Cleere promoted to Vice-Chancellor

by Leah Herrin

Dr. Ray Cleere, Vice President and Dean of Faculties here at Valdosta State College, has been named Vice-Chancellor for Academic Affairs for the University of Georgia system. Dr. Cleere's position will be effective February 1.

Dr. Cleere first came to VSC in 1970 as the first dean of the School of Education, and became Vice President and Dean of Faculties in 1971.

"I am to leave next week after having been at VSC for twelve years. This job is an outstanding opportunity, and I hope I can make the contributions expected of me," said Dr. Cleere, who will be carrying out the same academic responsibilities in Atlanta as he does here at VSC. The difference between the two jobs is his new position will be at the state level including 33 colleges and universities.

Dr. Ray Cleere

Dr. Cleere, who is formerly of Atlanta, has a B.S. from Appalachian State University, a M.Ed. from the University of Mississippi, and an Ed.D. from the University of Georgia.

He has authored numerous articles for educational journals and is a member of several professional organizations.

"Dr. Cleere has been an extremely successful academic leader whose initiative and creativity are responsible for much of the success this institution has attained," said Dr. Hugh Bailey, VSC president.

"We shall certainly miss his excellent leadership on our campus, but we are delighted that as Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs he will have the opportunity to serve the entire University System of Georgia."

Dr. Cleere is married to the former Mary Charles Allen who is a faculty member at VSC. He is the father of a daughter, Jennifer.

The Cleeres are members of Messiah Lutheran Church in Valdosta.

New system simplifying drop-add process

by James Hendricks

Winter quarter, 1982, marked the beginning of a new simplified drop/add and late registration system at Valdosta State College. Arthur L. Bostock, Jr., VSC registrar, noted that the system is still manual, and the only change "was to take it out of the different departments and bring it together at the Registrar's Office."

The new system requires only two steps. First the student must obtain a drop/add form and get his advisor's approval of the change. The student should then take the form to the Registrar's Office where the courses will be added and/or dropped.

"My main concern was that we might have 1,000 students lined-up out here," Bostock said. He added he was "pleasantly surprised there were no tremendously long lines." The traffic seemed to be steady all week with no more than 25 or 30 students in line at one time.

Bostock said the new system will probably be slower for those changing courses within a department, but it should speed things considerably for those drop-adding between departments. "You have to look at the overall benefit," he commented.

The different departments still set the limit on the number of seats allowed in a particular course. The Registrar's Office can not exceed these limits unless it has special approval of that school's Dean.

An inconvenience of the new system is the phasing out of priority lists. "If a student dropped out of a course, the seat was added to that course on a first come first served basis," Bostock explained. He added that the sheer numbers of drop/adds and the difficulty of reaching those on priority lists, made the continuation of it unfeasible.

"You have to give up a little flexibility and personal contact when you centralize some thing," he said. "It (the system) should be judged by the net improvement."

This changing of systems is one more step in the direction of a totally mechanized registration system. Mr. Bostock recalled that when he first came to VSC, seven years ago, the entire system was manual.

"One of the drawbacks now is having the resources to convert the material to a machine readable form," he said. Currently students match coded name cards with coded class cards which are fed into a computer.

The 700 late registrants this quarter (not including drop/adds) had to be key-stroked manually into the computers. "We're just now finishing," Bostock said.

A key-stroking system would cost VSC at least $100,000 the first year if it were to be effective.

The Registrar's Office is currently looking at an OPSCAN system, estimated at $50,000, without continual added personnel expenses. The system could also be used for other things such as grading tests.

"I'm sure in the next four or five years we'll have one (a mechanical registration system)," Bostock concluded.

The amazing Mr. Fingers entertained VSC students in Whitehead Auditorium last Thursday.

Student Affairs survey to assess student needs

by Regina Floyd

The Division of Student Affairs is making an effort to assess the needs of students at Valdosta State College.

This Assessment is being handled through the Division of Student Affairs and a number of different areas directly involving students. It will serve as a mainstream to find out specific needs and questions from students in a total of nine different areas. These nine areas include: 1. Career Planning and Placement; 2. Counseling Center; 3. Minority Affairs; 4. Student Government and Discipline; 5. Financial Aid; 6. Housing; 7. Infirmary; 8. Student Activities and Union; 9. Orientation.

The student needs assessment will be conducted by a random selection process. Students will receive a letter and a survey on a specific area in which he will be asked to complete and return in a postage free envelope. All students will be asked to complete one survey from only one of the nine areas. All responses will be confidential.

The Student Needs Assessment Survey is being conducted through the Division of Student Affairs to find out directly from VSC students what their needs are and what can be done to improve on specific areas of interest. The survey will go out within the next week or ten days and results will be compiled during Spring Quarter with some changes taking place in the Fall of 1982.

Your participation in this survey will be greatly appreciated and will be a big help.

The Division of Student Affairs offers you a chance for some input on your college campus. Make your voice heard.

Foreign language to give scholarships

VALDOSTA, Ga. — Five scholarships, each in the amount of $400, are to be given to Valdosta State College students of modern foreign languages at a meeting scheduled for Jan. 27 (Wednesday), according to Dr. Jose B. Fernandez. The meeting is to be held in Room 14, West Hall, at 8:30 p.m.

The scholarships are offered for a two-week study program to be held in Spain, July 10-24, the professor said.

"Cost of the program is $995," Dr. Fernandez said, "so a scholarship will cover almost half of the cost. Scholarships are to be given to large numbers of students who are present at the Jan. 27 meeting."

The meeting is to mark the inauguration of the VSC Foreign Study Programs planned for France and Spain, July 10-Aug. 7. For more information, contact Dr. Fernandez, 247-3269.

New program trains RA's

Valdosta State College began giving credit for Resident Assistant training this year. Leigh Ann St. Andrew, VSC's housing coordinator, is excited about the new program as it has been the trend in most other colleges.

The largest part of VSC's housing staff is the RA's. Their training now includes a credited psychology class, Psy. 487. The prerequisite for this course is Psych. 250. The RA's for next Fall will be chosen from the Psych. 487 classes that are being offered winter and spring quarters. Being in the class, however, does not guarantee a position on the staff. An extensive program of screening and interviews is required of all applicants. Interviews will be held Spring quarter with applicants chosen from the Psych. 487 classes. Those interested must take the class no later than Spring quarter.

The class has a philosophical basis and concentrates on practical experiences in residence hall living. It would be helpful to any student, whether or not he is chosen, and he will receive three hours of credit. Emphasis is placed on developmental issues in residence hall living and some areas covered are student development, developmental tasks of college students, the meaning and importance of the staff, issues and trends in residence halls, the future of college residence halls, and other special topics. Among the special topics covered are communication skills, values clarification, crisis intervention, programming in residence halls, and time management.

After the RA's are chosen, they go through more extensive training. They return three days before residence halls open in the Fall to review fire procedures and practice role playing and counseling. Too, the RA's get to know their co-workers and develop a sense of unity as a staff.

Ms. St. Andrew points out that the extensive RA training is an excellent way to 'make the person a resident assistant, not a policeman.'

Spectrum '82 progressing

Spectrum '82, a 30 hour television marathon celebrating the grand opening of the new color television complex at VSC's Telecommunications area, is well on its way.

There has been a tremendous enthusiasm from students and faculty and much needed support has come from the community and the administration at VSC.

The wheels of the Programming, Public Relations and Promotions crews are turning at full blasts to turn Spectrum '82 into a reality.

The marathon begins at 6pm on March 5 and will be seen on Clearview Cable Channel 12 with a Simulcast on Channel 44 (Channel 7 on cable). It will conclude on Sat. March 6 at midnight.

The tentative schedule of events is set to begin March 5 with an open house for VSC faculty, students, administration, studio tours, and demonstrations. Open House will begin at 9:00 am until 5:00 pm. Everyone is urged to attend and get a closer look at the new complex.

Sign-on is set for 6:01 pm and at 6:06 Spectrum '82 will begin with 30 terrific hours of entertainment, educational and campus programming plus fund raising for the VSC foundation/Telecommunications Area.

