SAC meeting well attended

By CHARIA THORNHILL
News Editor
On October 22-24, Valdosta State College hosted the fall meeting of the Student Advisory Council to the University System of Georgia Board of Regents.

During committee meetings, each of the three SAC committees discussed possible proposals for presentation to Board of Regents. Topics considered by the Student Life committee were the gathering of information on Student Health Centers and infirmaries at different schools to see what improvements can be made for those schools who feel that their health services are insufficient for their student populations, and the possibilities of obtaining visitation policies for the four schools in the system which do not presently allow visitation. Those schools are Ft. Valley College, meeting at Gainesville Junior College in Gainesville.

Albany State College, Savannah State, and Middle Georgia College

The Academic Affairs committee discussed the Re-committee was concerned with the task of revising the SAC Constitution. This committee also voted to hold its winter faculty who grade the exams. The committee hoped to determine the criteria for grading the exam as well as find how consistently students and faculty feel the exam is graded. Also discussed was the grading system for required, as well as elective, physical education courses. Noted was the fact that some schools use the "pass/fail" system of grading while others use the traditional letter grade method. The committee was interested in establishing a uniform grading criteria for these courses.

The SAC meets with the Board of Regents once a year. It was announced that the coming year's meeting would be in Atlanta on January 11

Grashin Brown, VSC Student Government President, said, "we had one of the best attendances I've seen at SAC conferences. Enthusiasm and an earnest desire to accomplish goals was expressed by all SAC members." Twenty-three schools of the thirty-three in the system were represented with more than fifty delegates present.
President Hugh Bailey, who spoke at the banquet concluding the weekend event said, "I understand that this was one of the largest conferences. I'm certainly pleased and I want to commend our Student Government officers for doing an excellent job of coordinating the affair."

Debate budget cut

By JAMES HENDRICKS
SPECTATOR EDITOR
Among the Valdosta State student organizations that were allotted less student activity fees money this year is the VSC debate team. The team, coached by Mr. Kent Colbert, was given $1500 this year as opposed to the $3500 it was awarded last year.

Colbert said that he felt the reduced funding would have ill effects on the debate team. "This is a great loss because VSC can not attract high calibre students that debate brings in," Colbert said. He noted that while VSC was spending only $1500 on the debate team, other schools which VSC had beaten were spending as much as $20,000. Colbert said the reduction in funding hurt especially since the "talent in debate at VSC and the surrounding area is phenomenal." Colbert appealed the budget committee's decision but his appeal was ruled against. Colbert said his major gripe was that the committee did not probe the organization's needs deeply enough. "They don't ask enough questions to get an adequate conception about what each program needs," he said.

Colbert said the reason the debate team's budget was cut was because "it is not a big enough program to allow for a large budget."
The debate program currently consists of thirteen students, but Colbert added it was open to all VSC students.
Valdosta State SGA President Graylon Brown, a member of the committee that cut the debate budget, defended the committee's action. Brown cited the portion of the Student Activity Fee Budget Committee's policy statement that reads:
It is not the policy of the committee to fund college activities or organizations whose purposes are to support academic courses, to promote departmental activities, or to recruit students for faculty, but rather to fund those activities and organizations outside the classroom, those directly available either to the whole student body or to the greatest number of students.

Brown said that he felt the debate team did not deserve a larger allocation because the committee had to "reach to most students with a minimum amount of money."
Brown said, "A minimum amount of students will utilize the debate team. Few will go to see it. He's got a department in Fine Arts that gave him a position and they were counting on student activity fees to enhance it. The department can come up with the money."
"We're not going to promote the school in a public relations manner by using student money," Brown added. He said that he felt the money awarded to the debate team would cover the debate programs on campus.
Colbert stated that Georgia Southern College solved their problems by adding one dollar, earmarked for debate, to all student fees. In regard to this, Brown said, "Our current policy statement may not be like Georgia Southern's. We have no choice but to stick by

Vice-Chancellor visits Valdosta

By LUANNE MANNING
VSC had a distinguished guest visit the campus this past weekend during the Student Advisory Council Conference. Mr. Thomas McDonald, Vice-Chancellor of Student Services working with the Board of Regents spoke at the SAC conference on the 1983 Budget during one of the workshops.

Thomas McDonald has been with the Board of Regents for thirteen years. Prior to this time he was an Associate Professor of Psychology at Georgia State College in Atlanta. His responsibilities are many. He works with such offices as Admissions, Registration, Financial Aid, Veterans Affairs, and Dean of Students. He serves as Records Management Officer for the University System, and is the advisor to the Student Government Associations Student Advisory Council. He has done this the past four years.
Mr. McDonald enjoys working with SAC and he feels it is a unique organization because it has "first hand input into the board of Regents." The students have seen changes on many issues recently. One of their big accomplishments if an appeals process a student may go through regarding their Regents Test.

"Apathy is the biggest problem in all Student Government Associations today," states Mr. McDonald. His main concern is how to go about getting more student input into SGA. This is an organization in which all students can have a voice. He saw that VSC, like most schools, does not know about their SGA.

Pictures Needed

If you did not get a yearbook picture made at registration or if you registered late and would like to have your picture in the student section of the Milestones, please bring us a black and white picture of yourself by Friday, November 19.

You can deliver the picture to the SGA office upstairs in the Student Union. Pictures can not be returned. Please include your student number and classification (FR, SPH, JR, SR).

Dear Erotemes Good advice to Reluctant Sue

Dear Erotemes,

I read with interest the letter from reluctant Sue published last week. I found myself in the same fix when I was dating Tom, who is my husband of eleven months. The advice you gave Sue was good advice. I did not give in to the demands of Tom. We waited. We are both glad we did and feel that had we not waited we would not have ever married. We went into marriage without guilt or regret and are very happy. It has been a wonderful and marvelous year. Sex has given a fullness to our marriage that I could not imagine before marriage.

Glad we waited
Betty and Tom

Dear Betty and Tom,

Let me be the first to wish you "Happy anniversary and many more happy years together. Thank you for your letter I am sure that many couples who read it can benefit from your experience.

Erotemes

Dear Erotemes,

Mike and I met at a party. I had had too much to drink and I allowed Mike to go too far. He is a nice guy and I could grow to like him. But everytime we date he wants a repeat performance of that first night. I just don't want that kind of relationship. What can I do? Can you give me some advice?

Marie

Dear Marie,

Explain to Mike how you feel. Tell him that first night was a mistake. Tell him in no certain terms how it's going to be. If he doesn't buy it tell him to go fly a kite and expect someone special to come into your life. Keep the faith.

Beauregarde L. Read Banished from the back row

I read a recent Newsweek article that brought to my attention something I hadn't really thought about before. There is a post of Americana that is rapidly disappearing from the American scene. We're losing our drive-in theatres.

Why? A lack of business I would guess. I know I've never gone to them much. I don't really know why. I guess when you take a girl out, you're trying to impress her and a child dog at the drive-in just doesn't get it. Too, lately the movies at the drive-ins are not exactly the kind you want to see with someone that blushes. Especially if you blush too.

Of course, it is entertaining to the people ahead of you who are able to see your faces outlined in crimson red in their rear view mirrors.

Over the years drive-ins have assured themselves of a permanent place in romantic nostalgia. This is especially true in the case of those who, at one time, owned one of the now legendary '57 chevys.

From what I understand from some people just a smidgin older than me, there is nothing like taking the girl of your dreams to the back row of the drive-in when they're showing a romantic or boring movie.

The romantic movies, I'm told tend to put your lady fair in a state of "I love you- kissy, kissy."

Boring movies will make her do anything, even get in the previously mentioned mood, just so she doesn't have to watch the stupid movie. If you have any talent at all, you should have something to do for many Friday and Saturday nights to come.

It shouldn't matter to the guy as to which of the two types of movies they go to see. Romantic movies are among the most boring I've ever seen.

Still, there is an atmosphere at drive-ins that you can't find at Ashley or Park Twin Theaters. Maybe it's all the weather you hear about what goes on. Many of them can't be printed here.

That's another reason a lot of fellows don't take their dates to the drive-in. Here's an example:

"Hello?"

"Can I speak to Suzy?"

"This is she."

"Hi Suzy. This is Bea. Guess what. You always wanted to see 'Raiders of Lost Ark.' It's back. We go?"

"Sure, I'd love to. Who it playing?"

"The Groper Drive-In."

"Drive-in? I thought really liked me! I know you're after! Ma..." (click!)

It's terrible how the fem race of today jumps at conclusions before all the evidence in.

It's even more terrible when they're right.

But, it's all behind us now. Drive-ins with strange taste chili-dogs are on their way out. '57 chevys have already given way to Trans-Ams, Corvettes and Honda Civics. We must progress and get more at more sophisticated.

