

Library Annual Report

FY 2015

Acquisitions, Serials & Collection Development

Acquisitions

- The Acquisitions Unit purchased 3,687 monographic items at a price of $161,790. Fiscal year 2015 saw the end of the Library Funding Pool. This meant a loss of $100,000 for the purchase of monographic material. This translated into a 52.9% decrease in the number of monographs purchased (FY2014: 7,832 items purchased). For the last couple of years, the Library had been fortunate to receive end of year money. To some degree, the decline in the number of monographic purchases also reflects the non-receipt of that supplemental money.
- The Acquisitions Unit purchased 1,819 serial items at a price of $1,052,092. (FY2014: 1,897 at a cost of $1,076,348). This figure includes 6 new subscription titles and 95 cancellations. Of the cancellations, 16 were open access items that we removed from our invoice to avoid unnecessary charges.
- As part of the acquisitions process, 3,445 bibliographic records were brought into the catalog by Acquisitions staff.

Repairs, Binding & Replacements

- The Acquisitions Unit repaired 496 books in-house (FY14: 454; FY13: 368).
- 752 bound periodicals (FY14: 1,051) were added.
- 254 theses were bound (FY 14: 463; FY13: 413).
- Additional binding include: 74 Monographs/Books, 14 Music Scores, 52 Rebinds, and 8 Serials.
- 44 (FY14: 145) replacement items were purchased.

Serials & Electronic Resources

- SFX Anywhere Access was removed from Discovery and replaced with Linksource
- Worldcat Discovery Service Migration :
 - Updated Library Links for Chat Service
 - Updated local catalog link from GIL Classic to GIL Find

- “Request item” button pointed at VSU’s ILL page
- EBSCO Linkresolver (Linksource)
 - Improved menu options for Linksource. Added IlliadLink and changed icons
 - Populated Linksource syntax in various content host interfaces such as Springer, Wiley, etc.
 - PubMed Outside Tool request approved June 23, 2015 and populated link in various websites (Galileo, LibGuides, etc)
 - Google Scholar- waiting on EBSCO to add- April 23, 2015

 - Spoke to OCLC at ALA about OCLC Worldshare Metadata Collection Manager and they said there were known problems and were working on fixing them.

- Serial Cataloging
 - Added electronic format bibliographic records to split multiple format records for content that is moving from print or print/online to online
 - Original cataloging needed for “TD at Work” materials
 - Created procedures for cataloging serials as monographs

 - Withdrew 332 journal titles
 - 9063 bound volumes withdrawn
 - 457 rolls of microfilm withdrawn
 - 1275 pieces of fiches withdrawn
 - All records were suppressed in catalog

- Electronic Resources
 - Made sure all new online journals had electronic format bibliographic records in Voyager. In 2015, 572 records for online journals were added.
 - Made sure all new online journals were turned on and that patrons of VSU could access them

- Communicated with Automation to ensure that journals were set up in the EZ Proxy Configuration File.
- Completed statistics for FY15 of electronic resources (See Appendix, “FY 2015 Electronic Resource Usage Statistics”).

Collection Development

The loss of the funding pools has changed the focus of collection development. In previous years, the focus was on preparing funding proposals to build the collection in particular areas (such as Psychology or Native American Studies). Today, the focus is more on optimizing what is bought for the collection as a whole. For instance, if we can no longer afford to buy all the YBP Core Titles, then a selection of those titles must be made: the core of the core. FY 2015 also saw some major weeding projects.

Weeding

- Print Journals: The bound periodical stacks were crowded, lacked growth room and consequently were becoming increasingly disordered. A weeding project was initiated focusing on titles held electronically through JSTOR. Other titles were also identified for removal, including titles owned electronically as part of the Sage backfile and government periodicals available online. The goal of the project was to open enough room to leave top shelves empty, while still providing adequate growth space. Statistics from the weed are reported in the Serials section above (“Journal Weed”).
- 16mm Films: The Library’s obsolete collection of 346 motion pictures was deaccessioned and surplussed.
- Microfiche: Per orders of the Fire Marshall, the microfiche collection had to be moved. Since available space was smaller than the original location, a weeding project was planned. The following subcollections were weeded. A) Government Documents (28,175 units). Redundant titles (i.e., titles available in another physical format and held by the library for > 5 years) were pulled. B) HRAF (22,230 units). This latter collection was superseded by the online eHRAF database. To ease crowding of drawers, it is recommended that further weeding of the collection be undertaken in the future.
- Inventory Missing: A decision was made to withdraw inventory items that were flagged missing. Records for 2,644 missing items were suppressed and OCLC holdings removed. In FY 2016, inventory missing items will be reviewed and replacement copies for selected titles will be purchased.

Gifts

- 4,909 gifts were received in FY 2015.
- Major donations include Judy Schreiber’s music collection (993 CD’s) and Bob Richter’s collection of scores (1,177 items).
- 1,460 gift items with offered up (i.e., not added to the collection).

APPENDIX
FY 2015 Electronic Resource Usage Statistics

Data are collected from each vendor or organization’s administrative website, using COUNTER Database/Journal/Book Reports when available. EBSCO and ProQuest are separated from the rest of the locally licensed databases for both ease of reporting and trend analysis if needed.

According to COUNTER, full-text articles are a “complete text, including all references, figures and tables, of an article, plus links to any supplementary material published with it.”

Search (regular) is a user- driven intellectual query, typically equated to submitting the search form of the online service to the server.

Session is a successful request of an online service. It is one cycle of user activities that typically starts when a user connects to the service or database and ends by terminating activity that is either explicit (by leaving the service through exit or logout) or implicit (timeout due to user inactivity) (NISO).

Please note, that not all statistics are COUNTER. Some vendors opt to use alternative methods of calculating statistics. All of the vendors using non-COUNTER statistics will be denoted with an & next to their name. Also, some may use a combination of COUNTER and non-COUNTER reports.

Teaching:

41 classes taught in 2014-2015, a 35 % increase over 2013-14, mainly due to the Remnant Trust classes, which helped offset the sabbatical of one of our most frequent requesters of classes. Also archivist taught semester long MLIS 7710, Archival Theory and Issues.