The whole purpose of Spectrum '82 is to introduce the new color television complex at VSC and to raise $25,000 for scholarships and additional equipment. These funds will enable the telecommunications area to offer VSC students exceptional opportunities in this field.

Only five weeks remain. Have you gotten involved yet? Contact Dr. Bob Jones in the Speech and Drama Department.

Kristl Evans, "Miss Georgia" for 1981, will be at VSC for the annual Miss VSC pageant.

Miss Georgia to visit VSC

VALDOSTA, Ga. -- Kristl Evans, who won the applause of the judges and the title "Miss Georgia" last June, is to be on the Valdosta State College campus for two days when she comes to help members of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity with the Miss VSC Pageant Wednesday (Jan. 27).

The girl who went on to be second runner-up in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City last September is to be the guest of VSC President and Mrs. Hugh Bailey. She will have lunch with the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity in the dining hall at VSC on Pageant day and help them promote the 30th annual pageant.

Coeds in the competition will also get assistance from the current Miss Georgia because she will be with them at rehearsals to offer last minute advice, according to a spokesman for the pageant.

Franchised for the last 13 years, the Miss VSC Pageant has produced a finalist in each Miss Georgia contest for the last six years.

"Some day, maybe this year, we're going to have a Miss Georgia from our VSC campus," said Fluker Stewart, producer of this year's pageant and Director of College Relations.

"This is part of the Miss America preliminary pageant and more than 72,000 girls will be participating in pageants of this type this year. They will be awarded more than $2 million in scholarships," he said.

Regents Exam Prep Sessions

During Winter quarter 1982, the Regents exam will be given on February 8th and 9th. Prior to the exams, two prep sessions will be offered to all interested students. These sessions are designed to give students information about the Regents exam with emphasis on essay writing techniques and reading comprehension. Both sessions will be Wednesday, February 3rd in the Powell Hall auditorium. Sessions will be at 2:00 p.m. [Dr. Valencia] and at 6:00 p.m. [Dr. George Brannan]. For more information, call Dr. Victor Morgan at the Counseling Center, 247-3303.

ROTC enrollment increases at VSC

VALDOSTA, GA--The Air Force ROTC enrollment at Valdosta State College is 63 percent higher than all other institutions throughout the nation, according to Capt. John W. Moss, Commandant of Cadets at VSC.

"This is a significant achievement," said Moss, "considering the student populations of competing colleges and universities. Many of these schools average up to 18-20,000 students compared to about 5,000 students at VSC. We are ahead of many well known schools such as the University of California, Michigan State University, University of Nebraska and University of Arkansas.

"We have the same number of cadets, 167, as Florida State University, a much larger school," he said.

The credit for the success of VSC's Detachment 172 belongs primarily to the cadets in the program, Moss said.

"They are an exceptional group of young men and women, dedicated to improving their own organization. They devise and implement their own formal recruiting programs which have been very successful. But the most effective way has been the one on the contact between the cadets and other students," he said.

Lt. Col. Mary Abbott, Commander of Detachment 172, agrees.

"Our cadets believe in the program and what it can offer," she said. "It is easy to sell what you believe in. I would stack our cadets against any in the nation when it comes to dedication, hard work and motivation. They are a quality group.

"Last quarter 64 percent of the contract cadets had a 3.0 or better grade point average. They are a proud group and will make excellent Air Force officers," said Col. Abbott.

Miss VSC to be crowned tonight

VALDOSTA, Ga. -- Fifteen coeds at Valdosta State College are to compete in the 30th annual Miss VSC Pageant to be held Jan. 27 (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. in Whitehead Auditorium. The Pageant is sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi fraternity with Doug Whitacre, Atlanta, director and program chairman.

Fluker Stewart, Director of College Relations and Pi Kappa Phi alum, is pageant producer.

The new Miss VSC is to receive the Mamie Ashley tuition scholarship, said Stewart.

Kristi Evans, Miss Georgia, is to be mistress of ceremonies and is to sing "Ring Them Bells," which she sang in the Miss America Pageant, as well as a medley of Broadway tunes.

Tickets are $2 in advance or $2.50 at the door and there are no reserved seats. Programs, in a Miss America type booklet, are $2.

Laura George, Miss VSC 1981 and Miss Calendar Girl 1982, is to assist Dr. Hugh Bailey, VSC president, in crowning the new queen. She is also to dance.

Entertainment during the pageant is to be a ballet dance by Miss George, a medley of love songs by Marlesa Ball, and music by a seven-piece combo directed by Wayne Helmley.

Contestants are to be judged on talent, by interviews and in evening gowns and swim suits.

The five judges are all certified Miss Georgia judges. Each contestant is to present a three-minute talent act.

Fraternity members responsible for the pageant, in addition to Whitacre, are: Rick Pheil, staging; Dean Boruff, judges; Frank Rossi, ticket sales; and Ben Walker, finances. Jeff Sexton is archon.

Jud Rackley, CPA, of Valdosta is tabulator for the judges.

Contestants are: Jill Marie Blackburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Veran O. Blackburn, Valdosta, sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon; Jonna Carole Bledsoe, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John L. Bledsoe, Toccoa, sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi; Connie Lannetta Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Collins, Damascus, sponsored by Baptist Student Union; Jennifer Frances Futch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Futch Jr., Albany, sponsored by Kappa Delta; Joy Lynn Hathaway, daughter of Mr.

A letter to the editor from the editor

One of the first things I learned in my Editorial Writing class was never to write in first person. With that in mind, I decided to write a letter to the editor instead. I consider myself a true blue Georgian. I was I consider myself to be a true blue Georgian. I was born in Georgia, have lived most of my life in Georgia, pay taxes, go to school, and make the majority of my purchases in Georgia. Up until the other day, I have had no complaints about my home state. I must admit, however, that I am a bit disappointed in my state legislators. They recently put down a bill that would have assured me of my equal rights as a working human being. A lot of people were hoping that Georgia would take an intelligent step forward and perhaps set an example for other uncommitted states. Unfortunately, my state legislators decided that we needed to spend a few more years in the stone age.

As if killing ERA wasn't enough, my state representatives decided to pass a bill which would allow trees on highways to be cut down so that billboards could be more clearly visible. In other words, it's O.K. to cut off my oxygen supply as long as I know exactly which exit to take in order to cure my Big Mac attack.

I just wanted to express my severe disappointment in the legislators of my state and ask that the next time they feel an urge to legislate in my best interest, to consider going fishing instead.

The thirteenth month

I'm writing this about a lull in time that we all experienced recently. There are no written instructions on how to deal with it. Some refer to it as limbo. Others label it "The Thirteenth Month." Normal people call it the week between Christmas and New Years Day.

There are only two people that I know of who can handle this time of year with any degree of success. The first is Roy P. Hartsfield, a direct descendant of General Robert E. Lee. The second is Duke Petty, leader of the infamous Uncle Larry's Commando Squad and the greatest patriot since John Wayne was translated into Heaven.

No one will ever convince Duke that John Wayne "only" died.

Personally, I'm happy enough just to have survived Christmas with a minimum of visible scars. Two of my shortcomings are lack of stamina and endurance. I don't have the stamina and my checking account doesn't have the endurance.

Duke Petty took advantage of the time by meeting with his squadron to brief them on updates in strategy for the defense of Lowndes County in the event of a surprise communist attack.

Roy P. used the opportunity to have warm-up parties for his annual series of New Year Eve bashes. Most of these parties should be ending up in a couple of weeks.

I didn't have the ambition to do either. I just sat around thinking. Contrary to popular belief, thinking is not really dangerous if regulated to special occasions such as this.

My initial ponderings consisted of considering alternate dates for New Years Day. The best choices seemed to be toward the middle or end of March. Even Roy P. Hartsfield has a difficult time finding an occasion on which to party in March. New Years would probably be a welcome addition and it would certainly liven things up a bit.

