To International Relations Clubs of Georgia:

The Georgia State Conference of International Relations Clubs will be held February 13-14 on the Emory University campus. We here at Emory hope that every club in the Conference will be able to send delegates to this year's meeting.

The schedule for the Conference has been tentatively arranged as follows:

Church School Building
- 12:00-1:00 p.m. - Lunch, University Cafeteria
- 1:00-2:00 - Opening session (CSB)
- 2:00-4:50 - Panel reports and discussions (CSB)
- 6:30-7:30 - Dinner, Assembly Room, CSB
Address: "The United Nations and The General Assembly" by Mr. Morgan Man, British Consul in Atlanta
- SATURDAY

- 10:00-10:50 - Presentation of panel reports to the general conference
- 11:00-12:00 - Final session. Election of officers

The panel topics are listed below and your club is requested to submit a paper on the topic checked. These papers, which will be read Friday afternoon, should be turned in upon registering.

- Topics:
1. Should Congress adopt the Marshall Plan as presented by the Administration?
 - ✓ 2. Where will the Truman Doctrine lead us?
 3. What should be the policy of the United States regarding aid to China?
 4. What should U.S. policy be with reference to Palestine

A registration fee of $2.50 per delegate will be required in order to cover expenses of the dinner Friday evening. Arrangements are being made to provide rooms for delegates for Friday evening. Men will stay at Emory, women at Agnes Scott College. Definite notice of these arrangements will be given at the time of registration. Dormitory facilities will be available for two delegates from each club, but others are of course invited to attend the sessions.

In order to make definite arrangements for the Friday dinner, it is of great importance that each club notify John Dickinson, Box 169, Emory University, Ga., as soon as possible of the number of delegates expected to attend the conference from that school.

If further information is desired please write Hal Lee Dean, 1224 Albemarle Ave., N.E., Atlanta, Georgia.

The Emory I.R.C. will be happy to welcome you to its campus.

Sincerely yours,

Hal Lee Dean
