Waycross G. S. W. C. Alumnae
Honor High School Graduates

Delightful Social Event Friday
Afternoon At Hotel
Ware.

A lovely event of the early Spring season was the afternoon tea given at the Hotel Ware Friday by the Waycross Alumnae of the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta, honoring the senior girls of the Waycross High School and the Blackshear High School. The presence of Miss Annie Hopper, Dean of Women, Miss Edith Patterson, Librarian; Mrs. R. H. Powell, Mrs. J. L. Walker and Mrs. A. P. Brantley, two of the trustees of the college, and the G. S. W. C. students who are at home for the Spring holidays added much to the success of the occasion.

The spacious hotel dining room with its artistic decorations of dogwood blossoms, pine branches and pine cones, made an ideal setting for the large assemblage of hostesses and guests, who were all attired in lovely Spring afternoon costumes.

The refreshment table covered with a handsome lace cloth was centered with a large silver basket filled with dogwood blossoms and surrounded with white violets. Lighted red candles in silver candle sticks and silver nappies of red, green and white mints completed the table appointments.

After greetings and introductions were extended refreshments consisting of punch, sandwiches and wafers were served. Each plate was adorned with a tiny pine cone and pine branch tied with the college colors, red and black, which were presented as favors.

The afternoon's program consisted of a short talk by Miss Hopper, violin selection by Mr. Warren Lee Hinson, Jr., accompanied at the piano by Miss Isabella Smith; dance and song by little Miss Frances Cottingham and Master Walter Curry, reading by Miss Rose Morrison, violin solo by Miss Evelyn Cross with piano accompaniment by Miss Ruth Flanders, Irish jig by little Misses Doris Lisenby and Elizabeth Gibbs, reading by Miss Leila Urquhart and a solo dance by Miss Doris Lisenby. Miss Sara Stella Smith played the piano accompaniments for the young dancers and also rendered several piano selections during the afternoon. Each of the numbers were well given and contributed in a large way to the entertainment of the guests.

The hostesses for the afternoon who looked after the pleasure of the guests were Miss Frances Folsom, president of the Waycross Alumnae, Miss Ursula Miller, vice-president; Miss Louise Breen, secretary; Miss Nowlan Sirmans, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Campbell, Mrs. John Holder, Miss Agnes King, Miss Dorothy Glascock, Miss Virginia Kirkland, Mrs. W. R. Few, Miss Florris Woodward, Miss Mary Lee Moran, Miss Iva Lee Herrin, and Mrs. A. R. Walton.

About one hundred guests were entertained and the honor guests included the following Waycross seniors: Misses Margaret Atwood, Magdalena Brett, Mildred Brinson, Lavinia Buckner, Evelyn Duncan, Evelyn English, Nina Belle Hopkins, Myrtice Mikell, Aileen Parker, Harrye Sasser, Leila Urquhart, Eldren Barrineau, Evelyn Bohler, Doris Booth, Mary Laughton Bowen, Anita Bradley, Courtney Bradley, Nellie Kate Broome, Evelyn Dell, Virginia Fason, Lettye Harris, Mary Hogue, Ellena Jackson, Eudena Jackson, Dorothy Kirton, Jewel Lamm, Susie Mayo, Eva Clough McCrary, Amzie Newton, Margaret Osburn, Ruby Poplin, Lillian Scher, Aline Shaw, Ammie Lee Skinner, Merle Sloan, Eva Dell Smith, Frances Winn.

Twenty of the Blackshear High School graduates were also guests of honor.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women of the Georgia State Woman's College, attended the Georgia Education Association conference at Macon last week as president of the department of deans of women and girls.

Miss Leonora Ivey spoke at the Georgia Education Association conference on "Girls' Athletics." Miss Ivey was also present in the capacity of treasurer of the Georgia Physical Education Association.

Dr. Earl W. Phelan, of the chemistry department, gave a talk at the Georgia Education Association conference on "Chemistry Notebooks."

Dr. and Mrs. Powell have returned from Macon, where they attended the conference of the Georgia Education Association.

Dr. Powell was a speaker at the closing exercises of the Lake Park School, Tuesday evening.

Miss Gertrude Gilmer, of the English department, and Miss Margaret Brabham, of Moultrie, a senior of the college, have returned from a tour of central and southern Georgia.

Miss Annie P. Hopper, Miss Gertrude Gilmer, Miss Gladys Warren and Miss Ruth Scott are attending a state meeting of the American Association of University Women which is meeting in Savannah this week-end.

Different phases of the world court were discussed at the meeting of the International Relations Club Tuesday evening. Miss Roselle Hatcher, Donalsonville, spoke on "The World Court Today." Miss Dorothy Harris, Valdosta, talked on the relations of the United States and the World Court. Miss Rosalind Bieller, Valdosta, and Miss Mattie D. Simpson, Valdosta, used the question and answer method of throwing light on the subject.

Miss Mary Poole, of Balboa, Canal Zone, led the vesper service Sunday evening. Modern women poets whose verses have been set to music and used as hymns was the topic which Miss Kate Jones, of Riceboro, discussed. This is another of the series of talks on women in the world today.

Thursday evening vesper service was given over to a report of the Y. W. C. A.-Y. M. C. A. conference, which met in Athens last week. The program was led by Miss Helen Carswell, of Waycross, and Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson, and Miss Virginia Clark, of Tampa, Fla., who were delegates to the conference, made interesting talks on the proceedings of the meeting.

The Euclidian Club of G. S. W. C. held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening in the mathematics room. The following program was given: "Life of Johann Kepler," by Miss Juanita Chandler, Donalsonville; "Human Element in Mathematics," by Miss Ge Delle Brabham, Moultrie; "Life of Galileo," by Miss Dorothy Lang, Woodbine.

The Valdosta club was entertained by Miss Louise Clifford at her home on Force Street, Friday evening, with a buffet supper. The club voted to entertain with a bowery ball in April, and to entertain the Valdosta High School with a dinner-dance at the College, May 8. After the business meeting, bridge and dancing were enjoyed by the club.

Appropriations Bill Is Passed By Lower House

Represents a Cut of About 15 Per Cent Under Current Year.

ATLANTA, July 29 (AP).—The House late yesterday passed the general appropriations bill, carrying $10,996,909.14 for the general expenses of the state government in 1932 and $10,979,409.14 for 1933, within the estimated revenue of $10,998,000 for each of the two years. The vote was 159 to 2, and as passed the measure represents, with some exceptions, a cut of approximately 15 per cent under the current year appropriation.

The bill now goes to the Senate, minus the highway diversion amendment, which administration supporters succeeded in uprooting yesterday in reconsideration by the House committee of the whole.

The Department of Agriculture suffered the severest slash in the appropriations bill passed by the House. Its income was reduced from $365,000 as recommended by the Budget Commission for 1932 to $255,000 and from $355,000 as recommended for 1933 to $265,000. A $10,000 slice of the agriculture funds was reallocated to the Health Department to be used to combat the spread of trachoma, an eye disease, among the children of South Georgia.

Appropriations to common schools were fixed at $4,593,500 for 1932 and $4,567,000 for 1933, including $170,000 each year from the equalization fund. The bill in its final passage contained sums for the University of Georgia and all of its branches 15 per cent under the amount appropriated for 1929 and 1930.

The University will receive $231,700 for each of the next two years; Georgia Tech, $257,000, and the State College of Agriculture, $194,700. The Medical College in Augusta gets $85,000 for each of the next two years.

An effort to eliminate appropriations of $15,000 for each of the years for the seven district A. and M. schools, a part of the University system, was lost.

The Executive Department appropriation, at the request of the Governor, was cut from $30,000 to $25,000 a year. The Forestry Department was cut from $30,000 to $25,000. The Board of Health would receive $158,000 next year, instead of the $148,000 recommended by the Budget Commission, but in 1933 it goes back to $148,000. The State Hospital at Milledgeville gets $1,200,000, the School for Mental Defectives, Gracewood, $65,000, and the Academy for the Blind, Macon, $43,000.

Among other school appropriations voted here: South Georgia State College, Douglas, $42,500; Middle Georgia College, Cochran, $42,500; Bowden State Normal and Industrial College, $23,000; Georgia State Teachers College, Valdosta, $72,000; Georgia State Teachers College, Athens, $127,500; Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, $189,000; North Georgia College, Dahlonega, $42,500; Forsyth A. and M. School for Negroes, $12,500.

Other items in the general appropriations bill for the next two years include:

School for the Deaf at Cave Springs, near Rome, $90,000 for 1932, $85,000 for 1933; Coastal Plains Experiment Station, Tifton, $5,000 a year; Georgia Agricultural Experiment Station, at Experiment, near Griffin, $12,500 for each year; South Georgia Teachers College, Statesboro, $68,000 annually; Georgia State College for Men, Tifton, $51,000 a year.

State Agricultural and Normal College, Americus, $34,000 per year; Georgia Normal and Agricultural College for Negroes, at Albany, $43,000 annually, and Georgia State Industrial College for Negroes, at Savannah, $49,000 a year.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Due to the keen interest displayed in world affairs at the last meeting of the International Relations Club of Georgia State Woman's College, a second meeting was held Monday evening to continue the discussion of the topic, "The U. S. and Disarmament."

The group led by Miss Mildred Morris, of Brinson, discussed the "U. S. and the World Court," while Miss Ruth Dozier, of Morgan, was the leader of the group on "The U. S. and World Peace."

The idea of a world court traced from its beginnings as the permanent court of arbitration, which was the result of the first peace conference at The Hague in 1899, up to the establishment of a permanent court of international justice, in 1919. Reasons for and against the U. S. entering the world court were given. In the discussion on the U. S. and world peace the problems of disarmament, the League of Nations, and the world court were reviewed with emphasis on the U. S. as a theorizer and a practitioner.

Judge W. E. Thomas entertained the girls from Thomas, Colquitt and Brooks Counties Saturday with a buffet supper at his home on North Patterson Street.

The Rev. Robb White, of Thomasville, conducted chapel on Wednesday.

The Euclidians held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening in the play production room. A mathematics play, "Euclid, Agrarian Arbitrator" was presented. Miss DeDelle Babbagan, of Nashville, had charge of the program. Those in the cast were:

Vesper services on Thursday evening were in charge of Miss Carolyn Bullard, of Nashville. The subject for discussion was "Race Relations."

The Valdosta Club sponsored a scrip dance in the dining hall Saturday evening.

Miss Virginia Hutchinson, Valdosta, acted as a representative of the International Relations Club in making a talk "Georgia the Empire State of the South," on the D. A. R. program at the Valdosta High School, Thursday morning.

Dr. Powell, Miss Price and Miss Johnson attended a meeting of the Worth County Teachers' Association, at Bridgeboro, last week. Miss Price talked with the high school teachers on "Teaching History in the High Schools;" Miss Johnson discussed with the intermediate teachers the problems of that group, and Dr. Powell spoke briefly to the whole group on summer school work.

To Present Play

The seniors of the Georgia State Woman's College will present a play, Prunella, or Love In a Dutch Garden, by Granville Barker and Lawrence Housman, on Monday evening on the green in front of Converse Hall to the public without charge.

Prunella is a charming version of the Pierrot story, and therefore will appeal to everyone, for romance is perennial. The play is one of pure sentiment, light and airy, depicting the quest of love. So long as youth is in the world, so long as the memory of youth prevails, so long as the sentiment of wonder survives or can be awakened, so long will a romance like Prunella thrill an audience.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The senior and junior classes of the Georgia State Woman's College, at Valdosta, visited Brunswick and a part of coastal Georgia on Saturday, May 8, on their annual spring outing. The graduating class were guests of the junior class.

Following a tour of Brunswick, the young ladies of the college about a hundred in number, were taken to St. Simons Island, and were shown the Spanish missions, Fort Frederica and other points of interest.

At noon the students were guests at a beach lunch at Sea Island Beach and enjoyed surf bathing in the Atlantic and aquatic sports in the Roman pool at Sea Island Casino. Courtesies extended were through the Chamber of Commerce.

The Valdosta Club, of G. S. W. C., entertained the senior class of the Valdosta High School Friday evening with a progressive dinner-dance. The guests were greeted by Miss Dorothy Stroud, president of the Valdosta Club, and Mr. Ben Stanaland, president of the senior class. Talks were given by Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college, and Professor A. G. Cleveland, superintendent of city schools. After the dinner the guests danced in the rotunda. Music was furnished by Mrs. Horne's Orchestra.

The Valdosta Club has elected the following officers: President, Miss Louise Clifford; vice president, Miss Martha Jackson; secretary, Miss Pearl Strong; treasurer, Miss Mary Virginia Paulk.

"Book Clubs and Their Recent Selections" was the theme of the Sorority Literary Society program. Carolyn Readdick, of Folkston, told of the organization and purpose of book clubs. A resume of book club selections since January was given by Helen Durham, of Savannah. Katherine Stovall, of Bainbridge, gave a review of two book club selections, "Grand Hotel," by Vicki Baum, and "Mere Marie," by Agnes Repplier.

The Argonian Literary Society held its meeting. Following a theme of "Book Clubs and Their Recent Selections," Emily Jennings, of Dawson, told of the organization and purpose of book clubs, and Myrtice Johnson, Vidalia, told of outstanding book clubs and their selections since January. Ethel McSwain, Vidalia, gave a review of "Grand Hotel" by Vicki Baum, and "Mere Marie" by Agnes Repplier.

The freshman number of "The Pine Branch," monthly magazine of G. S. W. C., came out last week. Miss Helena Durham, Savannah, edited this number. It contains two short stories: "When Deck Chairs Talk," by Miss Virginia Hutchinson, Valdosta, and "A College Caprice," by Miss Helen Clark, Albany; two essays, "The Aristocrat," by Miss John Corn, Valdosta, and "An 1850 Harper's Magazine," by Miss Grace Holcombe, Valdosta; and two poems, "Recollections of a Square Dance," by Miss Helena Durham, Savannah, and "Wanderlust," by Miss Josephine Hightower, Rome. Miss Durham's editorial was on "Why Have a Freshman Pine Branch?" This number also contains interesting notes on clubs, societies, athletics, Y. W. C. A., and alumnae.

Miss Gertrude Gilmer, professor of English, spoke at vespers Sunday evening on

"Twelve Religious Concepts Found in Modern Poetry." Some of the poets Miss Gilmer emphasized were John Drinkwater, Francis Thompson, Alice Meynell and Emily Dickinson. Miss Gilmer discussed how the various religious concepts were expressed in the modern poems cited.

On Thursday evening, Miss Glen Blackwell, of Quitman, told Henry Van Dyke's lovely story, "The Last Word," at vesper service.

Miss Elizabeth Wright, of Rome, led morning watch services.

Mrs. A. Steele, of Savannah, spent the week-end with her daughter, Miss Helen Steele, at the college.

Mrs. J. T. Brasington and Mrs. E. R. Fairchild, of Waycross, were guests of their daughters at the college for the week-end.

Mrs. W. M. Leverette, of Quitman, was a week-end guest at the college.

Among the other out-of-town visitors for the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Zack Arnold, of Fort Gaines; Mrs. E. C. Gardner, of Camilla; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dozier, of Morgan; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Easterlin, of Thomasville, and Mrs. C. L. Chandler, of Donaldsonville.

Gainsborough Was Right

As a contrast to the skull cap of silk, felt, or straw, London is bursting forth with a skullcap of straw lace which is surmounted by a brim of wideflung proportions. It flings 'way up off the left side of the head and down toward the right shoulder, somewhat a la Gainsborough, and it is worn only on formal afternoons or semi-formal evenings.

Commencement News of College

June 6, 1931

The eighteenth annual commencement of the Georgia State Womans College begins June 6 and concludes June 10, the program of activities announced being as follows:

The annual business meeting of the Alumnae Association will be held on Saturday afternoon, June 6th, at five o'clock in the Science Lecture Room of West Hall. The Alumnae Banquet will be held on Saturday evening, June 6th at 8:30 o'clock at the Daniel Ashley Hotel.

The Baccalaureate services will be held on Sunday morning, June 7th at eleven o'clock at the First Methodist Church the sermon will be preached by the Reverend A. C. Pyle of the Lee Street Baptist Church.

The A. B. degree seniors will present as a class play, Prunella by Laurence Housman and Harley Granville—Barker. Prunella, or love in a Dutch Garden, is a charming version of the Pierrot story. The seniors will present this play on Monday evening on the Green in front of the Converse Hall.

A Commencement Dinner will be held for all the students, faculty members, and board members on Tuesday noon in Ashley Hall.

After the dinner the annual meeting of the board of trustees will be held in the Board Room in West Hall.

The Commencement exercises will be held on Wednesday morning, June 10th, at ten o'clock in the Ritz Theatre with Dean Agnes Ellen Harris of Alabama University making the literary address.

Dean Harris is a niece of United States Senator William J. Harris, and is widely known in Southern educational circles. This is the first time in the history of the Georgia State Womans College that the literary address has been delivered by a woman, and it is particularly fitting that this should occur on the eighteenth birthday of the college.

There are seventy-two candidates for graduation this year. The increase in the number of candidates for a degree shows the marked growth of this institution in the past few years.

McDonald-Harrell

June 6, 1931

A marriage of interest to many friends was that of Miss Helene Huffham Harrell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Henry Harrell, to Mr. Taylor Murphy McDonald, of Americus, on May 3.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald left today for a trip to points in Florida, and on their return will be at home to their friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Dalton on Patterson street.

Like the Dew

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Thanksgiving Day at the Georgia State Woman's College, at Valdosta, was observed by having games between the two athletic associations and dinner served in Ashley Hall to all students, faculty members, and visiting alumnae. The Phi Kappa and Phi Lambda Athletic Associations had matched games in American and volley ball in the morning. Many visiting alumnae members, and friends and relatives of students were in the group of spectators.

At noon dinner was served in Ashley Hall. In addition to class songs, a program was presented which had been arranged by Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the physical education department; Miss Gladys Warren, head of music department, and Miss Alimae Temple, instructor in voice.

Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla, opened the program by playing "Valick," by Mokrejs. A group from the glee club, under the direction of Miss Alimae Temple, sang "Oyanletah" (Indian), by Herbert, and "Snow Storm" by Rogers.

Jazz and Minuet, a one-act comedy, by Ruth Giorloff, was presented by the Sock and Buskin Club at their last meeting on Tuesday evening. Miss Helen Steele, of Savannah, played the part of Mrs. Ben Hyden, the understanding mother, and Miss Wylene Roberts, of Valdosta, took the part of Mildred Devereaux William. Double roles were played by Miss Lavinia Buckner, of Waycross, who took the parts of Nettie, the modern maiden, and Lucy, of the colonial days; Lillian Lively, of Savannah, who played the parts of Richard Townsend and Robert Trowbridge; and Mary Lou Connell, of Valdosta, who played the roles of Eleanor and Prudence Van Hyden. The play was directed by Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, of Sylvester.

The Fine Arts Club held a regular meeting Tuesday in the art dome. The meeting was in the form of a work period, articles being made for the bazaar, which will be held on December 3, 4 and 5, in the art dome.

The assembly programs of this week were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Pyle, of the Lee Street Baptist Church. On Wednesday the Rev. Mr. Lipscomb, of the Christ Church, spoke on his recent visit to Mexico and the attitude Americans should have towards Mexico.

A social event of this week was the tea given by Dr. R. H. Powell and Mrs. Powell at their home on Williams Street, to the freshman class at G. S. W. C. on Friday afternoon.

It is customary for the daily morning watch program to be held in the separate dormitories, but as a special Thanksgiving feature, the students from all dormitories met in the auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday morning for a special service.

The Girls' Soccer Tournament came to a close here Thursday with the junior-senior team as campus champions. The first game was played between the junior-senior team and the Freshman and was won by the junior-seniors, 2-0. The second game was played between the sophomores and the freshmen and ended in a 0-0 tie. The final game between the junior-seniors and the sophomores was played Thursday and won 1-0 by the junior-seniors. The champions will next week play a team composed of women faculty members.

The new officers selected by the Stephens Literary Society for the new term are announced as follows: President, John Berkerson; vice president, Hubert Dewberry; secretary Kathryn Lovett; treasurer, Lois Burke; pianist, John Dickens; chorister, Geraldine Rushing.

On next Monday evening the Math Club will offer the following program: "Some Values of the Study of Math," S. Grunshkin; "High School Math Teachers in the United States," Miss Vera McEvein; "A Layman Looks at Math," Miss Beulah Davis.

A large number of alumni and friends of the college spent Thanksgiving on the campus and attended the annual football game here between Brewton Parker Institute and the Teachers.

The Y. W. C. A. met Wednesday at 7 o'clock and a special Thanksgiving program was enjoyed. The program was made up of special thanks, talks and thanksgiving music.

G. S. W. C. Seniors
To Give Delightful
Modern Play

June 6, 1931

The seniors of the Georgia State Womans College are completing rehearsals and costuming for the play Prunella, or Love in a Dutch Garden by Granville Baker and Laurence Housman to which they have invited the public, without charge, on Monday evening at 8:30 on the Green in front of Converse Hall.

Prunella is one of the most delightful modern plays in the vein of light sentiment. Prunella, an innocent orphan, is reared by her old-maid aunts in a garden apart from the world. When Pierrot, a strolling player, finds his way to this garden, Prunella thinks him a god. She bestows upon him the kiss for which he asks, and then, caught in love's net is drawn after him into the world of which she knows so little.

In time, Pierrot deserts her; yet, growing weary of his life of excess, wanders back to the desolate garden. The seniors of G. S. W. C. will complete the romance on Monday evening.

Devotees of more intellectual drama will enjoy the gentle satire of the fantasy directed against false restraints—secluding youth from life, instead of preparing them for it.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Mrs. R. A. Peeples, a speaker of Valdosta, talked Sunday evening at vespers. A special song was given by the Y. W. Quartet, which is composed of Miss Emeliza Swain, of Rome; Miss Caro Horne, of Vienna; Miss Ethel McSwain, of Lyons, and Miss Madse Ingram, of Vienna. Miss K. D. Rentz, of Lakeland, was leader for the service.