Fall: 19 Classes and MLIS 7710

MLIS 7710- semester long course in Archival Theory and Issues taught for VSU MLIS program:

Cataloging

There were no staffing changes in the Cataloging Department for 2015. One administrative change was the transfer of all Government Document collection development activities to the Government Documents librarian; Cataloging will continue to catalog and maintain the physical collection.

The last of the print items in the Cataloging Department have been cataloged and moved to their respective location in the library. The print backlog in the Acquisitions storage room have been completed. A collection of VHS videorecordings in Cataloging have either been cataloged or given to Collection Development for disposition.

19,976 items were handled by Cataloging last year. This includes new cataloging as well as upgrading existing records that passed through the department. This is approximately 1700 items per month, down somewhat from last year due to the fact that more complex and difficult items are being cataloged.

The collection of record albums in the Cataloging Department have been unboxed and placed on shelves, sorted by various types. Also, items from the Huxford Collection have been unboxed and sorted. These items include record albums, cassette tapes, reel-to-reel tapes and single records. At this time, they are “on hold” while Cataloging and Collection Development works on more pressing projects.

After the major backlog in authority work due to the changes brought by RDA, Cataloging is again current with its authority work; this has the benefit of giving our users the most current names and subjects to search with, thereby improving data access and retrieval.

All purchased items that could be identified in the Cataloging Department have been cataloged. Work is now progressing on an extensive backlog of gift CDs. These are being added/weeded in collaboration with Collection Development. Where a CD duplicates an existing record album, the album is being deaccessioned in favor of the CD. The vast majority of scores have been cataloged with a small amount of gift titles remaining to be added. They have been weeded in collaboration with Collection Development.

Cataloging continues to work with the Systems Librarian as well as the Collection Development Librarian as we develop more efficient processes for adding e-resources to the catalog to ensure they have the same level of accessibility as our physical resources.

EXTERNAL ACTIVITY

The library added 335 original records to OCLC and enhanced an additional 1736 others. 41 authority records were created and 26 were updated as part of the NACO/SACO program, by far the largest in the Georgia NACO Funnel project.

Cataloging staff continued to serve as committee chairs for ALA and GLA as well as the ongoing program for training cataloging staff and librarians in Belize.

Circulation

- August 2014, Steven Scheuler became Department Head of the Access Services Department of Odum Library replacing Brett Williams.
- January 2015, the Circulation and Interlibrary Loan Departments were merged for administrative purposes and renamed Access Services Department
- The Voyager client was updated to 9.0.0
- GiLExpress daily procedures were absorbed by the Circulation department due to depletion of staff in InterLibrary Loan.
- Access Services Department staff has been reduced by three members which required adjustments to work schedules and staff training on GIL Express and Interlibrary Loan for more flexibility in workflows to accommodate reductions.
- Oversized books in several areas of the stacks were removed and sent to cataloging for relabeling and then transferred to the oversized area in the stacks.
- New procedures adopted for books that are flagged Missing updated, this now includes Odum Library's Acquisitions Department.
- Job descriptions for each position updated and submitted to Human Resources.
- Student training revised to ensure timely reviews and more efficient training.
- Online manual for department composed and put on home page for easy references to policy and procedures.
- Circulation staff provided 24 hour open coverage for the entire library building during the finals week of fall and spring semester 2015. Building usage during finals week between the hours of 2:00AM and 8:00AM showed the extended operating hours were well received.
- Luke Smith is collaborating with the Information Technology Department (IT) conducting cross training for lab assistants for IT's Technical Response Units transition some of the current lab monitors to IT.
- Staff continued inventory procedures for the collection finishing several outlier areas.
- Third and final pass of the general collection, LZs, Big Books, Oversize, Popular and Special collections were conducted for the Library Inventory. Collaborating with the Library's Automation Department a final report of all the books that are in the library's catalog that did not show up during the inventory was completed.
- Final inventory results include 320,000 items marked as Inventory Present and just under 3,000 marked as missing.
- In collaboration with Electronic Resources/Serials Librarian print bound journals that are received electronically through the database JSTOR were withdrawn. More space for print collections and/or study space was created.
- A Missing Book Search Form was added to the library website.
- Clarification of Patron Group checkout policies was added to the library website.
- Circulation started promotion campaign with bookmarks to help increase MyLibrary signups.

The Circulation staff remained stable throughout the 2014-2015 Fiscal Year. Donna Jones provided expertise on library reserves and overall department workflows. Katie Rowland provided daytime staffing at the main Circulation desk and took over the GilExpress daily procedures. William Simmons, Pamela Johnson and Darrell Boner provided staffing during the evening/night hours at the main Access Services desk. Serena Taylor was added to InterLibrary Loan Department to assist with workflow there and provided morning coverage at the Internet Café Circulation desk. Josh Wallace provided coverage for the Internet Café desk in the evenings and Lisa Harken during the overnight hours. Bruce Bailey provided invaluable service for projects throughout the library and Luther Smith performed as Stacks Management Supervisor and in charge of training students. The Circulation Department hired and trained and provided employment for over 50 work study and student assistants at Odum Library throughout the fiscal year.

Odum Library will likely be on an entirely different fulfillment system soon and the Access Services staff will continue to collaborate with all library departments to meet any challenges encountered.

Achievements from July 2014 – July 2015

Workshops

We have held 54 workshops in the Media Center based on LANDesk stats. One of the 54 workshops was a special request workshop for Employee & Organizational Development (EOD), Adobe Acrobat Pro X: Form Building. We also provided workshops on PowerPoint Poster Creation, Adobe Audition Basics, Adobe Photoshop Basics, and Adobe Acrobat Pro X: Building a Portfolio, and Windows Movie Maker. I provided face-face informal workshops for Camtasia, PowerPoint, YouTube utilization, and basic photo editing using Photo Gallery for individuals throughout the semester. I am in the process of developing new training for Camtasia 8.0 and Adobe Premier CS6. In total I have taught 375 students.

Fig. 1: This bar graph shows the number of workshops provided.

Fig. 2: This graph shows the results for the workshop evaluations.