Still, with the crisp, weather in the air you have wonder if the guys that invented '57 chevys, chili dogs, drive-in theaters, cool weather, and keeping warm weren't more sophisticated than their given credit for being.

SAC under new guidance

By JAMES HENDRICKS
Spectator Editor

The chairperson for this year's Student Advisory Council to the Georgia Board of Regents is Denise A. Yardley of Columbus College. She was elected at the May, 1982 meeting and also serves as the Chief Justice for her school's Student Judiciary Council.

Miss Yardley had not entered SAC with intentions of running for the chairmanship. "I'd been involved with SAC for two years before I ran. It really was a spur of the moment thing. I hadn't considered it when I first joined. I had to get a grasp on what SAC was first."

Yardley said that she thought poor leadership was one of the problems that led to decreased participation in SAC last year. In reference to last year's chairman, Sylvester Ford of Georgia College, Yardley said, "he was a good socializer. He would speak to everybody. He got along real well, and that's how he got elected."

Miss Yardley added that Ford was a weak leader in that "he was too busy and probably never should have accepted the job. He could never be reached. The schools themselves had to do too much. Too much responsibility was placed on them. They didn't know how to prepare agenda. Times would be altered. We just rehashed old issues. People stopped attending the meetings and started leaving a day early. I think SAC was falling apart

New SGA Senators elected

By MALINDA SIMPSON

On Wednesday, October 20, the Valdosta State Student Government Association held its 1983 Sennate elections.

Because of Homecoming and other various activities, the elections were postponed from an earlier date. There were several candidates running for the open senate positions.

Each dorm is represented in the senate and each class is elected a certain number of senate representatives according to the percentage of student enrollment in that class.

Election booths were set up in the Cafeteria and Student Union. Elections started at 8:00 a.m. and ended at 9:30 p.m.

The results are as follows: for the position of Freshman Senator David Cuffie, Jeff Fountain, and Cathy Zaidan were elected. Under the classification, Malinda Simpson, and Wayne Roberts were elected. Junior Senator Victor Dowless, and Lynn Jones, and the Senior Senator will be Martha Beth Haggler. Hopper Hall will be represented by Harriet Madison and Elizabeth Knight will represent the position of represented by John Nix.

Patterson will be represented by David Parks, and Calvin Cowboy Raines will fill the Reade Hall Senate position.

Off campus senators are: Brian Adkins, Dan Duffy, Vic Hartman, Dan Levy, Dale McDougal, and Pamela Skiles

In the past, the senate has done an excellent job; however, this year the SGA is concentrating on making Student Government even more beneficial and close to VSC students.

Bank happy with deposits

Sperm bank manager Donald Zeh attributes the run on his bank to easy money. The bank, a branch of Xytex Corp., based in Augusta, Ga., pays donors $20 each. Zeh says students could make a donation every two days.

"We find we're getting a pretty good individual who has no other way of getting extra money," he says.

Xytex opened by the campus with an eye on Georgia's 20,000 students because of the demand for semen from educated people. "Would you want the sperm of a college graduate of someone with IQ of 60?" he asks.

Xytex ships the sperm as far away as Alaska, where it's used for artificial insemination.

Zeh, for one, couldn't be happier about the turnout. "We want to get as much acceptability in the community and among the student body (as possible)."

Poor election turnout is bad reflection

Last Wednesday's voter turnout for the Student Government Senatorial elections was disappointing. Equally disappointing was the sparse number of candidates that qualified. In most cases the candidate ran unopposed.

Apathetic is not a positive adjective to use in reference to VSC's student body, but in the case of the SGA it fits. A vigorous Senate, filled with students proud to wear the mantles of student representatives, would prove to be a great asset to every student at VSC.

Still, there is an easier route. Unfortunately, the majority of students are opting for it. Instead of accepting responsibility and working to improve VSC through the Student Senate, they prefer merely to accept whatever accomplishments are made. These same people are the first to gripe when they find the Senate to much less effective than they feel it should be.

There are three primary excuses for not getting involved with the SGA. First is a plead of ignorance on how to join. Second is the feeling that one person cannot make a difference. Third is lack of free time to devote to the organization.

The first reason stated has no foundation. There were posters in places that bear heavy student traffic all over campus. There were also announcements in The Spectator.

The second reason has less substance than the first. Last year's Senate and executive officers accomplished many things. Visitation hours were increased due to direct influence of the SGA. Bills calling for the installation of new washing machines and smoke detectors were passed by the Senate and sent on to the appropriate administrative offices. Just recently the conference parking lot on Georgia Avenue was made available to VSC students through the influence of the SGA executive branch.

As far as time is concerned, the individual senators determine the amount that they allocate to student service in the SGA. Some senators have been able to accomplish a great deal while not putting a great deal of time into it. Others have done absolutely nothing in the SGA while claiming to have spent a great deal of time in getting that nothing accomplished.

The Spectator's position on the matter should be quite clear. We feel the SGA can be a vital link between the administration and students. We feel that many of the students' problems could be resolved through the action of a strongly supported SGA.

However, we are also aware that the SGA will be no stronger than its weakest member. Therefore, it is up to the students that want changes and progress to take the initiative. Due to the small number of people that qualified there are a large number of seats still available to interested students. The phone number of the SGA office on the second floor of the College Union Building is 247-3308. Call or go by and find out how to become a student senator. One person can make the difference.

The choices on Nov. 2

By John L. Hess

At a rocky and dangerous time in our history, fewer than half of us will vote for a new Congress. Fewer still will vote with any enthusiasm.

The choice has been identified as one between inflation (Democratic) and unemployment (Republican). That's like choosing between drowning and asphyxiation.

Life should have taught us by now that it's a false choice. Unemployment and inflation have been rising in tandem for at least two decades.

The Republicans say their tight-money policy has reduced inflation. What tight money? What policy?

The official measure of the money supply has grown faster than the economy throughout the Reagan administration. During September, it grew at an annual rate of 16 percent, and the Federal Reserve has finally acknowledged that it is opening the money spigot wide in a frantic effort to combat the recession.

The great Reagan tax cut did not spur business as it was supposed to. Combined with the great Reagan arms buildup, it is giving us the greatest deficits in history. This from an administration that brags it has got a handle on inflation.

The trouble is, the Democrats offer no clear alternative. The other day I heard an attractive "liberal" candidate boast that his party had for years been practicing "supply side, with sanity." He referred to massive tax cuts and other inducements to business in his state, New York.

Indeed, all of the major elements of the Reagan program were practiced in some degree by the Carter administration: deregulation, new tax loopholes, arms buildup.

It is true that these policies were not pursued as recklessly as they were by the Reaganites, nor with the same indifference to the poor and the weak. But the philosophy was much the same.

If Carter's most influential advisers were swapped with Reagan's, few would perceive the difference. One, Paul Volcker, is still there.

In an unforgettable exchange, a reporter asked Carter why he was naming a Republican as chairman of the Federal Reserve. He replied that Volcker actually was a Democrat, but against inflation.

This accepted the debate on Republican terms. If Democrats are normally for inflation, then the voters were right to reject them.

But the Reaganites turned out to be even more inflationist than the Democrats — that is, they inflated the money supply as never before. If business does pick up as a result, which seems unlikely, then prices and interest rates will soar until a crash ensues.

What is needed is a policy never before seen: hard-money liberalism. That would call for control of credit to direct our vast resources into productive areas.

Our greatest resource is people. The work is there to be done, in our neglected public facilities, our decayed cities. The money, Lord knows, is also there, waiting to be mobilized by a rational tax code and a rational control of credit.

Neither party, as such, stands for such a program — if, indeed, either party has a program at all. That leaves the voters in a pickle.

In democratic countries where the party lines are clearer, 80 percent or more of the electorate usually turns out. (Nowadays, they usually turn the government over to the party that girls usually put on their voters has been declining for many years.

Is there any reason to vote? Yes, wherever there is a serious choice. Where candidates differ on the arms race, on foreign adventure, on compassion, our votes will be meaningful.

Dear Editor,
THE SPECTATOR has improved greatly during the course of this quarter. The current staff has added a lot of good humor to the paper which makes it enjoyable to read.

Last year I swore off SPECTATORS because of what seemed to be an empty, shallow, and conservative approach to journalism by the staff in charge at that time.

A few weeks ago I picked up a copy of the paper and was surprised to discover that the V.S.C. fish-wrapper had actually progressed into the 1980's.

Congratulations to the editors and staff of the "NEW SPECTATOR" on a job well done and may you continue the fine efforts!!!

Less visitation may not mean less noise

Dear Editor:
This is a letter to Dear 222 Hopper.

Your answer last week, to the question of what an increase in dorm visitation means, shows that you have not lived on a limited or non-visitation hall. As contrary as it may seem, limited visitation halls are noisier than full visitation halls.