Basket ball practice has started at G. S. W. C. Both Phi Lambda and Phi Kappa Athletic Associations are looking forward eagerly to the beginning of the series of games because both associations are assured of a good game with strong competition as an incentive for better play.

Every other afternoon there may be seen on the college golf course an interesting and interested class in the game of golf. The golf professional of the Valdosta Country Club, Mr. Russell Neilson, is conducting the class, sponsored by the physical education department of the college.

The Philharmonic Club held its regular meeting in the Rotunda Monday evening, with Miss Carolyn Bullard, of Nashville, in charge of the program. Miss Mildred Minchew, of Baxley, opened the program with a paper on Chopin. Following this, Miss Joyce Roberson, of Screven, played "Polonaise in C-Sharp Minor," by Chopin.

"Drowsy Dream Town," by Dalley, was played by Miss Adair Lankford, of Tampa. "Face to Face With DuBussy" was told by Miss Elizabeth Thompson, of Ochlocknee. DuBussy's "Claire de Lune" was played by Miss Helen Ryon, of Hinesville.

The last number on the program was a short playlet, "A Class in Public School Music." Those who took part were Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, Sylvester; Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley; Miss Mary O'Quinn, Fatterson; Miss Minnie Richardson, Miss Mattilu Doss and Miss Louise Clifford, of Valdosta.

The Euclidian Club held its regular meeting Wednesday evening. The following talks were given on the two great mathematicians, Euclid, by Annie Sue Brandon, of Norman Park; Archemides, by Cleo Griffin, of Ochlocknee.

Rev. Fred Clark, of Wales, who is conducting a non-sectarian revival service at Nashville, talked at assembly on Monday morning, using as his theme, "Godliness As One of the Greatest Virtues of Women."

A joint meeting of the Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies was held in the Play Production Room of West Hall Saturday evening, January 17. The meeting was called to order by Miss Quinnie Carmack, of Hawkinsville, president of the Argonian Literary Society. The program was a one-act play, "The Marriage Proposal," by Chekov. Miss Mildred Minchew, of Baxley, directed the play. Those in the cast were Miss Marguerite Powell, of Griffin; Miss Helen Steele, of Savannah, and Miss Mattilu Doss, of Valdosta.

The International Relations Club of G. S. W. C. met on Tuesday to discuss financial problems. The program was postponed until Sunday evening, at which time Dr. Cullter will make a talk.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Assembly

In the Assembly program of last Monday morning, Dr. Powell chose for the Scripture reading a very familiar passage including "Narrow is the way and straight is the path that leadeth toward life ever lasting." Dr. Powell delivered to the student body a timely message based on this Scripture, saying that students who centered their attention on one vocation would be more likely to be successful. "The narrow road' has a more definite goal in view than the 'broad road,'" said the president, "and when we consider that ninety per cent of the people fail in life, we realize how important it is to find our life's work early and keep working toward a definite end."

Vespers of This Week

Sunday night vespers were conducted by Miss Nancy Rowland, of Wrightsville. Miss Hazel Allen, of Lake Park, was the speaker, and talked about prayer. Her talk was practical and helpful.

Vesper services on Thursday night were conducted by Miss Emeliza Swain, of Rome. The topic was friendship, a timely subject for the first of the year. Several short talks were given. Miss Helen Clark, of Ashburn, talked on examples of friendship; Miss Elizabeth Pardee, of Thomasville, used the subject, "Some Laws of Friendship"; Miss Elizabeth Durden, of Graymont, discussed the friendships of Jesus. This service was held on the lawn in front of Ashley Hall.

Valdosta Club Entertains New Students

A most enjoyable social event of last Wednesday was the tea given by the Valdosta Club, honoring the new students of G. S. W. C. Miss Martha Jackson, president of the club, presided at the tea table. The college orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Pardee, furnished the music for this occasion.

Freshman Orientation Course Completed

The freshmen, under the direction of Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, president of the Student Government Association, have just completed a training course in their duties and obligations as students. In chapel last Wednesday they took the student government pledge and were granted the rights and privileges which the college offers.

house tomorrow from 4 to 6, during which time the boys from Emory Junior College will be invited to call. This is a new social feature of the college and is being highly anticipated by both the girls of G. S. W. C. and the boys from Emory.

Visitors to Campus

One of the most charming speakers who has visited our campus recently was Mrs. Atkins, of Milledgeville, who is State organizer for the W. C. T. U.

On Friday evening Mrs. Atkins was dinner guest at the college, and after the evening meal she gave a most interesting account of her work in the W. C. T. U. After having worked for forty-five years in this organization, Mrs. Atkins has many interesting experiences which she related in a most charming manner. She began with the origin of the organization and told of what the general accomplishments had been. With her thorough knowledge of the W. C. T. U. and of the prohibition question, Mrs. Atkins feels confident that prohibition is here to stay.

Another distinguished visitor to the campus this week was Prof. Porobovchikov, who spoke to a number of classes and groups on literature and kindred subjects. Included in his discussions were "Shakespeare Performances I Have Seen" and French classical drama.

Literary Societies Meet

The two literary societies have opened activities and sent out bids to new members. Miss Nancy Rowland, of Wrightsville, president of the Argonian, and Miss Phara Elarbee, of Calvary, president of the Sororian, have made plans of great promise for this year. The two societies meet twice a month on Saturday evenings.

The objects of these societies are the benefits to be gained from the study of literature, of the fine arts, and of public questions, from the practice of public speaking and parliamentary procedure, and from association with persons of similar interests and tastes. The first program was planned in accordance with these objectives and gave in brief review the happenings in drama, art, music, sports and exploration during the summer.

The faculty advisers for the literary societies are: Miss Gilmer, chairman, Miss Temple, Miss Saw-

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

The annual Old English Christmas Festival was held in Ashley Hall last evening. The feast dating from the first Christmastide of the college was instituted in the desire to enrich the life of the students by leading their emotions to flow in the deep channels of social custom which come from the joyful infancy of a people. Each year this beautiful tradition grows in appeal and sentiment.

As soon as the guests arrived, a jolly group dressed as English peasants brought in the Yule log, singing "Ye Yule Song," after which the guests formed in the processional, singing "Adeste Fideles." The lords and ladies then assembled at the great banquet board, but before the feasting started the boar's head was presented, and the "Boar's Head" carol was sung by "Ye Singers." This was followed by the asking of a blessing pronounced by Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college. After the feasting started, "Ye Companye" sang "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen."

With colorful decorations, revelry and all the company in costume, Ashley Hall was the embodiment of a Christmas spirit which the guests and student body will long hold dear in their memories.

Th Lord of Misrule, Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the physical education department, opened the program of activities and directed them by clever old English verse prologues.

"The Fool," Miss Louise McMichael, of Quitman, came bounding forth followed by "Merry Mimers," who played -at being Christmas toys. The Jack In the Boxes in their clownish suits, had great fun popping in and out of their boxes, until the wooden dolls came in; then they jumped out and swung the stiff little dolls in a gay dance. The Jacks In the Boxes were Misses Ruby Nell Wall, Ellaville; Mary Alice Mosley, Valdosta; Emily Jennings, Dawson; Margaret Williams, Cordele; Frances Arrington, Ellaville; Jewel Wurst, Ochlocknee; Leila DuPree, Hawkinsville; Mildred Morris, of Brinson; Pearl Strong and Mary Glover, Valdosta. The dolls were Misses Delia Bonner, Vienna; Harriett Sreppard, Savannah; Mildred Talley, Rome; Montene Floyd, Baxley; GeDelle Brabham, Moultrie; Buford Williford, Moultrie; Annie Lois Gardner, Camilla, and Elizabeth Durden, Graymont.

"Ye Syngers," the college glee club, followed this number with "Hail Old Father Christmas."

Santa Claus, Miss Anna Frances Ham, of Valdosta, brought by clattering reindeers, Misses Mary Virginia Paulk, Valdosta; Elizabeth Pardee, Thomasville, and Katherine Stovall, Bainbridge, delivered gifts for honor guests provoking many pleasantries and much mirth.

"Certayne Maskers" then entered the ball and ably produced the well-known play, "St. George and the Dragon." Miss Leona Bowen, of Cobbville, was old Father Christmas; Miss Doorthy Ogletree, of Savannah, St. George; Miss Frances DuPriest, of Sylvester, King Alfred; Miss Margaret Zippis, of Savannah, the Queen; Miss Catherine West, of Camilla, King William; Miss Estelle Watts, of Brinson, Old King Cole; Miss Betty Bennitt, of Camilla, Giant Blunder Bore; Miss Lavinia Bucknes, of Waycross, Old Doctor Ball; Miss Frances Smith, of Vidalia, Little Jack; Miss Emily Fluker, of Quitman, the Dragon.

A group in the Pierrot and Pierrette manner did a tellingly descriptive dance. Those taking part in this number were:

Pierrettes: Misses Hazel Allen, Valdosta; Ruth Dozier, Morgan; Myrtice Johnson, Vidalia; Mildred Minchew, Baxley, and Vera Parker, Waycross.

Pierrots: Misses Virginia Clark, Tampa, Fla.; Wynona Copeland, Valdosta; Mary Elaine Flanagan, Waycross; Winona Patterson, Savannah, and Louise Jackson, Valdosta.

The beautiful old English carol, "Good King Wincelas," was sung by "Ye Syngers," with Misses Ruth Webb, of Tifton, and Margaret

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Juniors and Seniors at Beach

The senior and junior classes are visiting Brunswick and a part of coastal Georgia today on their annual spring outing. The graduating class are the guests of the junior class on this trip.

Following a tour of Brunswick, the young ladies of the college, about 100 in number, will be taken to St. Simons island under the direction of suitable guides and will be shown the Spanish missions, Fort Frederica, and numerous other points of historic interest.

At noon the students will be guests at a beach lunch at Sea Island Beach and enjoy surf bathing in the Atlantic and aquatic sports in the Roman pool at Sea Island Casino. The many courtesies extended to the students by the people of Brunswick through the Chamber of Commerce will help to give the young ladies of G. S. W. C. one of the most delightful trips ever taken.

High School Seniors Entertained

The Valdosta Club entertained the senior class of the Valdosta high school Friday evening with a progressive dinner dance. The guests were greeted by Miss Dorothy Stroud, president of the Valdosta Club, and Mr. Ben Stanaland, president of the senior class. Talks were given by Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college, and Prof. A. G. Cleveland, superintendent of city schools. After the dinner the guests danced in the rotunda. Music was furnished by Mrs. Horne's orchestra.

The Valdosta Club has elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Louise Clifford; vice-president, Martha Jackson; secretary, Pearl Strong; treasurer, Mary Virginia Paulk.

Literary Societies

"Book Clubs and their recent selections" was the theme of the Sororian Literary Society program which met last Wednesday evening. Carolyne Readdick, of Folkston, told of the organization and purpose of book clubs. A resume of book club selections since January was given by Helena Durham, of Savannah. Katherine Stovall, of Bainbridge, gave a review of two book club selections, "Grand Hotel," by Vicki Baum, and "Mere Marie," by Agnes Repplier.

The Argonian Literary Society held its regular meeting last Wednesday evening. Following a theme of "Book clubs and their recent selections," Emily Jennings of Dawson told of the organization and purpose of book clubs, and Myrtice Johnson, Vidalia, told of the most outstanding book clubs and their selections since January. Ethel McSwain, Vidalia, gave a review of "Grand Hotel," by Vicki Baum, and "Mere Marie," by Agnes Repplier.

Freshman Number of Pine Branch

The Freshman Number of "The Pine Branch," monthly magazine of the college, came out last week. Miss Helena Durham, Savannah, edited this number, and it is a credit to the freshman class. It contains two short stories, "When Deck Chairs Talk," by Virginia Htuchinson, Valdosta, and "A College Caprice," by Helen Clark, of Albany; two essays, "The Aristocrat," by Miss John Corn, Valdosta, and "An 1850 Harper's Magazine," by Miss Grace Holcombe, Valdosta; two poems, "Recollection of a Square Dance," by Miss Helena Durham, Savannah, and "Wanderlust," by Joseph Hightower, Rome. Miss Durham's editorial was on "Why Have a Freshman Pine Branch?" This number also contains interesting notes on clubs, societies, athletics, Y. W. C. A. and alumnae.

Vespers

Miss Gertrude Gilmer, professor of English, spoke at vespers Sunday evening on "Twelve Religious Concepts Found In Modern Poetry." Some of the poets Miss Gilmer emphasized were John Drinkwater, Francis Thompson, Alice Meynell and Emily Dickinson. Miss Gilmer discussed how the various religious concepts were expressed in the modern poems cited.

On Thursday evening, Miss Glen Blackwell, of Quitman, told Henry Van Dyke's lovely story, "The Last Word," at vesper service.

Miss Elizabeth Wright, Rome, led morning watch service Thursday morning.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Dec. 5, 1931

Dr. R. H. Powell attended the meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States in Montgomery this week.

Miss Leonora Ivey, director of the physical education department, is giving lessons in archery to the girls in the Athletic Council. As soon as the council members have learned the technique, they will be qualified to help teach other members of the student group.

A miniature golf tournament was held yesterday and today under the direction of Miss Phara Elarbee, of Calvary, Lambda manager, and Miss Dorothy Bryant, of Moultrie, Kappa manager.

Russell Neilson, golf professional at the Valdosta Country Club, is giving golf lessons in series of eight lessons each to groups of college girls. The golf course is in excellent condition despite the lack of rain, and some of the girls are showing signs of becoming real champions.

The President's Club met at the House in the Woods Wednesday night. Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, gave a book report, "Advantages of Group Discussion," which was followed by a discussion of various matters pertaining to the welfare of the students.

The Student Government Association met in the rotunda on Friday night. Dr. Lena Hawks, one of the popular faculty speakers, interestingly discussed "Vocations for Girls."

The Freshman Bible Study Class was entertained by a hike yesterday afternoon. After the hike they enjoyed a picnic supper at the new outdoor fireplace.

Miss Sapelo Treanor spoke at vesper services Thursday evening on "How the study of foreign languages makes one more cosmopolitan."

Among the alumnae members who were guests at the college last week-end were Misses Margaret Jennings, Mary Winn, Kate Jones, Margaret Bulloch, Essie Allgood, Alda DuPriest, Estha Freeman, Nellie Beane, Julia Mae Murray, K. D. Rentz, Lucille Wood, Mary Leverette, Sarah Wadley, Mary Pearl House and Dorothy Gloscock.

Miss Annie Lois Gardner, Camilla, has charge of the vesper service tomorrow evening, which will be a musical program by candle light.

The bazaar which the Fine Arts Club sponsored Thursday, yesterday and today was one of the outstanding events of the fall season. The bazaar was quite a success, approximately $200 worth of goods being sold, 25 per cent of which the club received. A varied selection of articles was offered for sale, and especially interesting were the Japanese articles. A lovely collection of Japanese wood black prints was on display, containing copies of famous prints by the masters, and several original prints. Among the other articles were linen, embroidery, placques, Japanese vases and novelties. Perhaps the most outstanding group was that containing a number of personally-selected European articles, including several hand-woven scarfs and an Indian tie-dye scarf. One booth also contained articles made by the members of the club.

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies will hold a joint meeting in the rotunda of Ashley Hall this evening. Miss Mary Poole, of Balboa, Canal Zone, group leader for the Sororians, and Miss Lavinia Bucknes, of Waycross, group leader for the Argonians, have planned a program which consists of a pageant in which Christmas traditions and customs in America and in other lands will be shown. Those telling the story will be: Father, Mildred McDonald, of Colquitt; Mother, Sara Murchison, of Vidalia; Daughter, Myrtice Johnson, of Vidalia; Son, Lillian Lively, of Savannah; Grandmother, Margaret Kennedy, of Dawson, and Small Daughter, Annie Bell Weatherford, of Savannah. A group of ten carollers also will take part in the program.

Comparative Religion in Assembly

At chapel on Monday Dr. R. H. Powell told of his plan to make a series of talks on comparative religion. These talks will include Greek, Buddhism, and Mohammedism. The pastors of Valdosta churches will be guest speakers from time to time. Dr. Scott of the Presbyterian church was the guest speaker on Wednesday, and gave a most helpful and inspirational talk on prayer.

Study of Philosophy in Vesper

The speaker for the Vesper services of last Sunday evening was Mr. J. F. Wood, who continued the talks on great philosophers. Mr. Wood's talk centered around the outstanding philosophers of the Transitional Period. The following philosophers and their philosophies were discussed: Spinoza, Bacon and Hobbs.

Fine Arts Club Plans Bazaar

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Fine Arts Club was held Tuesday evening in the Art Dome. The meeting was given to discussions of plans for the Bazaar which is to be held December 1-3. At this Bazaar, Japanese and Chinese articles will be sold, as usual, and a new feature will be added. There will be one booth containing articles made by members of the club. These articles will be made at the meetings of the club. Such articles as water color sketches, silhouettes, oil sketches, will be in-

Hallowe'en Dinner Party

Mrs. Beck, dietitian at G. S. W. C., entertained the student body at an annual Hallowe'en dinner Friday evening, Oct. 30. The students entered the dining room to the strains of Chopin's Funeral March. During the dinner a Hallowe'en program and informal dancing were enjoyed.

Valdosta Club Sponsoring Dance

One of the outstanding social events of the week will be the Hallowe'en party given by the Valdosta club this evening. Hallowe'en features will be arranged in the rotunda. Carl Simmons' orchestra will furnish music for the dancing in the dining hall. Both the rounda and the dining hall will be effectively decorated.

Glaspell Play This Evening

The Argonian and Sororian literary societies will hold a joint meeting this evening in the play production room. The program will consist of a comedy in two episodes, "Suppressed Desires," presented by the play production class. This will include Miss Nancy Rowland of Wrightsville, Bernice Leggitt of Unadilla and Emily Burney of Boston. Miss Emily Jennings of Dawson is property manager. This clever comedy, as the name suggests, treats with "desires we know not of" and offers a most amusing denouement.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Nov. 28, 1931

Thanksgiving at the College

Thanksgiving day at the college was observed by having games between the two athletic associations and dinner served in Ashley Hall to all students, faculty members and visiting alumnae. The Phi Kappa and Phi Lambda Athletic Associations had matched games in American and volley ball in the morning. The Lambdas won in the American ball game with a score of 10-6, and the Kappas won in volley ball with a score of 45-27. Many visiting alumnae members, and friends and relatives of students, were in the group of spectators.

At noon dinner was served in Ashley Hall, which was artistically and appropriately decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. Each class table carried decorations peculiarly significant for its group. In addition to class songs, a very attractive program was presented which had been arranged by Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the physical education department; Miss Gladys Warren, head of the music department, and Miss Alimae Temple, instructor in voice.

Miss Annie Lois Gardner, Camilla, opened by playing "Valcik," by Mokrejs. Her keen appreciation and musicianship was well displayed in the presentation. A group from the Glee Club under the direction of Miss Alimae Temple sang "Oyanletah" (Indian), by Herbert, and "Snow Storm," by Rogers.

Those taking part in these numbers were Misses Mildred McDonald, of Colquitt; Hazel Allen, of Lake Park; Ada Jewell Cochran, of Camilla; Margaret Lindsey, of Blaklye; Ruth Webb, of Tifton; Dorothy Coleman, of Fort Gaines; Margaret Williams, of Douglas; Mary Elaine Flanagan, of Waycross; Edwina Arnold, of Fort Gaines; Mirian Ryon, of Hinesville; Mary Poole, of the Canal Zone; Emeliza Swain, of Rome; Lillian Henderson, of Waycross, and Elizabeth Pardee, of Thomasville.

A group of dancers presented by Miss Ivey gave "Harvest Rejoicing." Those interpreting this lyrical mood were Misses Virginia Carswell of Waycross; Dorothy Davis and Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta; Elizabeth Kirkland, of Sylvester, and Margaret Warfield, of Savannah.

The entire Glee Club gave a group of numbers including "The Green Cathedral," by Hahn; "Old King Cole," a traditional air, and "Prayer of Thanksgiving," a folk tune. James Dasher accompanied.

A humorous dance, "With a Mosquito," concluded the program. The collegiate group in this number were Misses Hazel Allen, of Lake Park; Virginia Clark, of Tampa; Wynona Copeland, of Valdosta; Myrtice Johnson, of Vidalia; Vera Parker, of Waycross, and Winona Patterson, of Savannah. Another group taking part in this same number were Miss Ruth Dozier, of Morgan, the flapper; Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, of Waycross, as the precise old maiden lady; Miss Louise McMichael, of Quitman, as grahopa; Miss Mildred Minchew, of Baxley, as the cook, Mandy, and Miss Wylene Roberts as Gus the golfer.

Sock and Buskin Play

"Jazz and Minuet," a one-act comedy, by Ruth Giorloff, was presented by the Sock and Buskin Club at their meeting on Tuesday evening. Miss Helen Steele, of Savannah, played the part of Mrs. Ban Hyden, the understanding mother, and Miss Wylene Roberts, of Valdosta, took the part of Mildred Devereaus William. Double rolls were played by Miss Lavinia Buckner, of Waycross, who took the parts of Nettie, the modern maiden, and Lucy, of the Colonial days; Lillian Lively, of Savannah, who played the parts of Richard Townsend and Robert Trowbridge, and Mary Lou Connell, of Valdosta, who played the roles of Eleanor Prudence Van Hyden and Prudence Van Hyden. The play was directed by Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, of Sylvester.

Fine Arts Bazaar

The Fine Arts Club held a regular meeting last Tuesday in the art dome. The meeting was in the form of a work period, articles being made for the bazaar which will be held Dec. 3, 4 and 5 in the art dome.

Assembly Programs

The assembly programs of this week were conducted by Rev. Mr. Pyle, of the Lee Street Baptist Church. Mr. Pyle spoke on the significance and power of prayer. On Wednesday Rev. Mr. Lipscomb, of Christ Church, spoke on his recent visit to Mexico and the attitude Americans should have toward Mexico.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—A superlative contest was conducted by the annual last week at the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta. Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, was elected Miss G. S. W. C., the most representative member of the student body. Miss Lively has held many responsible offices on the campus, and is now president of the Student Government Association. She has had a number of leading roles in plans presented by the Sock and Buskin Club.

