

FIELD DAY EXERCISES BEGIN AT 4 ON FRIDAY

Four o'clock is the hour set for the beginning of the Field Day exercises on Friday at the South Georgia State Normal College. The entrance to the athletic field will be through the colonnade between the two dormitories. All cars are to be parked on the driveways east of the buildings as parking on the west side will cause interference with the line of march and other activities.

The procession which opens the program will begin promptly at 4 and will be followed by a number of attractive drills and marching formations. If enthusiasm assures success, this is certain to be the most spectacular and enjoyable of all events previously held.

The friends of the college are cordially invited to be present. There will be no admission fee, but anyone wishing to make a contribution to help defray expenses will have the opportunity at the entrance.

MISSES GALLAHERS WERE GUESTS OF THE ALUMNAE

Among the varied social events connected with the college life none has been more unique or enjoyable than a dinner given last evening at a down town hotel by a group of the Alumnae of the South Georgia State Normal College who reside in this vicinity. The party was planned and arranged by the graduate students in honor of Miss Gallaher, dean of women, and her sister, Miss Sarah Gallaher, of Pennsylvania, who is now visiting at the college.

A long table at one side of the dining room with fourteen covers carried out the valentine idea. Here the young ladies assembled and spent some time in drawing and testing fate which caused much merriment. A very delicious course dinner was served.

The guests present were the Misses Gallahers, Mrs. Lottie Jarrell Stump, Mrs. Frances Kaylor Barker, Mrs. Natalie Sirmans Williams, Misses Edith Patterson, Ida Groover, Hattie McMillan, Alma Thompson, Hallie Jordan, Mattie Campbell, Bernice Rivers, and Lena May.

This date chanced to be the anniversary of a similar party given the year before at which Miss Gallaher of the college was the hostess and a number of the Alumnae were the guests. So enjoyable have been these two reunion events that the young ladies have decided to hold similar gatherings on this date at each year hereafter.

SOUTH GEORGIA NORMAL

VALDOSTA, Ga., Jan. 7.—With an increased attendance South Georgia State Normal College re-opened this week for the Spring session. All of the students of the Fall term returned together with a number of new ones, making the opening event one of unusual interest. Each student displayed more than ordinary enthusiasm in resuming the Spring work.

With the resumption of college work the students are formulating plans for the athletic events scheduled for the Spring term, with the expectation of making an unusual showing in this line as well as in the regular college work. It is an ideal college for young ladies who want to be something and do something for the good of the world.

JUNIOR RECEPTION TO SENIORS WAS BRILLIANT

One of the prettiest and one of the most enjoyable occasions of the year was the Junior reception tendered to the Senior class of the South Georgia State Normal College last Saturday night.

The guests composed of the Senior class, the faculty, and many out of town friends, assembled in "The Rotunda" early in the evening.

This beautiful room had been transformed into a veritable Japanese flower garden which made it more beautiful than ever. Wisteria and cheery blossoms formed lovely bowers. Japanese lanterns covered the lights. Small Japanese maidens greeted the guests and escorted them to the more formal receiving line.

A short program was given. Afterward the time was spent in "proms" and delightful conversation.

From the music room an orchestra gave forth soft strains of music which seemed to follow those who sought the pleasure of the evening.

An excellent salad and ice course was served in the dining hall. The room seemed more nearly that of spring time in a Japanese cherry orchard. Among the many flowers Japanese lanterns were beautifully arranged.

So thoughtfully had the enjoyment of the evening been planned that the event continues as one of those beautiful dreams never to be forgotten.

S. G. S. N. COLLEGE TO HAVE 4-YEAR COURSE

An Advance Step Is Taken By The Trustees Of This Institution

The Board of Trustees of the South Georgia State Normal College was in session Friday for the purpose of final settlement with the contractor for the splendid new dormitory of the college.

The out-of-town members of the board who had not seen the building since it has been completed, were enthusiastic over its magnificent appearance and substantial usefulness.

After the immediate business of the called meeting was finished, the board went on to consider other matters looking to the making of the college even more useful to the people of the state.

A very important step was taken in the resolution that in recognition of the strong work being done as a two-year college and of the exceptional equipment of the institution, the president and faculty should immediately prepare courses leading to a bachelor's degree. This step means that in a short while the college, while not discontinuing or discounting in any way the two-year college courses which have made its name a synonym for sound culture and affective teaching throughout the state, will be a full-fledged four-year college, giving degrees and rivaling the great woman's colleges of highest standing.

South Georgia's young women are entitled to the best without going far from home", said one of the board, "and they should have it. We have here teachers equal to the best in the state, buildings and equipment better than most four year colleges possess, and there is no reason why we should not give to the people of South Georgia, right at home—and to the rest of the state here—in this land of perfect climate and perfect health—advantages as good as can be had anywhere. We shall build out of our noble beginning, the Vassar of the South."

COLLEGE GIRLS PITTED IN JOINT DISCUSSION

Open Debate Wednesday to Be Followed by Public Debate Before Very Long

Much interest has been manifested in debates which the students of the South Georgia State Normal College have been having as class work recently. Wednesday was the first one opened to friends outside of the classes.

As the Junior Class is so large it has been sectioned. An admirable scheme has been resorted to, having one section to take reading the first semester and composition the second semester. The work is just the reverse in the other section. With this plan came the question, "Which line of study is the more beneficial?" The discussion grew interesting and finally representatives of the sections were chosen to discuss the problem openly, "Resolved, that Oral English is more beneficial than Written English."

The affirmative side was represented by Misses Corinne Studstill of Valdosta, Thelma O'Quinn of Odum, and Clarice Weathersbee of Jacksonville, Fla.

The negative side was represented by Misses Elizabeth Funderburke of Valdosta, Clara Belle Penny of Valdosta, and Albertine Jones of Smithville.

The judges were Miss Gallaher, Miss Barrett and Mr. Shanks.

The affirmative speakers made very good talks. They used every means to prove their points from radio back to the early Biblical times. The reasoning was good and the arguments were strong but the negative contestants advocated permanence from the beginning. Literature and art and music had come down through the ages. Besides it was extensive and it was an easy way of transmitting knowledge. These and a number of other equally as good points gave to the negative side the honor of winning the debate.

Within a few days the Sororian and Argonian Societies will extend an invitation to the friends of the college to attend a public debate to be given in the Valdosta High School auditorium.

The question to be settled is, "Resolved, that a voice in the management is a better solution towards solving the labor problem than profit sharing."

Misses Evelyn Brown of Valdosta, and Mae Gibson of Donaldsonville, will represent the Argonian Society and take the affirmative side.

Misses Willie Mae Matthews of Helena, and Estelle Parker of Thomasville will represent the Sororian Society and take the negative side.

On account of this being a foreign subject to the regular work in the societies the young ladies have had to make an extensive and thorough search for material to use in contending points. They declare they are quite familiar with their subject matter and each society is positive of winning with the excellent representatives they have. At this time rivalry is evident and as the adage predicts "Opposition is the life of business" a very interesting discussion will likely be made by the students.

VALENTINE PARTY AT S. G. S. N. COLLEGE SATURDAY

The Y. W. C. A. plays an important part in the social affairs as well as the religious affairs at the South Georgia State Normal College. This was well verified last Saturday night. Invitations had been extended to the student body and faculty to attend a Valentine party. Childhood was to be the prominent note of the evening so the child's costume was to represent the small girl or boy.

