Graylon Brown and Mac Daniel were winners in last week's run-off.

SGA officers inaugurated

By Malinda Simpson

Sunday night, VSC's Student Government Association installed four new officers. President and Mrs. Bailey hosted the event which took place at 7:00 pm the Bailey's home. President Bailey conducted the ceremony. The new officers include Jo Ann Hudson, Secretary; Mac Daniel, Comptroller; Frank Carter, Vice-President; and Graylon Brown, President.

Former SGA President

Warren Royal opened the ceremony by briefly reflecting on the past year. The officers were then installed, and each officer spoke about his or her plans for the upcoming year. Several faculty members also spoke. John Metts, Dean Sisson, Dean Ferrell, B.J. Hausman, Tommy Moore, Dean Brown, and Dr. Victor Morgan were among the faculty speakers.

After the ceremony, a reception was held for the new officers, attending faculty members, and students.

VSC professors win 'original recipe' award

By Charla Thornhill

Dr. Ron Barnett, VSC's acting vice-president, and Jim Hill, sociology professor, were the winners of the "original recipe" award at the Cantina restaurant's chili-making contest. The contest was held on March 6 at the Baytree road restaurant. Over 200 people gathered to watch the contestants make their chili and sample the results.

Owner, Brad Thomas, offered free beer and a Bluegrass Band provided entertainment.

There were eight entries in the contest and they were judged at 4:30 in the afternoon. A grand prize of $100 was offered for the over-all best chili. The "most original recipe" award was $50.

The winners of the grand prize were Johnny B. Lastinger and Briggs Smith, a local doctor.

Parade to honor Abbott retirement

Charla Thornhill

This will be the last quarter at VSC for Colonel Mary Abbott as a professor. She is currently a professor in Aerospace Studies on North Campus. At the end of this quarter, Col. Abbott will take a ninety day terminal leave from the military with her retirement officially beginning on July 1.

The AFROTC Cadet Corps of Valdosta State College will have a parade in honor of Lt. Col. Mary Abbott, Professor of Aerospace Studies and Commander of Detachment 172 on March 11 (Thursday). The parade is to be formed at 3:45pm at the arched entrance to the campus on N. Patterson Street, according to Maj. Vincent Chandler, assistant professor of aerospace studies.

Inspection of cadets is to be followed by the parade, at 4pm with the viewing stand in front of Nevins Hall.

Col. Abbott, who came to VSC in July, 1978, is to go on terminal leave April 1. Maj. Chandler is to be interim Professor of Aerospace Studies until August when Lt. Col. John Kish, now of Ft. Lee, VA, is to assume the title.

Officials at Moody Air Force Base, faculty at VSC, Mayor Ernest Nijem and other dignitaries have been invited, said Chandler who came to VSC more than a year ago from Offutt AFB in Omaha, Neb.

Although Col. Abbott is retiring from the military, she is not really retiring. She plans to enter the School of Veterinary Medicine at Tuskegee Institute.

"I'm going to vet school," she said, "because I've always loved animals. I'm planning to be an equine practitioner — which is something I've wanted to do for a long time."

Mary Abbott

"I've owned horses since 1970 when I was first stationed in Valdosta but I've wanted to own one since I was four years old and someone read 'Black Beauty' to me."

She plans to take only one of her three horses she now owns with her, a quarter horse named Leo.

"I know horses are expensive and a lot of trouble," she said, with a smile, "but there is nothing like having a horse of your own."

Colonel Abbott highly recommends the military as a career and encourages all students to consider Air Force ROTC. She said, "It pays good. Where else can you retire at 40 with money coming in? I've often asked myself, over the past twenty years, if it was all worth it. Now I know it is. I've just turned 40 and I'm beginning a new career."

She believes in ROTC and talks it up at any opportunity.

"ROTC gives a student an excellent change of getting through college and the assurance of a good paying job afterwards. Whether a person stays in is his or her own decision. The military life is not for everybody but it does help one to mature and most employers are glad to hire veterans," she said.

At VSC there were about 88 cadets when she came to the campus, now there are about 167, she said.

The VSC students would like to congratulate Colonel Abbott on her retirement, and welcome her to the student body.

Area high school students to attend VSC Model UN

More than 300 area high school students will convene on the campus at Valdosta State College March 26 to participate in a high school Model Assembly of the United Nations, according to Dr. William M. Gabard, Director of International Studies.

This will be the sixth year VSC has sponsored such an event which draws students from 25 Georgia and Florida high schools to represent in simulation 70 nations of the United Nations.

As in the past, the Model Assembly will be managed entirely by the members of VSC's National Model United Nations Delegation who will go to New York in April for their national conference.

The Model Assembly is sponsored by the Departments of Political Science, History, and International Studies, and the Institute of Cultural Studies. "We are particularly happy to have the support and expertise of the political science department, under the leadership of James Betka, and the staff of the history department under Dr. Joe Tomberlin," Gabard added.

"This year we have invited delegates to wear, if possible, the national dress of the country which they represent," said Gabard. "We also have invited our 35 international students to attend and wear their national dress," he added.

The high school students have spent several weeks in their respective schools in preparing for the event. They received US State Department Background Notes and other pertinent information on each country, the essential outlines of the organization and structure of the United Nations, and guidelines to parliamentary procedures.

While the high school students meet in committees, their teachers and other invited guests will hear Mrs. Marian Salinger of Duke University offer a workshop on teaching area studies. Her topic is "Here's Canada: Move It to the Classroom."

VSC NMUN delegation members, who are conducting the High School Model Assembly as part of the preliminary requirements for the New York conference, are: Jayne Copeland, Valdosta; Rob Combs, Remerton; Ken Adair, Columbus; Laura Peden, Albany; Angela Carpenter, Dalton; Martha Meads, Funston; Donna Sheffield, Blakely; and Wendy Hammack, Merritt Island, Florida.

Arnold Air Society welcomes spring pledges

Arnold Air Society held a Review Board on Tuesday, March 2, and Thursday, March 4. The Review Board consisted of selected panel members who reviewed interested ROTC cadets for the Spring Quarter Pledge Class. The objective of the Review Board was to interview the cadets to see if they meet the required high standards of the honorary society. The process also allowed the cadets to meet the Arnold Air Society members to have a clearer understanding of the society.

On Tuesday March 9 the Arnold Air Society voted on the new members for their Spring Pledge Class. The society gladly welcomes their new pledges. They are Wayne Holwich, Rusty Lawson, Freddie Spencer, Stewart Parker, David Reid, Paul Marty, Dennis Rice, Barbara Foster, Sandra Howell, Kimberly Haggins, Mark Ellis, Kevin McKinnon, Wayne McGee, and Keith Arthur.

These pledges were highly recommended by the Professor of Aerospace Studies, Colonel Mary N. Abbott (AAS Honorary member), and Commandant of Cadets, Captain John Moss (AAS Advisor). The pledge program consists of a six week rigorous course to train and prepare cadets for the military environment.

Arnold Air Society is extremely proud of its new Spring Pledge Class and is looking forward to an exciting pledge program

PRSSA holds winter social

By Sam Torrey

The Public Relations Student Society of America at VSC held their annual winter social event March 4, 1982. The event was held at the home of Leigh Amos. Among those attending were Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Ren Christie and Dr. Vonne Meussling, chapter advisor, along with members of PRSSA.

The party began at 8:30 p.m., and the first order of business was fun. The second order of business was the presentation of the new slate of officers for Spring Quarter, 1982. They are president, Terry Herndon; vice president, Tracy Johnson; secretary, Bob McManus; treasurer, Sam Torrey; national liaison, Steve Barber; historian, Van Simmons; publicity, Beverly Knight; parliamentarian, Sherry Banks; public relations officers, Emily Howard and Mary Fox; and program chairman, Jeff Fulp.

