President Powell stated this morning that he has his hands upon the faculty and that contracts with the teachers will be made at a moment's notice. He has been waiting to find out definitely when the school will open and to put the matter before the board of trustees, so as to have their approval and cooperation in all the steps which he is taking for the college.

He says that he has already had applications for more pupils than can be accommodated and he also has applications from pupils who want to enter the summer school this year though, of course, no summer school will be taught this year.

On account of the lack of dormitory room, and the congested conditions of the school the first year or two, the trustees have decided to open the school only to girls until later on when both sexes will be taken.

President Powell stated this morning that he has applications from teachers all over the United States, but he prefers to employ Southern teachers where everything is equal, because they understand conditions in this section better than other teachers could understand them.

The school is to be a high-grade Normal College and will, in the course of a very short while, become one of the most important educational institutions in the South.

The contractors have assured the building committee that they can put 100 brick layers on the building at one time, as the walls are to be very long and only about 25 feet high, and that the school will be completed some time in September, so that it can be opened along about the time that the other colleges open their fall terms.

The heating contract was let yesterday afternoon to I. D. Morgan, of Tifton, for $2,500. The plumbing is included in the contract which was let to Holiday and Crouse for the erection of the building. They will probably sublet the contract for plumbing.

Mr. W. L. Converse, who is a member of the board of trustees, states that the state has only $22,000 to spend at present and that $15,000 more will be needed at once. He wants the citizens to provide that amount of money, or for the city to borrow it and pay it to the board of trustees.

He took the matter up yesterday afternoon with Mayor Roberts and some of the councilmen and they assured him that the city was willing to do that if he could find anybody who had the money to loan. Mr. Converse offered to put up the collateral upon the pledge of the city to guarantee him against loss, and it seems to be the disposition of the councilmen to meet him on that proposition. Mr. Converse has advertised in today's paper offering to borrow that much money for Divides the Estate with Children.

Mr. H. D. Mathis, a prominent citizen of Cecil, in Bertin county, recently decided that he was tired of paying taxes and worrying his mind over his large estate in that county, so he decided to divide it among his children and let them bear the burdens themselves.

He therefore summoned all of them to come to his home on a sort of family reunion and while there he gave each of them a deed to a seventh interest in the estate. The property which he divided among his children is worth $45,000, so the share of each was about $6,500.

The heirs who profited by the division are J. L. Mathis, of Valdosta, Mrs. J. N. Swindle, of Valdosta, J. E. Mathis, of Lake City, T. F. Mathis, W. H. Mathis, of Cecil, and Misses Eva and Lena Mathis of Cecil. After dividing this amount with his children, Mr. Mathis retains enough to keep the wolf away from his own door as long as his life lasts and will leave some property for the children after he is gone.

three years on good terms. Mr. Converse hopes that some moneyed man will come forward and let the city have the money. He thinks that some good citizen ought to have patriotism enough to help out in a matter which means so much for the town, for the section and for the rising generation.

President Powell has the reputation of being the best educational organizer in Georgia and he has gone to work for the Valdosta college with the kind of enthusiasm that is bound to succeed.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE NOR- MAL COLLEGE

President Powell Deluged With Applications

HE HAS A CORPSE OF EXCEL-LENT TEACHERS SELECTED FOR THE WORK TO BEGIN
HERE NEXT SEPTEMBER.

The contractors who were in Valdosta yesterday bidding on the work of constructing the dormitory for the South Georgia Normal and Agricultural College declared that the building will be the handsomest building of the kind they have ever seen. These contractors say that the general plans for this college will make it the best institution in the South in a very few years, provided the board of trustees build up to the plans which have been agreed upon.

The building which is to be erected right away will cost $50,000. It will have a frontage of 248 feet on Patterson street and will be built "L" shape, a large wing extending back from one end. The walls will be 726 feet around and the building will accommodate over 150 pupils.

The board of trustees hope that the next legislature will make an appropriation sufficient for them to begin work on the other building right away. This will mean an expenditure of $93,000 for the building, and the furnishings will run the amount up to about $100,000. This building, will be used as a college and dormitory until more room is provided.

President Powell stated this morning that he has his hands upon the faculty and that contracts with the teachers will be made at a moment's notice. He has been waiting to find out definitely when the school will open and to put the matter before the board of trustees, so as to have their approval and cooperation in all the steps which he is taking for the college.

He says that he has already had applications for more pupils than can be accommodated and he also has applications from pupils who want to enter the summer school this year. Though, of course, no summer school will be taught this year.

SCARBORO CASE A MISTRIAL

Former Moultrie Boy Is Not Likely to Be Tried Again.

One of the hardest fought legal battles ever fought in Albany came to naught Saturday night when a mistrial was declared in the Frank Scarboro case from Tifton.

The jury failed to reach a verdict after wrestling with the question from 12:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and at 8:30 at night Judge Emory Speer declared a mistrial and dismissed the jury.

The defendant, Frank Scarboro, while now under the same bond as before the trial, is not liable to come to trial again. A remark of Judge Speer in dismissing the jury was taken by those in the court room to indicate this.

The charges against Scarboro were to the effect that he had issued certificates of the First National Bank of Tifton, while he was cashier of that institution, without authority of the board of directors, and with intent to defraud the bank, and that he had made false entries on the books of the institution and in the reports to the comptroller of the currency with intent to deceive. The penalty provided by law for such an offense is five to ten years in the penitentiary.

There was deep concern felt here in the outcome of the case and general satisfaction with the result.

Young Scarboro was little more than a child when he was put in charge of the Tifton bank, where conditions were difficult to make the business go. He was trying to pull his institution through a panic when the false entries were made, and it was not shown that he ever profited personally by his acts. The court seemed to appreciate the fact and it was referred to in the judge's charge to the jury.—Moultrie Observer.

One Rather Important Case Will Come up for Hearing at Session. Echols superior court will convene at Statesville tomorrow and Judge W. E. Thomas will go down from here early in the morning to preside. Several of the local lawyers are also expected to attend.

It is said that the docket is a light one, and not a great many cases will come up for a hearing, though one important case may be put back upon the docket if the court consents.

It is the case of the Citizens Bank and A. G. Garbutt, vs L. J. Barnes, et al, in a suit for damages of $25,000 for cutting timber on lands belonging to the plaintiffs.

It is said that the defendants in the case have been represented by a young man who recently hung out his shingle at Statesville for the practice of law, but who later appeared to be without any legal training, and had never been admitted to the bar. It seems that he did not know how to file an answer to the suit and the case became very much tangled on that account.

It is understood that Messrs. Johnson and Little, of this city, have been employed to represent the defendants and they will make an effort to have the case appear properly before the court and be entered upon the docket.

It is said that the alleged young lawyer has left Statesville and it is probable that he will be prosecuted for cheating and swindling, as well as for contempt of court if he is caught.

During the hot nights of the past week C. W. Wilson, of Meigs, decided to lay his cot upon the floor and seek repose there. Having comfortably settled himself on his cool bunk, he stretched out his hand and felt an object on the side of the bed which caused a very long and prolonged yell from the gentleman.

When the neighbors and family had come in response to the alarm, he managed to get a light and found a rattlesnake which had evidently crawled into the house to spend the night. The gentleman decided not

PROF. POWELL HAS ARRIVED IN VALDOSTA

Is Laying Plans for Opening New College

HE IS CONFIDENT THAT THE SCHOOL WILL HAVE MORE PUPILS THAN IT CAN ACCOMMODATE THE FIRST TERM.

