AT RANDOM

with Clegg

The time is near when the candidates for the Student Council and class offices will be making speeches and shaking hands in their last week before you, the VSC college student, will either put them in office or keep them out.

But what is an election when the disinterested student, such as some we have on the campus, will not even show up and take the five minutes to mark a ballot. (At Random imagines the top contending candidates will even furnish you a pencil. They have in the past.)

Last year the number of students who voted was greater than it was the year before, but still a small percent of our registered student body votes. You owe it to yourself and the candidates in the race to get out and vote.

As this goes to press the candidates have not been announced. However, when they are, have the decency to examine each man or woman for what they stand for and inform yourself so that you can better be able to be qualified to vote and get the candidate you want in office because if you don't vote and the winners don't satisfy you, you can't complain afterwards.

At Random would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Gamma Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon the newest addition to Greekdom on our campus. Having been initiated only weekend before last, they are still proudly beaming and gladly showing off their new pins to anyone who might care to look.

With the addition of this group national greekdom on the campus is complete with all six fraternal and sorority groups boasting national affiliation.

As editor, at Random, received a card the other day from Lucia D. Carpenter of Glamour Magazine who is Glamour's associate contest editor for the best "10 Best Dressed College Girls in America" contest. If you remember a while back we sent photographs of Valdosta State's Best Dressed, Mary Dickey, and entered her in the contest. We were informed that the judges were busy at work on their decision and we should know something definite come the end of April.

The faculty should be congratulated on their "Self Study". It is excellent in form and very enlightening in content. Copies of it are on reserve in the library. Why don't you stop by and read it? At Random feels this study will not only be valuable now but in the future.

May your Easter be a joyous one...

Announcement!

The Dean of Women sends the following announcement to the presidents and sponsors of clubs and organizations concerning the 1960-61 School Year Social Calendar.

The time has come to plan the calendar for 1960-61. Please be present yourself or have a responsible representative present at the meeting on Thursday, April 21 at four o'clock in Room 19.

Please make your plans as complete as possible. We know of course that adjustments will be made during the year, but we do feel that too many changes were made this year. Our Social Calendar is becoming increasingly complex, hence the necessity for organizations to place every planned project on the calendar.

New Yorker Reviewed Dr. Gulliver

By Emmett Taylor

Students of Dr. Harold S. Gulliver, professor of the English Department here at VSC, were the recipients of a few unscheduled holidays last quarter, unaware of the fame their professor had attained during his sojourn - national recognition had been accorded Dr. Gulliver in the March 5 issue of "The New Yorker" magazine. Traditionally each Washington's Birthday (February 22 to the unhistorical minded), Yale, mother of men, invites her innumerable progeny to return to New Haven, attend classes and sports events, have lunch in Commons, listen to a speech by President Griswold, and otherwise partake of the privileges and splendors of undergraduate life. This 1960 event was devoted to a Memorial Library where samples of their works, and of the works of two hundred and seventy other Yale authors, were on display. Contributions of Dr. Gulliver to this mass of works were "Out of the Bog and Other Poems" and "Thackeray's Literary Apprenticeship", both which incidentally may be found in the library.

Though Dr. Gulliver is esteemed highly by his alma mater, people here in Valdosta and particularly those here at VSC have "staked their claims" on him also. Having been born and reared a Yankee, he is now considered one of we "Georgia Crackers" due to his migration some thirty years ago. Born in New Haven, Connecticut in 1893, the son of a Yale valedictorian and descendant of eleven ancestors who fought in the American Revolution, he saw extensive military service in World War I when he was commissioned as a Lieutenant in the U. S. Field Artillery. In 1922, after the end of the war and completion of his military service, he became a lecturer at Columbia University and took his Ph. D. degree from Yale University in 1930. large degree in paying homage to Yale authors, both living and dead.

Yale President Griswold and several hundred fellow-alumni paid dueful respect and homage to Dr. Gulliver and some thirty other poets and novelists in an array of events which included a professional colloquium on Yale writers that was addressed by Robert Penn Warren, Charles Fenton, and Cleanth Brooks—and later a reception in the Sterling

Speech Department To Present Clegg In Shakespeare And Williams

Male's Viewpoint

By Emmett Taylor
(Article One in a Series)

As a member of the current class of Sociology 410, better known as courtship and marriage, I was appalled by some of the dating procedures advocated by the feminine members of our class. By no means am I an authority on this subject but viewing the matter from general observations I think with time some of our dating practices can be outmoded.

