NUMBER 18

Chancellor Weltner To Speak At Commencement

Chancellor Philip Weltner of the University System of Georgia, will deliver the commencement address here on June 10.

Commencement week-end at the college will include a number of entertainments for the seniors and their relatives and friends. On Saturday, June 8, the Alumnae Association will hold its annual business meeting and luncheon at the Daniel Ashley Hotel.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be on Sunday, June 9. The annual commencement dinner will be held in the dining hall of Ashley Hall on Sunday also. A special Vesper service will be held in the Rotunda on Sunday evening.

The commencement exercises will be held on Monday, June 10th.

The following girls will receive A.B. degrees from the college: Louise Ambos, Savannah; Geraldine Arrington, Ellaville; Eleanor Bailey, Douglas; Carolyn Brim, Bainbridge; Avrylea Burch, Valdosta; Helen Moody Carter, Valdosta; Judy Cochran, Camilla; Winnie Davis, Valdosta; Ruth Ellis, Savannah; Emily Fluker, Quitman; Henry Kate Gardner, Camilla; Marjorie Groover, Quitman; Lucy Hammond, Griffin; Noellene Johnson, Valdosta; Elizabeth Larisey, Valdosta; Clare Lawson, Savannah; Dorothy Ogletree, Savannah; Mary Polhill, Sylvestor; Estelle Roberts, Cordele; Willene Roberts, Valdosta; Virginia Sheppard, Savannah; Lois Simpson, Valdosta; Kathryn Taylor, Valdosta; Margaret Touchton, Valdosta; Helen Claire Varnedoe, Valdosta; Annie Belle Weatherford, Savannah; Mary Elizabeth Weatherford, Savannah; Elizabeth Wilkes, Adel; Margaret Zippies, Savannah.

FACULTY MEMBERS SPEAK AT GRADUATIONS

Members of the faculty of the college will deliver the commencement addresses at a number of high schools in South Georgia. Dr. Frank Reade, executive dean, delivered the address at the Nashville High School Tuesday evening. Dr. Harold Gulliver, professor of English, will deliver the commencement addresses at Hahira on May 30, and at Thomasville, on June 11. Dr. Gulliver also preached the Baccalaureate sermon at Statenville High School on Sunday, May 19.

Secrecy Surrounds Athletic Awards

AWARDS TO BE ANNOUNCED
AT PARTY ON SATURDAY
EVENING, JUNE 1.

There is a great deal of secrecy surrounding the annual awards of the Athletic Clubs this year. Both the Kappas and the Lambdas are anxiously awaiting the announcement of the various honors, which are to be made known at a party given by the rival associations in the gymnasium Saturday night, June 1st.

The girl who remained or became a member of the association this year had to meet three requirements: She must show interest in the club by attending its meetings, she must participate regularly in either organized sports or campus games, and she must have a scholastic average of not lower than C.

The standard for the first award is even higher, being decided by the Athletic Council and not generally made known. Each succeeding honor has even higher requirements, including the winning of all previous awards before the next one may be gained.

This year thirty-two girls will receive their first award, the numerals, which are in the colors of either association. This is open to any girl regardless of her class. There will be fourteen Kappas and eighteen Lambdas presented with numerals.

Three Lambdas and six Kappas will obtain their letters, the red and white K, or purple and white L.

The third honor is a silver identification bracelet, with the girl's name, the name of her association, and the year she won the bracelet engraved on it. There are only six girls in the entire school who will win their bracelets, which are now given instead of the loving cup, and the Council will not state who they are, and not even the number in each club.

As for whose name will be engraved on the Honor Plaque in the Rotunda—Silence is golden! There isn't even a whispered guess made about it. All are afraid to try to guess, as the rivalry has been keen, and several girls have been practically eligible. Will anyone win this highest of honors? Will anyone be able to claim the miniature shield to be presented? Will there be one, two—any, or many? Just who will get it?

"TAPS" TO BE SUNG EACH EVENING

Miss Clara Louise Driskell, president of the Y. W. C. A., announced last week that "Taps" would be sung every evening just before "winks."

The singing will begin in one dormitory, and be taken up by a group in the other hall. The singing will be led by members of the Glee Club and Y. W. Choir.

The experiment was begun in the hope that it will become a tradition of the college.

Juniors Elected to Various Offices

Activities next year will have a number of capable leaders recently elected to offices on the campus. Most of the officers were elected from the senior class for next year. These girls have figured prominently in campus life for three years, and their election is the tribute paid them for their efforts.

Miss Mildred Turnbull, Moultrie, will serve as president of the Student Government Association. Miss Turnbull has been an outstanding student since her freshman year. She was president of her freshman class, vice-president of the Phi Kappa Athletic Association last year, and vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. this year. Miss Turnbull was installed as the new president a few weeks ago, and has taken up her duties as president already.

Miss Clara Louise Driskell, Surrency, will be president of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Driskell has also been very active in extra-curricular activities, as well as being an honor student. She also served very capably on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Last year she was a member of the Sororian Literary Society Debating Team.

Miss Una Ritch, of Jesup, will again serve as president of the Phi Lambda Athletic Association. Miss Ritch was president of the Sophomore class last year. She is also the singles tennis champion.

Mrs. Louise Odom Howell was elected to serve as president of the Phi Kappa Athletic Association. Mrs. Howell, who will be a senior next year, was president of the same association this year.

Miss Esther Smith, of Sycamore, will be the new president of the International Relations Club. Miss Smith was vice-president of the Student Government Association this year. She has also been very active in athletics, being a member of the athletic council.

Miss Louise Hardy, of Quitman, will be president of the English Club. Miss Hardy is also an honor student, having won honors for three years.

Miss Ruth Jones, of Thomasville, will serve as president of the French Club. Miss Jones was president of the junior class this year.