Management Certification

I have completed the Management Certification program within a years' time. There were 11 workshops in total to attend, amounting to 23.5 credit hours in total. I have attended the Six Sigma Green Belt in May 2015.

Chair for Campus Wellness

I have taken on full responsibilities as the Chair of Campus Wellness. Events we have spearheaded are Active for Life, Blazer Dash 5K, Benefits and Wellness Fair, and Walking Club. A few of my primary functions are meeting scheduling, minute/agenda generation, communication between members, writing executive summary reports for the President, VPS, and Director of HR.

Hiring Staff & Students

I was a part of the hiring committee of 3 staff members for IT. One for the IT TRU coordinator position and the other two for Helpdesk coordinator positions. I have also worked with Joseph Mitchell to hire two student positions in the Media Center. I am in charge of hiring new student workers at the Media Center. Thus far with this new duty I have posted 3 student positions and hired 5 new employees.

Reservation Calendar

In response to the higher initiative to build up stats for data driven decision making, I have implemented a system using room calendars and one shared calendar to control room reservation requests. This has helped provide more qualitative data of who is reserving the rooms. It has also assisted with communication between patron and media staff on who is scheduled to use the room and when.

Fig. 3: This table shows the number of requests added to our room reservation calendar. The average request is 2 hours in length.

Online Training for Student Workers

After working with Eric Jackson this summer, I have completed the utilization and management phases for the Media Center's online training course. I coordinated a presentation alongside IT Helpdesk and the Student Success Center for our online training environments. Students will have parent modules for each achievement level in the training sections. Five student employees have obtained completion of the Assistant Level, this includes our two new hires from Fall 2014. An element of gamification will be implemented into the course shell to add more learner engagement.

Gamification:

Leadership board.

This will be made accessible as a discussion board in D2L

* Badging using designs developed in credly.com

* Awarding Points.

* Potential ideas for the point system:

* There is no max score

* Each achievement level is dependant on the amount of experience points acquired to obtain that tiered level title (i.e. 1,000 total points associated with Assistant, 3,000 total for Associate, 6,000 for Lead, and 10,000 for Specialist. The points however don't stop at 10,000).

* There will be only three achievements for how long someone works at the Media Center

* 2 SEMESTERS - 300 POINTS

* 2 YEARS - 1000 POINTS

* 4 YEARS - 10000 POINTS

* Completion of all material in the Training Overview and Introduction will provide 200 points and unlock the achievement for the "Knowledgeable Novice" badge.

* Weekly Discussion Board Posts = 10 pts/week (Post something in your journal or your portfolio). Earn a tiered badge after generating 5 posts, 15 posts, 30 posts, 100 posts.

* Work order completions - This is based on how many times the analyst appears in our Incident list in Service Desk using the filters "Latest Assignment User Title" being their name, and "Initial Assignment Group" being Media Services. The work order point system will be on a tiered basis. 30 workorders completed = 100 points, 200 = 500, 600 = 1000, etc. Each tiered level comes with a badge.

* Student Employee of the Year - This is a 1000 point award and comes with a dignified badge uniquely titled "Student Employee of the Year".

* Equipment Circulation - Students working in the back will need to post each day in their journal on how many times they check out and in equipment. The points are as follows:

* 30 checkouts/ins = 30 pts. (Level 1 Circulator)

* 250 checkouts/ins = 100 pts. (Level 2 Circulator)

* 500 checkouts/ins = 200 pts. (Level 3 Circulator)

* 1000 checkouts/ins = 1000 pts. (Level 4 Circulator)

Online Training for Post Workshop

In Fall 2015 I began development and use of a training course shell to expand the workshop experience for those who attend and also to provide an extra learning space for those who have no way to reach VSU to attend a face-face workshop. 300 students have been added to the online training. To help control what training content is visible I have distributed individuals into select groups. For example: Someone who attended a Photoshop workshop will be added to the Photoshop group and thus will be able to view Photoshop specific training material. The utilization of this material is still experimental and the results will be measured at the end of summer.

Advertisement Campaign

Our goal this semester has been to improve advertisement. With the campus wide change in policy for e-mail communications, departments and organizations will need to find unique methods for communications across campus. In response I am working on a few avenues for communication to our VSU population.

- 1.) Social Media – I have setup and linked our Facebook page and twitter account to be set in unison so that when messages are submitted via twitter the same messages will appear on the Facebook page. Upon generation for both Twitter and Facebook we have 40 likes on Facebook and 30 followers on Twitter.
- 2.) E-mail communications – I will be advertising via mailchimp. Mailchimp uses a campaigning system which allows for data collection on total clicks to urls in the e-mail, open rate, and subscriber utilization. We can have up to 500 subscribers for free. The e-mails sent using Mailchimp are very beautiful html scripted designs, with very easy manipulation controls. View this email in your browser
- 3.) Flyer design – I worked with Roberto Leal on editing his design for the Media Center flyer. This was developed in early June or July and was ready for distribution at the beginning of this semester.

Website development

- 1.) Updated our FAQ website to have the same expandable selection list styling that is used by the Library's FAQ page.
- 2.) Developed a page describing how workflow is conducted for project requests.
- 3.) Developed an electronic form for department/organization authorizations
- 4.) Developed an electronic form for Copyright Permission for Art Displayed and Printed for Media Center use
- 5.) Developed an electronic form for 3D Print Photo Submissions to use for our online gallery
- 6.) Worked with the Web Development team to develop and use the 3D print gallery
- 7.) Improved the Workshop webpage structure. I have included a google calendar to display our workshop dates and times.
- 8.) Uploaded and utilized Jason Castillo's image designs as banner slideshows on our webpage.
- 9.) Facility update: The information shown on our website for equipment and software used was outdated. I went through and have been working to correct information I found in error. I worked with my students to get this task accomplished.

10.) Constructed a more centralized location for all pages related to 3D printing. This makes navigating from the main 3D print landing page simpler.

11.) Performed basic edits to Our Team page and maintained other site material.

12.) Updated our Equipment Checkout page with newer images taken by Eliza. Working with Web Team to develop a flashier and nicer looking slider style page.