The PRSSA, a member of the North Florida Chapter, was granted its charter in November, 1981. Membership is now approximately 50 students.

Whigham to compete in chess finals

by Malinda Simpson

VSC recently sent Philip Whigham, a freshman from Valdosta, to compete in the regional chess tournament finals which were held February 25, 26, and 27 at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hapsburg. Whigham won the campus tournament and came in second in the regional games. The regional finals included participants from Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, and Alabama.

Simha Hagal, a student from India, also represented VSC in table tennis. Magal won the consolation bracket. Larry Gilliam, who represented VSC in billiards was eliminated early in the competition. His opponent was last year's regional champion.

Architecture on display

'Architecture in Georgia' on display in Art Gallery

"Architecture in Georgia-A Photographic Perspective" is being shown in the Valdosta State College gallery during the month of March, said Don Penny, gallery director.

The photo-documentary work of five well known architectural photographers is open to the public in the gallery located in the School of the Arts from 10am - 4pm Monday - Thursday and 10am - 2pm Friday at no charge.

The exhibition is funded by the Gannett Foundation and sponsored by the Georgia Trust for Historic Preservation and the South Georgia Area Planning and Development Commission.

Dennis O'Kain, coordinator of the show, focuses on the Cobbham Historic District of Athens in his section of the exhibit. A former ironworker, O'Kain is currently documenting construction of the Georgia Pacific building in Atlanta. Through an NEA grant, O'Kain is reprinting the negatives of early Savannah photographer, William E. Wilson.

Paul Beswick, an architect turned photographer, is challenged by this discipline because it is a blend of technical information and art. His photographs have appeared in "Southern Accents."

David Kaminsky is a member of the faculty at Savannah College of Art and Design. His newly released book, "Tropical Deco", is a glimpse into the contemporary deco structures of Miami Beach.

Jim Lockhart, who specializes in architectural/documentary photography, works for the State Historic Preservation Section of the Department of Natural Resources. Lockhart works exclusively in black and white to preserve his work as a lasting record of Georgia architecture.

Van Jones Martin, a published photographer with two books to his credit, concentrates on the architecture in and around Savannah. In this show he displays scenes of coastal Georgia.

A film on "Main Street-Downtown Revitalization" was shown Wednesday in the gallery.

VSC coed participates in Miss Georgia pageant

By Angela Carpenter

Miss Donna Warren, VSC Sophomore recently participated in the Miss Georgia - USA pageant in Atlanta, Georgia. The pageant was held the weekend of February 27th and 28th. Miss Warren was one of 81 contestants in the pageant. The girls were judged on beauty, poise, personality and speaking ability.

Donna has participated in several competitions before. Her honors include Miss Georgia - USA, semi-finalist 1981. Miss Camden County 1980, Miss Hemisphere 1980, 2nd Runner-Up in the Sun Princess pageant in Gainesville, FL, 2nd Runner-Up in the Miss Gold Leaf Pageant in Blackshear, and Donna won the Swimsuit competition in the 1981, Miss Georgia Holiday Competition.

Donna has background experience in modeling. She has modeled in several fashion shows in Camden County and Jacksonville. Donna would one day like to do professional modeling.

When asked what she had learned from her participation and efforts in these competitions, she said, "No matter how well or how badly you do; you'er still the same person on the inside."

Donna is a 19 year old, sophomore from Woodbine, Georgia. She is a Fine Arts Major. Donna is a transfer student from Brunswick Junior College, and she also attended Georgia Southern in Statesboro, Georgia. Donna is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. W.E. Warren - VSC should be proud to have someone as talented and beautiful as Donna in its midst.

Comptroller comments on parking problems

by Mac Daniel

In order to reduce the number of parking citations received by VSC students each week, I would like to point out some of the more frequently occurring violations of campus parking regulations that I have seen this quarter as a traffic court committee member.

Some of the areas students should become more aware of are:

[1] Parking on the North Campus parking lot curb.-According to our campus Parking Handbook, 'parking is prohibited on any curb regardless if it is yellow or white unless there is a sign that designates approval.' To avoid the possibility of a pink slip, students should make an effort to get to class in plenty of time to be assured of an available parking space at North campus.

[2] Parking in the spaces behind Converse, Reade, and Ashley Halls and Langdale Circle.-These spaces have a time limit of 15 minutes for 24 hrs/day and seven days/week in order to accomodate the large number of students in these residence halls. However, for more convenient parking, the spaces in the Hopper Parking Lot (except those marked 'reserved') are open to unlimited weekend parking and there is a 30-minute time limit during weekdays.

[3] Unauthorized Parking in the Fire Lane on the East side of Brown Hall.-This area is of most crucial concern because of the congestion of three residence halls in one area. In case of emergency, an ambulance or a fire truck possibly could not have access through the curve of the southeast corner of Brown Hall if an automobile was illegally parked in the fire lane located there.

The entire curb along the East wing of Brown Hall (which is now partially available to student parking with approximately four or five spaces) was once completely off-limits to student parking a few years ago for this same reason.

In an effort to work with Public Safety in making the maximum spaces available to students, I would like to remind all VSC motorist who park in this area to refrain from parking in this and any fire zone.

[4] Parking during breaks be- tween quarters, dead days, and when classes are held on Saturdays.-Students parking on the VSC campus should be aware of the fact that all campus traffic and parking regulations are enforced on continued p. 6

Justice was served

The deaths of the 29 young blacks in Atlanta have caused many to be guided by their emotions, especially those who object to the way the Atlanta Police Department is treating the remaining murder cases.

The Atlanta Police have linked 21 of the remaining 27 cases to Wayne Williams and consider them closed with his recent conviction for the murders of Jimmy Ray Payne and Nathaniel Carter. Also, Police Commissioner Lec Brown is disbanding the task force that investigated the 29 slayings.

Reverend Joseph Lowery and Reverend Joe Boone have been very outspoken in their objections. Lowery claims "an almost universal doubt" that Williams could have committed. In reference to Williams Boone says that reasonable doubt remains and calls the matter a whitewash.

Commissioner Brown denies the possibility of an accomplice and states that sufficient evidence, including fibers, exists to close 21 more of the unsolved cases.

If the police are certain 23 of the cases are linked to Williams, why did they seek convictions in only two? There are several reasons.

First, if the prosecutor had made mistakes that resulted in a mistrial, 21 more counts remained on which to try Williams. This would have increased the prosecution's chances of obtaining a conviction.

Second, by trying only two cases, the defense had fewer opportunities to raise objections. The chances of a mistrial due to bad judgment by the judge increased each time a defensive objection was overruled.

Third, Americans are assured of a fair and speedy trial. By trying only two cases, the time between arrest and trial was reduced as well as the length of the trial.

Fourth, if all 23 cases had been brought up, the jury could have easily been confused by the barrage of evidence. The jury received a more clear, concise picture of what actually happened by limiting the trial to two cases.

Finally, Georgia is considering a conviction option of life without parole. If this option should become law, the prosecution could use one of the remaining related cases in an attempt to obtain a sentence of life without parole.

Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young has tried to assure the critics that the task force is not shutting down completely, noting that the remaining evidence is in the police computers and readily available.

In fact, the task force is not really disbanding. The formation of a new task force, charged with the investigation of all homicides in Atlanta, was announced by Commissioner Brown on March 3. The new homicide task force will be comprised of the police bureau's homicide division and the original task force.

