The staff expects to make the year 1929-1930 one of the best it has ever had and a good beginning has been made possible by the cooperation of students and friends.

Fine Arts Club

The Fine Arts club held its first meeting in the art room Wednesday, October 2. The new members invited into the club were Margaret Parrish, Valdosta; Maye De Lois Summerlin, Pelham; Evelyn Peele, Valdosta, and Mrs. W. W. Everett, Valdosta.

The club voted that the same program should be followed the coming year as was followed last year; that is, to have club meetings on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, the former to be used as a study meeting and the latter as a business and social meeting. Plans for the club include—to make decorative masks, to have an art exhibition during National Picture week, and to give a play "Art Where Art Thou?" Miss Small invited the club to hold its next meeting at her home on East Force street.

Literary Society Year Books

Miss Roselle Hatcher of Donaldsonville, chairman of program committee for the Argonian Literary society and Miss Mary Morris of Columbus, of the Sororian literary society have completed plans for programs and the yearbooks have gone to press.

Sock and Buskin

Miss Edna Durham, Sycamore, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Sock and Buskin club for the year 1929-1930.

G. S. C. W.

The most recent addition to the history museum collection at G. S. C. W. is a paper, "The Countryman," one of the numbers containing some of the early writings of Joel Chandler Harris. It was donated by Mrs. Dennis Turner, of Milledgeville. Many interesting things have been received by the History Club for the museum. The plan is to let every county in Georgia have some part in the collecting of historical objects for the museum. The project is being sponsored by the History Club. Those who are working on it are: Miss Agnes Preston, Baker County; Miss Nellie Day and Miss Eunice Chandler, Baldwin; Miss Dorothy Jay, Miss Viola James, Miss Jean McDonald and Miss Bobby Burns, Ben Hill; Miss Ruth Brannen, Bibb; Miss Elizabeth Watt, Butts; Miss Martha Thompson, Campbell; Miss Juanita Mills, Camden; Miss Martha Stovall, Coffee; Miss Virginia Tapp and Miss Katherine Shivers, Cobb; Miss Aldine Heard, Colquitt; Miss Eugenia Scroggins, and Miss Mary Bohannon, Coweta; Miss Carolyn Selman, DeKalb; Miss Idelene Cosby, Elbert; Miss Josephine Proctor and Miss Josephine Williams, Emanuel; Miss Elizabeth Folsom, Florid; Miss Carolyn Russell, Miss Margaret Hansard, Miss Mary Turner and Miss Rebecca Holbrook, Theo Hotch, Glenn; Miss Helen Durham and Miss Carolyn Scott, Greene; Miss Frances Jackson, Hancock; Miss Gertrude Gilmore, Henry; Miss Farise Sasser, Houston; Miss Claire Flanders, Irwin; Miss Sara Harvey, Jackson; Miss Mary Leone Bennett, Jeff Davis; Miss Louise Kent, Johnson; Miss Sara Barton, Jones; Miss Annie Joe Moye, Lamar; Miss Frances Tarpley, Lee; Miss Bessie Murray and Miss Annie Lee Sims, Lincoln; Miss Emily Ann Rice, Macon; Miss Carolyn Tigner, Meriwether; Miss Margaret Rucker and Miss Dorcas Rucker, Milton; Miss Mildred Dial, McDuffie; Miss Edna deLamar and Miss Agnes Jones, Muscogee; Miss Burma Hartley, Pike; Miss Sara Bemaury, Pulaski; Miss Mary Furmer, Miss Virginia Rooks, Miss Gertrude Cooper, Miss Mary Haygood and Miss Loretta Turner, Richmond; Miss Dorothy Allen, Randolph; Miss Addie Parkes, Seminole; Miss Ruth Davis, Stewart; Miss Lizzie Mae Gammage, Sumter; Miss Katherine Dugan, Miss Virginia Hauch and Miss Ruth Senn, Terrell; Miss Beverly Brantley, Toombs; Miss Fannie McClellan, Whitfield, and Miss Mary Griffin and Miss Emily Fanning, Wilkes.

Miss Mary Sayward, of the Latin department, entertained the student body and faculty at assembly on Monday, December 9, with a reading, "A Dialogue Between a Young American Man and a Marble Maiden of the Parthenon." This reading was taken from "The Glorious Adventure," by Richard Halliburton.

The introductory page carries the good news to the students and alumnae that the Georgia State Woman's College has been admitted to the Southern Association.

Miss Julia Maye Murray, of Waycross, Ga., contributed two poems, one a Christmas poem, and the other on "Lost Love." One free verse, satirical poem, "Cousolation," by Miss Mary Kate Burrows, suggests the poetry in the number.

Short stories were contributed by Miss Lillian Hopper, of Lucedale, Miss. Miss Margaret Bullock, of Adel, Ga.; Miss Eunice Beattaves, of Tifton, Ga.; Miss Annie Lou Stanaland, of Thomasville, Ga., and Miss Kate Jones, of Riceboro, Ga.

Another type of writing found in this issue was essays, written by Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta, Ga., and Miss Kate Jones, of Riceboro, Ga.

A very instructive editorial, upon the origin and description of the old English Christmas traditions and customs which are manifested each year in the Christmas festival at the college, appears in this issue.

The Phi Kappa and Phi Lambda Athletic Associations divided honors last week. On Tuesday, the Lambdas won the last of the volley ball games with a score of 22-27. This made them volley ball champions.

On Wednesday the Kappas defeated the Lambdas 4-0 in a game of American ball. This gave the Kappas the championship in this sport.

The Sock and Buskin Club takes pleasure in announcing that the following girls successfully passed the dramatic tryout, and are now active members of the club. Miss Lillian Exum, of Walstonburg, N. C.; Miss Laura Lee Jones, of Valdosta; Miss Katherine Harrison, of Bluffton; Miss Nancy Rowland, of Wrietsville; Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah; Miss Mildred Minchew, of Baxley; Miss Grace Donahue, of Valdosta; Miss Marguerite Powell, of Griffin; Miss Mary Leverette, of Quitman; Miss Ruth Dozier, of Morven; Miss Mary Jane Littlefield, of Folkston, and Miss Maxine Purdy, of Valdosta.

Miss Ethel McSwain, of Lyons, has been added to the contralto section of the glee club.

Sunday evening, December 8, the vesper service was led by Miss Margaret Bullock, of Adel.

The main feature of the program was the talk made by Mrs. J. L. Newbern, of Valdosta, on "Woman's Relation to the Home."

Thursday evening, December 13, the ceremonial, "Hanging of the Christmas Greens," was held. Miss Marian Laing, Glennville, representing the spirit of Christmas, entered from the west side of the rotunda. While the Y. W. C. A. choir sang "O Little Town of Bethlehem," girls of the freshman class lighted candles from the candle held by the Christmas Spirit, and placed them in the windows and on the mantles in the rotunda.