President A. H. Powell, of the South Georgia Normal College reached this city yesterday and will remain here in the future. His family will arrive before long and will occupy the residence of Mr. D. M. Smith on the corner of Patterson street and North avenue, formerly occupied by the family of Mr. C. K. Howell.

Professor Powell will get busy at once making arrangements for the opening of the college here next January. He will supervise the finishing up of the building and will give his time to a large amount of correspondence with those who contemplate entering the school.

Professor Powell has had assurance that the college will be taxed to its full capacity from the very beginning and many who would enter it will be turned away. The capacity of the school will be very limited, as the dormitory which is now being built will have to be used as both a dormitory and a school building.

President Powell thinks that quite a large number of pupils will come here and board in the city if they can get board at reasonable rates. If they cannot get board here the school will be able to take only those who can be accommodated in the dormitory building.

The work on the dormitory is progressing very rapidly and there is no doubt that the building will be completed some time before it is needed and that the school will be able to open on the first of January.

Prof. Powell will be able to announce his full corps of teachers in a short while and he expects to have the co-operation of some of the teachers in making his preliminary plans for the opening of the college.

The plans for the completed college are going to make it the most imposing institution in the South. It is to be built little by little, but on a design which is already agreed upon. The next building to be erected will be another dormitory and the third building will be the college proper. After that other buildings will be added so as to make the college one of the greatest institutions of learning in the country, and one of which every Georgian may be proud.

PAINT PUT-ON. Think of paint put-on and not by the gallon. A gallon of paint in the can is of no account to anybody. Put it on. Now reckon its cost and value. The secret is: one paint goes twice as far as another. A good one goes twice as far as a bad one. You have a job, say an average job. It'll take 10 gallons Devco and 13 or 15 or 18 or 20 of middling poor and trash. You know painter's wages in your town. Put the price of a gallon of paint and the painter's day-wage together. You can, we can't. Devco costs less than any inferior paint; there are hundreds of them. One paint is as good as another, so long as it lasts good; one lasts months and another years; the one that goes furthest lasts longest. DEVCO. W. H. Briggs Hardware Co., sells it.

Has a Flowing Artesian Well. Mr. Orrin Hightower recently bored an artesian well on his land a mile west of Valdosta, and at a depth of 100 feet he struck a splendid stream of sulphur water, which flows up from the pipe without having to be pumped. It is the only flowing well in this section. Mr. Hightower says that the water is of the best sulphur and that he considers it a godsend to his place.

MONEY FOR THE NEW COLLEGE IN VALDOSTA

City Council Meets to Figure on Getting it

EFFORTS WILL BE MADE TO SECURE AN ADVANCE OF $15,000 TO INSURE THE FULL SIZE DORMITORY.

The mayor and council had an informal meeting yesterday afternoon to consider the matter of getting $15,000 to turn over to the board of trustees of the South Georgia Normal and Agricultural College, to be used on the dormitory, for which a contract was let day before yesterday.

Mr. W. L. Converse appeared before the mayor and councilmen and stated that the board of trustees had only about $35,000 which they can lay their hands on at once and that the building which they propose to build will cost $50,000. Mr. Converse stated that unless the mayor and councilmen and the citizens of Valdosta can get up the other $15,000 that the size of the building will have to be cut down to conform to the money on hand.

The proposition was for the mayor and council to try to borrow this money and pay it back out of the funds which the city has promised to give the college each year for ten years.

Mr. Converse stated that he would be willing to furnish the collateral which the city could put up to secure the money, or he would borrow it and let the city have it, provided the city would protect him against loss by giving him a moral obligation to pay over to him for three years the $5,000 which it has promised the school.

Mayor Roberts suggested that in view of the fact that the city has promised to make the payments to the school each year that he thought it would be better for the board of trustees to give Mr. Converse an order on the city for the amount and the city will accept the order, thus making the matter legal and at the same time securing Mr. Converse.

The whole object is to get enough money to build the full size dormitory right away. The trustees of the school are going to try to get the legislature at its next session to increase its appropriation so that the other dormitory can be built at once. The two dormitories will accommodate about 300 pupils.

After they have been built, the next step will be the appropriation for the erection of the college building proper, but until that time one of the dormitories will be used as a school building.

The city attorney was requested to draw up a resolution putting this agreement in legal form so that Mr. Converse may present it to the board of trustees at their meeting in Atlanta next Monday. It is thought that the trustees will be glad to have the matter take that course, as it will enable them to use the money right away.

It is generally understood that Mr. Converse is acting in the matter with the knowledge of the trustees, who have already given their tacit approval of the steps which he has taken.

FIGHT ON BLIND TIGERS.

Blind Tigers Who Sell to Minors Are Giving Much Trouble.

Atlanta, April 17.—The Atlanta police board has decided to begin a hard fight against the blind tigers who sell whisky to boys under age. Of course, all blind tigers will be prosecuted when caught, but it has been announced henceforth that whenever a man is convicted of selling whisky to a minor in Atlanta he will be given the full chain-gang sentence with no alternative of paying a fine.

This decision was brought about by the numerous cases recently in which very young boys have been found drunk on the streets.

ON POST-COMMENT

HEADQUARTERS AND VERY CAUSTIC AND FROM THE RESULT IN GREAT TO NAPOLEON'S

New Jersey governor's most partisans have thrown up... Wilson organization staked... frankly announced that... condition precedent to the... room anywhere.

Wilson's downfall. Wilson's downfall. Wilson's downfall.

AGOGUES!

JUDSON! WHO WOULD BE THE REAL PRESIDENT IF THE MAN I NAMED WAS ELECTED?

YOU AND YOUR PAPERS SIR!

by the Wilson campaign teacher and Candidates Un-

Wilson himself, the Wilson organization fought with the desperation of despair—fought to hold together a movement far-reaching in its scheduled consequence.

And with all of that, the campaign failed miserably. Georgia would not stand for Wilson or the forces behind Wilson's ambition.

The Real Fight. Back of the Wilson effort in Georgia—and this Georgians realized full well—there was much that had precious little to do with Wilson or the presidency of the United States.

Clumsily concealed behind the New Jersey man's candidacy, the old Hoke Smith machine was battling for its life and future effectiveness.

Ancient grievances, like ghouls from a graveyard of blighted hopes, stalked abroad. Unsettled scores were to be squared up; personal and political grudges were resurrected. Wilson was made a mask for things long familiar to Georgia, but of which the people had seemed to tire; and over Wilson's unsuspecting shoulders many a blow was struck for the decrepit and wabbling Hoke Smith organization.

Smith Machine Ditched. Senator Smith himself came down from his post of duty in Washington and plunged into the heaviest of the fighting.

At the big Auditorium-Armory meeting in Atlanta he—not Wilson—was made the bright particular star.

At that meeting he sounded the bugle call to all the Hoke Smith faithful in Georgia. He let it be known distinctly that he was fighting for political life in Georgia.

Submissive to his dictation and will, the state Democratic executive committee framed up a primary in Georgia unfairly and brutally shaped to throw the state to Wilson whether or no.

The ancient and tried county unit plan of primary elections, handed down by the fathers from the bitter days of reconstruction was ruthlessly set aside and discontinued for the time being in order that the Smith machine might steamroller its way to victory.

Down Hosts Triumphant. Governor Brown, besieged by friends to lend a helping hand in putting an end to Wilson's presidential ambitions, declined to buckle on his armor and go forth to factional warfare.

The governor hesitated not at all to take a firm stand against Wilson, but he said that he would consider it an impertinence upon his part to attempt to dictate or seem to dictate, to the people of Georgia, at whose hands he had received such distinguished honors, a course of action in the premises.