The guests were welcomed by the "Queen of Hearts." Jack of Hearts acted as a page. A contest of hand shaking opened the fun for the evening. Each one greeted the near friends heartily and quickly as they hurried through the crowd. All conceded they were warmly welcomed when the voice rang out proclaiming the name of the fortunate one in the contest. Various games helped the time pass most too rapidly for the good fairy had granted the children to remain for only one night.

The play given by the "Dramatic Club" during the evening created much merriment in the audience. It was well staged and the parts were carried out with ease and grace.

At the close of the evening the guests were very expressive of the pleasure that had been granted them to return to their child-hood days.

COLLEGE PLAY MONDAY RAISE MONEY FOR GIFT

It has always been customary for the graduating class of the South Georgia State Normal College to present a gift to the college as a remembrance of that particular class.

In order to secure the funds, the class always gives a play. Heretofore the plays have been selections from Shakespeare, but this year "Green Stockings," written by A. E. W. Mason, will be given.

This play has won a splendid reputation as it has been presented on the professional stage with Margaret Anglin as "Celia."

The indications are that the presentation of this form of art will be very enjoyable and the college girls are hoping that they may entertain a large audience. Monday evening May 22, at 8:30, in the High School auditorium.

PUPILS' RECITAL AT S. G. S. N. C.

Despite the sleet, rain and cold a large audience greeted the young musicians at their recital at the South Georgia State Normal College last Wednesday evening. The program was a varied one, pupils appearing in voice and piano numbers with the Glee Club contributing the closing number which was greatly enjoyed. The program follows:

Minuett: Don Juan (Mozart)—Margaret Richardson.

Fond Hearts Must Part (Lange)—Nell K. Hearn.

Sweet Souvenir (Martin)—Harriett Jones.

Open Thine Eyes (Massenet)—Ruth Wilson.

The Fountain (Bohm)—Madeline Culbreth.

THE SHUT-UP POSEY AT THE COLLEGE TUESDAY

Under the direction of Miss Ida Pritchett, teacher of school music, the children of the Training School of the South Georgia State Normal College presented a spring pageant, "The Shut-up Posy," on Tuesday afternoon.

The delightful little musical play was given in the rotunda which was fittingly and beautifully decorated with vines and greenery entwined in a background of lattice work.

The story opened with the entrance of woodsmen carrying a bier on which Spring, Mary Wyche, lay in a strange death-like sleep. Bessie Colley, as Mother Earth, in despair over the condition of Spring because of the little wild things that could not grow without her, accompanied them beseeching help. In answer the Angel of Wild Things appeared and related that somewhere in the Nature Kingdom, something, perhaps the least of the breezes, plants, birds and other living things could awaken her. It would be the one she loved best.

Mother Earth in turn summoned the winds, the sunlight and moonlight, the rainbow-fairies, but Spring did not awaken to their calls. In vain also was the attempt of the Easter Hare who was bewildered to think that any one should forego the pleasure of an Easter Egg. There was much happiness when Spring showed signs of awakening for the Forget-me-not. But she dropped off again and failed to respond to the efforts of Jack-in-the-Pulpit, the Violet, the Dutch Boy with his tulips, the Daisies and Buttercups, or the Lads and Lassies who danced so charmingly before her to the strains of an old English sheppard dance. But now South Wind who had been searching all over the world entered leading by the hand the Shut-up Posy whom he had found beside the garden wall, and who could not come because she was blind. Spring awakened to her plea and opened the petals of the posy revealing the wild rose.

There was rejoicing over her awakening and the pageant closed with a recessional to the music of a beautiful May Pole Dance played by Miss Rogers and Miss Pritchett. In the songs which furnished the background for the action and which were sung in solo and chorus form at frequent intervals, the children gave proof of the careful and artistic training they have had. The music, the dramatic parts, dances, costuming and the grouping combined to give a charming effect that reflected credit on the director.

The dances which so fittingly expressed the ideas of the songs to which they were given, were under the direction of Miss Mendelssohn.

MOTLEY ARRANGED CROWD IN THE COLLEGE ROTUNDA

It was a motly arrayed crowd that thronged the rotunda of the South Georgia State Normal College Saturday night. This was the Y. W. C. A. book party and a representation of a great many volumes of books was to be seen. The costumes were of every conceivable kind, principally to mislead those who were trying to know all the books in circulation.

The test of guessing the books represented created much fun. Each guest had received a booklet in which to enter the known names. Also the guests had the opportunity of suggesting suitable names for a number of pictures that were placed about the room. Then a series of living pictures were shown which called for the names. Among these were:

"Michael O'Halleron," "Ann of Green Gables," "Further E. K. Means," "Two Marys," "Mrs. Warren's Daughter," "Ruth of U. S. A.," "Seven ages of Man."

After refreshments had been served prizes were presented. Since it took actual work to be able to recognize so many books, the winner was given a small drum which signified that it was "hard to beat." The young lady who did not keep up her list received a toy watch so that hereafter she could "watch her time." The one finding the most suitable list of names for the pictures was given a cunning little box of candy which called forth great laughter.

It was indeed a jolly evening beside having about twenty-five volumes added to the library of the Young Women's Christian Association.

SUCCESSFUL FIELD DAY EXERCISES BY CHILDREN

On account of the bad weather on March 3, the Training School of the South Georgia State Normal College was compelled to postpone the Field Day exercises. The second day chosen was last Tuesday at 4:00 o'clock. The day was beautiful but the wind was strong. In spite of this, the procession of contestants was a pretty sight with the school banners and class colors gleaming in the sunlight. The children were happy and ready for their places on the program.

The events were the outgrowth of the regular physical training which is conducted by the Seniors under the direction of the physical training instructor, Miss Mendelsohn. In every way the children displayed the excellent training they have received. The program for the Training School Field Day:

COLLEGE DRAMATIC CLUB MET TUESDAY EVENING

At the regular meeting of the Dramatic Club last Tuesday evening a delightful program was given. Special invitations had been issued to a few friends to be present. The first number was a reading, "Rose Red and Snow White." This was a cutting from "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm", by Kate Douglas Wiggin. It was read with a keen interest into the characters by Miss Edna Robinson.

The second number, Miss Leo Prime read three short child poems by Robert Louis Stevenson. The poems were "My Shadow", "The Swing," and "The Lamplighter."

The third number was the delightful one-act play "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Down, read by Miss Clyde Palmer, who interpreted it with all the beauty that such a dainty play requires.

CATALOGUE OF S. G. S. N. C. FOR NEW SESSION

It Is Perhaps One of Most Interesting and Important Issued Thus Far

The contents of the new catalog of the South Georgia State Normal College are convincing of the great advancements which have been made within the past ten years. The college has now full four-year courses. At the beginning of the fall semester, September 6, besides the courses leading both to Junior College and normal Diploma (two year course), there will be courses leading to the Bachelor's Degree (four year courses).

Much of the success of the college work is due to the dormitory life of the students. For this, there are two beautiful brick and concrete buildings, constructed and equipped in the most modern way. Every convenience for comfort has been installed. The rooms and corridors are light and airy and are kept clean, fresh, wholesome and orderly all the time.

The girls have plenty of good wholesome food. Much of it is produced on the college farm and therefore fresh and in splendid condition when received.

With the good physical care given to the students including regular periods for recreation, rest, meals and social pleasures they have maintained unusually fine health records.

