

U. D. C. PRIZES IN ESSAY WRITING CONTEST

It has been a custom of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to offer prizes of gold coins in their annual historical essay contest among the High School, Junior High and college students.

Last year two prizes of $5.00 each were given by individuals and named, beside the one $5.00 prize offered by the Valdosta Chapter, and it is the wish of the Essay Committee to bring this to the notice of the public now, that any one wishing to offer a like prize through the Daughters, may do so and add another incentive to the study of true Southern history in Valdosta.

There must be three first prizes and two second prizes. The winners of these prizes have the opportunity of entering their essays in the state contest.

MRS. D. D. SMITH,
President.

MRS. J. G. CRANFORD,
Chairman Essay Committee.

COLLEGE GIRLS VISIT SHEESLEY'S BIG SHOWS

Those who journeyed to Magnolia Park last night helped to make up the largest crowd that has been on the Sheesley Shows midway since their opening here a week ago. Over one hundred ladies from the State Normal School were there last night as special invited guests of the management, and all seemed to enjoy the performances immensely. The Georgia Minstrels opened its doors for the first time last night and the performance went over with a "bang". It seemed to be the universal opinion of those who were fortunate to see the first performance last night that Mr. Sheesley has the best show of this kind that has ever visited Valdosta. Twenty colored performers and musicians make up the personnel of this particular show. It is staged by Mr. Harry Dixon, who has been in our city the past three weeks getting ready for the season. Mr. Dixon has worked hard and the results of his labor are very evident. The tent was packed at all three shows given last night and we predict a good business for the colored show during their stay here.

Miss Bobby Burns Murry's Jaunteeel Girls gave several shows last night to very good patronage as did also the Trained Animal Show, Wild West and Autodrome.

Tonight is Shriner's Night at the Sheesley Shows and a big attendance is expected. All Shriners from Valdosta, and many of their visiting brothers from the surrounding towns will be there with their "Fezzes" on and a royal good time is promised all who go to Magnolia Park tonight.

EASTER WAS OBSERVED BY S. G. S. N. 'Y' GIRLS

Easter was observed by the Y. W. C. A. girls of the South Georgia State Normal College in a very appropriate way. Before the dawning a long line of seniors filed through the corridors singing Easter Hymns. This was a signal to go to the Y. W. C. A. rooms to attend the sunrise prayer service. Soon the room was filled, as a great number of girls took advantage of this early morning service.

The thought suggested by the scriptural reading was "The Risen Jesus." Besides the singing of Easter Hymns and offering prayers, a number of the girls gave impromptu talks on the meaning of Easter to them.

In the evening as the twilight fell, the girls gathered in the chapel for a candle light service. Flowers had been used in decorating the chapel. Numbers of lighted candles were placed throughout the room which presented a beautiful appearance. The girls entered to the soft strains of music. The program for the evening was well rendered.

Opening Hymn—"Shout the Glad Tidings."

Scripture reading, John 20; 18-25
—Miss Mildred Price.

Prayer—Miss Mary Crum.

Anthem, "As it Began to Dawn"—
Y. W. C. A. choir.

Solo, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives"—Miss Alma Thompson.

Anthem, "He Is Risen"—Y. W. C. A. choir.

Solo, "O Rest in the Lord"—Miss Ruth Harrell.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB CON-CERT WAS MOST ENJOYABLE

The fine concert given by the college glee club of the South Georgia State Normal College last evening in the Strand Theatre was convincing of the splendid progress the college has made in the music department.

The numbers selected for the program were those which a more mature group of singers would gladly use. Yet the girls sang their parts with ease producing a quality of music hard to surpass. Only serious and diligent work in striving toward artistic perfection through class work and frequent recitals and concerts has trained the voices of young students to produce this excellent quality of music.

However this high standard seems to be a principal in all the departments of the college. As the closing is near, various forms of work will be placed on display just as has been shown by the demonstration from the physics, chemistry, biology and geography departments, and from the physical education department as was exhibited on Field Day and May Day.

• Recital Saturday Evening

Saturday evening, May 13, at 8:30 in the Rotunda, a recital will be given by advanced students of both piano and voice departments.

Friends of the college are most cordially invited to attend this recital.

A display of general school work will be on exhibition, Tuesday, May 23, at 4:30 in West Hall.

The senior class of the college will give Monday evening, May 22, at 8:30 in the High School auditorium, the play, "Green Stockings". This promises to be one of the most enjoyable programs of the year's work. It will be given by students who have spent a few years in college and who have had splendid training in the English Department. In former years these entertainments have shown a well finished type of work. From the play selected for study and from the ability of the students in the cast there is every indication that an unusually fine interpretation will be presented.

PROGRAM FOR TUESDAY NIGHT AT THE COLLEGE

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel of the South Georgia State Normal College, the friends of the college are invited to be present for the following program of folk dances and interpretive work:

Program.

FRENCH PLAYS AT THE SOU. GA. STATE NORMAL

The French department of the South Georgia State Normal College, under the direction of Miss Margery Moore, will present two short comedies on Wednesday evening. Both are interesting plays of simple plot, which portray French life in different aspects. The program will take place in the Rotunda of the new dormitory, and all who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

The first Nicette is a farce developed from the fact that a doctor tells a man that he has only a certain length of time to live. The way in which the patient settles his affairs brings matters to the point that all can be happy, after the morning paper arrives and informs them that Dr. Bardais has suffered a sudden attack of insanity, and has diagnosed all his cases alike.

Nicette, Personnages.

Anatole, cousin de Nicette—Mary Poindexter.

Lapdewac, fiance de Nicette—Gladys Harris.

Mme. Bouvard, Putrice de Nicette—Inez Sharp.

Nicette—Iliene Adams.

Dans un Ascenseur, (In an elevator) is the story of the courtship, imprisoned in an elevator which accidentally stopped between the second and third floor of an apartment house.

Dans un Ascenseur personnages:

Adrienne, jeune veuve, Mary Small Robert—Leo Prine.

FIELD DAY AT COLLEGE TO BE A GREAT EVENT

One of the interesting features connected with field day at the South Georgia State Normal College will be the award of college monograms. These will be given to the girls who win in the various contests. The addition of bars will indicate athletic work.

At the same time monograms will be presented to the girls who have been serving during the year in a responsible official capacity. Heretofore it has been the custom of the college to recognize students performing these extra duties by honorable mention, but this year they will receive the college insignia.

The program worked out by the Athletic Association has an orderly arrangement as well as offering attractive events.

Part 1.

Processional of contestants and field marching, accompanied by the Valdosta Concert Band.

Wand Drill—Members of the Sophomore Class, accompanied by the Valdosta Concert Band.

Basketball Relay.

Sixty Yard Dash.

ROTARIANS AND SENIORS HAD A RARE OLD FROLIC

The Picnic at Long Pond On Thursday Will Be Long Remembered

The annual outing of the Senior Class of the South Georgia State Normal College, as guests of the Valdosta Rotary Club Thursday evening from four o'clock until after nine on the banks of Long Pond, was one of the most pleasant of all of the outings the Rotarians have had.

The crowd left Valdosta at four o'clock sharp, in a string of automobiles and reached Zipperer's bathing wharf by 4:30. There were probably 100 people in the crowd; each of the Rotarians having his wife with him. There were several teachers from the college also to chaperon the party.

Soon after arriving at the pond all of the members of the party donned their bathing suits and took to the water, which was delightfully refreshing. They remained in the water about an hour, when the signal was given for them to "change." By the time they had gotten on their togs again supper was ready on long tables on the hill side, it having been prepared by the wives of the Rotarians. The feast was a very fine one, fried chicken being the feature, since it was supposed to be a "chicken affair" all around.

The Double Male Quartette was on hand and sang a number of songs, while the game of "drop the handkerchief" was played by the young people, of whom the Rotarians from Dick Powell to Alfred Jackson were the youngest of the bunch.

Jules Newman announced that the prize winner would stand up and about two-thirds of the Senior Class arose. He then gravely remarked that he did not know that all of them had lost their stockings while bathing, and that only one prize had been provided. It finally developed that the real prize winner was Miss Crum, while the "prize" was the irrepressable James Dasher.

During the evening the wives of the Rotarians were called upon to tell what they called their husband when they were in a real good humor with them and they all gave humorous answers to the questions. When asked what she would call James, Miss Crum modestly replied that she would call him "Honey."

After four hours of genuine fun the party returned to the city, reaching home about ten o'clock. All agreed that it was a delightful occasion, the Seniors and Rotes both enjoying it to the fullest extent.

ENJOYABLE BOOK PARTY AT THE S. G. S. N. COLLEGE

Just after the holiday vacation the S. G. S. N. College Y. W. C. A. girls issued invitations for a "Book Party." This is a means of procuring donations of books for the Y. W. C. A. library.

Last Saturday night was the chosen time for the party. Promptly at the stated hour the guests arrived in queer costumes. These indeed were characteristic of a book which they desired to represent.

After being received by the president of the Y. W. C. A. the vice president and the chairman of the social committee, each guest was presented with a booklet. On this was part of a picture of a book. The object was to find some one who had the other part and claim the owner as a partner.

Guessing contests proved to be interesting. Then the circulating library was an admirable way to conduct a "prom." Along the halls was an art display which consisted of the senior girls silhouettes with a suggestion of what aspiration each had.

Cinderella was announced to be in the chapel. Here a group of the young ladies gave the play very successfully although it was impromptu. Other girls posed themselves in various ways to represent books. This was done in a clever way but each form was easily guessed.

The screen was pushed aside again and a series of living portraits were shown. "Hiawatha and Minnehaha," "John Alden and Priscilla," "Barkis and Peggoty" and "Gabriel and Evangeline" were beautifully displayed.

A suggestion was then given to follow the leader as she was going to find "Alice in Wonderland." Immediately the long line filed through the halls until a representation of a looking glass was found. Going through this, the party was met by queer looking people showing the effect that Alice experienced on having drunk from the small bottle and having eaten of the small cakes. Nevertheless the low flat girl and the extremely tall one had no warning power whatever for the guests ate and drank and had a merry time.

The hostesses were congratulated on their fine party and were presented with twenty-five books. Also money and games were given for which the Y. W. C. A. girls were eful.

COLLEGE GIRLS IN TRIM FOR TONIGHT'S CONCERT

Those who have attended the rehearsals of the Glee Club of the South Georgia State Normal College consider the work the girls have been doing excellent. The Glee Club is composed of a group of young ladies who have very good voices. Some of the selections to be given are difficult but the voices of these young ladies have been trained so that without great effort, the music is well sung.

Especially is this shown in the solo which Miss Alma Thompson will sing. This is a selection which requires tone and volume. Miss Thompson produces this in a charming way which is certain to captivate her hearers.

Beside the musical features the Spanish costumes which the girls will wear during the last part will add much to the beauty and effect of the program. During this part Misses Beatrice Gupton and Waver Hodges will give a Spanish dance which illustrates the grace and ease of the figures which they execute. These young ladies will no doubt please the audience with the skill by which they use their tambourines.

This entertainment alone is considered one of the best of the kind. It will be given in the Rialto Theater this evening.

Program.

Sleep, Ma Honey (Clayton)—Glee Club.

Honey Town (Wilson)—Glee Club.

Carmina (H. Lane Wilson)—Glee Club.

The Red and the Black—College Song.

SCIENCE CLASS TO HAVE PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION

Will Entertain Visitors on Friday Afternoon For This Event

Since the days of formal education have passed and schools adapt their curriculum to suit the more practical subjects for the progress of civilization, science has necessarily found a prominent place. There is no subject so extensively taught and in all schools science is intensively studied.

The young woman may not expect to investigate this subject to its depths but in her college course she can get a useful knowledge of some phase of the work she pursues. Perhaps her future work will be providing for a home which necessitates a thorough understanding of household affairs. Her experience in the laboratories give her a good basis for the mechanism connected with the house.

The students of the science department of the South Georgia State Normal College will put up in West Hall a demonstration of their class work for the public to visit Friday, April 21, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

In passing through the laboratories and corridors the casual visitor will obtain many useful and valuable household hints from the demonstrations the students are showing.

There will be displayed in the physics and chemistry laboratories in the south end of West Hall on the second floor the construction and operation of a camera, a barometer, a steam heating system, a steam engine, a hydraulic elevator, a hydraulic press, pulleys, pumps, a hot water tank for a kitchen, induction coils, a pressure cooker, electroplating, electrolysis, electromagnets, and electric motor, a dynamo, charging a storage battery, electric wiring and lighting (experimenting with a doll house) and a telegraph.

A fine display of geographical conditions of countries and nations will be found in the north end of West Hall on the second floor. This consists of maps, charts, figures, sand tables and specimens. These subjects have been carefully studied and well depicted. It is considered a very interesting collection as well as instructive.

In the same part of the building in the Biology laboratory will be found a biological display of both plant and animal life. A splendid exhibit of structure, activities and relation of living organisms pertaining to greater perfection will be easily traced. Among these will be shown in connection with the life of plants elements, various tests, the making of oxygen, carbon, germination of seeds, kinds of plants, selection, variation, adaptation, roots, stems, leaves, buds, pollination and fertilization of flowers, fruits and seeds.

In animal biology there will be traced the life history of numerous specimens such as worms, crustaceans, insects, mollusks, fish, batrachia, reptiles, birds and mammals.

In physiological biology there will be displayed food values used as building material and a source of energy. Charts showing the mechanism of the nervous system, circulation and digestion. Attention will be attracted in particular to the relation of bacteria to human welfare, preservation and sanitation.

The entire demonstration is well worthy two hours of time from any person, a similar display of work was given last year which interested several hundred people. Friends are most cordially invited to attend this demonstration.

S. G. S. N. COLLEGE GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINS U. OF G.

The Glee Club, assisted by the Senior class of the South Georgia State Normal College, entertained the Glee Club of the University of Georgia last Tuesday afternoon. The rotunda flaunted the colors of red and black in a very artistic way. Red roses seemed prominent while pennants added much to display the college colors as well as the University colors.

During the social hours many songs were sung by both clubs. In closing each club sang to their Alma Mater and then a combination was made in the singing of "Glory, Glory to Old Georgia" and "Glory, Glory to Old Normal."

OLDE ENGLISH FESTIVAL ENJOYED BY THE GIRLS

Among the beautiful pictures hung on memory's wall there is none cherished so much by the students of the South Georgia State Normal College as the "Olde English Festival".

When the time came for parting at Yuletide the students and other guests were bidden to assemble in the feast hall. Here a change had been wrought as if by magic. Tables had been transformed into the English style and decorated with Christmas greens, fruits, nuts and raisins, beside the generous serving of the Christmas dinner. Bright red apples held Christmas candles which peeped from the greens.

First of all ye Lords and Ladies were led to their seats on the dais by the Lord of Misrule and his attendants. Then other groups of the company were brought to the hall while "Adeste Fideles" was sung.

The Boar's Head was then presented during the singing of the Boar's Head Carol. Blessing the feast immediately followed.

Ye chorus then sang "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen".

Then came the time for the real merriment in the following program:

Ye Dance—Wilde Heads.

Listen, Lordlings—Yong Gyrls.

Revels of Fools—Ye Jester Band.

St. George and the Dragon—Certayne Maskers.

"Bobbing Joe"—Morris Dancers.

Lutterworth Christmas Play—Certayne Mummings.

First Noel—Ye Chorus.

Sailor's Hornpipe—Certayne Jack Tars.

The Babe of Bethlehem—A solo and chorus.

A Rustick Reel—Countrymen and Wimmen.

Olde Charols

All the Night Bright Angels Sing.
Child Jesus.

Ye Court Dance—Certayne Lords and Ladies.

Silent Night—Ye Company.

Recessional—Candle Light.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES TOMORROW AT COLLEGE

The Class Day exercises of the graduates of S. G. S. N. C. will take place in the chapel of West Hall, Saturday, May 21, at 5 o'clock. The Senior Class extend an invitation to you to be present.

Program

Processional—Class Song.
Class History—Lois O'Quinn.
Class Poem—Helen Allen.
Prophecy—Evelyn Powell.
"Smiles"—C. B. Sharpe.
Gifts—Beuna McConnell.
Class Will—Virginia Peeples.
"Farewell"—Lina Flynt.
"Remembrance"—Song.
Recessional—College Song.
Presentation of Gift to College.
Presentation of Historic Spade to the Junior Class.

The Senior Play.

The Shakesperian play, "The Comedy of Errors", to be given by the graduating class of the South Georgia State Normal College next Monday evening, May 23, at 8:30, in the Valdosta High School auditorium, promises to be one of the best. Other than the play, Miss Alma Thompson will sing. There also will be an "Old English Dance."

Among the many funny predicaments that so happen to Antipholus of Syracuse, in trying to find his twin brother, was the delivery of "The Chain."

He is greatly pleased with the people of Ephesus.

"There's not a man I meet, but doth salute me,

As if I were their well acquainted friend;

And every one doth call me by my name.

Some tender money to me, some invite me;

Some others give me thanks for kindness;

Sure, these are but imaginary wiles,
And Lapland sorcerers inhabit here."

BRILLIANT WEDDING AT ADEL WEDNESDAY

Miss Lois May Becomes Bride Of Mr. Asa Day at Home of Bride's Parents

The Adel News of Thursday had the following account of the pretty wedding of a former student of the South Georgia State Normal College and a young woman who has a host of friends in this city:

The most brilliant social event of the season in Adel was the marriage of Miss Lois May and Mr. Asa L. Day at Oak Knoll, the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. May, on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

The beautiful home has just been completed and is the visible expression of the architectural and artistic ideals of its owners. The living room, dining room, parlor and music room were all thrown together into one spacious scene of life and color. The living room and dining room were decorated with white chrysanthemums and paper white narcissus, while in the music room and parlor were masses of yellow chrysanthemus in basket and floor vases. The decorations were fitting and simple in arrangement which is the last word in floral art.