He let the force of his personal attitude be known, but otherwise than as a plain citizen, he said nothing.

But if Brown himself refrained from taking an active hand, the Brown organization never hesitated an instant.

It accepted the challenge through salvation of Senator Smith himself was the Smith organization's determination to wrest from Clark Howell the national committeeman's place, held by him for nearly two decades, in behalf of James R. Gray, right-hand man of Senator Smith, and his most bitter partisan.

Mr. Gray has long aspired to occupy Mr. Howell's place on the Democratic national committee.

Once before Mr. Gray almost had his hands on that place, only to see "Little Joe" Brown overthrow his playhouse and hand to Mr. Howell again the post that had been his so long.

A Wilson victory in Georgia would have meant most assuredly the ousting of Howell from the national committee in favor of Gray. That such was the purpose of the Hoke Smith machine was not denied when the question was put squarely to it.

Smith's Crushing Defeat. That the defeat of Wilson was the defeat of Hoke Smith and his organization is beyond all question the significant fact in Georgia today.

The carrying of Georgia for Woodrow Wilson was no more the primary purpose of the Hoke Smith machine than black is white.

The New Jersey man was a mere stalking-horse. The battle beneath his banner in the Empire State of the South was a battle to preserve the Hoke Smith machine—nothing less, little more.

And the battle failed—despite the sinews of war provided for the use of the generals in command.

Georgia was not to be fooled—and Georgia wasn't fooled!

Napoleon at Waterloo. In its issue yesterday the Georgian gave this modernized view of Napoleon at Waterloo:

The Napoleon of the Woodrow Wilson effort to capture the South, Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, selected this state to be the Wilson field of Waterloo.

Like that other Napoleon who, for a time, messed up the map of Europe so thoroughly that its best friends were hardly able to recognize it from one day to another, Dixie's self-appointed Napoleon went forth to Waterloo to do or die, but pretty sure, in its own mind that there was no dying foolishness about it.

It was proclaimed, with the usual preliminary fanfare of trumpets, that the South was about to be shown which way it should go presidentially—shown by Senator Smith and his political machine.

Professor Wilson didn't know much about what was going on; and, being a guileless and unsuspecting sort of person, neither Napoleon have it his way.

The professor never had butted in on Southern politics anyway, and Napoleon is a mighty persuasive and sweetly argumentative general now and then.

The Professor Played His Part.

So Professor Wilson, said all right; if Napoleon knew that Waterloo was the place to pull off the big fight and get away with the

MANY LABORERS AT WORK ON THE NEW COLLEGE

Foundation Being Laid Deep and Strong

ONE OF THE DORMITORIES WILL BE USED FOR THE COLLEGE
UNTIL MORE ROOM IS PRO-VIDED BY LEGISLATURE.

Work has begun in earnest on the new college and nearly fifty men are engaged in pushing it as rapidly as possible. About thirty car loads of material have already been placed upon the ground and material is being hauled there as fast as possible, the railroad people using the street car line from the cotton mill three days in the week to haul the material.

The electric power is cut off while the locomotive is on the track and this interrupts the street car service for a little while on the days which have been set apart for hauling the material, though the interruption is only for a short while each day.

The excavations for the college buildings show that they are to be constructed upon a solid basis. One of the workmen stated yesterday that the buildings would be about half completed when the walls got up high enough to be seen from Patterson street.

The buildings are to be two stories high and equipped with a basement for heating apparatus, etc.

The dormitory which is being built now will be used as a college building until the main college building is erected, which may be two or three years. It is expected that another dormitory building will be erected on the upper end of the college lot as soon as the state makes an appropriation for it.

The general plans for a great college have already been made, but it is not expected that these plans will be completed for a number of years yet. The idea is to build to them. The plans show large dormitories facing Patterson street, with the main college building between them, while other buildings will be on the rear of the lot towards Oak street. The college campus and grounds will run out toward Patterson street and these grounds are to be greatly improved and beautified. It is also expected that the land along the Mill branch which belongs to the college, will be used as a sort of park and that it will be converted into a beautiful spot.

In the meantime the city of Valdosta ought to take hold of the park property, which was given to this city, and improve it. It could be made a beautiful place, and at a moderate cost it ought to be made that kind of place.

The outlook is that the college will be crowded from the very start. It is said that a great many of the students who have been attending the Girls' Industrial College at Milledgeville have checked off from that institution and will attend the Valdosta school next year.

It is understood that only girls will be taken at the school here at first, but the intention is to make it a co-educational school. Valdosta contributed her money to the college with that understanding, and it is understood in other parts of the state that the school is to be co-educational.

The people in all sections of Georgia expect the Valdosta college to rank among the greatest institutions in the South in a very few years. This college will have the advantage which the others have not had, as the plans for a great school have been settled upon from the start and these plans are to be carried out in all of the additions that are to be made to the school. All of the other colleges in the South have been built without form or system, the additions being made without regard to those that were to be made later.

The general plans of the Valdosta college are along the lines of the Chicago University, which is said to be the most complete college in the world.

It is probable that the building

DEATH OF MRS WILLIS.

An Estimable Hawkinsville Woman Has Passed Away.

Mrs. Amanda Willis, mother of Mr. W. C. Willis, of Valdosta, died at her home at Hawkinsville on Wednesday evening after a lingering illness. We take from the Dispatch and News the following article relative to the deceased:

Mrs. Willis was one of the city's best known and beloved women. Coming to Hawkinsville from Dooly county with her husband over 40 years ago, she is looked upon as one of the mothers of Israel whose life and labor were characterized by thoughtfulness of others and a loyal Christian. Her husband was an honored deacon in the Baptist church and his wife proved herself a worthy helper in the service rendered her Master.

Perhaps no greater labor of love was more strikingly set forth than the interest taken by Mrs. Willis in the care of the church building and the vessels for the Lord's Supper, a care she carried so many years.

Mrs. Willis is survived by three sons and four daughters, to-wit: J. B. W. C. and G. H. Willis, Mrs. McC. Pate, Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Manson, and Miss Clyde Willis, and quite a number of grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The interment was made Thursday afternoon at 5 p. m., following a short service at the home conducted by Rev. C. L. Greaves of the Baptist church, assisted by Rev. A. M. Rich of the Episcopal church.

The following acted as pall bearers: J. B. Lewis, D. G. Fleming, W. A. Jelks, E. J. Henry, F. P. Anderson and J. J. Whittfield.

Mr. Jesse Horne of Pinehurst, and Mr. Chas. Horne of Atlanta, brothers of Mrs. Willis, with others of the families, attended the funeral.

Change of Schedule.

The Georgia & Florida train leaving here for Madison will leave on Sunday at 9 a. m., and the north bound train Sunday afternoon will leave here at 7:50 p. m. There will be no change in other trains.

which is being erected here now will not be completed before early December and that it will be about that time before the school will open its doors.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL OF NOR-MAL COLLEGE

PRESIDENT POWELL TELLS OF
 ONE OF THE VALUABLE AD-
 JUNCTS OF THE NORMAL COL-LEGE IN THIS CITY.

There seems to be a good deal of interest manifested in the city in regard to the training school of the Normal College. There seems to be some uncertainty as to just what a training school is, as to what relation it bears to the college proper on the one hand, and to the city schools on the other.

A representative of The Times has asked President Powell for an explanation of these points.

Mr. Powell says that looked at from the point of view of the child —the main consideration in every school—the training school is a place where, owing to the small classes and the consequent large amount of personal attention from highly trained teachers, the child receives the most excellent schooling. Viewed from the standpoint of the college, it a place where the young teachers who are being educated can see the best methods of teaching developed and exemplified, and where under carefully guarded and directed conditions, they actually teach as part of the training.