But then I figured that March would follow the path of steam locomotives, white wooden rockers, live Christmas trees, and big wall calendars with hunting scenes. It would give way to progress by helping to ration out the holidays. Gone forever the laid back days of picnics and kite flying.

Perish the thought! I realize full well that what I'm about to say may have the greater part of serious VSC party goers demanding my immediate institutionalization, but maybe what we need are fewer New Years Days and more Marches.

Maybe we need to be like an old lady I saw a few months ago in Moultrie as I was passing through.

She obviously wasn't all that well off financially. In her hand was the unmistakable shape of a six-and-a-half ounce coca-cola wrapped in a kleenex tissue. She was rocking in one of those big white porch rockers that you never see in the high-rent districts.

Still, she seemed to be happy and content. She wasn't rich and she wasn't chasing the Great American Dream. I doubt she ever contemplated great truths or which political system was most fair.

She just smiled and rocked back and forth. Well, maybe she wondered. Maybe she wondered how God made the sky such a clear blue, the trees so tall, the sun so warm...

And maybe she wondered why we all rush through it without taking the time to notice.

Sincerely,

Beauregarde Livingston Reade

Letters to the Editor

Little Brother also uncovered at VSC

Dear Editor,

This letter is written in response to the letter by a Mr. Bill Ashley. I feel that "Little Brother" is also finally on the VSC campus. "Little" is in reference to his mental capacity, and also his usefulness to society. This guy has been watching too many "James Bond" movies! The day when the library can convert a simple copy machine to a doomsday device capable of keeping track of tens of thousands of copies and their owners is the day the same machine will beam Captain Kirk up to the enterprise.

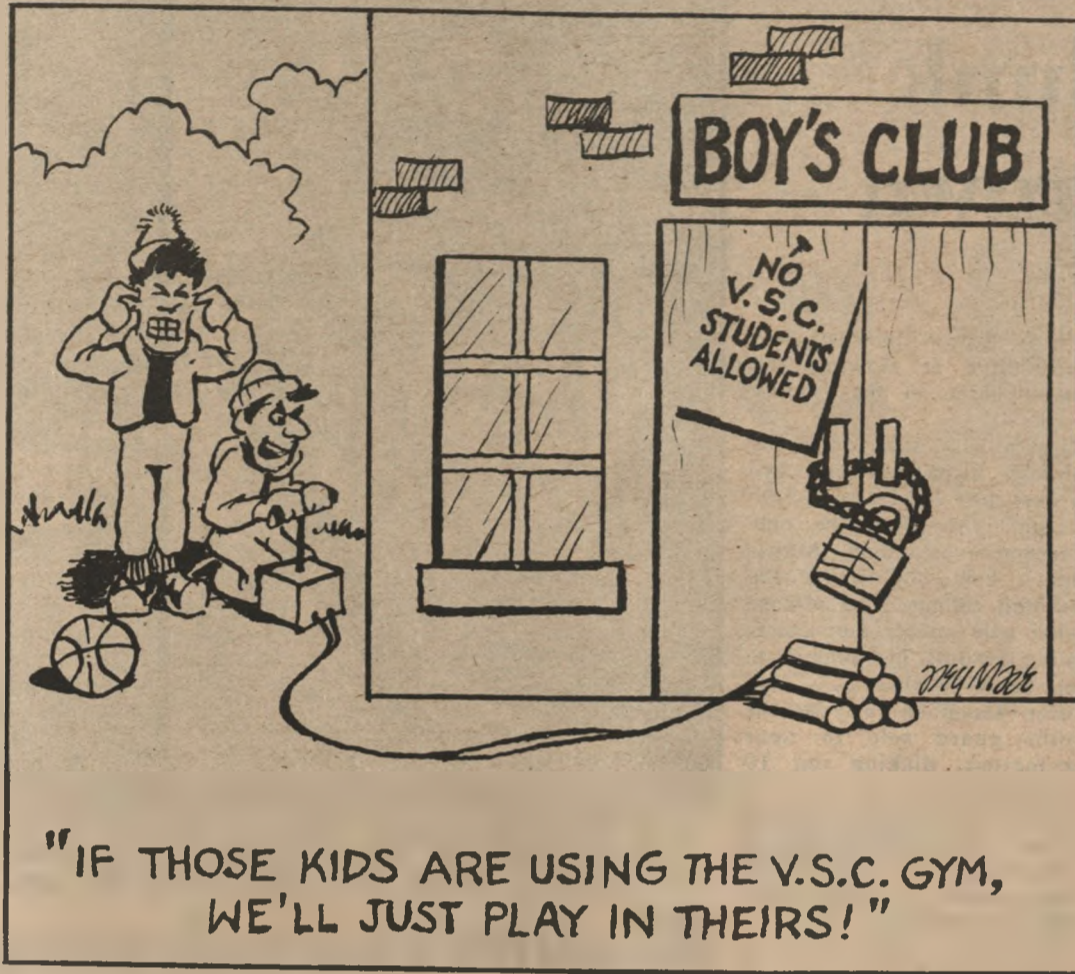

Oh, simple one. Did you ever read that the cards were transferrable from one student to another without the notice of the library? Or is it that you haven't reached the red level of your S.R.A. reading kit yet?

Let me explain.

- 1) if you sell your card to someone else, and don't tell the library, they don't know who has it. That way, they can't call in the libyan hit squad or the C.I.A. to carry you away.
- 2) Are you at all familiar with a computer system? Obviously not, because if you were, you would realize that it would not be very feasible to store so many complete copies along with the number of the card. Where would they be stored? Who would pay the costs? (Only Rockefeller would be able to afford it) Who would waste the time piddling through all that information to find any infringements? Who would uphold such a blatant violation of personal privacy?
- 3) About faking your name--smart move, oh brilliant one. You know, not a bad idea. Only problem is, you have a student ID. (You must have found it). Don't you think if the library has all this money to spend on espionage and if the F.B.I. was really on your tail that the logical thing to do would be to require you to show your ID????
- 4) Get the picture?

By the way, don't let computers "Corner" you, Mr. Bond.

"IF THOSE KIDS ARE USING THE V.S.C. GYM, WE'LL JUST PLAY IN THEIRS!"

VSC student demands equal play

Dear Editor,

On Friday, Jan. 8, a friend and I reserved the VSC Gym on behalf of our teams for Sunday, Jan. 10. The result was a bit confusing.

We arrived at the appointed time and found that there were three teams present! How three teams can be expected to practice on two goals is beyond me.

The lady at the athletic office informed me that no one could reserve the gym after Wed., Jan. 13. On Friday the 15th the Boys Club was using it.

I have nothing against the Boys Club, but they do use our gym quite frequently. It would seem that similar considerations could be expected from them.

This is not so. One Sunday some friends and I tried to play ball at the Boys Club. No one else was using it, but they still kicked us out.

I guess their logic was we do not pay membership dues and are too old. How many Boys Club members attend VSC and pay activity fees?

Something needs to be done so that the average VSC student can get a fair shake.

Thank you,
 The Big Galoot

Copicard system explained

Dear Editor:

I feel that a response to Mr. Bill Ashley's letter in last week's Spectator is necessary as it contains some misinformation.

First, the Copicard System is capable of reading only two pieces of information from the card: (1) whether or not the card is valid for use in the System and (2) how many copies remain on the card. The System does not have the ability to read the page being copied. There is no connection between the imaging drum of the copier and the Copicard System. The System only tells the copier that a valid card has been used and that the card has copy credits remaining on it.

Second, the hand-printed number on the card is not, in any way, represented electronically on the card. This number is used by the library staff to safeguard a student's investment. If a card is lost or stolen, the student can report this fact to the Library. If another person attempts to sell the remaining copies back to the Library at the end of the Quarter, we have a means of detecting this fact.

A final word about copyright. The Fair Use Clause of the Copyright Law allows for an individual to copy materials that are protected under the Copyright Law as long as they are being made for that person's own use and not for resale. This Library, like all others, has a vested interest in individual rights and does not condone any form of censorship or infringement of those rights by others.

