If you will ask someone to give me a copy of this portion of Dr. Mitchell's will I will be glad to consider it. I would like to see the exact language of the bequest. I have a general idea that where the institution specifically named ceases to exist there can be an application of the doctrine of cy pres, but I really would like to give some specific study to the matter in the light of the exact legacy before trying to give an answer.

My dear Chancellor:

As you know, one-fourth of the funds devised for the education of young men and women in the vicinity of Columbus and Muscogee County by Dr. Thomas E. Mitchell was granted to the Georgia State Teachers College. The Georgia State Teachers College, by an act of the Board of Regents, no longer exists, and it occurs to me that the direction of its proportionate part of that fund creates a question with which the Board of Regents must deal. I am wondering if they would not have the power to award it to the Georgia State Womans College. Columbus is just about the same distance from Valdosta as from Athens, and most of the students outside of Columbus who have received the benefit of that fund were from the region south of Columbus and nearer Valdosta than Athens. We have at present one or two students from Columbus and would have had others if they could have financed themselves. If this money were directed to this school, it would afford a very great help to very many students in this region.

Besides, the University in a few years will not need that fund as it already has loan funds prospectively so large that in a few years they will become an embarrassment to the University itself. Why not let us have that proportion of the Mitchell fund?

With best wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

*Dear Mamma's -
what do you think of this suggestion?*

TO THE HEADS OF INSTITUTIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM:

Gentlemen:

The letter which is quoted here was received from President Browning of Middle Georgia College:

"Your letter of the 20th enclosing copy of letter sent you by Rev. C. M. Coalson received. I appreciate the suggestions received from that letter.

It might be well for me to state our method of handling the religious life of the campus. The pastors of the town lead chapel once a week. Sometimes these are interesting and sometimes they are not. I find the longer the preacher holds his charge the more uninteresting the exercises become. The students attend Sunday School and Church every Sunday morning. Classes are organized for the students and where good teachers can be secured from the city they are preferred by the faculty, since the students are instructed by the faculty six times a week. At the beginning of the school the Sunday Schools of the community have a reception at the church for the faculty and the students. Once a year a special effort is made to have the students invited into the homes of the citizens of the town for Sunday dinner.

Every Sunday evening immediately after the meal the religious organizations of the campus meet. All meet in the chapel first where they have a short combined interesting programme, then the members of the various churches retire to their respective rooms and study and render programmes in the auxiliaries of their church. The Baptist have three or four B.Y.P.U.'s, the Methodist have several leagues, etc. These various organizations are affiliated with their state organizations. Last year the Baptist Student Union of the state held their annual session for two days at Middle Georgia College. We have prayer meetings on Wednesday evenings. All of these religious meetings are promoted by the students under the advice of the faculty members.

Yours truly,

Leo. H. Browning

ITEM 10 (A) of the Will of

Dr. Thomas E. Mitchell.

One of such parts I give, bequeath and devise in trust to the Trustees of the University of Georgia, in trust to use the net income, issues and profits derived therefrom, according to the best judgment of the Trustees of the University of Georgia, to assist poor, worthy and deserving students, who may be bona fide residents of Georgia, in obtaining an education at the University of Georgia at Athens, or at one of its branches, to-wit, the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta, Georgia, the State Normal School, at Athens, Georgia, and the State College for Women, at Milledgeville, Georgia, and in paying the expenses of said students while obtaining such education at the University of Georgia, or at any one of its mentioned branches. In the use and application of the revenue of said trust fund by the Trustees of the University of Georgia, it is my will and desire that the same be allotted as equitably as possible in the judgment of said Trustees, to the University at Athens, and to each one of the three mentioned branches of the University of Georgia. The corpus of said trust fund bequeathed to the Trustees of the University shall, whenever changed from the original securities in which invested and delivered to said Trustees by my Executor, be invested in bonds of the State of Georgia, or any subdivision thereof. It is my desire, without in any way making my wish obligatory upon said Trustees of the University of Georgia, that students resident of Columbus, Georgia, shall have the preference in the use of said trust fund, and next thereafter students resident of the section of Georgia in which Columbus is located, and lastly, students resident in other sections of Georgia; and it is further my desire, that said Trustees lend the income of said trust fund to worthy students and take from them interest bearing notes, payable on easy terms, since it is my opinion that such a method of assisting students by loans is better adapted to the formation of character than to make absolute gifts to such students. ^{Wherein} ~~Wherein~~ said Trustees of the University of Georgia may lend the income of the trust property to worthy students, the interest and income of such loans shall be added to, and become a part of the corpus of the trust. It is my will that the fund and property herein bequeathed to the Trustees of the University of Georgia shall be known as the Thomas E. Mitchell Educational Fund of the University of Georgia."

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

T. W. REED, REGISTRAR

October 4, 1933.

Honorable Marion Smith,
Atlanta, Georgia.

Dear Marion:

I received this morning a request from Chancellor Weltner to furnish you with that portion of the will of Dr. Thomas E. Mitchell relating to the scholarship fund, the income from which went to the Georgia State Teachers College.

I am enclosing that item of the will as requested. Under the direction of the Board of Trustees, the income from this trust was apportioned one-fourth each to the Georgia School of Technology, the Georgia State College for Women, the University proper, and the State Normal School. The loans were made by the Trustees of each school. In the case of the State Normal School, later on the Georgia State Teachers College, the loans were approved by the Trustees of that institution and on the delivery of the students' notes to me as Treasurer I issued to the school the money to cover the notes. The repayments when they were made were credited principal and interest to the Georgia State Teachers College Mitchell Fund, so that as they accumulated they would be invested and the interest therefrom would be added to the one-fourth distributed from the parent fund. This is in line with the Brown Fund idea that all principal and interest be added to the corpus of the fund so that where the borrowers in one institution pay back more promptly than in another that institution would get a corresponding benefit from the income on its own repayments.

