SGA Senate bill calls for new safety measures

So far this quarter, the SGA has had two resolutions and one bill pass the Senate floor. Another bill was introduced last week.

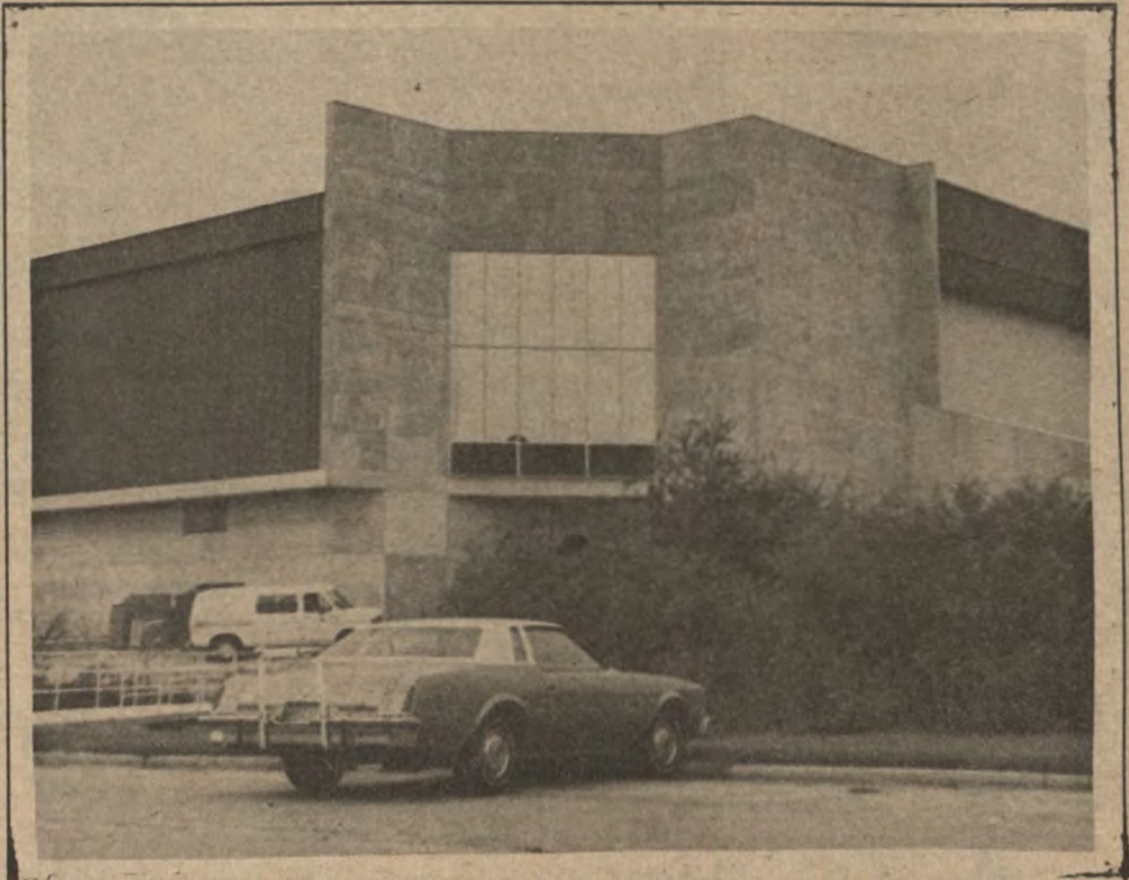

The first resolution dealt with the re-establishment of the Book Exchange. This resolution as passed both the Senate and Student Affairs Committee. James Hendricks was appointed to chair the Senate Committee.

The second resolution, introduced last week, called for a student wide voting referendum in relation to the possible raising of the legal drinking age to 21. Richard Dooley was placed in charge until an Elections Committee chairman can be named.

A bill, co-authored by James Hendricks and Richard Dooley, has passed both the Senate and the Student Affairs Committee. It calls for smoke detectors to be installed in campus residence halls.

A second bill, introduced by Willie Thomas at the November 3rd meeting, called for action to be taken in respect to the washing machine ticket dispensers in Langdale Hall. It will be voted on at the November 10th meeting.

The new VSC physical education complex is rapidly nearing completion if all goes according to schedule, the facility should be open for the 1982 basketball season.

Book exchange to be established again

by James Hendricks

The Student Government Association is now accepting applications for proprietorship of the new Student Book Exchange. Angel Flight, the former operators have relinquished control of the Exchange.

The Book Exchange is student run, and allows students to buy books below the prices asked for at the campus bookstore. The student wishing to sell also has opportunity to set his or her own asking price.

Rights to the Book Exchange are held by the SGA, but since it is a money making operation qualified campus organizations are allowed to run it.

The SGA committee in charge will meet within the coming week to discuss possible changes in bylaws and operating procedure. The committee will then meet with interested parties.

Any organization that is interested should apply at the SGA offices on the second floor of the Student Union.

Blood drive underway in south wing of cafe

VALDOSTA, Ga. -- The Sixth Annual Mark Stevens Memorial Blood Drive is to be held at Valdosta State College Nov. 11-12, said Jean Wicus of the American Red Cross here.

The blood drive is to be held in the south wing of the dining hall at VSC between the hours of 11 a.m.-4 p.m. on Nov. 11 and 1-6 p.m. on Nov. 12. It is held in memory of Mark Stevens, a VSC student and member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, who was killed in a gun accident Oct. 29, 1975. He was the son of Mrs. Joe Stevens of Valdosta and the late Mr. Stevens.

Mrs. Stevens and Jody Stevens, brother of Mark, who is also a VSC graduate, provide trophies for the organization on campus which has the largest percentage of blood donors. One is a rotating trophy and the other a permanent trophy which remains in the possession of the winning organization.

Fluker G. Stewart, Director of College Relations, is coordinator of the blood drive.

"We encourage all faculty members, staff and members of all organizations, as well as other individuals to roll up their sleeves for the blood bank," said Stewart.

"The entire Valdosta community is asked to donate blood to the Red Cross at this time also," he continued.

"Places to park near the dining hall will be available and our public safety people will be there to assist in parking. Students will be

UN application deadline set

Students are reminded that Friday, the 13th, is the final date for applications to represent the college at the National Model United Nations Conference in New York, April 6-11, 1982, according to Dr. William Gabard, Director of International Studies and NMUN advisor.

"We are applying this year to represent a country from the Middle East, which would afford us an excellent opportunity to study a nation in the middle of a contemporary crisis," Gabard noted. "We are asking that we be assigned Saudi Arabia which requires a smaller delegation than do the larger nations."

Application forms are available in Student Affairs Office, College Union Office and International Studies Office, West Powell Hall.