When I was a freshman I lived, by request, on a limited visitation hall. I thought that limited visitation meant a quiet hall. I remember that wing that year was anything but quiet. About half way through the quarter our wing signed a petition and received full visitation. It was almost like magic. All those giggling, noise making, hall runner up and downers disappeared (to their rooms?). The noise situation was like NIGHT and DAY. I was told that one reason it was more quiet was that girls usually put on their better behavior at times when they are allowed on the hall. I do not know what it was but it was more peaceful.

Since my freshman year, I learned about limited visitation didates differ on the arms race, on foreign adventure, on compassion, our votes will be meaningful.

many things. Visitation hours were increased due to direct influence of the SGA. Bills calling for the installation of new washing machines and smoke detectors were passed by the Senate and sent on to the appropriate administrative offices. Just recently the conference parking lot on Georgia Avenue was made available to VSC students through the influence of the SGA executive branch.

As far as time is concerned, the individual senators determine the amount that they allocate to student service in the SGA. Some senators have been able to accomplish a great deal while not putting a great deal of time into it. Others have done absolutely nothing in the SGA while claiming to have spent a great deal of time in getting that nothing accomplished.

Routine parking is now available in the VSC Conference Parking Lot for student automobiles with valid decals. The only two limitations imposed in this area are: [1] There is to be no parking during conference meetings (the lot will be chained on these days) and [2] all cars must be removed by 4:00 am.

A major area of concern is the over-crowded parking conditions at North Campus, especially on Mondays and Wednesdays. Students should not park on the curb which runs from Patterson Street to just west of Pound Hall. Although "No Parking" signs are present, the curb has recently been painted yellow to clarify that parking is not available. The reason is the narrowness of the drive which could present the possibility of a hazardous situation within the lot if cars were parked on the curb.

The parking problem at the North Campus Lot is currently being dealt with. According to VSC President Hugh Bailey, "the imbalance in favor of the number of students attending Monday and Wednesday classes during Fall Quarter will be corrected Winter Quarter. We are initiating the construction of a bridge and walkway to connect the Blazer Field Lot within the next week or ten days. This project should be completed at the beginning or middle of Winter Quarter."

Even though the parking situation poses an inconvenience for now, the best solution is for students to park in the Blazer Field Lot and walk down the sidewalk on Patterson Street to Pound, Barrow, and the Nursing Hall.

Winter Quarter decals can be purchased during the last two weeks of Fall Quarter. More tickets are received at the beginning of quarters for expired decals than any other reason. Perhaps a little time well-spent now can save a lot of problems later.

Hopper 222, I will have you know that the SGA had to work long and hard to get the increased visitation passed. It was supposed to be designed so that you can, as a full visitation hall, vote for your visitation to begin at 7pm or any time - no earlier than 4pm.

So, if you want your visitation to start at 6:00pm for instance, all you have to do is have your wing vote for it. (On my limited visitation hall we did not even get to vote at all.)

As for guys roaming the halls unescorted - THAT IS YOUR FAULT. If you see an unescorted guy where he does not belong YOU are responsible to tell him that he does not belong and that he has to leave. Or, you report it to an R.A. and have him removed. That is your residence and YOUR responsibility.

I hope you have better luck with achieving quiet on your hall than I am having on mine. Be appreciative - it could be

I know it is hard being the "Bad Guy" but, the rules are, that if people are making noise (especially during quiet hours) you ask them to quiet down and if they do not, have the R.A. do it. It she has to, she can write them up to get quiet on your hall. So, if you can not get relative silence on your hall while studying for an exam, you lose your right to gripe when you do not ASK for quiet (from the noise source or the R.A.)

As for the choice of the library or the room to study, you always have that choice. Most roommates work together on a suitable schedule of male visitors. A compromise is usually worked out so that one student is not always forced to study in the library. You have to solve that problem with your roommate.

I hope you have better luck with achieving quiet on your hall than I am having on mine. Be appreciative - it could be worse.

Dear Editor,

I'd like to comment on this year's intramural program. What is all this BAC B.S.? Dave Waples has succeeded in sophisticating the intramural sports program to the point that those "dumb jocks" don't know what's going on. I'm not knocking the athletes, it's just that I've seen Waples' specifications for the teams and it would take a TRS 80 clone to understand them. He specifies practically everything from the name of the team to jersey colors, all the way down to brand of jock strap. And what's this free-agent deal? It's just become too organized for fun. Sorry, Dave, but your BAC S---!!

'Back on Track'

By MITCH CLARKE
Sports Editor

They say the third time is the charm. After being routed the last two weeks by Delta State and Jacksonville State, Coach Jim Goodman and his Blazers tried for a third week to get back on the winning track.

And this time, the mission was successful as Valdosta State rolled over winless Albany State 36-13 in Albany Saturday afternoon.

During the nearly perfectly played first half, VSC put 29 points on the board thanks to a series of short drives and to a 15 play, 91 yard touchdown march late in the half.

It was VSC's defense which set up the first two touchdowns, with two fumble recoveries, both by Jody Allen. Junior linebacker Cliff Fouty had eight solo tackles and five assists, winning him Player of the Game honors for the second time.

Receivers Carl Armstrong and Kelvin Sheppard each caught five of Owens' passes for a total of 114 yards.

Armstrong, a sophomore from Merritt Island, Florida, had only 78 yards on his five catches. Though not nearly as impressive as his early season statistics, he is closing in on two Gulf South Conference records. He needs 18 more catches to break the record of 60 and he needs only 79 more yards to snap the record of 837.

Valdosta put its first points early in the first quarter. After Jody Allen's first fumble recovery, Owens completed a 37-yard pass to Armstrong at the Ram 5. Two plays later, Henry Chubb scored from three yards out to give VSC a 7-0 lead at 12:06 of the first period.

On Albany State's next possession, the Rams again fumbled to VSC's Allen. That set up a 16-yard touchdown pass from Owens to Reggie Ford. Valdosta was up 14-0 with 7:04 left in the quarter.

The Blazers first long drive came late in the first quarter. In eleven plays VSC marched 70 yards. The drive was capped by an eight-yard touchdown pass from Owens to Armstrong. Bauer's extra point attempt failed, but with 52 seconds to go in the first quarter, the Blazers led 20-0.

Early in the second quarter, the Albany quarterback under pressure from the VSC defense, fumbled into the endzone for a safety. VSC led 22-0.

A short time later, Albany punted the ball dead at the VSC 9. It was here that Valdosta State's offense was perhaps most impressive. In 15 plays, the Blazers went 91 yards to virtually cap the game. Garrett ran the final three yards to put Valdosta in command 29-0 at intermission.

Charles Smith intercepted a Ram pass to set up the final Blazer points. Chubb went in from nine yards out and with 13:41 left in the third quarter, VSC led 36-0. This commanding lead enabled Coach Goodman to take a look at all his players.

Albany State played better football in the second half to put thirteen points on the scoreboard, but VSC was too much.

Senior quarterback James Owens had still another good game using eight different receivers to complete 18 of 37 passes for 195 yards including two touchdowns.

About 2,000 people were on hand to witness the contest.

This week, VSC returns home for the first time in a month to host GSC rival North Alabama.

The Lions (6-1) rely heavily on a solid ground attack, averaging 215 yards a game. Their defense allows less than 100 yards per game rushing and are giving up only 10.7 points a game.

North Alabama is coached by Wayne Grubb, now in his sixth year. VSC's Jim Goodman coached for Grubb at North Alabama from 1976 to 1978.

VSC is now 3-3-1 on the season; 1-3 in the conference.

Owens closing on Jacksonville's Lett

By MITCH CLARKE
Sports Editor

The seventh week of Gulf Conference football saw Jacksonville State strengthen its grasp on first place, North Alabama and Delta State record important league victories, and Mississippi College score a huge win over a nationally ranked, non-league rival.

Jacksonville quarterback Ed Lett continues to set pace in both total offense and passing. He has amassed 1168 net yards to average 233.6 per game. He has also completed 92 of 153 passes for 1217 through the air. Lett has thrown 12 touchdowns and only two interceptions this season.

Valdosta State's senior quarterback, James Owens, is just behind Lett in both categories. Owens has 1155 yards of total offense, averaging out to 192.5 per game. Owens has 1286 yards passing. That is 69 yards more than Lett, but because the Blazers have played one more game than Jacksonville, Lett's average is higher.

Carl Armstrong, the Blazer pass-catching specialist, retains his lead in that category by a wide margin. The wide receiver from Merritt Island, Florida, has 38 catches for 673 yards and three touchdowns.

A new kickoff return leader emerged last week in Valdosta State's Kelvin Sheppard, who is averaging 26.8 yards per return.

Jimmy Francis is fifth on the punt return list. He is averaging 7.9 yards per return.

Brad Bauer is the league's fourth place punter, averaging 39 yards per punt.