Miss Willene Roberts, of Valdosta, was elected the most popular day student.

Miss Helen Bishop, of Unadilla, was elected the most athletic. Miss Bishop is at present, a prominent member of the Phi Lambda Athletic Association, assistant manager of the Lambda American ball team, winner of the doubles tennis tournament, winner of the basket ball goal-shooting tournament.

Miss Edwina Arnold, of Fort Gaines, was selected as the most attractive. Miss Arnold also has the honor of being president of the freshman class.

Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson, has the honor of being judged the most pleasing personality.

Miss Louise McMichael, of Quitman, was elected the most versatile.

Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta, was elected as the most deserving.

Miss Virginia Clark, of Tampa, Fla., was elected the most intellectual.

The International Relations Club of the Georgia State Woman's College entertained in the rotunda of Ashley Hall on Monday afternoon with a tea in honor of Mr. C. Douglas Booth, of London, England, an accomplished lecturer, sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. In the receiving line were Mr. Booth, Miss Mildred Price, faculty adviser of the club, and Miss Mildred Morris, of Brinson, president. Miss Polly Walker, of Patterson, vice president, and Miss Harriet Sheppard, of Savannah, secretary, presided at the tea table, which had as a centerpiece a bowl of poinsettias.

The guests included the International Relations Club members, the honorary members, the board members of the college and their wives, and the governing boards of the woman's clubs.

The Philharmonic Club met in the rotunda Tuesday evening. The program was opened with a duet, "Noel of the Bells," Shelley, sung by Miss Margaret Lindsey, Blakely, and Miss Margaret Williams, Douglas. Miss Ida Jewell Cochran, Camilla, played with appreciable musicianship, "Second Mazurka," Godard. "Oh, Holy Night," Adams, was an enjoyable solo by Miss Margaret Lindsey. Miss Mildred Fokes, Montezuma, competently played "Impromptu in C Minor," Rheinhold.

The second part of the program was given over to the consideration of opera. Mrs. Herman Johnson, Quitman, read an interesting paper on the subject. The opera, "Tales of Hoffman," Offenbach, was discussed by Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley. "Barcarolle," from this opera, was very well sung by Miss Sallie Lou Powell, Valdosta. The opera, "Herodiade," Massenet, was taken up by Miss Mary Ellen Craft, Savannah. "I Est Deux, Il Est Bon," from this opera, was beautifully sung by Miss Ruth Webb, Tifton.

The "surprise number" concluding the program, consisted of a delightful reading, "Madame Butterfly," from the opera by Puccini, given by Miss Frances Howell, of Tifton.

The Athletic Council held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the new outdoor fireplace.

Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college, visited the Moultrie High School on Tuesday.

The Math Club met Wednesday in the Mathematics room. After a short business meeting, the following program was presented by Miss GeDelle Brabham, of Moultrie, the chairman of the program committee. Miss Florence Powell, of Griffin, gave current events concerning mathematics. Miss Rucy Neil Well, of Ellaville, continued the study of the early history of mathematics. Miss Dorothy Bryant, of Moultrie, gave some mathematical recreations. The new yearbooks were handed out.

The "Hanging of the Greens" is an impressive vesper service which always precedes Christmas. The "Spirit of Christmas" explained the custom of lighting candles and of placing wreaths in the windows at Christmas time. As the choir sang "O Little Town of Bethlehem," candles were placed in the windows. As they sang "Come All Ye Faithful," garlands were placed. "Silent Night" was sung as the fires were lighted, and the group repeated it quietly as a recessional.

Many of the college girls enjoyed the Christmas Bazar given by the Wymodausis Club at the Woman's building, Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Mildred Price, faculty adviser of the International Relations Club, entertained the members of the clubs at a bridge party Saturday afternoon at her home on Williams Street.

Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women at G. S. W. C., spoke for the Federated Club at Nashville, Friday evening on the subject of the American Home.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet in connection with the Valdosta branch of the American Association of University Women, are conducting an opportunity school at Remerton for employees of the Strickland Cotton Mill. Miss Gertrude Gilmer and Dr. Lena J. Hawks, of the college faculty, are supervising the work in mathematics and English, and members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet are doing the teaching.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Summer Session

The summer session of the college will open on June 15th. Besides the nine-week, half-semester program, in which regular college work is offered, there is a five-week institute session which is offered in co-operation with the State Department of Education.

The summer session is devoted largely to the interests of teachers who because of employment are unable to attend the school in regular session. Since the college is the only A grade institution in the southern half of the State, a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and a member of the American Association of Teachers' Colleges, it can well serve those who are desirous of improving their scholastic training as well as those who wish to improve the grade of their certificate.

It is a matter of pride to the college that it has always offered to the summer students a faculty which is equal to the faculty of the regular session—to a very large extent the same faculty.

The college promotes a very delightful social atmosphere and offers a program of entertainment without extra charge. Possibly in no other way has this pioneer institution in South Georgia served the State better than in providing, as it has always done, the highest type of educational opportunity for those who can attend the college only in summer.

Play Day May 2nd

The physical education department is presenting a Play Day and May Day program on May 2nd. Groups of seniors from various high schools of South Georgia, totaling about 300, have been invited to be guests of the college for a play day on the morning of May 2nd. A program of games and other entertainment has been planned. In the afternoon the traditional Old English May Day Festival of the college will be held, using costumes and dances of the Elizabethan period. Miss Margaret Sumner, of Poulan, will be crowned Queen of the May.

Rifle Team

The rifle team which has been organized on the campus under the instruction of Mr. William Davis, Valdosta government agent, has begun practice and is making great progress in the handling of firearms.

Vespers

Miss Glen Blackwell, of Quit-

man, led vesper services Sunday evening. Miss Grace Chastain, of Thomasville, continuing the series of programs on hymns, talked on some modern poets whose verses have been used as hymns. Miss Chastain especially emphasized Alfred Noyes, John Masefield, John Drinkwater and Rudyard Kipling.

Morning Watch Service

Miss Pauline Ryon, of Hinesville, led morning watch service Tuesday morning. It was held in the grove of pines on the campus, which gave it a more unique yet reverent atmosphere.

Inter-Society Debate

The inter-society debate which is an annual feature of the Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies was held last Saturday evening. The subject for debate was Resolved, That the Cotsworth 13-month calendar be adopted. Representing the Sororian Literary Society and the affirmative side of the question were Misses Helen Brasington, of Waycross, and Marjorie Sessions, of McRae. Defending the negative were Misses Mildred Minchew, of Baxley, and Elizabeth Wright, of Rome, both of the Argonian Literary Society. The decision of the judges was unanimously in favor of the negative.

Sock and Buskin

The Sock and Buskin Club will hold its monthly meeting next Tuesday evening, at which time a one-act tragedy, "The Valiant," by Hall and Middlemass, will be presented. This is one of the many popular criminal plays, having its scene in the warden's office of a State prison. The part of James Dyke, the Valiant, will be played by Marguerite Powell, of Griffin; Warden Holt, by Mary Leverette, of Quitman; Father Daly, Mary Virginia McKey, Valdosta; Josephine Paris, sister of the Valiant, will be played by Mildred Minchew, Baxley; Dan, the attendant, by K. D. Rentz, of Naylor. The play is directed by Frances Howell, of Tifton.

Julius Caesar and Augustus used secret writing, but it was of the utmost simplicity, consisting merely in placing D in the place of A; E in that of B, and so on; or else in writing B for A, C for B, etc.

In Wallingford, a town in Berkshire, England, from 1066 down to the present day, the curfew bell has never ceased to be rung in the evening.

Dr. W. A. Smart
Coming to Valdosta

Dr. W. A. Smart, professor of Biblical theology at Emory College in Atlanta, will arrive in Valdosta on Monday afternoon as a guest speaker at the Georgia State Womans College for the week.

Dr. Smart is one of the most popular religious speakers and leaders among the young people of the South. For a number of years he has been one of the most influential personalities at Junaluska and at Blue Ridge. Annually he speaks to large groups of students and student volunteer organizations throughout Southern States. Among the girls' colleges fortunate in securing this popular speaker and thinker are Randolph-Macon, Sweetbriar, Agnes Scott and the Georgia State Womans College.

Dr. Smart will speak every morning next week, beginning with Tuesday, at the assembly period, 10:45 to 11:15, and each evening at 7:30 in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the students will hold open forum in the rotunda of Ashley Hall for the discussion of moral, religious and social problems.

All students, their friends and relatives, and the public in general, are urged to hear Dr. W. A. Smart, one of the foremost religious thinkers and leaders of today, in his series of sermons and talks at the woman's college next week.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

May 18, 1931

Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women, attended the G. E. A. conference at Macon last week as president of the department of deans of women and girls.

Miss Leonora Ivey spoke at the conference on "Girls' Athletics." She was also present in the capacity of treasurer of the Georgia Physical Education Association.

Dr. Earl W. Phelan, of the chemistry department, gave a talk on "Chemistry Notebooks."

Dr. and Mrs. Powell, Miss Mary Worcester, Dr. H. S. Gulliver, Miss Gladys E. Warren and Miss Ruth Scott also attended the conference.

Attending Savannah Meeting

Misses Annie P. Hopper, Gertrude Gilmer, Gladys Warren and Ruth Scott are attending a State meeting of the American Association of University Women in Savannah this week-end.

World Court Discussed

Different phases of the World Court were discussed at the meeting of the International Relations Club Tuesday evening. Miss Roselle Hatcher, Donalsonville, discussed "The World Court Today." Miss Dorothy Harris, Valdosta, talked on the relations of the United States and the World Court. Miss Rosalind Bleiler, of Valdosta, and Miss Mattie D. Simpson, Valdosta, used the question and answer method of throwing light on the subject.

Vespers

Miss Mary Poole, of Balboa, Canal Zone, led the vesper service Sunday evening. Modern women poets whose verses have been set to music and used as hymns was the topic which Miss Kate Jones, of Riceboro, discussed. This is another of the series of talks on women in the world today.

Thursday evening vesper service was given over to a report of the Y. W. C. A.-Y. M. C. A. conference which met in Athens last week. The program was led by Miss Helen Carswell, of Waycross, and Misses Emily Jennings, of Dawson, and Virginia Clark, of Tampa, Fla., who were delegates to the conference, made interesting talks on the proceedings of the meeting.

Math Club

The Euclidian Club held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening in the mathematics room. The following program was given: Life of Johann Kelper, by Miss Juanita Chandler, Donalsonville; Human Element in Mathematics, by Miss GeDelle Brabham, Moultrie; Life of Galileo, by Dorothy Lang, Woodbine.

Valdosta Students Entertained

The Valdosta Club was entertained by Miss Louise Clifford at her home on Force street Friday evening with a buffet supper. The club voted to entertain with a bowery ball in April, and to entertain the Valdosta high school with a dinner dance at the college May 8th. After the business meeting bridge and dancing was enjoyed by the club.

One of the qualifications, by law, for the presidency of Argentina is that he must be a Roman Catholic.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The seniors of the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta completed their examinations this week and are busy on the play, "Prunella or Love in a Dutch Garden," which they will present to the public on Monday, June 8. All other students will complete examinations next week in readiness for the commencement activities which will open on June 6 and conclude June 10.

The last of the student recitals was given on Tuesday afternoon in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. Miss Gladys Warren, head of the music department, presented Miss Jimmie Arnold, of Fort Gaines; Miss Margaret Williams, of Douglas; Miss Louise Clifford, of Valdosta; Miss Carolyn Bullard, of Nashville, and Miss Lois Gardner, of Camilla. Miss Ruth Scott, of the voice department, presented Miss Louise Johnson, of Valdosta; Miss Margaret Morrison, of Valdosta, and Miss Madge Ingram, of Cairo. Mrs. Frances B. Pardee presented the following violin students, Miss Jessie Mae Prescott, of Lake Park; Miss Jeanette Hall, of Sparks, and Miss Frances Copeland, of Valdosta.

The senior class had charge of assembly exercises Monday. It was in the form of a class prophecy, showing a reunion of the class in 1951. Miss Jean Loughridge, of Odum, president of the class, and Miss Margaret Jennings, of Waycross, were the first at the reunion, and as the different members of the class came in, they told what profession each was engaged in. Some were leading members of Flo Zeigfeld's Follies, one was successor to Mrs. Dull, and one member of the class had succeeded Miss Hopper as dean of women.

The Fine Arts Club held its last regular meeting of the year on Tuesday in the form of a picnic at one of the lakes near the city. At this meeting the new officers, Miss Emiliza Swain, of Rome, president, and Miss Elizabeth Parde, of Thomasville, secretary-treasurer, were installed and took charge of the meeting.

Miss Leonore Ivey head of the physical education department, and Miss Elizabeth McRee, assistant director, entertained the members of the old and new athletic councils of the two associations at an informal picnic and hike on Wednesday afternoon. The faculty members who have assisted in games between the Kappas and Lambdas throughout the year were also guests at the picnic. The permanent athletic council for next year will consist of Lambdas, Miss Helen Brasington, of Waycross, president; Miss Emily Burney, Boston, vice president; Miss Vera Parker, Waycross, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Florence Powell, Griffin, official scorer; the Kappa members are Miss Alice McCall, Thomasville, president; Miss Ruby McSwain, Vidalia, vice president; Miss GeDeila Brabham, Moultrie, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Elsie Quarterman, Valdosta, official scorer. The athletic association council went on an overnight hike into the lake section below the city on Saturday, returning some time the next day. The experiment was a great success, as most of the girls are veteran hikers and used to "roughing it."

Miss Mary Pearson, of Atlanta, led a world fellowship program at vesper services Sunday evening. Miss Mildred Morris, of Brinson, spoke on "What American Youth Can Do for the Philippines."

On Thursday evening Miss Elizabeth Wright, Rome, spoke at vesper services.

On Friday Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college, went to Cuthbert to deliver a commencement address to the graduating class there.

The Valdosta Chapter of the American Association of University Women held an all fresco meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. G. Dickerson on Slater Street. Miss Mildred Price and Mrs. J. A. Durrenberger presented a study of peace agencies in the world today. Mrs. J. P. Grace, of the Valdosta High School English faculty, discussed the Pulitzer Prize winners of the year in a most entertaining way.

Miss Anine P. Hopper, dean of women, and Miss Iva Chandler, Miss Helen Ryon, Miss Caroline Parrish, Miss Mildred Larsen, and Miss Evelyn Deariso entertained the seniors at a bridge party at the Woman's Building on Friday evening.

The finals of a ladder tennis tournament which has been in progress for the last two weeks were played off Friday afternoon. Miss Ha Poppell, of Homer-ville, won first place; Miss Emily Elkins, of Waycross, second; and Miss Carolyn Smith, of Albany, third place.

Recital at College Interesting Event

One of the interesting musical events of the summer was the recital last evening by pupils of Mr. James Dasher, which took place in the rotunda of Ashley Hall at the college.

Little Miss Helen Friedlander opened the program with a piano solo, an arrangement of the Lucia Sextet. Miss Merle Lang, of Omega, played the Moonlight Sonata, by Beethoven.

The vocalists who took part were Misses Virginia Shaw, Katherine Connell and Matilda Plowden, Messrs. Jack Stroud, Harris Dukes and David Powell, all of Valdosta; Miss Evelyn Deariso, of Sylvester; Miss Ruth Webb and Mr. Sherman England, of Tifton.

All of these singers rendered their respective numbers with an ease and smoothness that showed careful training and preparation.

Miss Mamie Baker, reader, a pupil of Miss Ruby Jones, presented two numbers which were enthusiastically received by the audience.

VALDOSTA, Ga., November 21.—Dr. W. A. Smart, professor of Biblical theology at Emory University, has been guest speaker at the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta the past week. Dr. Smart opened the services of the week on Monday evening with a discussion of the concepts of God as they have revealed themselves. He placed the chief emphasis on the father concept as it was revealed to man through Christ's teaching. At the next service, which was on Tuesday morning, Dr. Smart very forcefully brought to the students a realization that college students, as well as other people, are not the less religious because they have a growing and changing experience spiritually.

Dr. Smart's visits are looked forward to and prove real experiences in the lives of the students.

Dr. W. A. Smart was honor guest at luncheon at Emory Junior College on Wednesday after speaking at chapel exercises.

Dr. R. H. Powell entertained at a luncheon in honor of Dr. W. A. Smart on Tuesday. The other guests were the ministers of the city.

A new addition to the G. S. W. C. campus is an open fireplace of generous proportions in the 'ong leaf pines to the north of Ashley Hall, where groups of girls may go to prepare picnic meals. Sunday evening a short fire ceremonial service was held. Miss Winona Patterson, of Alamo, lighted the fire and dedicated it to the beauties of the campus. Miss Elizabeth Durden, of Graymont, read her favorite passages on fires. The group sang "Day Is Dying."

Miss Alimae Temple, director of the Glee Club, entertained on Thursday evening with a dinner at the home of Mrs. T. H. McKey, on Patterson Street, complimenting the Glee Club girls who are on the committee for the formation of Glee Club estate at Oppleville, Va. The horses raced three miles over brush.

plans. Those present were Miss Elizabeth Pardee, of Thomasville, president of the club; Miss Margaret Williams, of Douglas; Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, of Waycross; Miss Ada Jewel Cochran, of Camilla; Miss Ruth Webb, of Tifton, and Miss Mary Poole, of Balboa, Canal Zone.

Miss Carolyn Brim, of Sasser, was the leader of the program in the Argonian Literary Society on Saturday evening. The discussion centered around some of the best plays of the year. Miss Lois Tucker, of Moultrie, reviewed "Elizabeth, the Queen," and Miss Julia Manning, of Bainbridge, impersonated Elizabeth. Miss Marjorie White, of Sylverester, gave a report of "Alison's House," and Miss Emily Forrester, of Cairo, impersonated the character, Emily Dickinson. "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" was reviewed by Miss Ruth Ellis, of Savannah, and Miss Elizabeth Browning was impersonated by Miss Frances Arrington, of Ellaville.

The Sororian program was similar. "Elizabeth, the Queen," was reviewed by Miss Verda Van Landingham, of Cairo, and impersonated by Miss Montine Floyd, of Baxley. "Alison's House" was reviewed by Miss Dorothy Chapman, of Savannah, and Miss Helena Durham, of Savannah, impersonated Emily Dickinson. Miss Margaret Bischoff, of Savannah, reported on "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and Miss Elizabeth White, of Cordele, impersonated Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its meetings in the rotunda of Ashley Hall on Friday, November 20. Miss E. Camm Campbell spoke on the subject, "The Parent Faces a New World." The hostesses were Mrs. J. D. Ashley and the third grade.

VELVET HANGERS

If you have trouble with your evening frocks slipping off hangers and getting mussed, velvet coat hangers are the thing you need. They come inexpensively, singly or in half dozens.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The 1931 yearbook, the "Pine Cone," was distributed during the week by the editor, Miss Roselle Hatcher, of Donalsonville, and by the business manager, Miss Margaret Jennings, of Waycross.

The theme of the book is the eighteenth birthday of the college, and with its rich suggestiveness gave the staff ample opportunity to include the history, traditions, and all the happiest associations. The scene and feature section gave greater emphasis to the theme and the modern art forms used throughout the book.

Sunday evening vesper service was a candlelight service for the installation of the new cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Margaret Sumner, of Poulon, and Miss Essye Alligood, of Cairo, the retiring president and vice president, passed the light of their candle on to the new officers and each of the old cabinet members lighted the candles of the new as they all sang "Follow the Gleam." The new cabinet members are: Miss Emily Jennings, Dawson, president; Miss Virginia Clark, Tampa, Fla., vice president; Miss Nancy Rowland, Wrightsville; Miss Carolyn Bullard, Nashville; Miss Frances Mullins, Baconton; Miss Elsie Quarterman, Valdosta; Miss Mildred Morris, Brinson; Miss Joan Talbert, Colquitt; Miss Mary Poole, Balboa, Canal Zone; Miss Elizabeth Wright, Rome; Miss Annie Lois Gardner, Camilla; Miss Lillian Sumner, Poulon; Miss Louisa Heeth, Quitman; Miss Emily Elkins, Waycross, and Miss Emeliza Swain, Rome.

Miss Margaret Kennedy, Dawson, spoke at vesper services Thursday evening.

Morning watch service on Tuesday.

Miss Joyce Roberson, of Screven, gave her senior piano recital Tuesday evening in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. She was assisted by Miss Mary E. Flanagan, soprano, of Waycross, and Miss Helen Ryon, accompanist, of Hinesville. Among the brilliant numbers on the program were "My Heart Ever Faithful," by Rach-Lavigne; "Humoresque," Tschalkowsky; "Eroticon," Sjosren; "Polonaise in C-Sharp Minor," Chopin; "Valse in E-Minor," Chopin, rendered by Miss Roberson. Two duo-numbers, "Spanish Rhapsody," Ableniz, and "Impromptu-Rococo," Schutt, were given by Miss Roberson and Miss Ryon.

The Valdosta Rotary Club entertained the graduating classes of the Georgia State Woman's College at a picnic at Ocean Pond on Thursday afternoon. Boat riding, swimming and dancing were among the forms of entertainment provided by the Rotarians. The Rotary-Annus received the highest praise for their share of the entertainment.

The Presidents' Club held its last meeting of the year Friday evening at the House-in-the-Woods. The meeting was in the form of a social for the purpose of reorganizing the club and introducing new members.

Officers for the Sock and Buskin Club for the year 1931-1932 will be: President, Mildred Minchew, Baxley; vice president, Mary Virginia McKey, Valdosta; secretary-treasurer, Mynona Copeland, Valdosta.

The Home Economics Club of G. S. W. C. enjoyed a picnic at Twin Lakes Saturday afternoon. Swimming and boat riding was enjoyed by the members of the club, after which supper was served in the open.