Although the college is non-sectarian a sincerely spiritual atmosphere is cultivated principally through a well organized Young Women's Christian Association, a high ideal lived by proper decorum and courtesy, and the splendid standards upheld in all classes. With this training, characters of a happy cheerful and cultured nature are very noticeable.

West Hall, the administration building in which all class rooms are located, is a beautiful structure and kept in the same clean way, as the dormitories. The plan of the building has made it convenient to successfully conduct a great number of classes and furnish excellent facilities for laboratory work. The students find the opportunities in their subjects unlimited for progress and efficiency.

The catalog gives in a simple, clear and concise way the actual school life, curriculum and enough descriptive material to aid a student in understanding the advantages that a modern woman's college of South Georgia can give here at home. The same opportunities are open to young women coming from other parts of the state or from other states. Besides the benefit derived from a college of this order, climatic conditions offer a great inducement as the fall, winter and spring climate is deal.

Literary Debate.

The Sororian and Argonian Literary Societies extend an invitation to the friends of the South Georgia State Normal College to attend a debate to be given in the Valdosta High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, March 21, at 8 o'clock.

The question to be discussed is "Resolved, That a voice in the Management is a Better Solution Towards Solving the Labor Problem Than Profit Sharing."

The affirmative side will be upheld by Misses Evelyn Brown of Valdosta and Mae Gibson of Donaldsonville, who represent the Argonian Society.

The negative side will be contended by Misses Willie Mae Matthew of Helera, and Estelle Barker of Thomasville, representing the Sororian Society.

Heretofore the open debates given by the students have shown masterly skill in the preparation of the material. This one promises to be delivered in a well prepared form as each society is so confident of success.

GEORGIA, FRIDAY, MAY 19,

PASSES

BRILLIANT PROGRAM FOR CLOSING EXERCISES OF S. G. S. N. C. NEXT WEEK

First Exercises Occur at Five O'Clock Saturday Evening

Number of Out of Town Visitors
Will Be Much Larger This Year Because of the Added
Number of Graduates

Of unusual brilliance will be the commencement exercises of the South Georgia State Normal College, commencing Saturday evening at 5 o'clock. This is the ninth annual closing exercises of the college, and because of the advancing age of the institution public interest in the closing the regular two-year teacher of graduates each year. As a result, the class being larger this season, insures a larger attendance of visitors from out of the city of friends and relatives of the young women who will receive their diplomas.

During the present college year two things of more than ordinary interest have occurred. The authorities decided to make the S. G. S. N. C. a full four-year college, leading to A. B. degrees, as well as continuing the regular two-year teacher training course which has been the previous sole work of the institution.

The other important development was the admission of the college into the Association of Colleges, giving it an equal place with the other and older educational institutions in Georgia. The college is now on a footing even with every other institution, and is provided with an equipment and faculty that will continue to keep it in the very front rank of colleges for young women.

S. G. S. N. COLLEGE GETS A HIGH RECOGNITION

Is Made A Full Member of the State Association Of Colleges

Valdosta will receive with pleasurable pride the announcement that the South Georgia State Normal College has been admitted to membership in the State Association of Colleges, this honor being bestowed upon it at a meeting of the Association in Atlanta the last of the previous week.

This action of the State Association followed quickly upon the determination of the board of trustees of the S. G. S. N. College to advance it to a full four-year-course college. This plan of the trustees has been officially accepted by the State Superintendent of Schools giving it recognition as a full four-year woman's college, equal with any institution in the state. Students completing the new course will receive not only the degree of Bachelor of Education, but also the State Professional College Teachers Certificate, just as heretofore those completing the normal or two-year course have received from the state the Professional Normal Certificate.

This full recognition of the college, yet less than ten years old, enables South Georgia to offer full collegiate advantages to its daughters here at home, and to welcome the daughters of other sections of the state to pursue their studies here in this ideal climate on equal terms with the remainder of the state.

South Georgia comes into its own, educationally, through this progressive step taken by the college trustees. That this institution, the youngest of the State University System, has in less than ten years worked its way into a full four-year woman's college is a tribute to the untiring work of the head of the college and the strong faculty which has at all times been retained here.

LITERARY SOCIETIES TO DEBATE LABOR QUESTION

The Sororian and Argonian Societies of College at Auditorium This Eve.

The Sororian and Argonian Literary Societies of the South Georgia State Normal College invite those who are interested in the question for debate to attend the open meeting in the Valdosta High School auditorium at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, March 21.

Misses Brown and Gibson of the Argonian Society propose to show that the giving of labor a voice in the management of industry will go further towards reducing the evils of our labor situation than profit sharing.

Misses Mathews and Barker, supporters of the negative, have promised the Sororian society to prove that profit sharing will be the better solution.

Although the question is freely discussed in current magazines and various books, much time and trouble have been expended on the preparation. In the accumulation of facts the material should be educational as well as interesting.

The Program This Evening.

The following interesting program will be given:

1. Address of Welcome—Miss Waver Hodges, President of the Sororian Society.
2. Vocal Solo—Miss Birdie Van Brackle, Sororian member.
3. Debate, Resolved, That Giving Labor a Voice in the Management of Industry is a Better Solution of the Labor Problem than Profit Sharing.

Affirmative, Miss Evelyn Brown, Miss Estelle Barker, Argonian members.
Negative, Miss Willie Mae Mathews, Miss Estelle Barker, Sororian members.

4. Reading—Miss Deborah Creighton, Argonian member.
5. Rebuttals.
6. Quartette — Miss Evelyn O'Quinn, Miss Doris Woodbury, Argonian members; Miss Waver Hodge, Miss Rebecca Kill, Sororian members.
7. Decision of Judges.
8. Closing Remarks—Miss Eppie Roberson, President of the Argonian Society.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT IS CHANGED AT COLLEGE

There have been important actions going on in the Student Government Organizations of the College during the last week. The recent action of the Board of Trustees in developing the college to a full four year institution has necessitated a revision of the Student Government Constitution. The president and faculty feeling that the time was ripe to invite the student body into a larger responsibility, and encourage by the fine respect for law and order and the sense of responsibility among the students, inviting the students to appoint representatives from the collegiate classes to work with the executive officers of the faculty in revising and improving the constitution.

This joint committee has gone thoroughly into the question with due regard to the development of government in the institution and to the governmental plans of other women's colleges, and has introduced such amendments as are believed to make the form of government in the college practically ideal. The revised constitution was unanimously adopted by the student body Monday evening, and the president has issued a new charter to the Student Government Organization granting to the organization and its officers the rights, powers and duties prescribed in the constitution.

It is this ability of the students and officers of the college to work together vigorously and constructively for the general welfare of the institution and for the higher interests of the state that is making the South Georgia State Normal a great constructive force in the lives of its students and through them in its whole territory.

March 23 the Lowndes County Club of college girls will hold their monthly luncheon at one o'clock in West Hall.

The vesper services for Sunday and Thursday evenings will be held as usual.

There are several receptions to be given as well as recitals after vacation.

Miss Marion Groover Visiting.

Miss Marion Groover, a graduate of the South Georgia State Normal College in 1918, is visiting at the college for a few days.

As a student in college Miss Groover held the student government presidency during her senior year. The following year she was retained in the college as an assistant secretary. For the last three years she has been selected as president of the Alumnae Association, thus her work among the students has been far reaching.

Miss Groover is now teaching in Boston. She spends her summers at the George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., in taking her degree work.

FIELD DAY FOR CHILDREN OF TRAINING SCHOOL

On Friday, March 3, at 4 o'clock the Training School will hold its annual Field Day on the college athletic field under the direction of the professional senior class of the college.