Miss Broun Hutchinson, of Valdosta, was elected to the presidency of the Sock and Buskin Club. Miss Hutchinson is also an honor student. She had one of the leading roles in the annual production of the Club this year.

Miss Joy Miller, of Albany, will be president of the Glee Club. Miss Miller was president of the Philharmonic Club this year. She possesses a lovely soprano voice, and has appeared in many of the school programs.

Miss Sara Bingham, of Valdosta, will serve as president of the Fine Arts Club. Miss Bingham has been very

Seniors to Present Plays Friday

CLASS WILL PRESENT PLAYS AT EMORY JUNIOR AUDITORIUM

The senior class will present its annual plays at the Emory Junior auditorium on Friday evening, May 31, directed by Miss Louise Sawyer. Three one-act plays will be presented.

The first of these plays will be The Neighbors, a comedy, by Zona Gale. The plot deals with a village life, and is full of mirth produced by gossip. The cast is as follows: Mis' Diantha Abel, Dorothy Ogletree, Savannah; Grandma, Lois Simpson, Valdosta; Ezra Williams, Gerry Arrington, Ellaville; Peter, Elizabeth Larisey, Valdosta; Inez, Lucy Hammond, Griffin; Mis' Elmira Moran, Elizabeth Wilkes, Adel; Mis' Trot, Louise Ambos, Savannah; Mis' Carrie Ellsworth, Clare Lawson, Savannah.

The next play will be The Will O' the Wisp, a fantasy by Doris Holman. It is an impressionistic episode in a farm house at the land's end. The conflict is of the emotions as between the real and the unreal. The character types are sharply etched and the plot story moves relentlessly out beyond the cliff's end. "Woe to one who follows the will o' the wisp!" The cast for the play includes the following girls: The old woman, Henry Kate Gardner, of Camilla; the white faced girl, Helen Clare Varnedoe, Valdosta; the poet's wife, Willene Roberts, Valdosta; the maid, Noellene Johnson, of Valdosta.

The last play will be The Duchess Says Her Prayers. This play is the story of an episode in the lives of those two famous families of the 15th and 16th century Italy, the Sforzas and the Estes. It is full of the flavor of the Renaissance. Ludovico Sforza will be played by Estelle Roberts. Margaret Zippies, of Savannah, will play the Madonna, and Virginia Sheppard, of Savannah, will play the Duke's wife, Beatrice D'Este.

FACULTY MEMBERS TO WRITE CHAPTERS FOR SYLLABUS

New survey courses in the Humanities will be offered on the campus next year. A two quarter course will be required of sophomores. Dr. Harold Gulliver and Miss Gertrude Gilmer, professor of English, will write chapters for the syllabus for the English courses to be offered in the University System. Experimental work in a two course sequence in the Humanities was offered by Miss Gilmer this year.

outstanding in the art work on the campus.

Miss Marteil Lundy, of Boston, will be the only club president who will not be a senior. She was recently elected president of the Philharmonic Club. Miss Lundy is a pupil in the piano department.

Circulation—MARGARET BULLARD.

The school year of 1935 will soon have passed, and all the improvements and progress made during the year will become a matter of course; but now, just before we leave we think we should call to the attention of every girl the advantages of our alma mater, and the progress she has made.

This year has been particularly fortunate for us in some ways, unfortunate in others. As a whole, however, this has been one of our most successful years.

It has been unfortunate in being disappointing where a number of new buildings were concerned, but that has been the main disappointment. The things in which we have been fortunate so far outnumber the unfortunate ones as to deny their existence.

The changes in the curriculum have made us a college with a higher scholastic standing and appreciation. Survey courses for freshmen and sophomores have aided us in fixing a more definite goal in our college work.

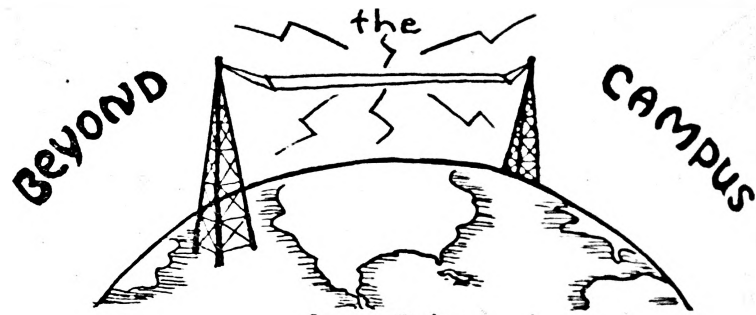

A number of changes have been brought about in the housing considerations. The seniors were lucky indeed this year in having the Senior House. They have lived this year in one of the finest homes in the city. The removal of the music studios off campus, while making it more difficult for music students to go off campus in the cold weather, has added much to the quiet of dormitory life in Converse Hall. The removal has also given the music students more freedom in their practice.

Having a distinguished woman resident physician on campus has been one of the finest changes in our college this year. We have a feeling of safety in cases of accidents that we did not have before.

The dining room has also undergone improvements. The diet has been balanced and special diet tables have been installed for particular cases under the survey of the college physician.

One of the most important innovations of the year was the Artist Series which brought a number of attractions to Valdosta. The success of this venture seems to assure its being continued next year.

And last, but not least, a faculty with broad vision, whose every thought has been for the future of the institution, and whose unceasing labor has brought the changes, an executive dean who has realized the fact that we can only grow through change and keeping in step with the world,—these have made the Georgia State Womens College of 1934-35 the success it is.

The National Student Mirror, organ of the National Student Federation of America (N. F. S. A.) had an article in a recent issue telling of a novel plan instituted by Princeton to use F. E. R. A. funds. The students will operate an undergraduate extension school. High school graduates and underprivileged adults will be allowed to take any course that they may desire from the extension school. This is the most novel and finest use of the funds that we have read to date. The social significance of the school can be easily recognized.