The officers for the year 1931-1932 will be: President, Miss Mary Levetette, of Quitman; vice president, Miss Solly Faircloth, of Pitts; secretary-treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Quitman.

The members of the Euclidian Club enjoyed a picnic and swimming party at Twin Lakes on Wednesday afternoon. The following officers have been elected for the year 1931-1932: President, Miss Dorothy Lang, of Woodbine; vice president, Miss GeDelle Brabham, of Moultrie; secretary-treasurer, Miss Margaret Besterlin, of Thomasville.

The Phi Lambda and Phi Kappa Athletic Associations held their final party of the year on Saturday evening in the form of a "manless dance." The crowning event of the evening was the awarding of the emblems, cups and plaques won by members of the two associations. Ten Lambdas and thirteen Kappas won their numerals, the first award given for athletics; four Lambdas and five Kappas won their association letter, the next highest award; two Lambdas, Miss Margaret Sumner, of Poulon, and Miss Helen Brasington, of Waycross, won the honor cups, awarded by associations to juniors or seniors. The highest honor a girl can aspire to in the field of athletics at G. S. W. C. is to have her name placed on the honor plaque to win this honor a girl must have not only athletic achievements to her credit, but scholarship and leadership points as well. Only three seniors won this honor, Miss Margaret Bullock, of Adel; Miss Grace Chastain, of Thomasville, and Miss Margaret Brabham, of Moultrie.

The association plaque, which is awarded to the association having the greatest number of points for year was won by the Phi Kappa Association. The awarding of this plaque furnished the climax of the evening for the association members.

Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college, spent Tuesday in Atlanta attending a conference.

"There Is a God"
Subject of Sermon

Dr. W. A. Smart, of Emory University, spoke on "There Is a God" to a large audience of students and friends of the college in the rotunda of Ashley Hall last evening in continuation of his series of sermons and open forum discussions on social, moral and religious issues.

Dr. Smart opened his sermon with the statement, "There is a God," and that a sudden demonstration of this most supreme fact would probably shock us. He continued by saying that the chief interest of Jesus was, "There is a God, and the relationships that man may have to Him. This interpretation is not the most popular, but the most important. It is not necessary to be wealthy to be popular, to be happy, to be successful, but the important thing is to have God's will to be a living, vital experience in one's life. All of Jesus' teachings were directed to a single fact—there is a God."

After several citations from the New Testament, Dr. Smart continued by saying that Jesus was other-worldly, "a citizen of another world, fulfilling the purpose of another world."

The climax of Dr. Smart's sermon was reached in the development of great religious geniuses who found in the glory of religion the consciousness of superiority, which comes into rich spiritual experience. "They live life so big that they cannot be hurt by mere things. Jesus and Paul were bigger than experiences. They had kinship to infinity, they were children of God. When one loses the mystical, the practical power is lost."

In conclusion, Dr. Smart showed the relationship of a Christian's desire to make the world better, but he said, "Not only a better social life, but a consciousness of the approval of God."

Dr. Smart will continue his talks throughout the week at 10:45 each morning and at 7:30 each evening, with open forum meetings each afternoon at 5 o'clock in the rotunda of Ashley Hall.

Dr. Smart At G. S. W. College This Week

Dr. W. A. Smart, professor of Biblical Theology at Emory University, arrived at the Georgia State Woman's College on Monday afternoon to be the guest speaker for the week.

At the first service on Monday evening, Dr. Smart developed the concepts of God as they have made themselves evident through the ages. He opened his talk by saying: "From the beginning of time man has searched for God, and people from time to time have found Him expressed in various forces." However, Dr. Smart was very positive in his conviction that one "cannot think God."

In his developments of the concepts, he passed from vivid and telling examples of the emperor concept, empire builder, to the challenge brought by Christ to find the concept of God in the home.

In a sympathetic and accurate way, Dr. Smart showed the change in meaning of the rather concept: "In the modern interpretation," he said, "there is too much that is sentimental and not enough of the idea of the Father being majestic, stern and the one who trained the family. But while we have forgotten these qualities, continued Dr. Smart, "science has rediscovered these qualities of God, for the laws of nature are positive."

"God is not an idea to be proved, but an experience to be had. Jesus never once in the scriptures tried to prove that there is a God. Jesus did not come into the world seeking a verdict. He was concerned in the realm of experience. The challenge Jesus brought was to come and share the Infinite Spirit, a source of strength, and the inspiration for a completely new scale of values."

After many striking examples of these basic truths, Dr. Smart concluded his profoundly spiritual message by saying that "Jesus had one purpose on earth, and that was to let the idea of God express itself, and Jesus died thinking Himself successful."

Dr. Smart will bring a message to the students of G. S. W. C. every morning at 10:45 and every evening at 7:30 during this week. The public is cordially invited to enjoy this privilege with the students.

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The summer session of the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta will open on June 15. Besides the nine-week, half semester program, in which regular college work is offered, there is a five-week institute session which is offered in co-operation with the State Department of Education.

The summer session is devoted largely to the interests of teachers who, because of employment, are unable to attend school in regular session. Since the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta is the only A grade institution in the southern half of the state, a member of the Southern Association of Colleges, and a member of the American Association of Teachers' College, it can serve those who are desirous of improving their scholastic training as well as those who wish to improve the grade of their certificate.

It is a matter of pride to the college that it has always offered to the summer students a faculty which is equal to the faculty of the regular session—to a very large extent the same faculty.

The college promotes a very social atmosphere and offers a program of entertainment without extra charge. Possibly in no other way has this pioneer institution in south Georgia served the state better than in providing, as it has always done, the highest type of educational opportunity for those who can attend college only in summer.

The physical education department is presenting a Play Day and May Day program on May 2. Groups of seniors from various high schools of south Georgia, totaling about 300, have been invited to be guests of the college for a play day on the morning of May 2. A program of games and other entertainment has been planned. In the afternoon the traditional old English May Day festival of the college will be held, using costumes and dances of the Elizabethan period. Miss Margaret Sumner, of Poulan, will be crowned Queen of the May.

The local chapter of the American Association of University Women had as their guests and speakers at the program on Thursday afternoon, the women on the board of trustees of the Georgia State Woman's College, Mrs. C. F. Cater, of Quitman; Mrs. A. J. Strickland, of Valdosta; Mrs. J. L. Walker, of Waycross, and Mrs. A. P. Brantley, of Blackshear. Miss Gladys Warren and Miss Ruth Scott, of the music department, gave several special numbers. Miss Camm Campbell, Miss Mildred Price, Mrs. J. A. Durrenberger and Miss Heien Board were hostesses for the afternoon.

The rifle team which has been organized on the campus under the instruction of Mr. William Davis, Valdosta government agent, has begun practice and is making great progress in the handling of firearms.

Miss Glen Blackwell, of Quitman, led vesper services Sunday evening. Miss Grace Chastain, of Thomasville, continuing the series of programs on hymns, talked on some modern poets whose verses have been used as hymns. Miss Chastain especially emphasized Alfred Noyes, John Masefield, John Drinkwater and Rudyard Kipling.

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies were joint hostesses at a tea-dance which was given in the rotunda of Ashley Hall Saturday afternoon. Miss Maye de Lois Summerlin, Pelham, president of the Sororians, and Miss Quennie Carmack, Vienna, president of the Argonians, presided at the tea table. A short program was given by members of the expression and dancing classes. "Mandy's Wedding," a reading, was given by Miss Clarice Worsham, of Meigs. A dance, "Burlesque on 'Little Gossips'" was given by Miss Dorothy Davis, Valdosta, and Miss Margaret Sumner, Poulan. Assisting in serving were Miss Ruby Arnette, of Waycross; Miss Dorothy Bryant, of Moultrie; Miss Kathryn Sivall, of Bainbridge; Miss Blanche Parker, of Ogeechee; Miss Mary Virginia McKee, of Valdosta; Miss Harriett Sheppard; Miss Helen Steele, and Miss Dorothy Chapman, all of Savannah.

"The Origin of Mathematics," by Miss Pauline Forbes, Valdosta, and "Current Opinion on the Subject of Mathematics," by Winifred Canady, Surrency, were two talks made at the meeting of the Euclidian Club on Friday evening.

The Fine Arts Club of the Georgia State Woman's College held its regular program meeting at the House-in-the-Woods on Monday, January 2. The subject for discussion was "Etchings and Etchers." The etchers of the old school which were given especial emphasis were Rembrandt and Whistler; of the new school, Joseph Pennell. Miss Aline Tison, of Ashburn, gave a report of the technique of etching, differentiating between the various types of work done. A talk on "Etchers and Their Work" was made by Miss Margaret Parrish, of Valdosta. Examples of types of etching and of various etchers' work were shown. A round table discussion of the subject followed.

Dr. R. H. Powell went to Lakeland on Saturday to speak at a meeting of the Lanier County Teachers.

Miss Gertrude Gilmer, of the English department of the Georgia State Woman's College, spent a few days last week visiting high schools in Waycross, Jesup and Brunswick.

The Fine Arts Club had charge of chapel exercises on Wednesday, the program consisting of talks introducing soap sculpture exhibits sponsored by the club. The first of these exhibits was from the national soap sculpture committee; it consisted of pieces of soap sculpture which were entered in the fifth annual soap sculpture contest, and included three of the prize awards. The second was an exhibit of work produced in the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts.

Miss Aline Tison, of Ashburn, made a talk on the value of soap sculpture. She also told something of the origin of the national soap sculpture committee, the practical application of the work and its significance in the United States.

A report on the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, the artists produced by it, and its ranking in the United States, was given by Miss Emeliza Swain, of Rome. A reading, "At a Modern Art Exhibit," was given by Miss Bernice Leggett, of Unadilla.

A talk by Miss Elizabeth Boyd, of Valdosta, on modern art tendencies in America, and America's emergence into an appreciation of art, closed the program.

The regular work-meeting of the club was held Wednesday afternoon in the form of a sketching trip.

The physical education department and the athletic associations are sponsoring a ladder tournament in miniature golf. The fervor with which students on the campus have taken up the sport promises an interesting tournament.

Vesper on Sunday evening was held in the form of a Bible study class. Miss Margaret Kennedy, of Dawson, gave a short talk on "Interesting Facts About the Bible," which was followed by a study of various passages of the Bible, led by Miss Kennedy.

G. S. W. C. ALUMNAE June 17
ENTERTAINED WITH 1931
BRIDGE PARTY.

The Waycross alumnae of Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta and a group of G. S. W. C. students who are at home for the summer holidays, were entertained at a delightful bridge party yesterday afternoon given by Miss Frances Folsom and Miss Louise Breen, at Miss Folsom's home on McDonald street.

Zennias, hydrangeas, and Shasta daisies arranged in bowls and baskets were used in the artistic decorations, which were completed by pine cones and pine boughs, motifs of the college.

Four progressions were enjoyed during the afternoon, after which small cut prizes were awarded for high and low scores at each table. Mrs. Earl Morgan who made the highest score was presented with an attractive picture.

At the conclusion of the game a tempting salad course was served.

The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. F. B. Folsom.

Three tables of guests were entertained.

G. S. W. C.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—A dramatic production given in Valdosta this year was the annual modern comedy produced by members of the Sock and Buskin Club of the Georgia State Woman's College Thursday evening at the Ritz Theater. The play, "The Youngest," by Philip Barry, deals with the story of the youngest son of a wealthy family, whose main ambition is to write, while his older brothers try every method, even to cutting off his allowance altogether, to force him to work in the family pin factory. Richard, the youngest, which was played by Miss Lillian Lively, Savannah, finds a champion in his sister, Muff. Miss Margaret Brabham, Moultrie, and her visitor, Miss Nancy Blake, who was played by Miss Myrtice Johnson, Vidalia. Encouraged by Nancy and the lawyer son-in-law, Alan, which was Miss Kathryn Wall, Ellaville, Richard succeeds in breaking the family will, in which he had no share, and of taking over the family finances, thereby leaving the family penniless and dependent upon him. He soon finds the fortune a burden, and returns it over to the family, among whom it is divided equally. Other members of the cast included: Mrs. Winslow, Miss Margaret Sumner, Poulan; Oliver, the oldest son, Miss Margaret Jennings, Waycross; Mark, the dandy brother, Miss Mary Leverette, Quitman; Augusta, the sophisticated daughter, Miss Mary Virginia McKey, Valdosta, and Katie, the maid, Miss Laura Lee Jones, Valdosta.

The Philharmonic gave a tea Tuesday afternoon. Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla, and Miss Jimmie Arnold, of Fort Gaines, played. Mr. Billy Pardee, a pupil of Mrs. Frances B. Pardee, gave two groups of violin numbers. Miss Joyce Roberson, of Screven, played. Miss Gladys E. Warren, head of the music department, and her assistant, Miss Helen Ryon, gave two piano numbers.

Talks on the twelve outstanding women of America today continued in assembly on Wednesday by the members of the literary societies of the Georgia State Woman's College. Miss Marguerite Langdale, Valdosta, gave an account of the life and work of Helen Keller. Miss Georgia Patterson, Boston, discussed Mary E. Woolley, of Mt. Holyoke, and her fight for education for women. Miss Lillian Hopper, Lucedale, Miss. talked on Florence Sabin, the outstanding woman anatomist of America. Miss Dorothy Chapman, Savannah, spoke on Mrs. Grace Coolidge.

The Sock and Buskin Club, which met Tuesday evening, had as its speaker Mrs. Richard Harris, of Valdosta, who spoke on the present theatrical season in New York. Mrs. Harris has recently returned from a visit in New York City where she saw many of the best plays of the season, including "Elizabeth, the Queen," "Grand Hotel," "The Barretts of Winpole Street," and "Tomorrow and Tomorrow."

Sunday evening vesper services was another link in the chain of programs on hymns. Miss Eunice Kirkland, of Pensacola, Fla., was leader, and Miss Jessie Norman, of Waycross, and Miss Emily Elkins, of Waycross, told of the origin of many of the standard church hymns. These hymns were sung by the choir as the stories were told about them.

Vesper for Thursday evening consisted in another talk in the series of programs on modern women. Miss Carolyn Readick, of Folkston, led the service, and Miss Ruby McSwain, of Vidalia, talked on women in the industrial world today, showing the similarities and differences of their condition with those in the past.

Miss Harriet Shepherd, of Savannah, led morning watch service Tuesday morning.

The miniature golf tournament between the two athletic associations closed last week. Many of the players made the course in less than par, making the competition rather strong. The Kappa Athletic Association won the tournament by having a slight fraction of a point less on the average score. Miss Alice McCall, of Thomasville, won the greatest number of individual points, by making the lowest score on the course.

Miss Marguerite Langdale entertained at her home on Patterson Street Thursday evening at a benefit bridge party for the Valdosta Club of G. S. W. C. Miss Mary Winn, of Savannah, won high score and was given a box of candy. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Miss Dorothy Stroud and Miss Dorothy Harris.

The Euclidian Club entertained at a masquerade dance in the dining hall Saturday evening. Miss Caroline Parrish, of Valdosta, gave a feature dance. In the dancing contest Miss Willene Roberts, of Valdosta, and Miss Essye Alligood, of Cairo, were awarded the prize. Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson, won the prize for the most attractive costume.

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies held their regular joint meeting last evening. Members of the Play Production Class gave a modern one-act drama, "Her Country," by Euphemia Wyatt. The cast included: Miss Marguerite Powell, Griffin, who was Geoffrey Trent, the shell-shocked World War veteran; Ursula, his wife, Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley, and another former war officer and detective, Haidane, Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, of Sylvester.

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta opened on September 14 with an enrollment larger than that of last year. The enrollment of the freshman class, numbering one hundred and fifty-five, a very large percentage being honor graduates of high schools.

Dr. Powell was the speaker at the first student government meeting of the year, which assembled in the rotunda on Friday evening. At the conclusion of Dr. Powell's speech, Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, student government president, introduced the new monitors.

As a means of establishing pleasant relations between the president and the new students, Dr. Powell invited all the "big" sisters to bring their "little sisters" in to see him.

The first social affair of the college year was the little sister-big sister party given Saturday evening, September 19, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The girls gathered in the rotunda of Ashley Hall for an informal reception. During the evening games, contests and "manless" dancing afforded entertainment. Throughout the year the Y. W. C. A. sponsors many affairs which make social life on campus enjoyable.

The freshmen at G. S. W. C. have been trained this week in the rules and regulations of the Student Government Association. Each afternoon, old members of the association have met groups of freshmen for the purpose of advising them what they can and cannot do at G. S. W. C. After the course is completed, and each freshman has passed an examination on the subject, she will then be eligible to sign the pledge and become a member of the association.

Another training course of interest for freshmen is the course in the use of the library, taught by faculty members.

The Valdosta Club met Friday morning to discuss plans for the coming year and especially plans for entertaining new members. Because of the withdrawal of the president, Miss Louise Clifford, the vice president, Miss Martha Jackson, presided.

The Philharmonic Club held a get-together meeting Wednesday evening. Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla, the president, presided. The object of this meeting was to acquaint new members and those interested in becoming new members with the purposes of the club. Miss Gladys Warren, head of the music department, is the faculty adviser.

On Saturday evening the faculty of the Georgia State Woman's College in Valdosta entertained the student body at the annual reception. Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Powell and members of the faculty received the guests in the rotunda of Ashley Hall.

An informal program was part of the entertainment. Miss Elizabeth McRee and Miss Helen Ryan gave an interpretation of the Skater's Waltz. The "Spanish Serenade," by Sarasate, was played by Mrs. Frances B. Pardee, violinist. Pronouncements (old style and new style) and "Why Doesn't She Come?" from Shantl, A. P. Herbert, were read by Miss Louise Sawyer. "Fiddle and I," by Goodlove, was given by Misses Alimae Temple and Miss Gladys Warren.

Miss Tennys Jones Weds Mr. Deming

June 13, 1931

A marriage of interest to many friends and relatives in this city was that of Miss Tennys Wynelle Jones to Mr. Joseph Whittle Deming yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Dr. H. M. Fugate performing the ceremony.

On account of the illness of the bride's mother, the marriage was a quiet one, and took place at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Fugate in the presence of the members of the two families and a few close friends.

The Fugate home was simply but attractively decorated for the occasion, a color motif of green and white being effectively carried out with daisies and ferns. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

The bride, who is an attractive brunette, wore a three-piece suit of navy georgette with blouse of net and lace. Her hat was a smart Agnes model of navy silk.

Mrs. Deming is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones and was reared and educated in this city.

Mr. Deming is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Deming, and both he and his bride hold responsible positions with the Georgia Power and Light Company.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Deming left in their car for points in North Georgia.

VALDOSTA, Oct. 10.—Auditions for the Glee Club of the Georgia State Woman's College, at Valdosta, were completed last week under the supervision of Miss Alimae Temple, director, and the list of new members was announced as follows: Miss Miriam Ryon, Hinesville; Miss Addie Pearl Hill, Bainbridge; Miss Catherine Connell, Valdosta; Miss Odene Allgood, Cairo; Miss Louise McMichael, Quitman; Miss Miriam Allen, Albany; Miss Ida Jewell Cochran, Camilla; Miss Virginia Shepherd, Savannah; Miss Louise Durham, Dawson; Miss Vivian Johnson, Hawthorne, Fla.; Miss Matilda Plowden, Valdosta; Miss Mary Elizabeth Weatherford, Savannah; Miss Mary Ellen Craft, Savannah; Miss Ann Middleton, Valdosta; Miss Ruth Webb, Tifton; Miss Sarah Murchison, Vidalia; Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Bainbridge; Miss Edwina Arnold, Fort Gaines; Miss Elizabeth Smith, Meigs; Miss Willie Lee, Ray City; Miss Marie Gaskins, Nashville; Miss Sallie Lou Powell, Valdosta; Miss Helen Claire Varnedoe, Valdosta; Miss Mildred Fokes, Montezuma; Miss Nancy Rowland, Wrightsville; Miss Margaret Lindsey, Blakely; Miss Ruth Ellis, Savannah; Miss Betsy Powell, Valdosta; Miss Evaline Henderson, Dupont; Miss Rachel Russell, Brinson.

The old members who returned are: Miss Mildred McDonald, Colquitt; Miss Hazel Allen, Lake Park; Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, Waycross; Miss Margaret Williams, Douglas; Miss Elizabeth Pardee, Thomasville; Miss Emeliza Swain, Rome; Miss Mary Poole, Balboa; Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley; Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, Sylvester; Miss Jessie Mae Prescott, Lake Park; Miss Adair Lankford, Tampa; Miss Margaret Morrison, Valdosta; Miss Lillian Henderson, Dupont. The club this year is the largest and most versatile group that G. S. W. C. has ever had. The officers of the club are: Miss Elizabeth Pardee, of Thomasville, president; Miss Ruth Webb, of Tifton, vice president; Miss Mildred McDonald, of Colquitt, secretary; Miss Miriam Ryon, of Hinesville, treasurer.

Saturday evening, the Phi Kappa and Phi Lambda Athletic Associations gave their party for the new members. The party was in three parts—games in the dining room of Ashley Hall; a play by the members of the play production class in the dramatic room of West Hall; dancing in the gymnasium, the college orchestra furnishing the music. The climax of the evening was when the student body assembled in the dining hall for the new members to receive their bids. Miss Ivy, head of the physical education department, gave out the bids. Miss Helen Brasington, of Waycross, president of the Phi Lambdas, and Miss Ruby McSwain, of Lyons, vice president of the Phi Kappas, greeted the new members as they came into the associations.

As a result of the tryouts last week, new members of the Philharmonic Club are: Miss Louise Ambos, Savannah; Miss Ada Jewel Cockran, Camilla; Miss Jewell Bussell, Waycross; Miss Mary Ellen Craft, Savannah; Miss Willie Lee, Ray City; Miss Margaret Zipplies, Savannah; Miss Edwina Arnold, Fort Gaines; Miss Odene Allgood, Cairo; Miss Marjorie Sessions, McRae; Miss Odessa Stephens, Bainbridge; Miss Addie Pearl Hill, Bainbridge; Miss Ruth Webb, Tifton; Miss Sara Murchison, Vidalia; Miss Mildred Fokes, Montezuma; Miss Miriam Ryon, Hinesville; Miss Francis Howell, Tifton; Miss Annie Belle Weatherford, Savannah.