Sincerely,

David L. Ince

Chip on Coke

Dear Editor,

Contrary to Mr. Coke Stuart's review of local nightclubs, Ted Nugent never performed on stage at the Long Branch Saloon or Floyd's. Whoever gave him such information is full of baloney.

Furthermore, Mr. Stuart might take into consideration that Elvin Bishop, a personal friend of mine, never performed on stage at the Long Branch either. He merely stopped in at the club to see Mick Thomas and the Jets Band one night in 1973. Elvin did "pass through the door," but he didn't perform on stage at the Branch.

As for "the excellent variety of imported and domestic beers" served at Hoagie's, there are about two or three selections of American beer

Blazers dunk Morris Brown

By Ralph Moore

Coach James Dominey's charges used a consistent attack to outlast streak-shooting Morris Brown last Wednesday night 97-87. Each starter made a significant contribution, but it was the play of Sophomore Lee Green, who came on in reserve, that shined the brightest.

The contest featured numerous first half ties, but each team was able to pull away by a comfortable but brief lead. Mike Jones gave the Blazer's their largest first half lead, 17-10, at the 14:00 minute mark. Coleman knotted the score for Morris Brown at 19 with a slam dunk and a charity toss. Mackey and Jones evened the tallies at 26 and 30, respectively, but Morris Brown rallied to a 43-37 advantage. A 25 footer by Lee Green at the buzzer cut the Wolverine lead to 47-43 at the half.

Morris Brown extended its lead to 59-51 with a basket with 15:13 remaining. The Blazer defense flexed its muscle at this point and Lee Green hit a jumper that dead-locked the count at 59-59.

"Poison" Ivey Hubbard got into the act with a 3-point play to put the Blazers ahead to stay. The Morris Brown time out that resulted immediately was to no avail as the Blazers surged ahead during the next five minutes and lead 79-66 with 8:05 showing. Another Morris Brown time out was ineffective in slowing the Blazer chase at the century mark.

Back-to-back slam dunks by Richard Richardson and Lee Green left VSC an 89-80 margin. Thereafter, the only question was could Morris Brown hold VSC under the hundred column. The offense could only muster four points in the last 2:01, but hung on to seal the 97-87 win.

Bret Campbell played the point guard role to near perfection, dishing out 10 assists, leading the team in steals with 4, and adding 9 points. Mike Jones played superbly as he notched 10 points, dealt 5 assists, and claimed 4 rebounds.

Besides his 27 points, Lee Green led the team in boards with 11. Mackey and Hubbard turned in solid performances as they combined for 41 points and 13 rebounds. Ivey was 7 of 10 from the floor and Ben nailed 10 of 17. The team field goal accuracy was a blistering 57 percent, including Green's 11 of 18 effort, and 5 for 7 shooting by Jones.

Morris Brown kept the pace during the first half, but dropped from 59 to 35 percent after intermission. The Wolverines settled for a 44 percent grade for the game.

The Blazers improved to 9-8 with the win. Morris Brown fell to 2-10.

Blazers extend string to six

BY Ralph Moore

The VSC Blazers got off to a good start and held the upper hand throughout their 67-63 win over arch-rival West Georgia College Saturday night in the Blazer fieldhouse. The win was the sixth straight for the young squad, leaving them undefeated in the South Atlantic Conference, and atoned for a bitter loss at the hands of the Braves in last year's SAC tournament.

The crowd of 850 saw VSC outshoot the visitors badly in the opening half. The Blazers used their 62 percent accuracy

(as compared to 38 percent for WGC) to build a 36-27 halftime lead.

The Braves cut the lead to a point early in the second half, but seemed to accept the fact that they would come no closer.

Both Lee Green and Richard Richardson were on the bench with five fouls at the 5:27 mark: Under these conditions West Georgia was able to reduce the lead to within striking distance, only to fold and accept their ninth loss against as many wins.

VSC boasted four players in double figures: Ben Mackey led in output with 19, Ivey Hubbard chipped in 15 to go along with 10 rebounds, Lee Green contributed 11, and Bret Campbell added 10.

The Blazers now stand at 10-8. The schedule calls for a visit to Troy, Alabama, this Wednesday. The Blazers were two-point victors over Troy in their first encounter, and another close battle is expected.

Tennis squads getting ready

Lady Blazers take two wins

by Bart Miller

VSC's Lady Blazers continued to strive for a Division 2 playoff berth last week, winning 2 out of 3 games. Sherri France led the Ladies to a 108-85 home court victory over Morris Brown. France scored 34 points and pulled down 17 rebounds to record the finest individual performance so far this season.

The Lady Blazers then traveled to Auburn to compete in the Auburn Dial Classic. Despite a 27 point performance by Missie Milton, the Ladies dropped an 80-77 decision to Western Kentucky. The Lady Blazers had a 10 point lead early in the second half, but WKU came back to take the win.

The loss sent the Ladies into the consolation game against the Lady Owls of Temple. Once again Sherri France and Missie Milton led the way, scoring 32 and 22 points respectively, as VSC came away with a 96-87 overtime victory. Sherri France was named to the all-tournament team as she averaged 25 points for the two games. Missie Milton also had an outstanding tourney, averaging 24.5 points. The Lady Blazers next game is Wednesday night at Troy State.

Baseball approaching

by Mark Powell

"Play ball!" Pretty soon that cry will echo across the green grass of Blazer Field.

With the upcoming season approaching, the Blazers face the toughest schedule in their history. The VSC team will host Division I powerhouses such as Clemson, Florida, Florida State, Georgia Southern and Georgia. Also on their schedule, they will face three Division II teams which consistently go to the College World Series. These are Florida-Southern, Florida International and Troy State.

Coach Tommy Thomas, as always, is looking forward to the new season with high and realistic hopes. Thomas believes the overall record may not be a true indication of how good his team really is.

Returning infielders for the Blazers include Jeff Soss, who came on very strong toward the ending of the season; Mark Powell, who tied for the club lead in both batting average and homeruns; Greg Waits, who will be the starter at shortstop, and Wayne Fuggett, who will double as a first baseman and a pitcher. Rounding out the infield is returnee Pat Estep, and newcomers Mark Murad and Jimmy McWhorter.

The outfield returns all three starters from the '81 squad. John Keigher, who tied for top honors in batting average, will hold down left field. Outfielder Richie Johnson will anchor the centerfield position. Another outfielder, Bobby Roche, who tied with Powell for homeruns, returns to play rightfield. Finishing the outfield positions are returnees Bud Drew, Rob Busch and Mike Jones.

The pitching staff is returning six members of the '81 staff. Pitcher Andy Keating, Jim Rodi, "Snake" Dixon, Dennis Rich, Wayne Fuggett and Mark Schanback. The newcomers to the Blazer staff are Rick DiNappoli, Bobby Hurtt, Jeff Aggater and Mike Montgomery.

Blazers make about face

The slump couldn't have ended at a better time.

Valdosta State's Blazers, obviously struggling at the Christmas break with a 4-7 record, snapped out of the losing streak just in time for South Atlantic Conference play and have assumed the early lead in the league race.

Coach James Dominey's Blazers saw the record tumble to 4-8 before starting a six game winning streak bringing the overall worksheet to 10-8. The last three road victories have come against SAC foes Augusta, Columbus and Armstrong State, and VSC is alone at the top of the conference standings.

Many factors have been responsible for the about face but none any more noticeable than the play of freshman guard Mike Jones. The Live Oak, Fla., product missed the first 11 games as he recovered from a broken foot suffered in preseason.

Jones has helped in scoring but his biggest contribution has been his ball handling and quickness on defense. He has taken some of the pressure off point guard Bret Campbell, giving the Blazers another ball handling guard.

Leading scorer and rebounder Ivey Hubbard continues to have a great year, having led VSC in scoring in 13 of the 16 games. Guard Ben Mackey has come on strong during the streak, averaging 18 points a game since the holiday break.

Richard Richardson has shaken some early season problems to become a threat in scoring and rebounding, and sophomore Lee Green has come off the bench in recent games to turn in the type play he showed as a freshman.

