALSON

Dr. Frank Reade, president of the college, has just received a letter from the Carnegie Corporation of New York announcing the allocation of a set of arts teaching equipment to G. S. W. C. This letter from Robert M. Lester, secretary of the Carnegie Corporation, stated that the complete set of prints and other equipment will be shipped at once.

"We are extremely fortunate," said Dr. Reade, "to get the set at this particular time, as there are only about 6 sets left in New York and so many schools have applied for them. Because of the war, it is very difficult to get some of the prints for these sets now."

This set was allocated to G. S. W. C. on a cooperative basis. The Carnegie Corporation will pay half the cost of the set, $1000, while the Board of Regents will furnish the remainder.

The college furnished the Carnegie music set on this same cooperative basis two years ago. This set, now housed in the House in the Woods, is readily available for public use at any time.

Bond Scholarship Fund Be Boosted By Horseshow

By Mary Frances Donalson

On Friday, May 29th, at 4:30 o'clock the riding students will present a Horse Show at the riding ring. A small admission price will be charged and the proceeds will be added to the War Bond Scholarship Fund. All students who take riding will participate and the program will consist of judging the best riders in each group and several novelty events as well. Riders will be grouped according to the number of quarters they have ridden.

The riding demonstrations are under the supervision of Mrs. John Oliver. Horses to be used in the show include Highfield, Tony, Walker, and Little Bits.

The horses are to be shown at walk, trot, and canter. Riders are judged on their performance and ability to handle their mounts.

First on the program will come the novelty feature, "Going To Jerusalem." This is an adaptation of the familiar old game. The horses must go around a line of chairs. At the signal the riders dismount and get a chair. Chairs are taken away one at a time and the last girl left is the winner. Riding in this event are Ruth Jinks on Tony, Ruth Murph on Walker, Emmie Carter on Little Bits, and Jane Williams on Highfield.

Next the beginners will be judged on their riding ability and position. Those participating in this group are Nell Patten who will ride Tony, Fay Adcock, who will ride Highfield, Ursulla Gay on Walker, and Doris King on Little Bits.

In the Egg Race the riders will be given an egg in a spoon and required to walk, trot, and canter their mounts. The girls carrying her egg the farthest without spilling it wins. Louise Edwards who rides Walker, Grace Lawson mounted on Highfield, Doris Callahan on Little Bits, and Betty MaJette riding Tony will compete in this event.

Five girls are riding in the intermediate group. The girls and their mounts are Peggy Barbre (Tony), Hazel Brown (who has her choice of mounts), Ruth Jinks (Little Bits), Joan Martin (Walker), and Emmie Carter (Highfield).

The Slow Race is planned as another interesting feature. In this race the horses must walk in a straight line, the last horse across the finish line being the winner. To ride in this stunt are Hazel Brown on Tony, Joan Martin on Walker, Peggy Barbre on Little Bits, and Mary Frances Donalson on Highfield.

The Advanced group has been put into two divisions, classes A and B. Competing in class A are Doris Callahan (Walker), Louise Edwards, (Little Bits), Grace Lawson, (Highfield), and Ruth Murph, (Tony). The riders in class B are Jane Williams, (Little Bits), Mary Frances Donalson, Donalson, (Highfield), Betty MaJette, (Walker) and Elsie Griner, (Tony).

In the last event on the program, the first and second winners of classes A and B in the advanced group will ride for the blue ribbon.

M. Motter's Pupils To Present Recital

Students of Miss Marie A. Motter, director of voice at G. S. W. C., will be presented in a voice recital at assembly on Wednesday, May 27th. The program will include solos and numbers by the freshman voice class and the Serenaders.

The first number on the program is Beethoven's "I Love, Thee" sung by the members of the freshman voice class. The members of the class include Dorothy Wightman, Willie Pearl Becton, Macy Rehberg, Mary Melvin, Reaunette Everette, Jacqueline Smith, Ann Grey, and Catherine Garbutt.

Frances Bell will sing "April" by Grist, and Virginia Pattillo, Alpha Mae Castleberry, and Frances Bell will sing Schaefer's "The Wind Speaks." "Come, Sweet Morning" an old French air, will be sung by Ruth Morris, and "Music When Soft Voices Die," by Kramer, will be sung by Jacquelyn Jones and Frances Loosier.