If you do not agree simply look at an old copy of Emily Post's Etiquette--now I realize that some of the practices in this book are far above our immediate class range, but they serve to indicate that practices of dating and courtship change as time moves on. At any rate, it is interesting to see concepts come to light.

Among the many things that have been discussed recently is a way to interest the men students on our campus in dating. Keeping in mind that I personally am not in arrears for dates, I would like to review some of the concepts held by men students on our campus and perhaps in future issues of the Canopy some of our female students would like to justify their stand. It seems to me that girls are too choosy (to be ungrammatical) in their selection of dates, when often times they really can't afford to be and I might say that this tends to work both ways. When girls on our campus look for a date they look for money and the things which go along with money such as a fine car and other things which the average college student cannot afford. Now I may be completely off base, but girls tend to be unfinancial-minded in regard to dating.

Boys are naturally desirous of more than one date a week, but in regard to generalities when they are compelled to spend in excess of $2 per date, so many times it is impossible for them to date regularly. Girls again are unmindful of hidden troubles a boy has in preparation for a date. If he does not have a car, he is expected to find one or some friend to go with, if the car is without gas, a dollar's worth is generally sufficient to go most any place that the girl is permitted to go. Next, he must call the girl and using the proper technique of approach to suit her fancy, ask her for the date. This cannot be done just any time--most girls regard the day of the date that night as entirely too late to accept a date--actually they like to be notified a week in advance, although, later than this is usually accepted.

How can they expect a boy to know this soon in advance what he intends to do a week later unless it is some special event? Not only this, but definite plans for the afternoon or evening must be given when the date is made. This tends to make another problem for the boy, to decide what to do. Females tend to be chic when asked what they would like to do on a date, feeling always that it is the boy's decision as to what to do.

I would like to see Sally Hawkins Day orientated onto this campus to see the technique that girls would use to interest a boy in a date. While talking with some coeds recently, I asked them what approach they would employ in asking someone for a date - some were reluctant to say what they expected when a boy asked them for a date and most of them said that they could never ask for a date. Along with this I would like to see each girl have to secure a way of transportation, make plans for the date and foot the bill--maybe some of these socially cultured females would have their eyes opened.

Self Study

We have just completed reading Valdosta State's "Self Study" and been interviewed by the visiting committee from the Southern Association of College and Secondary Schools on accreditation for whom the study was made. We find it to be an informative and valuable document. If this type of study is kept up to date we feel the college will grow and prosper and benefit greatly from this examining of itself.

There are 10 parts or chapters to the study. They are: the introduction which includes a historical sketch, the area that the college serves, and the educational objectives of the college; the administration and the organization; and the finances and budget; (This will particularly interest those who say they never know where the money goes.) the Valdosta State student is considered next; the curriculum and instruction, in this chapter are reports of the Divisions of Instruction (Those divisions are: Business Administration; Education, Health, and Physical Education; The Humanities, Natural Sciences and Mathematics, and the Social Sciences.) Following next, is a full and complete analysis or evaluation of the Instruction. The fifth chapter is entitled "The Alumni"; then one moves into an examination of the Student personnel program; the faculty (number, salaries, etc.); and next a complete study of the Library. The ninth chapter discusses the plant and physical facilities and the tenth is the conclusion.

The Speech Department will present Jerome Clegg in a program of Shakespeare and Tennessee Williams on April 26 at 8:15 p.m. in Pound Hall Auditorium on North Campus. Admission to the program is free. Clegg is appearing in the production which features him, as part fulfillment of degree requirements for his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Humanities with emphasis on Speech.

The program will open with a play, a comedy, written neither by Shakespeare nor Williams, but John L. Balderston. The title is "A Morality Play for the Leisureed Class" and we can't reveal anything about it for fear we might give away the hilarious ending. Mr. Clegg will be assisted by Maurice Whiddon in performing this unusual play.

And thus ends the penetrating self study of Valdosta State College made by Mrs. Corinne S. Knight, chairman of the Steering Committee, this committee and the many other faculty committees who put in many hours on this report. They are all to be commended on a job well done and our hats are off to them.

Every VSC student should avail himself of the use of the two copies of this study which have been placed in the library, and there is a wealth of information there for all.

to his coming to the VSC, then Georgia State Woman's College, he taught at George Peabody College for Teachings in Nashville, Tennessee and the University of Georgia in Athens.