Selection of the VSC delegation will be made by three students appointed by the Dean of Students and three faculty members who have worked with the NMUN through the years. "Participation in the NMUN experience is a rare opportunity for any VSC student and affords him or her a splendid opportunity to gain valuable international experience and contacts," Gabard observed. "Participation has been a plus factor in enabling a number of former participants to gain entrance into law school and graduate school and to prepare for their careers oriented toward international business."

History course starts off with a blast

'American History During Your Lifetime,' a history course emphasizing events from 1945 to the present, will be offered to VSC students by Dr. John Ricks next quarter.

"The course starts with a bang—the Atomic Bomb, which ushered in the atomic age," explains Dr. Ricks. "We'll end the course with the Reagan administration."

According to Dr. Ricks, the major themes for the quarter will be the Cold War, the Civil Rights Movement, and the Presidency since 1945.

John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King will be discussed in detail, as Dr. Ricks feels they are two representative figures of the period. All three themes of the course are epitomized by these two American leaders—the Civil Rights Movement by King, and the Cold War and the Presidency since 1945 by Kennedy.

The course will also focus on questions such as 'Was Martin Luther King a messiah or a troublemaker?', 'Was President Truman a scrappy, decisive President?', 'Was Richard Nixon a dangerous President?', 'Should Gerald Ford have pardoned Nixon?', and 'What was Joe McCarthy up to with his crusade against communism?'; as well as the discussion of highlights of the period including religion during our lifetimes, the Vietnam War, the Eisenhower years, and the Kennedy assassination.

"I think it's the most interesting period in history because you see how trends in history have come together in your lifetime," Dr. Ricks says. "I consider it an enjoyable course—to take and to teach. I learn something every time I teach it."

Dr. Ricks did extensive study of the Civil Rights Movement in a seminar at Kent State University last summer so that will be an important part of the course. Since he has been involved in politics and served as a Carter delegate to the 1980 Democratic Convention, politics will also be a vital part of the course.

'American History During Your Lifetime' is listed as HIS 426 Contemporary America in the course catalogue, and will be taught Monday through Friday from 11:40-12:30.

Planetarium offers "Expanding Universe" to public

VALDOSTA, Ga.-- A planetarium program of "The Expanding Universe" is to be offered to the public at 8 p.m. on Nov. 12 at Valdosta State College. The event is scheduled for Room 305 Nevins Hall, Main Campus and there is no charge, according to Dr. Dennis Marks, professor of physics and astronomy, who is to give the program.

Parking is available on the north side of West Hall.

"It seems to me," said Marks, "a person can't help but ask where we are and where does it all come from. This planetarium program will explore man's place in the Universe."

"We are located on the third planet Earth of the star near the edge of the milky way galaxy. As we look out in space we see billions of other galaxies moving away from us. The entire universe is expanded. Where did it all come from? Where is it all going?"

Does he know all the answers?

"That's what we're going to talk about at the program on Nov. 12," he said.

After the planetarium program, visitors will have an opportunity to view the heavens through the telescope of the VSC observatory, according to Marks.

"We'll be looking at stars, star clusters, nebulae where stars are being born, and there is a full moon," he added.

Marks, who grew up in New York, has a B.S. in physics from Fordham University and a Ph.D. in astronomy from the University of Michigan which he attended on a NASA Fellowship. He also had a post doctoral fellowship at the University of Toronto. He has been on the VSC campus since 1971.

This is the second in a series of six programs offered the public by the faculty of the department of physics, astronomy and geology of which Dr. Robert Little is head of VSC Planetarium Program/2

The next program is to be Jan. 14 on "Volcanoes and the Mt. St. Helen's Eruption," to be given by Dr. Little.

Dr. William Maddox is Coordinator of the VSC planetarium and observatory.

Psych club sponsors panel discussions

THE PSYCHOLOGY CLUB will sponsor a panel discussion on the following areas of psychology:

1. Organizational/Industrial
2. School Psychology
3. Counseling Psychology (to include counseling in the mental health setting).

The content of the discussion will include requirements for a bachelors, masters, and doctorate degree; potential employment opportunities and the future outlook in each area; and an opportunity for students to voice questions and concerns about the field of their choice.

If you are interested in psychology, and want to know more about the field, please join us in the Camillia Room on MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16, at 7:00 p.m.

Redford's "Resource Institute" experiences financial delays

MOSCOW, ID [CPS]--For the second time in three months, actor-director-environmentalist Robert Redford has delayed the premiere of his college for natural resources students.

The proposed Institute for Resources Management, conceived by Redford as a management training center for students interested in preserving and developing America's natural resources, was to have opened this September as a joint venture of the University of Idaho and Washington State University. Initial enrollment was to be limited to 20 graduate students.

But Redford announced in August the privately-funded institute would not be open until next spring. He said there were financing problems.

Now Hope Moore, the institute's executive director, says the institute will not open until fall 1982. The reasons for the second delay were also financial. "None of the $6 million endowment has been raised yet", she says.

Senate representing students well — Sonja Taylor

The SGA Senate has recently passed one bill and two resolutions so far this quarter and another one was introduced on the floor of the senate last week.

The first resolution was to re-establish the student book exchange. A book exchange would allow students to buy books at lower prices and also sell their no longer needed books to other students for a fair price. With the rising cost of tuition and books, such a service will be a relief for many starving students.

The second resolution which was passed by the senate called for a student voting referendum in reference to the possible raising of the legal drinking age to 21. Since college students will be directly effected by any legislative change, students should at least be allowed to express their opinions on the subject.

The bill that was passed by the Senate calls for the installation of smoke detectors in campus residence halls that do not already have them. Presently, Converse is the only residence hall with smoke detectors. Several residence halls at VSC are many years old and are susceptible to fire. Every residence hall is equipped with fire extinguishers and alarm systems but none (except Converse) has any type of early warning device. One residence hall has already experienced two small bathroom trash can fires this quarter. In both cases, the fire could have been extinguished sooner if a smoke detector had given an early signal. VSC students deserve to have their lives and property protected.

The Senate has succeeded in perceiving several problems which directly concern students and made an effort to correct them. This is what true representation is, students working for students. A lot more can be accomplished through student participation than through student apathy. If students would make their concerns known to their SGA senators, to their newspaper, to their RAs, or even to their Dean, then we could all move toward campus improvement.

What's The Law

By Jack Strauss, LL.B

The case of the sexy husband

As far as Willie was concerned, his wife Vera was the most provocative gal he had ever laid eyes on. Consequently, when he arrived home from work earlier than usual one afternoon, he took one look at her and got all kinds of ideas. The first one that popped into his head was purely X-rated. The beds, however, were still not made, the kitchen was a mess, Vera's hair was still up in curlers and she wanted no part of her sexy husband. What's more, she strenuously fought off his advances.

Unfortunately, in fighting off Willie's advances, Vera lost her balance and fell. And, if that wasn't bad enough, she severely injured her back in striking the floor.

Outraged by the aggressive conduct of her husband, Vera sued Willie for a divorce. She alleged cruel and inhuman treatment.