The program will consist of marching, drills with light apparatus, games, a series of competitive events for the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades, and another series for the second and third.

The Field Day in the Training School is a regular project for the senior class and the students of this class carry on very ably the work of organization and training. The drills and athletic events are a natural outgrowth of the regular work in physical training done by the children. The spirit is high among the classes and splendid results are expected on Friday.

BRILLIANT FRENCH PLAY AT COLLEGE SATURDAY

The play, "Les Deux Gloires" (The Two Glories), given by one of the French classes of the South Georgia State Normal College excited much curiosity last Saturday evening.

The program was opened by Miss Evelyn O'Quinn, singing "Chant La Rosaire". Miss O'Quinn's voice seemed specially fitted for this song in French. Besides through the kindness of Mrs. Varnedoe, Miss O'Quinn had procured a Bretagne (Breton) costume which added much to the charm of this part of the program.

Miss Williamson could not be present, therefore her reading had to be omitted.

It was not difficult to transform the chapel into the average home of the plain people of France. Here presided Mme Phillippe. Great excitement seemed to be in the household, as preparations were being made to welcome Jacques, the son, home from the late war. A neighbor girl, Louise, had come to assist in this work.

At this moment came a loud knock and Pere Baudoin entered. His appearance caused loud applause. He was dressed in the Franco-Prussian uniform. By the loss of an arm and the aged look depicted on his face, the character was well placed. Not long after his arrival, Jacques rushed in showing the youth of the present day soldiers. Great merriment was displayed in the audience as well as in the home with the greetings he received.

As these friends chatted over past experiences, it was very noticeable with what ease and fluency they used the French language. The play was only a reproduction of class work but it proved a great novelty by way of entertainment. It was a good display of language work with action. The young ladies who took part in this, Miss Mendelsohn, Miss Marion Chauncey, Miss Frances Dekle, and Miss Mary Breedlove, received many compliments as well as their teacher, Miss Margery Moore.

It was a splendid closing when the Glee Club arose and sang "La Marseillaise Tons."

G. N. I. SENIORS HOLD CLASS DAY

Two Hundred and Seventy Girls
Parade in Caps and Gowns.

ALUMNAE RECEPTION HELD

Great and Marvelous Future Foretold By Class Prophet.

(From Yesterday's City Edition).
BY MRS. E. R. HINES.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., June 4.—

The opening event of the Georgia Normal and Industrial College commencement took place on Saturday afternoon when 270 young women in cap and gown marched out to campus from Parks hall to hold their senior class exercises.

After several songs by everybody to make them feel at home, Miss Alice Hall, of Milledgeville, gave a bright and most interesting account of what had happened to this class from the year that the first number entered this school. Many things were brought to light that had been half forgotten and several things revealed that no one dreamed had ever happened.

Copy of Prophecy Will Be Kept.

The class prophecy, by Miss Dorothy Campbell, of Covington, was something which every senior vowed to keep a copy of in order to see that it all comes true. Great and marvelous will be the future of this class, according to a young lady, who is blessed with such foresight.

The Latin and Testament, read by Miss Murphy, of West Point, was a mixture of smiles and tears, for although she wrote for a great part in the lighter vein, still there were minor strains of feeling which crept in when the thoughts of parting came and when the writer sought to admonish each member of the class to live up to the high ideals of their alma mater.

The short talks by each of the class officers, president, Miss Muriel Williams, Marietta; vice president, Miss Burke Nicholson, Stephens; secretary, Miss Amelie Weaver, Buena Vista, and treasurer, Miss Forde Dorden, Hogansville, were splendid and did much to make a success of this most interesting occasion as all the classes feel.

Dr. Parks Talks.

A meeting without a talk by Dr. Parks would be too stage Hamlet without the prince, so they called on their devoted president to say a few words, and Dr. Parks always knows what to say and just how to say it to those girls. This was no exception to the rule.

Several groups of songs were sung by the class club and the class song by all the class and Auld Lang Syne by everybody, which brought the exercises to a close.

Get-together Tea.

Promptly at 7 o'clock Saturday evening the Alumnae of the G. N. and I. College marched down from the mansion parlors into the dining hall to have what they called a "get together" tea. It could not be named so formally a dinner or a banquet, but if it lacked in quantity, so far as courses were concerned, it made up in quality so far as everything else was concerned.

The hall had been beautifully decorated in the alumna colors of white and green. The tables were set banquet style and most artistically arranged baskets of silver and crystal were filled with Shaster daisies and the green and white paper strips were festooned from each chandelier. The windows were banked with ferns and the entire hall wore an air of festivity which was immediately caught by the alumnae as they marched in and the fun began.

Toast to Dr. Parks.

Miss Kate Parker, of Fairburn, president of the association, at once offered a toast to Dr. Parks as follows: "To our beloved president let me say a better, nobler, grander one never lived a day, a man who labors for a great ideal and lives to see his dreams made real."

Dr. Parks responded with a short talk and was then asked to say the blessing. The time during the first course was taken up with the exchange of greetings, nods to distant and familiar faces, waves of the hands to those too far away to speak to and smiles and more smiles and then Miss Parker turned the program of toasts over to the Toastmistress, Mrs. Frank G. Wells, of Hapeville, but better known at G. N. I. C. as "Brookside Stillwell."

Mrs. Wells made a most charming toastmistress and began the program by calling on four of the alumnae for a quartette. This was a song set to the music of My Best Pal Is a Little Southern Gal, and changed to a Little Georgia Gal, Way Down At G. N. I. The quartette was composed of Misses Helen Granade, Marion Murphy, Esther Wilburn and Mrs. E. R. Hinues.

Each class was then called by dates and some member rose and responded with a toast or a short talk and the time passed so quickly. It was the hour set for the reception before it was realized. The program ended with two of the alumnae songs and the diners marched out to campus, where the reception began.

Reception is Held.

The beautiful mansion lawn was lighted with many electric bulbs, all of them being shaded with the green and white alumnae colors. The Milledgeville band was on hand to furnish the music and everyone was happy over seeing everyone else. In the receiving line were the officers of the alumnae association, Dr. and Mrs. Parks, the board of directors, woman board of visitors, former presidents of the association, and senior officers.

The entire senior class of 1921 were the guests of honor and the affair was most enjoyable. The punch bowls placed here and there over the lawn were presided over by beautiful young girls in the daintiest of Summer gowns, and were well patronized.

Sunday Exercises.

The Sunday morning exercises will be held at the Baptist church and the sermon will be preached by Dr. William Russel Owens, of the First Baptist church of Macon. The program will be as follows:

C. graduate who sails for Africa to enter the missionary field this Fall. Miss McKay goes under the direction of the Southern Presbyterian Board. Will Open College Exhibit

The exhibit of the work of the college will open Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will close at 6. There will be everything a body might be able to mention in the health, manual training, art, domestic science, domestic arts, departments and the exhibit promises to be more interesting, if that is possible, than ever before.

The war taught us many things and even to G. N. & I. C. has come the lesson that she could improve on her own teachings in the past, and she has done so. To one who has never seen all exhibits at this college it would be an education in how the practical can be made the beautiful and the enjoyable and it would pay any person to make the trip to the city of Milledgeville to go through the departments and view this work done by the hands of Georgia daughters. The beauty of it all they do not go home and forr it, but today there are hundreds of young women all over this State and also out in other States who are spreading the splendid ideals of the Georgia Normal and Industrial College and putting into practical use the many things they were taught to do while within her walls.