Caught You Caring Recipient

October – “Kyle gave us a crash-course on the Camtasia software so we could update our instructional videos on our website. Kyle's patience and expertise were invaluable, and enabled us to give our videos the contemporary and professional look we desired. “

February - “I had to add audio to a PowerPoint. Kyle walked me through from start to finish and then made sure it was done correctly. Kyle is always very helpful and always willing to assist.“

March – “Kyle is always nice and caring when I walk in to the media center. His smile always makes my day. He is a great person to be greeted by.”

Student Scheduling

With the help of Jason Castillo, we have developed a more fine-tuned color coding system for student scheduling. This design has been reported as simpler to read and understand by student workers.

Shared E-Mail Setup

In December we have setup a shared e-mail account. This will be looked at as a means to control e-mail communications for work requests and calendar room reservation color coding. This will centralize our communication and bring about an easier appearance for quick navigation for rooms reserved.

ITED Masters Student

In summer of 2014 I began my masters in ITED. I am predicting to graduate by Fall of 2015. Currently, I hold a 4.0 GPA as of June 15, 2015.

- By doing this we will have saved a good bit of time in the long run, by eliminating the need to manually type an email with a list of the items that need to be reordered.

- Deployment of new HP Elite 800 All-In-Ones

- Images had to be configured and installed manually one-by-one due to issues with LANDesk.

Ten clues led each team through the library. They visited the following areas: reference desk, live chat, copy room, stacks, reserves, circ II, media center, 3rd floor sitting area, and archives Rex, Brett, and Deborah were all enthusiastic about participating in the event.

Each team had to find all the clues. Some clues had answers. We gave teams pencils and maps. Each team's last clue directed them to Room 148. Faculty and visitors were welcome to participate and enjoy pizza.

The Happening

VSU Front Lawn

Thursday, August 21, 2015, 12:30-4 pm

Marketing

- The Happening is one of the events scheduled for Fall Explosion; as such it is heavily advertised with other Fall Explosion events by Student Life.

Sponsors

- Odum Library
- SOLIS

Attendance

- We did not take a formal attendance or tally. The Happening is a student freebie-fest with students cruising by in a fairly steady flow. We did manage to give away a lot of bookmarks and all of our popsicles before the event was over.

Volunteers

- Everyone in reference helped with the happening.
- Volunteers from Circulation, Archives, and Media helped with the event.

All the reference librarians pitched in and I had lots of help with set up and clean up. Everyone took a turn staffing the library station; as a result no one got overly hot or tired from spending a long time outside at the Happening. It is nice to have at least two people staffing the station.

The happening went very smoothly this year. Everyone showed up for their shifts and the students seemed at least somewhat interested in the library.

At the beginning of July I emailed the library faculty listserv asking all the liaison librarians to contact their departments and invite themselves to a departmental meeting. I asked the librarians to tell me if they planned on attending a departmental meeting so that I could prepare a sufficient number of handouts. The handouts were one page front and back that highlighted new and important services for our faculty. There were also talking points for these meetings that we created at our annual retreat. These talking points focused on our customer service survey, our website redesign, LI Embedded promotion, Vtext, and the process of ordering books. These meetings were attended at about the same level as previous years. It remains rather difficult to attend the fall meetings for most departments, as these meetings tend to be the busiest ones of the year, so there isn't much room for the departments to fit us in.

Social Media

We have updated our social media accounts with information about events held within the library and events sponsored by the library.

Digital Signage

The library received digital signage in 2012 and thanks to the efforts of Maureen Puffer-Rothenberg and Rex Devane, it continues to be regularly updated with signs advertising events and collections in the library. It is also very popular with students.

Government Documents

In FY 2015 the reference librarian for government documents and FDLP coordinator, Emily Rogers, continued to collaborate with Head of Cataloging, Scott Piepenburg, on managing the documents collection. In November 2014, the library assistant for government documents, Adam White, relocated to another position on campus, and Michele Moyer moved from cataloging to documents processing as a library assistant. The past year has seen improvements in services including more outreach activities through the Constitution Day event, exhibits, blog entries, and LibGuides. As federal depository coordinator, the reference librarian for government documents monitors compliance with FDLP membership requirements.

The number of reference questions and consultations tagged as govdocs is 139. Average reported monthly use of government information resources to answer reference questions is 11.6, which at first look appears to be up from the 2014 average of 9.9 per month. This number is not a completely accurate comparison with 2014, however, because it reflects only the total number of all reference transactions, including consultations, as counted by the new Gimlet software. The breakdown of transactions tagged as govdocs by minutes of duration is

- 0-5 minutes: 36
- 5-10 minutes: 48
- 10-15 minutes: 19
- 15-20 minutes: 17
- Consultations: 19

We did not start using the govdocs tag until the end of July 2014 (we adopted Gimlet on July 1, 2014). Based on this count, consultations using government documents/information average 1.6 per month, down from last year's average of 2 per month. With the addition of transactions identified in the answers as government documents but not tagged as such, the breakdown of transactions is

- 0-5 minutes: 46
- 5-10 minutes: 51
- 10-15 minutes: 19
- 15-20 minutes: 20
- Consultations: 23

By considering these numbers, we see that the number of consultations is almost the same (down one) as in FY 2014.

Ongoing projects include beginning to replace current subject and course guides using the LibGuides system and overseeing the government documents web site. The documents librarian created Libguides for statistics, relying heavily on government resources, at <http://libguides.valdosta.edu/statistics> and for map resources in Odum Library at <http://libguides.valdosta.edu/mapsOdum>. Further updating will be a priority in FY 2016.

Online and print circulation statistics have varied in the past year. The Government Printing Office (GPO) reports statistics for PURL referrals through the GIL catalog and the library website. These statistics appear to have increased in FY 2015 to an average of 50.5 a month, compared to the FY2014 average of 31.5 a month. It is important to recognize that the library web site and GIL catalog are not the only, or perhaps the most important, ways that users access online government materials. Searches directly from a government web site such as American Factfinder or the CDC or ERIC (which is also accessible through commercial databases) would not be reflected in PURL referrals from the library web site or GIL. Library instruction sessions are also more likely to point students directly to agency web sites than through the library web site or catalog, so PURL referrals are not an effective means of demonstrating the extent of use of online government sources by library patrons.