"It's just not safe to live with him," she complained in court. "He's a big bruiser. He grabbed me like he was King Kong and I was Fay Wray."

"All I wanted was a little romance," was Willie's defense. "I had no intention of hurting her. Early afternoon or not, she had no right to fight me off."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you free Vera from her sexy husband?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that the circumstances surrounding Vera's back injury did not amount to cruel and inhuman treatment. A husband, noted the judge in effect, has a right to be loveable to a wife.

The case of the X-rated dentist

Lois had a tooth that was driving her to extraction and a figure, she believed, that was driving her dentist to distraction. In fact, every time he gave her a drug to knock her out--so he could work on her teeth--she woke up convinced that he had been messing around in her blouse as well as in her mouth.

Finally, Lois complained to the authorities and a court order was obtained to sneak a videotape camera into the dentist's office. The tapes showed him opening Lois' blouse instead of opening her mouth. As a result, the X-rated dentist was arrested on charges of sexually abusing Lois.

"There's no question about it," the prosecuting attorney told the judge. "The tapes show a clear case of petting larceny!"

"Those tapes can't be used as evidence against me," insisted the incensed dentist. "Putting a camera in my office without my knowledge was contrary to my constitutional rights. If a man's home is his castle, a dentist's office is his sanctorum."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE* would you permit the videotape films to be used as evidence against the dentist?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a court had an inherent power to investigate crime via the issuance of a search warrant. So long as a search warrant is validly issued, concluded the judge -- as it was in this case -- the search may be made via a videotape camera installed on the suspect's premises.

Letter To The Editor

Disgruntled connoisseur

Dear Editor,

One thing that really burns me up is the fact that the cafeteria officials claim that the food is better this year than in years past. Well, I've been a student here for four years now and I say, in response to their statement, Moose Doo Doo! The food was bad when I first got here, and if anything, it is worse now.

Oh sure, they brought in a salad bar and an ice cream bar, but many times the salad bar is out of the most wanted items. What is the sense of having a salad bar if the most wanted items are not available? Getting back to the ice cream bar, I think the ice cream bar is great, but again, many times it does not have the most popular flavors. It will very often be overstocked with such items as bubblegum ice cream or sherbets. Why can't they keep the ever popular vanilla, chocolate, fudge ripple, and perhaps, chocolate chip flavors, to mention a few.

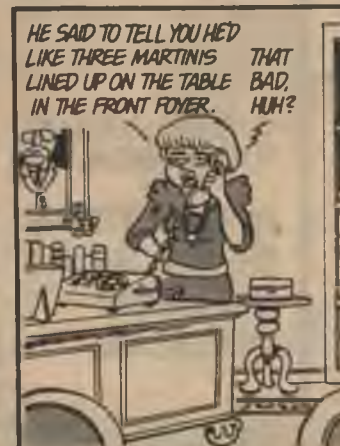

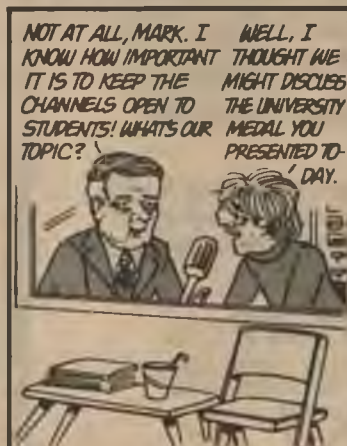

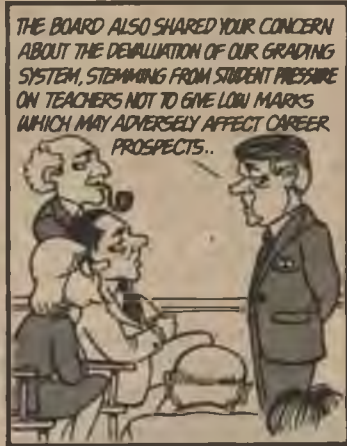

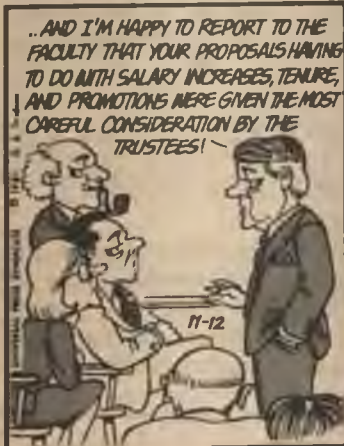

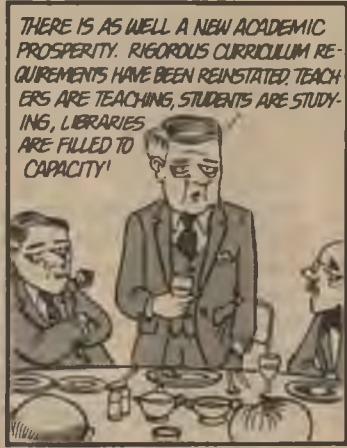

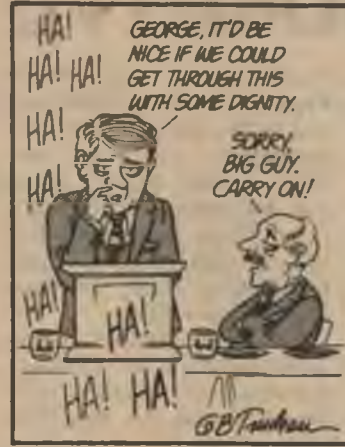

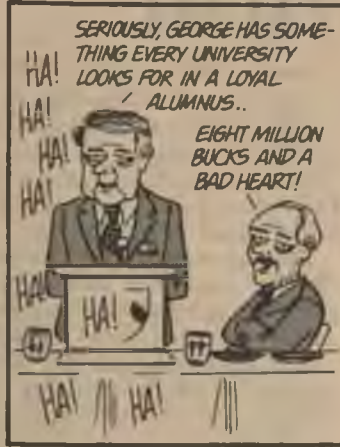

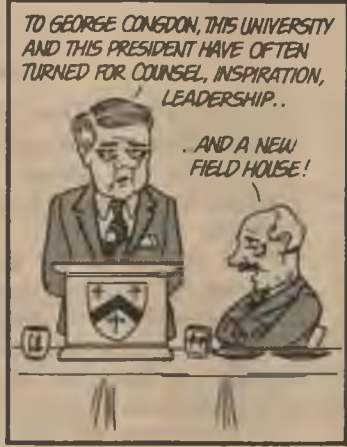

Furthermore, the new cheese bar was also a good idea. The problem with it is that there is only one kind of cheese and there is never any left by the evening meal. I think they should have several different types of cheese because not all people have the same taste.