G. N. AND I. C. SUMMER SCHOOL IS FLOODED WITH APPLICATIONS

Initial Session Will Begin On Monday; 600 or More
Will Attend.

BY NELLE WOMACK HINES.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., June 11.—

"Well, are you going to Summer school at G. N. I. C.?" "Do you think I would miss it? It will be an opportunity that I can't afford to let slip, and I am looking forward to it as if I were going away for a trip somewhere."

"Speaking of Summer trips—have you found any place yet where you can go, have a splendid room, good meals, a lovely campus, cool breeze, all the ice water you can drink (to say nothing of a sure enough fountain that runs sure enough water), and a whole faculty of fine teachers ready to tell you or teach you anything you want to know, and all for the sum of $29 for the entire six weeks?"

"Yes—that's what I have found, and right here at G. N. I. C."

That is just a sample, kind reader, of the conversations you can hear if you will only listen to the folks who are planning to come to the Summer school at the Georgia Normal and Industrial College.

The dormitories will open Monday, June 13, and the classes will begin on Tuesday. Over 600 applications had been received up to Thursday of the past week with more coming in on every mail, so the chances are that the biggest Summer school anywhere around will be run right here in Milledgeville this year. The folks in the city are very much enthused over the fact that we are to have this school for many reasons. First, they always miss the girls when they leave and it looks good to see all the nice people coming over to spend several weeks in our city for we like them to know what a nice little town we have. Then, it is just a good thing to have something in your own home town to which you can "point with pride" and this Summer school is going to be in that class.

Chance Given on Silver Waiters.

"Yes," said one of the teachers when approached on the subject, "we will have regular college courses the six weeks and credits will be given. Teachers may also have their State licenses renewed by doing satisfactory work during this time."

Now, did anybody ever hear of anything being as nearly handed out on a silver waiter as that? In the center of the State, near to everybody—and all these splendid opportunities just waiting for somebody to come and gather them in? The way things look, there are many who have decided to do some gathering while the gathering is good, and there isn't any doubt that this will be the largest and best Summer school ever conducted here.

"There will be over fifty courses of study offered"—continued this teacher, "and there will be a great variety of subjects to select from, all finely adapted to the practical needs of Georgia teachers."

The same spirit of good fellowship which abounds at the G. N. I. C. just runs over and submerges the Summer schools which are carried on at this institution and it has been the writer's good fortune to hear many of the people who have attended these past years express themselves as being as much delighted with this feeling (which seems to be "catching") as they were with the work accomplished at the school. So, if you want to have a good time while you are making yourself smart—why you know where to go. The latch-string is on the outside and the fountain is running.

ANNUAL 'HAT PARTY' WAS AN EVENT AT COLLEGE

Last Saturday evening, April first, was the date chosen for the annual "Hat Party."

The class of "1919" of the South Georgia State Normal College willed to the future sophomore and freshman classes the fun of hunting for a certain hat which formerly was worn by their president. According to the regulations, the class finding the hat is feasted by the other class.

This year the freshmen were the fortunate ones. Since the sophomores were "fooled" in not having the hat better hidden they chose "all fool's day" in order to entertain their guests. Other than the two classes, invitations were extended to President and Mrs. Powell, Misses Gallaher, Hopper, Robertson, Smith, McCoy, Rogers and Mrs. Dalhouse to be present.

After the guests were assembled and a short formal program had been given, each girl received her title for the evening by donning a pointed cap. Then she started on a journey, meeting various foolish things to do. In this queer way she traveled from one country to another, not only finding funny customs, but delicious refreshments characteristic of that country. Thus she explored England, France and Japan, although the foods entire had been prepared by the sophomores as a development of cooking in their home economics class.

The Freshmen were delighted with the "April Fool Jokes" and hoped that they could succeed next year in keeping the hat hidden so that they might receive another honor.

GOOD HEALTH WEEK IS OBSERVED AT COLLEGE

One of the most interesting features of school life at the South Georgia State Normal College is to watch the general health of the students. This week has been set aside as "good health week." During the time various physical examinations are being conducted by the Physiological Biology class under the directions of Miss Gallaher of the Biology Department, Miss Mendelsohn of the Physical Education Department, and Doctor Crozier, Commissioner of Health for Lowndes county.

The excellent averages on the health cards are not surprising for one could well expect a good showing from the fact that there has been very little sickness. In looking over past records and tracing conditions there is an illuminating statement to be found in the very first catalogue issued. "Every precaution is taken," says the statement, "to make safe the health of the students. The City of Valdosta enjoys an enviable reputation for the health. The fall, winter and spring climate (when the school is in session) is ideal. The school is abundantly supplied with absolutely pure artesian water, hot and cold. The sewerage system is the best."

The college has never departed from this statement of purpose; and policy reinforced by a lively department of Physical Education and constant watchfulness, examination, and checking upon health, has resulted in a record this year before Christmas exactly ninety-nine per cent perfect, and so far since Christmas ninety-nine and one-third per cent perfect.

With this standard of health, abundant exercise, good food, regular hours for work and rest, the girls have been able to resist contagious diseases. In the history of the school there never has been a case of typhoid fever, diphtheria, or other disease except a single case of scarlet fever. When colds, tonsillitis, grippe and influenza have been epidemic in this country students have not succumbed to these diseases. It is a boast with many of the students who have been here for years that they have not missed a class on account of illness during their stay in college.

COLLEGE GIRLS IN JOINT DEBATE TUESDAY NIGHT

A Brilliant Program at the High School Auditorium Open To The Public

Public joint program of the Sororian and Argonian Literary Societies to be given in the Valdosta High School auditorium, Tuesday evening, March 21, at 8 o'clock:

1. Address of Welcome—Miss Waver Hodges, President of the Sororian Society.

2. Vocal Solo—Miss Birdie Van Brackle, Sororian member.

3. Debate, Resolved, That Giving Labor a Voice in the Management of Industry is a Better Solution of the Labor Problem than Profit Sharing. Affirmative, Miss Evelyn Brown, Miss Estelle Barker, Argonian members. Negative, Miss Willie Mae Mathews, Miss Estelle Barker, Sororian members.

4. Reading—Miss Deborah Creighton, Argonian member.

5. Rebuttals.

6. Quartette — Miss Evelyn O'Quinn, Miss Doris Woodbury, Argonian members; Miss Waver Hodge, Miss Rebecca Kill, Sororian members.

7. Decision of Judges.

8. Closing Remarks—Miss Eppie Roberson, President of the Argonian Society.

Points for the Discussion.

Although the bill for settling the labor problem had been discussed before, in the year 1919 President Wilson called a conference in Washington, D. C., to try to decide on some plan. It is from this discussion that the question has been taken. Not only will this part of the program be interesting but instructive as well.

The labor problem has greatly concerned the public for the past few months. It is estimated that strikes and lockouts cost the United States last year several billion dollars, besides an enormous amount of suffering. When we recall the anxiety we had last fall over a planned railroad strike and what hardships we may pass through in the coming struggle between laborer and employment of the coal mines, we conceive the importance and need for study of method for warding off these calamities.

The labor question is of tremendous interest to the public, therefore the societies have selected the two most widely discussed and studied solutions of the problem for the query of this debate.

LAST RECITAL OF THE SERIES AT COLLEGE

The last of a series of recitals given by the Music Department of the South Georgia State Normal College will be rendered May 13th, at 8:30 in the chapel in West Hall.