The original task force served its purpose. It collected evidence that made a conviction possible. Now it is time for the lessons it learned to be applied to a larger concern, Atlanta's other unsolved murders.

It's almost over

Yes folks, it's that time again. It's the end of the quarter. Provided the planets don't blow up when they line up today, we will all face finals next week. I wonder which is the worse fate?

As is my custom, I went over to my VSC mailbox for the first time this quarter yesterday. I like to get all my bad news in one fell swoop.

I also found out why my electricity, phone, and cable television don't work any more.

After reading my mail, I discarded all my bills into their own file...la file de garbage. All I had left was seven letters from people who obviously can't cope with life in general. I feel it is my moral obligation to answer them now.

Besides, I can't think of anything else to write about.

Senator commends President Royal

Dear Editor,

I would like to commend SGA President Warren Royal and SGA Vice President Virginia Williams for the outstanding job that each did during their term in office.

First, the SGA has done more under Royal's Adiministration then it has ever done since I started at VSC in 1978 and probably much further back than that. Royal deserves much credit because he initiated action to increase visitation in the resident halls, pushed for such things as smoke detectors, washing machines, change machines, and many more things that were listed in his campaign flyer. Furthermore, I think it is cheap and dirty for certain people, who I will not name, to suck credit for things they had nothing to do with in order to achieve their goals.

Second, Virginia Williams also deserves credit for running the Senate. Sometimes that can be pretty tough. It should be noted that Miss Williams entered VSC in Fall 1981, was elected to the Senate, and in that very same quarter she was elected Vice President of the SGA by the Senate itself. In my eyes, that would take sincere determination, dedication, and hard work.

In addition, I would like to thank Richard (Dick) Dooley for allowing me to participate in his campaign for Comptroller of the SGA. I would like to publicly congratulate him on a long but good, and hard but clean campaign. I know Dick very well and he will be successful with or without the SGA.

In conclusion, I realize that many students are sick and tired of all the SGA campaigning and elections, but let me tell you something - Warren, Virginia, and Dick all ran clean campaigns. They did not copy ideas from other candidates, and if you students knew them, I believe the elections might have turned out a little differently. One final note is that I am very proud to be associated with and to be one of the friends of Warren Royal, Virginia Williams and Richard Dooley.

Sincerely,
Victor Jackson

American warns about literary magazine

Dear Editor,

Today I saw the latest edition of The Kernel of the Nut. I must say that the mastermind behind this literary publication has got to be "out in left-field." This edition, which is their anniversary edition, has got to be the "wildest" one yet. The cover is "right out of this world" and the poetry is too!! You have to "see it to believe it!!" Yet, after seeing it, I'm not sure I believe it. Obviously the editors and contributors were struck by a severe case of finals, for only one suffering from "finalitious" could come up with this view of life's reality. Their picture of reality is one worth a second thought.

Since this edition is so wild, I can't wait to see what they will think of next. The reason for this letter is to forewarn the VSC population that: IT IS HERE!!

Daniel thanks his supporters

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the many people involved in my recent election for their interest and support. Without identifying each individual specifically, I want to thank the many people who directly helped me with those "last-minute" details and preparations and the various athletic teams, residence hall wings, fraternities, sororities, and other organizations for their voting support and cooperative time.

I want to again emphasize my concern for campus issues, my availability to all students, and my overall enthusiasm for serving the VSC student body with the best of my abilities.

Mac Daniel
SGA Comptroller

Dear Editor,

It has recently come to our attention that a certain minority is being afforded "the run of the campus." It seems that an as-of-yet unproven football team is to be given priority at registration this spring quarter.

True these muscular dynamos need to practice. While this may be the case, which is more important: an untested football team or what was once the shining light of academia in the south.

The answer is elementary my dear Mr. Bostock. Those of us "still academically inclined saw through the pigskin cover in allowing the entire freshman class to register earliest. It would seem apparent to a small few of us who can function without a football clasped tightly between their hands, that there is a lack of concern for the serious students already a year or two into a major that requires certain classes (which by the time they are allowed to register will most probably be filled) to be taken during specific quarters.

Why an entire group of upperclassmen should have to suffer because certain administration types feel they need to spoon feed the water nurse to spoon feed and water nurse a whole freshman class is beyond us. Could it be that allowing the football players to register ahead of the academic types is a bit too embarrassing to be known to the general student population or are these administration types afraid that if their incoming freshman are not spoon fed they will be lost to other instition — come now, President Bailey, is university status that important?

To the administration types: stop treating the upperclassmen as second class citizens. Remember, we made it through that vast jungle known as registration. We are still here, and might we add alive and "functioning." Students come to college supposedly to learn, and cope with something they do not bargain for, obstacles. Registering at Valdosta State College is not only one of these obstacles, but a very good lesson in frustration. As freshmen we survived and deserve what was once a last remaining privilege of being an upperclassman — registering early.

Being seniors, we will not be affected by the new administrative decree since we will be able to get whatever classes we need in order to graduate. However, those of you who are juniors and sophomores should be extremeley irritated by this motion, and we strongly urge you to file your complaints (if any) to the proper, so called "authorities."

Storming the Bastille known as Presidents Bailey's office would at this time greatly enhance your position as upperclassmen at future registrations. We are in no way trying to alienate an entire campus, only point something out that if not corrected now may in the future influence your graduation date.

Sincerely yours,
Michael Wilson

Seniors who "to this administration's dismay" still care.

Senior Response to article

Dear Editor,

I saw the article by the "seniors who still care" and had to comment.

First, even though I'm not all that "thrilled" by the VSC football team either, they aren't "getting away with" anything at registration. I used to be on the Blazer Volleyball team when, we seniors, were freshmen and sophomores. At that time, I found that all the college's athletic teams and the (Academic) Honor Societies have historically received early registration (for as long as I've known). So, as a college team, the football team has just as much right as the Baseball team, Basketball team, Tennis team, etc. to register early at the opening of registration. This helps in scheduling for practices.

Second, most first quarter freshmen are very lost and most everything is already against them. I know that we (seniors) didn't get to register early at all. I do think we would have appreciated having some help, such as early registration. Besides, freshmen only register the day before everybody else during Fall quarter.

I know some of you, and I don't see why you are so worried. I really don't think you will have much "steep

Lawsuit prevents tuition increase

(CPS) -- Over 76,000 Pennsylvania students have narrowly missed becoming the next victims of mid-year tuition increases, thanks to a lawsuit filed by the Commonwealth Association of Students, a "Technicality" in the tuition approval process, some free football tickets, and a last-minute budget increase awarded by the state legislature.

Students at state schools in Oregon, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and California, among others, have recently been hit with mid-year tuition or fee hikes. Until last year, educators traditionally increased charges only at the beginning of the academic year.

In January, the Pennsylvania board of education voted to hike tuition for the spring semester by $75 to help pay for faculty salary increases.

But the Commonwealth Association of Students (CAS), the statewide student coalition, sued the board, claiming the hike would violate its original "contract" with the students to provide an education for $625 a semester for this year.

CAS also claimed the Pennsylvania State Colleges and Universities Board of Directors didn't have a quorum present when it approved the increase.

A state court temporarily stalled the increase until the merits of CAS' suit could be heard. But last week, even before lawyers could argue the case, the state legislature awarded the colleges a six percent budget increase, and the board of education rescinded the tuition increase.

"The $75 increase has been withdrawn for spring, 1982," says John E. Worthen, president of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, one of the state schools affected by the decision.

"But the (state) secretary of education has already made it clear that there will be tuition increases for fall, 1982. How much it will be hasn't been decided, but there will undoubtedly be an increase."