Members of the International Relations Club enjoyed a trip abroad at their last meeting at the house-in-the-woods on Monday night. Miss Mildred Larsen, the speaker for the evening, succeeded very delightfully in transporting her audience from the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta to Europe. Miss Larsen's hearers enjoyed many experiences vicariously as they listened to the lecture given and looked at scenes and representative articles from foreign lands.

The Sock and Buskin Club held a business and social hour on Tuesday evening with the president, Miss Mildred Minchew of Baxley, as leader.

The President's Club of G. S. W. C. met Wednesday at the House-in-the-woods. The object of this meeting was to plan and discuss the activities of the year. The members of the club are presidents of the various student organizations on the campus, and are as follows: Miss Lillian Lively, Savannah, president of the Student Government Association; Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, Sylvester, president of the senior class; Miss Winona Patterson, Alamo, president of the junior class; Miss Mary Poole, Balboa, C. Z., president of the sophomore class; Miss Emeliza Swain, Rome, Fine Arts Club; Miss Elizabeth Pardee, Thomasville, Glee Club; Miss Annie Lois Gardner, Camilla, Philharmonic Club; Miss Helen Brasington, Waycross, Phi Kappa; Miss Emily Jennings, Dawson, Y. W. C. A.; Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley, Sock and Buskin Club; Miss Annie Sue Brandon, Norman Park, Euclidian; Miss Nancy Rowland, Wrightsville, and Miss Phara Elarbee, Calvary, Literary Societies.

Some of the recent visitors at G. S. W. C. were: Miss Nell Roberts, Mrs. L. O. White, Mrs. Roberts and Colonel R. H. Dorris, of Cordele; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler and J. B. Causey, of Vienna; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Coleman, of Fort Gaines; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Malze, Live Oak, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sears, Lenox, and Mr. and Mrs. Kennon, Poulton.

Everette-Dent

DOUGLAS, Ga.—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dent, of Douglas, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ethel Paulk, to Mr. Norman Russell Everette, of Robinsville, N. C., and Richmond, Va. The ceremony was performed at the Episcopal Church Sunday morning at the close of the service. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. R. B. Evans, they entered from the vestibule unattended and were married in a double ring ceremony by the vicar, Rev. F. H. Craighill. They left immediately on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., New York City and Pittsburgh.

The bride had two years of college work in Valdosta, later going to Converse, where she was graduated with the class of 1930. Mr. Everette is district manager over a territory of four states for the National Carbide Sales Corporaton. They will make their home at 1829 Hanover Street, Richmond, Va. Feb 28, 1931

Pardee-Breedlove

VALDOSTA, Ga.—A marriage of interest was that of Miss Beauchamp Breedlove to Mr. Robert Balfour, which was solemnized Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the Episcopal Church. Rev. J. J. Carnish performed the ceremony in the presence of the bride's parents and a few close friends.

The bride wore a becoming tan coat suit with harmonizing hat and accessories. She is the second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dan Breedlove and was born and reared in this city. She is a graduate of the Valdosta High School, later attending the Georgia State Woman's College here.

Mr. Pardee is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pardee, of Thomasville, a descendant of two prominent families. He is manager of the Atlantic Coast Highway Express Company, of Jacksonville and after the ceremony the couple left for that city, where they will reside.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Local Alumnae Study Group

Misses Iva Chandler and Helen Ryon entertained on Friday evening at the "House in the Woods" a group of G. S. W. C. alumnae members who regularly meet for literary study. At the meeting on Friday evening a series of studies on Modern Continental Drama including Molnar, Capek, Kaiser, Vildrac, Pirandello and numerous others was completed. Among those contributing to the study at the last meeting were Misses Frances Dekle, Helen Hightower, Virginia Hightower, Elizabeth McRee, Nellie Bracey and Clare Bray.

Dr. Wallace at Assembly

Dr. Richard Wallace, formerly pastor of the First Christian Church in Valdosta and now located in Lynchburg, Va., gave a talk to the students in assembly last week.

"Begin the new year right with religion," said Dr. Wallace. He then discussed an article on "An Age Destitute of Faith," giving the religious outlook in Great Britain and America. "People have turned away from religion," he continued, "but what have they to turn to? We need something other than earthly things. Religion and God are the only answers to our spiritual need."

Dr. Wallace has been recently appointed official pastor and spiritual adviser for Lynchburg College, Va.

G. S. W. C. Double Quartet at Kiwanis Club

The double quartet of the college was the guest of the Kiwanians at their luncheon Friday at the Womans Building. Three numbers, "Kentucky Babe," by Adam Ceild; "Good Night, Good Night, Beloved," by Ciro Pinsuit, and "The Rosary," by Nevin, were given by the young ladies from the college. The personnel of the quartet is as follows: Misses Mary Elaine Flanagan, Waycross; Hazel Allen, Valdosta; Margaret Williams, Douglas; Elizabeth Arnold, Fort Gaines; Elizabeth Pardee, Thomasville; Mary Poole, Balboa, Canal Zone; Ethel McSwain, Lyons, and Emeliza Swain, Rome.

Misses Caroline Parrish, Elizabeth McRee and Kate Jones, of Riceboro, gave a dance.

Vespers

Miss Mildred Chambless, of Americus, led the New Year vesper services on Sunday night in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. Several subjects were very interestingly discussed. Miss Quinnie Carmack, of Vienna, talked on "A New Year's Presence"; Miss Reba Harrison, of Boston, on "Making Beautiful Years"; a poem, "New Year Harp Strings," by Miss Mary Poole, of Balboa, Canal Zone; "Let Go, Let Go," by Miss Louisa Heath, of Quitman; "Grandly Begun," by Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson.

Vesper services were held Thursday evening and Miss Mary Pearson, of Atlanta, was leader. The subject was India. Miss Mildred Morris, of Brinson, discussed the student movement in India. The relationship between Great Britain and India was discussed by Miss Cleo Griffin, of Ochlocknee.

Student Government Meeting

The Student Government Association held its regular monthly meeting in the rotunda Friday evening. The president, Miss Margaret Bullock, of Nashville, led an interesting discussion.

GORDON-LEVY

BRUNSWICK, Ga., July 25.—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gordon announce the marriage of their daughter, Lillian, to Milton Levy of Baltimore, Md., which was quietly solemnized Thursday afternoon in Jacksonville, Fla. The impressive marriage ring ceremony was performed by Rabbi Isreal Kaplan in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride, who is the only daughter of her parents, was charming in her traveling costume, a three-piece ensemble of shell pink satin, worn with becoming pink felt hat and pink kid slippers. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

Serving as matron of honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. David Gordon, who was attractive in an afternoon gown of yellow chiffon with picture hat to match. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of Sunset roses. Serving as best man was the bridegroom's father, Barney Levy of Baltimore.

Immediately after the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the George Washington Hotel, where the decorations and appointments were beautifully carried out in a white and green color note. During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Levy left by motor for a several weeks' trip to Canada after which they will make their home in Baltimore where Mr. Levy is a prominent young business man.

The attractive young bride, is very popular with many friends in Brunswick. She is a graduate of Glynn Academy, later attending the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta and Brenau at Gainesville. Her sweet manner and charming traits have endeared her to a wide circle of acquaintances. The bride's parents are prominent merchants of the city, and are esteemed in civic, business and social circles of the community.

Mr. Levy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Levy of Baltimore. He is a graduate of the Baltimore University Law School and is a member of the Kappa Epi Pi Fraternity.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gordon, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Levy, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. David Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Gordon and others.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The Natural History Club, composed of science majors and minors of Emory Junior College and the Georgia State Woman's College held its second meeting on Saturday afternoon. The members made their second field trip and two hours were spent classifying trees. After the study hours the club members went to Mr. James Stokes' home, where a short business meeting was held. At this meeting it was decided to have two presidents and two secretaries, one each for the Emory Junior group and the G. S. W. C. group. Miss Marruth Carter, vice president, became president, and Miss Ruby Nell Wall was elected secretary.

At chapel on Monday, Dr. R. H. Powell told of his plan to make a series of talks on comparative religion. These talks will include the ancient Greek, Buddhism and Mohammedanism. The pastors of Valdosta churches will be guest speakers from time to time. Dr. Scott, of the Presbyterian Church, was the guest speaker on Wednesday.

The speaker for the vesper services of Sunday evening was Mr. J. F. Wood, who continued the talks on great philosophers. Mr. Wood's talk centered around the outstanding philosophers of the transitional period. The following philosophers and their philosophies were discussed: Spinoza, Bacon and Hobbs.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Fine Arts Club was held Tuesday evening in the Art Dome. The meeting was given to discussions of plans for the bazaar, which is to be held December 1-3. At this bazaar Japanese and Chinese articles will be sold, as usual, and a new feature to be added. There will be one booth containing articles made by members of the club. These articles will be made at the fall meetings of the club. Such articles as water color sketches, silhouettes, oil sketches will be included.

One of the outstanding social events of the week was the Halloween party given by the Valdosta Club, Saturday evening. Halloween feature were arranged in the rotunda. Carl Simmons' orchestra furnished music for the dancing in the dining hall. Both the rotunda and the dining hall were effectively decorated.

Mrs. Beck, dietitian at G. S. W. C., entertained the student body at an annual Halloween dinner Friday evening, October 30. The students entered the dining room to the strains of Chopin's funeral march. During the dinner a Halloween program and dancing were enjoyed.

The Valdosta branch of the A. A. U. W. met with Mrs. R. H. Powell on Thursday afternoon. Miss Lena Hawkes and Miss Mary Worcester assisted in entertaining the guests. Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the physical education department, had charge of the program. She discussed the modern schools of dancing represented by La Argentine, Agna Enters, Mary Migman and Ann Duncan.

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 2.—Play Day, May Day, May 2, was a gala day at the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta. By 10:30 o'clock in the morning guests from high schools in all sections of the southern half of the state had arrived and been organized into teams for Play Day. The first hour was given over to competitive games of various kinds: one of the most unique events of the morning was a half hour of stunts when any member of a team could challenge any other girl to compete with her in doing one of a group of specified stunts.

The faculty and students of the college played a demonstration game of volley ball for the benefit of the visiting girls. Both teams played with skill and spirit, and furnished much amusement for the gallery.

Another college group demonstrated archery, using not only the regulation target, but also artificial animals and balloons dotted over the athletic field as targets. Many tried their skill with the bow and arrow after the demonstration was over, but none proved a William Tell.

At one o'clock the whole group had a picnic lunch in the pines, after which the ribbons were awarded to the team winning the competition for the morning. Then the girls scattered to various parts of the campus to take part in social games in the dining hall, attend short plays produced by the Sock and Buskin Club, or participate in various other amusements.

In the afternoon a foursome of Valdosta's star golfers played a match on the college golf course. Then came a half hour for relaxation while the college group made preparations for their annual May festival, which was directed by Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the department of physical education, assisted by Miss Elizabeth McRae.

May Day opened with Robin Hood and his men prancing across the green playing horse with a group of girls; they raced and frolicked, then discarded the characters of horse to play skip the rope. The girls tired of this and began to dance. The men soon joined the maidens, and picking up the most petite girl in the group, placed her on a convenient stump to serve as a Maypole while they danced around her.

When this unique Maypole was wound, other revellers came on the green. The May queen, Miss Margaret Summer, of Foulan, wearing a beautiful Elizabethan gown, was borne in a sedan chair on the shoulders of ten lords of her court, preceded by the heralds, Miss Grace Holcombe, of Valdosta, and Miss Katherine Stovall, of Waycross. She was closely followed by the maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Blanton, of Columbus, and the ladies of the court, who, in their costumes, gave greater emphasis to the Elizabethan atmosphere. The queen and maid of honor were chosen from the senior class, the ladies of the court, from the junior, senior and sophomore classes, and heralds from the freshman class, thus having each class represented in the queen's court. The ladies attending the queen were: Miss Essye Allgood, of Cairo; Miss Emily Hallyburton, of Griffin; Miss Sallie Kate Bozeman, of Sylvester; Miss Emily Burney, of Boston; Miss Helen Brasington, of Waycross; Miss Della Bonner, of Vienna; Miss Mattilu Doss, of Valdosta; Miss Virginia Clark, of Tampa, Fla.; Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, of Sylvester; Miss Mary Virginia McKay, of Valdosta; Miss Louise Johnson, of Valdosta, and Miss Miriam Mixson, of Valdosta.

The lords of the court were: Miss Dorothy Chapman, of Savannah; Miss Margaret Williams, of Waycross; Miss K. D. Rentz, of Lakeland; Miss Pauline Griffin, of Valdosta; Miss Dorothy Harris, of Valdosta; Miss Mary O'Quinn, of Patterson; Miss Margaret Warfield, of Savannah; Miss Nancy Rowland, of Wrightsville; Miss Eunice Walker, of Brunswick; Miss Mary Virginia Paul, of Valdosta; Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta, and Miss Mary Dozier, of Morgan.

The train bearers were: Master Jack Corbett and Miss Eloise Plowden, both of Valdosta. When the queen stepped out of her chariot, the lords formed an arch of glittering swords, under which the queen and her ladies passed to the throne. The entire court was a gorgeous illusion of the Elizabethan period.

After the crowning of the queen, a group of villagers thronged onto the green and gave a country dance. The country dance was heartily concluded when a group of children appeared with their own little queen and court, dressed in small replicas of the May queen's court, and proceeded to crown their queen and have their own festivities. This formed a charming miniature of the ceremony just preceding.

The organ grinder with his wife and monkey then took the center of the green. Their group of trained animals performed marvelous feats for the entertainment of the audience.

A bit of Erin was brought to the scene of festivities by a group of boys and girls from the training school. Some strolling players then came by and performed a "romance of Marionettes" to delight the villagers and children.

An English sword dance by the Morris men was followed by the gay dance of a colorful gypsy group with their tambourines. The lords and ladies of the court then danced the stately Sir Roger de Coverly, after which the varied groups danced on the green and wound around the numerous May poles, the last festivity in honor of the queen of the May.

Several hundred guests, including many alumnae, and many senior high school students in south Georgia enjoyed the observance of the charming old custom of "bringing in the May," and were most extravagant in their praise.

The local chapter of the American Association of University Professors had a meeting during assembly period on Saturday morning. Dr. J. A. Durrenberger and Dr. Lena J. Hawks led a discussion on "The Improvement of College Teaching." Miss Gertrude Gilmer gave a report on chapter letters of the current year.

"Le Ceele Francais," the French club of the Georgia State Woman's College, held a meeting Saturday. After several French songs, a series of slides, showing various French scenes and places of interest, were displayed. These were explained in French by Miss Antoinette Westborn, professor of modern languages.

The Valdosta Club of G. S. W. C. entertained with a Bowery Ball Saturday evening in the dining hall. Miss Liza Peoples sang "Monterey," and "Old Joe's Ball Room." Masters Floyd and David Fender gave a tap dance. Miss Pauline Forbes, of Valdosta, was given a prize for the best costume. Music was furnished by Carl Simmons and his orchestra.

The Sunday evening vesper service was a musical program. Miss Joyce Roberson, of Jesup, gave several piano solos, and Miss Marjorie Sessions, of McRae, a violin solo. Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." The Y. W. C. A. choir sang, with Miss Margaret Williams, of Douglas, as soloist.

On Thursday evening, Miss Wylene Whitely, of Nashville, led the program on world fellowship. Miss Violet Glasscock, of Waycross, spoke on "American First, or Foreign Missions?"

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

May 24, 1931

New Annuals Distributed

The 1931 year book, the "Pine Cone," was distributed during the week by the editor, Miss Roselle Hatcher, of Donalsonville, and by the business manager, Miss Margaret Jennings, of Waycross. The consensus of opinion among the student group is that book of this year is the most colorful and artistic ever published.

The theme of the book is the eighteenth birthday of the college, and with its rich suggestiveness gave the staff ample opportunity to include the history, traditions and all the happiest associations. The scene and feature section gave greater emphasis in a most artistic way to the theme and the modern are forms used throughout the book.

Installation Service

Sunday evening vesper service was a candlelight service for the installation of the new cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A.

Misses Margaret Sumner, of Poulan, and Essye Alligood, of Cairo, the retiring president and vice-president, passed the light of their candle on to the new officers and each of the old cabinet members lighted the candles of the new as they all sang "Follow the Gleam." The new cabinet members are: Misses Emily Jennings, Dawson, president; Virginia Clark, Tampa, Fla., vice-president; Nancy Rowland, Wrightsville; Carolyn Bullard, Nashville; Frances Mullins, Baccanton; Elsie Quarterman, Valdosta; Mildred Morris, Brinson; Joan Talbert, Colquitt; Mary Poole, Balboa, C. Z.; Elizabeth Wright, Rome; Annie Lois Gardner, Camilla; Lillian Sumner, Poulan; Louisa Heath, Quitman; Emily Elkins, Waycross, and Emeliza Swain, Rome.

Miss Margaret Kennedy, Dawson, spoke at vesper services Thursday evening, taking as her subject the last verse of the 19th Psalm, "May the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight." Miss Elsie Quarterman was leader for the evening.

Miss Phara Elarbee, of Calvary, led morning watch service on Tuesday.

pa Athletic Associations held their final party of the year on Saturday evening in the form of a 'manless dance.' The crowning event of the evening was the awarding of the emblems, cups and plaques won by members of the two associations. Ten Lambdas and thirteen Kappas won their numerals, the first award given for Athletics; four Lambdas and five Kappas won their association letter, the next highest award; two Lambdas, Miss Margaret Sumner, of Poulan, and Helen Brasington, of Waycross, won the honor cups, awarded by the association to juniors or seniors. The highest honor a girl can aspire to in the field of athletics at G. S. W. C. is to have her name placed on the "Honor Plaque"; to win this honor a girl must have not only athletic achievements to her credit, but scholarship and leadership points as well. Only three seniors won this honor, Misses Margaret Bullock, of Adel; Grace Chastain, of Thomasville, and Margaret Brabham, of Moultrie.

The association plaque which is awarded to the association having the greatest number of points for the year was won by the Phi Kappa Association. The awarding of this plaque furnished the climax of the evening for the association members.

Dr. R. H. Powell, president of the college, spent Tuesday in Atlanta attending a conference.

Senior Recital

Miss Joyce Roberson, of Screven, a pupil of Miss Gladys Warren, gave her piano recital Tuesday evening in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. She was assisted by Miss Mary E. Flanagan, soprano, of Waycross, and Miss Helen Ryan, accompanist, of Hinesville. Miss Flanagan is a pupil of Miss Ruth Scott. Among the brilliant numbers on the program were: "My Heart Ever Faithful," by Bach-Lavignac; "Humoresque," Tschalkowsky; "Eroticon," Sjogren; "Polonaise in C Sharp Minor," Chopin; "Valse in E Minor," Chopin, rendered by Miss Roberson. Two duo numbers, "Spanish Rhapsody," Ableniz, and "Impromptu-Rococo," Schutt, were given by Miss Roberson and Miss Ryan.

Seniors Entertained by Rotarians

The Valdosta Rotary Club most delightfully entertained the graduating classes of the college at a picnic at Ocean Pond on Thursday afternoon. Boat riding, swimming and dancing were among the forms of entertainment provided by the Rotarians. The Rotary-Anns received the highest praise for their share of the entertainment.

New Club Presidents Entertained

The Presidents' Club held its last meeting of the year last Friday evening at the House-in-the-Woods. The meeting was in the form of a social for the purpose of reorganizing the club and introducing the new members.

Sock and Buskin Club Elects

Officers for the Sock and Buskin Club for the year 1931-32 will be: President, Mildred Minchew, Baxley; vice-president, Mary Virginia McKey, Valdosta; secretary-treasurer, Wynona Copeland, Valdosta.

Organizations Enjoy Picnics

The Home Economics Club of G. S. W. C. enjoyed a picnic at Twin Lakes Saturday afternoon. Swimming and boat riding were enjoyed by the members of the club, after which supper was served in the open. The refreshments were prepared by the girls in the club.

The officers for the year 1931-32 will be: President, Miss Mary Leverette, of Quitman; vice-president, Miss Sally Faircloth, of Pitts; secretary-treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Quitman.

The members of the Euclidian Club enjoyed a picnic and swimming party at Twin Lakes on Wednesday afternoon. The following officers have been elected for the year 1931-32: President, Miss Dorothy Lang, of Woodbine; vice-president, Miss GeDelle Brabham, of Moultrie; secretary-treasurer, Miss Margaret Easterlin, of Thomasville.

Popular Girls At G. S. W. College

Dec. 7, 1931

Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, was elected Miss G. S. W. C. in the annual "Who's Who" election which was held at the college last week. Miss Lively was chosen from the student body as its most representative member. During her four years at G. S. W. C. she has held many responsible positions, among which are: President of the freshman class, president of the Sock and Buskin Club, and at the present time president of the Student Government Association. She has also taken an active part in dramatics, taking the leading part in the play put on by the Sock and Buskin Club last year. Miss Lively has won such recognition by her quiet capability.

Others nominated for this distinction were Misses Helen Brasington, of Waycross, president of the Phi Lambda Athletic Association, and Virginia Carswell, of Waycross, editor-in-chief of the College Annual.

Miss Wyllene Roberts, of Valdosta, was elected the most popular day student, and deservedly so, for she is always willing to "taxi" for the college girls in her blue Chevrolet, and spends a good deal of her time in being friendly with both town and dormitory students. Miss Roberts is also recognized as one of the best actors on the campus.

Others nominated for this title were Misses Katherine Connell, Anna Frances Hamm, Grace Holcombe, Mary Virginia McKey, Anne Myddleton, Winona Parrish, all of Valdosta.