A third party in 1936? Alice Roosevelt Longworth, that inveterate commentator on national affairs asserts that there will be a third party in the next elections. News is flying fast now, and public figures are trying to get back in the headlines with the Democratic and Republican conventions but a year off. Mrs. Longworth, in her inimitable style, says that Roosevelt will have some tough going if the Democrats split. His policy of swinging to neither the left or the right will probably be challenged and he will have to assert his views in one direction or the other.

The farmers of the nation marched to Washington last week and demanded a few rights. One of the main leaders of the Georgia contingent was a farmer from Cairo, Georgia.

Huey Long sends his advocates over the nation for his "Share the Wealth" program. In every city, town, and village they will appear, telling the gullible of the novel arrangement.

This column has been an experiment for this year. We have attempted to give you some idea of the world that moves on beyond our campus gates. It is a world which few of us know exists. We are so wrapped up in our own little world here in college that we do not realize the significance of the happenings in the world into which we will be thrust when we graduate. The world will not stop when we graduate, it will go on in the same maddening way, challenging us all, defeating some of us, unless we have some idea of what it is all about. Most of us don't. We don't realize what we have missed until we get out and find that the world has moved on without us, and will probably be able to do so just as well now. We feel it the duty of every college student to know something of the outside world.

CINEMA CYNIC

Tonight the bank night craze will have another run as it will be $125 this time. The picture is Richard Cromwell in Men of the Hour.

Thursday and Friday Mae West will be here in Goin' to Town. It will be Mae West, and you know what that means.

Saturday the suave Ricardo Cortez will play in I Am a Thief. The movies are going confessional, I Am a Thief, I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang, etc.

On next Monday and Tuesday Dolores del Rio will play in In Caliente a sort of "it happened in old Mexico" story. But anything with Del Rio would be good, as long as you could look at her. She's that goodlooking in our estimation!

THE OPEN FORUM

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We have heard certain F. E. R. A. assistants remark that some of their fellow workers do not really work but merely make a pretense of it. These critics are unjust because they have no data upon which to base their remarks. The delightful act of passing judgment has its place; those who indulge in its pleasures show an interest in things and people around them. First of all, however, they should bear in mind the principle of justice. How can these critics speak wisely of a fellow student's work when they have not done the work themselves and consequently know nothing of its responsibilities?

We are sorry that there are some students on our campus who show an unwavering confidence in their own opinions, a self-sufficiency and a self-estimation which blinds them to their own faults. We, being human, have been guilty, in times past, of giving unjust criticism. But from now on we are adopting this principle: "Criticize yourself first." We hope others will find this a sound and excellent principle, too.

Three F. E. R. A. Assistants.

Dramatic Club Presents Plays

Two one-act plays were presented at the last of the Sock and Buskin Club meetings for 1934-35 season. They were, as usual, directed and produced by the club members. They culminated a very successful series of one-act plays which the club has presented this year.

The first of the two plays was a modern comedy entitled Thursday Evening, and was directed by Miss Jessie Cattedge Langdale of Valdosta. The plot was based on the quarrels of a young couple and the solution of the problems by two very wise and understanding mothers. It might well be called an all-star cast since no one part was more outstanding than the other and gave each player an equal chance to display her talents. Gordon Johns, the young husband was played by Miss Leila Urquhart of Waycross; his wife, Laura, by Miss Ruth Williams, also of Waycross; his mother, Mrs. Johns, by Miss Priscilla Kelley, of Savannah; and his mother-in-law, by Miss Lorene Johnson, of Thomasville. Each of the four is an experienced Sock and Buskin Club member, and they gave one of the best performances of the year.

The second play, The Prince of Court Painters, was the more outstanding of the two because of its unusual setting and character. Mary, the lovely old lady who devoted her life to the work was nobly portrayed by Miss Mildred Turnbull, of Moultrie; her prodigal husband by Miss Vangie Trimble, of Moultrie, and an eight-year-old visitor, Miss Carroll Peeples of Valdosta. The scene was the living room of old Mary's house, where she sat spinning all day. The fact that once she had been young and married to a handsome man was revealed by the visit of a little girl, daughter of a neighbor, who loved Mary so that she had slipped away to gather flowers for her. After the child departed an old man entered who later proved to be Romney, the long-lost painter husband who had gone away in search of fame years before. Thus in their last days were the two old people re-united who had for all their mistakes loved only each other.

The program was especially well planned because of the vast difference in the types of the two productions. The first was modern, breezy and fast; the second was sweet, old-fashioned and filled with the fragrance of old age and care worn lives.

After the program there was a short meeting of the Sock and Buskin Club members. Plans for the coming year were discussed; the year's work was reviewed to the satisfaction of the members. Miss Estelle Roberts, of Cordele, retiring president, addressed the club with a short message of appreciation for their cooperation in the past year. Miss Roberts has been one of the most diligent workers of the organization and has proved to be one of the main stays of the club as its president. Her term of office has been one of the most successful enjoyed by the club. At the close of her message she introduced Miss Broun Hutchinson of Valdosta, the president for next year. Miss Hutchinson spoke to the club briefly on the plans for next year.

Campus Clubs Announce Plans for 1935-36.

The new officers of the various campus clubs are already making plans for next year.