Since coming to Valdosta in 1929, Dr. Gulliver has been elected President of the Valdosta Rotary Club, Commander of the local post of the American Legion, President of the American Association of University Professors, and President of the Execu-

Tennessee Williams' "I Rise in Flame Cried the Phoenix", a play about the late D. H. Lawrence, author of Lady Chatterly's Lover will next be viewed. The controversial Mr. Williams has done it again with a poignant and tragic study of a man whom little understand and possibly some who do not care to. Nevertheless Williams' play is rich in philosophy and provides an excellent vehicle for Mr. Clegg's talent. He will assume the role of Lawrence on the day he died and will be assisted by two others (not cast at press time) who will take the parts of Frieda and Bertha. Rounding out the program Clegg will appear alone on a big stage and deliver some of the most brilliant Shakespeare collected together for one program. His program is fashioned after a similar one presented Broadway two years ago by Jon Guilgud and traces Shakespeare's "Ages of Man" from youth manhood to old age. The entire production is under the direction of Miss Louise A. Sawyer, head of the Speech Department.

It's a once in a life time show. Don't miss it!

Math-Science News

James Moorman has been accepted for admittance to the September 1960 class at the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta. James, a University of Georgia graduate, entered V. S. C. last summer and has been meeting pre-medical requirements since that time.

Lester Duncan has a position in cardiopulmonary research at Eugene Talmadge Memorial Hospital in Augusta for next summer. Last summer he worked with Dr. W. Know Fitzpatrick at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Salt Lake City. Lester, together with James Moorman and William Kent, will represent VSC at the Medical College of Georgia next fall as first year medical students.

Harrison McDonald, a former VSC pre-medical student, is presently located at the Naval Air Station in Norfolk, Virginia. He writes that he hopes to resume his pre-medical training next March. The McDonalds announced the arrival of their daughter, Kim, born on March 1.

Mr. Babcock and Doctors Carter and Nevins served as judges for the first Grady County Area Science Fair which was held in Cairo, Georgia, on March 24. The projects exhibited were prepared by elementary, junior, and senior high school pupils and represented the following six areas of subject matter: Life Sciences, Earth Sciences, Celestial Sciences, Physical Sciences, Applied Biology, and Engineering. While in Cairo we were pleased to hear most favorable comments regarding the work in science being done by two former biology majors, Barbara Crew Massey (Mrs. Larry), who is teaching in Cairo, and Wayne Faircloth, who is on the science faculty in Whigham, Georgia.

Laura Leonard, 1959 VSC graduate, is as enthusiastic about teaching English and Biology at the Brooks County High School. Alan Pendelton visited us on registration day which came during his spring holiday. He liked his work at Emory and brought us news of some of our former students, who are enrolled in the School of Dentistry at Emory. Ed Gandy (VSC 1959 graduate), Leo Aronson, and Johnny Maloney are the ones he sees most frequently.

We thought it would be rather trite to ask him who he thought the greatest literary figure of all time was, but we asked him anyway and as you can imagine - it was William Shakespeare. In addition to this question we also asked him who his favorite was and without a moment of hesitation he replied Thackeray. The book, "Thackeray's Literary Apprenticeship" was written in its original form by Dr. Gulliver as a dissertation for his doctorate degree at Yale and was later adapted for publication. We also discovered that "Out of the Bog and Other Poems" is a collection written over a span of years while he was in college, during the war, while teaching abroad, and some since coming to Valdosta.

SOCIETY

The Latest Word

Well, it seems as if spring is really here to stay and I'm sure that most of us are glad. The saying goes that in the spring a young man's fancy turns to love, but girls don't forget this is leap year, so maybe now's the chance! A few more weeks and I expect there will be a few bad cases of sunburns (as a matter of fact, I think there are all ready some), and still worse cases of that good 'ole spring fever.

First in the hearts and minds of the members of the Greek organizations here on campus when it finally gets to be spring are their spring Beach House parties. All the frats and sororities are making big plans for those week-ends in May.

The week-end of April 1-3 was a gold star week-end for the Sigma Epsilon Colony of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity on VSC campus. For it was at this time that they became Gamma Chapter, a nationally affiliated group. Beginning the big week-end was an Open House held at the House-in-the-Woods on Friday night. Saturday was the big day for initiation, followed by a banquet and dance on Saturday night. The banquet and dance was held at Minchew's Restaurant. The brothers and their dates enjoyed dancing to the music of Bob Bentura and his band.

The Zeta Nu Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity recently held its annual spring initiation. Those initiated were Harvey Roddenberry, Doug Eason, Ricky Perez, and Walt Beach. Richard Shaw was initiated as an associate member. The initiation week-end of March 25-27 was terminated on Saturday night with a party held at Twin Lakes after the final part of the initiation.