From the viewpoint of the city system, the training school is just an ally relieving the pressure of numbers in its overcrowded grades.

In answer to the question, Will the training school have all the usual grades? Mr. Powell said that while eventually it will have all the grades represented, for the opening term there will be only the first, the third and the fifth. Next year these grades will of course be the second, the fourth and the sixth, and new first, third and fifth grades will be admitted and so on till the school is complete. After consultation with Superintendent Roberts, it was found that the grades selected are the ones most crowded in the city schools, and that it will be a help to all concerned to begin with these.
 There is in this, as in all matters, the most cordial cooperation between the city and college authorities.

Quite a number of parents have signified their intention of sending their children to the training school when it opens after the Christmas holidays. Mr. Powell suggests that it would be appreciated if such requests should all be put in writing at an early date, so that matters could be put on definite basis; and if any little readjustment of grades in the city schools should be made necessary, timely information will be given the city superintendent.
 The number of pupils that can be admitted to any grade of the training school is limited to fifteen.

TRUSTEES OF COLLEGE MET HERE TODAY

The Teachers Were Elected for the Term

THE COLLEGE WILL OPEN ON THE SECOND DAY OF JANUARY. MATRICULATION FEE AND PRICE OF BOARD.

The Board of Trustees of the South Georgia Normal College met this morning to take up a number of matters looking to the opening of the school in Valdosta. The following members of the board were present: The three local members, Hons, W. S. West, C. R. Ashley, and W. L. Converse, and Dr. D. C. Darrow, State School Commissioner M. L. Brittain, H. M. McIntosh, C. A. Ward, H. H. Tift and Dr. Woodward. The only absentees were Mr. H. J. McIntyre, of Thomasville, and E. H. Beck, of Brooks county.

The board decided this morning to open the college on the second day of January, which comes on Thursday. The matriculation fee for Georgia pupils will be $10 and for pupils outside of the state there will be a tuition fee of $50 in addition to the matriculation fee. Board in the dormitory is to be $12.

Valdosta pupils for the training school will be charged $2.50 per term and the classes in the training school will be limited to fifteen pupils.

The following teachers were elected this year.

Department of Pedagogy, J. M. Gulliams, of Ocella.

Department of Mathematics and Science, Mr. J. F. Wood, graduate of Columbia University, recently of Nashville, Ga.

Department of English and History, Mr. W. J. Bradley, of Barnesville. The associate professor of History and English, Miss Elizabeth McElreath, of Atlanta.

Department of English and Latin, L. E. Brimberry, of Albany.

Domestic Science and Art to be elected later.

Department of Agriculture and manager of the boarding department, Mr. J. E. Creel, of College Park, Ga.

Department of Art and Manual Training, Miss Frances Ruth Carpenter, of Elberton, Ga., now of Columbia University.

Department of nature study and Geography, Miss Alice Prickard, of State Normal and Industrial College at Columbia, Miss, now at University of Chicago.

Department of School Music, Miss Gladys Norton, of Marengo, Ill.

Superintendent of the Training School, Miss Lillian Rule, of Knoxville, Tenn., formerly of the Milliedgeville College. Two training teachers to be elected, Matron, Mrs. R. H. Patterson, of Wrens.

After the meeting of the board this morning the members went out and looked at the new college building and expressed themselves as highly pleased at the work which is being done and the outlook for a great school here. The members of the Board of Education spent the day here and will leave tonight for their homes in different parts of the state.

MARKET REPORTS TODAY

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. R. E. Reed, of Homerville, spent Sunday in this city.

Mr. J. F. Thompson and wife, of Morven, were among the visitors here yesterday.

Mr. J. R. Outlaw, of Ocala, Fla., was a visitor to Valdosta yesterday.

Editor H. M. McIntosh, of the Albany Herald, was among the distinguished visitors in Valdosta today, having come over to attend a meeting of the trustees of the South Georgia Normal College.

Mr. Joe Mitchell, formerly of the Park Hotel, of Jacksonville, has accepted a position as clerk of the Patterson Hotel to succeed O. E. Daniels, who has gone elsewhere.

Capt. H. H. Tift, of Tifton, was in attendance upon the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the South Georgia Normal College today.

The Southern railroad now has two agencies in Valdosta, showing that the Southern believes that Valdosta is the town in which to concentrate its agencies. Mr. H. S. Duval, the commercial agent, has his headquarters in Valdosta, and Mr. T. E. Waldrup, the field agent of the Land and Industrial Department, also has his headquarters here. Mr. Waldrup's office is in the Strickland building.

The indications are that the weather will be fair and cold before the middle of this week. The weather man has promised this much.

Mrs. Wm. McCaahill, of Drayton Island, Fla., spent Saturday with Mrs. DeWayne Pullen on Oak street, while passing through the city en route to Quitman, Americus and other points in Georgia, where she will visit relatives and friends.

Dr. Linder, of Florida, is spending a few days in Valdosta on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Thomas E. Harris.

The members of the Mabel Paige Theatrical Company were sitting about Valdosta Sunday afternoon like homeless birds looking for a place to stay during the company's engagement here. The hotels and boarding houses were all full and the members of the company had a hard time getting a place to stay.

Miss Zella Parrish has returned from a visit to Washington City, New York and a number of Georgia cities, where she has been spending the summer. She will be connected with Patterson & Copeland in their law office as stenographer in future.

Bids are being received by City Clerk Holcomb for the bonds which are to be sold by the mayor and council at their meeting Wednesday.

Water rents are due again and the city clerk and Superintendent Quarterman have been busy getting out their bills. The last quarter was a very hot one and the days were long, so much more water was used than usual. The water bills were therefore some higher.

A meeting of the I. O. O. F. will be held tomorrow night at the Woodmen of the World hall, corner of Patterson street and Hill avenue. A full attendance is urged. There will be work in the third degree.

Fifty Years Ago Today, Oct. 30.

New Confederates from Virginia (Merrimac) No. 2 made trial trip on James river. General W. R. Rosecrans, victor at the battle of Corinth, Oct. 3-4, assumed command of the Federal army in Kentucky. George Franke Tynin lectured in New York city; topic, "England's Shame, Ireland's Oppression and America's Progress."

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

Rumors were current that friends of the Chicago anarchists were prepared to wreak terrible vengeance in case their comrades should be put to death.

PERSONAL MENTION.

The Presbyterians of the Valdosta district will have their district meeting at Waycross on October 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Oglesby, of Quitman, are spending a day or two with the family of Mr. John F. Lewis.

Everybody in Valdosta is pleased at the action of the Board of Trade last Friday night in making Mr. John T. Blalock president and it is surprising at the number of business men and private citizens who have already pledged themselves to support the organization. The Times believes that the Board of Trade is going to be the greatest force for the upbuilding of the city that has ever been organized here.

Mrs. W. O. Wilson has returned from Vienna, Ga., where she spent a few days with relative and friends.

Mr. H. A. Howell, of Bradford, Fla., was among the visitors to Valdosta on Sunday.

The Macon Telegraph completed arrangements Saturday with the New York Herald for publishing the forecast of the Herald. It first appeared in Sunday's paper and was full of interest. The New York Herald has the reputation of making its forecasts of elections very accurate and its record for years is unbroken for remarkable prognostications. The Herald sizes up the situation now just about like we think it is—too badly mixed to tell exactly what is going to happen, but everything favorable to the Democrats.