The Fine Arts Club has especially elaborate plans as given by its president, Miss Sara Bingham. The annual bazaar sponsored by this club will be on a larger and better plan than heretofore, and new companies will contribute to its supply of goods. The department of handwork and needlework, which will be organized, will also add to the novelties on sale at the bazaar. The club plans to spend a week-end at Twin Lakes. This will take the form of a field trip, as easels, paints, water-colors, and charcoals will be included among the provisions. They also plan a trip to New Orleans. A program, in the form of tea dances and other entertainments, will be worked out to raise funds. Miss Bingham states that new bids will be given each year to girls who have shown enough interest to deserve membership in the club another year, and to other girls who let it be known that they are interested and who can pass the small test, will be taken in the club. The usual exhibits of pictures and other art interests will be shown at intervals during the year.

The Valdosta Club is a social club for the alumnae of Valdosta High School, according to Miss Frances Garbutt. She states its purpose: first, to unite the day students in an effective group; second, to foster feeling of friendship between boarding and day students; third, to establish true spirit of college among day students; and fourth, to organize the group that it may be a means of interpreting the activities of the college to the town. The monthly meetings next year will take place at luncheons at the house-in-the-woods. Among the social functions planned are a tea for the mothers of the club members and an entertainment for the high school seniors. A money making program will be planned.

The youngest club on the campus is the French Club. Its president, Miss Ruth Jones of Thomasville, asserts that it is planning to broaden its influence on the campus next year by a very full program. In addition to its regular monthly meetings, which will take up French literature, influences, social life, and current history, the club will put on French plays to which the public will be invited. Through these plays the whole campus will learn something of the customs, ideals, characteristics, and language of the French people and it is hoped that they will develop among the students an interest in and an appreciation of the French nation and language.

According to the record of the history majors, the outlook for prospective members of the International Relations Club is excellent, as stated by the president, Miss Esther Smith. The club plans to send representatives to the National I. R. C. Conference next year; it hopes to increase the amount of the scholarship given every year to a senior member of the club. It will put on a program for local civic clubs during the year. The International Relations Club and the English Club will meet in a debate, the question to be decided later.

Miss Louise Hardy, president of the English Club states that the Club plans to bring outstanding literary artists to the campus. For the monthly meetings of the club she hopes to be able to secure a number of interesting speakers. Several meetings, however, will be taken to discuss the books, the reading of which will be required by the club members. As it has done this year, the club will donate some books to the library. There will be a money raising program, and a program of entertainments for the members.

It is the custom of the Math-Science Club to elect its officers at the beginning of the year. Therefore, its plans for next year have not been made. Miss Marion Reid has been appointed chairman of the election for officers.

Two interpretations of the plays given at the Sock and Buskin Club meetings next year will be given according to the president, Miss Broun Hutchinson. The two interpretations will take the form of a natural and a stylized version. Besides the work on one-act plays, there will also be illustrated lecture topics such as make-up and lighting effects. The annual frolic will be held, as its success in the past warrants its continuation. The main production of the year will be the annual three-act play to be presented later in the year.

The Philharmonic Club this year has made a study of modern musicians of the radio and concert world. Miss Martiel Lundy, president, says: "We plan to continue these studies."

COLLEGE RENTS STUDIO FOR THE NEXT YEAR

College authorities recently made arrangements to rent the brown frame house beyond the back campus for a music studio for next year. The conservatory which has been located on Brookwood Drive this year will then be moved to this location. The rear grounds of the house have been used as a riding ring this year.

Practice studios and offices will be arranged in both the upper and lower floors of the house.

PAVING OF ROADS TO BEGIN SOON

According to recent reports, paving of the roads through the campus will begin as soon as school is out. Recent legislation provided for the roads through the grounds here to be paved by the State Highway Department.

Plans now call for the paving to begin at the Patterson street entrances to the college and continue around the half-circle in front of West Hall. The two roads running east and west, parallel to each other will probably be paved also. The road running in front of the dormitories, Converse and Ashley Halls, will be included in the paving.

Surveys were made recently through the woods adjoining the campus at the north end of West Hall for the road to continue through, but according to the most recent reports, all of the ways surveyed will not be paved. However, the road in front of West Hall will in all probability continue through the woods to Patterson street.

The paving will be begun sometime the first part of June.

FRANK R. READE

TO G. S. W. C. STUDENTS

For no apparent reason, except that she is getting out a bigger and better issue of the Canopy than usual, and therefore is probably having a hard time filling it up, the editor has asked me to write you a letter. Writing "space-fillers" has long been a hobby of mine; so I am glad to accede to this latest request.

First, I want to thank all of you, collectively, individually, and personally, for your fine cooperation this year with me and with our faculty. It is our opinion, and the opinion of those who have visited us this year, that you girls constitute the finest group of young women anywhere assembled in the State of Georgia—or anywhere else for that matter. You are easy to get along with,—easy to look at,—and intelligence tests, comprehensive examinations, and so on, prove definitely that you are above the average intellectually. No faculty could ask for more. We only wish that you could say the same of us! (After saying all of these nice things about you—without even having to cross my fingers—I hope you won't let me down between now and June 10!)

Second, all of you may expect to hear from me during the summer. If anything of interest in connection with the college comes up I want you to know about it, to feel that you are still in close touch with us even when you are on vacation at home.

Third, I want all of you to write to me during the summer. If you want to know anything about your own courses for another year,—if you hear of some girl who may be interested in entering next fall,—just drop me a line.

Finally, as I am writing this for the Canopy, I especially want to commend the editor and her assistants for having gotten out such a creditable paper as The Campus Canopy. Next year I hope that your college paper will be bigger and better in every way.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK R. READE.

IN SOME WAYS WE'RE GLAD; IN OTHER WAYS WE'RE SAD

GRADUATION FINDS SENIORS BATTLING WITH TWO EMOTIONS

The majority of the seniors, when interviewed last week, expressed regret that they were graduating. Most of them say, "I'm glad in a way, but very sad in another." All of which goes to prove that college has made some sort of impression on them at any rate.