"The House Wren," by Bayers, will be sung by Ruth Jinks, and "By the Bend of the River," by Edwards, will be sung by Frances Loosier. Two other solos will be O'Hara's "I Was The Tree," by Ruth Jinks, and Manning's "I Waited for the Lord," will be sung by Corinne Smith and Ruth Taylor. From Gounod's Faust, Lottie Reid will sing "Faites Lui Mes Aveux."

The last numbers, "Aloha," arranged by Kramer, and "Night and Day," by Cole Porter, will be sung by the Serenaders.

May Philharmonic Meeting Features Two-Piano Pieces

Last Thursday night the Philharmonic Club of G. S. W. C. held its regular meeting which featured piano and vocal selections by students in the Senior College Division.

Ava Collins played the allegro con brio movement of Beethoven's Concerto in C Major. Orchestral parts on a second piano were played by Miss Gladys E. Warren, professor of piano and head of the music department.

"Nostalgia" by Manning was sung by Corinne Smith. Lois Christian Mann was accompanist.

A duo-piano selection, "Prelude in E Minor" by Mendelssohn, was played by Jacqueline Smith and Miss Warren.

"I Waited for the Lord" by duet, Ruth Taylor and Corinne Smith.

Eleanor Cook concluded the program by playing two piano selections, "Chorale Overture" (Bach-Rummel) and "Magic Fire Music" (Wagner-Brassin).

GSWC Serenaders Sing In Moultrie

The G. S. W. C. Serenaders presented a program of music at the Moultrie High School in Moultrie last Thursday afternoon.

The Serenaders, a selected group from the Glee Club, have sung on many occasions recently. They were heard in the Fine Arts program presented at the college on May Day. They furnished the music at the recent dedication of Moody Field, and were presented in a concert at the Officers' Club at Moody Field.

The Serenaders are under the direction of Miss Marie Motter, head of the voice department at the college. The group includes Frances Loosier, Frances Bell, Martha Ashley, Corrine Smith, Ruth Taylor, Mary Beth Woodward, Ruth Jinks, and Jacquelyn Jones. Accompanist for the group is Eleanor Cook.

The program on Thursday was opened with a Negro spiritual, "Were You There?" Also in the first group were Pearl Curran's "Blessing," and Cesar Franck's "O Lord Most Holy." Soloist for the last number in the group was Miss Motter, and the violin obligato was played by Miss Laura Rogers.

The Serenaders' last group included: "Mon P'tit Brave Soldat," by Richards, "When Day Is Done," by Katscher, "Old King Cole," arranged by Dunhill, "Smoke Gets In My Eyes," by Jerome Kern, and "Night and Day," by Cole Porter.

Miss Cook played a piano solo, "Intermezzo in Octaves," by Leschetizky, on the program.

Ten Juniors Are Tapped By Senior Honor Society

Ten new members will be taken into the Senior Honor Society at the last meeting of the year on Tuesday night, May 26th. At this meeting, which is to be held in the House in the Woods, officers will be elected for the coming year. After the business meeting a strawberry shortcake party is planned. A report on the Co-op Bookstore will be given and the amount of money to be refunded to the students will be announced.

The ten juniors who will be inducted into the Senior Honor Society are: Betty Barnes, Annette Blackburn, Joyce Duffey, Elizabeth Fender, Doris Hiers, Jean Mobley, Thelma Sirmans, Corinne Smith, Jacqueline Smith, and Jean Thompson. To be eligible for this society a student must have a B average at the end of two years and two quarters.

Old members of the Society are Marie Ambos, who is president, Eleanor Cook, secretary, Marnell Parker Odum, treasurer, Louise Edwards, Leecy Ann Henry, Kathryn Scott, Mary E. Rogers, Mary Jean Rockwell, and Maxwell Williams. Dr. J. A. Durrenberger has served as faculty adviser for the group this year. A new faculty adviser will be chosen by the newly-elected officers.

The Senior Honor Society has as its motto, "To Serve," and it has fulfilled its purpose on campus by promoting several outstanding activities. One of these activities was the Cooperative Bookstore, a project undertaken by the society in 1939 in order to provide the student body with needed text books at a lower cost. This service was enlarged this year to accommodate music students by the sale of sheet music. Members of the Society have acted as ushers at the Artist Series program during the year also. Another undertaking of the club was the placing of a turn-table in the House in the Woods to facilitate the playing of personal records.

The aim of the Senior Honor Society is to promote high standards of scholarship on the campus.