In the cozy sun parlor surrounded by waving fern fronds and greenhouse plants bearing their brilliant blossoms were tables laden with gifts for this popular young couple. Space forbids an enumeration but one look was sufficient to satisfy even a stranger that their friends were many and true.

nosegays of lightly tinted yellow roses.

The ring bearer, little Wesley Parrish, cousin of the bride, wearing an Oliver Twist suit of blue velvet and a white satin blouse entered next, bearing the ring on a snowy pillow of white satin.

The beautiful bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was radiantly lovely in her traveling dress of dark blue peach bloom, with handsome trimmings of gray squirrel. Her hat was a picture model of panne velvet and silver cloth, daintily draped in black lace and jet. Her gloves and other accessories were of gray. She wore a lovely corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man. Mr. Ashley Day, of Douglas, the groom's brother, and while Rev. J. C. Sims performed the impressive ring ceremony, Verpi's La Frovata was softly played.

Mrs. May, the bride's mother, was attractively gowned in blue georgette and satin and wore a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

A delightful reception followed the ceremony delicious punch being served by Misses Louise Parrish and Gwendolyn Woodard, Mrs. Clarence Sutton and Mrs. E. J. Hall.

Miss Ella Daugherty presided over the bride's book, in which the guests registered.

Assisting Mrs. May in receiving her guests were Mrs. S. A. Parrish, Mrs. W. M. Tyson and Mrs. H. T. Gunn.

Immediately after the reception the bride and groom left for Miami and other points in Florida, and will also visit Cuba, after which they will reside in Douglas.

The ceremony was performed in the living room. The broad mantel was banked with maiden hair ferns, while hanging in wonderful profusion from the mantle board to the floor were the graceful sprays of asparagus primroses concealing the fire-place. Against this back ground gleamed the snowy whiteness of scores of queenly chrysanthemums in tall wicker vases, a chaste white altar outlined with fern and chrysanthemums upon which rested a white satin cushion completed this artistic setting over which the fairy like light of many waxen tapers in antique candelabra gleamed.

When the guests had assembled Miss Cleo Carter, of Nashville, at the piano, began the accompaniment in Toasis Meditation which was softly rendered on the violin by Miss Margaret Whittington, of Valdosta, Ga.

Miss Sarah Dunaway, of Valdosta, gave a charming rendition of the song "Because." Then to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party entered.

First came the junior maids of honor, Misses Sarah Parrish and Florence Bennett, cousins of the bride. Miss Parrish was becomingly gowned in midnight blue charmeuse and Miss Bennett was gowned in a lovely blue georgette. Both carried arm bouquets of yellow roses.

Next came the maid of honor, Miss Hazle Bourquine, sister of the bride, in an exquisite gown of blue panne velvet and silver cloth with trimming of jet. She wore a picture hat of panne velvet and silver lace and carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses.

The pretty little flower girls were little Mildred Castleberry and Mary Bennett, the last named being a cousin of the bride. They were quite daintily dressed in yellow pussy willow taffeta with the dearest little hats made of yellow taffeta and gold lace with ostrich tips of pastel shades. They carried old-fashioned thousand people were on the campus. The young ladies taking part in these exercises felt the tribute paid to their work and were much gratified with their success.

They Were Regarded As the Best of the Kind in the History of the College

The May Day exercises at the South Georgia State Normal College were the finest in the history of the school. The program opened promptly and was executed without a hesitation of any kind. The students responded in a pleasing way to their parts. Although "the sports" consisted of music, drills, and folk dances given in the various class rooms it did not seem difficult for the participants to transfer these exercises to "The Village Green."

Other than the excellency of the different numbers on the program, the beauty of the procession and the scene in which more than three hundred students were grouped presented a spectacular sight long to be remembered. No difference whether the students were in groups or alone, their costumes showed real art and were quite becoming to the wearer.

The May Queen by her serenity assured her subjects that they had chosen the right person for the Queen O' the May. Her carriage of golden flowers as well as her golden crown and scepter added greatly to the beauty of the scene. The grace with which she ruled her subjects was quite noticeable.

The participants was not the only pleasing sight, but the audience as well lent much to the charm of the scene. Never has such a hearty response come from the patrons and others interested in educational work. About two hundred automobiles lined the drive way while an estimate was placed at nearly a

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

OF THE COLLEGE GIRLS

Student Y. W. C. A. Had Pleasant 'Stunt Party' For St. Patrick's Program

Among the many novel ways of entertaining, the Y. W. C. A. of the South Georgia State Normal College has found a "Stunt Party" to be one of the most unique. Such a party was to be given on St. Patrick's Day but so many of the students were leaving for their vacation, therefore it was held on the terrace last Saturday night.

The first part of the evening was spent as a "Swap Party." Each girl brought her "White Elephant" neatly wrapped in paper to bestow upon her neighbor. This proved very funny when the contents of the packages were examined.

Then came the announcement of stunts. The Lowndes County girls of Valdosta led off by presenting a funny take-off on voting. This was followed by the various counties alone or in groups presenting a stunt as nearly characteristic of their county as could be. Thus there were plantation scenes, schools, singing classes, syrup making and packing, etc. The best stunt presented and awarded "First Honor" was given to a group of girls who were representatives from several counties. They had a typical college scene when the forbidden feast was spread. Another group of counties received second honor as they showed excellent advertising qualities. When a group of girls appeared as a bunch of laundry women, they well acted and carried off the honor for "the funniest stunt."

The states of Ohio, North Carolina and Florida have representative students in our college. Besides there are forty-two counties represented. Lowndes county has the largest representation; then Thomas has eleven, Clinch, Coffee, Lanier, Wayne each has seven; Berrien, Brooks, Grady and Mitchell each has six; Atkinson has five; Sumter has four; Toombs has four; others have fewer than for representatives.

It was a delightful evening spent in this merriment. Many of the girls organize clubs and try to outdo the others in numbers from their county.

'GREEN STOCKINGS' BY S. G. SENIORS MONDAY

When the play Green Stockings opens, Celia, the old maid of the Faraday household, has been away for a week. No one except Aunt Ida has taken particular notice of her absence. While she is away Tarver, who is in love with Celia's youngest sister, Phillis, asks for her father's consent to marry her. Mr. Faraday refuses on the ground that Celia is still on his hands.

Upon Celia's return Phillis thoughtlessly tells her of the family's discussions about Celia having to wear green stockings at a third sister's wedding and of Tarver's intention to get Admiral Grice, a man of about sixty-five, to propose to her. Celia has already stood about all she can and this proves to be the last straw. To the great joy and astonishment of the whole family she announces her engagement to a certain John Smith, a colonel in the army.

This engagement is the ruse by which Celia saves herself from wearing green stockings at the marriage of her sister. Since it is fictitious it has caused engenuity on elia's part, creating much fun.

This play, "Green Stockings," will be given by the Senior Class of the South Georgia State Normal College Monday evening, May 22, at 8:30, in the Strand Theater.

FRIDAY AT THE COLLEGE

Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, in West Hall of the South Georgia State Normal College, a very splendid demonstration will be given in the science department. Work from the physics, chemistry, biology and geography classes will be displayed.

A very cordial invitation is extended to friends who are interested in these courses, to visit the exhibition.

Miss Gallaher, Mrs. McGarrah and Mrs. Hagan will be "at home" to their friends next Saturday, May 7, from 4 to 6. This is the last of these series of entertainments. A general invitation is extended to friends who wish to take advantage of this opportunity.

RECITAL AT COLLEGE BY MUSICAL DEPARTMENT

You are most cordially invited to attend this concert tomorrow evening.

ANNUAL DINNER-MEETING TO BE HELD AT COLLEGE

Chamber of Commerce Will Use Largest Dining Hall In The City

Saturday night the votes in the Chamber of Commerce election for directors was counted and the committee in charge officially certified the members elected. This new board of directors is not to be announced publicly until the night of the annual meeting, Friday the 13th. The members elected, however, will be notified and they will have a meeting in the interval and select a president of the organization, and this official will be announced at the annual meeting.

The annual dinner and meeting will be held at the South Georgia State Normal College, arrangements having been made by the Chamber of Commerce whereby this is to be done without expense to the college. The dinner will be served in the large dining hall of the new dormitory and there will be room for everyone, this being the largest dining hall available in the city. Owing to the fact that no other place can accommodate a crowd as large as this one is expected to be, this arrangement was made. Another excellent feature will be the fact that the dinner will start promptly at 7 o'clock and will enable the entire program to be carried out before the hour grows so late.

Roast goose will form the principal feature of the menu, and this will be accompanied by the other things to make the dinner a complete one. Following this there will be a most interesting program made up of reports, short talks and most important of all the announcement of the members of the new board of directors and the report from them as to the new president and officers for the coming year.

Invitations will be sent out Tuesday to every member of the organization and besides this there will be a number of invited guests both from the city and other places, thus rounding out a very fine gathering and presenting a program which will be of great interest.

With the arrangements providing for room in plenty, it is hoped that the membership of the body will avail itself of the opportunity to attend this annual meeting and enjoy the evening.

MANY VISITORS DURING THE WEEK AT COLLEGE

Nothing is more enjoyable in college life than to welcome former students as they return to their Alma Mater.

Recently Miss Mamie Carter of Douglas, Ga., Miss Elizabeth Hodges of Cryene, Miss Maude Mobley, and Mrs. Nannie Mann Mobley and her small daughter, Winifred, of Fargo, were delightful guests at the college last week.

Mr. I. W. Adams of Tifton called on his daughter, Iliene; Mr. B. D. Harder and his daughter accompanied Mr. Adams.

Miss Virginia Moore of Blackshear visited her sisters, Misses Gertrude and Kathleen Moore who are attending the South Georgia State Normal College.

Dr. J. O. Phillips of Quitman made a pleasant call on his niece, Miss Alice Neal Prosser, who is a college student.

Mrs. S. Tom Harrell of Quitman made a short call on her daughter Miss Julia, who is in the graduating class.

Miss Carrie Hunter of Quitman called on her sister, Miss Freddie, who is in the Junior Class.

Brazil's Opportunity.

Brazil, which is almost wholly in the tropics, has the opportunity to upset the belief that no people can reach the very highest civilization in a tropical climate. The latest census credits Brazil with 30,500,000 people, which makes it the second American country in point of population. Some modern men of science, most of them British, maintain that when means have been found to utilize the heat of the sun as mechanical energy the tropics will become centers of production and therefore of civilization. If that should be true, what country could match Brazil, with its great resources of minerals, timber and land, and its great navigable rivers?—

TERRACE TEA IN HONOR MEMBERS OF GLEE CLUB.

The University of Georgia Glee Club, which arrives here Tuesday morning for a concert that evening at the Strand Theater, will be entertained at a terrace tea in the afternoon at the College.

The young ladies will receive them from five to six, and the young men at the Glee Club will have the opportunity of meeting the students of the South Georgia branch of the University system.

The college girls will attend the performance Tuesday evening in a body, occupying a special block of seats that has been reserved for them.

U. D. C. PLAY A SUCCESS.

The "American Museum of Living Figures" presented at the High School auditorium last night by the U. D. C. for the purpose of raising money for the scholarship at the college, was a splendid success from the standpoint of entertainment as well as from the financial standpoint. When the hour of beginning arrived, every seat in the house was taken, every available chair had been pressed into service, and all standing room was taken.

The play was most interesting and amusing, and moved off quickly and easily, every member of the cast taking their part to perfection, and keeping the house in gales of laughter from beginning to end.

Mr. Ivan Kelley is marketing a large yield of the finest Irish potatoes we have seen thus early in the season. Samples he left at The Times office this week are larger than goose eggs and well matured. He has fifteen acres of these and next week will begin shipments to Cincinnati and other northern markets.

MAY-DAY FESTIVAL WAS VERY BRILLIANT EVENT

A Large Crowd Witnessed the Beautiful Fairy-Like Dances at College

Had anyone so far failed to recognize the advent of spring, certainly the performance at the South Georgia State Normal college yesterday afternoon would have impressed the fact, for yesterday was the day for the annual spring festival participated in by the College and Training School and directed by Miss Louise Mendelsohn.

The prologue opened with a quick, graceful dance by three Spring Sprites, Raindrop, Sunbeam and Zephyr. As they danced the Posies, crouched on the ground and covered over with drab robes, gradually emerged, displaying in their costumes the brilliance of many spring flowers which they symbolized. Then the birds, cleverly costumed to represent various specimens from the ornithological realm, and butterflies with realistically spotted wings, expressed their joy in the spring and, joining hands, went off in merry procession to bring on the Queen and all her subjects.

The green, artistically enclosed by garlands suspended along a series of vined posts, served as a most pleasing setting for the processional which came diagonally across from a corner of it. The subjects as they entered formed an aisle and at the sounding of a trumpet dropped on the knees to acknowledge the approach of the Queen. Miss Julia Harrell as the lovely Queen of the occasion was brought in by eight Morris Men in a carriage gaily decorated with spring flowers. In her escort came train-bearers, pages, and noble ladies. To Murry Jolly fell the honor of placing on the Queen's head the crown of coreopses chosen this year to be the Queen's flower.

The Frolic in Full Swing.

Having chosen and crowned their Queen 'O the May, the people proceeded to pay honor to her by means of the dance. The "Garland Trio" by the Flower Maidens was beautiful for the grace of its performance and for the artistic combination of costumes in pastel shades set off by garlands of flowers and ivy. In a group of dances under the heading of Rustik Revels the peasant folk manifested their joy of the occasion.

The first of the series, "In Merry Pursuit" was a merry Irish jig, in which the lads and lassies coqueted to the strains of the lively music. The costumes of this group were pleasingly typical. The "Rollicking Round" and "Countryside Reel" were performed with much gusto and holiday abandon. With its participants costumed in the white and yellow to carry out the Queen's colors, the "Ribbon Dance" was especially graceful and pretty. "Daintye Steppe" and the Court Minuet were dances of charm, grace and dignity. From many unexpected places rushed in the Gypsy Beggars to perform their number, a wild care-free dance that elicited great applause from the audience.

With the winding of the Maypole, the one inevitable but beautiful symbol of May Day, the festival was brought to a close, the pole rose-capped and ivy-twined, was beautifully wound by the twenty-four dancers in artistically blended shades of tarleton ballet costumes. Leaving the streams to fly in the breeze, the dancers led off in double procession

TECH INDUSTRIAL TOUR IS WELCOMED BY VALDOSTANS

Splendid Greeting Was Given Distinguished Party

Visitors Were Elated Over the Greeting Given Them and Showed That Splendid Im- pression Was Made Here

The Industrial Tour of the State, gotten up under the auspices of the Technological College of Atlanta to bring to the attention of the people of Georgia the needs of the State in an industrial way, was a success in every particular, so far as the visit to Valdosta was concerned.

Dr. K. G. Matheson was so enthusiastic over the reception given the party in this city that he said the climax of the entire trip was reached in Valdosta.

The train arrived here promptly on time, 11:20 o'clock, and there were fifty or sixty automobiles at the depot ready to take the party on drive through the city. There were nearly one hundred Valdostans who were thus showing their willingness to help entertain the visitors. Mayor Peebles was at the head of the entertainment committee, and no time was lost in getting the crowd organized for the trip through the principal streets.

The Tech brass band of forty pieces accompanied the party. There was also a quartette of vocalists who furnished excellent music during the dinner at the College, and also on other occasions when vocal music was needed. The band was a leading feature and helped to keep up the enthusiasm.

RECITAL AT COLLEGE IN PHYSICAL EXPRESSION

More and more we are beginning to realize that rhythm is one of the great fundamental principles of life. The sea rises and falls in rhythm, all our bodily functions, all great industries, are carried on rhythmically. In fact, in everything that is highest and most beautiful there is to be found some expression of the eternal principle of rhythm.

Realizing, then, its importance in the life of the individual a greater emphasis is being put on that part of the physical training lesson which will aid in bringing out this innate and universal principle—namely, on the folk dancing and interpretive work. Through the folk dance the child gets not only an intimate knowledge of the festive customs of other nations, gains a certain power of dramatic expression, but most helpful of all, gradually acquires a more perfect rhythmic coordination of all parts of the body. The interpretive work develops a finer and more ready response to rhythm and inspires the student with a love for the more graceful, beautiful and completely coordinated bodily movements.

The college has always laid stress on this phase of its physical training course and Tuesday evening, May 17, at 8 o'clock, there will be a recital in the college chapel showing what has been accomplished along the lines of rhythmical work.

MORE DEATHS BY AUTOS THAN UPON RAILROADS

Official Reports Show That 7,969 People Were Killed in Auto Accidents

Automobile accidents in the United States claimed 1,474 more victims in 1919 than were killed in accidents on American railways, according to comparative figures compiled by the Southern Railway System from official reports recently issued by the Census Bureau and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Deaths from automobile accidents showed a total of 7,969, an increase of 444 over 1918, for the Census Bureau's registration area, comprising about 80 per cent of the country's total population. Sixty-six of the large cities had 3,808 deaths from automobile accidents.

In railway accidents the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that 6,495 persons were killed, this figure being lower than for any previous year since 1898 when the number of persons using the railways and employed on them was much smaller than in 1919. In the total for 1919 are included 2,553 trespassers and 1,882 other persons, not either passengers or employes, of whom a larger percentage were the victims of collisions between automobiles and railway trains.

These figures show that while the persistent effort of the railways to eliminate accidents has been productive of splendid results in decreased casualties, the number of deaths from automobile accidents is growing year by year.

The figures for 1919 are the latest available as those for 1920 have not yet been completed.

NO CONCESSIONS GIVEN

Mexico City, Feb. 26.—The Japanese have not been granted valuable oil concessions on the western Mexican coast it was declared last night at the presidential offices. This statement came as the result of rumors which have been in circulation for several days.