Col. Omer Franklin, United States commissioner at this place, has returned from Barnesville, where he has been spending some time with relatives. He was confined to his home by illness while he was absent, but his friends will be glad to know that he is all right again. Col. Franklin is too good a man to stay sick very long.

Mrs. John T. Blalock has returned from LaGrange, Ga., where she was called on account of the illness of her mother.

Mrs. John T. Blalock has returned from LaGrange, Ga., where she was called on account of the illness of her mother.

Mrs. J. G. Stevens, of Perry, Ga., spent Sunday in Valdosta with her sister, Mrs. J. G. Stevens.

Mr. John Gamble and his little boy came over from Waycross and spent Sunday in the city with relatives.

Mr. Will Seaman, of Waycross, spent Sunday in Valdosta with his sister, Mrs. H. C. Dukes.

Mr. W. F. Staten, of Perry, Ga., spent Sunday in Valdosta with his wife and son, who are remaining

LARGE AMOUNT OF BUILDING TO BE DONE HERE

Many Handsome Struc- tures to be Erected

THE APPEARANCE OF THE CITY TO UNDERGO A GREAT CHANGE
AS THE RESULT OF IMPROVE-MENT IN NEAR FUTURE.

The bids for the new bonds to be old by the city ought to be received y the mayor and council at their meeting on the second of October and the bonds ought to be disposed of about that time.

The outlook is that the bond mony will be in the hands of the city others before the first of December and that it will be ready for spending y the first of the new year.

In the meantime, an immense amount of work is to be done in Valdosta within the next few months.
The work already mapped out will change the entire appearance of the city and will add materially to the amount of money in circulation here.

Besides a dozen or more buildings ready under way, several big structures are to be erected. The public library is one of these. It will be a very handsome building and will be uilt on the corner of Briggs street and Central avenue.

Work will begin on the handsome three-story Kress building the first January. It will be the handsomest of room in Georgia and one of the handsomest in the entire South.

Long before that time the large college dormitory building, at a cost of $50,000, will be completed and the college will open for pupils.

The work of remodeling and improving the Valdeg Hotel will be completed before that time at an expensure of about $25,000.

The work of enlarging the Methodist church, adding 23 Sunday school rooms and improving the auditorium, is also be under way.

A handsome brick block is to go on Ashley street on the old jail site and these buildings are also to be occupied as soon as they are completed.

The county jail will be finished early in November and it will be the handsomest jail structure and the most conveniently arranged building of the kind to be found in a city in the state's size. It will be

DR. CARL MINOR MARRIED.

His Wedding to Mrs. Bessie Simms Occurred in Milledgeville.

It was reported here today that Dr. Carl Minor, of Bainbridge, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, was married last night to Mrs. Bessie Simms at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fair, in Milledgeville, Ga.

The marriage was a quiet home affair and no announcement of it had been made except to a very few of their intimate friends.

The announcement of the marriage will occasion surprise to the many friends of the couple throughout the state. The bride and groom were schoolmates together and were sweethearts in their younger days. The groom went off to a theological seminary and the bride married Mr. L. G.
Simms, of Seno, Ga. He lived a few years and died.

The bride is one of the most attractive young women in Middle Georgia and has a large circle of friends there. She is a member of one of the oldest families in that section.

Mr. Minor has a large number of admirers and friends in this section who will be interested in the announcement of his marriage and who will extend congratulations and good wishes to him and his bride.

ARRESTED FOR BLIND TIGER.

White Man Placed Under one Thousand Dollar Bond.

Considerable surprise was manifested Sunday afternoon, when it was learned that Mr. J. M. Waters, who runs a small grocery store in the eastern part of the residence section of town, was arrested by Chief of Police Williams under the charge of selling whiskey. Although he has been a citizen here for three or four years and considered of fair reputation and excellent standing as a law abiding man, the police claim to have had his place of business under their watch and suspicion for over a year.

A negro, seen coming out of his store Saturday night, was arrested and forced to disgorge a quart of newly bought "rye," and from him was extorted the confession of where he bought and where Mr.
Waters kept it.

On searching the store eight quarts were found under a counter in an old trunk, as the colored purchaser had said it would be. Under the state law of Georgia, four quarts are all a man can keep for his own use, and any over this amount may be considered as evidence of keeping it for sale. The arrest was effected Sunday.

He was released by Recorder Kilne under a $1000 bond for his appearance in the council chamber tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, when his trial is set.—Moultrie Observer.

MRS. W. F. HALE DIED TUESDAY AT MADISON

Had Been Ill Four Months With Pellagra

SHE GREW MUCH BETTER AND IT WAS THOUGHT SHE WOULD RECOVER UNTIL SHE HAD AN ATTACK OF TYPHOID FEVER.

Mrs. W. F. Hale, of this city, who has been ill since last May, suffering with pellagra, died yesterday at Madison, Fla., where she was under treatment of Dr. Yates, of that place.

It is said that she had shown considerable improvement from pellagra, but contracted typhoid fever a few days ago and it was that disease which caused her death. She was getting along very well until last Saturday when there was an alarming change in her condition and she continued to grow worse until the end came yesterday.

Her sister, Miss Lucy Hartsfield, of this city, was with her during her illness and at the time of her death.

Mrs. Hale is survived by three children, Allen, Edgar and Frank. She has three sisters, Misses Mattie Sue, Elizabeth and Lucy Hartsfield and two brothers, Thomas and Charles Hartsfield. Her husband died several years ago. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
H. A. Hartsfield, reside at Metcalf,
Ga., but formerly lived in this city.

Mr. Robley Ulmer went down to Madison yesterday afternoon and embalmed the body and prepared it for burial. It was brought here this morning and will be carried to Jackson, Ga., in Butts county, and will be buried in the family burial ground near there, Thursday or Friday. Her father and sister, Miss Lucy Hartsfield, will accompany the remains.
Her mother and two of her children are too ill to attend.

Mrs. Hale was born in Monroe county on September 15, 1879, and was thirty-three years of age. She came here with her husband soon after their marriage and had been living here about fourteen years. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist church and had many friends in Valdosta.

During her illness she had the best of medical attention, Drs. Little and Wilson attending her while she was in this city. She was carried to Madison for electrical treatment by Dr.
Yates, of that place.

RELATIONS OF OUR SCHOOLS AND COLLEGE

SOME INTERESTING INFORMATION REGARDING THE NEW COLLEGE IS BROUGHT INTO VIEW BY ROBERTS & POWELL.

A representative of The Times found Superintendent Roberts and President Powell talking together today and asked them point blank what the relation is between the schools they represent.

"That is simple, they answered together; The High School is a High School, and the College is a College. In another way of looking at it, the High School is maintained by the city and is a city institution, The College, though the citizens of Valdosta have made liberal contributions to secure the school, is a State institution, supported by the State. The High School is especially for the young people of Valdosta, while the College is for all the young ladies of the state.

"Then the schools are not competitors?"

"Oh, no, not in the least."

You see the High School takes students up to a certain stage and the College takes them at that point and carries them on for three more years. The High School lays a broad foundation of culture and general knowledge on which the young man or young lady may build any one of a large number of life structures. The College does for young ladies what the State University does for young men: It broadens and strengthens the foundations laid in the High School, and strikes out the general plan for a finished structure.

"Then can't young ladies from Valdosta enter the College until they have graduated from the High School?"

No, and yes. In order to serve the interests of young ladies in communities that have not high school facilities, the College has one or two classes that in a way parallel the senior class of the High School. Students form the city might enter these classes before finishing at the High School, but they will be allowed to do so only in special cases. That is just what we were discussing when you joined us. The city schools are amply able to take care of their young ladies here can get as good College training right at home as they can get anywhere in the State, and still have the advantage of home influences and avoid the expenses of "going off to College." This saving alone will in a few years more than repay to the people of the city the money they have given to bring the College here."