I would like to comment about the noon meal on Sunday, November 1. All students who ate the roast beef will remember, because they probably did not eat it. The reason why they did not eat it is because the meat was medium raw. I do not exaggerate this point. I for one, noticed many students leaving the beef on their trays. That was a fiasco, in my opinion. I paid good money for not so good food, and I deserve a fully cooked meal.

Another thing that burns a hole in my wallet is all the improvements that have been made in the cafeteria. For example, a very nice dining room was partitioned for banquets and such. But what about the needed improvements? I have an excellent example of this. As I walked through the food line on Thursday, November 5, I noticed that the inside of the cafeteria was leaking profusely. What would happen if somebody slipped and got hurt? Who would get the blame? I would put the blame on the people who administer improvements for the cafeteria.

I am aware that there is a cost factor experienced by the cafeteria, but what about all the food that is wasted daily? However, by improving the quality of the food, there will be less waste and maybe the expense of uneaten food could be put to better use in the cafeteria.

Fall baseball ends on a positive note

By Ralph Moore

The last frozen rope has reached its target and the final blue dart has run its course. VSC's fall baseball squads ended the fall season with a productive final weekend series by taking 4 wins and tying 2 in 6 games.

In the opener against South Georgia on Saturday, the Frozen Ropes took a 9-8 decision. Bobby Roche aided the win by gathering 3 hits, a double and 2 rbi's. Pat Estep slammed 2 singles, which yielded 4 rbi's.

The Blue Darters could manage only a 1-1 dead lock against South Georgia. Pitchers Theron Cooper and Rick DiNapoli limited South Georgia batters to only 2 hits.

Against Florida Junior College, the Blue Darters came up even again, 6-6. Wayne Fugett, who had a fine weekend at the plate, provided two doubles.

The Frozen Ropes downed FJC 8-1 behind the batting of Greg Waits and Mike Ruff. Mound staff members Snake Dixon and Mark Schanback held FJC to 4 hits.

The Blue Darters ripped ABAC pitchers for 15 hits in downing the Stallions 11-2. Wayne Fugett was 3-for-3, including a double. In addition, he slugged 3 rbi's and scored 3 runs. John Keigher lended 4 hits in as many trips; 2 doubles and 3 rbi's are also to his credit. Dennis Rich gave up only 1 earned run in 5 innings of pitching; Wayne Fugett came on to mark 6 strikeouts in the final two innings. Finally, the Frozen Ropes claimed an 8-7 come-from-behind victory over ABAC. The Ropes were down 7-2 in the bottom of the sixth, but a host of walks, 2 hits, and a timely ABAC error paved the way.

For the season, the Frozen Ropes concluded with a 6-2 record. The Blue Darters achieved a 5-0-3 mark. Coach Thomas added that he was pleased to see the hitting came around. "It will be pleasant to think about during the off season. Although we did not have a good defensive weekend. Yet I remain optimistic for the coming season. I feel the pitching will be sound." According to Coach Thomas, the team will work on individual weight programs along with hitting and pitching in preparation for spring.

Reade Hall gears up for football rematch

The anxiously awaited press release concerning the rematch between the 1st and 2nd floors of Reade Hall has been announced. The flag football game will be held at Wilson Memorial Stadium in front of West Hall this Sunday at 4pm.

Larry "Red Baron" Lee, player and head coach of the first floor, stated that, "The Red Baron and his Stormtroopers will take this second meeting. The 2nd floor executed a faultless show the first time, but you have to remember we were missing some key players."

How bout them 49ers? This San Francisco based pro football team now stands at 8-2, beating a tough Falcon crew, 17-14 last week. Bill Walsh's team has also crushed the Dallas Cowboys and edged Chuck Knoll's Steelers.

What seems to be the difference? Coach Walsh believes the sudden success story is attributed to the quick maturation of quarterback Joe Montana and the play of an inexperienced secondary, led by Ronnie Lott. I tend to believe the original playcalling of the former Stanford coach along with the confidence of a few good wins has turned the 49er squad around. Look for a San Francisco vs. Miami Super Bowl matchup...

Larry Holmes and Renaldo Snipes fought an interesting fight in last Friday's televised ABC special. Although Snipes knocked down heavily favored Holmes in the seventh with a devastating right hook, Larry came back to bury the 25 year old challenger with a barrage of heavy "artillery" in the eleventh. The referee acted very wisely in stopping the fight before any permanent brain damage was inflicted. Holmes had better start sparing with some heavy punches before his 10 million showdown with "Rocky" Cooney in March. Both Shavers and Snipes gave the champ considerable difficulty...

Numerous southern tennis players are doing well on the pro tennis circuit. Atlanta's Bobby Webb, former #1 player at Georgia Tech, currently holds a world ranking of 393 after qualifying for two pro tournaments. One was in Japan two weeks ago where Webb lost in the second round to Tim Gullikson. Derek Tarr, last year's #1 player at Auburn, is #2 in the USTA Penn Circuit's singles standings, while former Bulldog netman Wes Cash holds a #25 ranking. Greg Coopman, VSC's number two player last year, is rumored to be playing about .500 on the Penn Series...

Finally, it looks like Northwestern University is the epitome of losing. The college football weakling lost its 29th straight last week, setting a new NCAA record. They look like they're ready for a Rodney Dangerfield "no respect" line and a matchup against Georgia's big loser, the "ramblin wreck"...

Delta Chis, Wesley, Yarbs, KAs qualify Intramural football rolls toward playoffs

By Bart Miller

Now is the time for all good teams to begin looking toward the playoffs. The intramural football regular season is almost over and four teams will then begin their quest for intramural champions.

Three of the four teams are known. The Delta Chis and together for an intradivisional game and it proved to be a battle of the defenses. The Chis came out on top by a 6-0 score. The game could have been a preview of the opening round of the playoffs if the standings stay as they are.

Another possible playoff preview was given when the division they're in, picked up two wins to give them a swason record of 7-3. Since this was Circle K's first year, it would appear that a possible dynasty is being started. Watch out for them in the years to come.

The playoffs schedule starts on Wednesday at 4:00 with the "Jumpin' Joe Munde will lead his Wesley team into the playoffs starting Wednesday at 4:00 at North Campus.

Wesley are the American League representatives while the Yarbs are the National League champions. The final team is either the KAs or the Delta Chi Flyers.

All the certainty about the playoff picture did not alter the play of last weeks games. The Delta Chis and Yarbs got KAs and Wesley got together. The KAs scored early and for awhile it appeared that would be all the scoring. However, a Paul Towle interception got Wesley back on track and they went on to win a tough one 14-8.

Circle K, a team out of the playoffs only because of the National winner against the American second place team. Thursday's action will have the American champion against the National runner up. Monday is the day of the championship game. The playoffs should prove to be an excellent finish to a very exciting season.

Spotlight on Sports

Bart Miller

I wish somebody would take the time to wake the San Francisco 49ers up from their dream season. It will not be an easy task.