VSC Drama to hold matinees

by Leah Herrin

There will be two public performances of "Showdown at the Sugarcane Saloon", Friday, March 12 at 4:00 p.m. and Saturday, March 13, at 10:30 a.m. Performances are to be held in Sawyer Theatre.

"Although it is a play written for children audiences, it is equally enjoyable for adults. I encourage students to bring any children they know to see the play.

"There will be 18 shows presented around Valdosta and Lowndes County, the last two here at VSC. The show has been presented to more than 3000 children so far," says Dr. Wheeler.

"Showdown at the Sugarcane Saloon" is a musical by Joe Robinette, author of The Fabulous Fable Factory. The play is a musical spoof of an old-fashioned western melodrama, complete with hero, heroine, and villain.

The play is set in a saloon and features chases, disguises, songs, and dancing. The dastardly villain, Devil-Dog Do-Wrong, joins forces with Cheries Jubilee and the Pitt sisters to give Golden Graham, the handsome hero, a hard time.

Dr. Wheeler is the director, Martin Skolnick is assistant director and stage manager, Valerie Gruner is the costume designer. The players are Michael Wright, Rick D'onofrio, Rachel Simonaitis, Martha Stewart, Terri Hatcher, Tana Snyder, Liz Henderson, Vicki Middleton, Phil Howard, Jimmy Spearman, Hope Ince.

Tickets are $4.50 for adults, $2.50 for children and non-VSC students, and VSC students get in free with i.d.

WVVS offers alternatives

by Dianne Yeomans

if you're into skinny neckties, wrap around sunglasses, and throwing up on your friends there is a radio show in Valdosta geared to your taste. Contract Terminated can be heard every Thursday night from 11 until 12 o'clock on WVVS Contract Terminated is characterized by its host Stig Slime as a one hour showcase for "Punk rock, Ska, New Wave, New Romance, New Psychedelic, neo-rockabilly, and anything else that might offend the moral majority or anyone that wears Izods. Lots of stuff by bands like the Clash, The B-52s, The Cramps, and X. My idol is Eddie Haskell.

The show began in fall 1980 as an outlet for viable music

Auditions slated for Spring Mainstage

Auditions for "Romeo and Juliet" will be held on Monday, March 29, at 4 p.m. in Sawyer Theatre. Auditions are open to all VSC students. Dr. Wheeler will be directing the play. "Romeo and Juliet" will be the Spring quarter mainstage production with production dates of May 12-15 and 19-22.

considered too extreme for the regular WVVS format. Says Slime, "Lots of people say they like rock and Roll but hate punk rock. To me, theres no difference between the two.

Rock and roll started out as a rowdy, rambunctious, disenchanted, and for the most part technically amateurish musical form. Punk Rock is all of these things. Most of the music being passed off as rock and roll today is palp aimed at the lowest common denominator, toned down enough so as to insure that it won't offend anyone enough to prevent it from getting commercial airplay. I mean, you can hear Styx on stereos in cars that have Ronald Reagan bumper stickers on them."

Job outlook proves reported optimistic

(CPS) -- Forecasts of the job prospects for this term's graduates are turning out to have been "excessively optimistic," placement officers around the country report. A significant number of companies that promised to hire this spring have cancelled their plans, leaving extraordinarily long student lines at many placement centers.

The placement officers add the only reason the number of on-campus interviews is keeping close to earlier predictions is a boom in college hiring by defense-related industries.

"Competition (among students) is up and recruitment (by companies) is down," says Ava Sellers, placement director at Vanderbilt.

"Lines are forming two hours before sign-ups begin," adds William Mitchell, who directs placement services at Cal State-Sacramento. "The recruiters are having a ball."

"I think there was excessive optimism from industry this time," summarizes Victor Lindquist, who helps administer the influential Endicott Report on American business' campus hiring plans and who is placement director at Northwestern.

"Changes occurred from November (when the Endicott numbers were gathered) to the first quarter of this year that were not anticipated," Lindquist explains.

He blames the changes in hiring plans on rocky economic times in the retailing, metals and oil industries.

"The basic metals industries are usually heavy recruiters, and they are barely holding their own this year," Lindquist observes. "The oil industry, which has had enormous growth the last few years, has had to pull back this year in response to falling gas prices. They are traditionally heavy recruiters, and it has caught many by surprise."

Virginia Benfield, manager of college recruiting for Texaco, Inc., confirms that "last year, no one in the industry expected the economy to be this bad."

She anticipates "our hiring will fall short of our projections."

But she says Texaco, for one, is "just leveling off at a more predictable rate of hiring."

The continuing problems of the auto industry have also depressed campus recruiting especially in the midwest.

"Some of our regulars are tied to the automotive industry, and that has been a problem," says Pat Markle of Western Kentucky University.

"Some of our regulars just aren't hiring, and some of the recruiters who set up dates to interview have had to call and cancel."

Spectrum '82 is a big success

by Richard Wilson

"Fade To Black," was the command of the director Saturday at midnight, when WVVS-TV signed off Spectrum 82.

The marathon which began on Friday the 5th at 6:00 p.m. ended 30 hours later, after great success. Things began slow on Friday, but at 10:00 p.m. on Saturday the phones never stopped ringing. The total amount raised by the auction was approximately $8000-$10,000. WVVS-TV expresses great appreciation to the community of Valdosta and the faculty of Valdosta State College for their support of Spectrum 82.

"With well over 300 people working on Spectrum 82 we found it to be an invaluable learning experience for everyone. We tentatively are planning to make Spectrum an annual event in response to the tremendous enthusiasm shown by the community," states Dr. Bob Jones, Associate Professor and Coordinator of Telecommunications. The local merchants of Valdosta were contacted by students and given the opportunity to make a donation of a product or cash to Spectrum 82. Total number of donations was over 160 items, which showed the support of the community.

The highest bid was over $1,100, which was placed on a 7-day cruise to the Caribbean.

Another three day cruise was also one of the high bids. The cruises were donated by South Georgia Travel of Valdosta and the Carnival Cruise Lines. These items served as the backbone of the auction and provided chance to establish bidding wars.

WVVS-TV 12 will begin programming next quarter, with 2-3 hours nightly during the week. Shows will consist of college and local news, special performances, and pre-recorded material. WVVS-TV is proud of its new facilities and looks forward to serving Valdosta in the future.

CUB presents Spring lineup

Charla Thornhill

The College Union board (CUB) has sponsored various activities this quarter for people of all interests. Some of these were The Wonderful World of Mr. Fingers, a hot dog cookout before the West Georgia basketball game, the Giant Valentine, Tom DeLuca, and various workshops in counted cross stitch, resume writing, or won ton and egg roll making. Some of the CUB sponsored movies this quarter were Stripes, The Jazz Singer, For Your Eyes Only, and Deer Hunter.

According to B.J. Hausman, director of student activities, the upcoming quarter will bring more exciting activities.

Since homecoming will take place during the football season this year, the CUB has planned a "Spring Fling" for April 17. Booths will be set up by various campus organizations selling food to crafts, or sponsoring games. Three bands will play in the afternoon. They are the Reunion Blues Band; the Mason-dixon Trio, a three piece all-girl bluegrass band; and the band from Papa Joe's.

There will be food, entertainment, and fun for students, and faculty and their families.

Registration day will be the CUB's "Take me out to the Ballgame" day. They will serve hotdogs before the Georgia Southwestern game.

A CPR course will be offered March 30-31 and all interested students must sign up in the activities office. There will be a four dollar change for the training manual.

The CUB will sponsor the return performance of the Locomotion Vaudeville Circus on April 5. The group of acrobatic clowns will perform at noon in front of the cafeteria.