WILL MAKE NO REPLY

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 26.—President-elect Harding yesterday afternoon took notice of the attacks made on the men he has selected for his cabinet by saying that he would make no reply except through the acts of the coming administration.

MANY DEMONSTRATIONS FOR COLLEGE VISITORS

The Science Department Will Make Many Excellent Displays Monday

Among the demonstrations the visitors will find in the Science Department of the South Georgia State Normal College next Monday at four o'clock in West Hall are many devices that the educated girl of today will find useful in her home.

There will be demonstrated the electric toaster, the electric motor, the dynamo, two types of steam heating systems, hot water heating systems, hot water back for kitchen stoves, electro-magnet, the electric bell, the electric iron, the telegraph, lighting a house with electricity, with acetylene gas, intensity of illumination, making a mirror, making gunpowder, making soap and making matches.

The girls will be testing vinegar, butter, coffee, bluing, cloth, beef extract, sugar; detecting arsenic and copper in green foods and making an analysis of H<sub>2</sub>O and of baking powder.

The students are well acquainted with these demonstrations and many others. They are prepared to go into detail and explaining the general principles connected with these demonstrations.

In the Biological Department you will find facts and principles pertaining to life illustrated.

There will be the analysis of the air showing how life is supported. Other than the demonstrations plants will be produced showing their condition under various treatments. Facts pertaining to the life of man will readily be observed.

Structure of plants and animals will be the next subject. This will be illustrated by a variety of plants and animals.

BUSINESS LECTURE IS GIVEN AT THE COLLEGE

A Most Interesting Presentation of Business Facts Il- lustrated With Films

Appealing to the open-mindedness of the business men and their employes and to the students who attended his lecture last night at the South Georgia State Normal College, W. F. Brennan, lecturer, newspaper man, and business expert of the National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio, presented in a forceful and graphic manner the reasons for failures in retail business.

Not only were his remarks of interest and value to the retailers, however, for the fundamental of business, the broad principles of commerce were brought out in such a manner that they could be adopted by people in any line of business or profession.

During his talk the lecturer laid emphasis on the value of newspaper advertising to the retail merchants. He said in part: "I believe I am safe in saying that ten merchants fail today because they advertise too little, to every one who fails because he advertises too much. Hundreds of stores have remained small because of this neglect.

"Advertising is simply a way of telling possible purchasers about the goods you have for sale. To be easy to understand, an ad must be made of simple words, short sentences, few ideas. Big words and involved sentences will not be read. The purchasing public does not care how well educated you are—it simply wants to know what you have to sell, its quality, and its price.

"Your advertisement should take the reader over the 'five' steps of selling: Attention, interest, desire, confidence, action. Some people, sometimes, only glance at ads. If the

COLLEGE MATTERS AS COMMENCEMENT COMES

Literary Societies to Hold Joint Meeting This Evening— Sermon Tomorrow

Last September, two literary societies were organized in the South Georgia State Normal College. The one composed of members of the Senior, "Argonian," and Prep 2, classes was named Sororian.

The other which admitted the Junior, the Freshman, and Prep. I. classes, "Argonian." During the year the work was handled nicely through these club groups, and the girls have realized great benefit from working in them.

This evening, Saturday, May 21, at 8 o'clock, these societies will hold a joint meeting. They have invited the faculty, student body, and friends of the town who are interested in literary work to be present.

The Exhibits Next Week

One of the finest exhibits to be placed on display will be open on Tuesday, May 24, from 4 until 6 o'clock, at the South Georgia State Normal College. The display will be found in West Hall, in the Training School Department. The Fine Arts Department on the third floor; in the Domestic Art Department, second floor, north end of the building, and in the Domestic Science Department, first floor, in the north end of the building. You are most cordially invited to attend this exhibit between these hours.

PARTY WEDNESDAY IN HONOR OF COLLEGE GIRLS

The members of the Wesley Builders and the Admatha Class entertained Wednesday afternoon from four until six at the home of Mrs. L. C. Holtzendorff in honor of the college girls who are members of the Methodist church.

The teachers of the public school and the college also shared honors with the college girls.

The entire lower floor of the Holtzendorff home was opened for the occasion. In the hall and dining room poinsettias and poppies were used and in the living room and the music room sweet peas added a bit of beauty.

Miss Alice Groover, teacher of the Wesley Builders, and Miss May Allen King, teacher of the Admatha Class, were assisted by the members of the class in making the guests enjoy the afternoon.

Mrs. McIntyre and Miss Blair, presidents of the two classes, met the visitors at the door.

Chocolate was poured from four until five by Mrs. William Edwards and Mrs. Guy McCulley, and from five until six by Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Yarbrough.

During the afternoon an enjoyable program was rendered. It was as follows:

Remarks of Welcome—Mrs. D. D. Smith.

Violin Solo—Miss Margaret Whittington.

Reading—Miss Hines.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. W. M. Oliver.

Numbers by the High School Stringed Orchestra, led by Miss Lilla B. Hughes.

The program was given twice during the afternoon. About two hundred guests accepted the hospitality of the classes and the occasion was most delightful.

The classes were happy to have the honor of entertaining the girls and teachers, and Judge T. G. Lane of the farm, provided the repast.

ROTARIANS FEASTED IN HONOR OF THEIR WIVES

Dec 31 1921

A Large Crowd Enjoyed Turkey and Bird Supper At the New Dormitory

The Rotary Club and the Rotary-Anns had a lively meeting at the new dormitory of the college Saturday night, the principal feature being a turkey and bird supper served in courses in the main dining room. Besides birds and turkey the feast consisted of oyster cock-tail, salads and other elements which go to make up a feast.

Between the courses the diners marched around the table, finishing the march at the conclusion of the song, thus changing places at the table and bringing each one present opposite to a new neighbor.

After the feast there were a number of enjoyable stunts, including a pecan race, a rock-the-baby-to-sleep at 3 a. m., between George Sherman, Turner Rockwell and Lloyd Greer, with James Dasher as judge. It was a humorous stunt and caused much merriment.

Another contest was a "pass-the-lemon" contest between the men to see who would buy a five-pound box of candy for the winner of a "pass-the-rose" contest between the ladies. James Dasher and Dan Breedlove lost out in the lemon contest and Mrs. Tom McKey and Mrs. J. T. Mathis won out in the rose contest, the ladies receiving the boxes of candy.

Another interesting feature was the experience of Allen Strickland, beginning with his business career and running on through his marriage to a visit to New York. Mrs. Strickland tried to get him to "hush", but man-like he kept on talking and entertaining the crowd.

The double quartette sang a dozen or more songs and contributed much to the pleasure of the occasion. Many of the "Roters" left between eleven and twelve o'clock, but others remained to watch the old year pass out and the new year come in.

MUSIC RECITAL THIS EVENING AT COLLEGE

A recital of unusual interest will be given at the South Georgia State Normal College, Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The selections of music has been carefully made and includes numbers which are of real fame. The program will be rendered by students of the music department. Friends of the college are cordially invited to attend the recital which will be given in the science lecture room in West Hall.

By the Mountain Inn, (Bohm)—Miss Carleen Turner.

Lose Platter, (Koeling)—Miss Dorothy Stroud.

Waltz, (Hall)—Miss Velma Cas-sels.

Fifth Waltz, (Durand)—Miss Frances Edwards.

Dreaming, (Tate)—Miss Evelyn O'Quinn.

Dance of the Flower Girls. (Wachs)—Miss Thelma Sullivan.

Old Southern Days, (Grant-Shae-fer)—Miss Eloise Bowers.

Bercuse from Joclyn, (Godard)—Miss Birdie VanBrackle.

Mazurka, (Godard)—Miss Chloe Ivey.

The Maid of the Mill, (Wilson)—Glee Club.

A Scottish Tone Poem, (MacDow-ell)—Miss Pauline Culbreth.

Quartette from Rigoletto, (Verdi)—Misses Thompson, Hodges; Messrs Dasher and Stump.

VISITORS AT COLLEGE.

Mrs. A. M. Moore of Blackshear, spent Sunday at the South Georgia State Normal College with her daughters who are students in the college. Miss Gertrude is in this year's graduating class; Miss Kathleen is in the junior class.

Mrs. Hazel Smith and Mrs. L. R. Scott were guests of the South Georgia State Normal College during the supper hour Monday evening. At that time Mrs. Smith gave a delightful talk to the girls, using for her subject "Service." She emphasized the fact that the modern girl was realizing more fully the many opportunities for service. With a good education and the right way of living, the girl of today will be able to be of great service out in the world as well as in her community.

VALDOSTA, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1921

IMPORTANT EVENTS AT THE COLLEGE THIS WEEK

At 8:30, Friday, May 13, the music department of the South Georgia State Normal College will give a varied program in the concert which will be held in the chapel in West Hall. This promises to be one of the best, as each division of the department will be represented by only a few students. The town friends who are interested in music are most cordially invited to attend this recital this evening.

The town students in attendance in the South Georgia State Normal College organized a club last fall in which they control day-student activities. For their final meeting they have extended an invitation to the senior girls of the Valdosta High School, to be their guests Saturday evening, May 14, from 7 o'clock until 8:30, in West Hall.

The Philharmonic Club has extended an invitation to the visiting young ladies as well as to the student body, to attend the last club meeting to be held in the chapel Saturday evening at 8:30. The club members are expecting some out of town talent to take part in the program, therefore they assure us there is a treat for their club members and guests at this particular meeting.

LAST AT HOME OF SEASON.

Miss Gallaher, Mrs. McGarrañ and Mrs. Hagan have extended a general invitation to their many friends to attend the last "At Home" day for this season.

They will be glad to see their friends any day convenient, but by stating a time it gives their friends a good opportunity of meeting other friends. These ladies will receive in the parlor of the dormitory from four until six o'clock May 8.

crop.
College Opens Up Again.

The spring vacation at the South Georgia State Normal College, which began last Thursday afternoon and continued until Tuesday morning, found all of the girls and teachers back in their places, ready for the grind which will run for about two more months, or until late in May. The few days rest have been helpful to both the students and the teachers and they take up their work again with increased interest.

Meeting at College Next Monday.

A meeting of County School Superintendents and members of the county boards of education will be held at the South Georgia College Monday, Jan. 24th, beginning at 10 and lasting until 4 p. m. There will be eight or ten counties from Southwest Georgia represented at the meeting, as well as some of the school officials from Atlanta present. The purpose of said meeting is to discuss matters of general interest to the schools.

Callers at the College.

Among the callers at the South Georgia State Normal College are the names of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Scruggs of Morven. Their daughter, Florine, is a student in the college. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patten of Ray City, called on their daughter, Rutheyllyne. Miss Katie Herrin's father, Mr. W. H. Herrin, and her brother, William, of Howell, have called on her recently. Mrs. Jos. A. Alexander of Nashville, spent Thursday visiting her daughters, Ailene and Nanna, in college. Mrs. Homes and Mrs. Aileen Parker Turner of Moultrie, made calls during the week.

Callers at the College.

Among the recent callers at the South Georgia State Normal College are the names of Mr. A. W. Hamilton, Mr. Lawton Hamilton, Misses Jameson and Brown, Mrs. J. S. Johnson, and Dr. J. E. Lanier, of Moultrie; Mr. A. M. Culbreth and Mr. Clifford Culbreth, of Tarver; Mr. William Herrin, of Howell; Mr. and Mrs. Rentz, of Naylor; Mr. Bragdon and Mr. Claude Hunter, of Quitman; Mr. Jos. A. Alexander, of Nashville; Mr. T. J. Crum and Mr. Jno. C. Crum, of Ray City; Mr. and Mrs. Dan E. Phillips, of Smithville; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Carter, of Lenox; Mr. C. G. Scruggs, of Morven; Mr. J. A. Cochran, Mr. J. L. Palmer, Mr. J. C. Palmer and Miss Barrett, of Camilla; Mrs. J. M. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford, of Waycross; Mr. J. A. McKinnon, of Pidecock; Mr. A. H. VanBrackle, of Adel; Dr. H.

PARENT-TEACHER 1951
ASSOCIATION TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of S. G. S. N. C. Friday afternoon, Oct. 21, at 4 o'clock.

The children will have charge of the program giving a health play and information of Chō-Cho, the health clown.

All parents who have pupils in the Training School are urged to attend.

MRS. T. H. LOGGINS,
President.

MRS. DAN R. BRUCE,
Press Correspondent.

FIRST SATURDAY TO BE AT HOME DAY AT COLLEGE

The friends of Miss Gallagher, Mrs. McGurrah, and Mrs. Hagan will hear with pleasure that they will be at home to their friends the first Saturday in each month for the rest of the season, at the South Georgia Normal College.

As February the fifth is the first Saturday in the month, they will be at home in the parlors of the dormitory from three until six and will be pleased to receive their friends during these hours.

GLEE CLUB OF COLLEGE TO APPEAR THURSDAY

The Glee Club of the South Georgia State Normal College will give a recital in the Rialto Theatre Thursday night, April 28, with the picture for that evening. 1921

The program will open with several selections by the Glee Club. The Mandolin Club will then give several numbers. After this the Glee Club will appear in Spanish costume and give "A Night in Granada."

Those who have heard the Glee Club in former years realize how very good these recitals are. This program under Mr. Poston's supervision promises to be excellent.

"Rotes" Entertain Seniors.

The Rotary club will have the senior class from the South Georgia State Normal College as their guests Thursday evening. The outing will be at Long Pond and will be a moonlight picnic. The wives of the "Rotes" will prepare the feast, which promises to be a good one and these same wives will go along to help give the college girls a good time. Everything will be free and easy and fully up to the Rotary standard. Those who have shared their hospitality in the past know just what that means. The Rotarians will have their cars at the college at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the young ladies will be distributed so that each "Rote" may get one of the girls for his special charge. The crowd will remain at the pond until about ten o'clock at night. Bathing in the pond will be one feature of entertainment, though there will be many other attractive features.

MANY RECENT VISITORS AT S. G. S. N. COLLEGE

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Richardson, of Valdosta, with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Roland B. Daniels, made a delightful call at the South Georgia State Normal College, Saturday evening. Mr. Daniels is city superintendent of the Columbus, Georgia schools.

Mr. Jerkins and his daughter, of Douglas, Ga., spent sometime on Saturday, looking through the South Georgia State Normal College buildings and its equipment. They were accompanied by Mrs. Robert Lott, whose daughter, Thelma, was a student in that institution in former years.

Mrs. G. R. Gardiner, of Albany, Ga., who is visiting Mrs. O. D. Dalton, of Valdosta, brought Miss Willie McDaniels, of Albany to enter as a student in the South Georgia State Normal College.

A pretty climax came at the end of the entertainment. When the curtain went down on the last act, two hundred college girls, who had seats in the balcony, arose and sang "Glory, Glory to Old Georgia," while the large audience remained standing.

This song was followed by the college song of the girls. The effect was splendid, and it was evidently appreciated by the University boys, who responded with loud applause from behind the curtain.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY IS FULL OF WIT AND HUMOR

The comedy which the Senior Class of the South Georgia State Normal College will give in the Strand Theatre, Monday evening, May 22, at 8:30, is full of wit and humor.

Miss Celia's invention of her engagement which is to prevent her from wearing green stockings at the marriage of her third sister, is comical in every way.

"Poor Colonel Smith! What harm has he ever done? Was ever a career more blameless? He lifted me down from the shelf. Dear Colonel Smith! He died just at the right moment. He did his work in silence. Well, peace to his ashes."

The plot is good and each act carries the audience with intense expectation.

MAY DAY EXERCISES AT COLLEGE NEXT MONDAY

The May Day exercises at the South Georgia State Normal College will be given on the second day of May, at half past five, in front of the old dormitory.

This will be a typical Olde Englyshe May Day. The villagers will be sporting on the green. Robin Hood and his men arrive. They ask why all are so gay. The response comes that it is May and they are looking for the Queen to come that way. Then Robin Hood offers to go to meet the Queen. Soon the long train of escorts appear and open the way for the Queen to enter.

The crowning of the Queen will be next. Afterward, each group of merry-makers will show their grace and skill in movements pleasing to the Queen, while there will be songs of joy and gladness.

The college girls and the training school children will take part in this. Friends of the college are most cordially invited to be present. Chairs will be placed on the terrace and lawn for the audience.

NOELL-MITCHELL WED- DING AT ACWORTH, GA.

A wedding of a great deal of interest in Acworth and other sections was that on New Year's Day at four o'clock p. m., of Miss Lulu Mitchell and Mr. Prince McCall Noell, of Valdosta, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton Mitchell, of Acworth.

The ceremony was one of simplicity and beauty and was performed by Mr. W. A. Chastain, pastor of the First Christian church of Columbus, the ring ceremony being used.

The improvised bridal altar between the reception room and the dining room was banked with potted plants and cut flowers. Miss Mitchell wore a becoming dark blue suit of velour cloth with squirrel collar and blue satin hat to match. She carried a bouquet of bride roses showered with hyacinths and wore a platinum pin set with diamonds, the gift of the groom. She also carried a point-lace handkerchief of her grandmother's. The maid of honor was Miss Ray Mitchell, sister of the bride, wore a flesh-colored beaded georgette dress with white hat and slippers, and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. M. K. Noell, of Memphis, Tenn.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Lomon M. Awtrey sang beautifully "All for You" and "Because," accompanied on the piano by Miss Florence Watson, of Atlanta. Master Franc Mitchell, brother of the bride, rendered the wedding march from Mendelssohn.

The bride has a wide circle of friends wherever known and is an accomplished musician. Mr. Noell, one of the proprietors and officers of the Valdosta Wholesale Drug company, is a leader in business and social circles of that city.

After the ceremony the guests, close friends and relatives, were tendered an informal reception by the bride's parents.