Heading the slate of officers for TKE for the year of 1960-1961 is Bernie Brown as president and serving with him are the following: vice-president, Lamar Pearson; secretary, Robert Waters; treasurer, Ben Force; historian, Stephen Vaughn; chaplain, Hugh McIntyre; Sgt. at Arms, Hal Worley; and pledge trainer, Kelsey Kemp.

The girls in Gamma Mu Chapter of Kappa Delta were entertained with a coke party given them by the Valdosta Alumni Association on Thursday afternoon, Apr. 7, at the country club. Cokes and the trimmings were served and the group enjoyed an informal social hour.

Florida State University will be the destination for three Kappa Delta sisters for the week-end of Apr. 22, 23, and 24. At this time the workshop for officers will be held. Those planning to attend are Sandra Massey, Louise Wight, and Kay Domingos.

The Tekes will be host to the district leadership training conference to be held here April 9 and 10. Chapters from Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, and North Florida will be represented. There will also be some of the national officers on campus for the conference. One of the highlights of the week-end will be a banquet and dance at the Daniel Ashley Hotel. During the conference different aspects of fraternity life and new ideas presented for the betterment of each individual chapter will be discussed. Mr. Don Erickson and Mrs. John Odum will represent the Administration at the function.

The speaker for the banquet was Mr. Bedford Black, Grand Historian and representative to the North Carolina congress. Tommy Sessions received the charter from Mr. Black and afterwards the officers were installed. Attending the banquet and dance were Sigma Phi Epsilon brothers who were here on campus to aid in the installation. The University of Alabama, Florida State University, Georgia Tech, and Tennessee Wesleyan, were represented.

Sandra Partillo, newly elected Panhellenic President here on VSC, attended the Panhellenic Conference of Colleges at the University of Kentucky at Lexington, Kentucky, for the week-end of April 1-3. Meetings were planned to give the girls new ideas for the operation of college panhellenic councils and betterment of sorority relations on the college campus. Making the trip with her was Becca McGraw of Alpha Delta Pi.

Rome Anyone?

Whoever said, "The best things in life are free", could have been thinking about our current contest fever, and 1960 promises to be a banner year for contest giveaways.

Some pundits have gone so far as to estimate that the time and effort spent by American business on thinking up things to give away, coupled with the value of all the prizes, could: (1) put the U. S. ahead of Russia in the space race; (2) halve the national debt; (3) assure a winning football team at Podunk U. for the next 10 years.

Last example of this peculiarly American institution is of special interest to college students. To mark its selection as the Exclusive Soap of the 1960 Winter Olympics in Rome. The next

New Public Relations Director

By Sandra Massey

The public relations department here on Valdosta State College campus now has a new director. Don Erickson, who is replacing Mr. Wallace Waites, comes to VSC from Albany where he was Production Manager for WALB-TV. He came to South Georgia about six years ago from his home in Chicago having received his B. S. degree from the University of Illinois where he also earned a Masters degree in Journalism.

Dr. Thaxton, upon announcing Mr. Erickson's appointment to the college staff, commented "We are delighted to have a man of his experience and background with us. I am sure he will do a good job".

Mr. Erickson will also serve as faculty advisor to the staffs of the Campus Canopy and The Pine

MR. ERICKSON

Cone. He says he plans to get down "to the old grind of writing stories and taking pictures".

Having been associated with television stations in Albany and Thomasville, he also has served as an instructor of television at Florida State University. His TV work included supervision of cameramen, announces, art and photo departments. He wrote commercials, served as program director and developed program ideas. He originated the Channel 10 program "Saturday Hop" at Albany and also created the voices of puppets used on a program on Channel 6.

Working hard at reorganizing the public relations office Mr. Erickson, when asked how he liked VSC, replied, "I am very impressed by the school as a whole". Another thing he likes about it is the fact that it is close to his present home, a farm about 20 miles from town.

three winners in the drawing will be awarded a week's vacation for two in Bermuda. (While there are no restrictions as to traveling companions, each winner must supply his own.)

A special feature of the contest is that an RCA color TV set will be awarded to any school or college listed on the four top prize-winning entries. (Only one school or college can be listed on an entry.)

Besides the top four prizes, Polaroid camera kits will be awarded the next six winners, while 90 other winning entrants will receive RCA transistor radios.

To take part in the Lifebuoy contest, students need only write their names and addresses and the school of their choice on either (1) the entry blanks available at local stores or in the Feb. 15 and 22 issues of Sports Illustrated, (2) the back of any Lifebuoy wrapper, or (3) a reasonable facsimile thereof. This last avenue opens up a fertile field of endeavor for fraternity and sorority pledges.