Jack White, a professional billiards trick-shot artist, will return for a performance in the College Union Game Room on April 23.

Also, the CUB is sponsoring Disney World trip in May. Further information can be obtained at the Student Activities office in the College Union.

The CUB - sponsored movies for Spring quarter are Str Crazy, The Great Escape, Sparkle, The Way We Were, Jaws, and California Suite. These movies were the top choices of the students who took the CUB movie survey during Winter quarter.

Food Services will again sponsor a Luau at the end of Spring Quarter with entertainment provided by the CUB. John Bayley will present Calypso music for the affair scheduled for May 26.

Pity, the blue-eyed hero
the saint like martyr disguised in the hangman's darkness
radiating light few, few have yet to see the hidden glow
the unrescued drowning soul begging to be hurt
filling needs,
unanswered prayers never caring for him, you, me
fooling, joking, losing touch
God-like in his actions breathing the earth never touching,
feeling emotions
pity, the blue-eyed hero
so faraway, distant
how he hurts, tearing away

Blazers sweep 3 from Rose Hulman

by Ralph Moore

VSC's diamond squad combined a 14 hit attack with four-hit pitching to down Rose Hulman 11-1 on Tuesday at Blazer field.

Rick Dinapoli earned the win, contributing 7 innings of trouble-free pitching. Jim Rodi handed in two innings of polished relief.

The Blazers are on a four game winning streak which includes victories over Georgia Southwestern and a 3-game sweep of Rose Hulman.

Freshman Tony Bowden made a run at the record books, stretching his consecutive hits string to 7. The record (8) is held by Jerome Register, present Graduate Assistant coach for Coach Tommy Thomas.

Mark Murad started the game off with a bang, tagging his first round-tipper of the year. Bobby Roche produced 3 hit and brought in two.

Mike Ruff also had a pair of rbis, as did second baseman Mark Powell, who tripled.

Blazer Coach Tommy Thomas, 13 wins away from his 500th at the Blazer helm, was pleased with the efforts that have improved the season Mark to 6-9.

Blazer field vandalized

By Mark Powell

Last week, there was more action at Blazer Field than caught the eye when VSC hosted Clemson.

Apparently, some people who were disgruntled with the way the Blazers had been playing took it upon themselves to show their displeasure. The means used by these people was burning holes in the tarps, which help prevent rain from getting on the field, ripping down the bulletin boards in the dugouts, tearing holes in the batting cage nets, and stealing letters from the sign which informs the public of upcoming games.

Although the Blazers are off to a slow start, students should not give up, because the team haven't. If the fans should become so disgruntled with the baseball team's performance. They feel compelled to let out some type of frustration, the team requests the unhappy fans write notes to members of the team instead of tearing up one of the finest fields in the southeast.

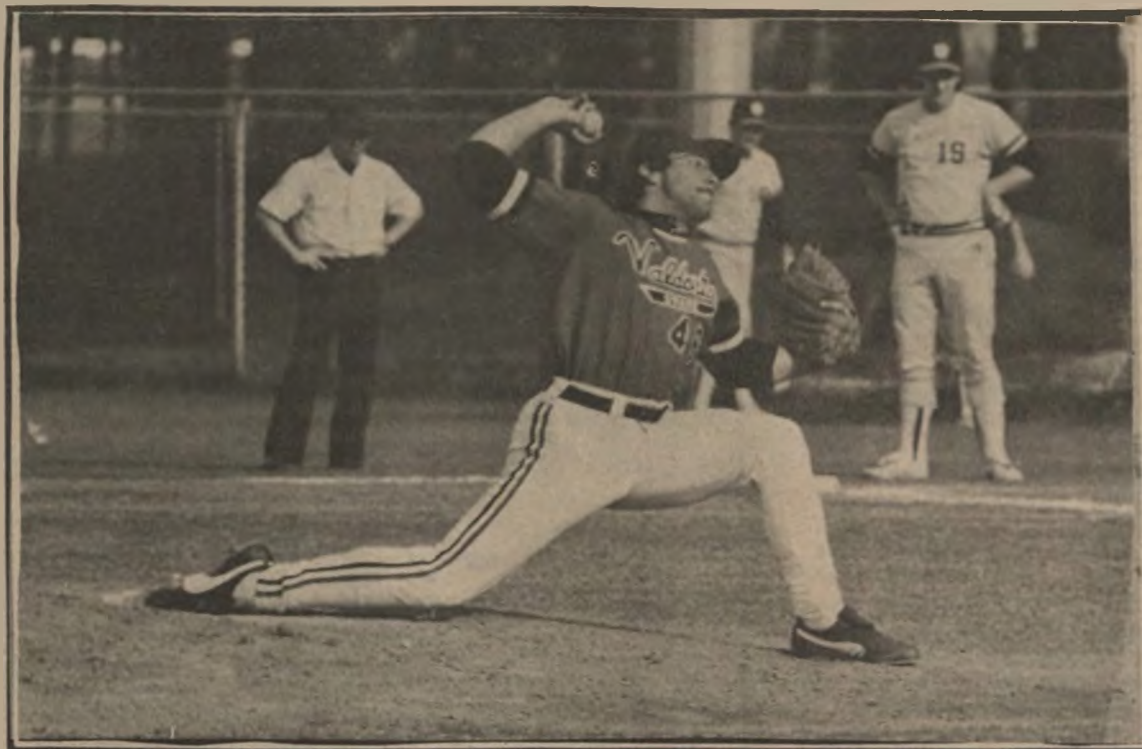

"I feel good about the wins. I don't care who they are or where they come from; to win three games over anybody with these scores serves as a confidence builder," he remarked.

Coach Thomas considers games in which the entire squad plays as vital.

The Blazers travel to Macon today (Wednesday) to take on the Mercer Bears. Wayne Fugett, who has proved to be the Blazers best mound force, will get the starting nod.

"Wayne is being scouted heavily by the pros. We'll face a tremendous challenge in Mercer, a team that has won the Trans American Conference (Division 1) for the past two years," Thomas observed.

The Blazers have gone several seasons without a win over Mercer in Macon. See the weeks schedule on this page for further games. Unwind after fians with your favorite flavor of Kool-aid and Blazer Baseball.

Rick "The Rock" DiNapoli; was credited with the win in Tuesdays 11-1 pouncing of Rose Hulman.

KD's are batgirls for tenth season

By Cil Kelley

Kappa Delta sorority members are again serving as batgirls for the 1982-83 Blazer Baseball season. The KD's were chosen for this honor in 1972.

The Batgirls for the 1982-83 season are Mary Pierce, Bunny Daley, Susan Madry, Jackie Johnson, Suzanne Jackson, Debbie Faircloth, Barbi Sandbach, Kim Baily, Lisa Zipperer, Suzanne Smith, Regina Procopio, Jackie Moyer.

Kelli Daniel, Karen Inman, Susan Bunn, and Sandra Gillis.

The KD's also help out in the press box. Scoreboard keepers for the Blazers are Tina Williams and Karen Parker. Announcing for the Blazers, for her second season, will be Cil Kelley.

Blazer first baseman Wayne Fugett shows he will go to any length for an out.

Blazer netters crush Jefferson

By Ralph Moore

Coach John Hansen's Blazer tennis team trounced Jefferson College in a practice match on Tuesday in preparation for today's matchup against St. Frances, scheduled for 2pm at the Blazer courts.

In singles action, VSC #1 seed David Ware downed Mike Bryant 6-0, 6-1. David Oechsle scored a win for the Blazers at #2 singles, crushing Chris Hilderbrandt 6-2, 6-3.