While VSC has many individual standouts, the Blazer's team statistics are not as encouraging. The Blazers are the sixth place team in total offense, gaining 306.8 yards per game. Jacksonville State leads the league with 442.2 yards per game.

The Blazers are last in rushing offense with only 74.3 yards per game and seventh in scoring offense. VSC scores an average of 14.7 points per game.

The VSC defense ranks last in all defensive categories- total, rushing, passing, and total defense.

Both ladies emphasised that the group was open to any VSC student, and that it was a self help group.

Ms. Welch said the Math Confidence Group will determine the student's math level and skill while trying to "place the student in control of his anxiety. We'll teach relaxation exercises and try to replace anxiety with relaxation." The group will use some techniques from test anxiety groups and open lines of communication on how to deal with it.

Dr. Owens said that the group was the first joint venture between an academic department and the Counseling Center.

Brown East Upsets Delta Chi

By BRIAN BICKETT

Former number one seed Delta Chi suffered its first defeat of the season last Thursday at the hands of unrated Brown East. The first floor orange clad cast team from Brown Hall edged the previously unbeaten fraternity 7-6.

The winning margin was not the only gloom cast upon the game as Delta Chi kicked off without their starting quarterback, Robert Clifton, who was sidelined with a knee injury. Second string QB, Mike

Coker, was 38 percent complete passing, but one two-point conversion short of a Delta Chi victory.

At halftime, the score tied 0-0, the statistics in passing yardage were poor for the unbeaten fraternity. Delta Chi connected for only two of 12 attempts as compared to

After the break Delta Chi charged on the field and appeared to have the kinks ironed out as Coker completed five of his first seven passes, but a Brown East interception halted the momentum. After unsuccessful drives by both teams, Brown East was at the helm again and found themselves with a second down at the 12 yard line.

Brown East's five of 12. At the half, both teams had missed field goal attempts.

Chris LaRocca completed the 12 yard toss to Curt Law as Brown East put the first points on the board. After the extra point, Delta Chi was down by seven.

The unbeaten Delta Chi's were not going to be skunked. Coker led his team on a scoring march that ended with a 20 yard completion for Delta Chi only points. The attempt to two points on the conversion failed when Coker overthrew his intended receiver.

Down 7-6, Delta Chi falseed one more opportunity to tie. A 30 yard field goal attempt left the tee too low and short to give Delta Chi a game as Brown East, former 1-2 on the year, upset the number one ranked team.

BAC Athletic Shorts with Brian Bickett

TKE 26 Central Brown 14

The members of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity ground out a 66 percent passing percentage is not necessary to win a football game.

TKE's quarterback Danny Redshaw threw only 37 percent but it was Paul Yunker's 80 yard punt return that made the difference in the fraternity's 26-14 victory over Central Brown.

Mike Brauer, quarterback and Athletic Director for the Aggies, completed 19 of 29 for 66 percent, but couldn't find the endzone after the first half. A one yard pass, a four yard run, and two extra points were the only scores for Central Brown.

Meanwhile at the half, TKE was only 2 of 6 complete, but both passes were good for TD's. The highlight of the game was early when Central Brown punted after their first unsuccessful drive, and Yunker returned for ball 80 yards for TKE's first score, and eventual first victory.

Reade - Yankees 9 SAE 7

The Reade-Yankees went into Thursday's game with an undefeated record of 1-0-1 to SAE's 2-1-0, but the Yankees were the pre-game favorites by three points. The difference turned out to be Yankee Keith Massey who's quarterback sack in the endzone gave the Yanks the two points that helped keep them undefeated with a 9-7 victory.

SW Pat 20 Gamecocks 6

Southwest Patterson chalked up another another win Tuesday and moved themselves into second place in the BAC Top Five. Patterson defeated the Gamecocks 20-6.

The key work for the Indians appeared to be "interception" as Frank Shea snatched four and Johnny Chastain and John Bennet each came up with one.

BAC quote of the week comes from Richie Brannon of the Southwest Patterson Indians. In reply to a comment that many consider the upcoming Patterson Delta Flyer contest one that could decide the league champ Brannon said, "in all honesty I'd say they (Delta Flyers) have the advantage they're organized and we're not."

The Blazer Athletic Conference singles racquetball tournament got underway this past week with Delta Chi's Ken Odum defeating fellow fraternity member Greg Hall 15-12, and 15-13. Steve Snipes of Brown West had to play three games to advance against Delta Chi's Mark Heidemann 15-10, 14-16, 15-12.

Here are results from the first week of BAC volleyball.

The KA Rebels took two out of three from Brown West opening night 9-0, 9-6, 6-9. Central Brown won their first two over Upper Brown 9-6 and 9-2, but lost the final contest 5-9. The KA's lost their opener 1-9 to the Pi Kaps but followed with 10-8 and 9-2 victories. Wesley failed to make it for their 9:15 game with Delta Chi, therefore, the Brothers got all three games 9-0, 9-0, 9-0.

This past Monday night the Delta Flyers edged the Reade Yankees 9-5, 7-9 and 9-7. Brown West lost three to Central Brown 11-9, 10-8, 9-3. Upper Brown failed to show to play the KA Rebels so the pledge team won all three by forfeit 9-0, 9-0, 9-0. Delta Chi and the Pi Kaps provided a barn burner for onlookers, but Delta Chi had the spark of the flame winning the best two of three 9-3, 8-10 and 9-6.

Tonight at 7pm the KA Rebels play the Reade-Yankees followed by the Pi Kaps and Northeast Patterson at 7:45. Brown West play the Reade-Yankees at 8:30 and undefeated Central Brown host the KA Rebels at 9:15.

COACHING CHANGE: Randy Bononi has been named the new coach of the Pi Kaps football team, replacing David Brumburg, who submitted his resignation for "Personal reasons." The KAPS, under Bononi responded with upset victories over ROTC 14-6, and Brown West by an identical count. Pi Kap athletic sources insist that Brumburg was under no pressure to hang it up.

UPSETS: The BAC's biggest upset ever occurred Thursday when Brown East edged the Delta Chi's 7-6. East had been soundly thrashed in two earlier outings, 30-0 by Wesley and 37-14 by Ashley-Converse. Rumor from the Chi camp says the pressure of a No. 1 ranking was too much; eyewitnesses say that a combination of poor play selection and a break-down of the kicking game was the difference. The KA's maintained their newly acquired No. 1 position, by averting an upset, 12-10, Upper Brown. KA used the golden arm of possible All-League QB, Tommy Duncan and the pressure catches of Warren Coats to score on a fourth-and-nine play, with 15-seconds left. Upper had parlayed a 41-yard field-goal, and a late fourth quarter TD, to take a 10-6 lead.

ACADEMICS: Of all the BAC teams, ROTC is most aligned with the Stanford's Harvard's, Northwestern's and Vanderbilt's. This stark reality came to light dramatically in last Tuesday's 14-6 loss of the Pi Kaps; the Flyers only blemish this year. ROTC's million dollar QB, Lee Majors could not get excused from Lt. Col. John Kish's AS-201 class (Col. Kish is the unit Commander), and missed the contest. The Flyers were uninspired; but with Majors this Monday, the Flyers fought back from a 7-6 deficit, to record a 16-7 win over aggressive Patterson North. A ROTC spokesman, while acknowledging Majors' tremendous worth to the football program and the detachment's spirit, stated that academics came first. In direct contract, Edwin Williamson of the Reade Yankees said that Reade Hall would try to build a dorm of which the football team would be proud.

ENFORCEMENT DIVISION: The BAC Enforcement Director, Robert Yost, reported that absolutely no evidence of gambling by BAC players on games was found, and that this investigation forfeits might have a great bearing on League standings. He said that a complete forfeit list would be published the second week in November, after intensive investigation.

BAC BOWL Larry Lee, Director of Championships, announced that preparations for the 1st Annual BAC Bowl were in full swing. The game is scheduled for November 30.

Girls Volleyball Hits the Court

By SUSAN MONTGOMERY

Last week's games ended with a change in the standings while two teams still remained undefeated.

The Lowndes Hall players held us in their position by downing the MG's 15-4 and 15-13. Debra Mubley and Debra Welch led the MG's with five and eight points while the Lowndes were led by Lendar Deiter with nine points.

ADPI had a rather easy victory over AZD with scores of 15-2 and 15-1. The high server was Henry Barrett with 11 straight points.

ZTA had to battle through all three games before landing BSU at 15-10 and 15-12 loss. Regina Pyke had nine points for BSU and Debbie Mair was ZTA's top server with 12 points.

Wesley had a rather shaky start against ROTC II dropping the first game 15-10. However, they quickly regained their position by sweeping the final two games 15-6 and 15-0.

Bess James had seven points for ROTC II while Nanette Johnson was the quarterback of the third game serving all 15 points for Wesley.