Parties To Honor GSWC Senior Class

Miss Annie P. Hopper and Mrs. Eva Shriville will entertain the seniors tonight with a buffet supper at the House-in-the Woods, at 7:30 o'clock.

The cabin will be decorated with spring flowers. A cold supper will be served, after which the girls may stay and talk.

On Thursday afternoon, the Valdosta Rotary Club were hosts to the senior class on a picnic at Ocean Pond. Before the lunch was served the seniors played the Rotary Club in softball and went swimming.

These affairs are held annually for the Senior Class.

Dr. Gulliver Will Speak At Vespers

Dr. Harold S. Gulliver, G.S.W.C. English professor, will speak at Vespers Sunday evening in the chapel. The topic is "Christianity in a War-Torn World."

The Junior Class was in charge of Vespers Thursday. Miss Anna Richter, of the Speech Department, was the speaker. She read "The Hounds of Heaven" by Francis Thompson.

DAY STUDENT ROOM

Long a desperate need of G. S. W. C.'s one hundred day students, a lounge especially for them may soon be furnished on the second floor of West Hall. The Valdosta Club, spurred by a classroom remark of home-ec professor, Lola Marie Drew, has begun to make plans for its day student room.

The proposed lounge will provide for town girls and commuters an attractive atmosphere for studying and resting between classes. It will be roomy, well-ventilated, and colorful - exactly the opposite of the so-called lounge day students now have to use. A comfortable couch will be included in the furnishings of the room. The lounge will probably occupy a part of the space formerly used by the West Hall library.

The Valdosta Club has been severely criticized in the past for its lack of purpose and its failure to contribute anything worthwhile to the campus scene. Certainly that stigma will be blotted out if the club carries through its plans.

EDITORMENTS

Although there is at the Georgia State Womans College no Student Political League organization, and although there seems to be no excuse for the existence of such a body on the campus, students here have shown an interest in what other schools in the state are doing. The Canopy is glad to acquaint students with any information which collects on the editorial desk, so here are some vital statistics on this very-much-in-the-news Student Political League:

Late in April the League was formed by interested students in Georgia colleges, but founders make it clear that it is not connected with any Georgia state school. It grew from the Student Executive Committee at the University of Georgia and the Committee of the Tech Student Council appointed to investigate the dropping of the University System of Georgia from the accredited list.

The present movement enlists students at Georgia Tech, Emory University, the University of Georgia, Shorter College, Georgia Teachers College, Middle Georgia College, Mercer University, and the Georgia College for Women. The League is not affiliated with any political candidate.

The following is an excerpt from a recent issue of Technique, Tech's weekly publication: "The League was formed for the purpose of removing the governor's control of the educational system, and it believes that the first step in accomplishing that removal is the defeat of Talmadge at the polls this September. To that end it has formed a nuclei of similar organizations in other Georgia colleges had registration cards and stationary printed, and bought 11,000 campaign buttons.

The League is not backing any certain candidate for the governorship. It is against the re-election of Talmadge because it believes that the University System of Georgia will not be re-accredited until Talmadge is defeated. The League is contacting all candidates for the legislature and insisting on their support in the coming campaign."

Comes Sunday night, Converse's door bursts open, a rosy-cheeked, big-eyed Betty dashes in and immediately tells her closest friends (the population of Converse Hall, to be exact). "He offered me a ring—but I refused it." Ah, me, these boring week-ends at hom!

FRONT CAMPUS VIGNETTE

One lonely Sunday afternoon, a lonely senior was seated in front of Senior Hall, alone. A lonely army man of the Dennis Morgan type (Did we say "lonely"?) passes, sees her, stops. Laughing and talking the same lonely guy joins the same lonely girl,— with the same results. Happily together, they spent a wonderful afternoon. The next Sunday As time passes on they are seen together at such places as cadet dances, the White House, and incidentally, beneath the pines in front of Senior Hall. The lonely girl: Elise Gannon; the lonely boy: Cadet Brewster. Was that song we heard them singing, "I'm Alone Because I Love You"?

SONG WITHOUT NAMES

She is a tall and willowy brunette. He was a tall and witty cadet. Their closest friends have already been informed that they are making future plans. She attended his graduation Wednesday with his family. He had to leave the following day for Battle Creek. She lives in a North Georgia town and will probably inform the family in June. He hails from a neighboring state and has told her to name the day.