After returning from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Noell will be at home in Valdesta.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Miss Annie Gassoway, Valdosta; Mr. M. K. Noell, Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Chastain, Columbus; Mrs. William McKeehan, Chattanooga; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. M. Mitchell, Miss Florence Watson, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. McGee, Mr. A. C. Smith, Miss Maude Nilley, all of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Pledger, Emerson, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Levi Shaw, Cartersville; Mrs. Alvin Smith, Marietta; Mr. Pendleton Mitchell, University of Georgia; Miss Ray Mitchell, Monroe, Ga. —From The Four-County Post, Acworth, Ga.

COLLEGE FOLKS TAKE UP THEIR WORK AGAIN

The students of the South Georgia State Normal College have returned from their vacation in very good condition. They have taken up their daily routine in a gratifying way. During the year there has been very little sickness. However the work has been plentiful and the students have taken it up with all energy possible.

They are anticipating several happy weeks ahead of them. Beside the usual class room work there is mingled fun and frolic throughout the time.

The Sophomore class will entertain the Freshmen at dinner. The Junior class will give a reception to the Senior class. The Glee Club will give an entertainment. The May Day performance promises to be, unusually good this year.

Several of the classes are preparing to display some of the work they have been doing in their department during the year. Among these will be an exhibit in the science and geography departments. This promises to be of unusual interest. Besides having mounts and charts and slides and various pieces of apparatus which the students have made from time to time to illustrate their subjects, they propose to have a great number of demonstrations on display at which they will actually be doing the work. This scientific training enables the student to understand thoroughly her subject and to answer intelligently the questions which may be asked her. It also gives a good basis for higher training.

DANIELS-SUTTON WEDDING MONDAY NIGHT.

An unusually happy and romantic marriage took place last evening at the home of Rev. J. J. Cornish. Miss Julia Daniel of Tampa, Fla., one of the best known and most attractive of the students at the college, and Mr. Clarence Sutton of Adel, were the contracting parties. Rev. Mr. Cornish performed the ceremony.

The romance is one of long standing, the young people having been engaged several months. It was expected that the marriage would be celebrated after the closing of the school term, but important engagements in the family made it seem better to move the date forward to last evening. The college authorities communicated with the bride's father in Tampa, and with his approval arranged the details of the happy event.

The groom, accompanied by Mr. John Mabbett, as best man, Miss Irene Hutchinson, maid of honor, and Mr. Shelley Hutchinson and Mr. Thomas Parrish, came to the college about nine o'clock, where they were joined by the bride, and Miss Kathleen Hutchinson, the bride's roommate, and by members of the faculty. Mrs. McGarrah and Mr. Powell accompanied the bridal party to the home of Mr. Cornish on North street, where arrangements for the ceremony had been made.

The bride and groom left at once on their wedding journey, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends.

Mrs. Sutton has been attending the college for a number of years and is one of the most beautiful girls in attendance. She is quite popular and has endeared herself to many of her college mates. Her friends will hear with pleasure that her future residence is to be in this section of the state. She was married in a smart dark blue coat suit worn with a small black hat.

Mr. Sutton is connected with the bank at Adel and is widely known. A most cordial welcome awaits his charming young bride from numerous relatives and acquaintances.

VALENTINE PARTY AT <sup>1921</sup> SOUTH GEORGIA NORMAL

Class work is not the only method of education. Social features play an important part. Therefore the college girls lay aside their books occasionally and enter into a frolic. For this line of training, the Y. W. C. A. is a big factor in helping a girl to find herself and enjoy the right kind of a good time.

Last Saturday night the Y. W. C. A. of the South Georgia State Normal College gave a valentine party to the students and faculty.

On arrival the guests found some broken hearts to be mended. Then in a unique way they chose a partner for the grand march. After executing a few figures the guests were led to the door of the chapel. Just inside sat the King, Queen and Jack of Hearts, and St. Valentine, ready to receive them. Some of Mother Goose's children were there ready to entertain them.

As the guests entered to do obeisance to the Royal Family, soft strains of music came from the Victrola. This occasioned a beautiful scene as the young ladies had assumed the role of little children. The room was beautifully decorated which displayed St. Valentine's skill in making hearts.

Various games added to the entertainment. At the close of the frolic each guest was presented with a heart full of sweets. The many tributes of the evening's pleasures offered to the King and Queen assured them that their guests really had a good time.

BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT COLLEGE

The Christmas season was ushered in at the South Georgia State Normal College Sunday evening in a suitable and impressive way.

As has been the custom heretofore, the Christmas cantata, "Bethlehem" was rendered in the Vesper service. This composition by Paul Bliss is for solo and three-part chorus, with readings. Mr. Powell read the various parts of scripture clearly and convincingly which added much to the enjoyment of the music.

Misses Thompson and Hodges took the soli and the glee club the chorus. This consisted of Hark! the Glad Sound.

Saw You Never in the Twilight.

O Little Town of Bethlehem.

Silent Night.

While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks.

Angels from the Realms of Glory.

Once in Royal David's City.

O Holy Night.

It Came Upon the Midnight Clear.

O, Come, All Ye Faithful.

The music was unusually good. This with the charm of the beautiful surroundings in which the service was held made the service impressive in a way never to be forgotten.

After the program was finished all formality was set aside. Fires were lighted in the big fireplaces. This suggested a temptation that could not well be resisted. Immediately the girls began sitting on the floor around the fires. The lights were turned off and only the blaze from the fires helped to show the mirth and pleasure that was manifested. It was a pleasing picture.

While this happiness prevailed a number of Christmas selections were played on the victrola. Among these were "Silent Night," "Joy to the World," "Oh, Come, All Ye Faithful", and parts from "The Messiah". It was all so beautiful and so sacred.

COLLEGE GIRLS GET BENE-FIT OF HEALTH COURSE

Heretofore it has been the custom of the students of the South Georgia State Normal College to secure a doctor to come from the Health Educational Bureau of the National Young Women's Christian Association, who would tarry with them a week and give daily health talks.

Doctor Gladys Cooper of New York has just arrived at the college in order to take up this work. Since the late war "positive health" is upheld and Doctor Cooper is spending much of her time in different states establishing "community health centers." Various organizations are interested in pushing this work so that communities at large will recognize great benefits.

As only a few schools have taken up these special health lessons the girls deem themselves fortunate in being honored with an adviser.

LECTURE TONIGHT AT COLLEGE AUDITORIUM

Mr. W. F. Brennan with his outfit has arrived in Valdosta. He is getting everything in readiness for his lecture tonight in the auditorium of the South Georgia State Normal College at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Brennan's subject is "Getting the Most Out of Retailing." However his film begins by telling in a vivid manner the story of a merchant who is near failure. The reasons for his lack of success is plainly depicted as the film progresses. The story shows the indifference of his clerks, poor arrangement of goods, an unattractive front, and out-of-date business methods which all contributed their quota of loss.

Finally a change comes in the career of the merchant. He remodels his store, installs a modern system, does more advertising and rapidly rises to success and prosperity through these modern methods.

This six reel feature film has been prepared for the National Cash Register Company and from the experiences of that company in its thirty-six years of dealing with merchants in all parts of the world. In connection with this the lecture promises to be a very suggestive and helpful device to those who are interested in the retailing business.

To the students, many moral lessons will be obtained as well as lessons pertaining to any kind of business they may undertake.

Those who are interested in civics and community welfare will have the opportunity of seeing also a film portraying some of these scenes.

All merchants and other people who are interested in these subjects are most cordially invited to attend this lecture.

There will be no charge for admission.

VALDOSTA, GA., THURSDAY

COLLEGE LABORATORY IS MADE MUCH LARGER

The physics and chemistry students of the South Georgia State Normal College have been enlarging their laboratory knowledge by making excursions to factories and offices where they could see the actual work of the machinery which demonstrate the principles worked out in the students experiments.

The telephone offices aided the classes greatly in understanding the control of the connections which the operators demonstrated to them.

The ice cream factory showed plainly the process of freezing and storage. This visit followed one to the ice plant where they actually saw the process of ice making.

The power plant illustrated many principles in their physics work. Not only did the classes see the machinery but minute explanations of the development and use of electricity.

At the printing office they saw the huge machines handle work as if they were human. This caused great astonishment as the class again saw on a large scale their laboratory apparatus doing an immense piece of business.

However the newest invention that claimed their attention was a set of radio receivers which Mr. Will Holder brought to their laboratory in West Hall last week. Mr. Holder placed his aerial on top of the building and was able to catch several telegraphic messages. This was a real revelation to the group as they heard the messages.

Much of this work will be demonstrated April 21, as a scientific exhibition which will be given at 4 o'clock. The physics, chemistry, geography and biology classes will contribute to this display and show actual work carried on in the laboratories.

Glee Club to Sing Tonight.

The Glee Club of the South Georgia State Normal college will sing at the Strand Theatre tonight, when a percentage from the performance will go to the "Empty Stocking fund. There will be beautiful dances by the little girls and, in addition, the Constance Talmadge picture, "A Woman's Place", which gives a very humorous view of women in politics. There will also be a fine comedy. "Old Santa Claus" entertained the children Monday afternoon and he will be on hand again today to play upon their imaginations.

AN EXPRESSION RECITAL AT THE COLLEGE WEDNESDAY.

An Expression Recital under the supervision of Mrs. Dalhouse will be given in the lecture room in West Hall of the South Georgia State Normal College Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock. All the friends of the college are cordially invited to attend this recital.

Program.

"Beautiful as the Morning"
(Eloise Robinson) — Miss Helen Bruce.

"Mirandy on First Aid to Matrimony" (Dorothy Dix)—Miss Alice Mooney.

"The Bear Story" (James Whitcomb Riley)—Miss Edna Robinson.

"Pied Piper of Hamelin" (Robert Browning)—Miss Mary Small.

"The Metal of the Pasture"
(James L. Allen)—Miss Deborah Creighton.

Dills, Dills, in bulk, in can, just received at Jenkins'. Phone 202.

STEREOPTICAN IS USED AT S. G. S. N. COLLEGE

The stereoptican which has been recently placed in the South Georgia State Normal College is proving to be of great value to the students. Not only is it used to illustrate lectures in history, geography, science and art, but the College Y. W. C. A. girls have conceived the unique plan of having some of their subjects illustrated.

Last evening they gave a very delightful lecture with illustrations on their Blue Ridge conference. The audience was taken from the beginning of the journey through the conference work. Many of the wayside scenes were beautiful as well as those on the conference grounds.

It portrayed a new world to the student who does not see things off of the campus. The idea of being able to qualify as a member of this conference and attend it in June, seemed to thrill the audience. It is hoped that a number of the college girls will find it possible to go to the conference this year and get this splendid training.

HOUSE WARMING NEW DORMITORY THURSDAY

The house warming for the new dormitory at the College Thanksgiving evening, will be one of the most delightful occasions that the College has ever offered the city. This beautiful new college home, which the citizens of Valdosta have done so much to make a reality, is in a large way a symbol of the fine co-operation and mutual affection between the City and the College.

Not only will there be a reception of the delightful kind the College has often given, but all the buildings will be wide open for the inspection of the guests. So the occasion is an excellent opportunity for the public to see the unusual excellence of this, the State's most modern and complete college home.

All citizens of Valdosta are cordially invited, and the College folks are making ready to receive a host of their friends. All good Valdostans should make it a point to be present.

11/19/21

1921 FIELD DAY CONTESTS AT COLLEGE NEXT FRIDAY

Much interest is manifested between the classes in athletic games this year in the South Georgia State Normal College.

The students are eagerly awaiting next Friday to come as their athletic association has announced that at 4 o'clock on that day they may have an opportunity to show their prowess in various sports on the athletic field. Many of the girls who won in contests last year are expecting to reap more laurels this year and others are quite as determined to share these if not win all.

The program has been arranged to show the different types of work used in the physical education department. The students will march to the field and then execute different drills. Organized playground games will be next in order.

The second part of the program will consist of the athletic contests. These will include regular track and field events as relay races, dashes, broad jump, etc. The contest will be between classes and between individuals.

The Valdosta Concert Band has kindly consented to be present and furnish music for the occasion. The drills will be accompanied by the band. Besides selections will be rendered at various intervals.

Since so much interest has been shown heretofore by the town friends a very cordial invitation is extended by the Athletic Association to them to be present for this meet.

FIELD DAY PROGRAM OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL

The pupils of the Training School of the South Georgia State Normal College will give the following program on the school campus Saturday, March 5, at four o'clock. All are cordially invited to see this program. Each event promises to be most interesting and each grade is working hard to try to come out first in the contests:

1. Entrance on field.
2. Fancy marching—6th and 7th grades.
3. Dumb bell drill—4th and 5th grades.
4. Games—1st grade.
  - (a) Story play.

12. Obstacle relay—2nd and 3rd grades.

COLLEGE OPENS TERM MOST SUCCESSFULLY

Two Of the Classes Entertained at Barber's Pool— Dormitory Full

Two of the classes of the South Georgia State Normal College, about a hundred strong, were guests at Barber's pool yesterday evening, and added a lively note to the usually lively score. It is interesting to know that the other classes will in turn enjoy the hospitality of Mr. Barber at the pool, as he has invited the whole college to come.

The college has this year very quickly come down to the regular rounds of life and of study in spite of the somewhat unfinished condition of the new dormitory, and in spite of rather large and important changes that have been made.

Following a plan adopted last year, the preparatory classes have been cut down in number to forty students—reduced half, and have been organized as a separate unit akin to the training school, while the Junior and Senior classes—the truly college classes—have been greatly enlarged. This year's graduating class is the largest in the history of the college, and the Junior class is also the largest the college has ever enrolled.

While the deliberate cut in numbers for the preparatory students and "hard times" have prevented the usual overflow of students, still every available room at the college is occupied; and in the new dormitory which is used for Juniors and Seniors, all the rooms but about a half dozen have had to be crowded up to three in a room.

The college has never before had so encouraging an opening. The faculty and the old students are enthusiastic about the new girls and the new girls are a happy, high spirited group who have fallen in love with the college at sight. President Powell says it is a fine omen that not a single girl has sprinkled his desk corner with "bitter salt tears."

MUSIC RECITAL AT COL- LEGE OPEN TO PUBLIC

GIRL STUDENT IS FOUND LIFELESS

Miss Ruby Landrum Strangles
Self at State Normal College.

MAKES ROPE FROM TOWELS

Worry Over Lessons Produced Severe Melancholia, Belief.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 28.—Miss Ruby Landrum, 17-year-old normal school student from Stephens, Ga., hanged herself in the bath room on the third floor of the Bradberry dormitory at the State Normal School here Monday at 1 o'clock. She died of strangulation, according to the three doctors who were members of the coroner's jury that held the inquest shortly after the tragedy occurred. The lifeless body was discovered hanging by a rope of twisted towels from a steam pipe through the bath room. The discovery was made about noon by Miss Minnie Perry, student, rooming on the same floor, who climbed up on a chair and looked through the transom to ascertain the reason why the bathroom door was locked.

At the inquest held by the coroner's jury shortly after the tragedy occurred it was decided the death of Miss Landrum at her own hands came about as the result of insanity, a climax to the melancholia of which she had been suffering for the past three weeks.

Dr. S. S. Smith stated, "I am sure that the death at her own hands was through insanity." Dr. J. H. Reynolds stated, "This is but a climax to a three weeks' period during which she was mentally unbalanced." Dr. Ralph Goss stated, "Undoubtedly at the time she did this she was insane. This insanity was perhaps the climax to a period of melancholia."

Made High Record.

Miss Landrum, according to the testimony that was given at coroner's inquest, was attending the Normal school through the generosity of Miss Dowdle, of the State College of Agriculture, and had made a very high record. For some unknown reason, however, according to the testimony given by Miss Dowdle, Miss Landrum thought that she was not doing as well as was expected of her and for the last three weeks had written Miss Dowdle letters in which were such expressions as "I wish that I were dead. I know that it is sinful to say such but it is the truth." The physicians who were members of the coroner's jury used this as the basis for their verdict: "The girl was insane at the time that she committed the act and the insanity was the cause of the melancholia."

Miss Landrum has a father, J. W.

PARENT-TEACHERS MET AT COLLEGE FRIDAY

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the S. G. S. N. College was held in West Hall, Friday afternoon, with Mrs. T. H. Loggins presiding.

The treasurer reported $129 on hand.

Miss Pritchard, head of the music department, reported that the victrola which was donated to the training school by the college was now in good condition and the need now was more records. The association voted $50 to be used by Miss Pritchard in buying more records for immediate use. The victrola is proving to be a great help to the children with their music.

Miss Barrett stated that the two balls recently purchased were a great joy to the children and gymnasium teacher, but that two more were needed. It was voted that two more balls be bought by Miss Barrett.

After the business, it was a great privilege to hear a talk by Miss Goodlet on "The Study of Children of the Early 'Teens'."

An earnest discussion by the mothers and teachers present followed this talk. This heart to heart talk of mother with teacher, was very interesting and helpful.

It was proven at this meeting that the teacher needs the parents' co-operation and that the parent needs to understand and co-operate with the teacher. Without this understanding, and co-operation there is sure to be serious mistakes made in dealing with the child of this age.

MRS. DAN R. BRUCE,
Press Correspondent.

SHAKESPEAREAN READING
BY A MASTER TONIGHT

The cordial co-operation obtaining between the college and the city schools brings many advantages to Valdosta, but possibly no single incident of this co-operation has given more pleasure and done more good in a cultural way than the bringing of Doctor Henry Lawrence Southwick to Valdosta to read Othello. Doctor Southwick, the president and moving spirit of Emerisan School of Oratory, is to the artistic field of dramatic reading what a Scotti is to the concert field—the master's master. It is a great educational event for the High School and college young people to hear such an artist and scholar in such a reading. It is also a great treat to the lovers of fine things in the community to be able to attend the recital.

Doctor Southwick's coming is not a money making scheme. The admission is intentionally placed low—less than half of the usual price for Doctor Southwick's recitals—so that as many as possible may share the pleasure. If there is any money left after paying the bills, it will go to student activities of the High School and college.