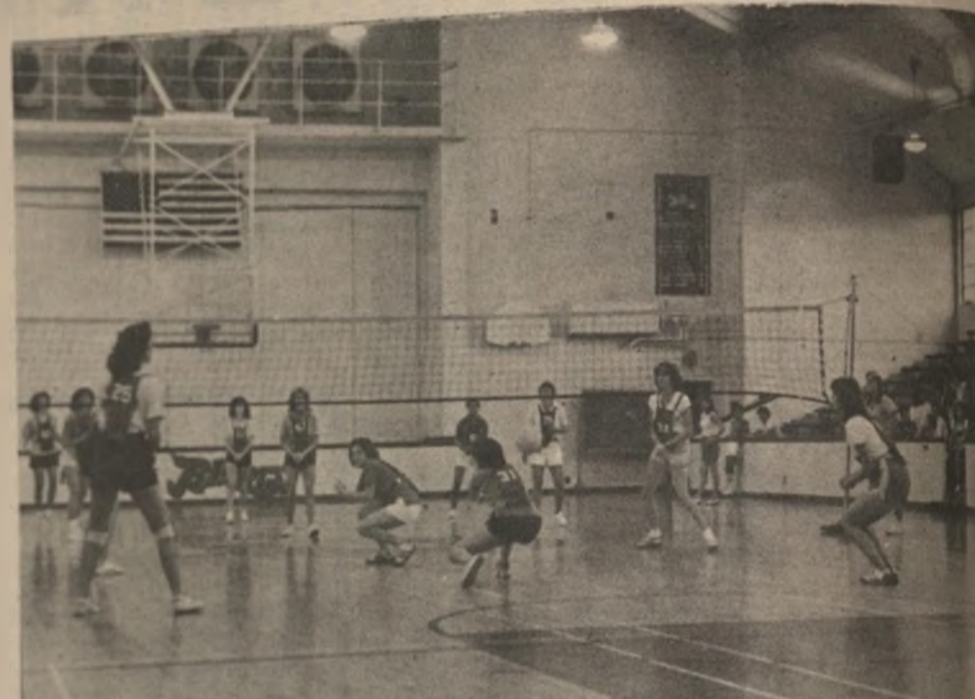

In Thursday's match-ups Lowndes fell to ROTC II 15-2, but came back to win the match by scores of 15-3 and 15-7. Dee Eason had top serving honors with 13 points for ROTC II and Lowndes' Karen Hick had six points.

ROTC I had an easier time with the MG's with scores of 15-0 and 15-8. ROTC I was led by Brenda Oliver with 18 points 12 of which were straight serves in the first game and Dea Grogan served 5 points for the MG's.

KD played the spoiler in their match against Wesley as they landed their first defeat of the season with two games of 15-5 and 15-12. Top servers were Wendy Hammack with six points for KD and Rowann Swails with five points for Wesley.

It is a close contest between ADPI and BSU with the end result bringing ADPI the victory 15-10, 9-15, and 15-11. Susan Thomas and Stacey Survant led ADPI with four points each and Christine Minick served five points for BSU.

After two weeks of play, the standings are as follows:

John Huxford writes VSC Blazers' fight song

NEWS BUREAU: When Dr. John Huxford, head of the music department at Valdosta State College, first heard that VSC was to have a football team, he thought about music.

"Every good football team, every school with a good football team, has a fight song," said Dr. Huxford. "Last year when the football team was just talk, that is, before it was organized, I spoke to Floyd Toth, head of the physical education department, about a fight song."

He said, "You're going to write a fight song. How about writing one for us?"

Writing music is something Huxford, who holds a doctorate in musical composition from Florida State University, has been doing since he was eight years old. His compositions have been performed widely throughout this country and in many countries in Europe.

Included in his repertoire of compositions are fight songs and pep songs for several high schools and colleges where he's taught, including one for Georgia Southern.

"Being a band director for several years in the past and fielding a marching band each fall at football games has given me a pretty good idea of what constitutes good fight music," he said.

He went right to work on the VSC fight music and showed it to Toth over breakfast the morning after he'd first brought up the subject.

The VSC Blazer's fight song has been performed by the college's Pep Band and by visiting high school bands during half-time at home games. Although it has no words as yet, the music is described as "fast and peppery."

"I hope the new fight song will be worthy of the football team and will contribute to the spirit of the games, the players and the fans," the professor said.

This is not the first pep song Huxford has written for VSC athletics.

"After Coach Tommy Thomas and his team won the NCAA Baseball Championship several years ago," recalled Huxford, "I wrote a pep song and dedicated it to them. It has been played continuously at VSC basketball and baseball games since that time. Bradley, projects officer of VSC, wrote the words for it."

Huxford also believes that State should have its own Alma Mater.

"I really feel we need our own Alma Mater using the Cornell Alma Mater, but there's a demand for one of our own," he said.

Golf Team Places 11th

The Valdosta State Blazer Golf team participated in the All-American Golf Classic at the Ambassador Golf and Country Club in Nassau, Bahamas this past weekend.

It was not a sparkling performance for the golfers; they finished eleventh of the thirteen teams in the tournament.

Columbus College won the tournament with a three day total of 901. Huntington was second with a 909 score.

Coming in third at 910 was Troy State. David Lipscomb and ABAC rounded out the top five with scores of 919 and 921 respectively.

Dale Brown led the Blazer field with a total of 239 for the three days. Chip [name] was the second Blazer with a 243 score. David [name] and Bruce Mobley rounded out the Blazer team with a 246 and 246 respectively.

Next for the VSC Blazer is Dixie Collegiate. The tournament will be held in Columbus, Georgia November 19-22.

Blazers complete tryouts

Tryouts for the Valdosta State Lady Blazer softball team were held October 11 through October 22. Seventeen girls finished the two-week tryout which had from 25 to 30 girls participating.

The Lady Blazers, a member of the Gulf Coast Conference, will host contests as well as travel to away games during the regular season. The season will climax with a conference tournament.

Coach Cathy Gueazy is excited about the upcoming season. She said, "It's the beginning of a new season with a new coach and girls who are willing to work hard."

Student support is appreciated.

The Lady Blazers will start their season with a match against Georgia Southern

Hedda Gabler begins tonight

By DONNA ELKAYAM

A woman in an 1800's dress lights up a skinny cigar and defiantly strolls across the mainstage, seeking control of her fellowmen. She is "Hedda Gabler" in the 19th century melodrama by Henrik Ibsen, superbly played by Valerie Griner.

"Hedda Gabler" was presented October 20-23 and will also be performed at 8:15 on Oct. 27-30 in Sawyer Theatre. The play portrays the emergence of the modern woman.

Hedda's female counterparts, played by Laurie Wilkes as Miss Tessman, Jena Segrest as Berte, and Janie Allen as Thea Elvsted, are as much confined by society as she is. They know little of life, career, or excitement outside the four walls of home. They are confined not only by 19th century life style, but by their very clothes.

Costumes, designed by Valerie Gruner, portray the bustles, tight corsets, restricting collars, pointed shoes, and difficultly long dresses of the times.

At one point in the play, Hedda complains that "sometimes I think there is only one thing that I am made for - to be bored to death." Her boredom leads her into a web of torment for everyone involved.

Hedda Gabler is many things to many people. To Ellert Lovborg, played by Bill Abbott she is a lover from younger days. To her husband Tesman, she is a magnificent

College used as punishment

CARLSBAD, NM [CPS] -- A judge has sentenced a woman to college as punishment for a conviction for kidnapping, armed robbery and aggravated assault.

The woman's husband was the victim.

State District Court Judge Harvey Fort gave the 27-year old woman, whose name the judge refuses to reveal, five years of probation, during which she must report to her probation officer, undergo psychiatric treatment and maintain a "C" average in her classes at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

The woman currently attends ENMU's Roswell campus, where she's an "excellent student," according to the judge. After getting a two-year degree there, she'll enroll at the main campus in Portales.

Fort says the probation department first came up with the idea of making the woman attend college.

Fort said that, under the same set of "bizarre" criminal circumstances, he'd do it again. However, he doesn't see the opportunity to make higher education part of a sentence coming up again any time soon.

"My problem is that the type of individual who comes before me could not pass a high school entrance examination, if there was such a thing," he says.

If it should come up again, some educators wonder if judges could force schools to accept otherwise unqualified students. "I imagine this would cause a real stir, especially at some of the conservative eastern campuses," speculates Tom Tooke, counselor at New Mexico State's Carlsbad branch. "It might create kind of a flap if someone was sentenced to go to Harvard."

"It's an amazing sentence," says Paul Benkert, a lawyer with the National Association of College and University Attorneys.

Though it's common for judges to sentence people to community service work, Benkert had "never heard of a judge actually sentencing someone to college."

Over the summer, the judge sentenced a University of Missouri-Kansas City professor to 60 days in jail and to help teach and rehabilitate criminals as part of his ongoing probation.

The educational psychology professor had been convicted of killing his wife.