AFTERMATH OF A BLIND DATE

When Woody called for Janet Joyner Sunday night, he brought along a good-looking blonde. Knowing how Flournoy likes blondes and knowing how Flournoy likes baseball players, we nominate her meeting Monte the blind date of the week.

GRAND CLIMAX

Seen modeling the best-looking evening dresses the dormitories boast in preparation for the graduation dance held Wednesday evening at Moody Field were: Jane Spivey, Dot Sawyer, Betty Jane Dorough, Betty Wallace, Martha Haire, Frances Kennedy, Ruth Jinks, and Beth Thorpe.

IN THE SPOT-LIGHT

The army seems to rate the spot-light in the Kalled columns. Sharing the bright spots with an important part of the army this week was Virginia Pattillo, who looked simply stunning climbing into that green convertible. She got a special permission to have a last ride with him before he signed out for parts unknown.

SPRING ORCHIDS

The Kalled sends a huge bouquet to the two outstanding young actresses, Dot Wilkes and Rachel Crittenden, for their splendid performance Friday. It is hard to imagine the Sock and Buskin Club without these two room-mates, each a former president of the club.

SARA CATHERINE MARTIN

Sara Catherine Martin, of Waycross, our new Student Government president is one of our honor guests of the week. A book could be written on such a celebrity, who has held some high office each year at GSCW.

She was Sophomore Class president in 1941, and vice-president of Student Government this year.

Sara Catherine says her secret ambitions have been everything from missionary to a swing drummer. At present she would like to join the women's navy which is being organized.

A private museum, yes, and she collects any odd thing and puts it in the room reserved for just this.

Roommate "Shorty" Sirmans says that some of her "queer quirks" are hiding things under the bed, and being too lazy to listen to the radio. Sara Catherine doesn't confirm these, however.

Hindu pins, sporty hats, riding pants and boots prove to be favorites in the wardrobe.

This summer Sara Catherine plans to go to camp in Tennessee which is for Student Government officials. Mrs. Roosevelt is among the members of the staff.

Who but Sara Catherine would plan to spend a month at the asylum in Milledgeville of her own free will? Don't be mistaken by the insinuation—she's really going to work! Since she's majoring in sociology, this experience will prove invaluable to her. Her minor, Speech, might enable her to apply her skill in entertaining the inmates.

Since Sara Catherine collects records, she really keeps tab on the leading orchestra leaders. At present Harry James is her favorite. Besides being a member of the Sociology Club, she is also a member of the Sock and Buskin, Philharmonic, the President's Council, and has been on Student Court for two years.

If you want to remain this

JUNE MOSELY

June Mosely, of Jakin, 1942-43, president of YWCA is the ingenue type. Her hobbies include anything from collecting perfume (we wonder what the defense program will do to this) to collecting rabbits—just "make-believe" ones.

"Alice Blue Gown" could easily be her theme song because blue, as well as pink and other pastels, is her favorite color. To play this selection for her she would prefer the waltz king, Wayne King.

When a certain Ensign in the Merchant Marines calls on June, will someone please remind him that her favorite flowers are roses and she just "loves" Bond Street perfume?

Although June's heart belongs to the Navy she would rather travel by plane or train.

June's favorite actor and actress are Walter Pigeon and Betty Davis.

Her most exciting summer to date, was her vacation at Blue Ridge and after we heard about the tall, dark, and handsome lad there we understood this answer. Maybe that has something to do with her secret ambition to be a doctor's wife too.

This remarkable person's pet hate is not doing things that you want to do just because some one else doesn't want to (confusing, eh?).

June's major is English and her minor is sociology. When she finishes college she hopes, either to enter social work, or teach school.

From experience of being on the Y Cabinet for three years, and being a member of the Sociology, English, and Glee Clubs (secretary and treasurer of the latter) we can be assured that we can look forward to a bright year with June leading the YWCA on our campus.

Scoop of the Week Club

By S. C. Martin

Best crack of the week come by way of our own Miss Hopper at a meeting of President's Council Saturday morning

Here 'tis:

"Men may come and men may go, but the Georgia State Woman's goes on forever."

Presidents' Council also gave rebirth to one of the two best ideas of the week. One which has been discussed for many weeks past and should have great effect on this school for many weeks to come. The idea that changing of the name of the college. Not for original, but more advanced than any previous suggestions for this time two possible names were advanced. One was "Barrow" in honor of the late David Barrow who was founder, and one of the best friends the school has ever had.