Little Cotton in Town.

The cotton buyers declare that they have never seen such a small amount of cotton in Valdosta at this season of the year, while the cotton growers declare that they have never seen as little cotton in the field at this season of the year as there is now.

The fact of the business seems to be that the cotton crop is way off. The gins are doing very little ginning. There is no great rush to get cotton pickers like there usually is at this season and this is attributable to the fact that there is not much cotton to pick.

The price of the staple remains about like it has been, ranging from 22 1-2 to 24 1-2. There is active bidding among the buyers and they all seem to want cotton, but the price which is being paid for it does not indicate that they want it as badly as they ought to.

The Meetings at the Tabernacle.

Pastor F. H. Watkins preached a stirring sermon last night at the Baptist Tabernacle, using as his subject "God's Eternal Must."

A good crowd was in attendance and gave close attention while the speaker urged that doctrines nor good works save men, but regeneration alone. He strongly emphasized his message with Jesus' own words, "Ye must be born again," and his illustrations were clear and impressive.

Mr. Watkins clings closely to the Bible and exalts it, frequently quoting from it passages that corroborate and emphasize his statements.

Keen interest in the meetings continues, the church membership is being revived and there have been several conversions.

Mr. Watkins will speak tonight, taking for his subject "An Old-Fashion Home," and everybody is cordially invited.

Superior Court Next Week.

The officers at the court house are busily engaged this week in getting ready for superior court next week. Sheriff Gornto and his deputies have a large number of papers to serve, while Clerk of the Superior Court Robert B. Myddelton has about all he can look after in docketing the cases and getting everything in shape for the week.

There is nothing sensational on the docket for either week.

FENN IS BACK IN MEXICO AND WILL REMAIN

MAN WHO DISAPPEARED YEAR AGO AND WAS THOUGHT TO BE DROWNED CANNOT BE EXTRADITED FROM THERE.

A. J. Fenn, the one-time wealthy lumberman, who appeared in New Orleans several weeks ago, while his wife's suits for the collection of $15,000 in life insurance were still pending in the courts, has gone back to Mexico, according to Attorney A. J. Orme, of Jackson & Orme, counsel for the Southern States Life Insurance Co., in which Fenn had $5,000 policy.

After he had been identified by relatives and friends, Fenn, who was first located at a New Orleans hotel, is alleged to have given out several interviews in which he said he would return to his old home, Cordoba. Since then, however, he is alleged to have returned to Mexico, where he will probably remain for some time, as there are no charges pending against him on which he could be extradited.

While Fenn occupies a room in a Mexican hotel, sees bull fights, and watches the progress of revolutions, R. H. Roberts, one of the two men who is alleged to have sworn that he saw Fenn drown in a Florida river in April, 1918, will face the criminal charge of perjury.

Mr. Orme, representing the Southern States, which is in Atlanta company, is now preparing to go to Cordoba to assist the solicitor of Crisp county in prosecuting the case against Roberts at the next term of the court.

The other man, J. S. Land, who is said to have testified that he was in the same boat with Roberts and Fenn, when the latter fell into the river and failed to appear again, has also disappeared and cannot be located by the officers of Crisp county or agents of the insurance company.

His absence, however, will not interfere with the trial of Roberts.

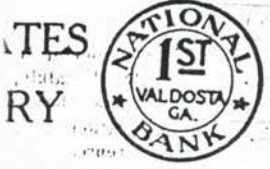

The unusual case is attracting great attention in South Georgia, where Fenn was known for many years as a wealthy lumber dealer and influential citizen.

The city schools are amply able to take care of their students till they graduate; and the College has no desire to provoke discontent or encourage students in a feeling of curiosity or adventure that might lead them from one school to the other. Of course, all graduates of the High School will be most cordially welcomed at the College, but residents of the city who have not finished at the High School should secure a statement from the Superintendent showing that it is advisable for them to change schools.

"Then I infer, Mr. Powell, that the Normal College is a straight college. What is the normal feature?"

"Why, the charter of the College is very broad. The school has practically carte blanche to be what its trustees decide to make it. It is a College that is given special rights to develop agricultural, industrial and normal work. And all these phases will eventually be developed. But it is impossible to separate good collegiate work and good normal work. There can be no good teaching that isn't grounded in sound scholarship; there can be no good learning that doesn't know how to impart itself to another. All good college work is so far as it goes normal work; and this college starts out on the same plane of scholarship with the best colleges of the State. The normal courses—so-called—consist of certain professional studies and activities that interpret the rest of the work in terms of presenting knowledge to others.

"And the expense? Do Valdosta students have to pay at the college as do those who come from a distance?"

"Why the College is practically free to all Georgia's daughters. All pay a little matriculation fee of ten dollars a year and a dollar or two laboratory fees. There is no tuition charge. These fees Valdosta's young ladies would pay just as any one else. And that is all. Of course they have no dormitory fee to pay for they live at home. The College is a blessing to the city in that the

The case against the young white man named Smith, who was accused of breaking in a store at Dixie, was on trial yesterday and the case went to the jury last night. We were unable to learn today what was the verdict of the jury.

Ol Rogers, who resides near Valdosta, in Brooks county, was found guilty yesterday of buying cotton after dary. Two negroes are said to have been guilty of staling cotton from one of Mr. Rogers' neighbors and of selling it to Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Rogers did not know the cotton was stolen, but there is a law which prohibits the purchase of cotton in the seed after night and Mr. Rogers was found guilty of violating that law.

Fire at Moultrie.

The home of Mr. L. P. Flowers, of Moultrie, was completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. There was no one at home when the fire started and before the blaze was discovered it had gained such headway that the fire department could not control it. The house was valued at $1,500 and the household goods at $2,000. Each was insured for about half of its value.

CONTRACT TO BE GIVEN FOR COLLEGE WORK

Bids Will be Received Here on April 15

CONTRACTORS ARE ASKED TO MAKE BIDS FOR ERECTION OF TWO DORMITORIES FOR THE COLLEGE.

The understanding now is that a contract will be let in Valdosta on April 15 for two dormitory buildings for the South Georgia Agricultural and Normal College to be located on the grounds which have been given for that school in the northern part of the city.

It is the object of the trustees to have these buildings completed by next September for the opening of the fall term of the college, or to have them near enough completed to go on with the school.

It is also expected that arrangements will be made in this city for advancing the full amount of money which it promised the school, and to that end a bond issue may be called here. It is generally conceded that it will be vastly to the benefit of this city to pay its full amount of money at once so that about $75,000 worth of buildings can be erected right away.

The notice to contractors in regard to the contract to be let on April 15 is as follows:

Notice to Building and Heating Contractors.

Sealed bids will be received at the Valdes Hotel, Valdosta, Ga., until noon April 15, 1912, for the construction of two dormitory buildings to be erected on the grounds of the South Georgia Agricultural and Normal College, Valdosta, Ga.

Each bid for the construction of the building must be accompanied by certified check in the amount of $3,000, and each bid for the installation of steam heating plant with certified check for the amount of $200, payable to C. R. Ashley,

It showed that they not only stole the trousers, but had a deep laid scheme to rob the firm out of some other things, but were caught in the act in time to prevent the robbery.

During the trial yesterday afternoon when the case was called, one of these negroes declared that he was not the man and that the man who did the stealing had broken out of jail and made his escape. The negro told the story so solemnly that the court officials had to get busy and find out whether it was true or not. It did not take them long, however, to find out that the negro was lying.

