

Western & Atlantic Railroad Company,
Office President,

Joseph E. Brown,
President. 71

Atlanta, Ga. 9 January, 1879.

To whom it may Concern:-

The bearer of this, Eugene W. Leck, is a professor in the North Georgia Agricultural College, the chief building of which college has been recently consumed by fire; & the apparatus & many of the books were consumed also. The professor visits New York for the purpose of procuring other apparatus, such books as are necessary. I respectfully commend him to those with whom he may have intercourse, as a gentleman of good character & of high respectability in our State. Any courtesies extended to him will be highly appreciated, by our people.

Joseph E. Brown,