Three teams, the Rams, Steelers, and Falcons, all had their chance. All failed. Who are those guys anyway? The 49ers were supposed to contend with New Orleans for the division cellar. Now they stand atop the NFC Western division with an incredible 8-2 mark. If they go only 3-3 in their last six games, the worst they can do is tie for the division title. Somebody has got to tell these guys that they are not the Rams. It's starting to make everybody look bad.

Sunday's loss was another tough one for Atlanta. The Falcons were totally out-played but still had a chance to come away with a victory. It is little comfort to Leeman Bennett that the Falcons are probably the best 5-5 team in the NFL. The 49er game was a key game to the Falcons and they blew it. Just think, with a few breaks, the Falcons could be 9-1, maybe even 10-0. They have not been soundly beaten this year.

All of this means nothing unless the Falcons can make the playoffs. Surprisingly, the Falcons are still very much in the playoff picture. In fact, they are tied for the second wild card spot with the Rams, Tampa Bay, and Giants. The Falcons still have a tough road ahead with Pittsburg, Los Angeles and Houston still to play, but only a fool would count them out now. Thank heavens for parity.

On the other side of the state, the Georgia Bulldogs still have a long way to go to repeat as National Champs. Auburn is the next hurdle in their way, and the War Eagles won't be easy.

The Dawgs biggest hurdle, however, is the fact that there are three teams ahead of them. Pittsburg, USC, and Clemson still must lose for Georgia to repeat. Pittsburg and USC both still face tough tests (Penn State and UCLA respectively), but Clemson cleared its biggest hurdle by beating North Carolina on Saturday. If Clemson and Pittsburg both finish undefeated, the National Title could focus on the Gator Bowl. Why the Gator Bowl? Because it is the only major bowl which does not have a team locked in.

So there you have it. Both teams in Georgia still have long ways to go, but anything is possible.

Cross-country takes second in conference

Coach J. J. Whitesells cross-country Blazers repeated as South Atlantic Conference runnerups this past weekend. West Georgia captured the top spot with 26 points; VSC was 2nd with 43; Columbus claimed 3rd and 70 points; Augusta was 4th with 86 points.

Craig Barnes made it two-in-a-row individual titles. Craig posted a 26:53 over VSC's Blazer Classic 5-mile course. Ralph Moore, 6th in 27:30, and Hugh Riner, 8th in 27:48, join Barnes on the "All-Conference" Team. The honor goes to the top ten finishers.

Thompson finished 15th in 28:46 for VSC; Doug Fussell was 17th in 29:35.

For the season, the Blazers achieved a 25-18 record. Since VSC is no longer a member of the SAC, the team will compete against Gulf South Conference foes next year.

In the women's division, West Georgia entered the only team, and took the conference title. However, VSC had four open division runners.

Karlynn Lastinger notched 8th in 21:37 for the 3-mile course. Debbie Mair followed in 22:36, which was good for 10th place.

Dale Senkbeil covered the distance 13th in 24:19. Terri Davis ran 25:22 to get 14th.

Playoff time draws near for intramural volleyball

By Brett Gaines

As tournament time rolls around, all but one spot seems to be wrapped up. ROTC, Phi Mu, and Sportsters appear to be playoff bound, but the fourth spot is still up for grabs as the KD's and the MG's prepare for the fight. The Sportster's and Phi Mu's ADPI's all but eliminated themselves from post-season play as they lost to the KD's in an uneventful match 15-3, and 15-8. ADPI's appeared to have a shot at the playoffs when they beat the ZTA's in a three game match that saw the Pi's come back in the last two came back and took the next two 15-5, 15-9.

Phi Mu's kept their unbeaten streak alive as they outlasted the Alpha Xi Delta's 15-8, and 15-9. BSU had an exceptionally rough week as they lost to the Kamikazes 15-13 and 15-12, and were blasted by ROTC 15-1 and comeback in the

The high flying action shown here typifies women's intramural volleyball. Teams continue to strive toward the playoffs.

KD's appear to have an edge, but the MG's may still have a shot when they play on the last day of regular season play. ROTC and Phi Mu are still undefeated and may remain that way until - you guessed it - the last day of the season. Phi Mu enter their toughest part of the schedule as they play games 15-7 and 15-1 to beat the ZTA's who won the first game 15-11.

The MG's only match this week seriously affected their playoff hopes as they lost to the Sportster's 15-8, 15-11.

ROTC had a tough time shaking the KD's as they lost their first game 15-3, but promptly second game, but still lost 15-11.

ZTA and Alpha Xi Delta played Thursday with ZTA's on top of the Z's 15-1 and 15-11.

Nov. 17th is the last day of regular season and the tournament begins on Thursday the 19th.

game, come see a classic between Snoopy (Pettigrew) and the Red Baron," Lee said.

Second floor coach Dick "Dense" Dooley, on the other hand, showed concern. "I checked for injuries after the first game and had to place the entire squad on the injured reserve," he moaned. "We had a practice at the Knights of Georgia the other night and I'm disappointed at the way we executed the funda-mentals."

"To combat this," Dooley went on and on, "I've hired Nolan 'Swamp Possum' Vickers to co-ordinate the defense. Also, Ray 'too-many-rules' Ifert, former head coach of the Phi Mu Sisters, has been signed to play and co-ordinate our offense. They should both prove great assets to my vast coaching staff."

Dooley concluded, however, that the addition of rules, referees, and flags "should add a whole new dimension to the Reade Hall football program."

Miami artist brings one man show to VSC

James Couper, a Miami, FL. artist, has a one-man show of his paintings and drawings in the Valdosta State College Gallery in the Fine Arts Building.

The exhibition is to remain up through the month of November, according to Don Penny, gallery director and art professor. Viewing hours are 10 am - 4 pm Monday - Thursday and 10am -2:30pm Friday. There is no charge to the public.

A reception honoring the artist is to be held in the gallery Sunday from 2 - 4 pm.

Couper is also to hold a workshop in the gallery Monday at 10:30 am which is also open to the public.

A popular artist, Couper has had solo exhibitions in such places as the Metropolitan Museum, and at art centers in a number of colleges including Florida State University, Palm Beach Junior College, Broward Community College and at VSC.

He has won numerous awards and is represented in many public and private collections. Born in Atlanta, he has degrees from Georgia State University and Florida State University where he studied with Karl Zerbe. He is an associate professor at Florida International University.

Couper has had a long love affair with the Florida Everglades and all of the works in the VSC Gallery reflect this, according to Penny, who has known the artist for many years. The trees, grasses cloud formations, the waters and the land in the great swamp, all are subjects of his paintings.

The artist's canvases tend to be large; one required four men to unload the crate at VSC. His approach, is classical and traditional.

He makes no effort to be "modern," but strives for his works "to be rich, colorful and reflective of a special quality of "One of the great gifts of all art," said a critic, "is the act of sharing with the viewer a moment of perception. Couper shares with us his intense identification with the lovely reaches of his magic land of water and sky and clouds that is the heart of Florida."