Each department is selecting four students to represent their work. These students have shown ability heretofore in the different recitals so this final program offered will show skill as well as selection.

The program will be given by both piano and vocal students. No particular theme will be followed but a varied program consisting of fine types of classical music will be rendered.

This recital promises to be one of the finest given. Any of the college friends who are interested in this subject are most cordially invited to be present next Friday evening.

DR. SMART TO LECTURE COLLEGE GIRLS SUNDAY

The Young Women's Christian Association of the South Georgia State Normal College is very fortunate in securing Dr. W. A. Smart, of Emory University to deliver a series of lectures on Christian Fundamentals. Dr. Smart is a professor of Emory University and has just returned from giving lectures in other institutions. One lecture will be Saturday evening, Feb. 25, at 7 o'clock. The third of the series will be Monday evening, Feb. 27, at 7 o'clock. These talks will be given in the rotunda in the new dormitory.

In connection with this work, Miss Elsie Heller, Student Secretary for the South Atlantic Field which embraces the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Virginia has come to spend several days with the students. Miss Heller for the past few years has been making annual visits to the college in behalf of the Y. W. C. A. work, therefore she has been receiving a very cordial welcome.

The Y. W. C. A. has been a vital factor in the religious and social life of the students of S. G. S. N. C. The cabinet members have been active in securing every means of help for making this work effectual. They believe that Dr. Smart's talks with Miss Heller's assistance in advising about their work, will make their association stronger in every way.

CHANCELLOR BARROW AND MR. BECK AT COLLEGE

It was a great surprise to the students of the South Georgia State Normal College to see Chancellor Barrow and Mr. Beck in their midst Friday. The real merriment came when these friends dined with the students. Of course after dinner speeches were in order. Mr. Beck in a very entertaining way tried to explain that he came to eat and not to talk. However he had a theory to expound and begun by suggesting some of the things that were taking place in homes that were not in keeping with law and order. His portrayal of a school teacher was funny but he strongly advocated that profession was much better than for a girl to marry "a two-bit man."

Although Chancellor Barrow was much amused over the line of reasoning with which Mr. Beck had made his point, he took the same theme for his talk. With the use of a unique illustration he showed how heretofore man's sphere was so great and now woman was coming more into the business field. Chivalry and courtesy were needed but chaperonage was of even greater value.

It created for the students a pleasant half hour and furnished for them some good suggestions to use for thought.

ORGANIZE FORMER STUDENTS OF S. G. S. N. C.

The most invigorating news to the far-off college girls is that concerning college activities and information about the students who attended their college.

Since this is the first decade in the history of the South Georgia State Normal College, it has been deemed an excellent plan to organize an association of former students who found it impossible to remain in college until graduation. Consequently an invitation has been extended to these students to make a special effort to be present this year for commencement. At that time they will perfect an organization and thus bring their circle more closely in touch with their Alma Mater.

The first mails have brought responses from the following students who desire to be charter members:

Miss Bertha May, Hinesville, Ga.

Miss Mary Terrell, Whigham, Ga.

Miss Lois Harrell, Doerun, Ga.

Miss Lois Twitty, Camilla, Ga.

Miss Margaret McCranie, Albany, Ga.

Miss Nellie Moody, Dawson, Ga.

Miss Martha Dudley, Valdosta, Ga.

Miss Leonide Hodges, Newington, Ga.

Miss Ethel Fletcher, Mystic, Ga.

Mrs. Maggie Mae Scott Stump, Sylacauga, Fla.

Mrs. Beulah Whildon Bryan, Waycross, Ga.

Mrs. Irene Kennedy White, Coolidge, Ga.

Mrs. Lois Carter Brasley, Dixie, Ga.

Miss Margaret Chastain, Thomasville, Ga.

Miss Kate Humphreys, Strickland, Ga.

Mrs. Henrietta Terrell Hearn, Valdosta, Ga.

GREAT HONOR WAS FELT BY COLLEGE THIS WEEK

South Georgia State Normal Figured in the Daughters of Revolution Meet

Great honor was felt by the students of the South Georgia State Normal College last week when they realized that they had the opportunity of assisting with the entertainment of the ladies who were in Valdosta attending the State D. A. R. Conference.

Misses Gallaher, Hopper, Moore; Mrs. Miller and Mrs. McGarrah were hostesses who had for their guests Mrs. Roddenberry of Moultrie, Mrs. Walker of Cuthbert, Mrs. Perry of Bainbridge, and Mrs. Gardener of Albany. Mrs. John D. Pope of Albany was the guest of the college. All the ladies were entertained in the dormitories.

Wednesday morning the College Glee Club sang a few selections at the conference.

Thursday evening the students gave the delegates and their hostesses a lovely tea in the administration building. On entering, the guests were taken to see the training school department. They next visited the Science, History, Latin, French, Music, English, and Biology rooms and then the Library. In the Domestic Art Laboratory, the visitors were attracted by the nicely made garments found in the cases. In them were various articles such as small boys' suits, children's clothing, bungalow aprons, middy suits, men's shirts, dresses and many pieces of undergarments. The work was much admired but the "actual cost" of the garments revealed great surprise.

The art room was a fascinating place. The students are now making practical use of their art designs. There were to be found boxes, toilet bottles, fruit bowls, table covers, luncheon sets, pillows, unique posters and many other articles that were beautifully decorated.

Best of all was the Domestic Science department. The visitors there found a well-equipped laboratory and were served with tea and sandwiches.

In the trustees' room were President Powell and Mrs. Powell and Miss Gallaher, who gave a cordial greeting to the guests.

COLLEGE GIRLS' DEBATE WAS WELL ATTENDED

The Argonian Society Carried Off the Honors In The Opinion of Judges

The entertainment given by the societies of the South Georgia State Normal College last night was well selected and nicely given. The arrangement of the rostrum was in harmony with the order of the societies. Only white flowers were used and a slight showing of each of the societies' colors.

However delightful the whole program was it was the debate that claimed the strictest attention as it was instructive as well as interesting. The students had studied their subject extensively and they were well prepared and responded freely. The arguments on both sides were forcible and good, but the Argonian (affirmative side) Society carried off the honor.

Mrs Eddy's Work With Students.

Mrs. Katherine Willard Eddy who is a fluent speaker, has given several very interesting talks to the students of the South Georgia State Normal College. Her travels have been through countries in which conditions are not of the best, therefore she was able to help the Y. W. C. A. girls understand the great work that is being carried on with their contributions in the foreign field.

Mrs. Eddy has gone to take up this same line of work in the Tallahassee College for Women.

Town Girls' Luncheon.

The town girls of the Lowndes County College Club will hold their luncheon on Thursday in the grove on the campus. It is hoped that all the girls will be present as arrangements have been made to entertain two groups of friends, besides the business transactions. An amusing program has been arranged.

FIELD DAY AT COLLEGE NEXT FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Much enthusiasm is being evinced over the Annual Field Day, which will be held this week, on Friday at 4 o'clock. The latter part of the past week was devoted to running off preliminaries. The girls showed splendid form and unusual agility in the various events.

The students of the college enjoy the advantages of outdoor athletics almost every day during the school year. In addition to the regular gymnastic lessons, a 30-minute period is required daily of all the students. Many of the girls fill in this period by early morning track work and by daily practice on the outdoor basket ball and volley ball courts.