After giving the origin of the custom of hanging Christmas greens, the Christmas spirit handed to eight girls of the sophomore class, garlands. Then while the choir sang "Come All Ye Faithful," they hung the wreaths in Ashley Hall.

Fires were lighted in the fireplaces on each side of the rotunda. The Christmas spirit concluded by saying, "May there burn brightly tonight, in each heart, a light that shall welcome the Christ child home." Then the choir sang "Silent Night."

Sunday evening, December 15, a pageant, "The First Christmas," will be held in the rotunda. Miss Marian Laing, of Glennville, is directing this pageant. Miss Jean Stooksberry, of Savannah, is taking the part of Mary, the mother of Jesus, and the part of Joseph is taken by Miss Margaret Jennings, of Waycross. The shepherds are Miss Jean Loughridge, of Odum; Miss Leta Mae Stripling, of Reidsville; Miss Myrtle Vick, of Moultrie; Miss Maye De Lois Summerlin, of Pelham. The angels are Miss Essye Allgood, of Cairo; Miss Margaret Sumner, of Poulen; Miss Margaret Bulloch, of Adel. Kings are Miss Mariam McMillan, of Ochlocknee; Miss Kathleen Hurst, of Cairo; Miss Madge Ingram, of Vienna. The children's parts will be taken by girls of the freshman class.

Under the leadership of Miss Alimae Temple, director of the Glee Club, a group of Christmas carols were given at a joint meeting of the D. A. R., U. D. O. and Wymadous Clubs in the Woman's Building, December 11. The group included an English carol, "Good King Wenceslas," Russian, French carol, "Shepherds and Shepherdesses," by Miss Margaret Mixon, of Abbeville, and Miss Miriam McMillan, of Ochlocknee. The program was concluded by the well known German hymn, "Silent Night."

The young ladies taking part in the singing of the carols were: Miss Lois Ford, of Abbeville; Miss Myrtics Ford, of Abbeville; Miss Kathleen Hurst, of Cairo; Miss Madge Ingram, of Vienna; Miss Louise Johnson, of Valdosta; Miss Margaret Mixon, of Abbeville; Miss Miriam McMillan, of Ochlocknee; Miss Ruth Norman, of Norman Park; Miss Annie Lou Stanaland, of Hinesville; Miss Jean Stokesberry, of Savannah, and Miss Emeliza Swain, of Rome.

The play production class, under the direction of Miss Lucile Jenkins, gave the Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang," at the Woman's Building on Wednesday afternoon. The spirit of giving was well suggested by the play. Those taking part were: Miss Virginia Mathis, of Ashburn, as Steen; Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, as Holger; Miss Myrtle Vick, of Hartfield, as Uncle Berlei; Miss Elma Butler, Donalsonville, as an old woman; Miss Mary Jane Littlefield, of Folkston, as priest; Miss Elizabeth Chance, of Quitman, as king; Miss Margaret Abraham, of Moultrie, as a young girl; Miss Grace Chastain, of Thomasville, as a rich woman; Miss Kathleen Robinson, of Albany, as courtier; Miss Marian Laing, of Glennville, as angel; Miss Ardith Lowry, of Ellaville, as rich man.

Dr. Adelaide S. Baylor, chief home economics education service, federal board for vocational education, Washington, D. C., and Miss Espie Campbell, state supervisor of home economics, Athens, Ga., were guests of the college on Tuesday.

Beautiful Old English Festival Given by Young Ladies of College

The annual old English Christmas festival of the Georgia State Womans College was held in Ashley hall on Thursday evening, December 19. This feast, dating from the first Christmastide of the college, was instituted in the desire to enrich the life of the students by leading their emotions to flow in the deep channels of social customs which come from the joyful infancy of our people. Each year the appeal of the festival is enhanced.

As soon as the guests arrived a jolly group dressed as English peasants brought in the Yule log, singing, "Ye Yule Song," after which the guests formed in the processional, singing, "Adeste Fideles." The lords and ladies then assembled at the great banquet board, but before the feasting started the boar's head was presented, and the "Boar's Head" carol was sung by "ye syngers." This was followed by the asking of a blessing pronounced by Dr. R. H. Powell. After the feasting started, "ye companye" sang "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen."

With colorful decorations, revelry and all the company in costume, Ashley hall was the embodiment of a Christmas spirit which the guests and student body will long hold dear in their memories.

The Lord of Misrule, Miss Lenora Ivey, head of the physical education department, opened the program of activities and directed them by clever old English verse prologues. The Fool, Miss Louise McMichael of Quitman, with jesting ways, helped to direct the revels with the Lord of Misrule.

The activities opened with "Frollicke of Ye Feasters" by "certayne mummers." These grotesque maskers with wooden spoons suggested the joys and discomforts of Christmas eating. Those taking part were Misses Mary Alexander of Nashville, Mary Elizabeth Boyd of Valdosta, Anne Morris of Columbus, Mary Morris of Columbus, Violet Glascock of Waycross, Carolyn Reddick of Folkston, Dorothy Stroud of Valdosta, Margaret Sumner of Poulan, K. D. Rentz of Naytor, Lillian Exum of Walstonburg, N. C., and Nowlan Sirmans of Waycross.

"Ye Syngers," the college glee club, under the direction of Almae Temple, followed this number with "Hail, Old Father Christmas."

Christmas Play." Miss Alice McCall of Thomasville was King of England; Miss Grace Donahue of Valdosta, his son, Prince George; Miss Anna Frances Ham of Valdosta as Captain Slasher; Miss Agnes Caldwell of Thomasville as Turkish Champion; Miss Vera Parker of Waycross as a Noble Doctor; Miss Laura Lee Jones of Valdosta as Beelzebub, and Miss Marguerite Powell of Griffin as a clown.

Two gypsy vagabonds entered the feast hall. The gypsy boy, Miss Katherine Sawyer of Albany entered, playing the guitar and begging for money; later his companion, Miss Kate Jones of Riceboro, entered and danced to the music. After being well paid, they strolled gaily on to give entertainment elsewhere. The beautiful old English carol, "Good King Wenceslaus," was sung by "ye syngers." The solo parts in the carol were sung by Miss Lois Ford of Abbeville and Miss Miriam McMillan of Ochlocknee.

"Ye Knights o' the Hobby Horse" rode forth on parade. By means of dance steps they imitated the pawing, prancing and trotting of the horses. After their knightly parade, the Fool had them ride the ring. The spirited youths who took part in this play were Misses Helen Arnall of Senoia, Avrylea Burch of Valdosta, Grace Chastain of Thomasville, Lillian Hopper of Lucedale, Miss.; Ardith Lowry of Ellaville, Kathleen Roberson of Albany, Joyce Roberson of Screven and Eunice Seagraves of Tifton.