Compared to 76 circulating documents in FY2014, total annual circulation of print documents in FY2015 is 47, a decrease of approximately 38%. Circulation of federal government documents is 41, an average of 3.4 per month, down 15% over the 2014 rate of 4 per month. Circulation of Georgia government documents has likewise decreased to 6 for the year, a decrease to 0.5 circulation transactions monthly, compared to 1.25 per month in FY 2014.

Another ongoing project for the public services side of government documents is collection development. We submitted to cataloging government publications from federal and state agencies at a lower rate this year: 66 in FY 2015, compared to 126 in FY2014. These additions represent mainly the Strategic Studies Institute publications that are popular with international, political science, and military studies, and occasional state and local documents. In addition, we received a small number of print items from the pre-1994 Georgia documents digitization project at UGA. The digitization project finished in August 2014, so no further digitized copies are expected. At present we are not actively trying to fill in gaps in the tangible federal documents collection as we have in the past. Cataloging of government resources is reported by the library's cataloging department.

FY 2015 has seen a start to the weeding of tangible government materials. In order to reduce the amount of space needed for microfiche, the Acquisitions Librarian ran reports of the Y.4 Sudocs for which we had copies available in paper, electronically, and fiche; acquisitions staff weeded the fiche format of these documents. The total government documents fiche reduction was 28,175 pieces. In addition, the Serials librarian is weeding bound journals published by government agencies, such as Emerging Infectious Diseases and Agricultural Outlook, that are available online. With both the microfiche and the journals, the pulled items are offered first to the University of Georgia as our regional federal depository library and then to the larger documents library community.

Outreach activities included a Constitution Day and Constitutional resources exhibit on the first floor of Odum Library. In addition, the reference desk gave out candy and free pocket copies of the Constitution on Constitution Day. Reference-area exhibits included ones for Constitution Day, infectious diseases, earthquakes, Veteran's Day, tax information, voting, nutrition, and gardening; in addition, the documents library assistant prepared a display on Syria. Blog entries related to online and print government information continue at a rate of approximately two per month. Blog entry topics have included disease control, elections, income tax resources, women's history, the birthday of Smokey

Bear, resources for the New Year, the Warren Commission hearings, Constitution Day, local resources for new residents, and summer issues such as gas prices, bug control, and lawn care.

The annual tax forms display moved from the bookcase near the government documents workroom to the display kiosk beside the reference desk. One reason for this move was the decrease in the variety of forms now available from the U.S. government; only the 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ forms were distributed to libraries, though other forms were made available online and by copying pages from the notebook of reproducible forms received annually. The state of Georgia has ceased distribution of print tax booklets to libraries. In the kiosk we are also offering various free government publications of interest to the public, including financial planning and credit history, health issues, guides to using FDSys and the Catalog of Government Publication databases, legislative research, immigration materials, and American Community Survey statistics from the Census Bureau.

Documents-related professional development opportunities included attending COMO/GLA annual meeting, where Emily was chosen as the chair-elect of the Government Information Interest Group, and midwinter academic section meeting; the Georgia Depository Libraries meeting; and the ALA Annual conference in San Francisco. At the annual meeting she attended the GODORT program “Visualizing Data,” as well as general membership and program committee meetings for GODORT. These meetings allowed the public services documents librarian to meet with other depository library coordinators at the national and state levels. Free webinars have also been available from the Government Printing Office and the North Carolina Library Association’s Government Resources Section’s “Help! I’m an Accidental Government Information Librarian!” series. The librarian has been able to participate in webinars on the new FDLP Coordinator Certificate program, using World Bank resources for information literacy instruction, Congress.gov, Bureau of Labor Statistics resources, Hathitrust, teaching strategies with government information, and promoting government resources through community partnerships.

Virtual Services

Embedded Librarianship

Number of embedded sections and % change over corresponding FY 2014 semester:

Summer 2014: 15 (-6%)

Fall 2014: 22 (-31%)

Spring 2015: 21 (-43%)

Embedded librarian services were not marketing during Fall 2014 or Spring 2015 because two librarians left during summer and fall. A third librarian began a project with USG and was unavailable for embedding; a temporary replacement began mid-fall.

Chat Question Count (from Gimlet)

Chat: 1489 (-9%)

Video Production

Video production was put on hold during FY 2015 due to the changes in personnel. Several existing videos were updated and revised.

LibGuides

Most of the existing Cascade tutorial pages have been updated and transferred to LibGuides. New course-specific and topic-based guides were created, based on faculty requests and perceived need.

Print Resources

Collection Development

New law titles were added to the Ready Reference Collection.

Working with Ken Smith on replacing older law books as Deb Van Petten comes across them during the barcoding project

Barcoding

Deb is current currently barcoding the Law collection and shifting it as she re-shelves the books. She is currently working in the KF8830 call number area.

Reference material orders – Deb is working with the Reference Library Technical Assistant to have orders submitted to the Acquisitions Department.

State of the Unit

The number of library instructions classes taught during fall semester decreased by more than a third from the previous year; from 99 to 60 classes, a drop of 38%.

The number of spring semester classes increased 42% from last year, from 53 to 75. These are a near equal balance of Core classes and all other courses.

The number of Core Curriculum library instruction sessions decreased 31% from last year, from 55 to 38, continuing a trend of steep decline. There are several possible reasons, including:

- A shift to hybrid and online formats. Professors seem to prefer embedded librarians for online classes and are reluctant to devote an entire class to library instruction if a hybrid class only meets once a week.
- Faculty preferences for assessments that do not require research.
- The ease of use of Discover tool makes searching more accessible for students.
- A focused effort to develop LibGuides made remote use, or classroom faculty instruction, a more complete experience.
- Another factor to consider is a change in course offerings in the Valdosta State landscape. As enrollment declines and more students take core classes elsewhere, the demand is lower generally. Since 2011, library instruction to Core Curriculum classes has dropped 65%, while the number of ENGL 1101 and 1102 courses has decreased 37% over the same timeframe.