Blazer Greg Robson overtook Rob Hall in 3 sets, but teammate Ron Yancey fell to John Mercurio, 6-4, 6-1.

Richard Johnston, Tim Pitts, and John Lane also added wins.

David Oechsle has a chance to become VSC's only three-time All American (in any sport). David Ware also has a chance to repeat as All American.

"We're starting to come on stronger: especially some individuals are starting to play better. Ware had a hurt leg at the beginning of the season, and Oechsle has been injured, too," coach Hanson observes.

Invitations to nationals play is based on regional selection, according to a team's schedule and record. A team may qualify as a unit, or may go in groups of 4,2, or as an individual.

The South Atlantic Conference tournament will be held at West Georgia College, but the winner will not receive an automatic team bid.

The annual Inter-Fraternity Council Basketball Tournament was held Sunday at the VSC Field House. TKE, Pi Kappa Phi, Delta Chi, SAE, and the KA's vied for the championship title. Alpha Phi Alpha was scheduled to play but forfeited by not showing.

Tournament director David Reid said the event was a 'definite success' with all those participating enjoying themselves. The games started at 8:30 a.m. and lasted until 6:30 p.m.

In the first game, KA defeated the Pi Kapp's. The SAE's won the second game by a forfeiture over the Alpha Phi Alpha's. The TKE's had a bye in the first round, but were defeated by the KA's in the third game. Delta Chi, which also had a bye in the first round, was defeated in the fourth game by the SAE's.

The Alpha Phi Alpha's also forfeited their second game, thereby giving Pi Kappa Phi a win in the fifth game of the tournament. Delta Chi won over the TKE's in the sixth game knocking them out of contention for the title. In the seventh game, the SAE's were winners over the KA's and became champions of the winner's bracket. The Pi Kapp's were eliminated from the tournament by the Delta Chi's in the eighth game. This set up the championship game of the losers bracket between KA and Delta Chi. The KA's defeated the Delta Chi's and went on to lose the overall championship to the SAE's by the score of 45-39.

Paul Towle was the tournament's Most Valuable Player (SAE)

Intramural action intensifies

Intramural final four determined

by Brett Gaines

VSC Boys Intramurals tournament began Monday night with yet another scheduling change. Rescheduling was commonplace during the regular season, and the tournament was no exception.

Prior to Monday night's action, tournament brackets were switched to add to the confusion.

The first game saw the Net Doctors pitted against the Cats. The Cats played a gallant first half as they trailed by five to the favored Net Doctors.

But Carl Armstrong and Mark Murad led the Net Doctors in the second half to easily overcome the Cats. Armstrong led all scorers with 18. Bart Miller also contributed 10. Joel Jenkins led the Cats with 14.

James Snell and David Adams helped ROTC to an easy victory over the Free Agents. Snell and Adams contributed 15 and 13 respectively as ROTC took an early lead and held on for a 42 - 25 victory.

The undefeated Delta Chi team kept their record intact as they slipped past the BSU. The game was tight until the end of the first half when the Chi's took an 8 point lead.

BSU closed the gap early but was shut down with consecutive shooting. Preston led Chi's to a 47 - 42 win with 14 points. Point guard J. Howard contributed 11. Roy Wages and Arthur Gabel totaled 12 points each for the BSU.

Purple Force used Ker "Rag" Walton's 20 points to upset Oyster Bay. Oyster Bay had a 29-26 halftime lead, but was only able to score 12 points in the second stanza. Joe Munde and John Van Landingham tossed in 12 each as Oyster Bay lost its first game of the season.

Semifinals will be held on Wednesday night with ROTC squaring off against the Purple Force and the Net Doctors taking on the Delta Chi's. Finals will be played on Thursday night barring any schedule change.

There Will Be A Managers Meeting For Men's Softball Intramurals on Thursday, March 25th at 7:00 p.m. Upstairs In The College Union Building.

Only Teams Represented At The Meeting Will Be Allowed To Participate In Intramurals.

Please Check The Intramural Bulletin Board In The College Union For Any Changes.

Playoffs begin in women's basketball

By Rodney

As the final week of Women's Intramurals drew near the final four teams had made themselves known for the Tuesday night tournament. The teams and their rankings going into the tournament were as follows: 1. Foxxes, 2. ADPI, 3. ROTC, 4. KD. The teams received their rankings in what can be called a week of upsets. The previous week saw the powerful ROTC team fall twice, first at the hands of the ADPI's and second at the determined clutches of the Foxxes.

On Tuesday night the Lady Flyers put their 5-0 record on the line as they faced the ADPI's. At the onset one could see that the ADPI's came to play ball. They forced ROTC to make numerous errors on defense and wouldn't allow the offense of ROTC to get going. The game was tied numerous times throughout the contest but with 14 seconds left on the game and ROTC leading by a one point margin. Ginger Dale put in a 15 footer from the corner to give the ADPI's a one point lead. The Lady Flyers had one more chance but with four seconds left ROTC put up three shots all failed thus giving ROTC their first taste of defeat, 28-27.

This brought the league standings to a four-way tie as all of the top four teams were 5-1. The Foxxes were not to let this tie last very long as they took on ROTC in a Thursday night clash.

At the start of the game it seemed as though ROTC was ready to avenge their loss on Tuesday, but this was not to be. Although ROTC took a 16-10 halftime lead behind the scoring of Lori Clark, the Foxxes wouldn't give up. Behind by six points going into the fourth quarter, the Foxxes overcame their deficit with the clutch foul shots of Lisa Hill. ROTC led 30-28 with four seconds in regulation play. ROTC called a quick time out to set up for one last shot. They got the ball into their long range threat, Lisa McCellend. Her 30 footer was successful, necessitating overtime. In the overtime period, the two teams were only able to put in one field goal between them, but three clutch free throws by Lisa Hill put the game on ice as ROTC once again fell short, 35-32.

The two losses by ROTC made the Thursday night game between the powerful KD's and ROTC more important. The game would decide the first place team. ROTC were to win, the Foxxes would be number one, but a loss would give the top ranking to the KD's.

The game was a wide open affair as the Lady Flyers came to form in the first quarter, taking it to the Kappa Delta's behind the scoring of Faye McFarland.

The KD's overcame an eight point deficit in the third quarter, playing great defense and exploding on offense to outscore ROTC 12 to 5. The deciding factor was one field goal by Wilma Fagan in the fourth quarter, giving the Lady Flyers a two point advantage. The KD's don't give up though as a last second shot by Maggie Powell just fell short and ROTC took the decision 31-29.

Mr. Pythagoras returns to VSC

By James Hendricks

Students at Valdosta State College saw a familiar figure strolling the campus during Open Campus Day. The dark, hooded philosopher, Mr. Pythagoras, had returned to VSC for a brief visit, amid mixed reactions.

Philosophy student John Robbins, who portrays the mysterious numerologist, said the visiting high school seniors enjoyed the character while many VSC students heckled him.

Mr. Pythagoras originated as a joint venture between Robbins and a friend, Al Bernstein. Three years ago, Robbins and Bernstein were "sitting around, talking the numbers and devised a character around that." The character became well known at VSC last fall quarter. "He was mysterious," Robbins said. "Nobody knew who he was."

Bernstein and Robbins visited several classes with their "Mr. Pythagoras" act last year. Robbins was dressed as the hooded numerologist and Bernstein acted as his interpreter. "He was more into the numbers than I was," Robbins said. "But then, I devised the make-up of the costume and the character himself. That was my contribution."

Mr. Pythagoras' initial classroom appearance was before one of Dr. Richard Saeger's classes. "Dr. Saeger has an obsession against Richard Nixon," Robbins noted. "The first routine we did was to show how his hatred for Nixon was connected with the numbers." Other routines dealt with John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King, and Ronald Reagan.