Judge Cranford imposed a fine of $100 each or twelve months on the gang. One of the negroes wanted a week's time to raise the money, as he claimed he could wire some man and get it. Judge Cranford gave him until this afternoon.

The case of Joe Eddy Clark, accused of simple larceny, was next taken up and resulted in a verdict of not guilty.

The court then adjourned until next Monday in order that the lawyers in several important cases could attend court at Nashville.

DAY TO SECURE SEASON TICKETS

Festival is all Talk at Present

SEASON TICKETS WILL BE ON SALE AFTER 3 O'CLOCK SAT. WHEN SEASON TICKETS END.

Evening at 9 o'clock the sale of tickets for the Valdosta festival, which is to be given in the city on next Thursday, will begin. Tickets sold after that will be at a higher price.

There was a great many tickets sold and there are not a great many tickets left. Parties from neighboring towns have spoken in favor of them and the outlook is that the out-of-town attendance will be the largest that any musical here has ever had. It is reported that a number of people from Thomasville and Quitman had the pleasure of hearing the Russian Symphony Orchestra in New York and they are loud in praise of it. It is expected that about 100 people will come from Moultrie on the special train that will be operated over the V. M. & W. road. Sixty-five seats have already been reserved for the Moultrie crowd.

There is little doubt that the musical festival this year will give better satisfaction than any that has been held before, as the vocalists and other features this year are much better. The four opera singers who are to come here with the orchestra are among the brightest stars on the opera stage. The tenor is one of the finest in the world, while the Russian singer is regarded as one of the very best that has ever come from that country. Miss Mylott, the Australian song bird, is said to be the pride of the people of that country. Everything is in splendid shape for the festival. It comes on a week night when everybody can get off to attend, and the outlook is that extra seats will have to be put into the auditorium in order to supply the demand for seats.

Those who do not get season tickets tonight should speak for the single seats bright and early tomorrow, as the outlook is that all of the seats will be sold. Those who miss this year's musical festival will miss the best this section has ever had. Valdosta is the only city of its size in the South that will have anything to compare with it.

Valdostans Caught the Bankers. Reporters from Thomasville state that the Valdosta delegation to the Bankers convention in that city made a decided hit on the bankers and that the matter of bringing the convention here next year was an easy one, although Brunswick and Waycross both wanted it.

The invitation from this city was presented by Mr. Abial Winn, the assistant cashier of the First National Bank, in a rattling good speech. Councilman Percy Thigpen, representing the Merchants Bank, seconded the motion and both of these young Valdostans pledged the bankers a royal good time in this city.

When the matter came to a vote it was found that Valdosta received more votes than both of the other towns put together, nearly all of the visitors stating that they wanted to see with their own eyes if half they had heard about Valdosta was true.

SCHOOL BOARD HAS BOUGHT OLD HOSPITAL

Sale was Confirmed by Directors of Hospital

THE SPLENDID PROPERTY FALLS INTO THE HANDS OF THE CITY FOR USE AS ANOTHER PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The directors of the Union Hospital had a meeting on yesterday and confirmed the sale of their property to the Valdosta School Board for about $5,000.

It is understood that the school board bought the property to use it as an auxiliary school and to relieve the congestion which has been caused by the continued growth of the city. It is understood that the hospital directors agreed to accept a low price for the property in order to help out the school situation and in order to put another school building in that part of town, it being generally recognized that the location is an ideal one for a school.

It was stated this morning that it is very probable that the building will be tendered to the South Georgia Normal College for use as a dormitory for several months, provided the college needs it and in order to help that institution along at the start of its career.

It is the ultimate object of the school board, however, to convert it into a splendid school building, using it at first for the primary department and later on adding to it and making another high school.

It is believed that the school board has done an excellent thing in buying this property. It is worth much more than they had to pay for it and it is very fortunate for them that they were able to get a piece of property so well situated for school purposes.

The outlook is that in the next year or two Valdosta will have to almost double its present school facilities, as the city is already cramped in that respect.

CONTRACT LET FOR DORMITORY FOR COLLEGE

Building Committee Had Many Bids Before it

HOLIDAY & GROUSE, OF GREENSBORO, N. C., WERE THE LOWEST AND BEST BIDDERS FOR THE WORK.

There were more contractors in Valdosta this morning than ever before in the history of the city, most of them having come here to bid on the contract for the dormitory for the South Georgia Normal and Agricultural College.

There were five or six contractors from Atlanta, some from Macon, some from Thomasville, Albany, Cordele, Montgomery and other towns. Altogether, there were fifteen or more contractors, or their representatives in this city.

The building committee of the board of trustees of that college met at the Valdez Hotel at twelve o'clock and remained in session for quite a long time. All of the contractors appeared before the board in regard to the work, the object being to get a full understanding of what would be required.

About one o'clock the board took the bids and went into executive session, giving each bid careful study and figured upon them to see which was the best bid.

It was predicted that all of the afternoon would be given to studying the bids and it was not expected that the board would be ready to announce its decision before late in the afternoon or some time tonight.

About two o'clock it was announced that the building committee had decided to build only one of the dormitories right away and the contract for that was let to Holiday and Crouse, of Greensboro, S. C.

After making that award the building committee adjourned for dinner and it was stated that the bids for the heating and plumbing would be considered this afternoon. There are several bidders for that work.

GREAT BANQUET AT OPENING OF THE COLLEGE

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS LAYING PLANS FOR MOST BRILLIANT SOCIAL FUNCTION YET GIVEN IN VALDOSTA.

The Chamber of Commerce of Valdosta is preparing to give one of the most elaborate banquets ever held in this section of the state in honor of the opening of the South Georgia Normal and Agricultural College on January 2.

The banquet will be given at the Hotel Patterson and it is estimated that 500 people will be in attendance. It is going to be an elaborate and elegant as it is possible to make it and the occasion is going to be a sort of jubilee among the people of Valdosta and the friends of that institution. It will also be the first great get-together feast the citizens of Valdosta have had in a number of years.

Committees from the Chamber of Commerce are already at work making their plans, and they are assisted by Prof. R. H. Powell, president of the college, the local members of the board of trustees and also the faculty of that institution.

It is expected that many prominent men will be in attendance from all parts of Georgia. Invitations have already been sent them.

Among those who have been invited are Governor-elect John M. Slaton, Senator A. O. Bacon, Senator Hoke Smith and all of the twelve congressmen from Georgia.

Besides these distinguished men of national prominence an invitation is being sent to several members of the Georgia legislature, both senators and legislators. Invitations are also being sent to the presidents of all of the colleges of the state and other prominent educators. Invitations are being sent to the out-of-town members of the board of trustees, the faculty of the college and members of the local board of education.

Tickets for the banquet will be offered to members of the Chamber of Commerce and to citizens at an early date and every member of the chamber is expected to buy one or more tickets. The price of the tickets will be $1.50 for each plate.

As the seating capacity of the dining room is limited, those who expect to attend ought to secure their tickets as early as possible. A great many ladies have already been invited to grace the occasion and the banquet is going to be one of the most brilliant social events this city has ever had.

It is understood that everything will be in readiness at the college for the opening on the first of January. The contractors are finishing up the work rapidly and Prof. Powell stated yesterday that there was no doubt that the school would open with a full attendance, as applications have been pouring in from pupils from all sections of South Georgia.