This promises to be one of the most attractive exhibitions of any heretofore, because the splendid health record maintained has resulted in unexcelled regularity in class work. A growing interest has been manifested throughout the year which has fostered a beneficial spirit of co-operation among the classes.

SUDDEN DEATH OF HON. T. G. CULBRETH MONDAY

Prominent Naval Stores Operator Stricken by Heart Failure Last Night

Death came suddenly to Hon. Thomas G. Culbreth, of Tarver Monday night, removing from Echols county and South Georgia one of its prominent men and a man of upstanding character and wide influence.

Mr. Culbreth has served as senator from this district two terms being selected by Echols as its representative in the senate, while he has also served one or more terms as a member of the house. He came to South Georgia from Red Springs N. C., about thirty years ago, and for a time lived in the upper portion of Lowndes county, later removing to Echols and engaging in naval stores operations. During his residence in this section he has been associated with a number of Valdosta people in various business enterprises and deals and in every one has always shown himself to be a man of unusual character.

For about twenty years or more he has carried on extensive naval stores operations of his own and stood as a prominent figure in this industry. He was perhaps about 57 years of age at the time of his death. Late Sunday afternoon he returned to his home after making a trip about his turpentine farm and when he reached the house remarked to Mrs. Culbreth that he felt very bad. Contrary to his usual custom he immediately lay down, but making no further complaint it was believed that rest was all he needed. About 9:30 he was heard to make an unusual noise which attracted the attention of Mrs. Culbreth. When she reached his side he was dead, heart failure being ascribed as the cause of his death.

It has been known to Mr. Culbreth's intimate friends in Valdosta for some time that he was not in the best of health. Last week while visiting in the city he was examined by a Valdosta physician, who found at that time that Mr. Culbreth was suffering from organic heart trouble, and undoubtedly Mr. Culbreth had recently become more or less alarmed about his condition.

Two of his daughters, Miss Pauline and Miss Madeline, are students of the South Georgia State Normal College and during the night they were notified of the death of Mr. Culbreth. Another daughter, Miss Sadie, is a graduate of the S. G. S. N. C., and is now teaching school at Red Springs, N. C., and she was also notified of the death of her father and is expected to reach here some time tonight.

No definite announcement has been made regarding the funeral and interment but it was reported during the morning that the remains would probably be interred in Sunset Hill cemetery, this city.

MR. A. B. ROBERTSON IS DEAD AFTER LONG SIEGE

Well Known Citizen Passed Away Early Wednesday Evening at Home

At about 8:45 o'clock Wednesday night Mr. Abner Baldwin Robertson died at his residence on Slater street, the death following an illness of about five weeks.

Mr. Robertson had been a citizen of Valdosta for four and one-half years, having come here in order to be with his daughter who is a teacher in the South Georgia Normal College. During his four years residence here he has created for himself a warm place in the hearts of a large number of Valdosta people.

The children of his neighborhood were particularly fond of him, their love being occasioned probably by his devotion to them and by the stories he told them out of his rich experiences.

Mr. Robertson was born at Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 1st, 1853. He spent his boyhood and early life there, having attended the schools of that city and was a graduate of Montgomery Bell Military Academy. He married Miss Bessie Blackman of Nashville, Tenn., on January 1, 1885.

At all times his home was a fountain of patriotism. During the world war both of his sons served in the U. S. army, both seeing active service over-seas. Throughout his life Mr. Robertson has been an active member of the church and for the last several years of that life he has been a devoted member of the Baptist church. He has been a very active Mason for a long number of years. At times in his life he has belonged to other fraternal organizations but a number of years ago he became so absorbed in and devoted to Masonry until he gave up all other fraternal affiliations. At the time of his death he was a revered member of the St. John the Baptist Lodge of Free Masons at Valdosta.

In deference to his large circle of friends and to what is felt would be his wish, a brief service will be held at the home at 1008 Slater street this afternoon at 5:30. The remains will be carried to the family burial lot in Nashville, Tenn., leaving here on the A. C. L. train at midnight. The interment will occur Saturday morning at Mt. Oliver cemetery in Nashville.

Though one of a family of eight, Mr. Robertson lived to see the death of all his brothers and sisters save one. The one surviving him being a sister, Miss Hattie Robertson, of Suwannee, Tennessee. Aside from his own family there are only three other near relatives, these being a niece, Mrs. Telfair Hodgson, and two nephews, Col. D. T. Cheaham of the U. S. Army and Paymaster J. J. Cheatham, also of the U. S. Army. In the immediate family he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bessie Blackman Robertson, and two sons, one of these Attorney Baldwin Robertson, of Salt Lake City, Utah, and the other Major W. A. Robertson, of the U. S. Army.

A large circle of friends extends to the family their heartfelt sympathy in their time of bereavement.

The active pall bearers will be C. E. Boswell, D. R. Bruce, J. A. Hutchinson, P. M. Noel, A. A. Parrish and D. W. Plowden.

The honorary pall bearers will be B. H. Henderson, Capt. J. L. Newbern, C. E. Poston, Prof. R. H. Powell, H. T. Shanks, Prof. J. F. Wood.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES

ENDED CONFERENCE

Were Especially Pleased With Their Entertainment At The College Here

County school superintendents attending the conference with the state school officials at the South Georgia State Normal College Wednesday included W. G. Avera, of Berrien county; M. L. Strong, of Lowndes county; J. C. Williams, of Lanier county; J. O. Rogers, of Clinch county; J. C. Thomas, of Cook county; J. S. Weathers, of Grady county; C. H. Rice, of Thomas county; J. J. Sizemore, of Brooks county and R. Y. Touchton, of Echols county. In addition there were a number of members of the school board also present to hear the discussions of the matters under consideration.

The crux of the matter before the conference was summed up in the address made by Mr. M. L. Duggan, rural school agent for the state, who had for his subject "An Efficient County School System Properly Administered."

Lack of Thoroughness Shown

Mr. Duggan said that investigations into many of the small schools showed an alarming lack of thoroughness in the primary and elementary grades, the chief cause of which he said was due to too many grades per teacher. Mr. Duggan declared that in the grades mentioned the children needed the help and supervision all the time of a competent teacher, in order that they might get properly started in school work and in order that they might benefit most from the work in the higher grades of the schools. As a result of the present system, he said, in the one teacher schools the little tots are practically idle or misguided five sixths of their time, because the teachers could not give the proper attention to so many grades.

Mr. Duggan declared that this situation must be remedied before Georgia children could get the best school results and that the remedy in a large measure must come through consolidation of schools. Such consolidated schools, after being properly located, would therefore be more liberally equipped for the work and provided with not less than one teacher for the first grade, one for the second and third grades, one for the sixth and seventh and one for the eighth and ninth grades.

For Better Equipped Schools

In concluding his declarations regarding the needed changes Mr. Duggan summed up by saying: "The county school system thus consolidated into a few necessary schools, limited to only the number that can be satisfactorily grouped conveniently and equipped, junior high schools liberally supported, and provided with one or more adequately equipped senior high schools, would be in harmony with approved business policies, better conserve the public school funds, and afford far better educational opportunities to 'all the children of all the people.' The educational situation urgently demands more business-like county administrations, and the tax paying public will soon tire of paying more dollars for education unless reasonably assured of more education per dollar."

Other members of the party also made addresses and each subject after being presented, was generally discussed by the superintendent and board members attending, and a better understanding resulted. The discussions were of a very helpful nature and will bring good results to the various counties represented at the conference.