At the High School auditorium tonight at eight-thirty.

COLLEGE DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE 1ST PERFORMANCE

The Dramatic Club which has been recently organized in the South Georgia State Normal College will give its first performance of one act plays on Saturday evening at 7:15.

The plays presented will be "The Groove," by George Middleton.

Cast

Constance—Evelyn O'Quinn.

Sarah—Corinne Studstill.

"Joint Owners in Sapin," by Alice Brown.

Cast

Mrs. Mitchell—Edna Robinson.

Mrs. Fullerton — Catherine Wheeler.

Miss Dyer—Beatrice Lang.

Mrs. Blair—Helen Bruce.

"Mansions," by Hildegard Flanner.

Cast

Harriet Wilde—Clyde Palmer.

Lydia (her niece)—Mary Cobb.

Joe (her nephew) — Deborah Creighton.

COLLEGE GIRLS' DEBATE WAS WELL ATTENDED

The Argonian Society Carried Off the Honors In The Opinion of Judges

The entertainment given by the societies of the South Georgia State Normal College last night was well selected and nicely given. The arrangement of the rostrum was in harmony with the order of the societies. Only white flowers were used and a slight showing of each of the societies' colors.

However delightful the whole program was it was the debate that claimed the strictest attention as it was instructive as well as interesting. The students had studied their subject extensively and they were well prepared and responded freely. The arguments on both sides were forcible and good, but the Argonian (affirmative side) Society carried off the honor.

Mrs Eddy's Work With Students.

Mrs. Katherine Willard Eddy who is a fluent speaker, has given several very interesting talks to the students of the South Georgia State Normal College. Her travels have been through countries in which conditions are not of the best, therefore she was able to help the Y. W. C. A. girls understand the great work that is being carried on with their contributions in the foreign field.

Mrs. Eddy has gone to take up this same line of work in the Tallahassee College for Women.

Town Girls' Luncheon.

The town girls of the Lowndes County College Club will hold their luncheon on Thursday in the grove on the campus. It is hoped that all the girls will be present as arrangements have been made to entertain two groups of friends, besides the business transactions. An amusing program has been arranged.

SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE PLAY MONDAY EVENING

The Senior Class of the South Georgia State Normal College is now ready to invite the public to a play which they will present next Monday evening, May 23rd, in the High School Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

This year the class has chosen for its offering a Shakespearian play, "Comedy of Errors." This play has been arranged in three acts. The characters have been happily assigned and are delightfully interpreted. The young ladies have taken up this work with unusual zeal and will give the play with charming zest.

In order to cover the expenses for costumes and other necessities, an admission fee of seventy-five cents will be charged. When all expenses are defrayed the proceeds will be used toward purchasing a gift for the college. The handsome clock and the portrait of Chancellor Barrow in the trustee's room in West Hall, as well as the lecturn in the chapel, are gifts which were presented by former classes. The class of this year have plans to leave a present equally as handsome.

Visit to the College.

Perhaps the most pleasant event of the day was the visit to the South Georgia Normal College, where President Powell, the faculty and the two hundred young ladies attending the college gave an informal reception to the editors. The visitors were shown through the administration building, going into the various class rooms and inspecting the equipment and the quality of the work being done. Most of the newspaper men, who had never seen the institution before, were amazed at its scope and its importance to South Georgia. The young ladies of the college and the lady faculty members served sherbet and cakes at the dormitory, and showed the visitors through this building also. Mr. W. G. Sutlive of the Savannah Press made a happy little speech to the girls, after which the party was hurried to the Ocean Pond Club House, where luncheon was served at 2:30.

Mrs. Carmichael had prepared one of the best dinners for which this resort is famous, and as the editors were hungry not much time was lost in preliminaries or speech-making. Mayor B. H. Jones made a two minutes' speech welcoming the newspaper men to the club, which was responded to by President Shytle. Mrs. Royal Daniel responded to repeated calls and made a happy little after-dinner talk. Mrs. Daniel is one of the two lady members of the association, and contributed much to

LADIES OF THE T. P. A. TO BE ENTERTAINED

The ladies of the T. P. A. are to be entertained during their stay in the city. While they share honors with the men at all the entertainments given during their visit to Valdosta a special welcome will be given the visiting ladies.

Mrs. Guy McCulley is chairman of the committee for the ladies. She will be assisted by a number of young ladies and matrons who will endeavor to make the visiting ladies feel that all Valdosta will welcome them.

In the morning at the Valdes hotel a reception will be given in honor of the ladies, in the afternoon they will be taken to the races and at night they will be guests of the T. P. A. at the Rialto, where an especially good picture will be shown and other features will mark the evening's performance.

Friday morning at the college Pres. and Mrs. Powell will give a reception in West Hall and a most cordial welcome will be accorded the visitors. Every one knows the cordial hospitality that greets one at the college.

Friday afternoon after the races the guests will motor to the Ocean Pond Club House for a fish fry and barbecue, where the ladies will share honors with the gentlemen.

NORMAL COLLEGE FESTIVAL

Pretty Exercises Are Held at Valdosta.

Valdosta, Ga., May 3.—With Miss Julia Harrell of Quitman as Queen of the May, the annual spring festival of the South Georgia State Normal College was one of the most interesting in the history of the institution.

Raindrop, Sunbeam and Zephyr, three spring sprites, opened the festival on the college campus, with a dance. As they danced about the green, the Posies concealed about the ground under their drab coverings, gradually emerged, covering the ground with the brilliant spring flowers. Then came the birds, cleverly costumed, breaking into song, until the whole green was alive with bright spring flowers and song birds, as well as butterflies with their artistically spotted wings. All of these expressing joy in the springtime, joined hands and danced off to bring the Queen of the May. The returning procession headed by the beautiful queen was a most artistically beautiful one.

Following the queen came her escort, including train bearers, pages and noble ladies. The crown was placed upon the queen's head and all her subjects did homage to her.

Following this ceremony came dancing appropriate to the occasion. The Garland Trio by the Flower Maidens was especially beautiful for the grace of its performance and the artistic combination of costumes in pastel shades set off by garlands of flowers and ivy. In a group of dances under the heading of Rustik Revels the peasant folk manifested their joy in the occasion. Concluding the merry dances came the winding of the Maypole, which brought the program to a close. The pole, rose-capped and ivy twined, was beautifully wound by twenty-four dancers in artistically blended shades of tarleton ballet costumes. The execution of this program was part of the program of work in the regular training under the direction of the physical education department of the college, while the artistic effects were enhanced by the assistance rendered from the art department of the college.

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The college greatly enjoyed having as its guest Saturday evening, Dr. Southwick, of Emerson College, school of expression and oratory. Dr. Southwick is brought to the campus each year by the Y. W. C. A., and his coming is greatly anticipated by all.

Dr. Southwick is widely known for his portrayal of Shakespearean plays, and on this visit read "Twelfth Night," which was most enjoyable. Many friends of the college from Valdosta and also Emory Junior College, were present.

After the program the Y. W. C. A. entertained Dr. Southwick with an informal reception in the rotunda.

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies held a joint meeting Saturday evening, November 16, in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. A very worthwhile lecture, "The Potter's Wheel," by Florence Topping Green, who is chairman of arts and crafts of General Federation of Women's Clubs, was read by Miss Evelyn Blanton, of Columbus, Ga. Various methods used in making pottery and the chief artists were discussed. Pottery was exhibited from all modern American potteries, including Van Briggie, Rookwood, Fulper, Overbeck, Marblehead, India, Newcomb, Teco, Bybee and Cherokee, Pewabic and Omar Khayyam.

Miss Rosalie Hatcher, of Donalsonville, Ga., and Miss Virginia Carswell, of Waycross, displayed the pottery as the history of each kiln was read.

Regular vesper services were held in the rotunda of Ashley Hall Sunday evening, November 17.

The devotional was led by Miss Myrtle Vick, of Moultrie, after which she gave a most inspiring talk on "True Courage." The types of courage Miss Vick discussed were as follows: courage to leave undone the things we should not do; brilliant courage; quiet courage; courage to begin anything, not knowing what the end will be; courage after failure, to face a new beginning.

The Georgia State Woman's College presented Miss Gladys Warren, head of the music department, and Mrs. Frances B. Pardee in recital "An Evening of Modern Music," at the Woman's Building on Thursday evening.

Miss Warren's first numbers were program music with vivid imagery. The "Cordoba," by Albentz, depicted an evening in a Spanish city, the serenade theme occasionally interrupted by the chant of the priests in the cathedral. "The Cradle Song," by Palmgren, with its tone melodies made a striking contrast to "Hopak," a reckless Russian dance, by Moussorgshy.

Mrs. Pardee opened the second group with "Call of the Plains," by Goldmark which well depicted early elemental American life. This was followed by "Humoresque," by Tor Aulin, a sapricious fantasy with intricate and syncopated rhythms. The "Swiss Lullaby," unaccompanied, by Ribaupierre, played on muted strings pleased the audience with its contrasted moods of lullaby and recalled dance rhythms. "The Ghost Dance," by Ellis Levy, displayed a facile technique and was a fitting climax to the group because of its weird fantasy.

Miss Warren opened her next group with two numbers—"Reflections in the Water" and "General Lavine"—by DeBussey, the outstanding modern French composer. The remaining number in this group was "Prelude in G Minor," by Rachmaninoff, the well-known Russian composer and artist. This number was Slavonic in nature, and gave the untamed, uncompromising passions of a half-barbaric race.

"Midsonmar-dans," by Tor Aulin, as presented by Mrs. Pardee, suggested Norwegian night life which culminated in dance rhythms with changing moods.

Mr. James Dasher provided faultless accompaniments for Mrs. Pardee's first two groups.

The concluding number on the program was "Suite for Piano and Violin Op. 44," by Schutt, played by Mrs. Pardee and Miss Warren. The lively yet firm Allegro Risoluto was followed by a vivacious Scherzo, of festing mood. The next movement, Conzonetti, a Madrigal of light airy character, was followed by a Rondo in Russian style combination for the entire program.

Miss Warren and Mrs. Pardee furnished a delightful and unusual program of the new compositions which was appreciated by the many music lovers present. Miss Warren exhibited much music feeling in her interpretation as well as remarkable technique. Mrs. Pardee displayed a smoothness of tone and her ample technical resources. The playing of these two artists which is always pleasantly anticipated in Valdosta was especially enjoyed and appreciated in the program of modern music.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The most spectacular, as well as the biggest event of its kind in the history of the South Georgia State Normal college, was the field day exercises which were held on Friday. The big crowd, the beautiful weather, the splendid condition of the track, the big program and the physical fitness of the contestants conspired in making the event perfect in detail.

The program opened with the procession of contestants, the line of march beginning east of the dormitory and passing through the Colonnade. The students in complete white gymnasium uniforms presented a beautiful appearance. The drills performed by large groups of students, and the dance, including all classes, was executed in splendid style, showing unusual co-ordination, grace and finish.

The competitive events which attested the strength and endurance of the young women were made possible by the high health record maintained. In the single events there was greater speed as was shown by the reduction in the number of seconds taken to run off the dashes. The relays showed good team work and form. Winners of the meet: Junior class; second place, preparatory II class; third place, senior class.

The decision for the individual events were as follows:

Basketball relay, first place, junior class; second place, preparatory II class; third place, senior class.

Sixty-yard dash, first place, Thelma O'Quinn, junior class; second place, Elizabeth McRee, preparatory II class; third place, Ethel Newsome, freshman class.

Fifty-yard dash, first place, Sallie Kate Wolf, senior class; second place, Lola Davis, preparatory II class; third place, Leslie Brown, freshman class.

Circle relay, first place, sophomore class; second place, senior class; third place, preparatory II class.

Three-legged race, first place, Elizabeth McRee and Lucille Allen; second place, Thelma O'Quinn and Alma Kicklighter, junior class; third place, Ethel Newsome and Ethel O'Quinn, freshman class.

The juniors won the field day banner and the following girls were awarded monograms for places in the meet: Thelma O'Quinn, Alma Kicklighter, May Gibson, Jewell Carmack, Clarice Weathersbee, Maud Jones, Pauline Culbreth, Katie Herrin, Sallie Kate Wolf, Elizabeth McRee and Lucille Allen.

During the entire exercises the Valdosta concert band rendered a program of music which added greatly to the effect of the affair.

President R. H. Powell and Miss Ada Gallaher were honorary judges. The active judges were Dr. J. M. Smith, Mr. Turner Rockwell and Mr. D. W. Plowden; Miss Louise Mendelsohn, referee; Miss Alma Thompson, clerk; Miss Mattie Campbell and Miss Nell Groom, assistant clerks; Miss Mary Ed McCoy, announcer; Mr. B. H. Henderson, starter; Mr. H. T. Shanks, scorer; Miss Ida Groover, timekeeper; Jack Burrows and Alfred Powell, field assistants; Miss Mary Ethel Moses, president of the athletic association.

The presence of Dr. W. A. Smart, of the theological department of Emory university, marked the occasion of a series of instructive lectures on "Christian Fundamentals." The first number was delivered Saturday evening, the second Sunday morning and the third Monday evening. With rare simplicity and clearness of vision Dr. Smart combined the homely practical experiences of every day life, the toil, and suffering of the day, with the spiritualization that invested the life, work and teachings of Jesus. Dr. Smart is a pleasing and impressive speaker and his messages were acceptably received by the students of the college.

Miss Eloise Heller, field secretary for the Y. W. C. A., in Georgia and Florida, after spending some time at the college with the association work, has gone to Florida points in pursuit of her duties.

during the week were Miss Freda James, of Blakeley; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Perry, Miss Calista Perry, Miss Golden and Miss Lois Twitty, of Camilla; Mrs. Lawson Davis, of Quitman; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jones and Mrs. Davidson, of Coolidge; Miss Elitha O'Quinn, of Odum; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fleming and Miss Lois Harrell, of Doerun; Miss Ellen Lewis and Miss Lee Alma Patrick, of Lenox; Mrs. S. B. Barfield, Mrs. H. T. Scruggs and Miss Clyde Passmore, of Hahira; Mrs. J. A. McKinnon, Mrs. J. T. Groover, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Groover and Mrs. Sam Groover, of Dixie; Dr. and Mrs. C. A. O'Quinn, of Perry, Fla.

Miss Sarah Gallaher, who has been visiting her sister, Miss Ada Gallaher, dean of women, has returned to her home in Evansburg, Pa.

ANIMAL PESTS WORRY FARMERS

Sometimes Hard to Tell Which Are Useful and Which Are Nuisances.

MILLIONS FROM THEIR FURS

How Those Which Must Be Exterminated May Be Trapped, Is Told in Bulletin of Biological Survey—Rats and Mice Worst.

Washington.—Practically every farm is overrun at times by pests of one kind or another. Farmers, therefore, find it necessary to kill such pests in order to prevent them from injuring their property or crops. Some he destroys by poison; others he eliminates by employing traps.

"A knowledge of the traits and habits of the animals," says Ned Dearborn in a bulletin of the bureau of biological survey, "and of proved methods of capturing them is important if the farmer is to combat them successfully. Besides such out-and-out pests as rats, mice and pocket gophers, some other animals are occasionally harmless, but, having valuable skins and being classed as fur bearers, are given special consideration.

"The lively demand for all kinds of fur puts into the pockets of American trappers millions of dollars a year, which, until the harvest, has not cost them a single effort. Moreover, several of the furry tenants of the farm not only are not pests but are useful while alive. Foxes, for example, destroy many rabbits and mice, both of which, when abundant, are very destructive to fruit trees and crops. Skunks are exceedingly beneficial, for they feed almost entirely on mice, grasshoppers, crickets, white grubs and other farm pests. It is only in exceptional cases that either foxes or skunks attack poultry; it is far better to keep poultry in suitable inclosures or to kill the individual animal which is doing damage than to adopt a policy of general persecution toward the tribes to which the few offenders belong.

den truck. They may be caught in box traps baited with sweet apple, carrot or pumpkin. Where rabbits are abundant, shelter traps are occupied by them more or less regularly during the day. A dog trained to hunt rabbits will give warning when one is inside a trap. To prevent the quarry's escape a stick with a disk at the end of it may be thrust into the entrance, after which the top of the trap may be opened and the animal caught in the hand. The skins and flesh of trapped rabbits are superior to those of rabbits which have been shot.

The Pocket Gopher.

"In many of the western states the rodent most destructive and most difficult to capture is the pocket gopher, which spends most of its life underground. Owing to its subterranean habits it has been found expedient to devise special kinds of gopher traps. In making its burrows, the gopher throws up on the surface of the ground the dirt it excavates. The trapper, opening a fresh mound, sets a gopher trap well within it and covers the opening behind the trap with a piece of sod, or whatever may be at hand.

"Besides the rodents, which constitute the majority of farm and garden pests, there are certain other creatures which are sometimes obnoxious; among these are stray cats, which too often destroy useful birds. In many localities one of the worst farm pests is the crow, which is often destructive to grain, eggs and young chickens. Crows may be caught in steel traps, carefully covered with soil and baited with whatever they are destroying—eggshells, for example. Such hawks and owls as are destructive may sometimes be caught in small jump traps. Another pest is the English sparrow, which destroys no small amount of grain during the ripening period."

COLLEGE FACULTY AND PUPILS MAKE PROGRESS

The Big Institution is Moving Along Smoothly With Everybody Pleased

Although the South Georgia State Normal College has been in session for only a few days every phase of work has been opened and the students are well settled in their routine of work. They have organized their various clubs and societies and everything is running on schedule time as if the work had continued for months.

It was a jolly crowd that came thronging through the halls the first day. The shouts of laughter and the exclamations of greetings assured the on-looker that the "old students" were happy to see each other and to be back for work. The welcoming they gave the new students well expressed the pleasure they had in seeing them enter as "a member of our class." And the new members are proving to be good students. They have made the senior and junior classes the largest in the history of the college. They have caught the spirit of "our school" and are helping to raise the standard higher.