Miss Helen Bishop, of Unadilla, holds the title of most athletic. She is at present a prominent member of the Phi Lambda American ball team, winner of the double tennis tournament, winner of basketball goal-shooting tournament. Misses Katherine Stovall, of Bainbridge; Winona Patterson, of Alamo, and Florence Powell, of Griffin, were also nominated for the most athletic.

Most attractive of the G. S. W. C. girls is Miss Edwina Arnold, of Fort Gaines. She is president of the freshman class and active in glee club and athletic association work. Her dark complexion in contrast to her blond hair, and her dignified composure, make her unusually attractive. Nominated for this title were Misses Ruth Webb, of Tifton; Clyde Kendall, of Valdosta; Elizabeth Kirkland, of Sylvester; Julia Manning, of Bainbridge; Montene Floyd, of Baxley, and Jeannette Lovettes of Dublin.

The pleasing smile and cheery greeting of Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson, has been known on the campus for three years, and it was little surprise that she received the title of most pleasing personality. Miss Jennings has held several important offices, being president of her freshman class and president of the Y. W. C. A. this year. Those nominated for this title were Misses Polly Walker, of Patterson; Jessie May Prescott, of Lake Park; Vera Estelle Parker, of Waycross; Margaret Joiner, of Griffin; Maxine Purdy, of Valdosta, and Dorothy Andrews, of Plains.

Miss Louise McMichael, of Quitman, was elected the most versatile. She, as the title suggests, takes part in practically every activity on the campus. She is president of the Phi Kappa Athletic Association, a member of the Sock and Buskin Club, Glee Club, the Fine Arts Club, and takes part in the Y. W. C. A. activities. Besides her many activities, Miss McMichael is always friendly and pleasant, and willing to help where she can. Her abilities range from teaching school last year to taking the part of the Fool in the Christmas Festival the year before. Others nominated were Misses Emily Burney, of Boston; Ruth Dozier, of Morgan; Emeliza Swain, of Rome, and Margaret Warfield, of Savannah.

Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta, was elected most deserving. She certainly deserved this title, for she is one of those many girls who do a great deal for the organizations on the campus, yet receives small credit for it. She is always busy doing something to help out somewhere. Nominated for this office were Misses Hazel Allen, of Lake Park; Lavinia Buckner, of Waycross; Phara Elarbee, of Calvary; Pauline Forbes, of Valdosta; Margaret Kennedy, of Dawson, and Frances Smith, of Vidalia.

Miss Virginia Clark, of Tampa, Fla., was elected most intellectual. Miss Clark has made a fine record since she has been at G. S. W. C., making honors three semesters and high honors one semester. She is not, however, merely brilliant in the marks she makes, but has all-round poise and intellectual ability. Others nominated were Misses John Corn, of Valdosta; Helen Clark, of Ashburn; Dorothy Davis, of Valdosta, and Mary Poole, of Balboa, Canal Zone.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Miss Annie F. Hopper, dean of women of the Georgia State Woman's College, is president of the department of deans of women and girls for the Georgia Education Association convention meeting in Macon next week. She has a program for the department planned which includes a talk on health problems of the high school girl, by Dr. Elizabeth Brooch, and a discussion of the work of the college dean, led by Miss Ethel Adams.

Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the physical education department, will talk on "Girls' Athletics," at the Georgia Education Association convention next week, and Dr. Earl W. Phelan, of the chemistry department, will speak on the relative values of the various types of chemistry notebooks.

Miss Leonora Ivey has accepted a position for the summer as a head councillor at the senior camp of the Sargent department of Boston University, at Peterborough, N. H.

Dr. R. H. Powell was a guest of the Valdosta High School on Tuesday as speaker for the chapel period.

Miss Gladys Warren, of the music department, and Miss Lucile Jenkins, teacher of expression, went to Waycross Tuesday to act as judges for a preliminary music and expression contest of the district.

Dr. R. H. Powell talked at Adel on Wednesday at a meeting of the Commercial Men's Club.

Dr. Harold Gulliver, of the English department; Miss Lucile Jenkins, instructor of vocal expression, and Miss Gladys Warren and Miss Helen Ryon, of the music department, went to Tifton Wednesday as judges for a preliminary contest in music and expression.

The G. S. W. C. Glee Club gave a concert at the Ritz Theater April 9, directed by Miss Ruth Scott and assisted by Miss Leonora Ivey. The first part of the program consisted of a group of three and four-part classical and semi-classical numbers. The entire Glee Club sang "Honey Chile," by Strickland; "Southern Moon," by Strickland, and "Come to the Fair," by Easthope-Martin. The double quartet, Miss Hazel Allen, Valdosta; Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, Waycross, first sopranos; Miss Margaret Williams, Douglas; Miss Elizabeth Arnold, Fort Gaines, second sopranos; Miss Ethel McSwain, Vidalia; Miss Mary Poole, Balboa, Canal Zone, first altos; Miss Elizabeth Pardee, Thomasville; Miss Emeliza Swain, Rome, second altos, sang "Indian Cradle Song," by Matthews; "Twilight," by Glenn, and "Kentucky Babe," by Geibel. "Bridal Chorus" from "The Rose Maiden," by Cowen; "Dreamin' Time," by Strickland, and "Medley From the South," by Foster-Pike, were sung by the entire Glee Club. The last numbers in this part of the program were "Lavender Gown," by Buchanan, and "In a Garden of Dreams," by Buchanan, sung by Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, of Waycross.

The second part of the concert was in the form of a cruise by the good ship, "G. S. W. C.," to foreign countries.

The freshman class of the Georgia State Woman's College gave the sophomore class a banquet at Ashley Hall Saturday evening.

Miss Helen Clark, president of the freshman class, gave the greetings, which was answered by Miss Virginia Clark, president of the sophomore class. Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla, gave a toast to the sophomores, which was answered by Miss Marguerite Powell, Griffin.

The dance, "Tango," was danced by Miss Polyl Walker, Patterson, and Miss Emily Elkins, Waycross. A parody of "Pyrimus and Thisly" was rendered by Miss Mary Poole, Panama, Canal Zone; Miss Wylene Roberts, Valdosta; Miss Mary Sue Neal, Cartersville; Miss Lillian Henderson, Menor; Miss Ruth Jones, Adel, and Miss Caroline Smith, Albany.

Following this, a sailor dance was given by Miss GeDelle Brabham, Moultrie; Miss Katherine Stovall, Bainbridge; Miss Kathleen Glisson, Bainbridge; Miss Florence Powell, Griffin, and Miss Louise McNair, Ashburn.

After the banquet there was a "manless" dance, to which the juniors and seniors and faculty were invited. Carl Simmons and his orchestra furnished the music.

The International Relations Club, of the Georgia State Woman's College, held an important meeting Friday to elect officers for 1931-1932. Miss Miriam McMillan, Ochlocknee, was elected president, and Miss Rosalind Bieller, of Valdosta, treasurer. The other officers will not be elected until October.

Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, president-elect of the Student Government Association, and Miss Margaret Bullock, president, have just returned from the annual conference of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government, which was held at Baylor College, in Belton, Texas. Though small in attendance, the conference was one of the most worth-while in the history of the association. Among the speakers were Dean Agnes Ellen Harris, of the University of Alabama; Dr. O. A. Bowden, president State Teachers' College, New Mexico, and Miss Margaret Peck, University of Texas. A feature of the conference was the open forum groups in which problems arising out of student government regulations were discussed by the representatives of various colleges. The most unique social feature was the formal Mexican dinner given by the college serving as hostess to the visiting delegates, which proved to be an experience to the girls from other sections.

The two Athletic Associations have elected officers for the next year. The Lambda president is Miss Helen Brasington, of Waycross; vice president, Miss Emily Burney, of Boston, and secretary-treasurer, Miss Vera Estelle Parker, of Waycross. The Kappa officers are Miss Alice McCall, of Thomasville, president; Miss Ruby McSwain, of Vidalia, vice president, and Miss GeDelle Brabham, of Moultrie, secretary-treasurer.

A new sport on the campus this spring is archery. Baseball practice started this week, with a large number of girls from each association out for squad.

The Fine Arts Club has brought to the campus an exhibit of drawings and water-color sketches of work done by students of the School of Fine and Applied Arts at New York. This school of art also has branches in London, Paris and Rome; they send out exhibits all over the country for the purpose of interesting people in commercial and practical art.

Another election of interest on the campus was that of Y. W. C. A. officers for 1931-1932. Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson, was elected president; Miss Virginia Clark, of Tampa, Fla., vice president; Miss Margaret Kennedy, of Dawson, treasurer, and Miss Lillian Sumner, of Poulan, secretary.

An Easter pageant was given at vesper services Sunday evening, "Nights and Morning," showing at night the discussion of the crucifixion by Pilate and wife, these parts being taken by Miss Blanche Parker, of Oseechee, and Miss Sallie Kate Bozeman, of Sylvester, and the placing of guards at the tomb. The next scene showed the morning when the two Marys, Miss Georgia Patterson, of Boston, and Miss Reba Harrison, of Boston, came, and seeing the angel, ran to bring the disciples.

On Thursday, Miss Clifford Arline, Cairo, led the vesper service. Miss Nelle Robinson, of Nichols, gave an account of the place of women in the field of fine arts today.

Miss Evelyn Kennon, of Poulan, led the morning watch services on Tuesday.

At a called meeting of the Philharmonic Club Monday in the rotunda of Ashley Hall, the following officers were elected for the year of 1931-1932: President, Miss Annie Lois Gardner, Camilla; vice president, Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, Waycross; secretary and treasurer, Miss Carolyn Bullard, Nashville.

Miss Dorothy Lile Weds Mr. C. L. Jones

One of the outstanding weddings of the June season was that of Miss Dorothy Arnold Lile, College avenue, New Philadelphia, and Carl Lee Jones, of Valdosta, Ga., Sunday at 4 P. M. at the Church of Christ, New Philadelphia.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Henry Toogood, read the single ring ceremony in the presence of an assemblage of relatives and friends of the couple. Ferns, peonies and roses formed the attractive decorations for the altar.

Preceding the ceremony, a short musical program was played by Mrs. Walter Ritter, organist, and Miss Helen Early, violinist, who also played the wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was gowned in a creme lace dress, designed along Grecian lines and completed by a short lace jacket. With the gown she wore a garden hat of horsehair braid and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Susan Marsh, of Cleveland was maid of honor. Mrs. Walter Eckelber, of Cleveland, was matron of honor, and Misses Marjorie Lile, sister of the bride, and June Glazier, of New Philadelphia, were bridesmaids. The attendants wore gowns of organdy, designed alike, with bouffant skirts. They wore picture hats and lace mitts and carried Colonial bouquets of roses and sweet peas.

Miss Marsh wore a dark creme colored dress, trimmed with bands of blue organdy and a blue sash. With the gown she wore blue slippers and blue lace mitts. Mrs. Eckelberg was attired in orchid, Miss Lile in pink and Miss Glazier in peach.

William Lile, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Jones. Ushers were Dr. Walter Eckelberg, of Cleveland, William Kimball and Paul Kislig, of New Philadelphia. Little Louise Lile, sister of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a green orchid frock, designed similar to those of the bridesmaids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Lile home for members of the bridal party, relatives and friends. Garden flowers were used to adorn the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left during the evening for a wedding trip in the South. For traveling the bride wore a marine blue silk suit completed by an embroidered silk blouse. Her slippers and bag were of snake skin and her hat of blue straw. They expect to be gone until Sept. 1, when they will make their home in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The bride was graduated from New Philadelphia high school in 1926, and attended Georgia State Woman's College, Valdosta, Ga., from where she was graduated in 1930. It was while the bride was in college that the couple became acquainted.

Mr. Jones was graduated from Valdosta high school in 1923 and from Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta, Ga., in 1930. He is a teacher of mechanical engineering at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Jones, of Valdosta.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Beth Carpenter and Miss Virginia Jones, of Valdosta, Ga., sisters of the groom; Mrs. Carl Joseph, of Albany, N. Y.; Mrs. Roscoe Bryant, of Middlesboro, Ky.; Dr. Schultz Gibson, of Middlesboro; Mrs. Edwin Earle and Miss Lucille Arnold, of Falmouth, Ky.

May 17 G. S. W. College '31

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Dr. L. T. Lowrie, president of Blue Mountain College in Mississippi, gave a talk in assembly Monday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Philharmonic Club was held in the rotunda of Ashley Hall Monday evening with Miss Carolyn Bullard, of Nashville, in charge of the program. As an opening number, Miss Dorothy Crocker, of Valdosta, played "Under the Leaves," by Thome.

Following this Miss Pauline Ryon, of Hinesville, told of the music festival recently held in Switzerland. "Cavatine," by Schmidt, was then played by Miss Jewell Wurst, of Ochlocknee. Miss Alice Hicks, of Thomasville, a senior in the department of music, played "The Butterfly" by Grieg. Miss Helen Bishop, of Unadilla, briefly sketched John Erskine's brilliant editorial on "Giving Music a Bigger Place in Education."

The well-known "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell, was beautifully rendered by Willene Roberts, one of the club's best violinists. Preceding this number, Miss Glen Blackwell, of Quitman, described John McCormick in his recent recital. Miss Ethel McSwain, of Lyons, sang Holmes' "Banjo Song," after which Miss Hazel Allen, of Valdosta, gave Mathilde Bilbro's latest discussion on "Music Versus Noise," in which some of the ultra-modernists' views were scorned. Miss Bilbro considers most modern music blatant noise, not in any way related to music.

Miss Mildred McDonald, of Norman Park, gave two vocal numbers, "Noodin," by Gallaway, and "Lying Daisy," by Scott. As closing numbers, Miss Louisa Heath, of Quitman, played "Canzonetta," by Sheet, and Miss Jeanette Hall, of Sparks, played Beromski's famous "Adoration."

The program of the International Relations Club, of G. S. W. C., which met Tuesday evening, consisted by a series of talks on topics of interest. Miss Mary E. Boyd, Valdosta, discussed "Peace Movements;" Miss Etta Giddens, Arlington, talked on "Arbitration;" Miss Frances Hughes, Glennville, spoke on "Disarmament;" Miss Jean Loughridge, Odum, talked on "The International Labor Office;" Miss Margaret Brabham, Moultrie, discussed "Business," and Miss Georgia Patterson, Boston, spoke on "Public Opinion in Relation to Foreign Affairs."

Miss Virginia Carswell, Waycross, has been elected editor in chief of "The Pine Cone," Georgia State Woman's College annual for the year 1931-1932. Miss Emily Burney, Boston, will be editor of the Pine Branch, monthly magazine of the college.

The Pine Branch, the literary magazine of G. S. W. C., was awarded first-class honor rating by the National Scholastic Press Association, according to the score sheet which was received at the college this week. This recognition places the "Pine Branch" among the best college literary magazines of the United States.

The Fine Arts Club held a call meeting on Friday morning for the election of officers for the year 1931-1932. Miss Emeliza Swain, of Rome, was chosen president, and Miss Elizabeth Pardee, of Thomasville, secretary-treasurer. The monthly activity meeting of the fine arts club, took the form of a sketching trip to various spots of interest on and near the campus.

On Sunday evening, Mrs. W. G. Eager, of Valdosta, spoke to the college group at vesper services on the subject, of "Mothers of the Bible." She began with the first mother, Eve, and traced the interesting development of ideas of motherhood through the time of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

On Thursday evening, the freshman Latin classes, under the direction of their professor, Miss Janie Bush, gave a series of dramatizations at vesper services. The outstanding production was that of "Miles Standish" translated into Latin by Miss Marguerite Langdale, of Valdosta, and dramatized by the class. The characters were: Miles Standish, Miss Helen Clarke, of Albany; John Aiden, Miss Inez Hatcher, Donalsonville; Priscilla, Miss Florence Smith, of Valdosta; Grandmother Aiden, Miss Nancy Gill, of Valdosta; and the minister, Miss Julia Groover, Boston. Two other Latin dramatizations were "Jack and the Beanstalk," Jack being Miss Loyless Williford, Camilla; the giant, Miss Velma Miller, Boston; and Horace's ninth ode from Book Three, the "Lover's Quarrel," by Miss Mary Sue Neal, Cartersville, and Miss Lois Eubanks.

The first baseball game of the series between the Kappa and Lambda Athletic Associations was played Wednesday afternoon.

After an exciting struggle the Kappas won with a score of 15 to 6. The Lambda team was composed of Miss Dorothy Lang, Woodbine; Miss Ella Poppell, Homerville; Miss Louise McNair, Ashburn; Miss Sara Wadley, Waycross; Miss Helen Bishop, Unadilla; Miss Sara Emily Ward, Rome; Miss Mary O'Quinn, Patterson; Miss Helen Brasington, Waycross; Miss Vera Parker, Waycross; Miss Margaret Sumner, Poulan; Miss Katherine Wall, Ellaville, and Miss Myrtice Johnson, Vidalia. The girls playing on the Kappa team were: Miss Alice McCall, Thomasville; Miss Ruby McSwain, Vidalia; Miss Ernestine Baker, Pavo; Miss Josephine Hightower, Jonesboro; Miss GeDelle Brabham, Moultrie; Miss Katherine Stovall, Bainbridge; Miss Carolyn Smith, Albany; Miss Elvera Crosby, Pavo; Miss Kathleen Glisson, Bainbridge; Miss Frances Mullins, Baconton; Miss Clarice Worsham, Meigs, and Miss Dorothy Bryant, Moultrie.

The senior class of G. S. W. C. entertained with a dinner party on Friday evening in Ashley Hall. The dining hall and rotunda were decorated with garden flowers and palms. The tables were arranged banquet fashion and were centered with bowls of garden flowers and Longfellow tapers. During the dinner hour the guests were entertained by two feature dances by Miss Sarah Wadley, Waycross, and a one-act play, given by members of the play production class. Music was furnished by Mrs. Horne's orchestra.

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies held their last and joint meeting of the year Saturday evening. A one-act melodrama was presented by members of the play production class, "Apache," by Charles Mere. This play is among the repertoire of the Grand Guignol Players.

The characters were: Duchess of Martigny, Myrtice Johnson, Vidalia; Prince of Attalunga, Willene Roberts, Valdosta; Eugene, a waiter, Virginia Clark, Tampa, Fla. Diners in the cabaret were: Le Rouge, Mattilu Doss, Valdosta; Bebert, Helen Steele, Savannah; and Madelon, Margaret Williams, Waycross. The play was directed by Katherine Wall, Ellaville.

Officers of the Sororian Literary Society for the year 1931-32 will be: President, Phara Elarbee, Calvary; vice president, Mary Dozier, Morgan; secretary, Dolla Bonner, Vienna; treasurer, Carolyn Smith, Albany; and sergeant-at-arms, Margaret Bischoff, Savannah.

Nov. 7, 1931

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

The fall holidays, a characteristic feature of the college calendar, begin today at noon and will continue through next Wednesday. Most of the students are off campus to visit relatives or friends.

Savannah Club Picnic

The Savannah Club enjoyed a hike to Pendleton Park and a picnic on last Monday evening. Miss Gertrude Gilmer was chaperone.

The Greek Way of Life

"Ancient Greek Religion" was the subject chosen by Dr. R. H. Powell for the assembly program of last Monday morning. "The Greeks had no organization of their religion as we have today," said President Powell. "Their religion was a matter of ritual rather than of creed. Religion is man's attempt to attune himself with those forces which he cannot explain. The Greeks concluded that since some things happen which man's will does not enter into, there must be some outside force which controls these unwilling events. Hence, the Grecian system of gods who presided not only over the unexplainable exterior force, but also those who presided over man's inner life.

Joiner, of Griffin, and Miss Jessie Norman, of Union Springs, Ala. The tennis finals were followed by match games in volley ball and American ball between the Lamodas and Kappas.

Student Government Discussed

The senior class had charge of the student government meeting last evening. Miss Elizabeth Kirkland, of Sylvester, president of the senior class, presided. The discussion included the advantages and disadvantages of student government.

Fire Ceremony at Vespers

One of the many beautiful annual customs is the impressive service of lighting the first fire of the fall in the large fireplaces in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. This service was held last Thursday evening. After the girls had gathered quietly in the rotunda, Miss Lillian Liely, of Savannah, president of the Student Government Association, and Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson, president of the Y. W. C. A., lighted the two fires, repeating the Sacrament of Fire. Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women, gave the invitation to contribute to the "Fire of Friendship." In response to the invitation, a representative of each organization placed on the fire a bundle of faggots representing the contribution of her organization. When each had contributed, the girls lingered around the fires informally, as the last of a series of group discussions was held.

"The Greeks attempted to make helpful arrangements with the deities in reference to carrying out harmony in the universe since every Greek wishes to be beloved by a god.

"The religion of the Greeks was a religion handed down by tradition. There was no hereafter as we conceive it; therefore, the Greek looked on death as hateful, as is set forth in Homer's Odyssey. There was no spiritual following of the gods as is shown in the Christian religion of today; no dominance of the universe by the gods as our God dominates, for the Greek gods were subject to like passions with man."

This assembly talk was one of a series which President Powell will give on comparative religions.

Philharmonic Program Meeting

The Philharmonic Club met in the rotunda Monday evening. The program was opened with a vocal solo, "By the Bend of the River," (Edwards), sung by Miss Mildred Donald, of Colquitt. Miss Margaret Williams, of Douglas, played with exceptional skill "From Log Cabin" (MacDowell), and sang "La Serenata" (Posti). Miss Hazel Allen, of Lake Park, gave a ninteresting report on municipal current events. Miss Annie Gardner, of Camilla, exhibited excellent musicianship in "Serenade" by Sinding, "Valcik" by Krejs, and "Marche Grotesque" by Sinding. The surprise number consisted of an enjoyable group of numbers presented by Misses Margaret Pardee, violinist, and Helen Mean, pianist, of the city.

International Issues Discussed

The International Relations Club held its regular monthly meeting Monday night. The club made study of the League of Nations and disarmament. Several new reports were given on new books recently received by the college library through the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Misses Ruth Dozier, Doris Zittler and Virginia Hutchinson discussed various international problems.