All four of the wins in the recent streak have been hard earned. An overtime decision over Buffalo State (N.Y.) here started the string, and the three conference wins have been by a total of nine points.

BLAZER BITS-- Freshman Mike Nance, plagued by injury and illness since preseason practice started, has decided to sit out the year in order not to lose a year of eligibility...Ivey Hubbard became the ninth member of the elite 1000 Point Club when he went over the barrier in the Buffalo State game. The 6-5 junior forward now has 1076 points in his outstanding career...The 74-68 win at Augusta was the first in the Jaguars' den in four years. ..Work continues on the physical education complex and the possibility remains that a couple of games may be played there this season.

"Chapter Two" to be presented

Neil Simon with a difference is the fare that the Alpha-Omega Players, Repertory Theater of America will be offering with its forthcoming presentations on February 1 of "Chapter Two." This comedy, the sixteenth Broadway hit to emerge from the prolific playwright's pen, introduces a rueful note into the usual sunny, laugh-filled Simon horizon.

"Chapter Two" is an admittedly autobiographical work drawing on a very trying period in the life of the author. The comedy hit is about a recently widowed writer who falls in love and marries another woman only months after the loss of his beloved first wife.

Randall Meade from Virginia will be seen as the guilt-burdened writer, George Schneider. Sandie Massie, also from Virginia, will portray Jennie Malone, the woman who reawakens his romantic feelings.

Valarie Tullous from New York will be seen as Faye, the frenetic friend seeking love from a stranger. Willing to oblige is Kerry Phillips from Texas, who plays the role of Leo, the brother.

This national tour of "Chapter Two" will be presented at the College Cafeteria in the side wing at 8pm. Refreshments will be served and the presentation is free to VSC students.

Danny Joe Brown prepares to rock Valdosta

by Brett Gaines

Danny Joe Brown, former lead singer for Molly Hatchet, will be appearing Thursday, February 4, 8:00 pm at Valdosta city Auditorium. Brown has recently joined the Albany-based group Messenger. Messenger consists of John Buchan, drums, Brad Sayre and Jesse Glover, lead guitars, and Allen Poole, bass. Brown and Messenger have just teamed up, and expect to record an album soon.

Brown was a member of the successful southern rock band,

Molly Hatchet, for two years. He sang all lead vocals on the group's first two albums, "Molly Hatchet," and "Flirtin' with disaster."

Brown's strong voice was a key to the successful formula that enabled the band to be steady live performers.

Also appearing with the group is the Finney Brothers Band. Jai Johnny Johanson will be featured with the lead-off group. Johanson is the former drummer of the Allman Brothers Band and is nationally known for his percussion skills.

Tickets are $6.50 advance and $7.50 at the door. Tickets

#212-255 will not be honored at the door because they were stolen from the World of Wines. Caution should be heeded when buying tickets from individuals.

Danny Joe Brown has a lot to offer, and it promises to be an enjoyable evening of heavy-duty southern rock and roll.

Second floor wipes up first

Editors Note: Since the "Toilet Bowl" is considered the cultural event of the quarter, this article has been chosen to appear in the Entertainment Section.

by Beau Reade

Wilson Memorial Field, disguised as front lawn West Hall and lined with toilet paper, was the sight of Toilet Bowl 1 on Saturday, Jan. 23. Coach Dense Dooley directed his Second Floor Strumpets to a 14-7 victory over the First Floor Stormtroopers before a near capacity crowd of six people, including Rob Combs' children, Robbie and Mandy.

The Stormtroopers drew first blood when they busted Strumpet cent Duke "Snoopy" Petty's nose and Larry "Red Baron" Lee intercepted a Shotgun Joe Guzay wobble pass that he ran back for a touchdown.

An dramatic offensive battle ensued as both teams marched forward then backwards for the rest of the half. Then, on the last play of the first half, the Second Floor struck paydirt.

Shotgun Guzay, in suicidal fashion, sent all his blockers and next of kin out to flood the passing lanes. He loaded a desperation "hail Mary" pass to tightend Elly Hendricks in the left side of the endzone. Hendricks leaped inches over the two short cornerbacks covering him and accidentally tipped the ball to pompous Millerhead thereby completing the little heralded "Inarticulate reception" for a tie score.

Boiling mad, the Stormtroopers came out in the second half with Rob "Joe Montana" Combs throwing bombs and other passes that violate Georgia firecracker laws to Larry Lee and Jeff "Mystery Man" Sexton. With their backs to the goal line, the Strumpets showed rare character by stopping the drives.

Red Baron Lee said, "Except for not scoring, we followed by game plan completely." Finally, sometime in the second half, Guzay connected with Victor "Madman" Jackson for the winning touchdown.

After the game, Lee presented the infamous "Pink Toilet Seat of Victory" to Dense Dooley at a much unpublicized press conference. Dooley shocked the few observers with outrageous contract demands.

"First," he screamed, "I demand an annual salary of not less than three dollars per year. I want a bicycle for my own personal use and Evil Bateman for my own personal full-time bodyguard."

The winningest coach in Reade Hall history noted that if his demands were not met he would indeed "walk." This would leave the most sought after coaching seat in college football open. Also, he said that if his demands were not met he would definitely "forward them to Santa."

Dooley also announced the names of an unprecedented six co-MVP's to the bored silly crowd. They were: Elly Hendricks, Madman Jackson, and Shotgun Guzay for the Second Floor and Red Baron Lee, Mystery Man Sexton, and Ohmijewls Combs of the First Floor.

With Red Baron Lee's impending retirement, Nolan "Swamp Possum" Vickers (Dooley's defensive co-ordinator) would seem the next in line for the Second Floor job. Swamp Possum said, "Gee, I'd kinda hate to see ol' Dense go, but my defense hasn't allowed a score in two games and you have to admit I would be a great head coach."

Lee refused to comment on the matter, but did restate his intentions of retiring after "we join forces with Dooley's squad to take on Brown Hall."

Newsletter features poetry

by James Hendricks

Valdosta State College's only literary newsletter, THE KERNAL OF THE NUT, will mark its first anniversary this quarter. The newsletter is published quarterly.

THE KERNAL OF THE NUT is published by the VSC reproduction center. It usually runs from six to eight pages and consists of poetry and some prose contributed by students.

Current contributors are Deadre Binns, Ramona Butler, John Robbins, Debra Smith, Charlene Woodward, and several anonymous authors.

Miss Butler, who along with Donna Hanks helped found the newsletter, also werved as editor. Kevin Mclyre is the art editor.

THE KERNAL OF THE NUT, which began as a needed outlet in which students could publish wouks, is still in need of an advisor. An advisor is necessary if it is to become listed as a campus organization eligible for funds. Currently, the cost of publication is borne by those directly involved.

Another major problem facing the newsletter, according to Miss Butler, is the fact that

"not too many people know about it." This lack of student awareness has greatly retarded the number of potential contributors.

Anyone wishing to contribute or receive THE KERNAL OF THE NUT should write to: Ramona Butler
 1700 N. Williams St.
 Apt. 44
 Valdosta, Ga. 31601
 Miss Butler added that all attempts will be made to keep the level of quality in the newsletter "as high as possible."

Choral group tunes up for concert

by Malinda Simpson

Very few people are aware of the exceptional choral department at VSC which displays a great deal of musical knowledge and talent. The College Choir, which presented a fall concert with the Symphonic Band, presently consists of forty-five members. Each quarter, new members are invited and encouraged to join with no audition required.

The College Choir is planning and working on a new project for Winter Quarter. It is a conjunction with the Valdosta Choral Society under the direction of Ruth Sisson, Assistant Professor of Music at VSC, and the South Georgia Community Chorus from Douglas, under the direction of Lee Barrow, Director of Music at South Georgia College. The three combined choirs will have approximately 115 voices. The Valdosta Choral Society will be performing Gloria by Antonio Vivaldi. The soloists will be Electa Rickett and Beth Hood, sopranos, Hope Ince and Anita Glass, contraltos. The second Gloria by Francis Poulenc will be performed by the three combined choirs. The accompanists will be Emily Wall, piano, and Leah Joan Harrell, organ. Francis Brown and Myrtis Howell will provide the soprano solos.