The college is going to be entirely ready for the opening and will be handicapped only by the fact that the dormitory room is not large enough to accommodate many who would like to come here to school. The friends of the college hope to secure another appropriation from the next legislature and it is believed that the banquet will give a tremendous boost for that movement. It will be worth much for the college to make this occasion a great success, as the college is going to need more money next year.

Holiday Excursion Fares via Georgia Southern & Florida Railway.

Christmas holiday tickets will be sold on December 12, 14, 17, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 31, 1912, and on January 1, 1913, limited to reach original starting point returning not later than midnight of Jan. 6, 1913. For detailed information ask any ticket agent of C. A. Dewberry, T. P. A., Valdosta, Ga. 12, 13-dif.

Catholic Services.

Rev. Father Hamilton, of Albany, will hold services at the home of Mrs. L. Roe, 308 Steven street, Saturday morning at 7:30. All Catholics are invited to attend the services.

BIG CONCERNS ARE APPLYING FOR CHARTER

ORGANIZATIONS FORMING VALDOSTA DURING 1912 CAPITAL STOCKS AGGREGATING MORE THAN $1,100,000

The Times published applications for charter new corporations in Valdosta with aggregate capital of $435,000. Taking into consideration this is "big business." During the last sixty days, however, the applications which have applied for chartered in this city aggregate $472,000 in capital, and that for the year runs away above $1,100,000.

The application for charter the Georgia State Pecan Co. which appeared in The Times yesterday afternoon, provides capital stock of $300,000, one of the largest corporations chartered in the county. The promoters are B. H. Roberts, Wilson and A. L. Davis. The company will engage in the cultivation of pecan trees and nursery and it is understood will plant acres in pecans and tea acres pecan nursery on its land between this city and Ousley an seven miles from town.

The petition for charter Valdosta Traction Company, capital stock of $125,000, appeared in The Times today. Messrs. W. S. West, Christie, J. G. Cranford, Wilcox, B. G. Lastinger, West, A. H. A BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT ON YESTERDAY

A LARGE AND BEAUTIFUL RECEPTION WAS GIVEN BY MRS. DI INGRAM AND MRS. PEARL DAVIS, FROM 3 TO 5 O'CLOCK

The reception given by Mrs. Di Ingram and Mrs. Pearl Davis yesterday afternoon was one of the largest and most beautiful of the season.

The house was charmingly decorated with cut flowers, holly and potted plants, the Christmas colors predominating throughout.

White camellias and carnations were used in the parlor with pleasing effect. The mantle was banked with ferns and camellias, Christmas bells hung from the chandelier and great branches of holly and pretty holly wreaths decorated the windows here and in all the other rooms.

Pink carnations were used in the library, the mantle and punch table which was placed in one corner of the room, being banked with these play-flowers. The punch bowl in this room was presided over by Mrs. Elizabeth Coffee and Miss Cline State.

The hall and dining room were a red and green and the latter room was especially attractive. The table was laid with cluny mats and was centered with a tall vase filled with red poinsettia, on each side of which were silver candelabra burning green tapers. Pretty dishes filled with red and green mints, salted nuts, big balls of spun candy and other confections were placed about the table, and tea and coffee were poured from a pretty service by Mrs. W. S. West and Mrs. Mattie Stevens.

The mantle in this room was banked with holly, white Christmas bells, vases of poinsettia, etc., accentuated the Christmas season. From another prettily appointed table in the hall punch was served by Mrs. Hugh Dorsey and Mrs. Oscar Dalton.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. O. B. Foster, and were ushered into the parlor by Mrs. Charlie Davis.

A delicious salad course was served.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR OPENING

GOVERNOR-ELECT JOHN M. SLATON WILL DELIVER THE ADDRESS AT THE OPENING OF THE NORMAL COLLEGE

Prof. R. H. Powell is getting letters daily from those who have been invited to attend the opening of the South Georgia Normal and Agricultural College on January 2, and also to attend a banquet which is to be given by the Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Patterson on that evening.

Governor-elect John M. Slaton has accepted the invitation to deliver the address at the opening of the school and also to attend the banquet that night.

Dr. Kenneth G. Matheson, president of the Technological School in Atlanta, has also accepted an invitation to be present. Chancellor Barrow, of the State University, will also be here. Acceptances have also come from a number of legislators, senators and educators in various parts of the state.

The outlook now is that the college will be in readiness some time before the opening day and it will be the first college opening in Georgia with everything complete to start with.

On yesterday Prof. Powell moved his office to the college building from his residence in this city and all of his correspondence and other work of preparing for the opening is being done from the college.

There was carried to the college yesterday a piano and a stove, these being the first articles of furniture to be carried there.

During the day there was also carried out a lot of school furniture and furniture for the bed rooms. All of this will be put in position during the next few days, so that everything will be ready for the opening on January 2nd.

DISTINGUISHED CLAIRVOYANT

CARL BAUER, GERMAN CLAIRVOYANT, DOES REMARKABLE THINGS—VALDOSTA WONDERS AT HIS POWERS.

Carl Bauer, the acknowledged expert, recognized authority of Hindoo Philosophy, Occult Mysteries and Astrologist, makes a remarkable statement: "Your greatest wish can be realized—you would not desire a thing if you were not capable of attaining it."

I know how to control and use that power for your success and mine. If you wish to succeed in any business undertaking consult me. I can put you on the right road. If you desire to win in love, or be reunited with some one from whom trouble or estrangement separates you, I can and will help you to gain the desire of your heart. Are you tired of being poor and living from a hand to mouth existence? If so come to me and I will show you a better way. Life is not half so much of a mystery as some people would have you believe. If you had studied more into Nature's law and learned the lessons there revealed you would know better why some people succeed and others fail. There is a good reason just the same as there is a reason why water will run down hill more easily than it will run up hill. I can explain that reason to you. I am successful myself. I do not make this claim in the spirit of a braggart or egotist, but to enable you to appreciate what I can do for you.

I give reliable and important advice and information on all matters of interest in business transactions, law suits, contested wills, divorces, deeds, mortgages, claims, collections, speculations, adventures, mining stocks and all financial difficulties. I truly predict the success or failure of new inventions, patents pending, pension claims and tell whether you will receive fair dealings with partners. If you care to know what business you shall follow to be successful, where you shall go and whom to avoid; if you intend to make changes or to start a business, buy or sell property, or in fact, take any important step, don't fail to consult me. Lowndes County Got Prizes.

Former County School Commissioner C. L. Smith received this morning a check for $10 from V. G. Cooper, of Atlanta, the money being the second prize for the best display of corn at the Atlanta Corn Show by one county. Many people who attended the Atlanta Corn Show declared that the samples of corn from Lowndes county were equal to any exhibited there, though the display was not quite as large as some of the other counties.

It is also stated that Farmer J. J. Hunt, the poultry king, received two or three prizes for the best chickens at the Atlanta Chick Show. Considering the fact that Mr. Hunt recently lost his entire plant by fire, the record made at Atlanta is a very fine one.

HAZEL

SATURDAY AND MONDAY LADIES' DAY

One of Valdosta's most prominent ladies pronounces the "Hazel" exhibit better than anything she saw during two trips abroad. There is nothing to equal "Hazel" in the British museum, and every one should call at 217 E. Hill avenue and see this greatest of all curiosities.

"Hazel" is an educational exhibit. She should be seen by everyone in the city, and the person who remains away will miss an opportunity which seldom presents itself. Another lady says it is false modesty to overlook such attractions as "Hazel."

Prominent business men go home and return with their families, all of whom declare "Hazel" the most remarkable freak of nature ever seen in this section.

Saturday and Monday are ladies' day. The admission is only 10c for adults, 5c for children under 10 years of age.