Judy Cochran, president of the Glee Club, seemed to voice the sentiment of most of the seniors when she said: "I hate to graduate, but I'm ready to get out and see what I can do for myself."

Marjorie Groover, president of the International Relations Club voiced the following sentiments: "I'm glad now, but I know I'll be sorry the minute I get my diploma."

Marie Joiner, another senior who will graduate this year remarked as follows: "After I graduate I can start travelling. O, I feel sad about graduating and knowing I won't be back next year. I really do."

Dot Ogletree feels much the same way: "I hate to think of all I'm going to miss when I graduate—I hate to graduate for that reason, and still I'm glad I'm finishing."

Lucy Hammond feels that she is really losing something when she graduates: "I'm glad to be getting through but I hate to leave college. I feel that my four years in college have been the happiest of my life."

Eleanor Bailey says: "I hate to leave Senior House. Graduation time will be a time for joy and sorrow both for me."

Ola Lee Powell, who is graduating in three years, voices her feelings regarding graduation: "I'm proud to be getting a diploma, but—it's all very exciting."

"Carolyn Brim says: "I think most of us feel sad because we don't know what kind of a future we'll have when we graduate—it is so uncertain. I'm worried because I'm afraid I'll not have access to the advantages I've had in college when I'm teaching in a little school. Then, too, what makes most of us sad is the thought of leaving friends that we have made these four years."

So alma mater's loving daughters feel about this business of graduation. Regret and unwillingness to graduate—and yet an overwhelming desire to get out into the world after four years of it all.

Dr. Punke Invited to Attend Meet At Peabody

Invitations have been extended to about twenty-five of the most outstanding professors of education from a number of colleges in the south to attend a conference on Education and Race Relations to be held in Nashville this summer. Among this number is Dr. Harold Punke, professor of education at G. S. W. C.

For several years there has been in Atlanta, a Conference on Education and Race Relations which has been constantly trying to effect a solution of the problem that will benefit both races. It is one of the major problems of southern education and eminent educators have given it much attention recently. Dr. Punke has been most active in his interest and work which has prompted him to attend the conference in Nashville this summer.

The conference in Atlanta will sponsor a study to take place at Peabody College of Education for about five weeks in the middle of the summer. They will follow two, and possibly three fields of consideration. The first, Education and Southern Culture will be led by Dr. Guy Johnson of the University of North Carolina, who is to be added to the Peabody faculty this summer for that particular study. The second Dual Education in the South will be conducted by Dr. U. W. Leavelle of Peabody. The third field of study and investigation will be individually selective.

SPORTS

Mary Agnes Roane

The last baseball game of the season was played on Wednesday, May 15th, and the Lambdas complete a most successful season. They won the third game of the series with a score of 6-4. Among those who played unusually well were Margaret Hudson, Una Ritch, Esther Smith, and "Pinkie" Howell.

The annual baseball Breakfast-Hike was held on Saturday morning at Barber's Pool. The two winning teams, the "Babe Ruths" and the "Lou Gehrigs" were entertained by the "Dizzy Deans" and the "Connie Macks." The girls hiked out to the pool where they went for a swim after which they enjoyed the delicious traditional breakfast.

Team competition has been most keen this year between the Phi Kappa and the Phi Lambda Athletic organizations. The organization having the greatest number of points at the end of the year has the honor of having its name engraved on the Honor Plaque. This year so far the Lambdas are leading the Kappas by 10 points. However, the Kappas still have a chance to win as there are three more competitive tournaments to be played off. The Doubles Tennis Tournament is now in progress, the Golf Tournament began last Thursday and will end on the 30th of May; and the Archery Tournament will be held on Saturday morning. If the Kappas win all three tournaments, they will be the lucky winners, but if they lose one, the Lambdas will retain possession of the honor they won last year.