The artwork of Miami artist, James Couper is currently on display in the Fine Arts Gallery.

"Holiday Saturday" could rescue poor gift givers

'Tis soon to be the season to be jolly. 'Tis also soon to be the season to start digging in your pockets to find funds for gifts and decorations for the holidays. For most students, that means doing it on a tight budget. Holiday Saturday comes to the Rescue!

Holiday Saturday is a day filled with Workshops designed to help you learn a craft and leave with a gift or decoration for the holidays. It will be on Saturday, November 21 and will begin at 10:00 A.M. upstairs in the College Union.

There will be four different workshops from which to choose. All four will be presented at 10:00 A.M. and will be repeated at 1:30 P.M. so you may take advantage of two different workshops if you wish. There will be a slight charge for materials but none more than $3.00. When you leave, you will have a completed wreath or whatever you make ready to take home to Mom or give as a gift.

The workshops for this year's Holiday Saturday are as follows:

- (1) a macrame wreath done in jute and accented with bright ribbon
- (2) counted cross stitch framed to make a tree ornament
- (3) silk screening greeting cards of your own design
- (4) a delightful Thanksgiving centerpiece featuring a turkey made from a pineapple with surrounding fruit in a basket. (a great surprise to take home to Mom for Thanksgiving-it will make up for all the dirty laundry!)

All instruction will be provided. You need not bring anything but yourself. We are requesting that you sign up ahead of time so we have adequate materials for everyone.

You may register for the workshops of your choice in the Activities office upstairs in the College Union or by calling 247-3308.

Campus wide talent show upcoming

It's time again for the VSC Campus Wide Talent Show sponsored annually by the College Union Board. If you think you have talent, then sign up and take a chance at winning a cash prize.

The talent show is Thursday, November 19 at 8:00 P.M. in Whitehead Auditorium. If you wish to enter, you must sign up before 5:00 P.M. on Wednesday, November 18 in the activities office upstairs in the College Union. There is no entry fee. Each act is limited to 4 minutes. Judges will be members of the VSC faculty. If you have any questions, call 247-3308.

All students are welcome to join us!

Got no talent? Then come and be part of the audience. It's free of charge and promises to be an evening of entertainment.

Burnett and Alda team up for year-round comedy

by Barbara Manning

Alan Alda, most noted for his role as Hawkeye in the television series, MASH, is the writer/director of 'The Four Seasons' a film about the stages of friendship.

The film centers on the four seasonal vacations of three couples-Len Cariou/Sandy Dennis as Nick and Anne Callan; Jack Weston Rita Moreno as Danny and Claudia Zimmer; and Alan Alda/Carol Burnett as Jack and Kate Burroughs.

In the spring the couples are warm and friendly, beginning to explore and define their relationships, but not yet ready to drop their personal defenses. In the winter, the newness of their friendship has worn off. The personal quirks, likes, and dislikes have long since been revealed and they know each other very well.

'The Four Seasons' is a light-hearted comedy about what happens to these six friends when the marriage of one couple (Len Cariou-Sandy Dennis) collapses and Nick chooses a lover, Genny played by Bess Armstrong. Most of the film is devoted to joking, rough-housing, and horsing around, but Alda's direction mellows the 'slapstick' characteristics of the movie. He develops the humanity of his characters without ever becoming overly serious. 'The Four Seasons' is a funny and very human picture of adult friendships.

'The Four Seasons' will be shown in the Whitehead Auditorium Sunday, Nov. 15 at 6pm and 8:30 pm. Students, faculty, staff, and friends are admitted free.

To avoid conflict with the TKE Calendar Contest, The Pi Kappas are extending the deadline for Miss VSC pageant entries until 5:00 p.m. Nov. 17. All interested organizations should contact Doug Whitacre.

CUB to sponsor skin care workshop

On Wednesday evening, November 11, The College Union Board will sponsor a demonstration on the proper methods of skin care and make-up application. The demonstration is free for VSC students and will begin at 7:00 P.M. in the Camellia Room on the second floor of the College Union.

The presentation will begin with a facial to prepare the face and will proceed thru the various steps in applying make up. The application will be done on a model to aid in understanding the various techniques.

The demonstration and a question and answer period will last about one hour. With the holiday season rapidly approaching, everyone should take time now to learn how to look their best for the parties ahead. Everyone is welcome to come and bring a friend.

Debate team cranks up again

VALDOSTA, Ga -- "Should the Federal government significantly curtail labor unions in the United States?"

If you think this is debatable question, you're right and students from Valdosta State College are to be debating the issue on several college and university campuses over the next several months.

Kent Colbert, new debate coach and member of the Speech and Drama faculty at VSC, is enthusiastic over the outlook.

"I'm trying to have a Forensics Team or Forensics Forum this year," said Colbert. "This type of speaking is a hold-over from the days of Plato and Aristotle. Individual speaking is emphasized in a number of forms, such as persuasive speaking, oral interpretation or duo interpretation, prose or poetry. It could be impromptu, short, serious or the traditional type of debate."

Dr. Westley R. Christie, head of the department of Speech and Drama, shares the enthusiasm for the outlook of the Forensics Forum.

"I've been head of this department for 15 years," he said, "and this young man (Kent Colbert) is the first person I've found who is interested in individual events for the speakers as well as in debates. We have several trips planned where students will compete in declamation, dramatization or some type of oral interpretation."

Colbert has already had two teams competing at Mercer

University in which both scored five wins and three losses. They'll journey soon to Emory University where they'll meet some of the best teams in the nation, including Harvard and other big schools, which their coach says will give them good experience in listening, learning and observing.

The travel agenda for the Forum calls for trips to Montevalo, Samford, Florida State University, Valencia at Orlando, Fla., Auburn and other schools.

Anyone who evidences interest can qualify for the Forensics Forum, according to Colbert. —

"We have students from pre-law, pre-medicine, political science and other areas," he said. "Basically this is for anyone who wants to improve communications or get better at arguing. The benefits are very good.

"In this type of debate or forum, a certain amount of research is required, which is also good for the students. In the past VSC students have participated in what we call CEDA or Cross Examination Debate Association. In CEDA there is less emphasis on research and debates rely on logic, wit and humor." Colbert got his undergraduate and graduate degrees at Florida State University, came to VSC from Western Illinois University where he was assistant director of Forensics and instructor.

"Forensics is one of the few things you can apply immediately to see if what you've learned is right and good," he said. "As with most worthwhile things there are some sacrifices to be made but I tell my students some important people have been debaters -- John Wayne, Harry Truman, L.B. Johnson and Richard Nixon.

"And," he added, "I went through college on debate scholarships and made some very good friends all over the country through debates.

"In view of the strike of the air controllers, the baseball strike and teachers' strikes, our subject this year couldn't be more timely. We're arousing a lot of interest through it."