Undergraduate, non-Core classes increased almost 11% from the previous year, especially in Spring 2015.

Graduate-level courses decreased by more than half, from 23 to 10. About half of these were orientations for the students within a department, and not tied to a specific course. There were many individual consultations scheduled by graduate students.

South Georgia College Entry library instruction sessions were scheduled in composition and world history courses, divided among three professors.

Assessment

Assessment Activities 2014-2015

Completed

Secret Shopper Surveys

Survey ran from October 2014 – March 2015. We had 73 individuals sign up for the secret shopper program, go out and shop the library, and report their findings in a survey. Unlike previous iterations of the secret shopper program, this version covered all of the service desks in Odum Library (Archives, Circulation, Media Services, Reference), instead of the Reference-only surveys of previous years. The survey was entirely based on evaluating our customer service and did not evaluate librarians on library-specific guideline as it had in previous years. When the program was completed, all the results were compiled and each department that was assessed was given their results and asked to make any necessary improvements as suggested in the surveys.

The results were generally positive for all areas of the library that were included in the assessment. There were 74 responses to the survey, which was an acceptable number given the need to sign up, register, and visit the library in order to successfully complete the survey. The majority of respondents visited one of the two circulation desks (41), followed by Media Services (13), Reference (11), and Archives (9). While all of the likert scale items in the survey were overwhelmingly positive (no item had lower than 65% of respondents giving positive answers) a lot of the comments provided direction for improvement in future years. Desk workers wearing headphones and employees not responding quickly when patrons approached were the two comments that appeared most frequently. So far, circulation has already put concrete policies banning headphones at the desk into place and all other departments in the assessment have discussed ways to improve their customer service skills based on the results of the survey.

Ongoing

Student Opinion of Library Instruction

The student opinion of library instruction, which is now in its second full year, received 959 total responses in FY 2015. We have continued to meet our goals of having all librarians that teach library instruction have at least 50 responses to this survey for the fiscal year and every librarian met the goal of having at least 85% of respondents reply to all of the questions with “Strongly Agree” or “Agree”. In addition, we continue to use the comments that students leave to work on our teaching wherever they suggest ways we can improve.

Library Instruction Quiz

The library instruction quiz also entered its second full year during 2014-2015. The total number of responses was down from over 500 in the initial year of the quiz to 105 responses this year. This is probably a result of a decrease in the number of library instruction sessions taught along with the difficulty of fitting the quiz into a typical 50 minute session. The results are reviewed every year with the library instruction coordinator. The results continue to suggest that students are able to locate appropriate sources for their research and differentiate ones that are peer reviewed after a library instruction session. Though the results of this assessment remain positive, there are plans in place to evaluate and revamp the assessment since there is a new librarian in the instruction coordinator position and a new framework for Information Literacy from the Association of College and Research Librarians. We want to make sure we regularly evaluate this assessment in the future to make sure it is properly evaluating learning outcomes from library instruction sessions.

Peer Observation of Teaching

Peer Observation of Teaching involves grouping Reference Librarians who teach library instruction into pairs and having each observe the other and write up a report on their teaching. This year 4 pairs of Peer Observations were completed each semester, with the observations being placed in Digital Measures for review in each librarian's faculty activity report and for use in pre-tenure, tenure, promotion, and post-tenure review portfolios. The results of these observations continue to highlight the strengths of the teaching reference librarians while also identifying ways we can continue to improve.

Interlibrary Loan

Highlights of the Interlibrary Loan Unit, 2014-2015

Borrowing

Borrowing Statistics

- Overall borrowing requests submitted decreased from 4,239 to 2,956, -30.3%.
- Overall borrowing requests filled declined from 3,310 to 2,191, -33.8%
- Loan requests submitted increased from 1,483 to 1,539, +3.8%
- Loan requests filled declined slightly from 1,224 to 1,141, -6.8%.
- Article requests submitted declined from 2,756 to 1,417, -48.6%.
- Article requests filled declined the most from 2,325 to 1,050, -54.8%.

The decline was a continuation and deepening of a trend from last year, where we noted that the introduction of Linksource technology, coupled with making some of our databases such as Wiley, Taylor & Francis and Oxford more visibly accessible through Linksource, had really diminished ILL requests, though we do keep busy cancelling and sending back requests to patrons who need instructions on how to access their articles through Linksource. And the loan requests we get often tend to be for items not available through GIL Express and which are not easy to get via ILL. We are also veritable bloodhounds at tracking things down in the building, on the databases, or on the internet, and getting it to the patron as part of our function.

Loans/Copies Filled by Type of Material

| Type              | Number | % of Requests Filled |
|-------------------|--------|----------------------|

1. Other are requests for DVDs, VHS, and CDs.
2. Book Chapter (L) are requests that were submitted by patrons as articles, but turned out to be books, and were converted to loan requests.
3. Book(C) are requests that were submitted by patrons as books, but turned out to be articles, and were converted to article requests.

One surprising aspect about these numbers is that, for the first time in many years, the percentage of loan and article requests are almost equal, when adding up all the types of document categories in each one, with articles constituting 54% and loans (books, media, scores, and theses) constituting 46% of all requests.

Although the numbers have gone down in regards to the number of requests we have been able to cancel because they are available in our databases, book stacks, periodical shelves, or on the internet, the percentage of requests they constitute from our patrons have held almost held steady in regards to items requested full text and have actually increased in our success at finding on the internet. One other thing we have begun doing within the past year in regards to our local students, both undergraduate and graduate, is that whenever they happen to submit an article which is among our bound periodicals, we scan it and send it to them just as if they were one of our faculty, staff or distance education students ordering it through Odum Express. We are also considering the possibility of processing any books they order which also happen to be on our shelves as Document Delivery items that they would pick up at the Circulation Desk, to ensure that they do get these books.

- Fill rate: 79% filled; 21% cancelled
- 79% for ILL requests alone; 91% when including cancelled requests for materials in our building, our databases, or on the internet; and 93% if duplicate requests are counted.