"Ye syngers" gave another Christmas carol, "We Three Kings of the Orient Are." The solo parts were taken by Miss Lillian Lively of Savannah, Miss Louise Johnson of Valdosta and Miss Dorothy Ford of Valdosta. "Certayne maskers" then entered and ably produced the well-known play "Saint George and the Dragon." Miss Margaret Mixon of Abbeville was Old Father Christmas; Miss Nancy Rowland of Wrightsville, St. George of England; Miss Mary Alice Mosely of Kinderlou, King Alfred; Miss Ruth Dozier of Morgan, King Alfred's Queen; Miss Sara Jones of Valdosta, King William; Miss Sara McLeod of Savannah, Old King Cole; Miss Laverne Adams of Coolidge, Giant Blunderbore; Miss Lilla Alexander of Nashville, Old Dr. Ball,

"Surprise Giftes," or "Certayne Christmas Toyes," was the next feature dance. The dancers were dressed as dolls and were enclosed in Christmas boxes addressed to prominent guests. The Fool found the boxes and read the names, after which the boxes opened and the dolls danced. The Spanish Dolls were Miss Anne Talbert of Brinson and Miss Alice Hicks of Thomasville; Dutch Dolls, Miss Margaret Bullock of Adel and Miss Ruth Norman of Norman Park; French Dolls, Miss Essye Amigood of Cairo and Miss Margaret Brabham of Moultrie; Russian Dolls, Miss Maye De Lois Summerlin of Pelham and Miss Dorothy Harper of Ocilla; Swiss Dolls, Miss Evelyn Deariso of Sylvester and Miss Leta Mac Strippling of Reidsville; Slavonic Dolls, Miss Louise Forbes of Valdosta and Miss Jean Loughridge of Blackshear.

"Certayne mummers" arrived, dressed in costume of the Lutterworth Players, and gave as their production the "Lutterworth

Miss Mary Hagan of Valdosta, Little Jack; Miss Mary Leverette of Quitman, Dragon.

An old English festival would not be complete without "A Morris Dance" by the Morris men, with colors flying, with bells jingling and with flourishing claps. The dancers were Miss Dorothy Courtney of Valdosta, Virginia Dalton of Valdosta, Lucille Forrest of Valdosta, Madge Ingram of Vienna, Evelyn Lewis of Jasper, Fla.; Frances Mullins of Baconton, Ethel McSwain of Lyons, Pauline Parrish of Thomasville, Carolyn Patrick of Quitman, Esther Pearson of Odum, Maxine Purdy of Valdosta, Annelle Short of Shellman, Lovice Short of Shellman, Pearl Strong of Valdosta, Emeliza Swain of Rome, Kathryn Williams of Valdosta, Pearl Wolfe of Uvalda and Elizabeth Wright of Rome.

After the carol, "What Child Is This?" there came "dainty dancers" dressed in long ballet costumes, who were phantoms of dainty color and grace. The certain maidens giving this dance were Misses Louise Lastinger, Caroline Parrish, Emily Tillman, Lucile Wood, Mary Small and Elizabeth McRee of Valdosta, Myrtle Vick of Moultrie and Helen Ryon of Hinesville.

"Ye lordes and ladyes," dressed in black and white to suggest silhouettes, brought the Yuletide festivities to a spectacular climax by dancing the stately minuet. The ladies were Misses Kate Johnston of Sasser, Evelyn Noell of Valdosta, Virginia Sineath of Valdosta, Lois Ford of Abbeville, Pauline Griffin of Valdosta and Ethel Castleberry of Ashburn; the men were Misses Vera Nelson of Vienna, Helen Brasington of Waycross, Dorothy Chapman of Savannah and Myrtice Ford of Abbeville.

The young ladies who danced in the various groups were trained by Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the physical education department, and by Miss Elizabeth McRee, assistant, and they showed exceptional technique.

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The Student Government Association of the college held its first meeting Friday evening, September 20, in the rotunda of Ashley Hall.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the "Pine Branch." After the greetings by the president, Miss Mary Alexander, President Powell gave a short talk; his subject was "What Student Government Really Is." Judge McCrackin then gave a talk on "Freedom Consists in the Voluntary Finding of One's Self." The program concluded with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

The first assembly exercises at G. S. W. C. were held on Friday. The members of the Ministerial Association of Valdosta were present to welcome the girls to the city and to the respective churches. The scripture lesson was read by Rev. A. C. Pyle, president of the association, and the prayer was offered by Rev. L. R. Scott, secretary of the association.

After the devotional service the ministers were introduced by Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college. Invitations were extended to the girls to attend the various churches in the city. The members of the association present were: Mr. Richard W. Wallace, of the Christian Church; Mr. L. R. Scott, of the Presbyterian Church; Mr. H. M. Fugate, of the First Baptist Church; Mr. A. C. Pyle, of the Lee Street Baptist Church; Mr. J. P. Dell, of the First Methodist Church, and Mr. Joseph J. Cornish, of the Episcopal Church.

The executive committee of the board of trustees met in regular monthly session last week and went into the affairs of the college to find everything in splendid condition and the opening of the college this fall the largest and best in the history of the college.

The faculty of the Georgia State Woman's College entertained the members of the student body, Saturday evening, in the rotunda and terrace of Ashley Hall.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Powell and other members of the faculty composed the receiving line.

Various members of the faculty presented an informal program. The following numbers appeared on the program: voice selection, Miss Alimae Temple; dance, Miss Elizabeth McRee; violin selection, Mrs. Frances B. Pardee; reading, Miss Lucille Jenkins; and voice selection, Mr. James Dasher.

Miss Hooper, dean of women; Miss Breen and Miss Chandler entertained at tea Wednesday afternoon in the rotunda, complimenting the faculty of the college.

Mrs. R. H. Powell presided over the tea table which was lovely with its appointments of Irish lace cloth and tapers.

Besides the members of the faculty, the wives of the Valdosta board members, Mrs. A. J. Strickland, Mrs. J. F. McCracken, Mrs. J. Y. Blitch, Mrs. E. E. Dekle, Mrs. W. E. Thomas, Mrs. H. L. Tillman and Mrs. J. R. Dasher were tea guests.

Freshman training classes of the student government opened Monday, September 23, at Georgia State Woman's College. The new girls are taught the rules and regulations of the college. After examination they become members of the student Government Association. The leaders of the groups are:

Miss Marian Laing, Glenville, Ga.; Miss Kathryn Sawyer, Thomasville, Ga.; Miss Lillian Hopper, Lucedale, Miss.; Miss Ann Talbert, Brinson, Ga.; Miss Margaret Jennings, Waycross, Ga.; Miss Lillian Exum, Walstonburg, N. C.; Mrs. C. B. Sharpe, Vidalia, Ga.; Miss Margaret Brabham, Moultrie, Ga.; Miss Roselle Hatcher, Donaldsonville, Ga.; Miss Margaret Bullock, Adel, Ga.; Miss Jean Loughrige, Odum, Ga.; Miss Sylvester Deariso, Sylvester, Ga.

