Atlanta Music Club to Sponsor Operalogue Friday

IN order to familiarize Atlantians with the music and libretto of Mozart's opera comique, "Cosi Fan Tutte," which will be presented at the city auditorium on Monday night, January 15, the Atlanta Music club, sponsoring the opera, has arranged an operalogue for Friday morning, January 12, at 10:30 o'clock, in the New Edison hall, corner of Peachtree and Ellis streets.

Several of Atlanta's best known singers have consented to assist in the program. They are Mrs. Grace Lee Brown Townsend, soprano; Mrs. Kurt Mueller, mezzo-soprano; Mr. J. Morris, bass-baritone, and Miss Eda Bartholomew at the piano. The reader for the occasion will be Miss Madeline Keipp, well known Atlanta musician.

The music of "Cosi Fan Tutte," or the "School for Lovers," is said to be a constant flow of beautiful melody throughout, in Mozart's most delightful style. The trios, duets and ensembles are saturated with the Mozartian spirit, and especially is the celestial duet for the two sisters one of the highest flights of pure vocal loveliness accomplished even by Mozart, the master of all writers for the voice.

In the hands of these local artists, the solo, duet and trio work of the opera will be charmingly presented, and the operalogue will be the only opportunity for members of the Music club and their friends to become more thoroughly acquainted with its musical score and libretto. All members of the Music club are invited and urged to attend the operalogue, and each member will be allowed the privilege of bringing one guest.

Briefly summarized, the story of "Cosi Fan Tutte" is as follows: Two young officers, Ferrando and Guglielmo, are so sure of the constancy of their sweethearts, Fiordiligi and Dorabella, that they resent the skepticism of Don Alfonso, a cynical older man. They make a wager with him and agree to follow his directions in a test of their lady loves' fidelity. Don Alfonso enlists the aid of Despina, maid to the sweethearts.

Ferrando and Guglielmo pretend to be summoned away to war and bid their loved ones a tearful adieu. They return almost immediately disguised as Albanian noblemen and pay violent court, each to the other's sweetheart. Rebluffed, they pretend to take poison. Despina, disguised as a doctor, saves them. The suit is continued. Dorabella first capitulates to Guglielmo, without seeing through his disguise; then Fiordiligi succumbs to the violent wooing of the now thoroughly exasperated Ferrando. Despina impersonates a notary and a wedding to the supposed Albanians is about to take place when the martial music announces the return of the soldiers. The lovers enter in their rightful attire, "discover" the fickleness of their fair ones, and then reveal the hoax. "Cosi Fan Tutte," sings Don Alfonso, who has won the wager. The phrase is translated as "They are all doing it."

SUMMER SCHOOL TO OPEN JUNE 9

The Georgia State Womans
College Is Preparing For
Very Large Attendance

AN ACCREDITED COLLEGE

The summer session of the Georgia State Womans College at Valdosta will open June 9th. With the equipment installed this year, with the added prestige of membership in the Southern Association of Colleges, and with the increased strength of its faculty, the summer school promises to be one of the best in the history of the institution.

It is not generally known that though the Georgia State Womans College at Valdosta is one of the youngest institutions in the state, its summer school is one of the longest established. The college has made a very careful study of the needs of teachers in service and has increased offerings as teachers have enlarged their demands, always keeping abreast with the educational progress of the state and contributing its part to this progress.

In the five week session the college co-operates with the state department of education in the regular summer institute work. In its nine week session it offers standard college work in various departments.

It is a matter of pride to the college that it has always offered to the summer students a faculty which is equal to the faculty of the regular session, to a very large extent the same faculty.

The college promotes a very delightful social atmosphere, and offers a program of entertainment without extra charge. Possibly in no other way has this pioneer institution in South Georgia served the state better than in providing, as it has always done, the highest type of educational opportunity for those who can attend college only in the summer.

The college authorities are looking for a large attendance and are laying plans to make it the most successful season the institution has ever had. The fact that the college was added to the group of accredited colleges during the year has given new impetus to its work and to the enthusiasm of its friends throughout the state.

G. S. W. College

VALDOSTA, Ga.—Registration at Georgia State Woman's College was completed last week. Although there are a few more students than on previous years, the college has made the best beginning and started work more promptly than ever before.

Only four students entered by examination this fall and these were graduates of four-year high schools of the non-accredited type.

Further evidence of the development of the college is the fact that the registrar's office has expanded so that it has overflowed into the board room.

Many new books for all departments have been added to the library, and new equipment has been added to the laboratories.

Dr. Ruth Buka, of Germany, the French and German professor, has arrived after having been detained several days due to the fact that she had only a student passport while a teacher's passport was necessary to begin her work at G. S. W. C.

Rev. A. B. Lipscomb, of the Church of Christ, conducted the devotional exercises in chapel Wednesday morning.

Before the bids were given to the new members, competitive games between the old and new girls and dancing were enjoyed. Music was furnished by Horn's Orchestra. After new members had received their bids they were pinned with their associate colors. The Phi Kappa and Phi Lambda pep songs were a characteristic part of the music. The entertainment ended with a grand march which was led by the two presidents, Miss Margaret Brabham, of Moultrie, and Miss Lillian Exum, of Walstonburg, N. C.

MAN Y PRESENT TO ENDORSE F. D. R. FOR HIS EFFORTS

Representative Gathering of Lowndes Farmers Favor Administration Plan

A well attended meeting of representative and leading farmers of Lowndes county yesterday afternoon at the court house, after hearing a full and complete discussion of the cotton processing tax and the entire program of the AAA, adopted resolutions heartily endorsing the Roosevelt administration, and condemning criticism and opposition which has developed in some sources.

The meeting was called at the suggestion of numbers of farmers, who are vitally concerned over the agricultural situation, and it attracted a large number of the most successful and conservative farmers of the county.

County Agent R. E. Miller, Judge J. F. McCrackin, H. Y. Tillman, H. V. Lane and others discussed various phases of the agricultural adjustment program. It was pointed out, in discussions of the processing taxes, that numbers of people who are not in sympathy with these efforts to relieve the agricultural situation do not understand the operation of the taxes and their opposition grows out of lack of information.

It was shown, by authoritative figures, that the processing tax on cotton makes a difference of 3 cents in the price of a man's cotton shirt and 8 cents in the price of a pair of overalls. While it was shown that there have been much greater increases in prices than this amount the increases are not due to the cotton processing tax.

It was further shown, in discussing the matter of processing taxes affecting export of cotton goods, that on all cotton goods exported the processing tax is refunded.

Those present recalled that two years ago they were selling cotton at around 5 cents per pound, while at the present time it is twelve cents per pound. It was also recalled that while two years ago hogs were selling at less than two and a half cents per pound, at the present time they are above seven cents per pound.

It was also shown that the processing taxes are no more nor less than a tariff which has been levied for the protection of the producing farmer. It was pointed out in the discussions that whereas the farmers have always been forced to buy goods which were protected by a tariff this is the first instance in the history of the United States that the farmers have enjoyed the benefits of