Officers for the year are: President, Miss Mildred Morris, of Camilla; vice-president, Miss Polly Baker, Patterson; secretary, Miss Violet Sheppard, Savannah, treasurer, Miss Rosalind Bleiler, Valdosta.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Vespers

Miss Dorothy Chapman, of Savannah, led the vesper program on Sunday evening. The subject was history of the Bible. Miss Margaret Jennings, of Waycross, gave a talk on Bible History in general, and Miss Lillian Lively, of Atlanta, told of the origin and languages of the Bible.

Vesper services for Thursday took the form of a report of the delegates who attended the Student Volunteer Conference at Decatur. Miss Essy Allgood, of Cairo, led the program, and Misses Lillian Hopper, of Lucedale, Miss.; Nancy Rowland, of Wrightsville; Emily Jennings, of Dawson, and Helen Brasington, of Waycross, gave short talks on the conference, telling of the lectures which they attended and the other interesting features.

Philharmonic Club

The Philharmonic Club held its regular monthly meeting in the rotunda Monday evening with Miss Alice Hicks, of Thomasville, in charge of the program. As opening numbers, Miss Margaret Pardee, ten-year-old violinist, who appeared in concert at Jacksonville last night, played "First Movement from Concerto" (de Beriot) and "Fairies Smiling" (Cecil Burrell). These numbers were especially well rendered, and the young artist received from the club much praise, of which she was highly deserving.

Following this, Miss Dorothy Crocker, of Valdosta, played Mozart's Minuet in E Flat. Miss Marguerite Powell, of Griffin, gave an interesting paper from "Intimate Glimpses into Bach's Life." In this paper it was found that Bach could wash dishes as well as compose music. "Sarabande" and "Gavotte" by Bach were played by Miss Margaret Williams, of Douglas.

A paper entitled "The Orchestra" was read by Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla. As the concluding number, Miss Joyce Roberson, of Screven, played the piano transcription of "My Heart Ever Faithful" (Bach).

Sock and Buskin Club

The Sock and Buskin Club held its monthly meeting last Tuesday evening. Two one-act plays, a translation from the Spanish and a translation from the German, were given as a continuation of the study of continental one-act plays. "A Sunny Morning," by Quintero, was directed by Miss Roselle Hatcher, of Donalsonville. The characters were: Dona Laura, Miss Mary Virginia McKey, of Valdosta; Petra, her maid, Miss Frances Howell, Tifton; Don Gonzalo, Miss Katherine Wall, Ellaville; Juanito, his servant, Miss Pearl Fairchild, Waycross.

The International Relations Club gave a "manless" benefit Valentine dance February 14th in the dining room of Ashley Hall. Carl Simmons and his orchestra furnished the music.

Social Science Classes Entertained

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Durrenberger entertained the sociology and economics classes last week and the international relations class this week at their home.

Argonian Literary Society

Three subjects were debated informally Saturday evening at the meeting of the Argonian Literary Society. They were: Resolved, That the present generation is happier than its grandparents; Resolved, That America is being debauched by salesmanship, and Resolved, That bridge helps to develop the mind.

The speakers for the affirmative on the first subject were: Miss Ruth Dozier, Morgan, and Miss Nancy Rowland, Wrightsville; Misses Leta Mae Stripling, Reidsville, and Elizabeth Wright, Rome, debated the negative side. Misses Rusby McSwain, Vidalia, Louise Johnson, Valdosta, debated the affirmative side of the second subject, with Misses Pauline Forbes, Valdosta, and Blanche Parker, Ogeechee, on the negative. The affirmative side of the third question was upheld by Misses Kate Jones, Riceboro, and Harriet Sheppard, Savannah, with the negative argued by Misses Jean Loughridge, Ocum, and Mildred Minchew, Baxley.

Assembly

Mr. Beswick, of the education department, conducted assembly on Monday morning. He used for his subject the challenge an attainment of modern youth. The Scriptural basis for Mr. Beswick's talk and his inspirational comments proved one of the best talks of the year.

Valdosta Club

The Valdosta Club was delightfully entertained by Miss Martha Jackson at her home on East Moore street Friday evening. Dancing and bridge were enjoyed by the members, after which delicious refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted by Miss Dorothy Stroud.

The Society of Cincinnati, founded in 1783, has a membership of 1200.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THEIR COSTUMES

By Mary Graham Bonner

The costumes worn by the Days and Months and Years in the Grand March taking place back of the world were the most interesting and beautiful and original John and Peggy had ever seen.

Some of them wore snowy costumes, and looked exactly as though they were covered with snow. Others wore costumes of icicles and though Peggy and John thought they might feel cold, they didn't seem to mind these costumes in the least. They were decorated with icicle jewels, too.

Some wore costumes of wheat and barley and looked just like warm, sunny, mid-summer Days. There were costumes of green leaves and spring flowers, of flaming autumn leaves, of pine needles and branches of fir and spruce trees.

Others were wearing costumes decorated with red berries, while still others wore suits made of moss, and out of these suits little violets and trailing arbutus flowers.

Some wore such bright and sunny-looking costumes that Peggy and John could hardly look at them without squinting their eyes as they did on dazzlingly sunny days.

Others were dressed in costumes of flowers so that they looked like beautiful gardens.

There were some who wore such rainy day costumes, and some who wore such heavy, dull gray suits that John and Peggy could hardly see them.

"The Goggy Days," whispered the Little Black Clock.

Some looked so very brilliant, and others looked quite dull. Oh, there was every kind of a costume you could possibly imagine, and they marched around and around the platform while the band played, changing from tune to tune as the different ones in the march passed by.

"This is the most interesting performance I've ever seen," said John, and Peggy agreed that she thought so, too.

The Georgia State Womans College Happenings of the Present Week at Assembly.

Dr. L. T. Lowrie, president of Blue Mountain College in Mississippi, gave a most entertaining talk in assembly Monday. He spoke on "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Because of having the reputation of being honest, industrious and dependable, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, according to the story told by Dr. Lowrie, obtained the first position that started him on the path to riches. Thus a good name may lead to riches, but, said Lowrie, though most people never expect to be rich, they can have and keep a good name if they choose.

G. S. C. W.

The Student Government Association held its regular meeting on Friday evening. Miss Mary Alexander, of Nashville, president of the association, presided. Sir Herbert Ames, former financial director of the League of Nations, spoke on "The Fulfilment of the Promise."

The faculty and student body of G. S. C. W. were entertained in chapel Monday by the report of the delegates sent by the International Relations Clubs of the southeastern states. Miss Mildred Price, of the history department, conducted the meeting. Miss Margaret Brabham, of Moultrie, gave a general outline of the daily events of the conference. Miss Nannie Pope, of Valdosta, president of the International Relations Club, gave a talk on the subject, "What Benefit I Derived from the Conference, and Its Personal Interest for Me."

Doctor W. A. Smart, of the department of theology of Emory University, was the guest of the Young Women's Christian Association during the week-end of the seventh. Dr. Smart is one of the most popular visitors to the campus. His visit is one event that is always anticipated and much appreciated by the girls who meet and know him.

Dr. Lena J. Hawks, of the department of physics and mathematics, spoke in vespers on Sunday evening on the characteristics common to all religions. Some of the characteristics that Dr. Hawks discussed were: A realization of a higher force and the characterization of a god or gods; sacred places of worship, sacred men who administer the religion; an attitude of prayer; some form of sacrifice; a certain amount of law and its observance; a dualistic nature recognizing good and evil; some redemption feature; sacred writings; a system of theology which characterizes only the mature religions. On Thursday evening Miss Es-saye Alligood, of Cairo, spoke on "Truth." Miss Alligood brought many interesting thoughts from various authors who have used "Truth" as a subject.

Members of the Science Club motored to the old Jordan home six miles from Milledgeville Monday afternoon. The purpose of the trip was a study of soil erosion, and the inspection of the historic old Jordan home, which formerly was one of the show places in this section and which still has its slave quarters intact. Dr. L. C. Lindsley, head of the department of chemistry, Miss Lorene Teaver and Miss Martin chaperoned the group. After their sojourn about the estate the girls met on the hillside of the picturesque spot to roast wieners over a bonfire.

The last of the copy for the Spectrum, G. S. C. W. annual, left this week for the press. The annual this year will have a new feature, that of color, and it will be of slightly modernistic designing. Miss Iverson Dews, of Decatur, is editor in chief, and Miss Mary Elliott, of Norcross, is business manager.

The famous beauty special will run Friday, March 14, bearing the students away for the spring holidays. They will go to their homes in the various sections of the state to spend the week-end and will return Monday, March 17.

Diplomas Awarded At Exercises Here

June 6, 1931

Large Class Presented With Diplomas; Dr. Powell Makes Address Program Very Interesting; Many Attend.

An audience of more than 1,500 people packed the high school auditorium and overflowed to the school grounds outside the auditorium to witness the graduation of the largest class in the history of Valdosta high school last night.

Every seat in the orchestra and balcony of the large auditorium was occupied long before the exercises began and people took advantage of all available standing room in the aisles. Outside the auditorium scores of people stood near the auditorium windows and watched the exercises from this point of vantage.

The class of more than 100 graduates marched down the main isles of the auditorium and took their seats on the stage. The young ladies were clad in white and each wore small bouquets; the young men wore white trousers and blue coats.

Rev. J. P. Dell, of the First Methodist Church, delivered the invocation.

Charles Hugh Johns, boy honor graduate, delivered the salutatory address.

Miss Kathryn Connell read an essay on "Idealism."

Harry Luke delivered an oration on "The Price of Progress."

Miss Mary Stanaland rendered a piano solo, "Concert-Etude" (McDowell).

Miss Mabelle Jones, first high honor graduate of the entire class, delivered the valedictory address, the subject of which was "Rosebuds and Poppies."

Miss Jones said in part: "Are you a yellow-breeched philosopher, seeing only what is fair, sipping only what is sweet, mocking at fate and care and leaving the thorn to mar the rose? I would not look at Life with the melancholy and fear of Poe, nor would I accept the fatalism of Arnold, nor the agnosticism of John Dewey, nor the extreme modernism of 'Gloomy Dean' Inge, nor the infidelism of Bernard Shaw; neither would I look upon it with the unconcern of Byron or the fundamentalism of Milton, but I would select the best from these and call my little philosophy 'Rosebuds and Poppies' and name Ralph Waldo Emerson its author."

Continuing, she said: "I believe in the identity of Man with Nature which are the products of God's wisdom and goodness.

"Since the rosebud and the poppy are beautiful they are therefore good because all beauty and all good are identical."

Miss Jones said that "Beauty, truth, goodness and love are the quintessence of my philosophy."

"Emerson's American scholar is my American scholar. A man thinking—made of the same fabric, love and fiber. He has over him three influences: first, nature with orderliness, her beauty, her goodness, her identity with man; second, the record of the past as it is formed in the book. To him the theory of books is noble. . . . Books are to inspire—to inspire one to live his life and not conform it. According to Emerson, the truest mark of a scholar, the most reliable proof of an educated man, is that he hold always an open mind and an attitude to demand all the evidence pertaining to any problem of thought, forming his judgment upon the basis of all these reasons . . . uninfluenced by prejudice whatever.

"Third, the scholar shall be a man of action. He receives unto himself the world of thought. This world within his mind is made into a world of judgment and wisdom. It goes out from him a world of action. . . ."

"This is my philosophy of life, inspired by the contemplation of a rosebud and a poppy. This is my idealism, my transcendentalism—and if the world is ever to be lifted out of the miasma of doubt, fear, ignorance, and vice, herein lies the inspiration; for only through the acceptance of this high notion shall the race build its future civilization and through it will be lifted above the undulating plains of humanity and one must needs cast his eye into the sky to catch the sunlight."

Dr. Richard Holmes Powell delivered the literary address. Dr. Powell gave an outline of the educational history of the state and showed that the graduation class of the high school was one-third as large as the entire number of high school graduates in the states 30 years ago.

The speaker compared the education of the state with that of other states and showed how this state was below the average. This is not because this state is poorer but it is because the people of the state have not become sufficiently aroused to the great need of education, he explained.

Dr. Powell intimated that diversion of highway funds in the state at this time to pay up the educational deficit, at least, would be a good course to follow. The educational forces of the state must unite in creating a public sentiment sufficient to raise us, at least, to the average of the other states of the Union, he declared.

Miss Helen Claire Varnedoe, whose name was not published in earlier articles through an error, received her diploma last night along with those whose names have been published.

Col. Buford Copeland awarded the diplomas to the graduates after Dr. Powell had concluded.

Mr. Emory Bass awarded the American Legion medals to the two highest honor graduates, Miss Jones and Mr. Johns.

SUNDAY MORNING

G. S. W. C.

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Miss Dorothy Chapman, of Savannah, led the vesper program on Sunday evening. The subject was "History of the Bible." Miss Margaret Jennings, of Waycross, gave a talk on Bible history in general, and Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, told of the origin and languages of the Bible.

Vesper service for Thursday took the form of a report of the delegates who attended the Student Volunteer Conference at Decatur. Miss Essye Alligood, of Cairo, led the program, and Miss Lillian Hopper, of Lucedale, Miss.; Miss Nancy Rowland, of Wrightsville; Miss Emily Jennings, of Dawson, and Miss Helen Brasington, of Waycross, gave short talks on the conference, telling of the lectures which they attended and the other interesting features.

The Philharmonic Club held its regular monthly meeting in the rotunda Monday evening with Miss Alice Hicks, of Thomasville, in charge of the program. As opening number, Miss Margaret Pardee, 10-year-old violinist, who will appear in concert at Jacksonville, Fla., next week, played "First Movement from Concerto," de Beriot, and "Fairies Sailing," Cecil Burleigh. These numbers were especially well rendered, and the young artist received from the club much praise, of which she was highly deserving.

Following this, Miss Dorothy Crocker, of Valdosta, played Mozart's "Minuet in E Flat." Miss Marguerite Powell, of Griffin, gave a paper from "Intimate Glimpses into Bach's Life." In this paper it was found that Bach could wash dishes as well as compose music. "Sarabande" and "Gavotte," by Bach, were played by Miss Margaret Williams, of Douglas.

A paper entitled, "The Orchestra," was read by Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla. As the concluding number, Miss Joyce Roberson, of Screven, played the piano transcription of "My Heart Ever Faithful," J. S. Bach.

The Sock and Buskin Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening. Two one-act plays, a translation from the Spanish and a translation from the German, were given as a continuation of the study of continental one-act plays. "A Sunny Morning," by Quintero was directed by Miss Roselle Hatcher, of Donalsonville. The characters were: Dona Laura, Miss Mary Virginia McKey, of Valdosta; Petra, her maid, Miss Frances Howell, Tifton; Don Gonzalo, Miss Katherine Wall, Ellaville, and Juanito, his servant, Miss Pearle Fairchild, Waycross.

"The Third Man," a German translation by Benedix, was directed by Miss Margaret Jennings, Waycross. Hausmann, the father, was played by Miss Marguerite Powell, Griffin; Apollonia, his wife, Miss Margaret Littlefield, Folkston. Their daughter, Adelheid, was played by Miss Myrtice Johnson, Vidalia, and their ward, Klotile, by Miss Winona Parrish, Valdosta.

The Sororian Literary Society informal debates were held last Saturday evening. Three debates were given, each speaker being allowed three minutes with one minute for rebuttal. The first was: Resolved, That the Present Generation Is Happier Than Its Grandparents. On the affirmative were: Miss Dorothy Patterson, Moultrie, and Miss Jessie Norman, Waycross. The negative was supported by Miss Pauline Ryon, Hinesville, and Miss Marjorie Sessions, McRae.

The second debate, Resolved: That America Is Being Debauched by Salesmanship, was given by Miss Sarah Nicholson, Amsterdam, and Miss Mary Poole, Balboa, C. Z., on the affirmative, and on the negative by Miss GeDelle Brabham, Moultrie, and Miss Frances Taylor, Tampla, Fla.

The subject of the third debate was Resolved, That Bridge Helps to Develop the Mind. Supporting the affirmative were Miss Dorothy Bryant, Moultrie, and Miss Mary E. Flanagan, Waycross. On the negative were Miss Florence Powell, Griffin, and Miss Helen Brasington, Waycross.

The International Relations Club of the Georgia State Woman's College gave a "manless" benefit Valentine dance, February 14, in the dining room of Ashley Hall. Carl Simmons and his orchestra furnished the music.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Durrenberger entertained the sociology and economics classes last week and the International Relations class this week at their home.

Three subjects were debated informally Saturday evening at the meeting of the Argonian Literary Society. They were: "Resolved That the Present Generation Is Happier Than Its Grandparents;" "Resolved, That America Is Being Debauched by Salesmanship," and "Resolved, That Bridge Helps to Develop the Mind."

The speakers for the affirmative on the first subject were Miss Ruth Dozier, Morgan; Miss Nancy Rowland, Wrightsville. Miss Leta Mac Stripling, Reidsville, and Miss Elizabeth Wright, Rome, debated the negative side of the question. Miss Ruby McSwain, Vidalia, and Miss Louise Johnson, Valdosta, debated the affirmative of the second subject.

Miss Pauline Forbes, Valdosta, and Miss Blanche Parker, Ogeechee, spoke for the negative. The affirmative side of the third question was defended by Miss Kate Jones, Riceboro, and Miss Harriet Shepard, Savannah. The negative side was argued by Miss Jean Loughridge, Odum, and Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley.

Mr. Beswick, of the education department, conducted assembly on Monday morning.

The Valdosta Club, of Georgia State Woman's College, was entertained by Miss Martha Jackson at her home on East Moore Street, Friday evening. Dancing and bridge were enjoyed by the members. The hostess was assisted by Miss Dorothy Stroud.

Sept. 26, 1931

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

The college opened on Sept. 14 with a most satisfactory enrollment, being very considerably larger than that of last year. The enrollment of the freshman class, numbering 155, is also most gratifying, a very large percentage being honor graduates of high schools. The college has always stood for quality of service as a prime consideration, so that the high quality of new students is most satisfactory to the faculty.

Dr. Powell Speaks

Dr. Powell, as is customary, was the speaker at the first Student Government Meeting of the year, which assembled in the rotunda last night. After assuring the student group of his deep interest in their organization, he gave a brief and worth while discussion of the duty of every student in enforcing the laws of the association. At the conclusion of Dr. Powell's speech, Miss Lillian Lively, of Savannah, Student Government president, introduced the new monitors, after which the meeting adjourned by singing the "Pine Branch."

Assembly

"Judge not, that ye be not judged" was the appropriate Scripture chosen by Dr. Powell in his address to the student body in the chapel program last Monday morning. "In these first days when students are striving to adjust themselves to new situations and to new friends," declared the president, "we are inclined to judge one another rather severely, and very often we allow our first impressions of people to become lasting ones."

In the course of his message the president advised that students be careful in their judgments of other people, and that they make friends with each other, thus aiding in the problems of adjustment which occur at the beginning of every school year.

As a means of establishing pleasant relations between the president and the new students, Dr. Powell invited all the "big" sisters to bring their "little sisters" in to see him.

On Wednesday the ministers of the city conducted the chapel exercises and extended invitations to their respective churches.

First Social Affair of Year

The first social affair of the year was the Little Sister-Big Sister Party given Saturday evening, Sept. 19, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The girls gathered in the rotunda of Ashley Hall for an informal reception. During the evening games, contests and "handless" dancing afforded entertainment. Throughout the year the Y. W. C. A. sponsors many affairs which make social life on the campus enjoyable.

Freshman Training Classes

The freshmen have been trained this week in the rules and regulations of the Student Government Association. Each afternoon, old members of the association have met groups of freshmen for the purpose of advising them what they can and cannot do at G. S. W. C. After the course is completed, and each freshman has passed an examination on the subject, she will then be eligible to sign the pledge and become a member of the association.

Another training course of interest for freshmen is the course in the use of the library, taught by faculty members.

Valdosta Club Starts Activities

The Valdosta Club met yesterday morning to discuss plans for the coming year and especially plans for entertaining new members. Because of the withdrawal of the president, Miss Louise Clifford, the vice-president, Miss Martha Jackson, presided.

Faculty Will Entertain

This evening the faculty will entertain the student body at the annual reception. Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Powell and members of the faculty will receive the guests in the rotunda of Ashley Hall.

An informal program will be an enjoyable part of the entertainment. Misses Elizabeth McRee and Helen Ryon will give an unusually interesting interpretation of the Skater's Waltz. The Spanish Serenade by Sarasate will be played by Mrs. Frances B. Pardee, violinist. Proposal (old style and new style), and "Why Doesn't She Come?" from She-Shanti (A. P. Herbert), will be read by Miss Louise Sawyer. "Fiddle and I," by Goodlevé, will be presented by Misses Alimae Temple and Gladys Warren.

Philharmonic Clubs Organize

The Philharmonic Club held a get-together meeting Wednesday evening. Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla, the president, presided. The object of this meeting was to acquaint new members and those interested in becoming members with the purposes of the club. Miss Gladys Warren, head of the music department, is the faculty adviser.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Y. W. C. A. Activities

The plans for Y. W. C. A. activities for the first part of the year center around great philosophies. The problems and the dangers of the formation of a philosophy of life were felt to be a vital one to the students, and is being attacked by a study of the philosophers of all ages. Miss Annie P. Hopper introduced the subject Sunday evening with a talk on Plato. The plan is to use the Sunday night vesper service in this study, and the Thursday night services for discussion groups. These groups will be led by members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, who will use as subjects questions brought up by the girls themselves.

The Pine Branch staff met last week at the house in the woods for a business and social meeting. The faculty advisers, Miss Gertrude Gilmer, Dr. H. S. Gulliver, Miss Sapelo Treanor, Dr. Earl Phelan, gave many helpful suggestions toward making the Pine Branch this year even more successful than in the past.