I thought I would give you these side facts as you might wish them in studying the question you have in hand.

With best regards, I am

Yours sincerely,

Registrar.

Dear Philip:

I enclose a letter to me from Mr. Reed enclosing a copy of item 10-a of the will of Dr. Thos. E. Mitchell.

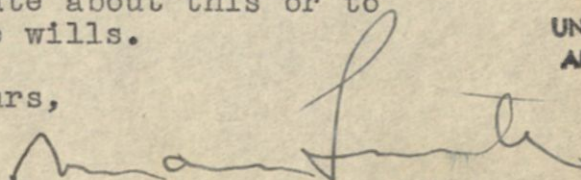

The language of this will in my opinion clarifies and simplifies the problem heretofore propounded. The following is my construction of the item:

1st: The principal of the trust fund, together with such accumulations as may be added to the principal, constitutes one trust fund. The apportionment of the fund referred to in Mr. Reed's letter should be regarded as a step taken for administrative convenience only and not as effecting a legal severance of a portion of the fund.

2nd: The will requires that the net income be used according to the judgment of the trustees in aiding students at four designated institutions. This income is to be allotted as equitably as possible in the judgment of the trustees to students at these four institutions. One of the designated institutions has ceased to exist. The trustees will, therefore, have a certain income which they are obligated to allot to students at the other three designated institutions, the allotment to be as equitably as possible. In my opinion the trustees would not be authorized to allot any part of the income to students elsewhere.

Had Dr. Mitchell known that other branches of the University would be established, or that one of the branches designated by him would be discontinued, it is entirely possible he might have made other provisions. I do not think we are at liberty to speculate about this or to attempt by construction to rewrite wills.

Very truly yours,

TO THE HEADS OF INSTITUTIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF GEORGIA

Gentlemen:

The following letter was received this morning from President Guy H. Wells:

"We have just had Dr. George W. Carver of Tuskegee for an hour's address at the chapel period and he showed what he had done in creating wealth for our Southland. It was the most inspiring message we have ever had at the college. You have heard of crowds thronging a man and I saw it on the campus today. The students hung around him and people came from a distance to see and hear him. It took him an hour to get away after finishing his address.

The thought came to me that a man of his type should be used by us more than he is. We paid $50 for his lecture in cooperation with Hubert of Savannah who paid $50. If I had secured him by myself, as I will Durant next week, I would have paid him $100.

I believe there should be a live committee from the schools in the University System to arrange cooperative programs among the schools and get these outstanding people during the year. If you think well of this I hope you will start a movement whereby we can get the best things without so much expense to any school."

Please let me have your views in regard to the suggestion made and how in your opinion this can best be handled.

Re: 1934-35 catalog

I deem it essential that "Aims and Objectives" be pushed to their logical conclusion and a general agreement be reached as to curricula for the next academic year before preparation of a catalog is too far advanced. I would like to see your college get out a readable publication that would give the student some idea as to what she may expect by attending your institution. For the most part it seems to me catalogs are rather indigestible material.

I think Guy has made a good suggestion, but for the present year at least a committee of that kind would hardly be helpful to us as we have absolutely no funds budgeted for purposes of that kind, and furthermore, we have no fitting place for entertainments of any kind. Our need for an auditorium is great.

Stokes has shown me your reply to his letter and the copies of letters you sent to Dr. McPherson and Guy Wells. I was glad to see both. I think they clarify, although they do not diminish, our problems here. It seems to me also that they indicate that you and our group are not so very far apart in our objectives. Possibly we have taken in too much territory to be covered in a four-year scheme, but nevertheless, it seems to me that our basic ideas are the same.

After reading your letters, I have advised the committee, for the present, at least, to cease working along the lines to which they are giving attention and to begin upon their syllabi. This is going to be a great task for the teachers of the various departments, inasmuch as it involves so much selection and rejection of material to reduce the fields to workable scope. This is a work that must be very carefully and critically done, but it will go forward here earnestly, if slowly. These teachers are working and desire nothing so much as to have your approval of that work when it is done.

I especially enjoyed your reply to Dr. McPherson and feel that you were right in every particular.

There will be a meeting of the Council of the University System in January '34. We are accepting the invitation of Dr. Beeson to meet at the Georgia State College for Women.

The business to be transacted is the adoption of aims and objectives for the first two years of college work, a statement of curricular content responsive to such aims and objectives, the creation of necessary machinery to prepare adequate syllabi, texts and references in support of such statement, and major decisions involved in putting the completed program into operation.

The Presidents of the schools will be expected to be present. I would like to know at this time who else you think should be on hand.

My dear Chancellor:

I have your note of December 13, and appreciate it to the utmost. I have been out of the hospital now for a week and am almost ready to resume work. The school has been going very smoothly, and I hope my absence has not been especially noticeable to either teachers or students. They all have been as fine as they could be. I think your characterization of the faculty as a "splendid organization" is nothing but just.

I join you in the hope that you may come to see us before a great while, and when you do, please let it be understood that we are to entertain you in our home.

By the way, work is rapidly going forward on parking the little forest area at the south end of our campus, and I have hopes that we may get the highway department to pave the roads on the campus. We are making application also for work on the little forested area on the north end of the campus. I would like to have all the undergrowth cleared out and grass sod started so that the beautiful piece of forestry could be used at all times by the students. It is a beautiful piece of long leaf pine, and with grass sod taking the place of wire-grass scrub there, it would greatly enhance the looks of our campus.

Again thanking you for your note, I am,