Robbins said card tricks were among their best acts. "We'd read their minds," he said. "That kind of blew them away."

During last year's SGA executive elections, Robbins made a serious bid for the presidency. He said, "at the time I thought I, personally, could have done a good job as president." Although he is not against "having beers," he said he ran to make the point that "college life doesn't always revolve around a pitcher of beer, a fraternity, or being a preppie." There's a whole other side to college life.

Robbins said he was not disappointed in losing last year's election. He said, "we made Bobby Shannon scared. He first took it as a joke and then realized he couldn't. We got 400 votes. I'm glad now I'm not president. I don't really have time to do all the things I'd like as president."

Robbins mentioned one thing he would do differently if he were running the race again.

He said, "if we had it to do all over again, we wouldn't unveil him (Mr. Pythagoras). That was a mistake. The mystique has been lost."

"I really don't know what the current (SGA) administration is doing," Robbins said. "If I made one change, I'd make it more receptive to the student body." He added, "maybe they are more receptive and I'm not taking the time to see what they're doing."

According to Robbins, last year's college administration would not have been receptive to his ideas. He said, "last year I applied for editor of The Spectator and I was given a hard time because of the Mr. Pythagoras thing and because of The Other Side."

The Other Side was a campus newspaper published by Robbins and Bernstein. Robbins said they "tried to get students more involved with education and issues that concerned them not only at a collegiate level, or state level, or city level, but at a national level."

Financial problems caused The Other Side to fold. Robbins said, "we didn't want to sell any ads. One person, who will remain nameless, supported and funded the first issue." Contributions were received and the debt was paid, but there were no surplus funds for further printings.

Robbins has a better working relationship with the VSC administration now. He said, "I'm a student of the vice-president (Dr. Ronald Barnette) who's been instrumental in my college career. I work closely with him. Dr. Bailey (the President of VSC) seems to be more receptive to me now. I'm sure he would be open to any suggestions I, or any student, made."

Robbins next project will be to make a short film this summer with Bernstein, James Barton, and Steve Dixon. They made a movie based on a take-off of "Socrates Apology" last summer, but plan to use original material this time.

You can't ask for better navigator training than you can get from the United States Air Force. And you can't be better prepared to chart your own course for the future than through Air Force ROTC.

If you're a young person who can qualify for navigator training, you've got a good start. You can also compete for a scholarship that will provide financial assistance while you work on your degree.

After commissioning, your top-notch training will continue at Mather Air Force Base near Sacramento, where Air Force navigators are trained in the ultra-modern T-43 jet aircraft.

Following 33 weeks of intensive training, you'll be awarded the silver wings of an Air Force navigator. From there on, the sky's the limit.

Find out about AFROTC and the navigator program. Chart a secure future for yourself.

Phi Beta Sigma to hold smoker

The Phi Beta Sigma fraternity will be having a smoker on March 11 at 8:30 pm. This meeting will provide all interested men with an opportunity to ask questions regarding the purpose of Phi Beta Sigma and its ways of carrying out this purpose. One should note that attending this meeting places no obligation on anyone in any manner. For any further information please contact any one of the thirteen brothers that make up the Kappa Delta chapter of Phi Beta Sigma fraternity. These members are Ben Badie, Willie Carswell, Andre Carter, Tony Carter, Bruce Cooper, Jerry Jones, Dexter Odom, Calvin Raines, Darrell Robinson, Andrew Sadler, Aubrey Smith, Collie Williams, and Dennis Williams.

The chapter has been very busy and active during the first two quarters of the year. Fall quarter saw the initiation of five new members Ben Badie, Andre Carter, Bruce Cooper, Jerry Jones and Dennis Williams.

Fall quarter also brought Phi Beta Sigma twenty new sigma stars. The Sigma Stars are an affiliate of the fraternity. The stars volunteer their support during fund raising projects, trips to other campuses, and during greek shows. The 1981-82 Sigma Stars are: Janice Blackshear, Gloria Boone, Nelly Brantley, Wanda Culler, Valerie Foster, Robin Golden, Geneasha Gordan, Angie Hand, Cynthia Hart, Karen Johnson, Rita McDougall, Dianne Marshburn, Francoise Miliner, Debbie Netter, Constance Pitts, Patricia Slocum, Sonya Smith, and Alicia Wright.

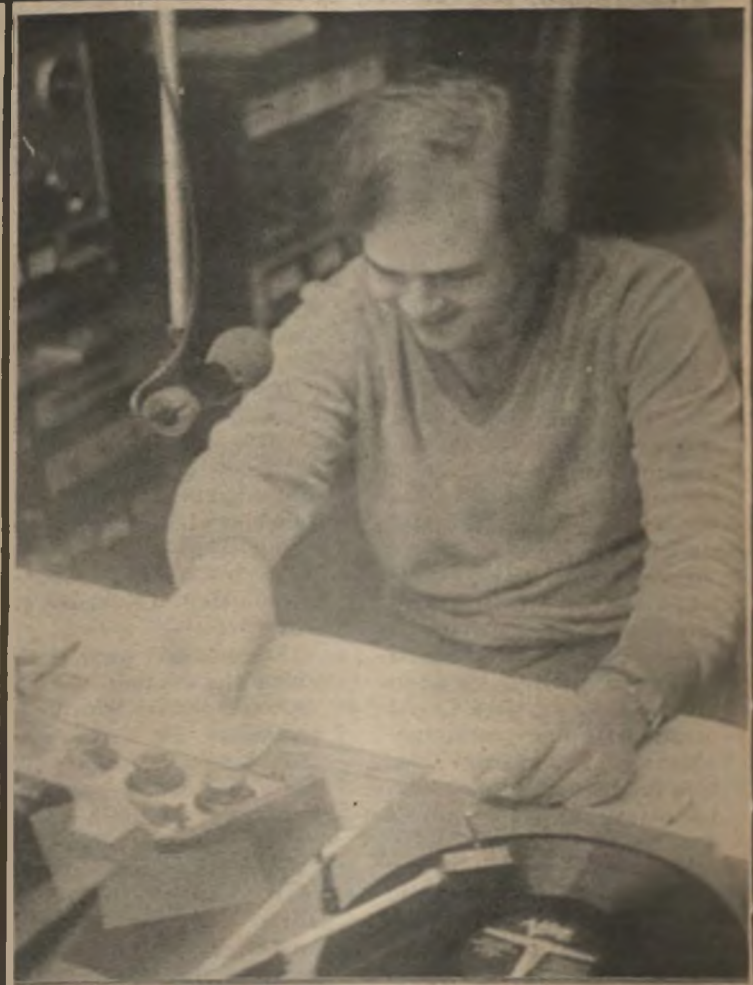

Winter quarter began with the sigmas sponsoring two lovely ladies in the Miss VSC pageant: Sonya Smith, 1st runner-up, and Harriet Madison, 2nd runner-up.

The brothers of Phi Beta

Sigma and the Sigma Stars often take trips to other campuses for social events or on business. Two of these trips were taken to Savannah for the state convention and recently to Albany for a state-wide workshop. Winter quarter ended with the Sigma basketball team finishing 3-3. The last event of this quarter was the sponsoring of Andre Carter and Collie Williams in the Mr. Ebony contest held by the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. Brother Carter was honored by winning.

Next quarter the sigmas have planned to initiate another elite group of men. Plans are also under way to celebrate the founding of Phi Beta Sigma on the VSC campus, and they look forward to receiving their charter.