Freshman initiation was one of the interesting features of the opening week at the Georgia State Woman's College. With the juniors and seniors as sponsors, the freshmen caused much merriment through their observation of the rules of the "Rat Court." Freshmen carried laundry bags and at all times showed great respect to their superiors, and the upperclassmen were proud of the fact that the boardwalk was kept clear of the freshmen. The college little sisters were also taught good manners by assisting the upperclassmen in being seated at the table. Throughout it all, the freshmen proved to be good sports.

The girls, dressed in afternoon clothes, gathered in the rotunda. The entertainment opened with a grand march in which the big sisters were partners to their little sisters. The company was then divided into five teams which were named for the initials of the Young Woman's Christian Association. A miniature track meet was held in which teams A and C tied in number of points won, dividing the prize.

The stunts—"Uncle Remus and the Little Boy" and "Lord Ullen's Daughter"—were given by the upperclassmen.

After a short period of dancing, refreshments were served and the big sisters escorted their little sisters to their respective homes.

"Ye Syngers," the College Glee Club, under the direction of Alimae Temple, followed this number with "Hail Old Father Christmas."

"Surprise Giftes," or "Certayne Christmas Toyes," was the next feature dance. The dancers were dressed as dolls, and were enclosed in Christmas boxes addressed to prominent guests. The fool found the boxes and read the names, after which the boxes opened and the dolls danced. The Spanish dolls were: Miss Anne Talbert, of Brinson; Miss Alice Hicks, of Thomasville. Dutch dolls: Miss Margaret Bullock, of Adel, and Miss Ruth Norman, of Norman Park. French dolls: Miss Essye Allgood, of Cairo, and Miss Margaret Brabham, of Moultrie. Russian dolls: Miss May De Lois Summerlin, of Felham, and Miss Dorothy Harper, of Ocella. Swiss dolls: Miss Evelyn Deariso, of Reidsville. Slavonic dolls: Miss Louise Forbes, of Valdosta, and Miss Jean Loughridge, of Blackshear.

"Certayne Mummings" arrived dressed in costume of the Lutterworth Players and gave as their production the "Lutterworth Christmas Play." Miss Alice McCall, of Thomasville, was King of England; Miss Grace Donahue, of Valdosta, his son, Prince George; Miss Annia Frances Ham, of Valdosta, as Captain Slasher; Miss Agnes Caldwell, of Thomasville, as Turkish champion; Miss Vera Parker, of Waycross, as a noble doctor; Miss Laura Lee Jones, of Valdosta, as Beelzebub; Miss Marguerite Powell, of Griffin, as a clown.

Two gypsy vagabonds entered the feast hall. The gypsy boy, Miss Katherine Sawyer, of Albany, entered playing the guitar and begging for money; later his com-entered and danced to the music. After being well paid, they strolled gaily on to give entertainment elsewhere. The beautiful old English carol, "Good King Wincelas" was sung by "Ye Syngers." The solo parts in the carol were sung by Miss Lois Ford, of Abbeville, and Miss Miriam McMillan, of Ochlocknee.

"Ye Knights o' the Hobby Horse" rode forth on parade. By means of dance steps they imitated the pawing, prancing and trotting of the horses. After their knightly parade, the fool had them ride the rings. The spirited youths who took part in this play were: Miss Helen Arnall, of Senoia; Miss Avrylea Burch, of Valdosta; Miss Grace Chastain, of Thomasville; Miss Lillian Hopper, of Lucedale, Miss; Miss Ardith Lowry, of Elaville; Miss Kathleen Roberson, of Albany; Miss Joyce Roberson, of Screven; Miss Eunice Seagraves, of Tifton.

"Ye Syngers" gave another Christmas carol, "We Three Kings of the Orient Are." The solo parts were taken by Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah; Miss Louise Johnson, of Valdosta, and Miss Dorothy Ford, of Valdosta. "Certayne Maskers" then entered and ably produced the well-known play, "Saint George and the Dragon." Miss Margaret Nixon, of Abbeville, was Old Father Christmas; Miss Nancy Rowland, of Wrightsville, St. George, of England; Miss Mary Alice Mosely, of Kinderloun, King Alfred; Miss Ruth Dozier, of Morgan, King Alfred's queen; Miss Sara Jones, of Valdosta, King William; Miss Sara McLeod, of Savannah, Old King Cole; Miss LaVerne Adams, of Coolidge, Giant Blunderbore; Miss Lilla Alexander, of Nashville, Old Dr. Ball; Miss Mary Hagan, of Valdosta, Little Jack; Miss Mary Leyerette, of Quitman, dragon.

Literary Societies

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies sponsored an art exhibit of modern subjects on Tuesday afternoon, October 22, in the dome of West hall. The exhibit included Marin, Picasso, Matisse, Robinson, Bonnard, Signac, Laurencain, Demuth, Chagall, Pascin, De Segonzac, La Chaise and many others. This was the first exhibit of modern art given in Valdosta, and the many people who visited the display showed the keen interest taken in the worthwhile endeavors of the Literary Societies.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular vesper services of the Y. W. C. A. were held on Thursday and Sunday evenings in the Rotunda of Ashley Hall.

Thursday evening the devotional was led by Miss Jean Loughridge of Blackshear. Miss Roselle Hatcher of Donaldsonville gave a most interesting and worthwhile talk on "A College Education." Miss Hatcher's talk was given in the form of questions, some of them were, "Why should a young woman attend college? What is the value of a college education? What does it take to get a college education?"

Sunday evening the devotional was led by Miss Lillian Patterson of Cordele. The group joined in the responsive readings and furthered the spirit of the hour of devotion.

Tea on Wednesday

The Student Government association entertained the faculty and student body with an informal tea on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Mary Alexander of Nashville, Georgia, president of the association, and Miss Myrtle Wick of Moultrie, Georgia secretary and treasurer, presided at the tea table.

International Relations Club

A call meeting of the International Relations Club was held last week. Miss Nannie Pope of Valdosta, president of the club presided. Miss Louise Johnson of Valdosta, was appointed chairman of the program committee.

The following new members were voted in: Grace Chastain, Thomasville; Frances Cleveland, Valdosta; Mattie Lou Doss, Valdosta; Bertha Ferrell, Quitman; Etta Giddens, Arlington; Frances Hughes, Glennville; Margaret Jennings, Waycross; Dorothy Lile, New Philadelphia, Ohio; Catherine McRee, Valdosta; Ruth Norman, Norman Park; Margaret Parrish, Valdosta, Georgia Patterson, Boston.

Drake of Iron City.

Mr. C. C. Brantley at Chapel

Mr. C. C. Brantley spoke at chapel on Wednesday concerning the history, name, and development of Valdosta. The students found Mr. Brantley's talk of great interest in giving them an understanding of the town in which they were spending their college years, and his witty remarks caused him to be proclaimed as one of the most entertaining of chapel speakers.

On Friday evening the regular program meeting of the International Relations Club was held. The program was as follows:

"The Dawes Plan"—by Louise Holcombe, of Valdosta.