The first performance will take place on Sunday, January 31 at 7:00 P.M. at the First Baptist Church of Douglas. This concert will be under the direction of Lee Barrow. The second performance will take place at Whitehead Auditorium on Tuesday, February 2nd at 8:15 P.M. Ruth Sisson will direct this concert

The Chamber Singers, VSC's select group of voices, perform classical music, madrigals, and folk hymns. Another small choral group, the Spotlighters, present pop music with the Jaz Ensemble. Auditions are necessary to obtain membership in these two groups.

The college choir usually presents two to three concerts during the year. This usually consists of one major work and a variety of other music. With such a wide selection of choral literature, it is easy to find something appealing about each of VSC's choral groups.

Dr. Schmier discusses recent trip to Israel

Dr. Louis Schmier, Valdosta State College Professor of History calls his recent trip to Israel "mind boggling, frustrating, informative, appetizing, an experience, and a mixture of fantasy and reality." He was one of 25 academicians who traveled to Israel for a two-week plus stay in late December and early January on a grant from the American Jewish Committee.

"We had an opportunity to see life at all levels except in the tourists spots," said Schmier, who was the only one from the South making the trip. "We had briefings on foreign policies, economic briefings and were shown the social, military and economic problems of the country. The more we heard the more questions we asked. "The purpose of the trip was not to provide answers but to make us aware of the complexities and the perplexities of Israel and the Middle East.

"We talked with the highest ranking people in the country and we talked with the man in the street. We often introduced ourselves to people in cafes, in shops, etc. We talked with Palestinian Arabs, Israeli Arabs, secular Jews, religious Jews, with cab drivers, professors--everybody. Most of the people we talked with were candid and I was perceptive enough to hear what they were saying.

"There are three major party groups there, the Labor party, the Likkud party and the religious party.

"We talked between briefings, while we were shopping or whenever we had an opportunity."

The briefings, he said, were sometimes long. He recalls five-hour seminars and a nine-hour briefing with only a lunch break in the day.

There is a tremendous identity problem, he said, with religious, economic, social and political issues. An he found there were a few surprises.

"The Israeli society is more Middle-Eastern than Western in character. "And," he said with a smile, "you can't find a bagel in Israel, although we went to a Bodouin restaurant where camel is the main dish and we ate the spinal cord, eyes and brains of lamb at another restaurant. The waiter kept saying, as he saw the questioning look on our faces, 'Good Jewish food.' So we ate it. After all, we were there to sample the life in Israel, not to look for American Hotdogs."

Although he was in Jerusalem a week, Schmier's wife, Susie, was amazed at the things he did not see which she saw several years ago. That was because he was not there as a tourist.

"I liked going into the old city. It was another world, like something out of the Arabian Knights. It's a land where you don't know where to draw the line between myth and reality.

"There was an archaeologist in our group and as we walked along, he showed us various pieces of pottery in the ground, anywhere between 2,000-6,000 years old. It's awesome to pick up something that Romans or Hebrews had utilized thousands of years ago."

The Americans were in other parts of Israel the remainder of their stay and they were housed sometimes in private homes, sometimes in a sort of coop, a Moshav, and once they went into a Druze village in the mountains.

Dr. Schmier found Israel to be more of a poor, developing nation than a major industrial power, an image projected by the international scene, he said. Although the country rates high in technology, he found bank ledgers still being done by hand.

The role of women, he said, is quite different from the role of women in America but is in line with the Middle East concept.

"There is a confluence of cultures there, as in any young, developing nation, and there are many problems we don't hear about. But I predict in 10 years Israel will be exporting energy," he said.

Schmier said he made a personal commitment to share the benefits of his trip with others through talks whenever asked.

"The best way to describe the trip," he said, "both emotional and intellectual, is to say it was 'an experience.'"

Wedding bells break contract

KNOXVILLE, TN (CPS)--Jim Grubbs thought he'd heard about every excuse imaginable for students to break their university housing contracts.

As director of the residence halls at the University of Tennessee-Knoxville, Grubbs' duties include seeing that students fulfill their one-year housing contracts, unless they can present a valid reason for moving.

Two dormitory residents recently presented him with probably the most dramatic excuse he'll come up against: a marriage contract.

Gina Boardwine, a junior nursing major, and Kirby Henry, a junior in engineering, tied the knot in order to untie their university housing agreements.

Both Boardwine and Henry were dorm residents, and wished to be released from their contracts so they could move. Evidently lacking other reasons, the two decided to move ahead their wedding date so that they could escape the drudgeries of dorm life.

"There certainly are other ways and means to terminate the contract," says Grubbs.

"All we really require is that a student prove it would be a hardship or a major inconvenience to stay at the dorms. A marriage contract is certainly an acceptable reason, but it might be the more expensive route to go."

As for the Two newlyweds, they are currently incommunicado following the burst of publicity they received in their efforts to relocate. It appears they would rather have kept the whole thing under wraps until they found the opportunity to inform their parents. Instead, the headlines in their school paper did the job for them.

"It really caused them a lot of trouble and embarrassment," says Alice McCorkle, Gina's former roommate. "I think they'd just like to forget the whole thing and be left alone."

Regents' exam date announced

By Annie Wooden

The Regents' Examination will be given at VSC, Monday and Tuesday, February 8 and 9 in the Lecture Hall of Powell Hall. Dr. Victor Morgan, Director of the Counseling Center and Regents' Coordinator, will be conducting the test.

During Fall 1981, an estimate of three hundred-thirty VSC students took the exam, and 62 to 65 per cent passed the first time. 55 per cent of the students who repeated the exam passed. About three hundred-fifty students are expected to take the exam this quarter.

The Regents' Exam was instituted by the Board of Regent to identify, and to help students, and to ensure the literacy of graduates from junior colleges, four-year colleges, and universities in the University System of Georgia.

The exam is a test of reading comprehension and essay writing. Most of the students who have taken the exam at VSC failed the essay writing.

To improve the chance of passing the exam, there will be two exam preparation sessions held Wednesday, February 3, 2pm, and 6pm in the Powell Hall Lecture Hall. These sessions are designed to give the student information about the Regents' Exam with emphasis on essay writing techniques and reading comprehension.

Panhellenic roadblock helps Heart Fund

By Dawn Miller

The Valdosta State College Panhellenic Council has announced a roadblock for the Heart Fund on February 5 and 6 at Five Points Shopping Center.

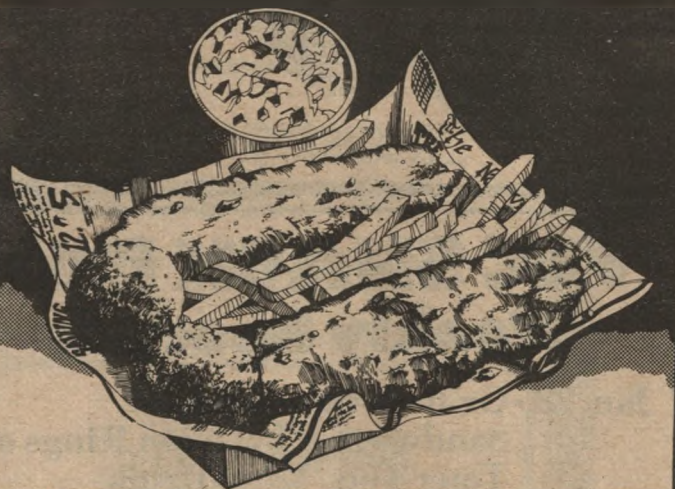

On Friday, girls will work in one hour shifts from 3:00 to 5:00pm, and on Saturday from

Campus law officials to meet at VSC

VALDOSTA, Ga. -- Members of the Georgia Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators and their wives are to hold a meeting on the Valdosta State College campus Friday. More than 50 representatives of various colleges and universities in the state are expected.