Members of the Forensics team are: Curtis Avera, Quitman; Keith Belcher, Ruth Johnson, Carrie Strikeleather and Andrew Taormina, all of Valdosta; Diane Butts of Centerville; Kelie Miley and Mike Crosby, both of Savannah; Robert Watson, Warner Robins; Tony Watson, Brunswick, and Bill Mathis, Leesburg.

"Doonesbury's" Trudeau speaks

By Herbert Mitgang

Garry Trudeau, the creator of the "Doonesbury" comic strip that exposes some of the social foibles and political follies of our time, was encountered the other afternoon breaking open a fortune cookie. It arrived with a pot of tea; never mind where. Mr. Trudeau, who treasures his privacy, found a touch of wisdom in the serendipitous message: "Keep your plans secret for now."

Mr. Trudeau's sense of privacy, however, does not extend to his views. At 32 Mr. Trudeau, whose outspoken characters owe a historic debt to such cartoonists as Jules Feiffer and the late Walt Kelly, describes himself as an aging agitator. He earned his bachelor's degree at Yale, then gained what might be called his graduate education in Vietnam and as a student of Watergate—two lasting touchstones in his background.

The aging agitator finds inspirational material in more recent political history, too. His next two cartoon collections, to be published in September by Holt, Rinehart & Winston, are called "The People's Doonesbury: Notes from Underfoot 1978-1980" and "In Search of Reagan's Brain."

Mr. Trudeau's jabs at the high and mighty disturb some editors and enchant his fans. One of his pictorial techniques is to show only the exterior of the White House, with its unseen occupants chattering away, rarely to their advantage. During the Watergate hearings, Mr. Trudeau had his disk jockey character, Marvelous Mark, conclude his report on Mr. Nixon's Attorney General, John Mitchell, by dancing an ecstatic jig to cries of "Guilty, guilty, guilty!" The Washington Post killed the cartoon and somewhat stuffily explained: "We cannot have one standard for the news pages and another for the comics." Today "Doonesbury" runs in the rival Washington Star.

Twenty-one books have been derived from the strip, which runs in 600-odd papers around the country. About 80 of these papers put him on the editorial page. It would probably surprise some newspaper editors to discover that Mr. Trudeau prefers to be on the comic page instead of in the editorial realm. He finds nothing wrong with being labeled a comic-strip artist, and believes, besides, that more people read the comics than the editorials. In his book-lined studio in Manhattan, he keeps bound volumes of the comic-book series "Classics Illustrated."

Sipping his tea, Mr. Trudeau described how he dreams up his cartoons. He spends a good deal of time watching television, going to the movies, reading newspapers and magazines. One thing he doesn't do is walk around with a notebook. He also strongly believes that it is better for him to be an outsider than to fraternize with important people. In "Doonesbury," he says, he wants to represent the outsider on the American scene.

Mr. Trudeau regards himself as more of an idea-and-words man than a polemicist. The idea, which he puts down on yellow legal pads, comes first; then he blocks out what his characters will say; finally the sketching is done, at the eleventh hour. After relaxing on the weekend, he says that on Monday morning he wakes up his characters and tells them: "O.K., guys, back to work." The impudent, clever dialogue (rather than the drawings of his bleary-eyed characters, whose drooping lids leave the impression that they could use a good night's sleep) is what propels a Trudeau panel.

DOONESBURY by G.B. TRUDEAU

“Not only (is it) the best comic strip, but the best satire that's come along in a long time.”
—ART BUCHWALD

In the wake of the hugely popular Doonesbury Chronicles and Doonesbury's Greatest Hits comes this new anthology of the only comic strip ever to win the Pulitzer Prize for Editorial Cartooning — a feast of political and social satire showing how we managed to survive the seventies as only Garry Trudeau could perceive that perilous experience. Over 500 daily strips, 80 Sunday feature pages in full color (none published before in any other Doonesbury collection), take us under the skin of the body politic — sometimes scandalously, often outrageously, always hilariously.

If you've just discovered Doonesbury, this is a perfect way to catch up. If there's a Doonesbury fan in your family or of your acquaintance, this is one of the greatest gifts you'll find.

Handbook touches off "Preppy" bonanza

(CPS)-- Lisa Birnbach's "little madras book," The Official Preppy Handbook, has touched off a major merchandising bonanza as well as a fad.

Now in its 22nd printing, the preppy handbook has thus far sold over a million paperback copies, at $4.95 each. A hardcover Christmas "collector's edition," priced at $9.95 each, is on its way.

The book forms just the wheels, though, of a commercial bandwagon upon which numerous exploiters have been quick to hop. Workman Press of New York, which publishes the book (and previously brought you the Kliban Cat) also produces an astounding array of related preppy products.

"The preppy book," understates Donna Gould, Workman's publicity director, "has parented preppy products." Indeed, Preppy tote bags and T-shirts abound, as do aprons ("Before truth," extolls one, "the right fork"), desk diaries, Christmas cards, stationary, book bags, note pads (messages from the desks of "Mummy," "Daddy," "Muffy," or "Skip") and pins ("C.B.C." - Couldn't Be Cuter - for one.)

Corky Tyler, national sales manager for Sigma Marketing Inc., a large distributor of preppy ceramic pieces and glassware, is less sanguine. Although enthusiastic about her company's preppy products, she says they have not done well outside of the Northeast, Southeast, or southern California.

"It hasn't caught on in places like Wyoming or the Dakotas, but this is not due to resistance to the product, but to a lack of interest," she says.

If those regions do not need preppy, it is clear that preppy does not need them either. One firm, the C.R. Gibson Co., has already sold "in excess of" $750,000 worth of preppy scrapbooks, photo albums, address books, bulletin boards, mini jigsaw puzzles, and other printed material just since May.

No dream goes unopposed, however, and opposition is exploitable, too. Bloomingdale's and Macey's in New York have both opened special preppy shops, which feature preppy- and anti-preppy material side-by-side. The I Hate Preppies Handbook, in particular, is reported by Macey's to be "doing very well."

The phenomenon has even proved itself to be exportable: Preppy products have been licensed in Japan this year.

Doonesbury from p. 12

One of the breakthroughs Mr. Trudeau achieved in "Doonesbury" was to have his quasifictional characters, such as Michael J. Doonesbury, Zonker Harris or Uncle Duke, brush up against public figures whose real names are used in the strip. When he did a strip about "The White Wash about "The White House Years," he identifies the author as Henry Kissinger but retitled the book "The White wash Years." And he had one of his characters, the intrepid TV correspondent Roland Hedley, do an interview with dialogue that went, "O.K., look, the guy's clearly a war criminal. Granted, Henry Kissinger had much to answer for, but need so many trees have died for the cause?" Lately, Gay Talese has turned up by name as a sexual adventurer," and David ("Tome") Halberstam has been described as the author of very fat books.