"The Young Plan"—by Jean Loughridge, of Blackshear.

Tuesday evening, October 22, the Valdosta Club of the Georgia State Womans college entertained the student body and faculty of the college at the first "manless" dance of the season in the dining hall.

Mrs. Horn's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. This orchestra is an excellent one, and the girls of G. S. W. C. appreciate that it is always so willing to play for the college.

The dining hall was decorated in keeping with Hallowe'en spirit, black cats, pumpkins, witches, and "spooks".

Dancing was the "piece de resistance" of the evening, and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

The Valdosta club was delighted with the attendance, both of the student body and of the faculty.

Athletic Associations

The presidents of the two athletic associations, Miss Margaret Brabham and Miss Lillian Exum, were hostesses to the athletic executive council on Tuesday evening at the "House in the Woods." After a short discussion of business, a buffet supper was served. The members of the council are the vice presidents, Margaret Bullock of Adel and Grace Chastain of Thomasville; the secretary-treasurers, Mary Morris of Columbus and Delia Bonner of Vienna; the official scorers, Virginia Clark of Louisville and LaVanne Watson of Lakeland; and the team managers, Jean Loughridge of Odum, Helen Braisington of Waycross and Milwee Minick of Statesboro.

Glee Club

Miss Louise Johnson of Valdosta was elected vice president of the glee club for the year 1929-1930.

Home Town Clubs

Following a custom started last year the home town and country clubs are being organized. In these clubs the girls from the same towns and counties organize into groups, with club songs and yell. The purpose of the clubs is to bring the girls closer together and to form a social unit. The following have been organized during the past week:

Seminole county club: President, Elma Butler of Donaldsonville; secretary-treasurer, Jewel

Valdosta, Ga.—One of the most impressive and beautiful ceremonies of the year was held in the rotunda of Ashley Hall at G. S. W. C. Sunday evening when the Y. W. C. A. conducted the annual fire-lighting services.

Red candles gave a mellow glow to the setting for this service. As soft music was played the students gathered in the rotunda and after all were seated the Y. W. C. A. sang "Now the Day is Over." The invitation was extended by Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women. Miss Anne Talbert of Brinson, president of the Y. W. C. A., recited "The Sacrament of Fire," then kneeling, she lighted the fire on one side of the rotunda while Miss Mary Alexander, Nashville, president of the Student Government Association lighted the other.

After the fires were burning brightly, representatives from different organizations of the campus brought fagots and placed them on the fire naming the quality which her organization contributes to the fire of fellowship.

Miss Anne Talbert brought for the Y. W. C. A. spirituality and service; Miss Mary Alexander, Nashville, for the S. G. A., justice and tolerance; Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley, for the freshmen, enthusiasm; Miss Agnes Jones, Brunswick, for the sophomores, unselfishness; Miss Maye De Lois Summerlin, Pelham, for the juniors, sympathy; Miss Catherine McRee, Valdosta, for seniors, insight; Miss Margaret Jennings, Waycross, for the Argonian Literary Society, culture; Miss Lillian Exum, Waltonburg, N. C., for the Phi Lambda Athletic Association, determination; Miss Margaret Brabham, Moultrie, for the Phi Kappas, godly sportsmanship; Miss Dorothy Harper, Ocilla, for the Sororian Literary Society, appreciation; Miss Annie Lou Stana-land, Thomasville, for the Glee Club, health and happiness; Miss Joyce Roberson, Screven, for the Philharmonic club, love of good music; Miss Edna Durham, Sycamore, for the Sock and Buskin club, humor; Miss Pauline Griffin, Valdosta, for the Fine Arts club, appreciation of art and sculpture; name engraved on the silver loving cup. For the last five years the Argonians have had their name on the cup, but the Sororians refused to be kept down any longer and won the drive this year.

Miss Florence Breen, Assistant Dean of Women, was called home Monday by the serious illness of her sister.

The Valdosta club entertained at a Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening, October 29, at eight o'clock, complimenting the girls recently pledged in the club.

The guests assembled at the "House in the Woods," an admirable place for a Hallowe'en party, where an imposing array of black cats, witches, skeletons, jack-o-lanterns, etc., greeted them.

Bobbing for apples, telling fortunes, and telling ghost stories initiated the pledges into the social life of the club. After these preliminaries, dancing was the feature of the evening.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, a delicious salad course was served.

The junior class entertained the faculty and the student body with an informal tea Wednesday afternoon. The Hallowe'en idea was carried out in the decorations. The color motif of yellow was given emphasis in the baskets of cosmos and dahlias and in the long yellow candles.

Miss Maye De Lois Summerlin and Miss Katherine Harrison presided at the tea table. Miss Emily Hallyburton, Miss Helen Arnall and Miss Anne Talbert received the guests. Misses Grace Chastain, Margaret Bullock, Ardith Lowry, Essye Allgood, Lillian Hopper and LaVanne Watson assisted in serving.

Miss Hazel Taylor, Valdosta, for the Valdosta club, adventure; Miss Nannie Pope, Valdosta, for the International Relations club, appreciation and understanding of people of other lands; Miss Edith Patterson, Boston, for the Alumnae Association, loyalty; Miss Leonora Ivey, Boston, for the faculty, desire for truth and sharing.

Miss Mary Alexander recited the pledge and the choir sang softly "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go," followed with a prayer by Miss Marion Laing, Glennville. The hymn, "Father of Lights," sung by the choir, was used as a recessional.

The Student Government Association held its regular business meeting in the rotunda of Ashley Hall, Friday evening. The meeting was opened with the singing of the "Pine Branch." After the business, Dr. Fugate, pastor of the First Baptist church, gave a most interesting talk on "Christ and his attitude toward civil authority." The meeting adjourned with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

Mr. Gulliver of the English department conducted assembly on Monday, October 28. He chose for his subject two verses from the Bible, "Yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life"—Job, and "Greater love hath no man than this, that he will lay down his life for his friend"—John. He developed the two themes by vivid incidents from the World War which made his talk in keeping with the approaching Armistice day.

The annual Pine Branch drive was held Friday, October 25. The Pine Branch is sponsored by the two Literary Societies, and the society winning the drive has its

At the regular meeting of the International Relations club on Friday evening, Miss Lillian Parker of Cordele and Miss Alice Parker of Valdosta were elected to membership in the club.

The Fine Arts club held a regular meeting in the dome of Wesley Hall on Wednesday evening, October 23. "Masks" were discussed and some modeling in clay was done. Projects were planned for the next two weeks.

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies met in the Rotunda on Saturday evening. One of the most interesting features of the program was the puppet play, "Lima Beans," put on by the students of the class in play production. Miss Kathleen Little, Ocilla, directed.

The color scheme used was black and white. Miss Virginia Mathis of Ashburn dressed as Pierrot took the part of the young husband. Miss Essye Allgood, Cairo, dressed as Pierrette played the part of the young wife. Miss Alice Hicks of Thomasville and Miss Hazel Allen of Valdosta dressed in costumes of black and white and carrying baskets of vegetables and fruits took the place of a curtain.