Jack Beverstein, Director of VSC's Law Enforcement Administration, is president of the state organization. Other officers are William Bowen, Georgia Southwestern College, vice president; William Tuttle, West Georgia College, secretary; and Alex Johnson, Emory University, treasurer.

James L. McCovern of Atlanta, Executive secretary of the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Officers, is also to be in Valdosta for the meeting, said Beverstein.

Following a coffee Friday morning, members are to convene in Sawyer Theatre for a program called "7,200 Volts," demonstrating the dangers of high voltage. Rene Azar, Public Relations Officer of the Colquitt Electric Membership Corporation, has arranged the program to which members of the Valdosta Police Department, the Lowndes County Sheriff's Department and the Lanier County Sheriff's Department have been invited.

Jack Handley, Tallahassee, of the Florida State Public Safety Department, is to talk on "Crime Prevention on the Campus."

Also on the agenda are a luncheon in the Southwest Wing of the VSC dining hall and business meetings.

Wives of members are to be entertained with a tour of the Valdosta Garden Center and to other places of interest in Valdosta, arranged by Mrs. Hugh Bailey, wife of VSC's president, Dr. Bailey.

Phi Beta Lambda to have guest speaker

Linda Jones, former VSC student and now a Civil Service Exam Employee, will be present Wednesday, January 27, at 4 pm in Room 223-G, Education Building to speak to Phi Beta Lambda.

All members as well as non-members are invited to come out and hear Mrs. Jones

Fourteen new members were initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa honor society last Thursday.

Phi Beta Lambda open to interested students

Phi Beta Lambda is a national organization for college men and women who are preparing for careers in business and industry. Our Beta Xi chapter became a member of the national organization in May, 1959. A Business session is held the second week of the month, and speakers from the business and employment fields are featured at the meeting scheduled during the fourth week of each month. Our next meeting date is Wednesday, January 27, in room 223-G, Education Building at 4 p.m. We will have a guest speaker.

Any student who is majoring in a business or any other area may become a member. There are Active and Honorary memberships.

Membership in Phi Beta Lambda encourages: (1) strong, aggressive leadership in young businessmen and women, (2) active participation in group projects, (3) development of poise and self-confidence, (4) assumption of responsibility, (5) travel to state and national conferences and conventions, (6) competition with other chapters for honors and awards, and (7) ability to work effectively as a part of a team.

Annual membership dues are only $9: $4 goes to the national office; $3 goes to the state office; and $2 remains in the local chapter. In addition, the local chapter is financed through group projects and donations. The last day for membership dues is April 1.

Through the years, our chapter has done exceedingly well in state and national competition. We plan now to go to Atlanta in April for the Leadership Conference.

Phi Beta Lambda participates in both service and money raising projects. The national project is support of the March of Dimes. Our money raising projects help with our expenses from the Atlanta trip. We will have a hot dog snack night on Sunday, January 24, in Langdale Hall from 6-8 p.m.

Plan now to become a member of Phi Beta Lambda-- one of the most active and purposeful organizations on the VSC campus. Phi Beta Lambda needs you, your ideas, your support, and the organization has much to offer in helping you to become a leader in your future business endeavors.

Lana R. Foster
Phi Beta Lambda President

Senate minutes

by James Hendricks

Three new senators were elected to position at the Jan. 26 meeting of the Valdosta State Student Senate. Malinda Simpson and Charla Thornhill were voted in to fill the open freshmen post. Jim DeWitt was elected to the senior position. Positions still vacant are Converse Hall and one off-campus post.

Sue Maule's bill requiring the Senate Rules Committee to review each senator's grade status each quarter was amended to require a grade point average of 2.0. The amended version was passed unanimously.

Harriet Cox and Charla Thornhill were accepted to serve on the Student Government Awareness Committee.

Elections Committee Chairwoman Joann Hudson announced that her committee would be meeting to discuss any changes in election procedure. She also announced a tentative election date for executive officers as being Feb. 24.

Graylon Brown gave a budget report and acknowledged that he was experiencing some problems with it. He assured the Senate that he would give a more complete report in two weeks.

Under new business Richard Dooley introduced a bill calling for dormitory visitation to be extended from noon to midnight on week days. This would be listed as one of the options that each floor of each dormitory could consider when deciding what their visitation policy would be.

Dooley noted that a survey conducted by SGA President Warren Royal found that an increase in visitation desired by 70% of the men and 51% of the women.

Rick Williams resolution calling for letters to be sent to off-campus students to notify them who their senate representatives are was voted down.

Richard Wilson introduced a bill to have a bulletin board placed in the Student Union to notify off-campus students of activities that would be of interest to them.

Victor Jackson introduced a bill calling for a women's restroom to be installed in Reade Hall.

A bill was introduced by Jim DeWitt asking that SGA election hours be extended until the last classes of the evening are concluded.

All bills introduced at this meeting will be discussed and acted upon at the next meeting.

KA's celebrate anniversary

On Saturday, January 23, Delta Rho Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order celebrated their 11th Anniversary Convivium. Convivium is the dual celebration of the founding of Kappa Alpha and Robert E. Lee's birthday.

Kappa Alpha Order was founded on December 21, 1865, at what is now Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia. Robert E. Lee was born on January 19, 1807.

The highlight of Saturday's affair was the banquet held at the King of the Road Motor Inn. Fluker G. Steward, VSC director of College Relations, was this year's featured speaker at the banquet. There were over 230 people in attendance.

President and Mrs. Hugh C. Bailey hosted an open house for parents of KA brothers and pledges, at the President's home on Saturday afternoon.

Samuel Harvey was this year's recipient of the Robert

E. Lee Award. This award is given each year to the man whom the Chapter feels best exemplifies the traits and characteristics of Robert E. Lee. Mr. Stewart was last year's recipient of the award.

Business School offers tax aid

Need help filling out your 1981 tax return? Reagan's tax act got you confused? The VSC School of Business is again offering assistance to the public, students included, in the area of tax returns through the VITA program (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance). The program will be conducted by qualified students and faculty. Assistance will be provided on the following Saturdays from 9-3: January 30, February 6, February 13, and February 20.

The program is being held at North Campus. Donuts and coffee will be provided by the AEA Accounting Club.

Volunteers are needed. Anyone who has tax experience or has successfully completed income tax 450 is urged to help. If interested contact George Fieblekorn through the Accounting Department.

Public Services offers course on replanning finances

VALDOSTA, Ga. -- The Wymodausis Club and the Office of Public Services at Valdosta State College is to have a seminar on "The Need for Replanning Our Personal Finances" to be held Monday, Feb. 1, in Powell Hall Auditorium on the VSC campus.

The seminar is open to the public at no charge. Parking is available in the Conference Parking Lot on Georgia Avenue, immediately across the street from Powell Hall.

Hours are 9:30 a.m.-12 noon, with registration from 9:30-10 a.m.

Mrs. Dagmar Prewitte, president of the Wymodausis Club, and Mrs. Hugh Bailey, chairman of the Home Life Department of Wymodausis, are to welcome guests.

Four speakers are to present the program. They are Dr. Marvin Ray, head of the Department of Accounting and Finance, VSC; Paul Cribbs, Trust Officer, First State Bank; Ronald F. Giles, treasurer, Stewart, Giles, & Co.; and Steve Chitty, Trust Officer, Citizens and Southern National Bank.

Dr. Ray's topic is "The Need in 1982 in Replanning Our Personal Finances."

Cribb's subject is "The New I.R.A. Certificates and Other Savings Possibilities."

Following a refreshment break, Giles is to talk on "The New Tax Laws and How They Affect Individuals."

Chitty is to conclude the program with a talk on "Estate Planning in 1982."

A brief period is reserved for questions prior to adjournment at noon.

Date for White Rose Formal announced

By Cil Kelley

The sisters and pledges of the Gamma Mu Chapter of Kappa Delta Sorority announce their annual White Rose Formal to be held January 30, 1982, at 9pm at the Valdosta Country Club.

January 25, will mark the beginning of the 24th annual White Rose Week held at Valdosta State College. The Gamma Mu Chapter received its charter in 1958.