Provision has not only been made for work but for play also. The Y. W. C. A. girls besides making themselves busy in meeting trains and directing the new girls had planned a hike for the first Saturday night. A great number of the girls took advantage of this outing and enjoyed the walk and refreshments very much.

Mr. Barber then gave the students a delightful time by inviting them to enjoy a swimming party at the pool. Many of the girls are excellent swimmers and they showed great skill in diving and playing games as well as jokes in the water.

Last Saturday night the "Get Acquainted" party was given by the faculty to the students. The evening in itself was ideal for such a lawn party but the revealed plans added much to the joy and mirth of the company.

The teachers were divided in small groups on the lawn and received the girls as they came in their usual classes. After they sought the punch bowl, games were played in the moonlight. Then followed a splendid program:

"The Ploughman," Vocal Solo—Mr. Poston.

"Novelletten No. 7," Instrumental Solo—Miss Smith.

"The Prelude in C Minor," Vocal Solo—Miss Rogers.

"The Pastoral," Vocal Solo—Miss Thompson.

"Mirandy on Domestic Armistice," Reading—Miss Majette.

Mr. Poston with much dignity then announced a play to be given by the faculty. After giving a synopsis of the play, he called each member by name assigning some part. When the teachers were gathered before the audience which had called forth laughter and merriment from the company, Mr. Poston then in a serious way announced the title of the play, "Gathering Nuts." It is needless to say that the characters did not remain staged very long to the amusement of the guests.

An ice course was served after which the young ladies expressed the pleasure of the evening in their "good night." Just before entering the house they tarried long enough to sing their college song, "The Red and the Black," which always impresses one with their spirit and their loyalty.

GRADUATING CLASS ARE GIVEN THEIR DIPLOMAS

A Poetic Essay by Miss Helen Allen, of Quitman, Was Excellent Feature

The graduating exercises of the South Georgia State Normal College were full of interest to the large crowd which gathered at the Rialto theater Wednesday. The Times of Wednesday made mention of the address of State School Superintendent M. L. Brittain and also of the announcements that were read out by President R. H. Powell.

The essay by Miss Helen Allen of Quitman, who tied with Miss C. B. Sharpe of Vidalia, for first place of honor, was a feature of the exercises. Miss Allen's subject was "The Culture, or Value of Literature," and the essay was written in poetic style, consisting of two thousand words. It was the first paper of the kind ever prepared for such an occasion by a member of the graduating class of the college. It held the closest attention of the large audience and was greatly enjoyed.

Miss C. B. Sharpe will read her paper at the University commencement at Athens. Both young ladies have made a fine record during the year.

President Powell delivered the diplomas to the graduates, who were as follows:

Myrtle Byrd, Milltown, Ga.
Nellie Blalock, Remerton, Ga.
Helen Allen, Quitman, Ga.
Lina Flynt, Pelham, Ga.
Lovie Mae Gaskins, Willacoochee, Ga.
Ruth Harrell, Savannah, Ga.
Hallie Jordan, Reidsville, Ga.
Mildred Liggett, McRae, Ga.
Martha Lucas, Quitman, Ga.
Buena McConnell, Hayesville, N. C.
Evelyn Powell, Nashville, Ga.
Lois O'Quinn, Odum, Ga.
Virginia Peeples, Nashville, Ga.
Estelle Patten, Milltown, Ga.
Mildred M. Price, Marion, Ohio.
Bernice Rivers, Valdosta, Ga.
Anna Rizer, Statenville, Ga.
C. B. Sharpe, Vidalia, Ga.
Edna Sasser, Cairo, Ga.
Alma Thompson, Odum, Ga.
Ruth Walcott, Lumberton, N. C.

The commencement exercises yesterday brought the term to a close and put a brilliant finishing touch to the week of social and literary events, enjoyed by the student body, the alumni, the teachers and trustees of

HENRY L. SOUTHWICK IN OTHELLO AT COLLEGE

Henry Laurence Southwick, one of the most distinguished dramatic readers and Shakespearian scholars in America, will present Shakespear's Othello at the High School auditorium on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the College Y. W. C. A. and the High School students in co-operation.

Doctor Southwick is president and the dominant spirit of the Emerson School of oratory, Boston, Mass., and more than any other one man, is responsible for the pre-eminent standing of that great school. Those who have heard him read need no further introduction. A play read by him is as a play by an all-star cast.

Wednesday evening it will be Othello, with Southwick as Othello, Southwick as Iago, Southwick as Desdemonna, and so on. The College and the High School feel themselves very fortunate in being able to secure so exceptional an attraction.

COLLEGE GIRLS GAVE VERY PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment given at the Rialto theater last night by the College Glee and Mandolin club, as a part of the picture program, was an unusually brilliant one.

There was a very large crowd in attendance, the down-stairs being filled to its full capacity and the gallery nearly full. The audience was very appreciative and all of the numbers on the program were liberally applauded. The young ladies, in evening dress, presented a beautiful picture and the singing showed excellent training, as well as much natural ability.

The second part of the program brought a complete change, the instrumental artists appearing in Spanish costumes. A guitar solo, the Rosary, by Miss Emily Chauncey was worthy of special mention. All of the numbers of the mandolin club were enjoyed. The young ladies showed splendid ability, considering the fact that the mandolin club is a comparatively new organization.

The singing of the Jewel Song from Faust by Miss Alma Thompson was the vocal feature of the evening. Miss Thompson has a wonderful voice and if she continues to study voice a great career in the musical world is ahead of her. She is under training of Mr. Poston now.

The Spanish dance by Misses Waver Hodges and Beatrice Gupton was captivating. The audience was so well pleased with it that the young ladies were called back for a repetition of parts of it. They were trained by Miss Mendlesohn, of the physical culture department.

The entertainment closed with the College Song, Red and Black, which was sung with a vim by the club.

ROTES PREPARING TO ENTERTAIN SENIORS

The Rotary Club, at its meeting Thursday, decided to have its big annual outing for the college seniors at Ocean Pond next Tuesday week, from 6 to 10 o'clock. The crowd will leave the city a little before 6 and will remain at the Ocean Pond club house until 10 o'clock.

The committee that was named by President Copeland for the program for the month of May, including the seniors' outing, consists of A. G. Cleveland, H. Y. Tillman and C. C. Brantley.

The outing for the seniors will consist of a picnic and fish fry, the feast to be spread under the oak trees by the edge of the lake. The "Rotes" want to make it as pleasant as possible for the young ladies. It will be a wholesome frolic and will be enjoyed by everybody.

COLLEGE FOLKS ENJOY- ING LIFE THESE DAYS

Officers Elected in Various De- partments of Student Life —May Festival Monday

Great interest has been manifested in the various elections of officers for student activities in the South Georgia State Normal college.

Since the recent extension of the college course this has necessitated re adjustment of the student government constitution. The revision has been made in a satisfactory way and the following officers have been elected: President of the student government, Miss Mary Cobb, Whigham, Ga.; President of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Verna Scarborough, Unadilla, Ga.; president of the Argonian Literary Society, Miss May Gibson, Donaldsonville, Ga.; president of the Sororian Literary Society, Miss Willie Mae Mathews, Helena, Ga.

The student body was most happy in choosing Miss Julia Harrell, of Quitman, Ga., to be "queen of the May."

The celebration for crowning the queen will take place Monday evening at 5 o'clock on the green in front of Dormitory No. 1.

The May Festival Monday

This promises to be beautiful in every way. The program is well arranged and the students execute their parts with real skill and grace as most of the exercises have been developed from class work in the physical education department.

Friends who are interested in these exercises are most cordially invited to be present.

Cars will be parked east of the administration building.

The Program in Full

The program for the annual spring festival next Monday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, based upon the old idea of "May Time in England" will be as follows:

ON the Green—I. Prologue

Frolic of Spring Sprites—Raindrop, Sunbeam, Zephyr.

Rejoicing of Nature—

Birds—Boys of Grade 1.

Butterflies—Girls of Grade 1.

Posies—Grades 4 and 5.

II. Processional and Coronation

Queen o' the May—Miss Julia
Harrell

Crown Bearer—Murray Jolly.

Herald—H. F. Parrish.

Pages to Queen—William Oliver,
Steve Small.

III. Maytime Merriments to Honor the Queen

"Garland Trio"—

By the Flower Maidens—Junior
Group.

"Rustic Revels"—

"In Merry Pursuit"—Junior
Group.

"A Rollicking Round"—Grades 6
and 7.

"Ribbon Dance"—Freshman
Group.

"A Countryside Reel"—Freshman
Group.

"Daintye Steppe"—

Attendants to the Queen—Grades
2 and 3.

"The Gypsy Beggars"—Sophomore Group.

by Noble Ladies—Senior Group.

"Winding the Maypole"—Preparatory I. and Preparatory II. Groups.

IN EXPLANATION—Three lithe
Sprites, Raindrop, Sunbeam, and Zephyr, bring Spring to us by awakening Nature. As the trio dances, the Posies come out from their sleep and the birds and butterflies dance in glee about them. All rejoice and go off in merry procession to bring on the Queen of May, and all her subjects that they might pay honor to her in the joyful abandon of the dance.

COLLEGE OPENED WITH FULL HOUSE YESTERDAY

Teachers All in Their Places and Dormitories Are Filled With Pupils

The 1921-1922 session of the South Georgia State Normal College opened yesterday. The usual busy scene of incoming students, with the parents of many who had come to see them properly started, was increased in liveliness by the rather incomplete condition of the new dormitory with carpenters making final work, delivery wagons turning in trunks and furniture and other equipment. But everybody was happy, and everybody was enthusiastic over the fine new year.

On Tuesday was held the opening faculty meeting. On Wednesday new students registered. Today the old students registered. Tomorrow classes begin regular work. Monday having been registration day for Training School children, the whole organization is complete in record-breaking time; and the college has moved off on its year's work like a great machine.

In spite of the fact that the dormitory capacity of the college has been largely increased by the great new dormitory, and in spite of the financial depression which has kept many students at home, practically every room is filled to capacity; and the college looks forward to its most useful year.

Faculty on Hand Promptly.

Many of the faculty who have endeared themselves to the people of the city in previous years are back in their places, but some of the best loved members are missing. The new members of the faculty, though, have made very favorable impressions. It is believed that on the whole the college is stronger than ever. Most of the faculty, both old members and new, have spent the summer studying and return with new stores of learning and enthusiasm.

Miss Gallaher, Miss Hopper, Miss Robertson and Miss Patterson were at Columbia University, as too, was Mr. Shanks. Mrs. McGarah was also in New York, extending her trip into Canada, and visiting several of the great institutions of the East to study their systems of conducting their boarding departments.

Miss Craig, Miss Groover, Miss Mendelsohn, Miss Campbell, Miss Rivers, and of the new members of the faculty, Miss Gilmer, Miss Farris, Miss Grooms, Miss Pritchett and Miss Mecoy were at George Foster Peabody College, in Nashville.

Misses Morris, Rogers, Goodlett, Moore and McMillan spent their vacations at home. Mrs. Hagan visited relatives in West Florida.

Miss Barrett Back Again.

Miss Barrett returns after a year's leave of absence, during which she took her master's degree at Teacher's College, Columbia University, visited at home for a while, and then taught during the summer at the University of Virginia. Mrs. Miller also returns after a half year's absence completely recovered in health.

Mr. Poston spent his summer at home and on a delightful pleasure excursions along the Ohio river, but managed to get in a few weeks of study and observation in New York.

Miss Smith studied for a while in Boston and afterward visited her brother in Texas.

Miss Majette spent part of the time as a counsellor in a prominent girl's camp in North Carolina, and part of the time in Baltimore.

Mr. Wood spent his vacation with his family on his farm in North Georgia.

Mr. Powell and Mr. Henderson spent their vacation at hard labor at the college pushing on the completing and equipping of the new dormitory, and otherwise preparing for the new year.

The drive through the city ended at the South Georgia State Normal College where the crowd was welcomed by Prof. Powell, and Chancellor David Barrow, who happened to be in the City and by other members of the Faculty and student body. The visitors were escorted from the administration building over to the new dormitory by young ladies of the college. The long tables in that building, arranged for a party of 400 people, were in readiness when the crowd arrived. The visitors were seated at the center table and at a table running across the hall at the far end. Two long tables on each side of the building being given to the College girls and local guests.

Judge Peeples acted as Master of Ceremonies, and called upon Dr. Martin of Atlanta for an invocation. After the invocation was a song by the Tech Quartette, which captivated the large crowd. Calls were then made for the Valdosta double quartette and that bunch responded by singing "Howdy do Tech," followed by the Caliope Song. Both songs got the crowd in a good humor and there was great cheering.

Col. J. B. Copeland was introduced by Judge Peeples to extend a welcome to the visitors. There was some noise in the rear of the hall for the moment, but the speaker soon commanded absolute silence and made a splendid speech. He drew a distinction between the kind of Georgians we want and those who are not wanted and said that the industrial tour was made up of the kind that are needed in every community—men who do things and who are willing to give their time and energies to advancing the State's interests. The speech was greeted with an outburst of applause, showing that its sentiment was appreciated.

The service of the young ladies of the College was prompt and no time was lost in seeing that every guest had plenty to eat.

Some Speeches Were Made

While the dinner was being served, different members of the Industrial party were introduced. Dr. Martin made a short talk in which he appealed for support of our educational institutions. Toastmaster Peeples then introduced Mr. H. E. Howe, of Washington City, who is connected with a large Technological College there, and he spoke of the great advantages which technical education offers to the State. He showed that millions of dollars are being invested in it in far-sighted states. He gave a good many facts regarding the efficiency of the man who is educated along technical lines. He showed what it meant for a state, a nation, or a community. He said that the money which the Technological College is asking from the people of Georgia, is nothing compared with what is spent in the state on things that amount to little or nothing.

Dr. Matheson's Speech

The next speaker was Dr. Matheson, the President of the Technological College. He said his time was short and he could barely hint at what he would like to say, but his appeal was a magnificent one for industrial development in Georgia. He showed that while Georgia is making brick and tile out of her splendid clay, Ohio is making table ware and other things that sell for many times as much and bring far greater riches to the State. He showed what England, France and Germany have accomplished in an educational way, and declared that the people of Georgia have done little or nothing in comparison with what they should have done for their sons. He stated that money put in a technical education is money well invested, and also paid a tribute to the splendid work which is being done by the South Georgia State Normal College. He complimented the young ladies on their appearance, and stated that he was afraid all of his boys would be left in Valdosta, as he knew they had become fascinated by the surroundings at the College. Dr. Matheson said it was a burning shame upon the State of Georgia that enough money had not been appropriated to complete that dormitory, and that it is necessary to let it remain unfinished for so long a time.

Local Committee Named

A committee, with Mr. A. J.

Strickland as president was appointed to look after the interest of the Technological College in Valdosta, and to help out in raising the amount of money needed to meet the gift of two and one-half millions from New York and Atlanta. The balance of the State is supposed to make this amount to make a full gift to Tech of five million dollars, and thus equip the college to carry on research work and to take care of 5000 pupils every year.

It would not take many years at this rate to have Georgia thoroughly represented and thoroughly adapted for the splendid work which the Technological College is doing to equip the boys for industrial careers.

Among Distinguished Tourists.

Among the distinguished Georgians with the Industrial tour was former Governor Joseph M. Brown, who has always taken a lively interest in the welfare of Tech college and whose brother, the late Julius Brown, left that institution about $100,000 from his estate. Governor Brown, though not active in politics, is one of the live wires in Georgia. His administration as governor was marked by conservatism honesty and devotion to the state's highest interests. He is looking well and is enjoying fine health. He sees his position on the labor question pretty well shared by public men everywhere, though he took his position when it was not the popular thing to do.

Mayor J. L. Key, of Atlanta, was also among the visitors here yesterday with the industrial train.

expressed himself as delighted with Valdosta and with the great reception which was given the tourists here.

Mr. M. B. Medlock, of Armour & Company, of Macon, was with the party as the personal representative of the Armours. Mr. Medlock is a live wire in Macon and is easily identified in any group by the fact that his head is as clear of hair as a hen's egg. His photographs are taken showing the back of his head, as he says it is more easily to identify him from that side.

There were a number of industrial educators with the party, six or seven newspaper men and

PARENT-TEACHERS IN SESSION FRIDAY P. M.

Fourth and Fifth Grades Gave an Interesting Play and Dance at Meeting

The regular meeting of the Parent Teacher Association of the S. G. S. N. C. was held in West Hall, Friday afternoon with the new President, Mrs. T. H. Loggins presiding.

A most remarkable health program was given by the children and was enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

The preparation of this program serves two purposes: first, prepares the child for the coming of Cho-Cho; second, adds interest to the parents for the arrival of this health clown.

The first thing on program was papers on "Who Cho-Cho is, and What He Will Teach Us" written and read by representative children of the sixth and seventh grades.

The fourth and fifth grades gave a play and dance. The principal character was a little boy who did not want to go to bed. His mother could not convince him that he should go to bed early. He was surrounded and taught the rules for good health by the Elves of Good Health which were: Good Things to Eat, Fresh Air, Sunshine, Rest and Keeping Clean. The Elf, Rest, finally put him to sleep by getting the Good Fairy to sing to him.

A dance was given by ten little sunbeams.

A Health song in conclusion was the summary of health work done by these classes, both in the daily work and in the work brought out in the plays.

The sandwich committee for the next four weeks will consist of the following chairmen: Mrs. C. B. Turner, Mrs. Wm. Edwards, Mrs. D. B. Small and Mrs. Dan R. Bruce.

The refreshment committee named was Mrs. J. F. Wood, Chairman; Mrs. Copeland and Mrs. McGarrah.