Russian folk festival planned

By REGINA FLOYD
Entertainment Editor

The Lowndes Valdosta Arts Commission will present a Massenkoff Fussian Folk Festival on November 1 at 8:15pm in Mathis Auditorium.

The festival will star Nikolai Massenkoff, a master at Russian folk music.

Massenkoff's featured guests will be the Ensemble and Russian Folk Ballet and Balalaika. According to the Fort Lauderdale News, Fla., "Massenkoff's voice is like the volga itself." Terry Lewis said "Bravo Magnificent Bravo" after a performance by Massenkoff for the Muscular Dystrophy Telethon held in Las Vegas.

The festival will feature one thousand years of Russian history and people. Massenkoff's extraordinary bass voice will be accompanied by spirited dancers throughout the performance. Russian ballads, war songs, and love songs such as "Kalinka" in its original language, tempo, mood, and costume will be performed for the enjoyment of all music lovers.

Admission to the festival will be $10.00 at the door.

Tex-Mex cooking demonstration tonight

By REGINA FLOYD

The VSC College Union Board in conjunction with The Cantina, a well-known restaurant here in town, will present Tex-Mex, a cooking demonstration on Wednesday, October 27, at 8:00 p.m. in the Camella Room.

Tex-Mex cooking is a cross between Texan and Mexican foods. It includes all types of smoked meats, chilli recipes, breads and soups. This type of food is eaten mainly in Southern Texas along the border and served with beer.

The demonstration will be given by Leslie Greene and Dec Dee Durden from The Cantina. They will show a wide range of the smoked meats and share recipes with students. Foods that can be easily made in the dorm will be featured with special emphasis on things that everyone, even the most unsuccessful cook, can prepare.

A little bit of history about Tex-Mex cooking will be shared. Questions about its origin and success will be discussed.

All VSC students are welcome to attend the demonstration. Remember to bring a pen and pad to get down those recipes.

Kappa Delta celebrates 85th

A pie and coffee social will be held on October 28, 1982 at the Sheraton Inn to commemorate the 85th anniversary of the founding of Kappa Delta Sorority.

Kappa Delta Sorority was founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. On October 21, 1897, by Mary Somerville Sparks, Julia Gardiner Tyler Wilson, Lenora Ashmore Blackston, and Sara Turner White. The sorority now has 121 college chapters and 421 alumnae associations with a total membership of more than 95,000.

Since its founding, Kappa Delta has been active in philanthropic activities. The sorority has contributed more than half a million dollars for the care and aid of patients in the crippled children's hospital in Richmond, Virginia. Kappa Delta gives $12,500 annually toward the support of the hospital and also makes contributions for special projects or equipment. In addition to support of the hospital, Kappa Delta presents four annual cash awards at the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons to Doctors for their outstanding research in the field of orthopedics. These cash awards have been given consecutive years, and Kappa Delta has contributed a total of more than $125,000.

Mrs. Jean Tucker Strain, Denver, Colorado is the National President of Kappa Sorority.

James Huff speaks ton

NEWS BUREAU--A top-ranking U.S. State Department officer, James Huff, will speak on "The United States & its Neighbors: Past, Present, and Future" on Wednesday, October 27 at 8:15 p.m. in Powell Hall Auditorium on Valdosta State College's main campus, according to Dr. William M. Gabard, Director of International Studies.

There is no charge to the public and adjacent parking is available.

The program is financially assisted by the National Endowment for the Humanities through the Georgia Endowment for the Humanities.

"We are particularly fortunate to have Mr. Huff, who is Political Officer in the Office of Mexican Affairs, Department of State," said Dr. Dale H. Peebles, professor of history, coordinator of the series. "He has a very broad background in a number of areas of the world and should bring to us important insights into the relations of the U.S. with its neighbors to the north and to the south."

A career Foreign Service Officer, Huff was born in Washington, D.C., in 1946. He received a BA in international relations, cum laude, from The American University in 1968 and an MA from the School of Advanced International Studies, John Hopkins University, in 1970.

In his first foreign service assignment, Huff was posted to the U.S. Embassy in Paris where he served as political officer for three years. He later served as consular for three years at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

Returning to Washington in 1975, Huff worked in the Office of NATO Affairs and spent the past two years working on Western European political-military affairs in the Office of International Security Policy in the Pentagon. He also served a six-month tour of duty in late 1977 in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, as Special Assistant to the head of the U.S. delegation to the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe.

5th James Huff speaks tonight

NEWS BUREAU-A top-ranking U.S. State Department officer, James Huff, will speak on "The United States & its Neighbors: Past, Present, and Future" on Wednesday, October 27 at 8:15 p.m. in Powell Hall Auditorium on Valdosta State College's main campus, according to Dr. William M. Gabard, Director of International Studies.

There is no charge to the public and adjacent parking is available.

The program is financially assisted by the National Endowment for the Humanities through the Georgia Endowment for the Humanities.

"We are particularly fortunate to have Mr. Huff, who is Political Officer in the Office of Mexican Affairs, Department of State," said Dr. Dale H. Peeples, professor of history, coordinator of the series. "He has a very broad background in a number of areas of the world and should bring to us important insights into the relations of the U.S. with its neighbors to the north and to the south."

A career Foreign Service Officer, Huff was born in Washington, D.C., in 1946. He received a BA in international relations, cum laude, from The American University in 1968 and an MA from the School of Advanced International Studies, John Hopkins University, in 1970.

In his first foreign service assignment, Huff was posted to the U.S. Embassy in Paris where he served as political officer for three years. He later served as consular for three years at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

Returning to Washington in 1975, Huff worked in the Office of NATO Affairs and spent the past two years working on Western European political-military affairs in the Office of International Security Policy in the Pentagon. He also served a six-month tour of duty in late 1977 in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, as Special Assistant to the head of the U.S. delegation to the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe.

Following Huff's formal presentation, Gabard will moderate a panel discussion of the lecture by the following VSC faculty members: Professors Ronald Barnette, philosophy; William Morrow, political science; and Dale Peeples and Joseph Tomberlin, history. A number of VSC departments are cooperating in the sponsorship of this series, Peeples noted.

A question and answer period with the audience and an informal discussion will follow.

Huff's lecture is the second in a three-day conference which is built around the theme "The United States and its Neighbors: A Conference on Culture, Problems, and Values in North America."

During each of the three days films reflecting various aspects of the culture of each country will be shown from 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon and 2:00 - 4:00 p.m.

MBA handbook hits bestseller list

How did you spend your summer vacation? If you are like most college students, you probably flipped wings for Kentucky Fried Chicken or worked on your tan as a Supervisor or Marine Life Preservation (Lifeguard). Meanwhile, Jim Fisk and Robert Barron, two business students from Harvard, were touring the country to make a fantasy come true: having their spout on how to get ahead. THE OFFICIAL MBA HANDBOOK hit the best seller lists.

"With the economy falling out of bed and the cutbacks in student loan programs," says Fisk, "we figured that the quickest way for two kids to succeed in business was to write a best selling how-to-succeed-in-business book." They were right: the book has sold 125,000 copies within six weeks of publication, made it onto the New York Times best seller list, and generated for its authors guest appearances on the TODAY show and in Newsweek and Us magazine.

"It's hotter than The Preppy Handbook, says Chuck Dresner of the Harvard Coop, one of the biggest college bookstores in the country. "I could have put myself through school just by hawking these things on the street."

The book grew out of a previous entrepreneurial project: in 1981, Fisk & Barron put together a humorous 1940's-style movie poster called "Bedtime for Brezhnev," starring Ronald Reagan. In an effort to get the poster distributed, they talked their way into the office of Jack Arstein, a Group President at Simon & Schuster, the publishing house in New York.

Arstein told them that he was really in the book business, not the poster business, but that he liked their sense of humor.

"He looked at us with a smile and said, 'can you kids write?'" says Barron.

"Without a pause we said 'sure, at business school they teach you to say you can do anything, even if you know nothing about it.'"

Between class hours and after homework assignments from August 1981 until last February, Fisk and Barron worked on THE MBA HANDBOOK and enlisted classmates to pose for photographs and write chapters. "It became something of a class project," says Barron. "Over thirty of our friends had a hand in it."

Why is a book on business being so well? "In an era in which you almost need a masters degree in social work to walk an old lady across the street, the Masters in Business Administration is rapidly becoming the white-collar union card you need even to get a job as a file clerk," says Fisk.

The book boasts that for $4.95 you too can become a MBSD (Master Bull Artist), learning techniques like:

- How to write your resume
- "I'm 23, can type, and was President of GM for two summers during college";
- How to develop an "Interviewing Strategy";
- (For women) How to prevent your career from becoming a replay of Bambi Meets Godzilla;
- How to master buzzwords like "Corporate Vietnam" and "S.O.B." (Son of Boss);
- How to fake a passing knowledge of side issues like marketing, finance, production, and accounting."