The theme of the play was a scene between a young married couple who have had a disagreement over what they shall have for dinner. The play ended happily when the wife granted her husband's wishes and decided to cook Lima beans.

The older members of the Glee club officially welcomed the new members into the club by an attractive Hallowe'en party given in the gymnasium Saturday evening, November 2.

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Fall vacation at the Georgia State Woman's College started on Friday afternoon and will continue through Tuesday, November 12. Fall vacation is a characteristic phase of the program of activities at G. S. C. W. and one much anticipated since most of the girls spend Armistice Day at home.

The first competitive game of volley ball series was won by the Phi Kappas on last Thursday afternoon. The score was 34 to 15. This is the first game that has been played by time. In all previous games the game has been won by the first team who made 14 points. Both teams showed skill and strength, and more teamwork was present than is usually exhibited in the first real game. Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Ray City, is captain of the Phi Kappa team and Miss Kate Johnston, of Sasser, is captain of the Phi Lambda team.

The Sock and Buskin Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. The one-act comedy, "Columbine," was given. Miss Margaret Brabham, of Moultrie, played the part of the dreamer, "Sally," who is called "Columbine" by her lover, and Miss Elizabeth Chance, of Quitman, played the part of the flapper roommate, "Minnie." The play was directed by Miss Louise McMichael, of Quitman.

The Georgia State Woman's College had exhibits at the Lowndes County Fair contributed by the home economics department under the direction of Miss Mary Worcester; the art department, Miss Mary Small, and the training school under the supervision of Miss Anna Belle Herblin. They displayed work done in design, dressmaking, well appointed tables, posters and art craft.

The girls were delighted with the complimentary tickets given by the management of the fair and the half holiday given by the administration.

The Philharmonic Club, of the Georgia State Woman's College, met Monday evening, November 4, in the lecture room.

Miss Joyce Robinson, of Screven, presided. Miss Warren, faculty advisor, presented the program.

At the conclusion of the program a general discussion was entered into concerning the Pattison concert to be sponsored by the club. A purpose of the Philharmonic Club is to bring some worthwhile musician to Valdosta each year. This year the club has an unexpected windfall.

Lee Pattison, a pianist of universal fame, esteemed in the highest musical circles, having appeared before the King and Queen of England, the president of France, and other noted assembles, has been secured for a concert. It is most unusual for a small city to have such an opportunity of hearing a real artist. The club is to be congratulated for securing Mr. Lee Pattison in concert.

Dr. R. H. Powell attended the meeting of the principals and superintendents of the Second Congressional District in Moultrie, Saturday, November 2.

Miss Mary Worcester, of the home economics department, made the second of a series of talks by the faculty in chapel Monday morning. She developed the subject, "The Changing Outlook of Home Economics as a College Subject," showing the value of courses in home economics, not only to housewives, but to women in the various business professions.

The treasurers of the student organizations had their monthly audit Monday, November 5. It is a rule of the college that all treasurers' books be audited the first of each month.

Among those attending the banquet at the Daniel Ashley Hotel given by the Emory Junior boys, were Miss Helen Arnall, of Senola; Miss Maye De Lois Summerlin, of Pelham; Miss Arith Lowry, of Ellaville; Miss LaVanne Watson, of Lakeland. Miss Helen Arnall is spending the fall holidays with Parlee Hendry, at Cuthbert, Georgia.

Miss Iva Chandler and Miss Mildred Larsen will visit Miss Eunice Chute, at St. George, this week end.

Miss Mabel Williams, of Johnson City, Tenn., will visit Miss Florence Breen, of Jesup.

Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women, and her nieces, Miss Helen West, of Gulfport, Miss., and Miss Lillian Hopper, of Lucedale, Miss., will spend their holidays at St. Augustine, Fla.

Miss Mary Sayward is spending her holidays with her parents in Decatur, Ga.

Alumnae Reading Club

The G. S. W. C. Alumnae Reading club met with Miss Helen Hightower on Thursday evening. The books discussed were "O Henry Memorial Award Short Stories of 1929", "All Quiet on the Western Front" by Remarque, and "The Life of Mrs. Eddy."

Annual Given High Rating

"The Pine Cone", the college annual won an All-American honor rating in the National Scholastic Press Association which just concluded the grading of books at Minneapolis, Minnesota. This is the highest honor an annual can win, and the news was enthusiastically received by students and faculty.

Dr. Powell In Athens

Doctor R. H. Powell attended the memorial exercises for Ex-Chancellor Barrow in Athens on Saturday, January 11.

Student Government

The Student Government association held its first meeting of the new year Friday evening, January 3, in the Rotunda of Ashley Hall.

Miss Lillian Hopper, of Lucedale, Mississippi, gave a talk on "Woman and Citizenship." This was followed with a talk by Miss Kathryn Sawyer, of Albany, on "Women in Government."

The meeting was closed with a plea for citizenship through student government, made by Miss Mary Alexander, of Nashville, president of the Student Government association.

Sophomore Tea

The Sophomore class entertained the faculty and the student body at tea Wednesday afternoon in the Rotunda of Ashley Hall. Miss Agnes Jones, of Brunswick, and Miss Ethel Castleberry, of Ashburn, presided over the tea table. Misses Sallie Kate, Bozeman, of Shingler, Jean Stokesbury, of Savannah, Trixie Wiley, of Cordele, and Mary Jane Littlefield, of Folkston, assisted in serving. Misses Janet Groover, of Boston, Mary Mansfield, of Arlington, and Elizabeth Kirkland, of Jasper, received the guests.

Athletics

The two athletic associations began practices this week in soccer and basketball. A number of new attractions under the supervision of Miss Ivey have appeared on the athletic fields during the past few weeks. Among these are a golf course designed and laid out by Mr. Dusenberry; a clock-golf course, tether ball, croquet, and horse shoe throwing.

Sock and Buskin Club

The Sock and Buskin club held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. A class in makeup was conducted by Miss Lucille Jenkins, head of the expression department.

Valdosta Club

The Valdosta club of the Georgia State Womans College held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, January 7, at the "House in the Woods". After the luncheon, which was served by Misses Marguerite Langdale, Lucile Wood Dorothy Lile, and Dorothy Stroud. Miss Hazel Taylor, president of the club, called the meeting to order. Miss Dorothy Davis, secretary, called the roll, and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Miss Louise Johnson, treasurer, gave a report on the finances of the club, which proved satisfactory. The president announced that the club would sponsor a "manless" dance February 8. Miss Mary Wyche McRee, Miss Louise Jackson and Miss Louise Clifford were appointed on the dance committee. In conclusion, Miss Hopper, faculty adviser, read a new year's message to the club.

Many Families Represented at Woman's College During Its Life of 16 Years

The Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta, in the sixteen years of its history, has had sisters from ninety-eight different families among its students. Older institutions have daughters, and even granddaughters in its enrollment. The Georgia State Woman's College, however, is not yet old enough to add daughters to its roster.