Philharmonic Club Meets

The Philharmonic Club held its first meeting of the year Monday evening. After a short business conference, Miss Margaret Zipplies of Savannah, opened the program by playing with keen music sensitiveness Nocture in F Sharp Major, by Chopin. Interesting happenings in the musical world were reported on by Misses Louise Ambos, Savannah, and Mildred Fokes, Montezuma. Miss Ruth Webb, Tifton, sang "Hills of Home," by Fox. Miss Ada Jewell Cochran, of Camilla, displayed musicianship in "Romance," by Tschaikowski. Miss Edwina Arnold, of Fort Gaines, closed the program with a skillful rendition of "Rustle of Spring," by Sinding.

Fine Arts Club Issues Bids

Bids to the Fine Arts Club have been extended to the following girls: Misses Elizabeth McElvey, Elizabeth Powell, Matilda Plowden, Roberta McEachren, Lucille Rhymes, all of Valdosta; Virginia Bickley, Ocilla; Reba Harrison, Boston, and Nina May Holliman, Savannah. The old members of the club who are back are: Emeliza Swain, Rome, president; Elizabeth Pardee, Thomasville, secretary; Ruby McSwain, Vidalia; Margaret Warfield, Savannah; Elsie Quarterman, Ray City; Dorothy Courtney, Valdosta.

The first meeting of the Fine Arts Club was held at the house in the woods on Wednesday, Oct. 14. The meeting was for the purpose of welcoming the new members. The constitution of the club was read to the new members in order to acquaint them with the purposes of the organization. After a short business meeting, games concerning art were played. An interesting contest was the one in which each girl was given a package containing an assortment of materials, and asked to make some work of art. The packages contained such articles as modelling clay, soap, sand and toothpicks pencil and paper. Attractive prizes were awarded the best artists in the group.

Students Give Math Program

The Euclidian Club enjoyed a very interesting program last Wednesday night. Among the features was a talk by Miss Mary Poole on "Math in the Home." Miss Mary Glover also gave a talk on the Pythagorean theory. The program committee reported on the nature of the programs for the remainder of the year at this meeting.

Literary Societies Meet Tonight

The Argonian and Sororian Literary Societies have for this year divided the members into groups with a lead of reach group. These groups will at different times during the year give competitive programs, the group giving the best program will be entertained by the other groups. The first of the group programs will be given this evening. The Argonian leader, Miss Mildred Talley, of Rome, has selected for the first program "The Four Greatest Living Biographers: Strachey of England, Ludwig of Germany, Bradford of America, and Maurois of France." The Sororian leader, Mrs. C. K. Beale, of Valdosta, has selected for her subject, "Georgia Poets and Fiction Writers."

Miss Annie Lou Stanaland, of Pavo, and Miss Virginia Mathis, of Ashburn, alumnae of G. S. W. C., were among the recent guests on the campus.

Athletics

October 13 was a lucky day for the Kappa Athletic Association, for on that day their new president was elected. The election created more interest than any held on the campus in some time, due to the popularity of the nominees and to the revived interest in athletics this year. After a heated match, Miss Louise McMichael, Quitman, was announced as the new president. The other officers of the organization are: Vice-president, Ruby McSwain, Vidalia; secretary-treasurer, Gedelle Brabham, Moultrie, and scorekeeper, Elsie Quarterman, Ray City.

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—The Georgia State Woman's College has been accredited by the American Association of Teachers Colleges as a class A teachers' college, which means that the teacher training of the college meets the requirements of the highest standardizing agency for teacher training institutions.

The Woman's College at Valdosta was admitted to the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, commonly known as the Southern Association, two years ago, as an accredited A grade liberal arts college.

These two honors are an excellent indication that the policy of the college combining the two purposes have been well approved. The Georgia State Woman's College is a liberal arts college in which those students who have no professional objective find their studies favorably influenced by the presence of professionally interested fellow-students. It is a "teachers' college" (not a normal school), in which the trade school point of view is broadening and refined by the presence of those interested in culture as such.

Miss Margaret Sumner, of Poulan, Ga., was elected by popular vote this week to preside as queen at the old English May Day festival which will be given on the first day of May. Miss Sumner is a petite blond who has taken an active interest in student activities. As a member of the Sock and Buskin Club, she has made several public appearances in dramatic productions. At the Ritz Theater last week she has one of the leading roles in "The Youngest," a play by Philip Barry. Other outstanding work Miss Sumner has done on the campus this year has been in the Y. W. C. A.; she has served as its president during the current year. At the same election Miss Evelyn Blanton, of Columbus, won the second number of votes, and will therefore be Miss Sumner's maid of honor.

"Le Cercle Francais," a French club of the Georgia State Woman's College, held a meeting Monday evening. After the business meeting, several French songs were sung, and a little play was given in French, entitled "Une Visite." Those in the play were Miss Hazel Allen, of Lake Park; Miss Marguerite Powell, of Griffin; Miss Rosalind Bleiler, of Valdosta; Miss Myrtice Johnson, of Vidalia, Miss Helen Bishop, of Unadilla, and Miss Margaret Bischoff, of Savannah. Miss Louise Johnson, of Valdosta, had charge of the program.

The Fine Arts Club held its regular meeting in the house in the woods on Tuesday evening. The general topic for discussion was methods of painting. By way of introduction, Miss Mary Elizabeth Boyd, of Valdosta, gave an explanation of different methods of painting. Mural painting was discussed by Miss Sara Emily Ward, of Rome, and Miss Emeliza Swain, of Rome, told of the methods and values of the old glaze method. The culminating discussion of the evening was made by Miss Margaret Parrish, of Valdosta, on "Impressionistic vs. Academic Methods of Painting."

A golf tournament between members of the two athletic associations was held on Saturday afternoon. Miss Ruby McSwain, of Vidalia, won first place; Miss Vera Estelle Parker, of Waycross, second place, and Miss Dorothy Bryant, of Moultrie, placed third. The Phi Kappa Athletic Association won the tournament by a close margin.

Vesper for Sunday evening was a continuation of the study of hymns that has been pursued for the past few services.

Miss Lillian Sumner, of Poulan, was the leader, and Miss Frances Mullins, of Baconton, and Miss Martha Horton, of Rome, talked on the origin and authors of several of the modern hymns. These were sung by the choir as they were discussed by the speakers.

The annual field day of the Georgia State Woman's College was held on the college athletic field Wednesday afternoon, under the direction of Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the department of physical education, and Miss Elizabeth McRae, her assistant. The events of the afternoon began with a grand march of the Phi Kappa and Phi Lambda Athletic Association. The lines of girls, dressed in trim white gym suits and wearing their association ties of purple or red, circled the field and made formations which ended in a closed group of Lambdas at one end of the field, and the Kappas at the other.

Groups of college girls in effective triangular formation gave a folk dance, Norwegian Mountain march, holding their triangle together with purple and red kerchiefs, thus interpreting the idea of mountain climbers roped together for safety.

The freshman gym classes lined up to the tradition of a "freshman drill" in their "C licking dumb-bell drill," using their dumb-bells to keep time to the music, and performing a number of gymnastic evaluations.

As soon as the freshmen were off the field, other groups appeared for a second dance, Gustaf's Skoal. This was followed by a brisk Russian dance, Raz, Dva, Tre; this dance was unique in that the group sang the chorus of the melody as they danced.

The use of low hurdles as a track event is new at G. S. W. C., but although the girls have not perfected their form in this sport to a great degree, they entered it with enthusiasm. Miss Ernestine Baker, of Pavo, won the first place.

Basket ball throw for distance and running broad jump were run off simultaneously. The places in basket ball distance throw went to Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta. Those winning running broad jump were led by Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta.

Running high jump, soccer ball kick, and basket ball goal shooting were run off simultaneously. First place in running high jump went to Miss Gussie O'Quinn, of Jesup, and Miss Willie Lee, of Ray City. In soccer ball Miss Katherine Stovall won first place. The basket ball goal shooting contest was won by Miss Gussie O'Quinn, of Jesup, Miss Grace Chastain, of Thomasville, and Miss Helen Bishop.

A series of races and relays finished the athletic events of the afternoon. In the 60-yard dash, Miss Grace Chastain, of Thomasville, won first place.

At the close of the races the judges awarded the ribbons to those girls who won places, and announced that the Phi Kappas Athletic Association was the winner of field day.

The individual winners of field day were Miss Gussie O'Quinn, of Jesup; Miss Ernestine Baker, of Pavo, and Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta.

Happenings of the Present Week at The Georgia State Womans College

Dr. Powell at Assembly

Religion is not a complex thing made of creeds, dogmas and rituals, according to President R. H. Powell in a talk made to the students of the college at assembly on Monday. He quoted several verses in which Christ or one of the Apostles defined religion simply as living justly and humbly, helping one's fellow man and being reverent.

French Club Organized

Miss Antoinette Westborn, head of the modern language department of the college, has organized a French Club, "Le Cercle Francais." The first meeting was held Saturday evening, at which time plans were made for the future activities of the club.

February Pine Branch Off Press

The February number of "The Pine Branch," student periodical, came off the press last week. Several stories and a poem are featured in this issue, as well as interesting accounts of student activities. "My Gypsy Heart" is the poem by Miss Frances Howell, of Tifton. "A Child, More Than All Other Gifts," a story by Mrs. C. K. Beale, Valdosta, tells of the struggles of a young man against the handicap of blindness. Miss Emily Hallyburton, Griffin, in "An Apology," relates a misunderstanding through delayed mails. "Enchantment," by Mrs. Mary J. Pence, Valdosta, is a story of a young matron seeking an affair. It will be continued in the March number of the Pine Branch. The editor, Miss Marguerite Powell, of Griffin, has written a very worth while editorial on the real meaning of student government at G. S. W. C. Activities of the various clubs, societies, the Y. W. C. A. and social entertainments on the campus are included in this issue, as well as news of the alumnae, and several entertaining jokes.

Vespers

Miss Quinnie Carmack, of Vienna, was the leader at vesper service Sunday evening. The program concluded a series of discussions of the Bible. Miss Inez Hatcher, of Donalsonville, gave the history of the Apocrypha, and some of the interring facts contained in it. Miss Clarice Worsham, of Meigs, spoke on the modern use of the Bible from an individual standpoint.

The Thursday evening service began a series of talks on woman. Miss Florence Powell, of Griffin, was the leader, and Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women of the college, spoke on the history of the development of woman and her contributions to society.

Winners in Informal Debates

The winners of the Sororian Literary Society informal debates which were held last week were: Miss Helen Brasington, Waycross, first place; Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, Waycross, second place, and Miss Marjorie Sessions, McRae, third.

In the Argonian Literary Society the winners were: Miss Elizabeth Wright, of Rome, first place; Miss Mildred Minchew, Baxley, second, and Miss Ruth Dozier, Morgan, third.

Fine Arts Program Meeting

The Fine Arts Club held its regular program meeting in the Art Studio in West Hall on Tuesday evening. Continuing the study of the arts begun at the last meeting, Miss Sara Emily Ward, of Rome, discussed wood cuts, giving their uses and their influence on modern art life. Miss Nelle Robinson, of Nichols, gave a talk on engraving, as an art in itself and in connection with other minor arts. Miss Elsie Quarterman, of Valdosta, spoke on lithographs, giving a brief history of the art and taking up the subject more especially from the standpoint of English and American lithographs.

Athletics

Basketball and soccer season on the campus was brought to a close by the two games played last week. The first games of the week, and the second of the series, were played between the Kappa and Lambda Athletic Associations on Tuesday afternoon.

The Lambdas seem to have a gift for playing soccer, for they won the game on Tuesday with a score of 2 to 0, but they had a somewhat harder job to win on Friday, and it was only by a foul in the penalty area that they gained the privilege of a free kick, and won the game with a final score of 1 to 0, thus winning the series for the Phi Lambda Association.

The line-up for the Lambda team for both games was: Misses Helen Brasington, Waycross; Vera Estelle Parker, Waycross; Sara Wadley, Waycross; Louise McNair, Auburn; Marguerite Powell, Griffin; Elnita Culpepper, Fort Gaines; Cleo Griffin, Ochlocknee; Sara Nicholson, Amsterdam, and Margaret Sumner, Poulap.

The line-up for the Kappa team in both games was as follows: Misses Ruby McSwain, of Lyons; Katherine Stovall, Waycross; Winona Patterson, Alamo; Frances Mullins, Baconton; Reba Harrison, Boston; Sally Faircloth, Pitts; Kathleen Glisson, Bainbridge; Frances Taylor, Tampa, Fla.; Mildred Morris, Brinson, and Lillian Hopper, Lucedale, Miss.

However, if the Lambdas have a knack for playing soccer, the Kappas must have one for basketball. The score in the first game was 23 to 10 in favor of the Kappas, and the second game, though much harder fought, still went to the Kappa Association with a score of 25 to 11, winning this series for them.

The Lambda line-up for both games was: Misses Mary O'Quinn, Patterson; Ila Poppell, Homer-ville; Helen Bishop, Unadilla; Margaret Bullock, Adel; Emily Burney, Boston; Florence Powell, Griffin, and Sara Emily Ward, Rome.

Line-up for the Kappas in both games included: Misses Grace Chastain, Thomasville; Carolyn Smith, Albany; Vera Crosby, Pavo; Alice McCall, Thomasville; Elsie Quarterman, Valdosta; GeDelle Brabham, Moultrie; Dorothy Bryant, Moultrie; Margaret Brabham, Moultrie, and Ruth Dozier, Morgan.

Seniors Finish Exams

The seniors of the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta completed their examinations this week and are busy on the play "Prunella, or Love in a Dutch Garden," which they will present to the public on Monday, June 8th. All other students will complete examinations next week in readiness for the commencement activities which will open on June 6th and conclude June 10th.

Student Recital

The last of the student recitals was given on Tuesday afternoon in the rotunda of Ashley Hall. Miss Gladys Warren, head of the music department, presented Misses Jimmie Arnold, of Forsyth; Margaret Williams, of Douglas; Louise Clifford, of Valdosta; Carolyn Bullard, of Nashville, and Lois Gardner, of Camilla. Miss Ruth Scott, of the voice department, presented Misses Louise Johnson, of Valdosta; Margaret Morrison, of Valdosta, and Madge Ingram, of Cairo. Mrs. Frances B. Pardee presented the following violin students: Misses Jessie Mae Prescott, of Lake Park; Jeanette Hall, of Sparks, and Frances Copeland, of Valdosta.

Assembly

The senior class had charge of assembly exercises last Monday. It was in the form of a class prophecy, showing a reunion of the class in 1951. Misses Jean Loughridge, of Odum, president of the class, and Margaret Jennings, of Waycross, were the first at the reunion, and as the different members of the class came in, they told what each profession was engaged in. Some were leading members of Flo Ziegfeld's Follies, one was successor to Mrs. Dull, and one member of the class had succeeded Miss Hopper as dean of women.

Art Students On Picnic

The Fine Arts Club held its last regular meeting of the year on Tuesday in the form of a picnic at one of the lakes near the city. At this meeting the new officers, Miss Emeliza Swain, of Rome, president, and Miss Elizabeth Pardee, of Thomasville, secretary-treasurer, were installed and took charge of the meeting.

Athletic Council Entertained

Miss Leonora Ivey, head of the physical education department, and Miss Elizabeth McRee, assistant director, entertained the members of the old and new athletic councils of the two associations at an informal picnic and hike on Wednesday afternoon. The faculty members who have assisted in games between the Kappas and Lambdas throughout the year were also guests at the picnic. The permanent athletic council for next year will consist of: Lambdas, Misses Helen Brasington, of Waycross, president; Emily Burney, Boston, vice-president; Vera Parker, Waycross, secretary-treasurer, and Florence Powell, Griffin, official scorer. The Kappa members are Misses Alice McCall, Thomasville, president; Ruby McSwain, Vidalia, vice-president; Gedelle Brabham, Moultrie, secretary-treasurer, and Elsie Quarterman, Valdosta, official scorer. The Athletic Association Council went on an overnight hike into the lake section below the city on Saturday, returning some time the next day. The experiment was a great success, as most of the girls are veteran hikers, and used to "roughing it."

University Women Meet

The Valdosta chapter of the American Association of University Women held a regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. G. Dickerson on Slater street. Miss Mildred Price and Mrs. J. A. Durrenberger presented a study of peace agencies in the world today. Mrs. J. P. Grace, of the Valdosta high school English faculty, discussed the Pulitzer prize winners of the year in a most entertaining way.

Seniors Entertained at Bridge

Miss Annie P. Hopper, dean of women, and Misses Iva Chandler, Helen Ryon, Caroline Parrish, Mildred Larsen and Evelyn Deariso entertained the seniors at a bridge party at the Woman's Building on Friday evening. Garden flowers were used in artistic arrangements throughout the room where the game was enjoyed.

Ladder Tennis Tournament

The finals of a ladder tennis tournament which has been in progress for the last two weeks were played off Friday afternoon. Miss Ila Poppell, of Homerville, won first place; Miss Emily Elkins, of Waycross, second, and Miss Carolyn Smith, of Albany, third place.

Dr. Smart Spoke Last Night On the Bible

Dr. W. A. Smart, professor of Biblical theology at Emory University, who is conducting a series of services at the college, spoke by request on the Bible last evening.

Dr. Smart opened his talk by saying that most of the discussion would be given to "What the Bible is and how we misuse it." He further took as a part of the thesis for discussion a quotation from a message by H. Churchill King: "The Bible is a literary expression of the religious development of the Hebrew people culminating in Jesus."

After giving the meaning of the word "Bible" as used in the Greek and Latin, showing that the word suggests a collection of books, Dr. Smart said he was sympathetic with the idea that it was inspired or it would probably never have lasted through the criticism of the years.

Probably the speaker has never been more lucid in his many helpful sermons and discussions than in his rich suggestiveness of example to show that the Bible is a collection of literature with all the figurativeness, irony, humor and pathos of other great literary products, but Dr. Smart went on to say it is valuable because "the Bible is a collection of literature with the emphasis placed on religion."

"I have no patience with people who try to prove everything by the Bible," said the speaker. "People should use the Bible for what it was intended. People are sure to come to disillusionment if they use the Bible to interpret every thing which comes in the range of man's experience."

"When people do turn to the Bible for religious usage, they should realize that everything in its teachings is not on the same level. John Wesley said there were certain Psalms which should never be on the lips of a Christian."

Then with telling emphasis Dr. Smart continued the message of the evening which culminated in the logical conclusion that "the Bible is a literary expression of religious development—a collection of books which gives the story of a savage people from age to age, culminating in the life of Jesus; however, the comfort, standards of life, and ideals will continue to inspire us to live more like Jesus."

Dr. Smart will continue the series of services at the college through tomorrow. He will speak on "Morals In a Changing Age" at the service this evening at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow he will speak at 11 o'clock and at 7:30 in the rotunda of Ashley Hall.

Dr. W. A. Smart, professor of Biblical theology at Emory University, who has been guest speaker at the college the past week, will continue the services through tomorrow, speaking at 11 o'clock in the rotunda of Ashley Hall and again at 7:30 in the evening. Tonight at 7 o'clock he will speak on "Morals In a Changing Age."

Luncheon Honoring Dr. Smart

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Powell entertained at a luncheon in honor of Dr. W. A. Smart on Tuesday. The other guests were the ministers of the city.

Tea On Wednesday

The Y. W. C. A. entertained with a tea in the rotunda of Ashley Hall on Wednesday afternoon complimenting Dr. Smart, their guest speaker of the week. Members of the Y. W. cabinet presided at the tea table. The program given was opened by Miss Annie Lois Gardner, of Camilla, playing "Serenade," by Sinding, and "Valcik," by Mokhejs. Miss Margaret Lindsey's lyric soprano voice was well displayed in "A Birthday," by Woodman. Miss Marie Gaskins, of Nashville, read with keen appreciation "The Happy Prince," by Wilde. Miss Mary Elaine Flanagan, of Waycross, sang "Tre Giorni," by Pergolesi, and "A Brown Bird Singing," by Haydn Wood. Miss Margaret Ziplies, of Savannah, displayed her unusual musicianship in "Etude de Concert," by Swinestead.

Outdoor Fireplace

A new addition to the campus is an open fireplace of generous proportions in the long leaf pines to the north of Ashley Hall where groups of girls may go to prepare picnic meals. Sunday evening a short fire ceremonial service was held. Miss Winona Patterson, of Alamo, lighted the fire and dedicated it to the beauties of the campus. Miss Elizabeth Durden, of Graymont, read her favorite passages on fires. The group sang "Day Is Dying."

Glee Club Complimented

Miss Alimae Temple, director of the Glee Club, entertained last week with a dinner at the home of Mrs. T. H. McKey on Patterson street complimenting the Glee Club girls who are on the committee for the formation of Glee Club programs and plans. Those present were Misses Elizabeth Pardee, of Thomasville, president of the club; Margaret Williams, of Douglas; Mary Elaine Flanagan, of Waycross; Ada Jewel Cochran, of Camilla; Ruth Webb, of Tifton, and Mary Poole, of Balboa Canal Zone.

Study of Year's Best Plays

Miss Carolyn Brim, of Sasser, will be the leader of the program in the Argonian Literary Society this evening. The discussion will center around some of the best plays of the year. Miss Lois Tucker, of Moultrie, will review "Elizabeth the Queen," and Miss Julia Manning, of Bainbridge, will impersonate Elizabeth. Miss Marjorie White, of Sylvester, will give a report of "Alison's House," and Miss Emily Forrester, of Cairo, will impersonate the character, Emily Dickinson. "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be reviewed by Miss Ruth Ellis, of Savannah, and Elizabeth Browning will be impersonated by Miss Frances Arrington, of Ellaville.

The Soroian program will be similar. "Elizabeth, the Queen" will be reviewed by Miss Verda Van Landingham, of Cairo, and impersonated by Miss Montine Floyd, of Baxley. "Alison's House" will be reviewed by Miss Dorothy Chapman, of Savannah, and Miss Helena Durham, of Savannah, will impersonate Emily Dickinson. Miss Margaret Bischoff, of Savannah, will report on "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and Miss Elizabeth White, of Cordele, will impersonate Elizabeth Barrett Browning.