It was announced at this meeting that Cho-Cho, the health clown who is sent out by the Child Health Organization of America, will be here Oct. 27th and 28th, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, the Wymodausis Club and the superintendent of the public schools. He will give two performances each day at the Strand. The first performance on Thursday, 27th, at 9:30, will be for the college, the training school, the parents and friends. The other three performances will be for the public school and friends.

The social half hour with refreshments was omitted.

SENATOR HARRIS AT ## COLLEGE LAST NIGHT

He Made a Short Speech to College Students and Pleased Them Immensely

United States Senator William J. Harris closed up a very pleasant day in Valdosta on Wednesday by visiting the South Georgia State Normal College at night and making a short talk to the student body of that institution. He was accompanied to the college by Judge W. E. Thomas, Col. A. T. Woodward, Hon. W. L. Converse and Misses Becker and Rogers, two of the talented teachers who have rooms at Judge Thomas' home. There were about two hundred college girls in the chapel when Senator Harris arrived, and Prof. Powell lost no time in introducing Judge Thomas, who, in turn, introduced Senator Harris as one of his boyhood friends, room-mate and class mate at the University of Georgia. He made some pleasant allusions to school-boy days, and to experiences they had with the fair sex at Athens.

Senator Harris made a short talk but a very impressive one. He said he was not an orator and that whatever talent he had was used in committee rooms and in the quiet ways. He had found out that the best service which one can do in public life is with the committees.

He made pleasant reference to Judge Thomas, and said the Judge stood at the head of his class in both the departments at Athens, and that he easily led in the law class men who have held the highest judicial positions in the state.

Mr. Harris stated that he was one of the original advocates of woman's suffrage in Georgia, because he believed that the women of Georgia ought to have equal advantage with the women of other sections of the country. He said that in an election held in his home town a few days ago only the very best class of women voted, showing that there was little to fear from what is known as the "worst element," and who were used as an argument against suffrage. Mr. Harris' speech was received with much applause by the young ladies, who evidently enjoyed every word that he said.

Following Senator Harris, Col. A. T. Woodward was introduced as a friend of the college, and as a man who appreciates the good work which is being done there.

Col. Woodward responded in a short talk in which he sought to impress upon the young ladies the fact that they should not be discouraged if they failed to lead their classes, but should renew their determination to do the best they possibly can. He said it was not always the man who led his class who got the highest honors in after life. He remarked that Senator Harris had "tailed" his class at Athens, but that he is in the United States Senate now and is making good there. He said that some girl who "tailed" her class may become the wife of a United States Senator, or reach some other high place in after life. He said the race was not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, as was previously said by one of the old fellows who helped to write the Psalms,

After Col. Woodward, Mr. C. C. Brantley and Trustee W. L. Converse had a few words to say, both of them expressing the pleasure they had at being with the young ladies and in watching their development along womanly lines.

After the talks upstairs the visitors went down into the library where a reception was held.

Senator Harris said he was almost dumbfounded by the quality of the institution and of the work which it is doing, and that he is proud to have had the privilege of introducing the first bill in the Georgia State Senate for an appropriation for it.

COLLEGE QUARTETTE AT ROTARY MEETING

A Most Enjoyable Meeting Was Held Thursday From 1 to 2 O'Clock at Valdes

The program at the Rotary club Thursday was one of the best the club has had in several months, due to the excellent part which was taken by a quartette from the South Georgia State Normal College's music department, with Mrs. D. W. Plowden as accompanist.

The young ladies in the quartette were Miss Ruth Harrell, of Savannah, Miss Buena McConnell, of Haysville, N. C., Miss Birdie Van Brackle, of Nashville, and Miss Alma Thompson, of Odum, Ga. They sang four songs which breathed the Christmas spirit and were so well rendered that each received an encore.

Prof. Charles Lane, the well known Georgia preacher, teacher, philosopher and lecturer, was a guest of the club and was introduced. He jumped into a running talk, illustrated by laughable jokes, which kept the crowd roaring for ten or fifteen minutes. He concluded with a little sketch of an old countryman in middle Georgia, who lost a son in Virginia, and who came in every memorial day to lay a wreath upon the boy's grave. It was a pathetic story and Mr. Lane told it in a manner that touched all of the emotions.

After the talk by Mr. Lane, the new minister of the Methodist church, Rev. N. H. Williams, was introduced. He spoke well of the Rotarians and the Rotary spirit. He illustrated it with a discussion of the origin of species—the things that move and those that stand still. He referred to the thriftiness of the dirt-dauber, which stores away more food in a new minutes than it can consume in a life-time. He classed the Rotarians among the beings that "move." His talk was greatly enjoyed.

After him Mr. Stanley Harris, of Memphis, another good Methodist, was introduced to talk about the extension of the Boy Scout movement, in the interest of which he was in Valdosta. His time was limited, so he had to speak briefly. He was much pleased at the interest shown in the work and especially by the Rotarians, who had helped to organize it here.

Two or three of the Rotary songs were sung during the lunch hour. A rising cote of thanks was given the young ladies from the college and Mrs. Plowden for the delightful contribution which they made to the program.

SOUTH GEORGIA STATE NORMAL

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Action of the board of trustees last week, the meeting being attended by Chancellor David Barrow, of the State university system, in advancing the college to a four-year course institution, is a distinct advantage to the young women of South Georgia, and indeed of the whole state. The advantages to young women in this progressive step is hard to overestimate. Heretofore a south Georgia girl wishing a full college course has had to go away to get it, and a girl of the northern part of the state wishing such an education in a milder climate had to leave the state to get it. Now all young women of Georgia may secure the best advantages here in the wonderful climate of Valdosta; and south Georgia at best takes its deserved place in the front rank of educational progress.

The new development, while holding fast to most exacting standards, presents peculiar advantages to the citizens of the state in its exceptional liberality of program. While adding the senior college course, the South Georgia State Normal college has not discontinued or subordinated the strong junior college course that has made the present high rating of the institution. At the end of two years' successful work the student receives her junior college diploma or normal diploma entitling her to the highest state teachers' certificate. At the end of two more years' successful work she receives her degree.

During the first ten years of the life of this newest state institution, it has been building up a great and beautiful plant and securing the most modern equipment; it has been gathering together a strong faculty and fixing itself in the confidence of the people by the high and uncompromising standards of its work, and now it takes the next step with every assurance of enlarged usefulness to the state and credit to the state university system, of which it is a part.

Programs of unusual interest were rendered Saturday by the Sororian and the Argonian literary societies of the college, both of which held much interest for the student members. The Sororians enjoyed a program which included a vocal solo by Miss Dalla Baker; a debate, "Resolved, that the South Georgia State Normal college should be a co-ed. school." The affirmative side was handled by Miss Gladys Faircloth and Miss Catherine Wheeler, and the negative by Miss Cynthia Lewis and Miss Ruby Meeks; reading by Miss Inez Sharp; advertisements (pantomime) Misses Stipe, Day, Harrell, Dasher, Kidd, Williams, Geiger and Cochran; current events, Miss Mary Sue Cannon; quartet, Misses Williams, Livingston, Hodges and Meeks. The officers of the Sororian society include Miss Waver Hodges, president; Miss Lillian Sasser, vice president; Miss Lucile Allen, secretary; Miss Inez Sharp, treasurer; Miss Sallie Kate Wolfe, sergeant at arms.

The program for the Argonian society followed a course of study on Georgia, and opened with a piano solo by Miss Katherine Moore; life of Joel Chandler Harris, Miss Elizabeth Funderburke; "Incidents of Sydney Lanier's Life, Miss Georgia Warren; "Marshes of Glynn," Miss Stella Taylor; "Works of Frank Leiby Stanton," Miss Clara Belle Penny; vocal solo, "Just a-Wearyin' for You," Miss Dorris Woodberry; guitar duet, "Sweetes' Lil' Feller," Misses O'Quinn and Chauncey.

The officers of this society are Miss Eppie Roberson, president; Miss Alma Kicklighter, vice president; Miss Verna Scarborough, secretary; Miss Jewell Carmack, treasurer; Miss Thelma O'Quinn, sergeant at arms.

COLLEGE TEACHERS BACK FROM VACATIONS

Where They Went For the Holidays and How They Are Located for Spring

Last night Rev. Paul Kanamori spoke to the students and faculty of the South Georgia State Normal College at the regular weekly vesper service in the college chapel. Prof. R. H. Powell, President of the college, presided and music was furnished by the glee club.

Dr. Kanamori spoke most interestingly to the attentive audience of his own student days in Japan, of his conversion, and the persecutions which he and his comrades endured. It was in a military school, under the influence of an American army officer, Capt. Janes, that about forty Japanese boys were converted. Many of these boys became Christian preachers and have furnished some of the strongest leaders of the Christian movement in Japan.

After speaking of his own life and experience, Dr. Kanamori made a stirring appeal to his audience in behalf of foreign mission work. "Both young men and young women are needed in this struggle", he said, "and sometimes the women are better. In the great war, the boys went off to fight, and the girls stayed behind to do the drudgery. In this great war if the young men do not respond in large enough numbers, let the girls go, and leave the boys behind to do the drudgery."

At the close of the address, the students by a unanimous vote, presented Dr. Kanamori with $25.00 to be used in distributing his book in heathen Japan. This will enable five hundred heathen to hear the gospel. Dr. Kanamori is working on what he calls his "Nickel Campaign," which is aiming to place a copy of his book in the hands of every one of Japan's sixty million people. The cost of this is five cents a copy.

Dr. Kanamori will speak for the last time tonight at 7:30 at the First Christian church. The public is urged to hear him without fail.

MAINE-RATLIFF.

Statenville, Ga., Jan. 4.—Miss Annie Mae Maine and Mr. Gordon Ratliff were joined in the bonds of matrimony yesterday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Williams, of the Methodist church. Only a few relatives witnessed the ceremony. The bride looked unusually pretty in a dress of green with accessories to match. The couple left immediately on a wedding trip. They will make their home with Mr. Louis Bohannon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Maine and is very popular. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ratliff and is a popular young man.

BRILLIANT FETES OF COLLEGE GIRLS FRIDAY

The Program of Athletic Association for Field Day Is Full of Interest

If the "w. m." will provide fair weather for Friday, the Athletic Association of the South Georgia State Normal College will feel in readiness for the meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Today is the last "try-out." Each class is putting up its best athletes for the contests. Although there is rivalry the spirit in the game is fine. Not only do the girls learn to play a good game in these sports, but they learn to be good losers as well as good winners.

President R. H. Powell will award the sweater monograms to those who win in the athletic contests. He will also present monograms to a number of girls who have served in an official capacity during the year. These have been the long coveted insignias as they represent all the attributes that make a standard high enough to acquire one.

Mr. H. T. Shanks, Mr. A. G. Cleveland and Doctor J. M. Smith will act as judges of the contests.

The officers of the meet are Miss Julia Daniels, President of the A. A.; Miss Mendelsohn, Director of Physical Education and Referee; Miss Gassoway and Miss Redfern, Timekeepers; Mr. Wood and Mr. Martin, Scorers; Mr. Henderson, Starter; Miss Campbell, Clerk of the Meet; Miss Groover and Miss McMillan, Assistant Clerks; Alfred Powell and Jack Burrows, Field Assitants.

This program has been selected to show different types of work done in the Physical Education Department.

Part One.

1. Procession of contestants and field marching.
2. Wand Drill—Sophomore Class, accompanied by the Valdosta Concert Band.
3. Basketball Relay.
4. Sixty-yard Dash.
5. Fifty-yard Dash.
6. Costume Relay.
7. Mimetic Drill — Preparatory Classes I and II, accompanied by the Valdosta Concert Band.
8. Selection by the Valdosta Concert Band.

Part Two.

1. Run, Hop, Skip, Step and Jump.
2. Shuttle Re'ay.
3. Three-legged Race.
4. Athletic Stunts—Representatives of Each Class.

5. Athletic Dance—Members of Junior and Freshmen Classes, accompanied by the Valdosta Concert Band.

6. Selection by the Valdosta Concert Band.

Part Three.

1. Announcement of Results.
2. Presentation of Monograms by President Powell.
3. Singing of Taps, accompanied by the Valdosta Concert Band.

Friends of the South Georgia State Normal College are cordially invited to be present. The athletic field is on the campus, west of the dormitories.

PROGRAM FOR 'LA LOUIE FRANCAISE' AT COLLEGE

The program, which the French Department will present in the college chapel Saturday evening is as follows:

1. Chant: "La Rosaire," solo—Evelyn O'Quinn.
2. Recit: "La Petite Mendiante"—Addie Williamson.
3. Chant: "Sans Toi," solo—Alma Thompson.
4. Piece en Un Acte, "Les Deux Gloires."

Scene: A room in an apartment in Paris.

Characters:

- Mme. Phillipe—Marion Chauncey.
Pere Baudoin—Frances Dekle.
Jacques, Soldier—Mary Breedlove.
Louisette—Louise Mendelsohn.

5. Chant: "La Marseillaise."

All the scene of the play is laid in the home of a poor woman in Paris. With great preparations she anticipates his arrival. Louisette, a little neighbor girl helps Mme. Phillipe with her work, and their conversation in the first scene introduces the other characters. Pire Baudoin, a soldier of the Franco-Prussian war, is an old friend of Jacques, and comes to the house long before his arrival to see him. After the hero comes, war stories are exchanged and the group eat the meal which has been prepared in honor of the return of Jacques.

The department cordially invites all who love France and are interested in her language.

COLLEGE GIRLS WERE FAMILIAR WITH ENGINE

Headed Off by a Wreck, Spent Idle Time Enlightening the Engine Crew

The students of the Science Department of the South Georgia State Normal College assure us that they can do "most anything."

As some of them were going home for their vacation last month their train was delayed by a wreck ahead of them. This caused them to spend several hours along the way. They found for the greater part of their entertainment the engine. To the surprise of the train force, the girls examined the engine thoroughly, reviewing all their principles in Physics and stating some facts that the men had not known.

In their display next Monday, they will show you how engines are put together and how they work; why we use pulleys, a lift pump, a force pump, a hydraulic press, an H. 2 O. motor, an electric motor, and a dynamo. They will print photographs and make blue print paper. You can learn from the students how to make a fireless cooker, a thermos bottle, a pressure cooker; and do silver and copper plating. The girls will demonstrate the machinery and work of the aeroplane, the submarine, the periscope, a barometer, and the pipes in a pipe organ.

Besides these and other demonstrations they will use charts and various forms of display which will give a clear understanding of their work.

The Geography and Biology departments are ready to illustrate different phases of their work. That of the Geography Department will consist principally in getting and giving suggestive material suitable for the study of modern geography.

Part of the work in biology during the year was to classify and prepare specimens for a museum. This has created much interest as the girls have secured a variety of small animals, plants, and other exhibits. There have been some fine specimens presented by friends of the college. Also some manufactories have sent the students the story of the growth of their certain product and the display of the stages in the process with specimens of the by-products.

This display promises to be well worth your time to come to the college from four to six o'clock, April 18. The easiest way to find the Science Department is to enter West Hall at the south door and go up the stairs. The science rooms are on the second floor at the south end of the building. You are most cordially invited to be present.

SOUTH GEORGIA NORMAL

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The recent extension of the courses of the South Georgia State Normal college at Valdosta, has necessitated a revision of the student government constitution, and great interest was manifested in the various elections. The readjustment has been made in a satisfactory way and the following officers have been elected.

President of Student Government

—Miss May Cobb, of Whigham, Ga.

President of Young Women's Christian Association—Miss Verna Scarborough, of Unadilla, Ga.

President of Argonian Literary Society—Miss Mae Gibson, of Donaldsonville, Ga.

President of Sororian Literary Society—Miss Willie Mae Mathews, of Helena, Ga.

The student body was most happy in choosing Miss Julia Harrell, of Quitman, to be the "Queen of the May."

The approaching month of May will be ushered in by an endless number of beautiful festivals given by colleges and organizations over the entire country. Perhaps some have wondered about the origin of May day of spring festival, and would be interested in knowing that it began with the Romans in Florvalia, a festival in honor of Flora, the goddess of springtime and flowers. Thus it is seen that it was pagan in origin. But in the migration of the Romans to England, these customs were transferred to that country, and the annual celebration of spring is marked by a spirit of joyful yearning and rejuvenation.

Since the beginning of the South Georgia State Normal college, May day has been the inspiration for a celebration of great beauty, and the preparations this year give promise of a production superior in scenic effects, in detail of arrangement and in all other respects. The practice for the festival which begins immediately after the field day exercises in February, is the inspiration for the work done in the physical education department. Because of the ideal weather the young ladies have enjoyed a great amount of outdoor work in their physical training and have acquired a more profound love and appreciation of the beautiful environment of the college, which should enable them to give a more significant interpretation of their parts in the festival in honor of the spring and the beautiful things she ushers in.

The Dramatic club recently organized in the South Georgia State Normal college gave its first performance of one-act plays on Saturday evening. The plays presented were "The Groover," by George Middleton, the cast including Evelyn O'Quinn as "Constance," Corinne Studstill as "Sarah;" "Joint Owners in Spain," by Alice Brown. This cast included Edna Robinson as Mrs. Mitchell, Catherine Wheeler as Mrs. Fullerton, Betrice Lamb as Miss Dyer, Helen Bruce as Mrs. Blair;" "Mansions," by Hildegrade Flanner had this cast: Clyde Palmer as Harriet Wilde, Mary Cobb as Lydia, a niece; Deborah Creighton as Joe, a nephew. The work of the dramatic students was pronounced excellent in these little plays. French was spoken exclusively in presenting these plays.

Miss Marion Galdbraith, of New York City, is visiting Miss Ada Galaher at the South Georgia State Normal college.