Several families have sent as many as three to six daughters to the College. Among them is the family of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Dalton of 303 North Patterson street. Ferrell is doing kindergarten work in Valdosta. Emily, of the class of 1929, is studying dietetics at Emory University, Atlanta. Valie has a position with the Citizens and Southern Bank of Valdosta, Virginia is a member of the freshman class of 1929-30.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ivey, of 201 West Park avenue, has had four daughters to graduate from the college. Chloe, of the class of 1922 (A. B. class of 1924), is teaching piano at her home on West Park avenue. Henriette, of the class of 1922 (A. B. class of 1924), is teaching the first grade in the George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn. Clarice, of the class of 1924 (A. B. class of 1926), is teaching science in the Valdosta High School. Rosaline, of the class of 1925, is teaching at the Teachers College in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Williams street, has two daughters in the present student body. Catherine becomes a candidate for the Bachelor's degree in June, 1930. Mary Wyche is a member of the freshman class of 1929-30. Elizabeth, of the class of 1926 (A. B. class of 1928), is the assistant director of physical education at the Georgia State Woman's College.

Mr. B. S. Richardson of 213 West Park Avenue has the third daughter in the present sophomore class. Anna, now Mrs. H. S. Johnson, is making her home at 213 West Park avenue. Margaret is also making her home at 213 West Park avenue. Minnie is a member of the sophomore class of 1929-30. The family of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. J. Carmack of Hawkinsville has had six daughters at the college.

The families of Mrs. Joseph Alexander of Nashville, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Littlefield of Folkston, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cassels of Cairo have had four daughters each to attend the Georgia State Woman's College.

The families of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sharpe of Vidalia, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Royal of Unadilla, Mrs. J. M. Patterson of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sasser of Cairo, Mrs. Mary Culbreth of Waycross and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jordan of Reidsville have had three daughters each at the college.

In addition to the above, there have been eighty-four families with two daughters at the college.

G. S. W. Colley

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta, returned last week-end from a meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States—commonly known as the Southern Association—which met in Lexington, Ky., with the good news that the college has been admitted to full membership in the association. The president's return with the good news prompted the students to hold a pep meeting at assembly period.

College songs and yells were given, and a number of spontaneous talks by students praising Dr. Powell's service and attainment at G. S. C. W. expressed the enthusiasm of the group the first few minutes, but only a speech by Dr. Powell would satisfy the students.

The superlative contest at the Georgia State Woman's College which is each year sponsored by the annual staff was held last week in assembly. By popular vote seven were elected from the student body, Miss G. S. W. C., most popular, beautiful, friendly, capable, attractive and athletic.

Miss Mary Alexander, of Nashville, was voted Miss G. S. W. C. Miss Alexander is a senior and her popularity and rating on the campus was well expressed when she was elected president of the student government. Miss Alexander makes quite a contribution to campus life with her musical talent.

Miss Margaret Jennings, of Waycross, was voted the most popular girl on the campus. Miss Jennings has served in a number of student activities, and is this year president of the Argonian Literary Society; president of the Waycross Club, one of the most active home-town clubs, and chief leader for the Kappa Athletic Association.

Miss Katherine Harrison, of Bluffton, vice president of the junior class, was voted the most beautiful. This is the second time that the student body has conferred this honor on Miss Harrison.

Miss Lillian Exum, of Walstonburg, N. C., was voted the most friendly. She is president of the Phi Lambda Athletic Association and vice president of the Home Economics Club.

Miss Marguerite Langdale, of Valdosta, won the honor of being the most capable girl on the campus. Miss Langdale has always been active in student activities, Valdosta Club and debates, and this year she is assistant editor in chief of the Pine Branch and vice president of the Argonian Literary Society.

Miss Emily Hallyburton, of Griffin, a junior, who has recently come to G. S. W. C., was voted the most attractive. To have won the admiration of her fellow students so soon speaks highly for Miss Hallyburton's charm.

Miss Virginia Clark, a sophomore, of Louisville, was voted the most athletic. She is point recorder for the Kappa Athletic Association.

The Who's Who contest created a great deal of excitement and enthusiasm among the students and helped to suggest some of the types on the campus. These seven young ladies will be featured by Miss Catherine McRae in the feature section of the annual.

Secretary Kyle T. Alfriend, of the Georgia Educational Association, spoke in chapel Wednesday. His subject was "Georgia" and he made an interesting and an inspirational talk.

Dr. W. T. Wynn, head of the department of English at the Georgia State College for women, has been elected secretary of the Milledgeville Kiwanis Club. Dr. G. H. Webber, head of the department of education and psychology, is district trustee. Dr. Francis Daniels, head of the department of languages, and Dr. Edwin H. Scott, registrar, are vice presidents.

G. S. C. W. Auditorium was the scene of an interesting play, "The Birds' Christmas Carol," given Saturday evening by the students of Peabody High School. The play was coached by Miss Marguerite Jackson, of the Peabody English faculty. The cast was: Miss Lavinia Scott, Carol Bird; Miss Louise Jeans, Mrs. Bird; Miss Mildred Stewart, Mr. Bird; Miss Anne Bone, Uncle Jack; Miss Willetta Eberhart, the angel; Miss Alverne Batson, Elfrieda; Miss Stella Hubert, the butler; Miss Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Ruggles, and the children of the family, who were impersonated by Miss Maude Holloway, Miss Evelyn Shealey, Miss Nannelle Stembridge, Miss Josephine Jennings, Miss Frances Darrow, Miss Rachael Smith and Miss Frances Bone.

The freshman class enjoyed a delightful program Saturday in chapel given by representatives from various counties in Georgia. This was the first of a series of county programs to be given under the direction of Mrs. J. T. Terry. The purpose of the programs is to get the girls better acquainted with the various parts of their states. Miss Ora Louise Stanley, of Rossville, Ga., wrote a clever original poem about her section and her county. Miss Ellanora Baker, of Nelson, sketched the life of Colonel Sam Tate, head of the Highway Department, and quarry magnate. The program was one of the most interesting that has been given at G. S. C. W. this year and the students are looking forward to the other county programs that will be given.

One of the delightful social affairs of the past week-end was the tea given Saturday afternoon by the history majors. Mrs. J. L. Beeson was the principal speaker at a short program that was held. She spoke on the essay work being sponsored by the Georgia U. D. C. She is chairman of the essay work in the state and has chosen Jefferson Davis as the subject for the next essays. Miss Irma Vaughn, of Cartersville, sang several selections. Mrs. Edwin H. Scott and Mrs. William T. Wynn presided at the tea tables. Miss M. Moye, of Barnesville, is president of the history majors.

G. S. W. C.

VALDOSTA.—The Glee Club of the Georgia State Woman's College held its first meeting of the year 1929-1930, October 7, in the lecture room of West Hall.