All entries must be mailed to Olympic Salute, P. O. Box #52, Mount Vernon, N. Y., and post-marked by April 11. All prizes will be awarded on the basis of a blindfold drawing.

Personnel Service

A campaign to encourage college graduates to come to Chicago immediately upon graduation for many "new and old" job opportunities, was launched today by the Zinser Personnel Service, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago.

Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, director, said that the Chicago area is booming with employment opportunities for both men and women. "Here is the place where college graduates with proper guidance can get a moving start in applying their educational training to a successful career," Mrs. Zinser said. "We want to help graduates to find their right place in the business world," she added.

Counselors of the personnel service are geared to help college men and women to (1) bridge the gap between school and the job;

1960 Summer Placement Directory

The new enlarged 1960 annual SUMMER PLACEMENT DIRECTORY, the largest and most comprehensive listing of actual summer jobs, projects, and awards is now available. Copies can be examined at most University Placement or Deans' offices, college and public libraries, and school superintendents' offices.

This unique DIRECTORY completely revised each year, is particularly prepared for teachers, professors, librarians, and college students. Jobs for which high school seniors may also apply are clearly indicated.

Some of the over 12,000 summer earning opportunities listed throughout the United States and many foreign countries include an opportunity to be a recreation director at Washington's Olympic National Park; joining a group of young people from many nations on an archeological excavation to expose an ancient temple in France; and acting with a Bardstown, Kentucky summer dramatic group in "The Stephen Foster Story".

This year's DIRECTORY offers many special student training programs and openings of a permanent nature in hundreds of firms such as Chemstrand Corporation, Addressograph-Multigraph Corporation, Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., and the Ingersoll-Rand Co.

Study projects, camp positions, jobs and apprenticeships with summer and music theatres, and work at resorts and dude ranches are some of the other varied offers made to students and educators. Many branches of the U. S. Government throughout the country have also requested their openings to be included.

All openings have been submitted directly to the INSTITUTE and include job descriptions, dates of employment, necessary qualifications, number of openings, salaries, and the names and the addresses of the employers. Helpful information is given on how to apply for positions and each DIRECTORY contains a sample resume to assist applicants applying for their first job.

The regular price is $3.00. However, students and teachers writing on their school stationery can obtain this year's employment guide for only $2.00 from THE ADVANCEMENT and PLACEMENT INSTITUTE, Box 99N, Station G, Brooklyn 22, N. Y.

(2) consult on job opportunities now available; (3) encourage creative thinking; (4) interpret new industries; (5) interpret employer attitudes, and (6) discuss each student's background, personal interest, training and education for a specific job.

"We know the employers' thinking. Our assignment right now is to find the right people for the many jobs available in the business and professional fields," Mrs. Zinser said.

The Zinser Personnel Service has helped over 100,000 men and women to career opportunities since its 1922 founding. It represents over 10,000 employer-clients in the Chicago area alone, and works with many colleges and universities on the placement of their graduates.

-SPORTS-

FROM THE BENCH

Insufficient practice due to inclement weather was the big factor that caused Coach Bill Grant's 1960 Rebels to drop their opening games to the Moccasins from Florida Southern. Coach Grant stated that he was well-pleased with the teams showing. He said that he was looking forward to a .500 season and possibly better if the winter quarter grades didn't cut his squad too much.

In the seasons opener the Rebels went down to defeat by the score of 6-0. The team hitting was weak in this game as Tommy Thomas garnered the only hits. The stocky pitcher collected three hits.

The second game proved to be more difficult for the Southern lads as the Rebel Bats came alive.

The Rebels were leading 2-0 in the late innings only to have their lead diminished by a costly error. Big Steve Kebler came on the scene in the late innings and promptly shut the door for Lakeland. Buck Ethridge, fire-balling righthander, kept the Moccasins from scoring throughout the game, but suffered a heart-breaking defeat via the error route.

Mobley, Kebler, Ethridge, Delaney, Berryhill, and Faulkner are all proven competitors who love the game, and they are certainly going to make the GIAC conference race an interesting one. Fans get out and see the Rebels play when they return to Pendleton Park. They are well-worth watching, and you can rest assured that those guys are representing it well.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE EASTER SUNDAY

We'd like to admit right here and now that the main reason we run advertisements like this is to get you, dear reader, to drink Coca-Cola to the virtual exclusion of all other beverages. The sooner you start going along with us, the sooner we'll both begin to get more out of life.