Because fewer loans were being supplied by major holders in the University System of Georgia, there was a 6.87% decrease in materials filled by this year's top ten suppliers over last year's. The remaining 770 returnable items (67.49%) were obtained from 399 other libraries in 46 states, the District of Columbia, one library in Great Britain, and one APO loan from the library at Kunsan Air Force Base in Gunsan, South Korea. There is no library's name listed in eighth place because OCLC did not supply the name of a library, just the number of statistics and percentage of total requests filled.

- Turnaround time for loans: unfortunately, when fewer of your loan suppliers are in the state of GA or relatively close by, and more shippers are economizing by using Media Mail, it means loans take longer to get to you. Our turnaround time for loans is now 11.58 days, though when averaged in with articles, the overall turnaround time is 7.85 days.

Our Ten Biggest Suppliers of Articles

- Armstrong State Univ. 24 2.29%
- TOTAL 562 51.14%

This is the first time that over 50% of articles supplied have been able to be furnished by the ten biggest suppliers we have used during the previous year. The remaining 498 articles (48.86%) were obtained from 212 other libraries in 43 states, the District of Columbia, two German university libraries, and one university library from Hong Kong. Again, there is no library's name listed in eighth place because OCLC did not supply the name of a library, just the number of statistics and percentage of total requests filled.

Both loan and article borrowing patterns still continue to demonstrate the validity of "the long tail" concept in the necessity of going to many places to be able to satisfy patrons' needs.

- Turnaround time for articles: the good news is that our turnaround time for articles dropped nearly a full day from 4.64 days to 3.71 days. In many cases, we receive articles in 1 to 2 days; the higher figure results because the average includes nights, weekends, and holiday periods such as Thanksgiving and Christmas when most ill departments are shut down.

The Five Departments Which Submitted the Most Borrowing Requests:

- English 451
- History 341
- Nursing 148
- Psychology 118
- Biology 110

This is the first year that the Library Science Department failed to make the list, submitting only 82 requests, so Nursing once more resumed its place on the list. English and History swapped their second and first places on last year's list, with a very clear lead going to English. Other departments which had a strong showing, but did not make the list included Communication Disorders (88), Music (88), and Physics (75). Chemistry, which frequently appears on this list, had a surprisingly small number of requests at only 36. The above mentioned departments always show up among our most heavily requesting departments because those are fields in which faculty are expected to do significant research, and they demand the same of their students in the classroom, even among undergraduates.

The Most Frequently Requested Journals by our Patrons, which Odum Does Not Own:

- Community College Journal of Research & Practice 10
- The Journal of Organizational Behavior Management 10
- The Saturday Evening Post 10
- International Journal of Sport Psychology 6

Two of these journal titles I would not recommend since it is unlikely we will have need for them in the future. The demand for The Saturday Evening Post was created by an assignment in the history department that caused an article to go missing, so ILL had to step in and get the necessary item. Therefore, there is no need to acquire any more holdings of this journal. As for Community College Journal of Research & Practice, the articles were obtained for a patron in Educational Leadership, who was probably working on a paper or dissertation related to the topic of community colleges. We do have graduate students who do request articles from journals dealing with this topic, but as a rule, we have never had enough demand for it to justify subscribing to journals on that subject.

As for the other two, there is indeed ongoing patron interest in these areas. Sports psychology is the topic of a very popular distance education physical education class which necessitated the library having to increase its journal holding in sports psychology journals in online format last year. And we had ten requests last year for articles from the Journal of Organizational Management, which were from the period for which the journal was embargoed. And I recently had to tell a faculty member to choose which one of the six he had chosen from a special theme issue that he wanted me to get for him, since the cost of the copyright for the other five was prohibitive. I never received a reply from him.

Citation Sources, or, Where Do They Find All This Stuff?

The Requests Finished table allows us to select an option that gives the source, when indicated, of where the patron obtained the citation. This is probably one of the best resources for finding out information on our patrons' research habits, since it indicates whether or not they are using our databases or library catalog, Google, corporate databases on the internet (i.e., Elsevier, etc.), traditional print resources, or networks of friends to find citations they submit for ILL.

This year, the number dropped drastically from last year's total of 1,592 requests indicating a source (39.9% of total requests) to 447 requests indicating a source (15.1%). This information is interesting to track for three reasons: first, it shows whether or not library instruction is effective in reaching people, second, if they are aware that requests can be placed within the databases, and finally, from an ILL workflow standpoint, if there is no source, and the citation is incorrect, it makes it more difficult to verify without some information about where the citation was found to start with. Here are some of the most frequently cited sources, and comparisons of last year and this year. Note the changes in numbers and ranking of some sources:

Other GALILEO databases listed were: ATLA Religion database, Agricola, and Hospitality and Tourism Complete. Other types of resources mentioned were bibliographies from print journals, books, and dissertations, class syllabi, professor and colleague referrals, footnotes to journal articles, Google Books, our catalog, other universities' library catalogs and web sites, the Chronicling America: Historic American Newspapers site, Dr. Harold Thiel, commercial databases on the internet (Elsevier, Taylor and Francis), a sheet music website, a publisher's catalog, and a Library of Congress annual report.

Lending

Lending Statistics

- Overall lending requests submitted decreased from 5,409 to 4,035, -25.4%.
- Overall lending requests filled decreased from 3,335 to 2,295, -31.2%.
- Book requests submitted decreased from 1,666 to 1,487, -10.8%.
- Book requests filled dropped slightly 903 to 756, -16.3%.
- Article requests submitted dropped from 3,743 to 2,548, -31.9%

- Article requests filled declined from 2,432 to 1,539, -37.4%

Except for the year before last, when we had impressive increases of over 30% in our lending categories, we have had declines in lending for the past eight years. Some responses from the ILL listserv indicate this trend is not uncommon, and it may have something to do with the possibility that LinkSource does not work well with Ebscohost, since one school reported discrepancies in its borrowing statistics due to LinkSource not allowing patrons to place ILL requests, or LinkSource pointing to materials that they did not own, or not pointing to material they did own.