Guests at College Luncheon

At noon the visitors were the guests of President R. H. Powell, of the S. G. S. N. College at luncheon. Many of the visitors, including Mr. E. A. Pound, Mr. M. L. Duggan, Mr. W. B. Hill and Miss Elizabeth Holt, made after-dinner talks, in which they took occasion to express their appreciation of the splendid dinner given them at the college. A resolution of thanks for this entertainment was passed by the visitors, in which it was declared that the college had provided an elegant luncheon for the visitors.

The visiting school authorities found occasion to also express gratification that the S. G. S. N. College was now a full four year college for young women, in addition to its previous teacher-training course and service. That this change meant a great deal to the young women South Georgia was pointed out by many of the speaker. That the State University system now maintains a college of this class South Georgia is regarded as a big step forward in Georgia educational progress.

FIELD DAY EXERCISES 7/24

AMONG COLLEGE GIRLS

Beautiful Weather and a Large Crowd Made the Occasion A Successful One

With beautiful weather for the occasion the Field Day yesterday proved to be the most successful and most spectacular events of its kind in the history of the college.

The program opened with the procession of contestants, the line of march beginning east of the dormitory and coming through the colonnade. The students in complete white gymnasium uniform presented a beautiful appearance.

The drills performed by large groups of student and the dance including all class were executed in splendid style, showing unusual co-ordination, grace and finish.

The splendid record in the competitive events attested to the strength and endurance of the girls, were made possible by the high health record maintained. In the single events there was greater speed as shown by the reduction in the number of seconds taken to run on the dashes. The relays showed good team work and form.

The judges rendered the following decision:

Winners of the meet—Juniors' class.

Second place—Preparatory II class.

Third place—Senior class.

The decision for the individual events were as follows:

Basket ball relay—first place, Junior class; second place, Preparatory II class; third place, Senior class.

Sixty-yard dash—first place, Thelma O'Quinn, Junior class; second place, Elizabeth McRae, Preparatory II class; third place, Ethel Newsome, Freshman class.

Fifty-yard dash—first place, Sallie Kate Wolfe, Senior class; second place, Lola Davis, Preparatory II class; third place, Leslie Brown, Freshman class.

Circle relay—first place, Sophomore class; second place, Senior class; third place, Preparatory II class.

Three-legged race—first place, Elizabeth McRae and Lucille Allen, Preparatory II class; second place, Thelma O'Quinn and Alma Kicklighter, Junior class.

The Juniors won the Field Day Banner, and the following girls were awarded monograms for places in the meet:

Thelma O'Quinn, Alma Kicklighter, May Gibson, Jewell Carmack, Clarice Weathersbee, Maude Jones, Pauline Culbreth, Katie Herrin, Sallie Kate Wolfe, Elizabeth McRae, Lucille Allen.

COLLEGE OPENS GOOD FOR THE SPRING TERM

Talk of 'Hard Times' But Inspires the Girls to New Effort in Work

The opening of the school year for 1922 at the South Georgia State Normal College seemed unusually good. The students returned with very few exceptions and these places were nearly all filled by new students entering. When Wednesday morning came they went to their classes with a spirit which was pleasing to see.

The girls told of the "hard times" people were experiencing, yet of the good time they had during their vacation and now they were ready to study. They seemed to realize more than ever that college life was a preparation for service and the more effectual they made their school work the sooner they could begin outside work and they would be better equipped for life duties. They actually displayed a little pride in speaking of the privilege they had in returning to school for so many girls were wanting to come and found it an impossibility.

It was a noticeable fact that committees were meeting daily to arrange for the various coming events. The Athletic Association reports that plans are well under headway for field day which will take place early in March. This work necessarily, as are all of the open entertainments, an outgrowth of class work. Arrangements have almost been completed for a basketball tournament as an event not far off.

The members of the Pine Branch staff have been busy in these few days preparing material for the next issue of the magazine.

The Lowndes County Club of College Girls has about completed plans for the reorganization of the club.

The societies are working on a scheme to produce some excellent debaters.

The Y. W. C. A. girls have issued program cards for the Sunday evening services for the remainder of the year. Extensive preparations are being made for a "Book Party" to be given next Saturday evening. This is the opportunity the girls have to present books to the Y. W. C. A. library. Besides there is an abundance of excellent fun provided as each girl dresses to represent a certain book and the other girls guess which book she is. The Cabinet girls of this association have also arranged to have a speaker come January 25, 26, 27 to give talks concerning life lived at its best in the Y. W. C. A.

It indeed is gratifying to find the vim and courage of these young ladies in seemingly being so far sighted, and plunging into their duties with the effort for success as they have done.

COLLEGE GIRLS WERE GUESTS AT CARNIVAL

Accompanied by Teachers They Visited All Veal Shows Friday Night

Two hundred and twenty college girls from the South Georgia State Normal College were guests of Veal Brothers Carnival Shows Friday evening from 7:39 to 10:30 o'clock and it is safe to say that the show never had a more appreciative crowd.

President and Mrs. R. H. Powell, Miss Ada Gallaher, Miss Goodlet, Miss Robertson, Miss Hopper, Prof. and Mrs. Wood, Miss Patterson and other members of the faculty accompanied the girls, who came to the city on the street cars and were met at the terminus by Sicos band. Mayor Peoples had completed all of the arrangements for the entertainment, and, with Chief Kendell, Assistant Chief Arant and Manager Wise, of the carnival shows, led the way to the carnival grounds while Sicos' band played a spirited march.

The young ladies visited all of the shows and in several of them were given exclusive performances. There were so many of them that they filled most of the tents, and Manager Wise saw that there was no delay in starting the performances. The first tent visited was the one where the boy prodigy gives an illustration of what he has learned from memory, then the tall woman, who is even feet tall and weighs only sixty-five pounds, then the educated birds, arrots and crows, the headless woman and a hypnotized boy swinging out in the air with only the atmosphere to support him.

From there they went to the miniature city where tiny figures do all of the things that one could find in an ordinary town—running trains, rachie shops, dancers, circus performance, people walking to church, orchestra and a score of other amusing features, all cut out by hand and set in motion by mechanical contrivances, assisted by electric power.

From there to the wild west show, where the girls saw fancy riding, lugging brocos, trick mules, lassoing and all of the other things that one sees on a western ranch. From the wild west a trip was made to the tent where boxing matches, wrestling bouts and other performances of skill and endurance are given. Will George, a local candidate for fame, was pitted against a young woman from Minneapolis in a wrestling match, catch as catch can. The young lady is the American champion in basket ball and is quite an athlete, but the Valdosta boy was more than she could handle. It was a tug of war between them and resulted in a draw, neither being able to put the other to the mat. The young lady said after the match that the Valdosta boy was unusually strong and active.

From there to the Old Plantation tent the crowd headed. There was a wait of a few minutes at the entrance until the performance then going on was completed and the tent was cleared. Then the girls filed in and a special performance of singing, dancing, yodeling and jokes was given. It was full of amusement and was enjoyed.

The young ladies, as well as the teachers, had just been through a terrible grind from the Field Day exercises, but the outing at night was such a pleasant diversion that it was refreshing to them.

Every one spoke in high terms of the courtesy that was shown by Veal Brothers and Manager Wise. It was at the suggestion of Mayor Peoples that the invitation was extended and the mayor enjoyed the occasion as much as did the young ladies, though no one enjoyed it more than the owners of the big show.

The visit was an eye-opener as revealing the magnitude of the attractions, as well as the cleanly appearance of everything, including the performances.