The other suggested name was "Rutherford", in commemoration of one of Georgia's leading women and greatest of educators. The Council couldn't agree on the name of the school but was highly in favor of Louise Edwards' suggestion to name the school after one and the Senior Dormitory after the other.

What do you say girls? Changing the name would be simple, so lets get busy and do something about it.

Idea number two, although less far reaching concerns a number of students and deserves due consideration. It has been suggested that the Library rental shelf be abolished and the students be allowed to check those books out without the usual fee of 3c per day. As many of you might have discovered that no one is allowed to take the books from the shelf and read them in the library. Therefore the minimum price for reading the book is 3c per book and for a person who attempts to read all of the best-sellers while they are still best-sellers the cost runs much higher.

If the books unusually popular a shorter period of reading time might be allowed the student and thus give everyone a chance even the typical college girl who is constantly broke.

Considered one of the most original persons on campus, Miss Ivy living up to her reputation this past week when the GSWC delegates left for the Georgia Athletic Federation of College Women convention held at Statesboro. Handing them a sealed

To tell all grouchy folks that a sure fire cure for ye ole case of blues, homesickness and what-have-you can be found in the library. Yes, we're speaking of Kesslering's play, "Arsenic and Old Lace". Its so funny—specially when—Oh, but since you're going to read it, I'd better not tell.

To note that history certainly does repeat itself. Ruth Reid, former G.S.W.C. student, was president of the Georgia Athletic Federation of College Women, two years ago. And just recently Martha Ashley, president elect of G.S.W.C. Sports Club, was selected at a meeting in Statesboro to preside over the G.A.F.C.W. for '42-'43. And Martha's only a sophomore too! Some girl! !

To notice how nice are these girls who are following the short hair trend look with their permanents—among others. Sara Vinson and Phyllis Whitaker, Pat Forrester and Martha Fincher are also ready for the good ole summer time with-new short "hair-do's". Hmmmmm—

Cookie and Mary Jean must have known all along that this glamour girl stuff was definitely on the out.

To look for one of those cute chintz dresses. They look so fresh and "springy". Have you noticed Elise Gannon's and Josephine Reddick's.

To hope Gee Whitaker gets to see her brother Bill graduate next week-end. Bill is to get his M. D. from Emory and Gee wants to be right there when the celebrations start. —Bye.

Campus Canopy Is Awarded 2nd Class

The Campus Canopy was awarded Second Class Rating this week for the year 1941-42 by the Associated Collegiate Press, national association for college newspapers. The Canopy, which was edited by Frances Kennedy, has maintained this rating over a period of several years.

In comments on the G. S. W. C. weekly publication, the association especially complimented the front page make-up. The Canopy staff has followed suggestions of the Associated Collegiate Press in setting up its journalistic standards.

The Canopy was entered in a class with other weekly, four-page newspapers in student bodies of five hundred or less. All publications in this nation were classified by the association on the basis of the size of the school.

One Georgia college paper, the Emory Wheel was named among the top ten in the United States. A. C. P. gives these newspapers the designation of Pace Maker.

Frances Kennedy and Jacqueline Smith, 1942-43 editor of the Canopy, attended the Associated Press Convention in St. Louis in November. The association holds annual conventions for yearbook and newspaper editors. The yearbooks are rated by the same agency.

Other members of the staff winning the rating were: Ruth Sessions, business manager; Mary Frances Donaldson, news editor; Jean Saunders, managing editor; Jane Ellen Smith, feature editor; Pat Forrester, headline editor; and Alice Gordon, advertising manager.

The Canopy was founded in 1934.

Campus Canopy Is To Be Represented In English Volume

The Campus Canopy will be represented in the "Directory of College Publications," a publication of the Mitre Press of London, England, according to announcement made by the editor today. The directory will be an authentic compilation of information about scholastic publications all over the world.

Cleveland Speaks At Weekly Chapel

Dr. A. G. Cleveland, superintendent of the Valdosta Public Schools, was the guest speaker on the Assembly program Wednesday morning. Dr. Cleveland chose as the topic of his address "Faith In Religion."

The relationship of truth and faith were discussed by Dr. Cleveland. He emphasized the limitations of inductive and deductive reasoning in attempting to find truth in religion, and he spoke of the spiritual force, outside the realm of logic, which must be a part of religion.

Dr. Cleveland closed his address by saying, "Faith is the inspiration of life. Religion is the guiding star of life without which civilization and happiness would be impossible."