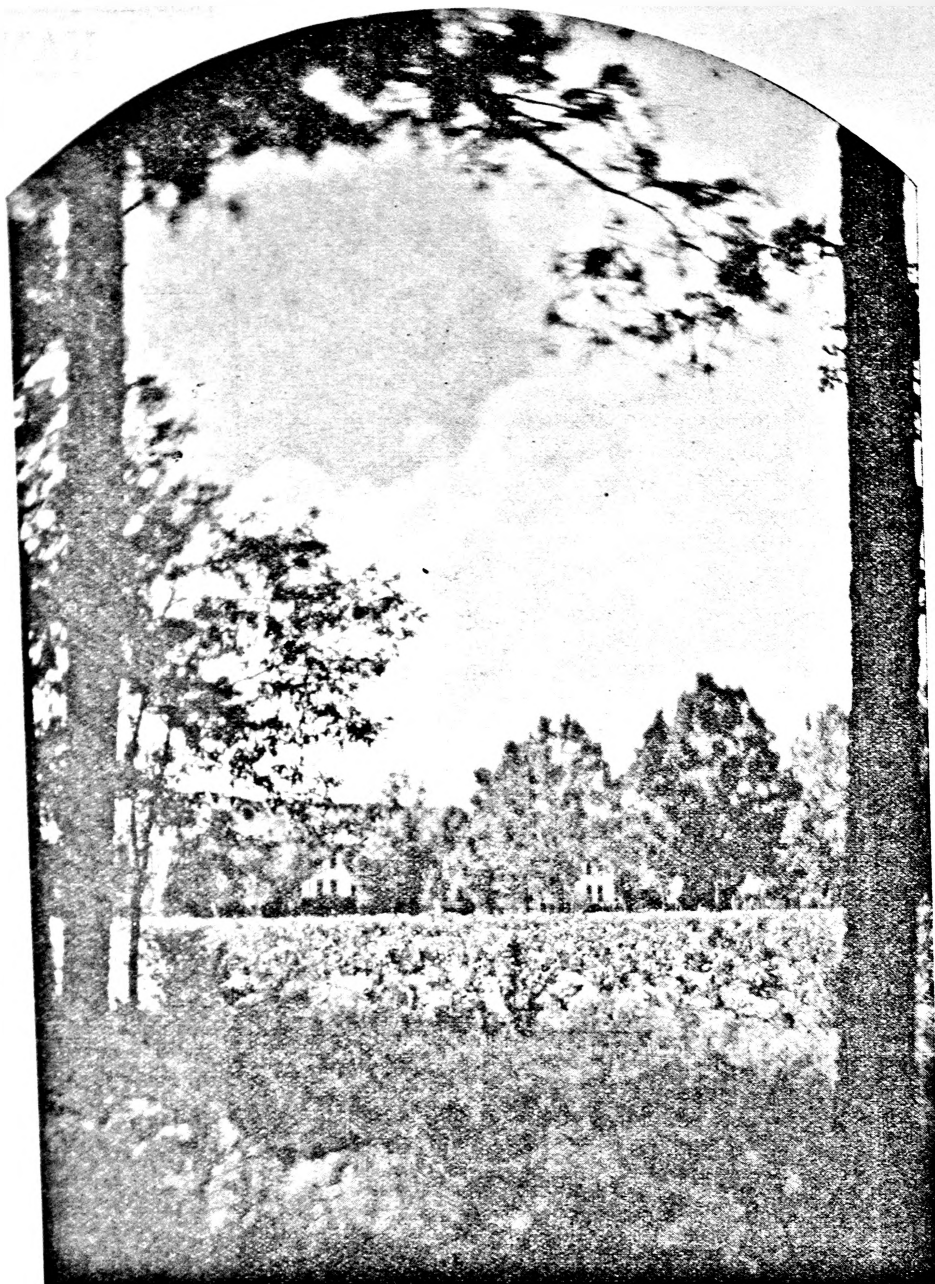

This year the method of winning individual awards has been changed. The point system has been abolished as has the inclusion of scholastic and court records, and the awards are based on actual athletic competition. The first year's award is the numerals, the second, the letter, the third, an identification bracelet with the insignia of the athletic association. The last and highest honor is reserved for the seniors. The Senior who is most outstanding in athletics has her name engraved on an Honor Plaque and receives also a small medal which is a duplicate of the Honor Plaque.

Saturday, May 18th, a group of ambitious horsewomen, with Mr. Langston, the instructor, rode out to Twin Lakes for an outdoor lunch. These making the trip were Estelle Roberts, Clare Lawson, Ida Lee Stearman, Una Ritch, Ruth Williams, and Margaret Touchton.

The Rifery Class has indeed made progress. The girls are now shooting with a .30 rifle instead of a .22. Dorothy Ogletree, of Savannah, shot a perfect score of 25 out of 25. Keep up the good work, Dot.

MARTHA JACKSON WINS HONORABLE MENTION IN ESSAY CONTEST

Once again a student of G. S. W. C. comes to the front and wins an honor, thus causing the College to share in the glory.

In the nation wide contest, more than 800,000 aspired to write the 600 word American history for carving on Mount Rushmore Memorial, and out of that number, Miss Martha Jackson, of Valdosta, a student of G. S. W. C. won honorable mention.

The National Committee of Award, of which President Roosevelt is chairman, after nearly a year, has completed its task of selecting the best papers, and has announced the winners.

Miss Jackson was among those whom certificates of honorable mention were awarded, and of the more than 100 schools and colleges of the Southeast who have been cited by the National Committee of Award of the Mount Rushmore Memorial Inscription Competition for the high standard of excellence in inscriptions submitted by their students, Georgia State Womans College of Valdosta was listed.

Artist Series To Continue in 1935-36

In view of the approval of the Artist Series this year, the project will be continued next year. The students were wholeheartedly in favor of it. The money which made it possible was taken from the Student Activities Fee which each student is required to pay at the beginning of each quarter. The approval of the students for the way in which this money was spent insures its continuation next year.

The Artist Series Committee, composed of four faculty members and three students, brought the following artists to Valdosta: Jeannette Vreeland, known as America's most brilliant soprano was one of the main attractions. She presented a lovely program at the Ritz Theatre. Dr. William Beebe, world-renowned scientist and author, was the first of the lecturers. His lecture on his adventures off Nonesuch Island was one of the most interesting that the students have ever been privileged to hear.