BSU enjoys convention

By JAMEY DAY

Forty enthusiastic Baptist Student Union members loaded up in vans and cars and headed north to the Rock Eagle Convention Center this past weekend. None were the slightest bit disappointed in the traditionally action-filled weekend.

For those who have never been, B.S.U. fall Convention is an annual event sponsored by the Department of Student Work of the Georgia Baptist Convention. This year, the International Student Conference, Black Student Fellowship and B.S.U. fall Convention were held simultaneously.

This year's theme was "New Dimensions to a Balanced Life." Main speakers were William B. Tolar, Dean of the School of Theology and Professor of Biblical Backgrounds at Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth Texas; Esther Burroughs, a consultant with special mission ministers of the Home Mission Board; and Dr. Richard B. Cunningham, a professor of Christian Philosophy at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville Kentucky.

A good time was had by all and many new friends were made.

wife who might some day return his affectionate bear hugs. But to Judge Brack she is someone like him: someone capable of hurting others.

According to Dr. Randy Wheeler, director of the play, it is important to recognize the forces that "drive her to say 'I do things' she might not have said and done under different circumstances. There must be understanding if not a degree of sympathy for her."

"The plot of 'Hedda Gabler' deals with the three men in Hedda's life who influence her the most... her husband, her former lover, and a judge. The play covers the most important 36 hours of her life," Dr. Wheeler added.

Wheeler said that some students may be familiar with "Hedda Gabler," because it is studied in English 251.

Figures prompt racial editorial

ALBUQUERQUE, NM (CPS)-- A week after the College Board nervously released minority student scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), an editorial about the scores in the University of New Mexico Daily Lobo has inflamed campus racial tensions, sparked a sit-in at the newspaper office, brought on the resignation of one editor, and may cost another her job.

The editorial, which appeared in the October 13th edition, was called "Discrimination Is Sometimes Desirable," and went on to say that the high school class of 1981's SAT scores "proved what everyone knew all along: minorities are academically inferior to whites."

The day after the editorial appeared, a dozen campus groups began a sit-in at the Lobo offices, pledging to stay until news editor and editorial writer Mark Balzak and editor Marcy McKinley resigned.

Balzak resigned soon after the sit-in began, and the Student Publications Board temporarily suspended McKinley until she readied her defense.

The week before the College Board, which administers the SATs and other standardized tests, released scores arranged "by ethnic group" for the first time.

There's been an honest controversy on the board for the ten years we've collected the information about whether to release it to the public," says College Board spokesman Fred Moreno.

In a preface to the report, board President George Hanford warned that the statistics "lend themselves to misinterpretation."

"We know that any data can be used irresponsibly," Moreno adds.

The report showed that the white college-bound high school seniors of 1981 got higher scores than most other ethnic groups. Asia-Pacific American students got the highest math scores.

SIS extends open invitation

Do you know what the Society for International Students is? SIS is the Valdosta State College organization for foreign students but it is not restricted to only foreign students. Any American that is interested in meeting people with different cultural backgrounds is very welcome. Seeing Americans helps us understand the American culture. So, if you feel you would enjoy it, you should join us or just show up at one of our meeting: Our normal meeting time is every Thursday at 5 pm in Conference Room One in the College Union.

Friday, October 29, we are having an open Halloween party. The only condition is you must wear a costume. We have arranged to meet that evening at 7:30 pm at Powell Hall. If you can, bring a car—we will need all the transportation we can get.

Pi Kaps help in Walk-Bike-a-thon

On the morning of October 9, the Lowndes County chapter of the American Diabetes Association held its annual Walk-Bike-a-thon. The brothers, pledges, little sisters, and sponsors of Pi Kappa Phi here at VSC assisted in running the checkpoints of the fundraiser.

Robert Scholer, a brother of Pi Kappa Phi, was the leading money maker for the event raising over eight hundred dollars.

Pi Kappa Phi thoroughly enjoyed helping out with this important cause and plans to break their contribution this year in next year's money drive.

Phi Mu is also proud to announce a new title for one of her members. Chrissy Beecher was named Miss Winnersville in the Winnersville Classic Pageant held on October 12 at Mathis Auditorium. Chrissy was sponsored by Phi Mu Sorority and competed in sportswear and evening gown. Chrissy is a sophomore at VSC. Way to go Chrissy - Phi Mu is proud of you!!

Phi Mu's will be very busy this month raising money for her national philanthropy, Project Hope. We will be Trick-or-Treating around Valdosta, and we urge everyone to support his worthy cause. Your donation will be greatly appreciated and put to good use.

Last, but not least, Phi Mu's Wash Board Band will be featured at the Little Miss Valdosta Pageant on October 23 during intermission. Keep up the good work Phi Mu.

KD's announce coming events

By LUANNE MANNING

The pledges voted on their 1982-83 Pledge Class Sweetheart. Congratulations to Jeff Betrose from Jacksonville, Florida for being picked. All the sisters and pledges are proud to have Jeff representing the Pledge Class.

The KD's would like to congratulate Tracy Hornsby on being VSC's first football Homecoming Queen. Tracy did a fine job of representing Kappa Delta Sorority. We were also proud of Jenny Futch who was on the Homecoming court.

A special thanks goes out to all the SAE's who hosted a fantastic Founder's Day social.

The evening got underway with a fun hayride around campus and then to the SAE house for a Western Party. The evening was most enjoyable.

Thursday, October 29, the KD's will have pie and coffee in honor of their Founders, who founded Kappa Delta Sorority, October 23 at Longwood College.

Friday, October 30, the KD's will go to the elementary schools to help children with Halloween make-up as a part of their Philanthropy Program.

Interns available to students

The Governor's Intern Program provides an unusual learning experience for students by combining practical government experience with academic growth, giving students a real first-hand look at agencies in state and local governments.

The Intern Program has its basis in the realization that learning is not restricted to the classroom process. The internships are fulltime and last for ten weeks. The earning of academic credit, while working on a specific agency project, is essential to a student's participation. The amount of credit is left to the discretion of each student's school.

Although the Governor's Intern Program will not recruit on campus at VSC this quarter, winter quarter internships (Jan 3 - March 11) continue to be available. Interested students may obtain information, application forms and brochures from the Placement Office, Powell Hall, East Wing. The deadline for submitting applications for a winter quarter internship will be November 5, 1982.

Debate team makes good showing

On October 22 the VSC Debate team traveled to Mercer University and competed for three days on this year's Debate resolution. "All U.S. Military Intervention into the Internal Affairs of any Nation or Nations in the Western Hemisphere should be prohibited." Both of the teams that VSC entered were very successful in the tournament. The team of Robbie Watson of Warner Robins and Bill Mathis of Albany had a preliminary record of six wins and two defeats. This team defeated teams from: The University of Georgia, Georgia State University, Emory University, West Georgia College, and Valencia College. In their Quarterfinal round they won a decision over Wake Forest University and then lost a 2-1 decision to West Georgia College in the Semi-final round. West Georgia went on to win the tournament. The other VSC team, Tony Watson of Morven and Dennis Rice of Albany also made a good showing. Their preliminary record was five wins and three defeats. They were successful in defeating teams from Clemson University, The Citadel, The University of Georgia and St. Johns College. They were eliminated from the competition in the Quarterfinal round by Wake Forest University on a 2-1 decision. Director of Forensics, Kent R. Colbert, was extremely pleased with the results, even though he felt VSC should have finished first having defeated the team who eventually won the tournament (West Georgia College) during the preliminary rounds. "The great benefit beyond the obvious skills the participants develop in this type activity is the ability to compete against much larger and Nationally prestigious schools like the University of Georgia, Clemson, and Wake Forest," said Colbert. "I am proud of the progress we are making." The next tournament that VSC will participate in will be on November 6-8, when the debate travels to Atlanta to participate in the Peachtree Classic sponsored by Emory University.

The most neglected. Special Education, unfortunately, is the field which receives little verbal attention and no active participation. Words can not express the joy and self-fulfillment a handicapped or gifted child experiences when he, after frustrating the teacher and himself, finally solves a problem and remembers how to solve that problem the next day. This self-confidence brings forth smiles, hugs, and tears of joy. We, in the field of special education challenge you to be different. The handicapped and gifted need your support, respect, and understanding. Join SCEC and be different. Meetings will be posted in the Education Center.

SAE's plan cookout

The brothers of SAE have planned a cookout for their Alumni Saturday before the Blazer football game. We are looking forward to displaying this small token of our appreciation for their powerful support over the nine years of our chapter. Welcome alumni! We also would like to announce our annual Halloween Party scheduled for Friday night. This yearly theme has always been one of the best all year. The best costumes of the evening will receive a gift from the fraternity. Couples will be judged at the party. Finally we would like to wish good luck to Corrine Chandler who will represent SAE in the TKE Calendar Girl Contest. We are proud to have such a lovely girl in this contest and as one of our little sisters.

still have functioning SGA's, 23 were represented.