Spring quarter promises to be an exciting one for the Sigmas, their stars, their sister sorority Zeta Phi Beta, and all who support the cause of Phi Beta Sigma.

SAE celebrates Parent and Founders Day

This past weekend, Sigma Alpha Epsilon held its Parent and Founders Day Celebration. There was a get-together with the brothers, pledges, and parents at the SAE house on Friday.

Saturday, there was a banquet buffet at the Valdosta Country Club. We were honored with a speech from our Eminent Supreme Deputy Archon, Johnny Warren.

At the banquet, several awards were presented: Brother of the year, Mark Walker; Pledge of the year, Mills Herndon; Scholastic award, Mac Hall; Athlete of the year, Wayne Holleman; Spirit award, Eric Earhart; and Alumni of the year, Mac McClan.

Many alumni attended this event, and it provided an excellent weekend for all those who were involved.

From wilderness to city

Georgia offers variety for Spring

Georgia Department of Industry and Trade

Ah, Spring! Spring Break, that is. This eagerly awaited respite from the rigors of academe can be more than just a few days' freedom from classes. Georgia offers the makings of very special mini-vacations that score high on fun and low on dollars--two key tests, as far as college students are concerned.

When the last exams are taken and all special projects turned in, those who take a break in Georgia can look to refreshing days ahead. Here are some tips on great Georgia getaways to try.

Diehard beachcombers will love Brunswick and the Golden Isles--Jekyll Island, St. Simons and Sea Island. After all, it like Rockefeller, Crane, Macy and Goodyear still stand. Most have been restored, and it is interesting to see what "roughing it" was like for the very rich.

There's more to see on nearby St. Simons and Sea Island: the Lighthouse and Museum of Coastal History; Fort Frederica National Monument, an 18th century British fort; historic Christ Church (c. 1736); and the beautiful homes of Sea Island residents.

An unforgettable sidetrip for nature lovers is an excursion to Cumberland Island National Seashore, where some of coastal Georgia's most breathtaking natural beauty can be seen. A Cumberland adventure begins at the town arrangements with the National Park Service to camp on the island. There is no charge for camping, and comfort stations and drinking water are provided but campers must bring all their own food and supplies. Greyfield Inn, a comfortable old mansion of polished floors, panelled rooms and lovely antiques, offers more elegant accommodations.

The Cumberland ferry leaves St. Marys at 9:15 a.m. and 1:45 p.m., and makes its return trips at 12:15 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. daily except Tuesday and Wednesday. The trip costs $2 and reservations are required. Call 912/882-4335.

Campus dwellers who really want to get away from it all can do just that on a trip into one of Georgia's fascinating wilderness areas. Everyday concerns fade away as familiar routines and surroundings are left behind for new and exciting experiences.

Adventurous sorts who like the idea of such an experience, but don't know how to begin, might consider joining an escorted expedition sponsored by an expert wilderness outfitter. One such organization is Wilderness Southeast, a Savannah-based non-profit educational organization that boasts a staff of well-trained, experienced guides. Trip fees include comfortable tents, good food, safety equipment and all necessary permits and arrangements. Each participant must provide (or rent from Wilderness Southeast for a nominal charge) a sleeping bag, foam sleeping pad, daypack and waterproof duffel bag.

Wilderness Southeast's 1982 calendar offers some 30 scheduled trips. Here are two that are good possibilities for a memorable Spring Break:

Okefenokee Swamp/Canoe, March 26-28. Yes, there are alligators --- and hawks, ibis, vultures, frogs, turtles, wildflowers, cypress forests, and much, much more to see while canoeing on the clear, dark waters of this peaceful and mysterious wilderness. Participants camp in the swamp and on private land just outside the wilderness during this trip.

Wassaw Island, Basecamp/Hike, April 2-4. Campers can swim, hike, fish with nets, gather oysters, and beachcomb on explorations of this island's beaches and marshes.

Since some trips fill far in advance, reservations should be made as early as possible. Complete details on these and other 1982 expeditions are available from Wilderness Southeast, 9521 Whitfield Avenue, Savannah, Georgia 31406; telephone 912/355-8008.

Atlanta, southeastern pace-setter in commerce and finance, is also a leader in the fine art of Fun. This city boasts two of the most fun-filled recreation centers anywhere.

Six Flags Over Georgia is a fantastic amusement park filled with sensational rides and lively shows and attractions. The great new thrill at Six Flags this year is "Thunder River," a white water rafting adventure so much like the real thing that the American Canoe Association is eager to use it for national competition. During the spring season, Six Flags is open Saturdays and Sundays March 6-April 4 and April 24-May 30. The park is open daily April 5-18 for the Easter holidays.

Downtown Atlanta offers plenty of opportunities for sightseeing. Comprehensive listings of Atlanta area attractions, restaurants, and special events are published regularly in weekend editions of Atlanta newspapers and in complimentary guides found in many hotels and motels. Admission prices to most attractions are in the $2-3 range and many are free.

Shrimp boats at St. Simons was this area's desirable climate and sunny, breezy beaches that attracted some of the world's wealthiest (and choosiest) families during their search for a secluded vacation retreat back in the 1880's.

One hundred millionaires built their exclusive club on Jekyll Island, and although lavish "cottages" were the norm for this distinguished group, today's students will find that Jekyll offers a wide variety of reasonable accommodations from which to choose.

Jekyll's recreational opportunities are abundant, too. The island's wide sandy beaches are just right for sunning, shelling and playing in the surf. Tennis and golf enthusiasts should be sure to pack their rackets and clubs--there are nine tennis courts and 64 great holes of golf.

Bikers will find that cycling around the island is lots of fun, and a great way to tote a picnic lunch to some pleasant shady spot. Many motels have rental bikes available for guests.

Whether biking or driving, a "must" stop on any tour of Jekyll is Millionaires' Village, a haven for wealthy vacationers from 1886 to 1942. The rambling clubhouse and "cottages" that bear names of St. Marys (about 1 and a half hours' drive south of Jekyll) where visitors board a ferry for a pleasant 45 minute trip to the island. There, they can hike a two mile palmetto-lined trail past moss-draped live oaks, jungle-like vegetation and many species of birds and other wildlife. Near the end of the trail are the imposing ruins of the 18th and 19th century Dungeness mansions.

Those who wish to stay overnight on Cumberland have a choice of two places to stay. Outdoors enthusiasts can make

Biological Society holds final meeting

The Biological Society held its final meeting of the quarter on Feb. 25.

Faculty advisors for the group will be: Dr. William H. Cribbs, Dr. Walter G. Brannen, Mr. William H. Bridges, Jr. and Mr. Hugh K. McIntyre.

A barbecue at Lake Louise has been tentatively set for the second weekend of spring quarter.

An election of officers was also held. They are Ken Leggett, Valdosta, president; Jerry Lee, Augusta, vice-president; Ellen Eanes, Valdosta, treasurer; and Susie Sims, Madison, FL, secretary.

Zeta Phi Beta forms new interest group

By Vernessia Simmons

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., has formed a new interest group according to Soror Shirley Thomas.

The majority of the group was sworn in March 1 and consists of nine members. They include Brenda Grant, Faye Truitt, Ella (Penny) Reynolds, Sandra Floyd, Katrina Jones, Annie Shannon, Sheila Wilcox, and Cheryl Johnson.

The interest group will perform several functions. They will help with Zeta fund raising, service projects, dances and get to attend most of the Zeta functions.

This past weekend, some of the members traveled to Columbus, Ga., along with the Zetas to visit the Zetas and Sigmas of Columbus College.

Anyone interested in joining the Zeta Interest Group should contact either Shirley Thomas or Wilma Fagan.