Mrs. Bessie Proctor Kennon, of Macon; Mrs. Lottie Jarrell Stump, of Valdosta; Mrs. Frances Kaylor Barker, of Valdosta, and Miss Marion Groover, of Boston, Ga., were visitors at the South Georgia State Normal college. It is always a great pleasure to welcome the alumnae on their return to their alma mater.

COLLEGE Y. W. C. A. HAS NEW SET OF OFFICERS

Interesting Installation Services Were Held by the Y. W. C. A. Girls

Among the big factors that assist girls in forming character, the Y. W. C. A. everywhere takes a prominent part. In the South Georgia State Normal College it has to a great extent controlled the religious and social life of the girls. The student body numbers nearly one hundred per cent "Y. W." girls.

Last Sunday evening was the time for the installation of the new officers. The services conducted were very impressive. The retiring and incoming cabinets, dressed in white, marched in to the processional Hymn of Light. The retiring cabinet carried lighted candles. Each retiring chairman marched with her successor.

The retiring President, Miss Lois O'Quinn, presided at the meeting. After an appropriate program, she gave a brief farewell talk, asking for co-operation for her successor. Miss O'Quinn then turned to the incoming President, Miss Mattie Stipe, and presented her with the duties and responsibilities of the office for the following year. She then handed to Miss Stipe her own lighted candle, saying, "For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined into our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ Jesus. Even as ye have received the gift, so minister the same one to another."

Then each retiring officer in the cabinet stepped forward to her successor and handed her lighted candle, saying, "As ye have received the gift, so minister the same one to another."

In the same way, each committee chairman came forward and received from her predecessor her candle, as the symbol of her task.

After each chairman had received her charge, the newly installed president in behalf of the new cabinet, accepted the leadership of the association, emphasizing the necessity for co-operation of the membership.

After the "Recessional Hymn" was sung, the choir sang "Peace I Leave With You" as a benediction.

The series of services that the college Y. W. C. A. has been using this semester has attracted great interest. For the month of May the general thought is "Following Him Through Music." Last Thursday evening Reverend Cornish helped the girls to understand "Liturgical Hymns." For Mothers' Day they will use the subject of "Religious Poetry". The next evening will be devoted to "Sacred Lyrics."

These services are well attended, and many beautiful lessons are revealed which has attracted much attention.

PRACTICAL WORK DONE

BY S. G. S. N. STUDENTS

Other Interesting Items From The College Concerning Its Activities

The advanced cooking class in the Home Economics department of the South Georgia State Normal college revealed the fact lately that meals were ready to be served by the students. This was an attractive and unique feature as different members of the faculty found that they could entertain their friends by paying the cost of the meals.

This gave a practical phase of the work. The students had advanced from course to course and they were now prepared to put into practice their knowledge of the kinds of food.

The meals were well cooked and served in rather a formal way thus proving that the planning, marketing, preparation, and serving the meal requires skill.

Other than this practical display there will be demonstrated at the annual exhibition of the college the art of making quick breads, yeast breads, jelly, and general dishes for breakfast, dinners, and suppers.

Throughout, it is fascinating work as well as practical, and students become much interested in the various courses in this department.

The Glee Club of the South Georgia State Normal college have been invited to go to Thomasville to give a concert there. The members of the club have accepted this invitation, and will give their concert in Thomasville, Thursday evening, May 18.

"Have you ever been a wall-flower at every ball you have gone to?"

"Have you ever been seated next to the oldest, deafest members of the community at every dinner party you have ever attended?"

"If _____ or any other mortal trouser-wearing remnant of humanity had ever condescended to propose to one there isn't a man or woman in this entire household who wouldn't respect me and treat me quite differently in consequence."

"Never, never, never again will I be content to be what I have been all these years, 'Good old Celia', 'Nice old thing'. Celia who doesn't want things and Celia who looks after things and Celia who attends to things'. Well! Celia who attends to things is dead. Now everything attends to Celia.

I'll wear just as many green stockings as they wish at as many weddings as they please, because I'll be the lady love of Wobbles.

This is some of "Celiaishness of Celia" when she invented her trick to avoid wearing green stockings for the third time.

The play throughout is humorous and the players are clever in reproducing their parts.

The Senior Class of the South Georgia State Normal college have selected this play as one pleasing to every person. It will be given in the Strand Theatre next Monday, May 22, at 8:30.

Loving Cup for Basket Ball.

The Athletic Association of the South Georgia State Normal College has procured a beautiful loving cup which will be presented to the class winning in the basket ball tournament. Although the schedule for these games has not been posted, there seems to be much rivalry about which class will win the cup. In the practice games played there has been strong competition between the senior and junior classes. The last game gave the senior class one score ahead and the ball was in the junior court when time was called. There is no doubt but that the tournament this year will surpass anything of the kind held heretofore on the college athletic fields.

Speaks on Cancer Control.

Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Dr. A. G. Little will speak on cancer control to the ladies of Valdosta at the First Methodist church. Dr. Little has been named by the state association to speak on this subject from the standpoint of the layman. It is the desire to inform people regarding the control of cancer when it is in early formation, that being the safe period at which it can be successfully controlled. It is shown that one woman out of every ten is a victim of cancer, with a tendency toward a steady increase in the percentage. The medical fraternity finds that cancer is very easily controlled when the growth is in the formative period, and Dr. Little's lecture is for the purpose of informing people regarding this matter. Every lady in the city is invited and urged to attend the lecture.

Local Alumnae of College.

Miss Marion Groover, president of the Alumnae Association of the South Georgia State Normal College, called the local members to meet her at the college Saturday evening. Misses Edith Patterson, Lena May, Ida Groover, Mattie Campbell, Hattie McMillan, Hallie Jordan, Bernice Rivers, Myrtle Byrd, Alma Thompson and Mrs. Natalie Sirmans Williams readily responded to the call. Miss Groover stated that the purpose was to arrange for their annual meeting and reception which will be held May 23. Many questions were brought up for discussion but finally plans were settled. The committee now believe that they will be able to give a very enjoyable reception as the new dormitory facilitates many of their arrangements. They are expecting the return of a great number of their members as this is the tenth anniversary of the college work. Besides many of the former students expect to come for they are organizing an association among their group. All who have received invitations to this annual reception heretofore have deemed it a great honor and desire to have their name added to the list for the coming reception.

TRAINING SCHOOL HAD ## A BRILLIANT FIELD DAY

Perfect Weather and a Large Crowd Gave the Little Folks Good Time

On Saturday afternoon, March 5th, with perfect weather for the occasion, the Training School of the South Georgia State Normal College held its annual field day. The bleachers were completely filled by the relatives and friends of the attractive little contestants. The program, which was in charge of the Senior class of the college, with Miss Virginia Peoples as chairman, went off very smoothly and delightfully.

For the first two attractive numbers, the fancy marching by the sixth and seventh grades and the dumb-bell drill by the fourth and fifth grades, great credit is due to Miss Julia Daniels whose splendid work with the pupils manifested itself in the fine form with which they executed the marching and drills. The first grade, in charge of Miss Lovie Mae Gaskins and Miss C. B. Sharp, contributed its share to the program in a story play and two delightful singing games. Gymnastics for the first grade should never be formal and the spontaneous, happy response which the little tots made spoke well for the personality of the young ladies who had them out on the field.

The second and third grades, under the direction of Miss Hallie Jordan and Miss Lina Flynt, did credit to their leaders in the speed and accuracy with which they went through the relays and the good form in which they performed an enjoyable dance. The stunts in charge of Miss Edna Sasser was the number which was perhaps most greatly enjoyed by the children themselves for it gave an opportunity for a display of athletic accomplishments.

Following are the results for the competitive events in which the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades competed:

Fifty Yard Dash: First place Catherine McRee; second place, Lola Davis; third place, Elizabeth Hereford.

Forty Yard Dash: First place Mabel Smith; second place, Emil Tillman; third place, Nell McGarrah.

Running Hop-Step-Jump: First place, Lola Davis; second place, Elizabeth McRee; third place, Mary Elizabeth Boyd.

Costume Relay: First place, seventh grade; second place, fifth grade; third place, fourth grade.

The second and third grades were pitted against each other in the quoit, obstacle and over and under dumb-bell relays. The third grade won all three, showing really remarkable speed and accuracy.

As attractive and interesting as the events themselves were the songs and yells of the various classes which kept the spirit high among the contestants, and when all was ended the seventh with the highest score won the Field Day banner, the sixth grade winning second place, the fifth grade third place and the third scoring next.

COLLEGE GIRLS TO HAVE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

On Thursday afternoon, March 10, at five o'clock, there will be a Freshman - Sophomore basketball game on the college court. This game will mark the beginning of a basketball championship tournament in which all classes from the Preparatory to Junior will compete. The date for the second game which will be between the two preparatory classes will be announced later. Keen interest is being manifested in the tournament and those who are interested in seeing a clean, fast game are invited out Thursday to witness the opening game.

The Times readers in that city's territory better acquainted with Valdosta and its people; its business enterprises and manufacturing, and the fast-growing volume of its trade. Also, it will make Valdostans of the present generation better acquainted with their home town, and with the men of the past day who helped to make it great.

The historical feature of the edition is far above the average in scope and makes the paper one which should be preserved for information to be had collectively from no other source. All good special editions are educative. They give home people as well as those at a distance a new viewpoint of the city, its growing trade and commercial and industrial development, for few of us realize, until it is brought to our attention, the many things that are going on at our doors.

The edition is not only one highly creditable to The Times and its force, and one which gives Valdosta some mighty fine advertising; also it is an edition that brings to Valdosta's own people a broader viewpoint of their home town, and should bring about better understanding and appreciation between that city and its neighbors.—The Tifton Gazette.

Not a Dull Page in it.

The Fair edition of The Valdosta Times issued Tuesday was a great paper and portrayed the wonderful resources and growth of this section in a splendid manner. It also gave some history of Valdosta and Lowndes county and the territory around that is of much interest to all who claim this section as their home. The advertisements of the many business concerns in Valdosta and other is a typographical beauty. It contained forty-eight pages and there wasn't a dull page in the entire paper. This issue of the Times was a distinct credit to Valdosta and this section and Editor Brantley, Business Manager Turner and Assistant Editor Hawk and the entire force which has labored through the years to make The Times what it is—one of the very best papers in the State. Cook county and its progress was given a prominent place in the paper.—Adel News.

An Excellent Edition.

We are not much given to using slang, and particularly in expressing admiration for an approval of that which is far beyond the ordinary. But we are going to break the rule this time and "let her go Gallagher" as we pronounce the Georgia-Florida Fair number of The Valdosta Times, a "Jim Dandy" from its first pages to its forty-eighth page, "cover to lid" its a faithful and interesting expositor of Valdosta and Lowndes county's marvelous growth and while The Times is too modest to boast about it, it is nevertheless true that the ably edited and skill-

FIELD DAY AT COLLEGE WAS BRILLIANT EVENT

A Large Crowd Attended The Athletic Contests and En- joyed Them Fully

Although rain fell in abundance Friday morning and a cold wind blew all day, as early as three o'clock visitors began arriving on the South Georgia State Normal College athletic field in order to be sure of a seat on the bleachers while watching the field-day sports. This greatly encouraged the girls as they realized that their friends were interested in their exercises. It also acted as a spur for better work as a high standard has been set and from year to year certain gains have been made.

Besides it is always delightful to recall the first Field Day in 1914 in comparison with the present. Little was thought about the benefits of Physical Education at that time and only a few people cared to see a display. The students, few in number, had not realized the true value. Attempts were made to practice the old adage, "to the victor belongs the spoils." The contestants now enter the games with an entirely different attitude which shows co-operation, skill, alertness, and co-ordination with a fine spirit. The work now presents a splendid spectacular display which is enjoyed by the several hundred visitors that attend the meet.

The addition of "music hath lent its charms" to the occasion. Just a year ago, on an invitation extended by the Athletic Association, the Valдоста Concert Band made its first public appearance. It proved so great an aid to the movements that again this year an invitation was extended. So willingly and promptly was this accepted that the young ladies feel very grateful and fully believe that it is impossible to ever again have these annual exercises without the assistance of the band.

So when at four o'clock the band began playing, the students of S. G. S. N. C. quickly took their places in line for the processional. As they came on the field it was a beautiful sight. The young ladies who were not participating in the games wore white uniforms and red sweaters. Each contestant neatly and becomingly dressed in the regulation black and white gymnasium suit, wore her class colors as a middy tie. The classes carried their banners therefore it was not difficult to identify the members of the different classes. The procession halted and each class gave its yell. Then all was in readiness for the field marching.

This was considered one of the prettiest pieces of work ever shown on the field. With the splendid music furnished it was not hard to keep time. The grace and ease with which the girls executed the various figures was noticeable in both their step and carriage. Altogether it was a fine display of marching which is used each morning in connection with the "setting-up drill."

The program was then carried through in order with the exception of a slight exchange in Part Two.

The judges rendered the following decision:

60-Yard Dash

First place—Miss Thelma O'Quinn, Sophomore.

Second place—Miss Elizabeth McRea, Preparatory I.

Third place—Miss Julia Daniels, Senior.

50-Yard Dash

First place—Miss Sally Kate Wolfe, Junior.

Second place—Miss Ethel Newsome, Preparatory II.

Third place—Miss Lucile Allen, Preparatory I.

As it was impossible for President Powell to be on the field, Mr. Poston in few well chosen words presented the girls who won "First Place" with sweater monograms. The "Field Day Banner" was given to Preparatory I. Class as it totaled the greatest number of points. Also twenty-two girls holding responsible offices connected with student activities received monograms.

At the close the student body gathered around the band and in a soft sweet tone sang "Taps". The sun was slowly sinking below the horizon, spreading that rosy glow which also seemed to suggest rest and peace. It was a lovely ending for the splendid work just completed.

It is only fitting to say that Miss Mendelsohn, Director of the Physical Education Department, should receive congratulations on the splendid showing that individuals as well as classes made in their exercises.

FRENCH COMEDIES TO BE GIVEN AT THE COLLEGE

The girls in the French Department of the South Georgia State Normal College will present on Friday evening two comedies which show in part the values they have received in their class work this year.

"Les Deux Sourds," The Two Deaf Men, is an amusing story of real French life. Humor is found in the fact that one of the men is deaf only in pretense to please M. Damoisean, the deaf father of his sweetheart, who desires a deaf son-in-law. Pathos enters in when the father is cured and refuses to let his daughter marry a deaf man. Each of the men thinking the other deaf, insulting side remarks for which neither will stand. Finally the truth, that neither is deaf, and the story ends happily.

The cast from the third year class is as follows:

M. Damoisean, pere d'Eglatine—Clyde Palmer.

M. Placide, amoureux d'Eglatine—Francis Dekle.

Mlle. Eglatine—Rebecca Hill

Mme. Boniface, domestique—Marion Chauncey.

The second play "L'Quitiation," is given by the first year class. It represents a typical meeting of a college French Club, at which a new member is invited. After many ridiculous tricks, required by the old members of the club, Mlle. Louis is declared a member.

Mlle. Louis, candidate—Rena Mae Campbell.

Les Members du cercle francais.

Mlle. Penand, Pre'sidente—Erma Barco.

Mlle. Pooleambean—Emilie Chauncey.

Mlle. Chenier—Louise Poppell.

Mlle. Andrin—Ruth Patten.

Mlle. Renoit—Rosaline Ivey.

Mlle. Claude—Evelyn Joiner.

Mlle. Dubois—Nell Norton.

Mlle. Evrard—Emma Ellington.

Mlle. Fontaine—Juanita Tillman.

Mlle. Lesage—Ada Meeks.

Mlle. Marot—Mary Wood.

Mlle. Thiers—Catherine Wheeler.

This is the second French program for the year, and all the friends of the college are invited to attend.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT OF SOUTH GA. STATE NO

Music is regarded in the South Georgia State Normal College not as a mere accomplishment but as a very important part of a sound education. For this reason the college is provided with one of the best departments in the state.

It has met the ever increasing demand for instruction in music. The instructors are not only highly trained and skilled musicians; they are tested teachers.

The courses offered in music are so arranged that they lead to certificates and degrees.

This has been a busy and successful year. Frequent recitals and concerts have given evidence of serious and diligent work in striving toward artistic perfection.

The closing recital will be given in the rotunda on the evening of May 13th, when pupils of the advanced grades from piano and voice departments will be presented.

Besides the regular courses in the curriculum there is a phase of the work that proves to be beneficial as well as pleasant. At the beginning of each year the Glee Club is organized, which is composed of students above the average ability in music and possessing voice and taste. This club has proven to be one of the most active organizations connected with the college. In addition to their appearances in recital, they are called upon to sing on occasions of civic interest and their work is always a source of great pleasure.

Their annual concert will be presented at the Strand Theater on the night of May 11. On this occasion they will give a program of choruses, solos and quartets, the final number will be the pageant of "The Three Springs" done in costume with interpretative dances.

The club is composed of the following young ladies: Miss Alma Thompson, Odum, Ga.; Miss Ruth Wilson, Thomasville, Ga.; Miss Evelyn O'Quinn, Perry, Fla.; Miss Elizabeth Livingston, Brookman, Ga.; Miss Dahlia Baker, Thomasville, Ga.; Miss Mirdie VanBrackle, Adel, Ga.; Miss Evelyn Perry, Camilla, Ga.; Miss Dorris Woodbury, Bainbridge, Ga.; Miss Jewell Carmack, Pinehurst, Ga.; Miss Luaine Culbreth, Tarver, Ga.; Miss Gladys Faircloth, Camilla, Ga.; Miss Mary Cobb, Whigham, Ga.; Miss Remer Jones, Valdosta, Ga.; Miss Waver Hodges, Brinson, Ga.; Miss Mattie Campbell, Valdosta, Ga.; Miss Leo Prine, Valdosta, Ga.; Miss Jewell Meeks, Blackshear, Ga.

The friends of Mrs. Sim Belote will be glad to learn that she is convalescing after a week's illness.