Of the three major reasons for not filling book requests, one of them actually decreased from last year: Non-Circulating dropped from 209 to 158, so evidently fewer requests were placed for items that could not be loaned because of their status. However, Not on Shelf not only increased from 182 to 245, but also moved into first place, which is disturbing considering that we just completed an inventory this year. The other, Checked out, increased from 155 to 176, which is somewhat heartening, because it does show that our books are being used. Other positive decreases are fewer turndowns because they were blocked, lost, or exceeded maximum cost. Our first place reason in articles this year continues to be “Holdings end before this volume”, which has dropped in numbers from 504 to 361, but risen from 13.50% to 14.31% in percentage of all requests filled. The second highest reason, Not on shelf, has also dropped in numbers from 366 to 252, but has also risen slightly from 9.80% to 9.99% in percentage of all requests filled.

Two customers were from North Carolina, South Carolina, and Florida; the latter was especially surprising since it was Florida State University, which has never appeared in this part of the list before with so many requests; we either must have some surprising strengths in our collection, or exceptionally fast service for filling their needs.. The remaining 589 returnable items were supplied to 334 other libraries in 47 states.

- Turnaround time for loans: there is also good to news to report in that turnaround time for articles dropped slightly from 1.48 days to 1.32 days, and turnaround time for loans decreased from 1.91 days to 1.58 days. Total overall turnaround time decreased from 1.59 days to 1.40 days.

Seven customers on this list were from outside the state of Georgia and five of those seven were private colleges. We also supplied 1,129 articles to 375 other libraries in 46 states (including Alaska and Hawaii), the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Norway, and Denmark.

IFM Charges

Forty-nine libraries and document delivery services paid a total of $1,094 for 84 items that our library supplied them, which constituted 3.7% of all filled lending requests. This is twenty-one requests and $340 less than we took in last year. We do have ten universities that give us repeat business, up from a half dozen last year, among them Ohio State University, Carnegie Mellon Library, Duke University, and the Univ. of California at Santa Cruz.

The Most Frequently Loaned Journal Titles

Sport in Society remained in first place for the third year in a row, with 168 requests, only slightly less than last year's 195 requests. International Journal of Science Education has been heavily in demand with 83 requests. Nurse Education Today remained in third place again this year, after dropping from third to fourth two years ago, and being in first place for five years running before that.

Document Delivery

Document Delivery Statistics

- Overall document delivery requests submitted dropped from 324 to 319, -1.5%.
- Overall document delivery requests filled dropped from 324 to 314, -3.0%
- Book delivery requests submitted rose from 85 to 99, +16.5%
- Book delivery requests filled rose from 82 to 97, +18.3%

- Article delivery requests submitted decreased from 239 to 220, -7.9.
- Article delivery requests filled decreased from 239 to 217, -9.2%.

Although the numbers are small, this is the only category which has losses in the single digits and actually shows an increase in the number of book request requests submitted and filled. This is the third year in a row we have had an increase in the book delivery category. The reduced decrease in articles may be due to the fact that this year we decided to start scanning articles submitted by undergraduates and local graduate students rather than cancelling and returning the requests, since there were not many and we suspected that most students did not bother to follow through in regards to getting the material. It is possible we may also process book requests submitted by students and found in the building for pick up at the desk, since the important point is to provide customer satisfaction regardless of where the item is found.

The Five Departments Which Submitted the Most Document Delivery Requests:

- English 80
- History 48
- Nursing 32
- Library Science 24
- Educ. Leadership 21

English rose from third to first place, knocking Library Science off the top spot it has held for several years. Nursing is another perennial, but dropped down from second to third place, and Library Science fell farthest, from first to fourth place. History and Educational Leadership are newcomers at second and fifth place respectively.

Total and Other Statistics

Total Statistics

This year saw a deepening of the significant decreases in both borrowing and lending that occurred last year, as noted above. The only exceptions were drops in the turnaround time in all three areas: Borrowing, Lending, and Document Delivery. Document Delivery also showed the smallest decreases in decreases in overall requests submitted and the number of articles submitted and filled, the latter of which may well have been due to our recent decision to also scan all articles that happen to be found, even for undergraduates and local graduate students. Fall continued to be busier than spring, and summer extremely slow.. As a result, our total figures dropped from 9,401 to 7,310. (-22.2). We are not the only ILL department who has noticed substantially lower numbers this year, and in discussing it on the ILL-L listserv, there seems to be consensus that this is due to increasing access to and awareness of full-text material, as well as the inability to satisfy instant gratification or the need of students for items they need tomorrow. Yet we are increasingly looked to as the source for hard to get materials: microfilms, newspapers on microfilm, music CDs, DVDs, old/rare books and other such materials that are more time consuming to get than normal requests. Many are for faculty, but an increasing number are being requested for graduate and even undergraduate students in the wide array of programs offered by the university.

Article Exchange was the one area which showed an increase as well as a decrease. We sent 28 last year, which went up to 260 (+928%) sent this year. We received half as many articles, going from 122 last year to 60 this year. Because of the decreases in both Borrowing and Lending Articles Filled, our other electronic transmissions statistics also went down significantly. Odyssey transactions received fell from 1800 to 890 (50.5-%), and transmissions sent by this means decreased from 1,613 to 955 (-40.8%). Articles received via e-mail dropped from 391 to 73 (-81%), while articles sent via e-mail decreased from 335 to 118 (-64.8).

We had a slight decrease in deliveries, but an increase in pickups and the overall total of the document delivery service of returnable materials to faculty, dropping from 284 deliveries last year to 275 this year (-3.2%), and a larger increase in pickups from 51 to 67 (+31.4%). The total overall count of returnable materials delivered increased from 335 to 342 (+2.0%). ILL books delivered by courier also fell from 1,045 to 642 (-38.6%), while GIL Express had a surprising drop from 3,879 to 3,370 (-13.1%). Probably a marketing campaign should be undertaken with faculty and staff, to remind them of the best free service this campus offers to increase awareness and usage in this area. As for why the decreasing figures in GIL book requests, again, as mentioned earlier, it could be the fact that the time involved does not meet the needs of our users, since it usually takes 5 to 7 days to arrive by the courier service.