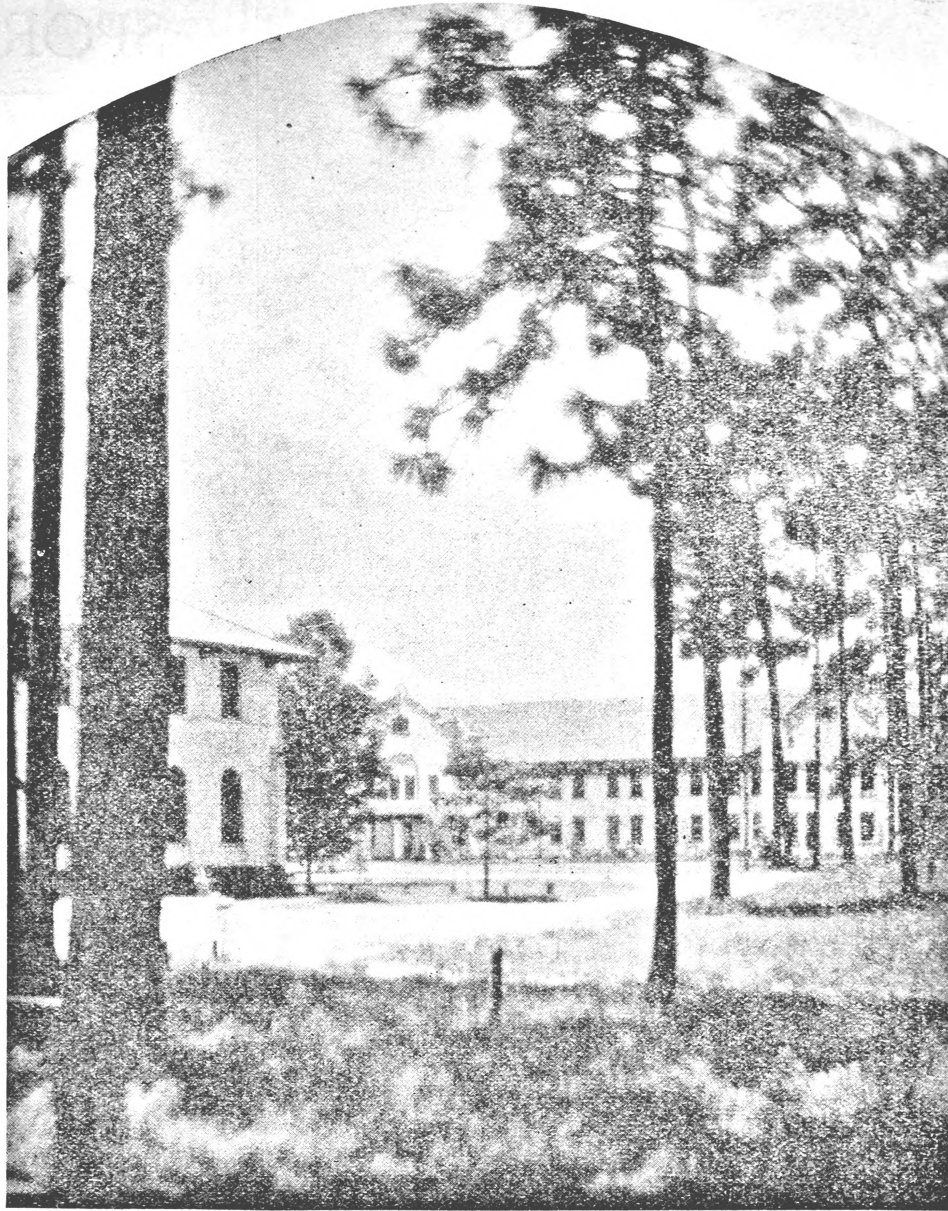

Besides bringing these two well known people to Valdosta, the committee also sponsored a liquid air demonstration in conjunction with the Math-Science Club. An art exhibition from the Grand Central Art Gallery in New York was also sponsored by the committee.

Horseback Riding To Be Continued For Next Year

Horseback riding will be continued next year again under the direction of Mr. Sam Langston. Mr. Langston has made several new plans for the following year, which will make it more interesting. He plans to have eight horses so that parties of six can go out. He also plans to set up a ring on the campus, and have a horse show, with running and jumping. The best rider will be awarded. There will be a riding course through the woods.

Several girls took horseback riding this year, and Mr. Langston hopes to begin another year with the old girls and several new ones.

The home economics class 311 had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Carrol Varnedoe lecture to them on fabrics on Tuesday morning. Mr. Varnedoe also arranged a display of fabrics in the home economics laboratory. Mrs. C. Whittington also arranged an exhibition of fabrics on Thursday morning.

KAMPUS KALEIDOSCOPE

La recherche du temps perdu . . .

Get out your French dictionaries and look that up, we're afraid we haven't spelled it right . . . Well, here comes the last issue, and we don't know whether to laugh or cry . . . We'll leave that problem to the seniors . . . We know two seniors who won't cry, unless we don't know what we're talking about . . . For them it means wedding bells . . . One will live in Washington, the other in Valdosta . . . Send us a picture of Huey Long sometime, will you Mary? . . . You know who the other one is without us telling you . . . The era of Senior House will pass on June 10th. . . . A lot of local swains, and home town lads will miss its passing . . . Next year's crop of seniors were born a year too late . . . The old stronghold—some of the seniors will probably shed a nice little tear or two . . . Maybe three . . . A lot of campus romances have been born, have been encouraged, and have died within the sacred portals (say, we can't get sentimental over this thing too) . . . We think we'll return to less tearful subjects . . . The male chorus delighted all the little girls . . . Jackson's singing brought down the house . . . Dukes strutted his little number . . . He also brought his protection with him . . . Soft lights and sweet music . . . Local boy turns sweetheart of Senior house . . . First a blonde, then a brunette, and now we've stopped keeping count . . . With a line that's as good on a golf course as on a moonlit terrace . . . Line forms to the right, my little ones . . . We know another senior who is going to be quite sad before long because Athens is so far away . . . And we still think that Curtis is faithful to Moultrie . . . Picnics, parties, and what-have-you . . . Math-Science, Philharmonic, and seniors trek off . . . Showboat party is lots of fun . . . Hudson nearly loses her head in the process as does Lizzie . . . Most of the seniors go around looking sad, but we know some other people who are looking sad because Valdosta is so far away in the summer . . . Don't let it get you down . . . Summer was made for love, so we've been told . . . Coxwell, you might get embarrassed sometimes if you talk about girls in trucks . . . You can't ever tell when they might be college girls! . . . Now we're going to be real nice and tell you who has been writing this column this year. If we have been hurting anybody's feelings we make apologies, it was meant in the spirit of good fun . . . Nothing more, no personal grievances or anything . . . There have been quite a few . . . Tooker, Carroll, Leila, and of course the editor . . . With various contributions from the student body, and some that weren't students . . . So now you know . . .

