THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it REPEATED; that is, telegraphed back to the originator of the message for confirmation. For this, one half the regular rate is charged, but the rate is decreased between the sender or delivery office for non-delivery of any DISPATCHED message, whether happening by negligence of its servants or by accident. Messages sent by telegraph are subject to the same conditions. The sender of a message should order it REPEATED if it is necessary to reach its destination. Any delay arising from unavoidable interruptions of telegraph lines, or for over-sight or for error in cipher or obscure messages, is not the responsibility of the sender, without liability to forward any message over the lines of any other company when necessary to reach its destination.

There is no liability for the transmission of messages to any point on the lines of this Company can be arranged by contract in writing. The rate of transmission of messages to any point on the lines of this Company is as follows: For the first 100 miles, one cent per word; for any greater distance, one cent per word for the first 100 miles, and two cents per word for any greater distance. For delivery at a point on the lines of this Company, the rate is one cent per word for the first 100 miles, and two cents per word for any greater distance. No responsibility is assumed for messages sent to such office by one of the lines of this Company until the same are presented and accepted at one of its offices. The sender of a message is liable for the cost of such delivery.

The company will not be liable for damages in any case where the claim is not presented in writing, within sixty days after the date of the message.