The president-elect of the club, Miss Olive Ryon, of Hinesville, did not return to the college. The club elected Miss Lois Ford, of Abbeville, vice president to succeed Miss Ryon.

The Student Government Association met Friday evening, October 4, in the rotunda of Ashley Hall.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the "Pine Branch." The following girls were pledged monitors for the first semester, Roselle Hatcher, Donalsonville, Ga.; Miss Lillian Lively, Savannah, Ga.; Miss Edna Durham, Sycamore, Ga.; Miss Carolyn Patrick, Quitman, Ga.; Miss Alda DuPriest, Sylvester, Ga.; Miss Martha Horton, Rome, Ga.

Miss Myrtle Vick, Moultrie, Ga., was pledged secretary and treasurer of the Student Government Association for the year, and Miss Jean Loughridge, Blackshear, Ga.; student recorder of points.

Dr. Durrenberger, professor of social sciences, gave a worthwhile talk on "Government." The meeting adjourned with the singing of "Alma Mater."

On Sunday evening, October 6, the Y. W. C. A. held its recognition services for the new members.

Former students and new students formed two separate lines and met in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. The former students with their candles lighted, passed on the gleam to the new girls. They marched out singing "Follow the Gleam," and formed a triangle on the campus in front of Ashley Hall.

Miss Kate Jones, of Riceboro, Ga., editor in chief of the college magazine, "The Pine Branch," announces her staff for the year 1929-30 as follows:

Business manager, Mary Winn, Savannah, Ga.; assistant business manager, Helen Steele, Savannah, Ga.; alumnae editor, Florence Breen, Jesup, Ga.; athletic editors, Phi Lambda, Ethel Castleberry, Ashburn, Ga.; Phi Kappa, Elsie Quarterman, Valdosta, Ga.; exchange editor, Bertha Ferrell, Quitman, Ga.; joke editor, Elizabeth Chance, Quitman, Ga.; local editor, Phara Elarbee, Calvary, Ga.; society editors, Argonian, Jean Loughridge, Odum, Ga.; Sororian, Virginia Carswell, Waycross, Ga.; Y. W. C. A. editor, Linnie Mae Hall, Waycross, Ga.; art editor, Julia Katherine Bowden, Waycross, Ga.; mailing department, Leta Mac Stripling, Reidville, Ga.; Laura Young, Waycross, Ga.; Alda DuPriest, Sylvester, Ga.

The staff expects to make the year 1929-1930 one of the best it has ever had and a good beginning has been made possible by the co-operation of students and friends.

The Pine Arts Club held its first meeting in the art room Wednesday, October 2. The new members invited into the club were: Margaret Parrish, Valdosta, Ga.; Maye De Lois Summerlin, Pelham, Ga.; Evelyn Peele, Valdosta, Ga., and Mrs. W. W. Everett, Valdosta, Ga. The club voted that the same program should be followed the coming year as was followed last year; that is, to have club meetings on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, the former to be used as a study meeting and the latter as a business and social meeting. Plans for the club include: To make decorative masks, to have an art exhibition during National Picture Week, and to give a play, "Art, Where Art Thou?" Miss Small invited the club to hold its next meeting at her home on East Force Street.

Miss Roselle Hatcher, of Donalsonville, Ga., chairman of program committee for the Argonian Literary Society, and Miss Mary Morris, of Columbus, Ga., of the Sororian Literary Society, have completed plans for programs and the yearbooks have gone to press.

Miss Edna Durham, Sycamore, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Sock and Buskin Club for the year 1929-30.

The Phi Kappa and Phi Lambda Athletic Associations began organized practice this week. Much interest is being shown by the number who are going out for volley ball and American ball. American ball is a new game which is a combination of football, soccer and basket ball. It was played in many of the northern colleges last year and is rapidly increasing in popularity.

Included in the social calendar for the faculty of G. S. W. C. this week was their attendance at the opening meeting of the Wymodausis Club, Wednesday afternoon, October 8.

The books discussed at this meeting were: "Art of Thinking," Dimmet; "Dark Journey," Julian Green, and "Bible Lands of Today," by Ellis. The organization of this alumnae group for the year was completed at a meeting with Miss Elizabeth McRef. in October. The December meeting will be with Miss Helen Hightower.

The November issue of the Pine Branch is off the press. Miss Kate Jones, of Riceboro, editor-in-chief, and Miss Margaret Langdale, of Valdosta, her assistant, deserve much credit for the formation and contents of this number. Miss Julia Kate Bowden, of Waycross, did the cuts, which are unusually artistic and appropriate. Poetry for the number was appropriate. Poetry for the number was and Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta, and Miss Julia Maye Murray, of Waycross. Essays by Miss Lillian Hopper, of Lucedale, Miss., and by Miss Eunice Seagraves, of Tifton, and stories by Miss Edmonia Beck, Miss Elsie Quarterman and Miss Dorothy Harper, of Ocilla, suggests the contents.

Dr. Ruth Buka, head of the modern languages department, spoke to the student body in assembly Monday morning, December 2. She chose as her subject, "International Relations," a subject which she was able to treat, for she was connected with the foreign office of Germany for several years. The phase of international relations which she stressed was that the people of each country could better understand the people of other countries if they knew their language, traditions, customs and art. In conclusion, she gave a vivid description of a German Christmas.

The Philharmonic Club of the Georgia State Woman's College met Monday evening, December 2, in the rotunda. As there was no business to be brought before the club, the hour was devoted to the study of the polonaise and march.

The Valdosta Club met Wednesday evening, December 4, at the "House in the Woods." The meeting was an informal get-together meeting. At the conclusion of the social hour, light refreshments were served.

The Sock and Buskin Club held its regular meeting on last Tuesday night. The play "For Distinguished Service" was presented. The part of Katherine, sophisticated society belle, who is in love with a married man, was played by Caroline Parrish, of Valdosta. Ethel, the gay, careless wife, who is very sure of her husband's affections, was portrayed by Marian Laing, of Glennville, Ga. The part of Mary, the maid, was played by Evelyn Deariso, of Sylvester, Ga. The play was directed by Edmonia Beck, of Valdosta.

The Sororian Literary Society held its regular meeting December 7, in the Rotunda. Miss Mary Morris, of Columbus, Ga., was leader for the evening. Three southern poets were discussed, Elizabeth Maddox Roberts, Lizette Woodworth Reese and Karl Wilson Baker, and several of their poems were read by Miss Ruby Dowling, Jesup; Miss Mary Winn, of Savannah, and Miss Bertha Hays, of Camilla. A review of "She Stoops to Follow," by Ellen Glasgow, was given by Miss Agnes Jones, of Brunswick, Ga. Miss Marie Williams, of Nashville, gave a short reading. Miss Mave de Lois Summerlin, of Pelham, gave a discussion of modern tendencies in southern art. Miss Mary Alexander, of Nashville, gave two musical selections, "Crapshooters" and "A Gringo Tango," by Eastward Lane.