White Rose Week consists of various events celebrating the upcoming initiation of Kappa Delta pledges.

A skating party will be held Tuesday from 8:00pm to 10:00pm at the Holiday Skate Palace for Kappa Deltas and their dates.

A scholarship banquet will be held at the Western Steer steakhouse from 5:00pm to 7:00pm. Awards will be given to sisters and pledges who have done outstanding work in areas such as leadership and scholarship.

A champagne party given by the pledges in honor of the sisters will start at 9:00pm at the King of the Road.

The Chance Brothers will be providing the entertainment for the Friday night dance to be held at the Jaycee Shack.

Providing music for the Saturday night formal will be the band Bone Holmes and Friends.

ADPi off to good quarter

The Alpha Delta Pi sorority at Valdosta State College started winter quarter with their annual Formal. The Formal Week began January 13, and ended on January 16 with the sweetheart Ball.

The week's activities began Wednesday with a cheese party, at Bonnie McNair's house, for ADPi's and their dates. Thursday night, a dance was held at the Jaycee Shack with music provided by Beach Bum Ben. The ADPi's went to Ocean Pond Friday night for a dinner.

The annual Sweetheart Ball was held Saturday night at the Elk's Club. Music was provided by "Love and Hate." As ab ADPi tradition, the 1982 King of Diamonds and Jacks were announced. The new King of Diamonds is Warren Coats.

The 1982 Jacks are Oscar Aguerro, Bret Allen, Jeff Bobbitt, Tray Brewer, Warren Coats, Byron Courson, Randy Dart, Chuch DeCurtis, Victor Dowless, Robbie Haily, Lee Hancock, Jamie Harris, Mills Herndon, Steve Hitchcock, Cole Hogan, Bill Holland, Shorly Marcus, Mark Walker, Andy Wildes, Cole Woodruff, Mark Powell, and Jeff Sawyer.

Honorary Jacks are Billy Nichols and Paul Towle. These are selected for their help and support of ADPi throughout the year.

Detachment 172 would also like to recognize the following individuals who were also considered for the position because of their qualifications, and high degree of motivation.

They are Deborah Johnson, Mitch Shelton, Skip Mills, and Tracy Turner.

Detachment 172 also sponsored and carried out a clean-up of the Industrial Park on January 22nd. Detachment 172 is proud to be a part of the Valdosta community and we are doing our part to help keep the area beautiful.

Mrs. Bailey plays vital role at VSC

by Anglea Carpenter

Mrs. Bailey plays a vital role in the success of Valdosta State College.

Mrs. Bailey best describes her life as VSC's President's wife with one adjective, busy. She comments, 'I have a wonderful life. I have the opportunity to meet so many people.' Mrs. Bailey feels that she enhances her husband's job. She takes her role as a sounding board for VSC Students seriously. 'I meet the students under all kinds of circumstances, good and bad. The good outweighs the bad,' comments Mrs. Bailey. When Mrs. Bailey was asked what she thought of the VSC student body she said without hesitation, 'We have the best students in the whole university system of Georgia.' She also speaks of the comments she receives concerning the student body, 'Everyone always says how well-groomed, and how well-mannered our students are.' She feels as if a small part of each VSC student belongs to her.

Mrs. Bailey feels as if she has a good level of interaction with the students at VSC. She would like to have more interaction with the students. Both President and Mrs. Bailey try to attend as many student oriented events as possible.

Mrs. Bailey not only has a wonderful array of social skills, she also does beautiful craft work. She enjoys crewel, cross-stitch, and other sewing related crafts. Mrs. Bailey regrets not having as much time as she would like for her crafts. When the VSC student goes through the Bailey home he notices the silk flowers. These flowers were handmade by Mrs. Bailey. During the Christmas season the decorations one sees are all made by Mrs. Bailey.

Mrs. Bailey has an interesting background. Her father was a minister so she lived in many states including Virginia, South Carolina, and Alabama. She calls Mobile, Alabama her home. Mrs. Bailey attended Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama. She graduated with a major in English and minors in German, Psychology and Social Studies. Also, while attending Samford she met President Bailey who was her social studies Professor. She received her masters degree in Secondary Education with a minor in History.

Mrs. Bailey comments, 'We appreciate what fine young people we have at VSC. The way they represent the college and the community wherever they go is wonderful. VSC students are such positive students.'

Mrs. Bailey best describes the way she feels about VSC, 'I like what I do.' With such a positive attitude, how can VSC miss?

Mrs. Bailey

Zetas have exciting quarter ahead

This quarter is going to be an exciting one for the sisters and pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha. We all enjoyed a fun-filled weekend with Nora Nell Jackson, our International President.

On February 13 the Court of Themis Ball will be held at the Valdosta Elks Club. As in the past, Zeta will present sister and pledge awards, as well as announce the 1982 Sweetheart and Big Brothers. We are all anticipating a week of fun and excitement.

Eta Iota chapter will be participating in Zeta State Day February 27, which is to be held in Macon, Georgia.

Alpha Phi Alpha chapters to convene at VSC

VALDOSTA, GA--About 250 members of Phi Alpha fraternity from 18 colleges in Georgia are expected on the Valdosta State College campus (Friday-Saturday) Jan. 29-30 for the state convention of the 75-year-old organization.

The Mu Omicron chapter of VSC and alums are to host the convention. Lorenzo Manns of Columbus is state director for the fraternity's state collegiate chapters.

A beauty pageant, business meetings, and a dance will highlight the weekend activities, said Randy Rush, VSC member and advisor to the fraternity.

VSC to host 26th Alpha Phi Alpha state convention

In 1956, eleven months away from its 50th Anniversary, the national organization of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity convened as a state level organization for the first time in Georgia. Presently, in its 75th year as a national organization, the 26th Annual State Convention of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity will convene in Valdosta, Georgia on January 29 and 30, 1982. The Mu Omicron (Valdosta State) and Kappa Tau Lambda (Valdosta Alumni) Chapters will serve as hosts.

The brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha will discuss national and state objectives for 1982. Some of these objectives will include pledge procedures, membership fees, chapter taxes, and constitutional amendments. The brothers will get some leisure time when they come to Whitehead Auditorium on January 29 at 8:15 p.m. to select the young lady who will represent the fraternity on the state level and advance to compete for the Southern Region title in Charleston, South Carolina on Easter weekend. The title these young ladies will be competing for is that of Miss Alpha Phi Alpha, also known as Miss Black and Gold (the fraternity colors).

Mu Omicron's representative in this pageant will be Ms. Belinda F. Moore, the current

Miss Black VSC. Ms. Moore was sponsored by Mu Omicron in the Miss Black VSC Pageant also. She is a sophomore majoring in Early Childhood Education, a native of Albany, Georgia, a member of the Black Students League, the College Union Board, and the Alpha Sweetheart organization.

The pageant is open to the public, and admission is free. The brothers ask that guests please wear semi-formal attire.

Immediately following the pageant, there will be a Black and Gold Ball at the Holiday Inn Hotel located on I-75 and Highway 94. This event is open only to the brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha and their guests.

On Saturday, January 30, at 5 p.m. in Whitehead Auditorium, the brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha, representing their respective chapters across the state, will compete for the state "step-out" title. This event is better known as a Greek show. Only the brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha will compete. The Alpha Phi Alpha chapter at Savannah State College (Delta Eta) in Savannah are the reigning "Steppers" in Georgia, and we are sure they will come prepared to recapture the title. Mu Omicron will be excluded from the competition because it is the host chapter, however, it will open the show with a complimentary performance. This event is free of charge to the public.

The concluding event of the convention will be a dance at the Holiday Inn Banquet room. This event is also open to the public. There is an admission charge of $1.00 for VSC students with their I.D. and an admission charge of $2.00 for non-VSC guests. The Dance will start at 10 p.m. on Saturday, January 30. The brothers of Mu Omicron extend a personal invitation to their fellow students to attend the events mentioned and assist them in making their convention a successful one.