STUDENTS OF VASHTI SCHOOL VISIT COLLEGE

Miss Floyd, principal of the Vashti School in Thomasville, and a number of seniors in the school were guests on campus on Tuesday. A short musical program was presented in the Rotunda in their honor. The athletic societies also cooperated in presenting an athletic program. Miss Floyd and her pupils were guests at dinner.

DINING ROOM GIRLS ARE GIVEN A PICNIC

Saturday afternoon, May 18, Miss Daisy Daniel, dietitian, entertained the dining room girls with a hayride ending with a picnic at Twin Lakes.

The girls going were: Maggie Davidson, Louise Harper, Mayme Register, Chappie Bragg, Zelda Tucker, Thera Hambrick, Essie Skinner, Floride Zipperer, Billie Collins, Paula Sapp, Catherine Hagan, Elizabeth Sims, Mary Ellen Cordes, Ellie Etheridge, Clarice Connor, Olive Pinkerton, Johnnye Crosby, Frances Crosby, Sally Prescott, Doris Griffis, Sarah Ellen Morgan, and Correne West.

The most enjoyed features of the afternoon were boating, swimming, the shoot-shoot, and dancing. The swimming contest was won by Chappie Bragg, first place, and Henry Kate Gardner, second place.

Dr. Farbar Plans Improvements In Health Service

The Health Service Department, under the able direction of Doctor Marion E. Farbar, has completed a most successful year at the college.

Dr. Farbar has endeavored to run the Health Service along the theory of keeping well, rather than doctoring ill.

Another worthwhile innovation is the diet tables, made possible through the cooperation of Miss Daisy Daniel and Mrs. E. H. Beck. These tables afford an opportunity for underweight and overweight girls to adjust their diets to their personalities and at the same time enjoy good food and pleasant companionship at the table.

Among plans for next year is the rearranging of the infirmary for greater convenience and comfort, and to insure sanitation.

A new bathroom will be added, thus improving facilities.

Dr. Farbar has, through her kindly and sympathetic attitude and through her genial whimsicality, endeared herself to all the students and faculty, and it is with pleasure that the news of her return next year has been received on the campus.

MUSIC AND EXPRESSION PUPILS PRESENTED IN RECITAL MONDAY NIGHT

Monday night at eight o'clock in the Rotunda the students in piano, violin, and expression gave a recital which terminated their work for the year. Their selections showed much study and hard work by the pupils and excellent training by their instructors who were: Miss Gladys Warren, piano; Miss Louise Sawyer, expression; and Mrs. Frances P. Pardee, violin.

The program was as follows: piano solo, Valse de Concert by LaForge, Martiel Lundy; reading, An Hour Before High Noon by Marc Connelly, Kathrine Morgan; piano solo, Valse Brillante by Manazucca, Annette Phillips; violin solos, Energie by Massenet, and From the Cane Break by Gardner, Myrtle Parker; piano solo, The Island Spell by Freland, Virginia Zippies; reading, Renascence by Millay, Ellie Etheridge; piano solo, By the Beautiful Blue Danube by Schulz-Evler, Margaret Zippies.

After the performance punch was served and the student body enjoyed a social hour together.

DEPUTATION TEAM

The Deputation Team of the Y. W. C. A. presented a program at the First Baptist Church in Moultrie on last Sunday evening. Miss Clara Davis

Adams, of Moultrie, had charge of the program. Miss Amanda Barksdale, Blakely, led the devotional. Miss Henry Kate Gardner, Camilla, was the speaker for the evening. Her subject was "Harmonious Living." A trio composed of Misses Joy Miller, Albany, Florence Tharpe, Leesburg, and Pearl Wilson, Cordele, accompanied by Miss Margaret Zippies, of Savannah, presented a program of special music. The team was entertained with a buffet supper at the home of Miss Clara Davis Adams before the program.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES CLASS
GAVE SHOW BOAT PARTY

On Wednesday evening the Social Activities Class, which is taught by Miss Elizabeth McRee, gave a novel show-boat party. The gymnasium was decorated like a show-boat, and the program was presented as if on one. And the Lamp Went Out, a one-act melodrama, capably directed by Miss Leonora Dufour, of Albany, was effectively pantomimed by Miss Elizabeth Wilkes, of Adel; Miss Mary Perry, of Valdosta; Miss Margaret Hudson, of Newton; Miss Margaret Wade, of Valdosta, and Miss Gwendolyn Quinker, of Valdosta. A trio composed of Miss Joy Miller, of Albany; Miss Pearl Wilson, of Cordele, and Miss Evelyn May, of Quitman, sang Blue Hours and My Dear. Miss Wilson also sang several selections alone. After the games which were directed by Miss Wilkes and Miss Hudson, refreshments were served, these too carrying out the show-boat idea.

NEW PRIVILEGES
GRANTED STUDENTS

Miss Mildred Turnbull, of Moultrie, president of the Student Government Association, announced two new privileges for the student group which met with interest and grateful approval.

The students are now allowed to go to Brookwood without signing out, and to wear anklets to Brookwood.

Study hall has also been abolished, and visiting may be legally enjoyed. Gone are the days of jumping beneath beds and in closets at every approaching footstep.

Those studious souls who will pore over books anyway may take refuge behind "busy" signs and study to their hearts' content.

These privileges have been granted on trial, and at the first abuse will be revoked immediately.

LEISURE TIME ACTIVITIES

With Clara Louise Driskell, the president, as leader, the Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a new and unusual leisure-time activity on the campus. The sweet young things are being taught the gentle art of crocheting under the direction of Joy Miller, of Albany, and Margaret Bennett, of Jesup.

At eleven o'clock—"lights out", the different halls sing "Taps" as a good night, all's well. This is hoped to be the beginning of a tradition for the college.