Mr. Trudeau's offhand philosophy about cartoons is that you have to care about your characters, because if you don't, the reader won't; that the aim to entertain must come before the desire to be a commentator. A cartoonist must keep all this in delicate balance, trying to find a happy combination in which the drawing is an instrument for conveying ideas. Otherwise, he believes, you cannot move people.

The late Jim Andrews of Universal Press Syndicate, who discovered Garry Trudeau's strip in the Yale Daily News and syndicated it, advised him to pace himself: If you do a strip about carpet bombing one week, do a strip about football the next week. That remains his approach. Despite his modest description of himself as simply a comic-strip artist, Mr. Trudeau aims for the jugular as often as he aims to please.

Another cup of tea, another fortune cookie. Garry Trudeau broke it open and grinned his crooked smile. This one read: "Every man is a volume if you know how to read him."

This Thanksgiving, we say thank You with big savings!

UGA fraternity president faces charges

Athens, GA (CPS)-- A student fraternity president at the University of Georgia faces trial on charges his house violated a 100-year-old criminal statute originally enacted to control houses of prostitution.

Lambda Chi Alpha president Clay Land was arrested Sept. 23 by plainclothes city police and charged with "keeping a disorderly house." The arrest was made following police observation of a female strip show held in the fraternity's basement in conjunction with Rush Week. Land was also charged with violating a city noise ordinance.

In a similar raid the same evening, campus police arrested Alpha Tau Omega president Alan Masarek and charged him with the same offenses. Charges against Masarek were subsequently dropped, as was the noise charge against Land. A local magistrate's court refused, however, to dismiss Land's disorderly house charge, and bound the defendant over to state court for a pre-trial hearing Nov. 4.

If convicted, Land faces up to a year in jail and a fine of up to $1000.

"Frat strip show have been going on for years," Land protests. "The university and townspeople seem to think things that used to be acceptable aren't acceptable anymore. The 'U' used to have a hands-off policy regarding frats, but now they're cracking down on things."

"This kid never even went down to watch the strip show," says Earnest De Pascale, an attorney representing Land. "He was sitting on the front porch when the police got there. They went right into the house, no warrants, no knocking, nothing."

"I was in my room at the time," Land slightly amends. "They took me down to headquarters, interrogated me, took mug shots and the whole bit. They treat you like a common criminal."

The century-old statute invoked against Land forbids the owner or manager of a dwelling from "maintaining a disorderly house to encourage gaming, drinking and other misbehavior," and was originally enacted as a means of controlling prostitution, according to Student Activities Director Phil Weast. Both fraternities, he adds, have been placed on social probation the remainder of the semester.

"(Strip shows) have been going on for ages here, whenever Rush takes place," asserts Eddie Ausband, university Inter-Fraternity Council president, and also a member of Lambda Chi Alpha. "I've heard the same stories from my parents. When you have parties every night for three weeks, people get tired of just sitting around drinking beer."

SKIP NOVEMBER 19th.

On November 19, we'd like you to stop smoking cigarettes for 24 hours. It's worth a try. Because if you can skip cigarettes for a day, you might discover you can skip 'em forever.

Male dominated industry offers info book to women

LOS ANGELES--The many opportunities open to women in the energy and earth resources field are highlighted in a new public service publication, WOMEN AT ARCO. The four-color, 36-page booklet, issued by Atlantic Richfield Company, illustrates how far female employees have come in what was once a male-dominated industry.

The brochure features 50 female employees who talk about their jobs and their changing role within the company. Profiles range from Lola Kohkonen, a repairman at Anaconda Copper Company's Carr Fork mine in Utah, to Camron Cooper, treasurer of Atlantic Richfield, whose staff of 125 helps make major investment decisions running into the millions.

Over 11 per cent of the company's professional and managerial positions are held by women, and they comprise over 13 per cent of its laborers. "We're pleased with our progress," Employee Relations Senior Vice President William Read comments, "but we're not satisfied. It's much easier to bring women and minorities into professional jobs than it is to promote them rapidly."

The brochure points out that in a technical business like energy, "...it has been especially difficult to hire and promote women with the required depth of industry expertise...only in the late 1970's have women begun to emerge from engineering and business schools in significant numbers."

WOMEN AT ARCO is available to students free of charge by writing to the Public Affairs Division, AP 1677, Atlantic Richfield Company, 515 S. Flower St., Los Angeles, Calif., 90071.

BSU plans to party down at Parkwood

Exciting upcoming events at VSC's Baptist Student Union this week include plans to visit Parkwood Development Center, Skateland, and a Basketball Tournament in Columbus.

On Nov. 10 at 2:30 pm there will be a birthday party for the residents of Parkwood sponsored by the BSU of Valdosta State. All interested persons should meet at the BSU house around 2:00 on Wed. Transportation will be provided. Parkwood is a developmental center for retarded children. On Nov. 12th VSC's BSU program will be held at Skateland at 8:00. The cost will be $1.50. This will be a time for enjoying Christian fellowship as well as some good exercise for the old legs. Come and skate with BSU for a really great time

Friday and Saturday Nov. 6 & 7, a basketball tournament will be held in Columbus. Everyone is invited to support our team.

Family Altar is held every Mon. and Thurs. night at 9:15. Come out and join the fun and fellowship with other Christians and with God. If you have never been to BSU come try it.

The VSC theatre department recently gave a spectacular performance of "Servant of Two Masters."

Valdosta artist revives weaving craft

By Leah Herrin

After the industrial revolution weaving died out as a family necessity and has since become a craft and an expressive art form. Carla Mitchell, who owns the Framing Shop here in has also done demonstrations for VSC art students on how to cut mattes. Mitchell does weaving in her spare time for personal satisfaction and for commission.

Mitchell has a major in art with an emphasis on crafts

Carla Mitchell learned weaving under various instructors who were Glen Kaufman, Ken Weaver, and John Riis. Glen Kaufman is a professor at the University of Georgia who teaches mostly the technical and historical aspects of

for the Colony Square Hotel in Atlanta. John Riis was a professor at Georgia State who now does commissions in conjunction with a jeweler.

Carla Mitchell's main interest in weaving is yardage which is fabric. Mitchell makes blankets and in the last year has been making rugs. The main fibers she uses are wool, cotton, silk and some rayon and linen. Mitchell uses a Cranbrook loom which is American made and recommends two other American looms, Lecleric and MacComber. Looms vary in sizes from twelve inch table models to thirteen foot models and wider.

Weaving as a craft is becoming more popular. People who like crafts may find weaving worth examining. Others who are interested in art will find weaving creative, limited only by the imagination.

Carla Mitchell demonstrates her craft.

Valdosta, is a weaver. Mitchell teaches classes in picture framing in conjunction with the VSC Public Services Office and from the University of Georgia. Twelve years ago while in pursuit of her degree, Mitchell was introduced to weaving.

weaving. Ken Weaver was a professor for the University of Georgia who now does only commissions one of which was