One of the practices that Ford had discontinued but Yardley is re-instituting is the Friday night meetings. Despite travel fatigue, Yardley said that the Friday night orientation meetings "made everybody ready for this (Saturday) morning." Many, she said, thought about the things they wanted to bring up after the Friday evening meetings.

One school whose absence is noteworthy is the University of Georgia. Yardley said that she and others have been "working with their dean, but he is not very receptive to starting a student government.

Some of their students are. I've talked to the editor of The Red and Black and one of their staff writers. We're trying to get something working there." She added that Georgia was the only school without a student government that is allowed to send representative "We felt that since it was such a large university and has such an impact, plus it's getting a great deal of money from the Board of Regents that it should have some input into SAC," Yardley said.

When asked if the SGA's on other campuses were more or less active this year, Yardley replied, "I think the ones that have an SGA to start with are getting more active. The ones that are faltering have really gone down. They haven't pulled themselves together yet, and those are the schools that have not really been into SAC."

Miss Yardley serves as a liaison between the Board of Regents and SAC. Once per year the SAC chairperson gives the Council's recommendations to the Board.

The Board of Regents takes a positive attitude toward SAC input. The Board established SAC in 1968 so that it could better get in touch with how the students felt.

Miss Yardley said one of the problems is that the Board might not be aware of a situation. "Things you take for granted they know they might not," she said, "but they're well versed on the issues. They're very receptive and eager to help. They immediately assign it to somebody to research."

One observation the Yardley made about the Board of Regents was that "they have their agenda very well planned. I would imagine several months ahead of time.

They don't dwell. They know what they're doing. They've had their people do the leg work. After a committee approves something, it is usually approved by the body of the whole.

This year Yardley said SAC will discuss several new issues. First, it is planning to revise its Constitution which has been in effect since 1968.

A second objective of this year's Council is to improve the topics on the Regent's test. Yardley said, "We're not directly complaining about the test, but about the topics themselves. We want to get more student input on it."

A third topic of concern is visitation rights. Yardley noted that two schools, Savannah and Fort Valley, were having problems in this area. She said Valdosta State's was now about equal with most state schools.

A fourth idea is to get physical education grades given on a pass/fail basis. Finally, the Council is planning to address the problem of selling alcohol on campus. Yardley says that she is sure there is an old policy prohibiting the sale, but also added "there are ways schools are getting around it."

Humanities do not feel knife of Reaganomics

NEWS BUREAU--With all the talk about government funds being cut, Kathleen Caples wants it known that the Georgia Endowment for the Humanities is not one of them.

"We still have funds for grants or projects and we want people to know the budget cuts have not struck our agency," said Dr. Caples, who is assistant director of GEH. Visiting Valdosta State College, Dr. Caples hopes to have a grant-writing workshop later in the academic year for people who would like to apply for GEH grants.

"Georgia is to celebrate its 250th anniversary next year," she said, "and we have decided to encourage projects relating to its founding in Savannah in February. Some of them involve town meetings, and people who played an important part in the founding, such as Oglethorpe, Tomochichi, Mary Musgrove and others.

"We're trying to encourage people to develop projects which might be funded through us. Technically, grants any non-profit group or organization, such as Valdosta State College, the Chamber of Commerce, civic clubs, historical societies, Junior League, Board of Education and such," she said.

The GEH gives grants, she explained for live audience programs, films or video tapes. A project should center around one or more of the humanities disciplines and a person knowledgeable in one of the areas should be involved in writing the grant application.

One of her responsibilities, she said, is to provide resources of assistance in locating scholars to be a part of the program, or making available tapes or films in the GEH collection which might be of help.

At VSC she consulted with several faculty members on ideas for future projects to be funded through GEH.

"Many people do not realize that we are able to make available to the public programs on such things as Dr. Louie Schmier's study of the Jews in Georgia of the discussion forum which Dr. Dale Peebles is coordinating on the U.S. and its Neighbors, Canada and Mexico," she said.

A Syracuse, N.Y. native who got her doctorate in Medieval French Literature from the University of Chicago, she said GEH is not as formidable as the name might sound.

"We work with people on a one-to-one basis. And we think of ourselves as a friendly agency. Call us, come by if you're in Atlanta, or write. We're really 'down home' people," she said.

More brains found

CHAMPAIGN, IL [CPS]--For the second time in a month, University of Illinois students have happened on some misplaced brains.

Most recently, senior Laura McInerney found brains in a plastic bag "hanging on the railing" of a dorm elevator car.

Two weeks before, an Acacia fraternity member found 22 human brains in a laundry bag in the frat house basement.

Blame for the theft of the human brains has since been assigned to an unnamed rival fraternity, which was apparently trying to pull a prank.

The most recent discovery was of sheep brains, according to university police investigator Charles Moore.

"I have no idea where it came from," Moore says. No group has claimed credit for leaving the brain, and no sheep have reported missing any brains, he adds.

Nargi wins first individual waard

Dr. Hugh Bailey, VSC President, awards All-Conference certificates to champion Jim Nargi (Delta Chi), and third-place finisher Chuck Rich (Ashley-Converse), as their reward for the 40-yard Dash competition. Warren Coats of KA finished second, and all three earned the first awards in BAC history. Dr. Bailey is one of the Blazer Athletic Conference's top boosters.

Jim Nargi won the first individual competition in Blazer Conference history, as he set the pace with a 4.85-time in the 40-yard Dash, this past Friday. Nargi, running for Delta Chi, edged KA's Warren Coats (4.86), and Ashley-Converse's Chuck Rich (4.89), for the impressive win. His victory earned the Chi's 5-points toward the ALL-SPORTS award, while the KA's got 3, and Ashley-Converse one. All three men also became the first ALL-CONFERENCE performers in BAC history. Uper Brown's Robert Craft (4.90) and Lorenzo Parker (4.95), and Miles Dennis of Ashley-Converse (4.91) were the top-challengers for honors, as several reputedly-faster athletes failed to enter the competition.

VSC and CESA announce course

NEWS BUREAU -- The department of Educational Administration and Supervision at Valdosta State College and the Okefenokee CESA Schools System at Waycross are sponsoring a special course for the 1982-83 academic year. It is EAS 898, Advanced Practicum in Educational Administration and Supervision: Communication and Group Process, according to Dr. Virginia Wylie, acting head of EAS at VSC and coordinator of the program.

Dr. Al Woodard of the Okefenokee CESA Center, adjunct professor and Dr. Wylie are to announce visiting lecturers for the sessions at a later date. Classes are scheduled from 5-9 p.m. on the first Wednesday of each month beginning Oct. 6. Course credit is available from Valdosta State College.

"The course is designed for experienced educators in the Waycross area," said Dr. Wylie, "and emphasizes practical experiences in administration. We at VSC are trying to meet the needs of educators in the area and we expect to have a good response for this course."

Increase has

By LUANNE MANNING
Increased enrollment has many positive effects on Valdosta State College. Many students may see only the negative aspects of this year's surge of enrollment and find things to complain about such as: shortage of housing and parking, larger classes and other such factors. The college as an institution sees the positive points outweighing the negative factors by a large percentage.

Fall quarter 1982 marked the first time VSC was unable to accommodate all the students who wanted to live on campus. The Office of Residence Life should feel complimented by the fact that many students enjoy on campus living. VSC did everything possible to house as many students as possible. Storage and study rooms in the residence halls were converted into dormitory room. Almost everyone who objected to these living arrangements have been moved satisfactorily. Some people actually preferred to stay in the study rooms because they are larger.

The Office of Residence Life, in coordination with the Student Government Association, developed a list of off-campus places that students could inquire into.

More sections of classes had to be opened to accommodate the large number of students. VSC classrooms are not large enough to seat sixty or more students, so some teachers have been able to make use of Powell Hall Auditorium and some of the larger classrooms in the Education Center.

Parking has been unusually difficult this year. A new parking lot is in the process of being completed on the other side of the gymnasium to help alleviate this problem. The conference Parking Lot on

McFadden named Department Head

NEWS BUREAU -- Alex McFadden, assistant professor of English, has been named Acting Head of the English department at Valdosta State College, according to Dr. John Upchurch, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

The appointment was made by Dr. Hugh C. Bailey, VSC president. Dr. Willa Valencia, former Head of the department, resigned June 30 to return to full time class work. A search committee has been named to look for a permanent Head of the department.

During his 18 years on the VSC campus, McFadden has been called on more than once to fill in as acting Head of a department. He served as Assistant Dean of Faculties for eight years during which time he was Acting Head of Nursing for one year. He was also Acting Head of Division of Fine Arts for two years.

"I'm looking forward to working with my colleagues and with the students whom
